A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

All that's Yellow is not Cottolene

There's hardly a housekeeper in the country but has heard of Cottolene the new vegetable shortening. It is a strictly natural product; composed only of clarified cotton seed oil, thickened for convenience in use, with refined beef suet, pure and sweet. So composed,

COTTOLENE

Was bound to win, and to drive out lard from the kitchens of the world. When housekeepers wish to get rid of the unpleasant features and results of lard, they should get Cottolene, taking care that they are not given cheap imitations with vegetable names, spuriously compounded to sell in the place of Cottolene.

It's easy to avoid disappointment and ensure satisfaction. Insist on having Cottolene.

TROOPS AT DARLINGTON

The Posses Chasing Fleeing Constables Ordered to Return.

All Quiet This Morning—The People Determined That No Destruction of State Property Be Permitted—Tillman Says He Instructed the Troops to Shoot—Censorship of Press Despatches Removed By Request.

DARLINGTON, S. C., April 2.—For the first time since 1877 a city in South Carolina has hundreds of troops quartered in it under command. Why these troops have been sent here has not yet been developed, and in the circumstances the very best of order is being preserved. Strange as it might seem, the military line was drawn directly in front of the state dispensary at this place, which is responsible for the appearance of the troops. As advised by the committee here there was not the slightest obstruction or demonstration made by the determined people of Darlington when the military train arrived here in command of Gen. Richbourg. The troops were met by Gen. Farley and the Darlington guards, who provided ample protection which, however, was not needed.

This morning all is quiet at Darlington. The troops are being placed on guard and citizens are at their homes.

Mayor Dargan sent telegrams to heads of all posses in pursuit of the fleeing constables to come back to town, as they were needed. This, it was known, would bring all the men back, and yesterday all the constables were free to go as they pleased. Constable McLendon, who was supposed to have been mortally wounded and who was not lynched on that account, was taken out of jail by friends. Constable Cain has gone to a private house and received attention. He says that on the night of the pursuit he was in a ditch covered up with straw.

The people of Darlington are determined that no destruction to state property shall be permitted and when an effort was made to loot the dispensary it was promptly resisted.

Mayor Dargan and other prominent citizens addressed the men and advised them not to make any demonstration, but to remain perfectly quiet, as the understanding was that Gov. Tilman, upon the advice of Gen. Farley, would do nothing to excite the people here, and that the military would, under no circumstances, be allowed to come here.

With all the posses back in the city, all of the constables out of the county and the people bent on keeping the peace comes the news that 900 troops have started from Columbia on their way here.

Efforts are being made to have the troops return to Columbia, on the ground that their presence can do no possible good.

TOLD THEM TO SHOOT.

Gov. Tillman Says He So Instructed the Troops.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 2.—Eleven companies of state troops left here at 5 o'clock last evening for the scene of disturbances. It is said the troops are first to be taken to Florence. What is to be done with them is a mystery.

General Richbourg, who is in command, would not say anything about his orders.

The companies were divided into two regiments and a colonel placed in command of each regiment. The troops went away on a special train over the Atlantic Coast line.

Immense crowds of people were at the crossing at which the soldiers boarded the train. Three companies were left in the city.

Three hundred volunteer citizens armed with all manner of weapons arrived shortly after the departure of the troops and are ready to obey the orders of the governor. More companies and more volunteers are to arrive. Nothing can be heard here from Darlington, as the telegraph company will not receive or send messages to or from the governor.

A representative of the United Press had a lengthy interview with Gov. Tillman at the executive mansion yesterday. The governor stated that in his opinion the worst of the danger was over. He said that inasmuch as Darlington and Florence were in a state of insurrection, he felt it to be his duty to exert himself to uphold the dignity and preserve the peace of the state. At the time of the interview the militia had just left on a special train for Darlington. In view of the number of companies which had refused to respond to his call he was greatly gratified at having finally placed the troops en route to the scene of the tragedy.

"But will they shoot?" was asked.

"Will they shoot?" exclaimed the governor with emphasis. "Well you ought to have heard them cheer when I told them to shoot."

I asked him when, in his opinion, the present tension would be relieved sufficiently for him to dismiss the military.

He said he could not tell and that there was much at stake. Darlington and the community was in insurrection, defying the authority of the state, and insurrectionists must be put down. The state property (meaning the dispensaries) had been destroyed. The guilty parties must be discovered and brought to justice. The dispensary constables were being pursued and were in imminent danger of losing their lives. He was not going to permit them to be hounded down and shot like dogs. Pending developments in these matters he would keep the militia under orders.

A few minutes previous to this interview it was reported that the censorship of telegrams had been withdrawn. He was questioned as to the accuracy of the rumor and denied it very emphatically. He said he did not wish to have anything sent out that would inflame the passions of the people and for that reason and with a view of securing accurate reports he would continue the censorship.

"Now I'll play editor for you fellows," said the governor with a laugh. "Just write out your reports, bring them to me, and I will look at them. If they are not sensational or incendiary, I will let them go."

He spoke confidently of the strength of his sympathizers.

"I can assemble 1,000 to 1,500 men here to support me," he said.

"I have received telegrams from all over the state offering assistance and I can get as many men as I can furnish with transportation."

Gov. Tillman spoke feelingly of the disbanding of the governor's guards.

"The company is 51 years old," he said, "and this is the first time they have refused to obey orders."

He said that Capt. Bateman shed tears over his company's action.

"What effect will the present disturbances have on the dispensary law?" the correspondent asked.

"The result will be in favor of the dispensary," he promptly replied.

At the suggestion of United States Senator Irby, Gov. Tillman last night removed the embargo from press dispatches, but censorship of private messages is still maintained.

DOES NOT FAVOR THE LAW.

Tillman Says He Predicted the Present Disorders.

NEW YORK, April 2.—A morning paper prints the following communication from Gov. Tillman, of South Carolina:

"That I am in any way responsible for the present condition of things in this state is utterly false and absolutely without foundation in fact.

"I did not make the dispensary law. On the contrary I protested against its enactment and predicted, from my knowledge of the people of the state, that it would lead to violence and bloodshed.

"I have not tried to enforce its monstrous provisions. On the contrary, I gave urged that its constitutionality be determined by the courts, and that the people yield a ready obedience to the law once the law has been determined. I did not appoint desperate or irresponsible men to enforce the law and arm them with rifles with instructions to shoot any one who might resist by look or word the infamous work of the whisky spies.

"I did not pardon, before reading the evidence in the case, the first of the spies who was convicted, although his offense was searching premises without a warrant and striking a woman, the mistress of the premises.

"I have never declared that I would head a mob to lynch a man for any offense whatever."

National Authority.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Army officials as yet have learned nothing officially of the South Carolina troubles, but the press despatches caused them to take into consideration their probable action in case Governor Tillman called on the president for troops. There is an arsenal at Augusta, Ga., but no force nearer to the scene of disturbance than Atlanta, whence one company of infantry could be summoned. There are three companies of infantry at Mobile, Ala., and three of cavalry across the river from Washington, D. C., but beyond these it would be difficult for the army to furnish any assistance in preserving order. No one here apprehends that the intervention of United States troops will be called for in a case of this kind. The officers of the army concede that the governor has full power to take possession of the railways and telegraph lines under a proclamation of martial law, but he is compelled to see that the mails are not delayed and that government telegrams are promptly transmitted. So long as this is done the national government has no occasion to interfere.

Terror of the Coal Regions.

PITTSBURG, April 2.—"Big Joe," the Hungarian anarchist, the leader of the recent riots in the Mansfield valley, who at that time eluded arrest, is said to have again made his appearance in the coal region, and has quietly gathered about him the members of the band who escaped at the time of the wholesale arrests. The story goes that "Big Joe" is surrounded by a strong following of ignorant foreigners, who have been unable to secure work since the strike, and the gang is terrorizing the region, foraging for supplies in every direction and intimidating the people into complying with their demands. The band is said to be encamped near Beadling's, and that coal firm, it is said, look for an outbreak any day. An effort will be made to place the leader and his followers under arrest.

Major Le Caron Dead.

LONDON, April 2.—The Times announces the death of Major Le Caron, who was once employed by the British government as a spy upon Irishmen in America. The Times says: "He died Saturday afternoon, after suffering some time from a painful malady. He bore the pain with the fortitude and resolution characteristic of his whole career."

WITH DOUBT AND FEAR

The Da Gama Refugees in a Pitiful Plight.

Made Desperate By Their Long Confinement and Suffering on the Portuguese War Ships They Try to Jump Overboard and Swim Ashore. Ministers Working in Their Behalf.

BUENOS AYRES, April 2.—Made desperate by their long confinement on board the Portuguese men-of-war in this port and by Portugal's decision not to allow them to be landed in Argentina, the insurgent refugees from Rio harbor attempted to jump from the ships and swim ashore, but they were forcibly restrained by the Portuguese marines.

A statement from Admiral Saldanha da Gama's surgical staff on board the warships was published in this city detailing the pitiful condition of these men, debilitated by six months of war, and now exposed to the elements on the ship's decks, lacking of sufficient food and half crazed with doubts and fears.

Another of the refugees died Friday and the city's board of health has informed the commanders of the war ships that, having remained in the harbor more than twenty-four hours, they must comply with the sanitary laws of the port, disembark their passengers and submit to disinfection and quarantining, before continuing their voyage.

Portugal's minister here denies, however, that Argentine has any jurisdiction over foreign war ships in her territory.

The British and Italian ministers are urging Brazil to withdraw her demand upon Portugal relative to the refugees.

Admiral Mello's financial agent in this city, who wants to buy three transports for Gen. Silveira Martin's command, says that those leaders who are falling away from Mello are chronic soreheads, whose loss is no menace to the success of the revolution.

He says the new leaders have been assured of support from sources which would have been completely inaccessible so long as Lorena was president of the provisional government.

KOSSUTH'S FUNERAL.

The Hungarian Patriot Fittingly Laid to His Final Rest.

BUDAPEST, April 2.—Louis Kossuth was buried yesterday. Enormous crowds had gathered from all parts of Hungary to attend the funeral and mourn with the capital. The streets were filled almost from wall to wall until sunset. The police and military had prepared for disorder, and even riot, but nothing happened to disturb the solemnity of the day. The whole city mourned in oppressive silence.

At 10 o'clock the Protestant bishop and 42 priests entered the temporary chapel. The religious ceremony was short. There was a pause and then Maurice Jokai, the author, rose to deliver the funeral oration in behalf of the Hungarian deputies. He reviewed briefly but eloquently the most familiar incidents in the life of the dead patriot. Burgomaster Gerloczy spoke of Kossuth's great services to his country and predicted that his tomb would become the Mecca of all loyal Hungarians.

While the coffin was being removed to the funeral car the throng outside sang the revolutionary air "Szoza."

The head of the procession left the Museum at 11 o'clock. The Honveds of 1848 led the line, carrying with them their old standards and flags. Behind them walked a thousand women clothed in black. Then came twenty conopied cars, the clergy, Kossuth's sons on foot, deputies, societies and hundreds of little children in mourning. The procession was almost as broad as the roadways and was five miles long.

Kossuth was buried between Deak and Batthyanyi, two Hungarian patriots of his time and political tendency.

After the coffin had been lowered into the vault the peasants crowded up, knelt and kissed the hands and clothes of Kossuth's sons.

Jewish Women.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Rabbi Joseph Silverman, commenting on Walter Besant's "The Rebel Queen," says that it could only have been ignorence that based a novel upon the alleged degradation of the Jewish woman, wife and mother. Even if the author had not known the laws and customs of Israel, he could have learned the truth if he had but visited a typical Jewish home and entered into the domestic circle. The outside world knows comparatively little about the Jew, and least of all about his domestic relations, his home ties. Such homes as are found in Israel are rarely seen, homes where love reigns supreme, where there is but mutual good-will, peace, self-sacrifice, and a willingness on the part of each to contribute his share to the common happiness, at whatever cost.

Confesses To a Terrible Crime.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 2.—L. Jackson, who recntly attempted to cremate the family of John B. Connett, was arraigned in the Freehold court, when he retracted his former plea of not guilty and admitted committing the crime. Jackson, who was unable to collect his rent money from Connett, imprisoned Mrs. Connett and her youngest child in the upper part of the house during the absence of her husband and piled a lot of shavings against the door and applied a match. But for the discovery of the flames by neighbors Mrs. Connett and the child would certainly have perished. Sentence was deferred pending an examination of Jackson's sanity.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Tariff Talk Begins in the Senate To-Day.

Mr. Voorhees' Opening Speech Very Lengthy—Mr. Allison to Be Heard for the Republicans To-morrow—No Telling When the Vote Will Be Reached—Work in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—This afternoon when Mr. Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee, calls up the tariff bill in the senate and makes the opening speech he will inaugurate a debate the end and outcome of which no man can foretell. Mr. Voorhees confidently expects the final vote to be taken within six weeks; but Mr. Voorhees' expectations on other occasions have not always been realized. Some of his democratic colleagues are not so sanguine, and no republican is willing to fix a period of less than two or three months within which a vote can be had on the passage of the senate tariff bill.

Mr. Voorhees' speech, which contains not less than 13,000 words, will probably be the only speech delivered to-day, Mr. Allison preferring to wait until to-morrow to make the opening remarks for the republicans. Other senators who may speak early in the debate are Messrs. Hoar, Cullom, Lodge, Peffer and Morrill.

In executive session to-day Mr. Call will insist upon the consideration of certain Florida nominations, upon which he intends opposing the administration. To-day also Mr. Morgan will report the Behring sea bill and will ask Mr. Voorhees to give way Wednesday and permit the bill to be taken up and kept before the senate until passed. This will involve at least one closed legislative session. Mr. Morgan also intends to call up the Chinese treaty on Thursday, and as the debate on this convention will doubtless occupy several executive sessions, the outlook for the tariff debate progressing beyond the two opening speeches during the coming week is not encouraging. Mr. Voorhees is the victim of conditions that were unexpected and all obstacles will probably be brushed aside by the end of the week.

House of Representatives.

The order of procedure in the house this week has been pretty clearly marked out by advance notices from those in charge of leading issues. What rate of progress will be made, however, will depend upon the presence of a quorum of democratic members to consider and dispose of the business in hand. To-day the O'Neill-Joy contested election case is again under consideration and is to be pressed to a final conclusion under the provisions of the special order.

The English-Hilborn election case, from the third district of California, is included within the terms of the order, and will be taken up as soon as the O'Neill-Joy contest has been disposed of.

Mr. Bland gave notice that on Tuesday he will ask the house to take up his seigniorage bill and to put it on its passage, "the objections of the executive to the contrary notwithstanding." It is hardly probable, however, that the election cases will be out of the way by that time, as the managers of the house do not look for a quorum before Tuesday. But the seigniorage bill will be accorded the right of way as soon as the pending order has been fully executed.

Mr. Bland says his bill may occupy the attention of the house for two days, but gives no intimation of his opinion of the chances for passing it over the veto. One of the leading democrats of the house who voted for the bill says there is not the slightest hope of its passage and that, in his opinion, it will be called up merely for the purpose of some of its advocates to make speeches at its obsequies. Mr. Bland says that as soon as the seigniorage bill is out of the way, he will ask the committee on coinage, weights and measures to report a bill for the free coinage of silver, and that he will urge it upon the attention of the house at the earliest opportunity and every opportunity until it is considered.

Talc and Asbestos Consolidation.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 2.—The International Talc and Mining company has completed negotiations for absorbing the Asbestos and Gardner companies and their extensive properties in the vicinity of Gouvenour. The new combination will be able to control the market to a considerable degree and manufacture talc at a profit, which has not been possible recently on account of the strong competition.

New York Legislature.

ALBANY, April 2.—This will be quite an important week in the legislature, more especially as regards party legislation. The Lexow New York city bi-partisan police committee bill is a special order in the senate for Tuesday and the party leaders expect to pass the bill on that day. The O'Connor bi-partisan election inspectors bill will come up in the assembly this week for concurrence.

Services Without Police Aid.

NEW YORK, April 2.—For the first time in three weeks services were held yesterday in the Central Park Baptist church, on east Eighty-third street, without the aid of the police. Those who compose the opposing faction did not put in an appearance to mar the disquietude, and it is the opinion of a majority of the congregation that further trouble will not occur.

Will Bounce Our Consul.

NEW YORK, April 2.—A Managua, Nicaragua, cable says: The Nicaraguan government has declared that it will withdraw the exequatars of the American and British consuls here. The cause for this action is alleged to be their interference in the Bluefields affair.

Barn and Six Horses Destroyed By Fire

NEWTOWN, L. I., April 2.—A large barn with six valuable horses belonging to Alexander Baxter, a prominent farmer of Newtown, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at about $6,000. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Fatally Shot By His Cousin.

KENNETT SQUARE, Pa., April 2.—Andrew Milton, aged 13 years, and Charles Brown, aged 15, his cousin, had a boyish quarrel yesterday and the younger lad shot and fatally wounded the older one.

Union County Politics.

(From The New York World.)

The latest slate for officials of the next Board of Freeholders is: Director, Capt. Hubbard, of Plainfield; Clerk, Harry Rellinson, of Rahway; County Attorney, William R. Codington, Plainfield; County Engineer, Charles K. Moore, of Fanwood. This combination, however, may be broken before the board meets, although the knowing ones think it will hold together.

Editor Charles H. Schmidt, of Elizabeth, is making a big fight for the vacant lay judgeship, and the politicians say the selection will rest between him and a Plainfield man, Rowland M. Stover, with the newspaper man's chances daily growing brighter. Editor Schmidt's friends are doing some tall hustling in his behalf, and Gov. Werts is being bombarded with letters asking him to name the veteran journalist.

The biggest primary held in the city of Elizabeth was that of the Third ward, although only an Assessor was to be nominated. There were five candidates in the field, and the winner was Thomas Noonan, a cripple, who had 63 majority. His selection appears to give general satisfaction.

There seems to be an unaccountable delay in appointing the Postmaster in Westfield. Postmaster Whittaker's term expired a month ago, still he holds on just the same, and Freeholder Mulford Scudder, who had been slated for the place, does n't know what to think. Mr. Scudder is on the anxious seat lest Congressman Dunn should change his mind and recommend the name of some other chap for the place.

Cheap Advertising.

[From The Daily Courier.]

One of the Borough merchants keeps the lamps in his store burning all night for the purpose of attracting attention to his goods. A more effective advertisement would be an announcement in the Courier which would cost him less money.

Seventh-Day Election.

The annual meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church held yesterday afternoon was marked by a feeling of rejoicing over the completion of the new building, and the fact that it had been entirely paid for.

The Building Committee, Charles Potter, Rudolph M. Titsworth, Joseph A. Hubbard, E. R. Pope and J. F. Hubbard reported that the completed church had cost $65,500.

All of this amount had been contributed by members of the congregation. Among the items of expense was the organ and case, $3,500.

The following were then elected:

Trustee for five years—Chas. Potter.
Trustee to fill vacancy—Wm. M. Stillman.
Church Clerk—J. D. Spicer.
Treasurer—J. F. Hubbard.
Assistant Treasurer—G. E. Stillman.
Chorister—D. E. Titsworth.
Organist—Miss Jessie Utter.
Ushers—W. C. Hubbard, Asa F. Randolph, Harold W. Tomlinson, Fred D. Randolph.

Democratic Nominations in Elizabeth.

At the Democratic City Convention in Elizabeth Saturday afternoon ex-Councilman Peter Egenolf was nominated for Mayor. Other nominees: Councilman-at-Large—Patrick J. Ryan. Freeholders—Charles H. Moore, Thomas Drumm, John S. Sauer and Samuel Price. The ticket is not considered a strong one. Price and Drumm have incurred the displeasure of the public by their official actions as members of the local Board of Excise.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 185 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

H. P. DEGRAAF.

It is said that a petition is being extensively circulated asking the Court of Appeals to refuse the application for a license which the widow of William E. Lowe will probably make before May 1.

Many complaints are being made of the poor electric lighting service furnished on the streets of the vicinity. The candle power of the lamps is apparently down to eight instead of twenty-four when Scotch Plains is reached. The only use of the "lights" seems to be the beautifying of the otherwise unornamental poles.

A game of base-ball Saturday afternoon between the Stars and the Excelsiors resulted in a victory for the Stars, 22 to 8 The battery of the Stars was composed of Samuel Macaulay and Arthur Chapin; and of the Excelsiors, Albert Macaulay and John Albert. The winning club, with headquarters in Scotch Plains, have started early in the season to challenge all clubs whose players are less than 16 years old.

The Board of Representatives of the Westfield Fire Department met recently in the engine house to transact regular business and before the minutes of the previous meeting were approved C. F. W. Wittke filed a protest with the president, against the action taken by the representatives in changing the name to "Fire Commissioners" at a previous meeting. The president appointed a committee consisting of N. B. Gardner, C. F. W. Wittke, H. V. Cohen and Irving I. Ross to confer with the town counsel and obtain a legal opinion as to whether the changing of the name to fire commissioners was legal, and report to the President as soon as possible, after which the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair. The committee met Saturday evening with the town counsel, and the opinion received from counsel by the committee was that the action taken by the department in changing the name to fire commissioners and having five members represented from each company to the fire department, was illegal.

The regular monthly meeting of Empire Engine Company No. 2, will be held tomorrow evening in the engine house, and regular business will be transacted.

The Westfield Centennial Association representatives meet in the town rooms next Friday evening to perfect a permanent organization to take charge of the Westfield centennial celebration to be held in July. It is hoped that the representative of every society will be present at this meeting.

Rev. Dr. Byman, presiding elder of Elizabeth District, preached an interesting sermon in the Methodist Episcopal Church last evening before a large congregation, who listened to his remarks with much attention.

The Township Committee will meet tonight at 7:30 in the town rooms to transact regular business.

The annual meeting of the Westfield Club will be held tomorrow evening in the club-house and officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Bucket and Engine Company, No. 1, will hold their regular meeting in the engine-house tonight to transact regular business.

The Westfield Club will give an entertainment under the direction of Mr. Gossin tomorrow evening in the club-house. The programme promises to be interesting.

COLORED METHODISTS REJOICE.

For Zion's Corner-Stone is Laid, and All the Church's Debts Are Paid.

The corner-stone laying of the new church of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. congregation yesterday afternoon was attended by a large crowd of colored people.

Bishop B. T. Tanner, of Philadelphia, was in charge and delivered an able sermon from Haggai 1:1 before the stone was laid by about twenty members of Stone Square Lodge, F. and A. M. Rev. H. P. Thomas and J. H. Crooms, of the Baptist Church, assisted in the services. Pastor T. A. V. Henry led the choir. Much interest was manifested in the welfare of the church. The collection taken up amounted to $77 76.

The congregation is at present worshipping in the Republican Association's rooms on East Front street. It is expected that the completion of the new building will mark the beginning of increased church prosperity.

The foundations of the building measure 24x30 and have been laid by mason Theodore Adams. The carpenter and architect is J. B. Hartpence. All the work done has been paid for.

Mr. Davis has always been deeply interested in the welfare of the church and his long term of service has been characterized by great faithfulness and efficiency. Although he has ceased to be its organist Mr. Davis will continue to take an active part in the work of the church.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

BROKE A STREET LAMP.

Then Daring Thieves Enter a Dunellen Shoe Store in the Darkness.

The shoe store of C. F. Enander, on Front street, Dunellen, was entered by thieves shortly after 12 Saturday night. They departed with about $25 worth of goods.

Mr. Enander keeps a stock of notions in addition to selling shoes.

The robbers attempted to get in the rear door at first and, failing, went to the front of the store. Directly opposite is an electric light, which they broke to escape detection.

They then secured an entrance to the store, and escaped with several pairs of shoes and other articles. The shoes bore the stamp of A. Willett.

The robbery was not discovered till late yesterday morning, when Dr. Brakeley at once telephoned to Chief Grant, this city, giving full particulars. A reward of $25 is offered for the arrest and conviction of those who broke the street light.

Witters Writes About His Case.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In reply to an article in The Press of March 29, from George O. Stevens, charging me with circulating damaging reports about members of the King family, I would like to say that I never circulated any such reports; and I challenge Mr. Stevens to tell the public what it is he charges me with saying.

That little ball he speaks of was started by him and King, and if they keep on rolling, it may become so large a ball that it may roll over and crush them.

Mr. Stevens did not drag me out of Brittin's, but he did come there in company with King and when I was called out he encouraged King to pound me. From the time that King commenced the assault until the end of it Stevens was encouraging him.

When I broke away from King and made an attempt to get into Brittin's it was Stevens that took hold of me and detained me until King came up and struck me in the back with a post. The blow was a hard one and I am still suffering from the effects of it.

I am a poor orphan boy, seventeen years old, with no one to look after or care for me, but I do not believe that the State of New Jersey will allow Stevens and King to go unpunished.

May She Have Many More!

Mrs. Susan Honeyman, widow of James Honeyman, passed her 89th year yesterday. Her children and grandchildren assembled Saturday evening at her home, 46 Grove street, where she lives with her daughter, Mrs. D. C. Adams, and passed the hours in her company very pleasantly. Mrs. Honeyman enters her 90th year in good health and with all her faculties well preserved except her sight.

Four generations attended, and a fifth was represented by a picture. Her children who were there were Mrs. D. C. Adams and J. Newton Honeyman, of Plainfield; Mrs. Charles E. Wyckoff, of LeRoy, Minn., her daughter, Mrs Carmon Parse, and her son, Job Honeyman, of Knoxville, Tenn.

The fence in the rear of James Conneeley's house, 301 Madison avenue, was found to have caught fire from hot ashes which had been placed in a barrel near it. The flames were put out by firemen with extinguishers.

GOULD AND HIS FIANCE.

Her Father Talks and the Millionaire Tells of His Sweetheart.

NEW YORK, April 2.—There is much interesting gossip connected with the engagement of Howard Gould and Miss Odette Tyler, the actress, or Miss Bessie Kirkland, as she is known in private life and blue-blooded circles of the south.

Despatches from Savannah, Ga., state that a New York detective or lawyer's clerk was in Savannah gathering information relative to Miss Tyler, presumably for members of the Gould family other than Howard, and that he had been unable to find the record of Miss Tyler's birth. General Kirkland is a clerk in the inquiry office for missing and dead letters of the postoffice. He is of the typical ex-confederate officer. He is of medium height, with white moustache and imperial, and wears an air of quiet dignity. When he was shown the Savannah despatches he was indignant.

"I do not know whether a record of births is kept in Savannah, in which city my daughter Bessie was born. Her uncle, Dr. Bullock, who was present at her birth, is dead. She was a mere child when we left Savannah in 1873.

"Most of my old friends in Savannah are dead. However, there remains in Savannah Col. W. W. Gordon, George H. Mercer, who is probably head of the bar, Gen. Henry R. Jackson, formerly minister to Mexico, and Mr. Lawton, who was minister to Austria under Mr. Cleveland's first administration. They all know the history of my family from its inception to its finish."

"Have you met Howard Gould?" was asked.

"Met him!" in a tone of amazement. "Why certainly. All through this affair Mr. Gould has acted like a man of refined instincts. He approached me before he ever spoke to my daughter."

"And you gave your consent?"

"Of course I did."

Gen. Kirkland was asked if he believed the brothers and sisters of Mr. Gould had instituted the inquiry concerning his daughter, which is now being made in Savannah.

He replied that he had not the slightest idea. He did not know that there was any opposition to the marriage on the part of Mr. Gould's brothers and sisters.

"You would probably have heard if such opposition existed," was suggested, and he replied:

"I should certainly think so."

Howard Gould said that he thinks the man who is making inquiries at Savannah regarding the Kirkland family must be a newspaper reporter. Replying to further questions, Mr. Gould said:

"Miss Tyler was married when she was only 16 years old, and she lived with her husband only a short time. She obtained an absolute divorce from him in this state, where there is only one ground for divorce."

"Is there any opposition on the part of your brothers and sisters to your marriage to Miss Tyler?"

"I have not heard of any."

"When will you be married?"

"Some time this summer. The day has not yet been set."

"Where will you reside?"

"That has not been settled either. It is quite likely that we will reside here."

The Behring Sea Question.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The text of the Behring sea bill approved by the cabinet has been obtained. It follows the provisions of the tribunal of arbitration by prohibiting citizens of the United States from sealing within 60 miles of the seal islands at any time. It establishes a close season for citizens of the United States outside of that zone from May 1 to July 23. It prohibits the use of steam vessels during the open season. It provides that the master of every sealing vessel shall keep a record of seals caught and establishes the penalty of perjury for any false statement. It prohibits the use of nets, firearms, etc., except shotguns outside of Behring sea. United States Indians sealing in canoes or boats are exempted from these provisions.

Poor Polanders.

NEW YORK, April 2.—An appeal has been issued in this city in behalf of the Polish congregation of Jerusalem, whose members say that their condition is deplorable, and that the persecutions in Russia have taken away from them the former source of support leaving them without any resources whatever, with thousands of widows, orphans and helpless old men among them. They say they are actually on the verge of starvation and ask their coreligionists to open their eyes to their pitiable condition.

Firemen as Horse Dealers.

The Councilmanic Fire and Building Committee with Chief T. O. Doane, disposed of "Black Tip" and "Gray Tom" Saturday to a good advantage.

The black was purchased by William J. Tunison and the gray by Dr. George W. Endicott. The pair brought $300, $25 more than the recently purchased bay team cost.

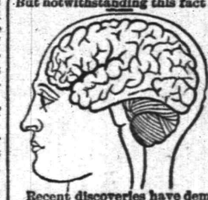
MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.



Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle. DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

CHAPTER I.

Life was becoming unbearable. Here I was, at 25, a senior wrangler of Harvard, an excellent all round athlete, a thorough musician, possessed of oft admired physical beauty and admittedly "a very decent kind of fellow," but minus the wherewith—the yellow metal—to enjoy these gifts and accomplishments. From some way back relative I had inherited the munificent income of $500 per annum. And here I am, with a chest full of rejected manuscripts—a literary failure, with not a ghost of an idea how to pay my next month's board bill. And I mused:

I wish I hadn't gone to school. Then I would not have become ambitious. I believe I would have made an excellent blacksmith. There is, to me, a positive glory in watching the rigid metal yield to the blows of the sledge and the sparks fly around in geometric regularity, but with spiteful hiss, as if resenting the onslaught of the smith. In that there is manful exercise, room for some play of inventive genius, too—if you have any—and income. And what exquisite rest, when after a hard day's work, banging and pounding and hammering that ugly, unyielding mass of metal into something shapely and pleasant to look upon, one sinks into dreamless sleep!

Ah, me! But who the deuce have we here? Ye gods! a letter—the first I have received in six long months. But I dare say it is from my tailor. The last I received was also from him. Yes, it looks like his caligraphy; I shall read it for dessert. Now, if my "poor but respectable parents"—God rest them—had not been seized with the belief that I had genius, they would have apprenticed me to a blacksmith or to some such respectable tradesman. But, no. I was to become a great man, a shining light of some kind or other, and consequently the money, which would probably have prolonged their lives, and after their deaths have rendered my lot less unbearable, was pocketed by the tutors and college professors, whose teachings have unfitted me for the battle of life.

Confound it! Well, anyhow I have to thank them for an excellent constitution.

I dare say I shall have to do something—education won't burthen me much. Among strangers I descend to plain, everyday labor. This is undoubtedly the "irony of fate." Yes, I was particularly unhappy on the day when my injured feelings expressed themselves as above. I was reduced to a solitary dollar, and my quarterly stipend would not be due for 10 days. There seemed to be nothing for it but to sell my books and a few old trinkets, and adding the proceeds to the $125 which my lawyer would send me on the 19th bury myself in some western goldfields or in some other—as I then put it—God forsaken part of the globe.

But the idea of rushing off to parts unknown without settling with my obliging and indulgent tailor seemed to be unworthy of a member of the house of Paton—so famous for its polony and other delicate brands of sausage meat. Therefore I decided then and there to open the letter, discover how much I owed him and give him a draft on my lawyer for the amount.

It was the old story of "honesty meets its reward," for when I opened that tailor's letter, lo, and behold! there fell from it a check. I didn't throw my hat in the air or do any of those other silly things which men are reported to do upon being pleasantly surprised. No, I was simply astounded—so very astounded that I sat upon my hat, which had lain on the chair, and didn't notice it. And I positively gasped:

"A check from my tailor! What in the name of goodness does he mean? The man must have gone mad."

But, no, he hadn't. After a little while I investigated that precious envelope further, and discovered that the check had not come from the tailor. It was from a lawyer named Dustie, and his letter was such a thunderbolt that it crushed to atoms my recent dreams of the heavenly delights of the goldfields. Here is a true copy of the document:

Mr. Ebenezer Paton:

DEAR SIR—In accordance with the will of the late Miss Sara Cullom I herewith inclose you my check for $500 to enable you to come to Boston at once. You will please make no unnecessary delay about coming to this office upon your arrival in the city, as failure to appear before 4 o'clock on Thursday next might preclude the possibility of your securing any portion of the said Miss Cullom's millions. Your obedient servant, HOSEA DUSTIE.

I didn't pause to consider whether the entire story was a hoax—other people might have been skeptical. But, although I had never heard of such a person as Miss Sara Cullom, I instantly seized that check, rushed to the bank, got 25 crisp $20 notes in exchange and was on board a special train as fast as it could be got ready. The only things I could remember were that millions were waiting for me, and that I had but two hours to cover 50 miles and reach Mr. Dustie's office.

The minutes flew by like seconds as the train pounded along. My brain was a perfect blank save as to the fact that if I was not at Mr. Dustie's office millions would be lost to me. I was just beginning to plan some gigantic scheme of charity when my head collided with the opposite side of the carriage and the train stopped suddenly.

With a smothered oath and an aching head I rang for the guard and inquired, "What the dence is the meaning of this?"

"A way train ahead, sir. We must follow slowly until we get to some loop and then pass her."

"But I paid for this train to arrive in Boston not later than 3 o'clock."

"Never fear, sir, we'll get there."

But I was not so certain of "getting there," and I forthwith relegated that particular way train to the very remotest region in a certain very hot place. I fumed and swore until we started again, and my passion waxed stronger when, as we bowled into the Old Colony station, I saw that it was 20 minutes past 3 o'clock.

But at last I reached the office of Hosea Dustie. I sent in my card and was at once admitted to the presence of a baldheaded, sinister looking individual whose eyes were fixed upon a curious looking clock, the minute hand of which pointed to within a few seconds of the hour of 4.

I afterward learned that this clock was specially fitted up to time my arrival and was connected with the observatory clock of Harvard to avoid mischance.

"Ah!" It was a very long drawn ah!—that sigh of Hosea Dustie. "And so you are here? I am pleased to see you, Mr. Paton. Take a seat. I suppose you were surprised to get my letter?"

"Yes, I was surprised."

"Ah, hem. I thought so. But this is a very unpleasant affair, Mr. Paton."

"What do you mean?" I inquired, beginning to think that I was being hoaxed.

"Strangely unpleasant," continued the lawyer.

"I wish you would explain, sir."

"Ahem! See here, young man. Did you ever hear of Sara Cullom?"

I was beginning to realize that my prospect of getting the millions was vanishing, but nevertheless I answered truthfully:

"Never, sir, until I received your letter."

"Deuced queer. Ahem! Rum ones, these women folks. Well, sir, you'll have a hot time to win Miss Cullom's money. But I must call in a notary while I read her will to you."

And after a few minutes' delay I heard the contents of the will as follows:

In the name of God, amen:

I, Sara Cullom, being of sound mind, do make and devise this my last will and testament. To wit, I give and bequeath all and everything I may die seized and possessed of to Ebenezer Paton upon the following conditions: To wit, that, providing my death shall happen before June 30, he shall, on or before the 10th day of April next following, marry I. B.—the young lady particularly described in the sealed letter addressed to my lawyer, Hosea Dustie. The said sealed letter, which contains ample instructions for the proper identification of the said I. B., shall not be opened until the morning of the day aforesaid. Should my death take place after June 30, then shall the same conditions be in force and take effect, except that the date for the production of the said I. B. as the wife of the said Ebenezer Paton shall remain the 10th day of April of the succeeding year. In failure of which conditions I direct that all my possessions, save and except the moneys, which, in the discretion of the said Hosea Dustie, he shall deem it necessary to advance to the said Ebenezer Paton to expedite his search for the said I. B., shall be used for the establishment of a foundling hospital in the district of Brookline, Mass. As witness my hand and seal, etc.

Here followed a short codicil, which read:

In the event of the failure of the said Ebenezer Paton to discover and wed the said I. B., as directed, if, in the opinion of the said Hosea Dustie, the said young Paton shall have truly and diligently endeavored to carry out the intention of this my last will, then, and upon no other conditions, shall he receive the sum of $20,000, it being clearly understood that should the said Ebenezer Paton show no interest in this matter he shall be forthwith deprived of all benefit herefrom, and for this purpose and to ascertain his wishes I direct that he shall be required to make oath that he will well and truly search for and wed the said I. B. before being accepted by said Hosea Dustie as my provisional heir. The said oath to be made at or before 5 o'clock on the Thursday week succeeding my death.

I was completely knocked out by this extraordinary will, and I was engrossed in thinking over it when the lawyer interrupted my meditation by saying:

"Curious, eh?"

"Yes, it is a very strange affair."

"But," he inquired, "are you prepared to make the oath?"

"I must think."

"But you haven't time, young man. 'Tis now 10 minutes to 5 o'clock. I don't know how you're to find the girl, but if you can find her and marry her it means nearly $7,000,000 in your pocket. Are you in love with anybody?"

"No."

"Then, why do you hesitate? Here, Mr. Notary, get ready your Bible. There's the oath, Mr. Paton; just read it and sign at once, or you lose all chance of the girl and millions. Confound it, man, what are you delaying for? 'Tis a chance in 7,000,000 life times. You've only three minutes left."

And I signed the document.

I felt as if I had signed my death warrant. The notary disappeared, and I was alone with Hosea Dustie.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

SAYS HE DID WRONG.

And Had No Occasion to Do as He Did.

Breckinridge Says the Punishment He Receives He Will Have to Submit To, But One Punishment He Did Not Deserve and Positively Refused to Accept, and That Was to Marry the Plaintiff—His Opinion as to What Effect the Publication of a Scandal About a Man and Woman Would Have on Each Other.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The trial of the Pollard-Breckinridge case was resumed this morning at the most interesting point of the cross-examination—a mystery involving an alleged letter addressed "My Dear Louise," which the plaintiff's counsel will try to prove was written to her in 1886 at a time when, according to his testimony, Col. Breckinridge had suspended his relations with her and did not know her whereabouts.

The chief interest in this, the second dubious letter introduced in the case, centers in the name Louise. Miss Pollard avers that she went to Cincinnati in February 1885 and in June of that year gave birth to a baby at St. Joseph's asylum at Norwood, near Cincinnati, and that after leaving the asylum, she went to the house of a physician under the assumed name of Louise Wilson. The defendant denied positively having any knowledge of "My Dear Sister Louise," or of having given a letter beginning that way to a typewriter to copy.

The cross-examination of the defendant will be continued all through to-day and probably to-morrow.

Mr. Wilson, conducting the cross-examination, said at one point:

"Now, Col. Breckinridge, Major Butterworth has made so pointed a reference to the plaintiff's reading George Eliot that I thought there must be some reason for it. Can you tell me what that point is?"

"I do not know of any reason except because of George Eliot's cohabitation with Mr. Lewis. I did mention this to Major Butterworth and told him that the plaintiff had expressed a great admiration for her and said she would rather live a life like George Eliot lived than grow up an ignorant Kentucky country woman, raising a house full of children, churning milk and all that sort of thing. I mentioned it to Major Butterworth merely to give him an idea of the mawkish sentimentality of this plaintiff's mind and how she formed a romance around George Eliot's companionship with Mr. Lewis."

This feature of the examination extended over considerable time.

By questions concerning the Colonel's residence in Lexington, in 1884, Mr. Wilson elicited the information that his home was on the same street with the house of Sarah Gess, four blocks away. Then he asked:

"How long had you known Sarah Gess?" to which Col. Breckinridge answered, "Oh, I can't tell; perhaps twenty years."

"Did you know the character of her house?" "I did."

"Had you ever been there before you went with the plaintiff?" "I was."

Turning to the letter produced by the defense and purporting to have come from Miss Pollard, Mr. Wilson asked where the envelope was, and Mr. Breckinridge replied that it had been lost.

"You have received a great many letters from her?"

"I have."

"And you are only able to produce of all of them what is called this wooden, or dummy letter?"

"I do not admit that it was a dummy letter. I have not said so. After the relations which grew up between the plaintiff and myself on Aug. 1, 1884, I did not want to preserve the letters because of many references in them."

Judge Wilson asked Col. Breckinridge's opinion as to what effect the publication of a scandal about a man and a woman would have on each other before the world, and the defendant answered:

"I would say that the publication of such a matter would destroy the girl and only injure the man. It hurts him but does not destroy him. If he is a young or unmarried man it is only an injury that may not be serious. But the advice that I would give the young woman or the young man would be based entirely upon the circumstances."

"You would not give the same advice to the man that you would to the woman?"

"That would depend, I say, upon the circumstances. If the young man came to me under some circumstances I would say that death and hell would be better than living with that kind of a woman."

"Don't I understand you then, that your advice to the man would depend on the peculiar circumstances and surroundings of the case?"

"It would."

The carriage ride was the basis for many particular and minute questions about what occurred during its progress and Col. Breckinridge was obliged to repeat what he had told Friday concerning it. "Her whole talk that evening was," the witness said, "of her ambition to become an authoress and she held George Eliot up as an example of all she would like to be."

"Did she express surprise when you put your arm about her?" asked Judge Wilson.

"She did not."

"Did she encourage you?"

"I cannot say that she did."

"Can you give us an idea of how long you held her in your arms?"

"It was not very long; the entire transaction was not long, during which, to my recollection, there was not a word said."

"But I want to know how long this transaction lasted until you performed this act you admit."

"If was not very long; it was not a matter of time that I held her there and then drew her into my lap."

Col. Breckinridge said he had had immoral relations with women during his married life, and after Judge Wilson had made a statement of what such conduct on the part of a married man meant, Col. Breckinridge said:

"That is all true, and more than you have said. There never lived a man who had less excuse for doing what I did, than I had. There is no form in which you could put the question that could make me wish to palliate in the slightest degree the conditions surrounding me at that time. I have no defense to make for it, but that it happened that way."

Much of the examination which followed was unsuitable for general publication. It related to the betrayal part of the plaintiff's petition and the defendant gave a categorical denial of that part of the case in all its phases. He continued: "That act happened in the circumstances I have narrated and the punishment I have received for it is the punishment I shall have to submit to. There is but one possible thing which I did not deserve for my punishment, and which I did most positively refuse to accept, and that was to marry the woman with whom I had that transaction."

Col. Breckinridge said he spent the day after he and Miss Pollard had met at Sarah Gess' at his own home.

"Did you go to church?" asked Judge Wilson, for it was Sunday.

"I did not."

"To Sunday school?"

"No."

"To Bible class?"

"No—I spent the day in-doors."

"And that night you went to see the plaintiff again at Sarah Gess'?"

"Yes. I went after dark."

The witness was here asked if he knew a certain person who did typewriting in the corridors of the capitol and whose name was given. He said he might know her if he saw her, but did not remember her name.

Judge Wilson next asked the witness if he had a sister in Louisville. Col. Breckinridge said he had a sister Mary there.

Then came one of the most interesting happenings of the day.

"Have you a sister Louise?" asked Judge Wilson.

"I have not."

"Did you ever take a letter to a typewriter in the capitol for copying, addressed 'My dear sister Louise'?"

"I don't recollect sending any such letter. I have no sister Louise. I have a sister-in-law whose name is Louise, but I call her Lou."

It was the belief of those who have followed the course of the trial that Judge Wilson wanted to prove that "my dear sister Louise" meant "Louise Wilson," the name Miss Pollard says she assumed while in Cincinnati after her confinement in 1885. The defense has tried to prove that Miss Pollard did not give birth to a child in Cincinnati and that she had heard that a girl named Louise Wilson was at St. Joseph's foundling asylum and had pretended that it was her assumed name to strengthen her case.

GEORGIA'S NEW SENATOR.

Mr. Walsh is a Catholic and a Free Silver and High Tariff Advocate.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 3.—Col. Patrick Walsh, who has just been appointed United States senator by Gov. Northen to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Colquitt, is chief editor of the Augusta Chronicle, member of the Roman Catholic church and president of the Southern Associated Press. He was defeated as member of the national democratic committee on account of his high tariff views in 1888. Last year he was defeated as a delegate to the national convention because he favored Hill for president. He has always been an ardent protectionist heretofore. He has never held a political office. He is in favor of the free coinage of silver. Mr. Walsh is about sixty years of age.

Mr. Walsh has accepted the senatorship in the following note tendered to Gov. Northen:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch appointing me to fill the vacancy in the United States senate caused by the death of the Hon. Alfred H. Colquitt. I accept the appointment as the highest honor that can be conferred upon me. I appreciate the responsibility that the trust imposes and will endeavor by a faithful discharge of duty to merit your confidence and the approval of my fellow citizens of Georgia. Every measure of reform pledged by the national democratic party will receive my cordial support. PATRICK WALSH."

Crisp is Pleased.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Regarding Mr. Walsh's appointment as United States senator Speaker Crisp said the selection pleased him, and that he believed it would meet with the approval of the people of Georgia. Col. Walsh, he said, was known as a radical democrat, but he believed he would vote with his party on the tariff bill.

For a Great Electric Road.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A bill permitting the construction of an elevated electric railway between this city and New York was introduced in the house by Mr. Catchings. It is designed to run trains at the rate of 120 miles an hour over this road. The charge for transporting passengers is not to exceed two cents per mile.

Election Results at Calais, Me.

CALAIS, Me., April 3.—The municipal election resulted in re-election of Mayor George A. Murchie by 434 majority. The republicans carry all seven wards by increased majorities, with the exception of ward 3, where the regular republican pulled through by two majority.

HELPLESS IN A STORM

Particulars of the Steamer Ems' Experience.

Her Shaft Broken Close to the Screw—Passengers at One Time Battened Below While the Steamer Tossed About at the Mercy of the Terrific Seas—Rescue Hailed With Joy.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The news of the arrival of the North German Lloyd steamer Ems at Fayal, Azores, in tow, has lifted a great weight off the minds of the agents in this city and relieved the anxiety of the relatives and friends of those aboard, and the office of the company was besieged to-day for further particulars of the accident to the steamer.

The United Press correspondent at Horta, Island of Fayal, obtained an interview at that point with Dr. Field, of New York, a saloon passenger on the steamer. Dr. Field, after speaking briefly of the steamship's voyage, said that the whole story was told most carefully in his diary, which he had kept from the day of departure from Bremerhaven. This diary contained the following narrative:

The Ems sailed from Southampton on March 13, with 30 cabin and 200 steerage passengers. The weather was fine at first and the passengers passed the greater part of every evening on deck. Early in the evening of March 22, however, there were signs of an approaching storm, and before the night was far advanced the weather became very heavy. The wind blew a gale and the air was full of sleet. On the morning of the 23d, Good Friday, the violence of the storm increased rapidly. There was a furious wind and the vessel tossed frightfully. Heavy seas shipped repeatedly. Nearly all the cabin passengers were too ill or too anxious to attend meals, and the table were almost empty. At 1:40 on Friday morning the steamship's engines were stopped. The vessel was tossed about for two hours and then, at about 1:40, the engines were started, but only to be stopped again at 2:10.

The passengers were informed soon that the shaft had broken close to the screw, and that the steamship must drift until help should be obtained from some passing vessel.

"During the following night the storm raged with even greater fury," says Dr. Fields in his diary. "At midnight there was a fearful hurricane—without parallel in the experience of the officers. The vessel was perfectly helpless and at the mercy of the elements. All the passengers remained up throughout the night. The Ems is in the middle of the Atlantic and is drifting southward."

"March 24—The weather has been very tempestuous. At dinner time we signalled the steamship Rappahanock (which sailed from Newport News on March 16 for Liverpool) and her captain agreed to tow us to England. The weather moderated toward night and we all felt greatly relieved. After signalling the Rappahanock we refused the aid offered us by another steamship.

"March 25.—The heavy sea kept the Rappahanock away from us. Toward evening the storm increased again. The Rappahanock signalled that on account of her situation of her cargo she could not wait longer, and she steamed away. This, after our having refused the aid of another vessel, greatly depressed us. The hatches were battened down and the passengers were kept below. The night was sleepless. Signals of distress were made. The Ems continued to drift southward.

"March 26.—The sea was rough this morning; later the weather was clearing and the passengers were permitted to go on deck.

"March 27—Weather misty; were about to fire the cannon, when the lookout called that he saw smoke on the horizon. The excitement was intense, all the passengers crying out: 'A steamer! A steamer!' The cannon was fired rapidly. The steamer was lost in the fog, but reappeared soon and headed toward us, proving to be the Wild Flower. She lowered a lifeboat and boarded us. Her men seemed like angels of rescue. Her captain offered to tow us to the nearest port, Fayal, which we reached on April 2."

After making this copy of Dr. Field's diary, the United Press correspondent submitted it to Captain Reimkasten, who said that the facts were correctly stated. The passengers speak most highly of the faithfulness, efficiency and consideration shown by the officers and crew. The conduct of Captain Reimkasten is praised without measure by all.

WATCHING FOR CROOKS.

Preparations to Escort Coxey's Army Through Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, April 3.—Honore Jackson, the half-breed advance guard of Coxey's army, passed through Pittsburg en route to Whitehall, where he will go into camp.

Iron Molders' Union of North America, with a brass band and a delegation of 245 men, will meet the commonweal army at the Allegheny City limits and act as an escort to the camping ground on Smoky Island. The Patternmakers' union, as well as several other trades unions, will send delegations to meet the army.

Honorary Marshal T. A. Burrows has engaged the services of the Heflick drum corps to accompany the army on its march from Allegheny to Pittsburg. The marshal expects an escort of at least 1,000 men.

The Pittsburg and Allegheny police officials have agreed to send a detail of policemen to escort the army through the two cities. Superintendent of Police O'Mara of Pittsburg sent two detectives to meet the army at Rochester, Pa., to watch their movements. The special officers say that they have discovered several well-known thieves in the ranks. O'Mara says that if these low characters remain with Coxey until they reach this city he will get the whole outfit.

Mayor McKenna respectfully declined the honor of presiding at the Coxey mass meeting, scheduled to be held in this city to-morrow.

Coxey's Army.

SEWICKLEY, Pa., April 3.—After a weary march of eighteen miles the Coxey troops arrived here this evening and encamped in the center of this fashionable town in a vacant lot. It was a novel sight as the weary and ragged troops entered the town and the residents were out to see them. Pittsburg detectives came on here last night and will go with the column to Allegheny. The authorities have no fear of trouble with the Coxey army but are on the lookout for professional crooks who may attempt to join the troops.

JERSEY OYSTER WAR.

Justice Ireland Ready to Hold Court Aboard the Sheriff's Tug.

MILLVILLE, N. J., April 3.—Sheriff Shinn and a number of armed deputies who left Port Norris on a tug for the disputed oyster ground, near Fortescue, took with them Justice Ireland, of this city, who will hold court on board the tug and accept bail for all parties arrested.

The dispute over the oyster ground is this: About 50 oyster planters purchased riparian rights at Fortescue and the other oystermen claim that these grounds are natural oyster beds free to all.

The latest news from the scene of the expected war at Fortescue is that everything is quiet. A fleet of 450 vessels is dredging on the natural beds, which are out beyond the riparian rights line but none have ventured to come within the line. The tug boat with the sheriff and armed deputies on board is patrolling up and down the coast. Should any vessels work on the riparian grounds, the captains will at once be arrested and trouble might ensue. The riparian line is about 2,900 feet from shore.

Ainsworth Again Indicted.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The grand jury has returned a new indictment for manslaughter in the matter of the Ford's theatre disaster in this city on June 9 last, in which 21 lives were lost, against Col. Fred C. Ainsworth, chief of the record and pension division of the war department, which occupied the building at the time of the disaster. A previous indictment was thrown out on an informality.

For Not Supporting the Ticket.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 3.—At a meeting of the Neptune township republican executive committee Mayor Ten-Broeck was suspended from that committee and his seat declared vacant. Ten-Broeck was present but refused to resign. The committee's action was due to Ten-Broeck not supporting the entire ticket at the recent election.

Knitting Mills In Operation.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., April 3.—Five sets of machines have been started in the No. 1 mill of A. M. Morris & Son. The firm's No. 2 mill also is now in full operation.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, - - Publisher and Proprietor.

WALTER IRVING CLARKE, - Managing Editor.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

The annual cost of keeping the horses of the Plainfield Fire Department is $950. Is n't it better policy to pay that from the taxes and have the horses always on call for duty, than to run the risk of their being far distant when wanted, in an effort to make them earn their salt?

In the crusade of The Press against unnecessary and extravagant expense in educational matters a long list of citizens array themselves by the protest and petition published today in the report of the School Board proceedings. What this town needs more than anything else is sewers. A sanitary sewerage system must come soon, or Plainfield will materially suffer for lack of it. She can struggle along a little bit longer with her five big public schools, or else build on some of the vacant play grounds.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A crosswalk is Westervelt's avenue's greatest need, on the Plainfield side. The city should lay one.

—The two large boilers in the cellar of the Babcock Building were fired up for a test yesterday afternoon.

—A flagged sidewalk is being laid by Wm. Colhtar, an enterprising boroughite, at 149 Duer street. Let the good work go on.

—The clerks in one of the local stores have started an "oyster supper fund". When sufficient money is raised they will have a feed.

—C. S. Guion and Mrs. Loomis have had the walk in front of their Westervelt avenue property curbed with bluestone, a great improvement.

—The annual meeting of the Hillside Tennis Club for the election of officers and members of the Board of Governors will be held tomorrow evening at 8.

—Miss Fergurson, of Scotland, will speak on "Thibet" in the Congregational Church, Thursday afternoon at 3:30, and in the evening at 8, under the auspices of the Young Ladies society.

—The return match between Hall of Perth Amboy and Campbell of Plainfield is to be shot in the club-house Thursday, April 5, at 2 p. m. Considerable money will exchange hands on the result.

—Getting rids of odds and ends of his superior ware of all kinds, Gavett makes room for new stock and affords Plainfield housewives opportunity for really desirable bargains. Just what you want, you get very cheap.

—If you need crockery or house-furnishing goods of any kind in the near future, Edsall says it will pay you to wait until he opens up his new department in the Babcock building. Everything will be fresh and new and prices the lowest.

—Mrs. Willing, sister of Bishop Fowler, and Superintendent of the Immigrant Bureau of New York city, will address the fifth anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionery Society of the First M. E Church in Vincent Chapel tomorrow afternoon at 3 and evening at 8.

—George L. VanEmburgh & Son, the always busy people, will have the lightest store and basement in the State, in their corner of the Babcock Building. They will fill the increased space with new, fresh goods, and push trade with their accustomed energy and enterprise.

—Dr. Lichthill, the celebrated specialist, is establishing himself in Plainfield at 144 Crescent avenue, and is prepared to receive patients as announced in his large advertisement in this paper. The doctor is a physician of long and varied experience, and comes to Plainfield recommended by his long succession of remarkable cures.

West Seventh Street Surprise.

Miss Florence Williams, of West Seventh street, who is spending a vacation from school, at her home, was surprised last evening by a few of her friends. They met at the home of Miss Genevieve Daniels, West Seventh street, and then proceeded to the home of Miss Williams. A very pleasant evening was passed in dancing, following which refreshments were served. Those in the party were: The Misses Woodruff, Negley, Dryden, Holmes, Helen Hasbrouck, Jane Schoonmaker, Nora Williams, Genevieve Daniels; Messrs Dryden, Harry Patton, Arthur Freeman, Fred Freeman, F. L. C. Martin and Harry Williams.

Minnie Lester's Company.

—An excellent comedy-drama was presented by Minnie Lester's famous company in Music Hall last evening. The work of the star and the other members of the cast was more appreciated than that of Waltie's Comedy Company. The managers are so well pleased with their reception that they have arranged three popular dime matinees for Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons. The play this evening will be "The Hand of Fate", and an elaborate musical programme will be rendered by Miss Lester's orchestra.

9 Too Early to Suit.

The subject of organizing a drug clerks association is still being discussed. The one obstacle seems to be a time when all can meet. The clerks argue that if the druggists would close their stores at 9 in the evening this could be accomplished. But 9 is too early to suit the public or the proprietors, and soda-water season coming on!

The Bishop to Confirm.

The Bishop of the diocese, Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, D. D., will make a visitation to the parish of the Church of Our Saviour tomorrow evening, April 4 and will administer the sacrament of confirmation, at 8 p. m. Stages will leave the North Avenue station for the church and return, at 7:30 p. m. The Bishop will be the guest of William Palmer Smith, of Netherwood.

SELL THAT PROPERTY!

SUBSTANTIAL CITIZENS PROTEST THE WADSWORTH PURCHASE.

They Endorse the Claim of The Daily Press that a High School Mansion on Such a Site Is Not a Crying Necessity, and Reproduce the Arguments and Statistics from These Columns of Months Ago.

The meeting of the Board of Education last evening was called to order by President Probasco. All were present except Mr. Lounsbury. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Clerk Clark and approved.

In answer to complaints that the city was paying a high price for the removal of ashes, Fernando Brown, the colored contractor, said he was willing to do the work for 35 cents a load if he could take the ashes from all the schools. He intimated that he would accept 25 cents if the Board would pay no more.

A committee of citizens, composed of John M. Whiton, Albert Nolen, Rowland Cox and E. B. Clark, presented the following petition signed by freeholders of the city:

To the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, Citizens and Freeholders of the City of Plainfield, having heard through the public prints and common report that your Board contemplates the erection of a new public school building at an expense of from $50,000 to $75,000, hereby respectful protest against the present erection of such building, for the following reasons:

First.—By reference to the following table, compiled from the last annual report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of New Jersey, it appears that the present cost of education per capita of the average attendance of scholars at the public schools in Plainfield, is now considerably greater than the average cost per capita in any other city of similar size in the State, and also that it now costs one-third more to educate a child in Plainfield than the average cost in all of these cities. It also appears that the total annual expense for school purposes in Plainfield is materially larger than in any of these cities, including those of a much larger population, with the single exception of Elizabeth, which has three times the population, and nearly three times the number of scholars.

From the last annual report of the State Board of Education:

Census	Cities	Teachers.	Cost per sch'ar av.	Average attendance	Total expenses for school purposes
13,038	Atlantic City,	47	$19.80	1,708	$44,631.80
18,996	Bayonne,	61	2 632	1,822	51,769.91
11,471	Bridgeton,	36	12 59	1,395	19,052 50
37,670	Elizabeth,	86	21.03	3,467	78,708 33
9,957	Millville,	41	15.93	1,295	22,962 91
9,500	Morristown,	23	23 35	778	21,000 01
18,459	New Bru'sw'k,	50	17.65	1,823	40,007.37
18,774	Orange,	51	26.88	1,440	43,862.44
13,027	Passaic,	44	18 53	1,422	33,398.16
9,476	Perth Amboy,	19	13 27	839	not given
8,622	Phillipsburg,	33	25 56	1,216	34,370.55
11,250	Plainfield,	46	27.39	1,339	62,067.01

Second. The percentage of taxation for school purposes is now larger than the percentage for any other department of the city government, and with the proposed additions will probably be larger than for all other municipal purposes combined. We submit that in view of the financial depression, the stagnation of business and the large number of the unemployed it is unwise to still further increase the public burden as proposed. In our judgment, it is rather a time for a wise exercise of economy, and no public money should be expended, or demands upon the tax payers be made except such as are conceded to be imperative.

Third—It has been stated that the present school accommodation is insufficient. This we are not prepared to dispute, but if admitted to be true, we are of the opinion that a far more economical solution can be reached. We submit that if the Wadsworth property were sold and the proceeds used to build additional accommodation on land already owned by the city, sufficient accommodation could be had, and a very large saving would result.

We are justly proud of the high standard of excellence of the schools of Plainfield, but we assert that while this is undoubtedly desirable it should not, especially in the more advanced courses, subordinate all other considerations. It will not be disputed that the community owes to each child an education, but there is a wide and honest difference of opinion as to the limit to which this should be carried. When it reaches the point of excessive taxation, we assert that the first consideration should be given to the fundamental principles of education, and a wise economy be enforced in the highest branches.

For these and other reasons we protest against the proposed expenditure.

After the reading of this by Mr. Whiton, the committee started to withdraw. As they stood in the doorway of the office an informal discussion took place between the visitors and members of the Board.

The committee did not believe it right that children should be kept from school while older scholars were being educated in the classics and did not think the erection of a new high school was the proper way to provide for the primary pupils of the Fourth ward. The Board held that they were bound to educate the children of Plainfield, of course at the least cost possible. They had deliberated a long while before purchasing the Wadsworth property.

President Probasco said that half the cost of tuition in the High School was paid by outside scholars.

Mr. Cox called attention to the rates of taxation compared in the petition. Mr. Lovell said that valuations in Plainfield were half those in other places. Mr. Cox then asked him to take the cost per capita into consideration in that case.

Mr. Whiton declared that the committee had not supposed the Board would do anything improper but that they had thought it best to present an expression of public opinion. President Probasco thought he could have obtained four times as many signers to a petition directly opposite in meaning.

After the departure of the committee Principal Maxson said that outside tuition paid for nearly half of the total cost of teaching in the High School as his own salary should not be included under that head, he being over all the schools. It was not true that the cost per capita for education was highest in Plainfield.

Mr. Finch remarked that the committee had presented no way out of the difficulty. The Board was bound to care for the children. Dr. Jenkins asked what would be done if the Catholic school turned out the 400 scholars attending.

A number of bills were paid and the report of the City Treasurer was read. Rent for the month of March on the Wadsworth property was received to the amount of $115. The City National Bank reported the payment of two matured bonds of $500 each on the Washington Building and $52 50 interest.

After discussion the matter of having the ashes removed was referred to the Committee on Buildings.

Principal Maxson of the Truancy Committee reported an expression of co-operation from the Mayor. The committee on the new high school building reported slow progress. The Committee on Annual Report said that 250 copies had been sent to persons interested throughout the country and 500 to people in the city.

By letters the Public Library acknowledged the receipt of a report; and Craig A. Marsh, a vote of thanks.

Action in regard to the appointment of a census taker in accordance with a proposed law was postponed.

Principal Maxson having stated that the lowest primary grade in Bryant School was overcrowded, he was authorized to divide any such attendance into half-day sessions.

The meeting was adjourned, subject to the call of the president.

College Dance in the Casino.

Elaborate preparations are being made in the Casino for the Amherst concert and dance of Thursday evening. The hall of itself is artistic and attractive with its tasteful stage at one end and the large fireplace at the other, and with drapery and proper furnishings could be made an ideal ball-room.

Decorators are now engaged in draping the hall from chandeliers and arches, and the latter will be studded with electric lamps to shine through the colors from above, offset by rows of Japanese lanterns underneath.

The concert will begin at 8, and tickets are now on sale at Reynolds's and Leggett's drug stores, at Martin's bicycle store, and at the club.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

TALKING TROLLEY.

COUNCILMEN DISCUSS THE RAILWAY EXTENSION PROJECT.

Mr. Frazee Opines that the Matter Is Being Needlessly Delayed, and Mr. Fisk Retorts that the People's Interests Are Being Conserved by the Go-Slow Method.

After City Clerk MacMurray had concluded his satisfactory minutes of previous meetings, he had a big batch of petitions for the Common Council last night.

Grocer J. A. Smith pleaded for the privilege of using two feet of the sidewalk at the curb for displaying fruits and vegetables. This was referred to the Street Committee and by the committee refused, as the ordinance gave it no power to grant.

William Lane asked to build an 8x12 shed near Stiger's lane and Green brook. The Fire and Buildings Committee was empowered to act.

Similar action was accorded the request of J. T. Voorhees for permission to build a bicycle and repair shop 15x25 at Fifth street and Madison avenue.

Harry B. Thomas, Baptist missionary and preacher, asked for an appropriation to help the deserving Colored Y. M. C. A., whose expenses are $75 a month. The Aims Committee considered the matter, expressed its sympathy, and regretted its inability to provide funds.

Wm. Burrows and others urged that Terrill road be rescued from its "positively impassable" conditionas it "drives away best people". The Street Committee will investigate.

To the Fire and Buildings Committee was given power to grant Albert Heden's wish for a corrugated-iron extension 15x20, at 118 East Fourth street.

Lemuel G. Hart petitioned to remove his building from 333 Park avenue to West Fourth street and Plainfield avenue. Power was accorded the Street Committee.

City Treasurer Titsworth wanted paper and envelopes, and the Printing and Stationery Committee was authorized to supply.

Charles Bocap and others asked to have Albert street macadamized. Mr. Fisk objected that it was not an accepted thoroughfare, but the petition was referred to the Street Committee.

O. B. Leonard resigned from the Board of Health and H. Otis Newman was elected in his place.

William A. Hillman was made a special policeman.

The Tax Collector reported $2,498.73 taken in March, and the Treasurer told of $12,555.80 on hand.

The appropriations were fixed as follows for the coming year:

For general purposes	$33,000
For the Poor Fund	4,000
For the Public Library	2,000
For the Fire Department	17,000

The dog tax was made $3, as heretofore.

It was estimated that the actual general expenses would be $45,000, but $13,000 revenue was expected from licenses and other sources. The Fire Department expenses were estimated at $17,000, of which $4,260 is for salaries, $2,500 for hydrants and $8,000 for running expenses. The Department has just paid the last three $500 bonds of the old Fire Commissioners. For streets, $10,000 to $12,000 was the estimate.

Mr. Erickson reported $25 made to boot on the fire horse trade, and that Mr. Woodhouse had paid $1,000 for the old engine. The money was ordered turned into the fire fund.

Because the old useless bell tower racks the engine-house, it was ordered torn down. The movers will get $45 and the lumber.

Abner Bartlett, Jr., was accepted as a fireman to enable him to finish serving his exemption time. He is a veteran from Montclair.

Mr. Fisk in street railway matters reported that the committee was still at a stand-off with the company, concerning the style of rail. They found the T-rail in other cities to be expensive and a nuisance.

Mr. Frazee expressed regret at so much delay. West Front street residents wanted the extension, and the company was willing to extend.

Mr. Fisk retorted that the people in a hurry were those anxious to sell their land, and that the company wanted to build a cheap road to sell out. The company was not willing to do all that hearsay and gossip reported. The committee was seeking to protect the people's interests, and would not consent to any extension unless the construction was first-class.

Mr. Frazee suggested a public meeting, and predicted a unanimous feeling in favor of the road.

Tin tubes were ordered for the City Clerk to preserve maps.

The following ordinances were adopted on final passage:

To establish grade and side lines of Front street west of Grant avenue.

To repeal ordinances for the improvement of East Fourth street, East Third street, and Woodland avenue, Mr. Frazee voting no.

To amend the liquor-license ordinance, compelling the witnessing of signatures and property-explanations, Mr. Frazee voting no.

A big batch of pink and blue bills was paid, and the Council adjourned.

—Street railway directors are in session today.

An error which The Press exceedingly regrets was made in this column yesterday, concerning the announced engagement of Miss Florence M., daughter of ex-Freeholder George W. F. Randolph of West Front street. The Press stated on information believed reliable that William Gaston was the fortunate fiance. It transpires, however, that his friend, John Groendyke of Finderne, is the one to be congratulated.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

Jack the Hugger.

A drunken man embraced a young woman on West Front street near Grant avenue Saturday night at 9. She screamed, men ran from the houses, and he fled in a zigzag course across lots.

Plainfield's Peter.

(From The Hotel Mail.)

It is not generally known that General Earle and Manager Wright were not on friendly terms at the closing of the New Netherland. Neither the interested parties nor their friends are inclined to talk on the subject, but so far as I can learn the facts are as follows: After the dispossess proceedings had been begun it appears that Mr. Astor's agent approached Mr. Wright and inquired what he was to do after the house closed, and learning that he had nothing in view asked him to remain and look after the interests of the guests until they should have all found other accommodations and moved to other quarters. Mr. Wright spoke to the General and as he offered no objection to the arrangement the offer was accepted. What was his surprise on the following day to learn that General Earle had accused him of disloyalty and ingratitude and said that he was the marshal's assistant and was working against the interests of his late employer.

To these charges Mr. Wright's only answer is that during the five years he was in General Earle's employ he worked early and late for his interests, and that he has not worked against the General's interests even since he left his employ.

TARIFF TALK BEGINS

Allison Has the Floor in the Senate To-Day.

Mr. Voorhees Consumes Two Hours Presenting the Report—Mr. Hoar Demands That the Bill Be Read Line By Line and Word By Word—To Break the House Dead-Lock.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The debate on the tariff bill was opened in the senate with a speech by the chairman of the committee on finance, Mr. Voorhees (dem., Ind.). The speech was read from printed slips, but was delivered with as much earnestness and energy as if it were an ex tempore effort. It occupied just two hours and had a large and attentive audience on the floor and in the galleries. The McKinley tariff was denounced in it as an act of robbery and of unbridled extortion, and was contrasted with the Walker tariff of 1846, "of blessed and glorious memory." The sugar provisions of the McKinley bill were characterized as a jumble and a fraud, and as to the reciprocity feature of it, it was declared to be an "unconstitutional freak." As to the income tax, the opposition to it came, Mr. Voorhees declared, from "the narrow and corroding selfishness of riches." While discussing this point he declined to permit Mr. Hill (dem., N. Y.) to interpose some remarks, stating that he did not feel well and did not wish to be interrupted.

At the close of the speech the bill, which has displaced the Russian thistle bill and is now the "unfinished business," went over until to-day, when the republican side of the question is to be presented by Senator Allison, of Iowa.

A demand has been made by Mr. Hoar that the bill shall have its second reading in full, and on Mr. Harris (dem., Tenn.) expressing his willingness to have it read "line by line and word by word," Mr. Hoar said that was just what he proposed. Some time was given to the Behring sea bill, but, as it had not been printed, it went over. The senate at 5:25 adjourned.

House of Representatives.

Another day wasted in the house. As soon as the journal had been read the contested election case of O'Neill vs. Joy from the Eleventh district of Missouri was taken up and four and a half hours spent in unavailing attempts to secure the vote of a quorum of the house upon the pending motion. At 4:35 o'clock Mr. Patterson (dem., Tenn.) abandoned the effort and the house adjourned until noon to-day. Mr. Patterson gave notice that he would ask the house to sit continuously from to-day noon until the case had been disposed of. Afterward he explained that there were not a sufficient number of democratic members in the city to produce a quorum in the house.

WILL FIGHT IN AMERICA ONLY.

Corbett Says He Can Whip Jackson in Less Than Twenty Rounds.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—Champion James J. Corbett always talks freely when in this city and the following is his latest oratorical effort:

"I will not fight Peter Jackson in England. The articles of agreement distinctly specify we are to fight in America, north of the Mason and Dixon line. America is good enough for me. Jackson ought to think himself in great luck to get on a fight with any white man. Very few champions before me would go against a negro. Sullivan would not.

"If I fight Jackson, and the fight must take place in America, mark you, here is the way it will come out: Jackson will fight on the defensive from the start and I will whip him in twenty rounds. I made a prediction at Jacksonville, limiting my fight with Mitchell to five or six rounds. See if my prediction regarding Jackson does not come out right."

A WOMAN'S LIFE.

SOME THINGS MEN DON'T CONSIDER

Thousands of Women Suffer Daily for Years without Complaining.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Men cannot know the sensibilities hidden in the delicate organisms of women.

Thousands suffer without knowing why, and die the death daily for want of knowledge that relief is so close at hand.

Lydia E. Pinkham will forever stand highest in the love of suffering women.

Because she discovered the cause of woman's weakness and suffering, and found the means to remove it.

Diseases of the Uterus and ovarian troubles are most universal; you can see their ravages in pale faces; it is inicated by halting steps, dizziness, faintness, irritability, melancholy, extreme lassitude, nervousness, sleeplessness, and disturbances of the stomach.

You will hear your friends speak of the dreadful "backache," the crushing sense of "bearing down."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for twenty years has saved women from all this. Hear this woman speak:—

"No man ever suffered a single pang like unto woman.

"Women, therefore, gladly turn to a woman for sympathy, counsel, and help in their peculiar troubles.

"Lydia E. Pinkham deserves the confidences showered upon her by thousands. Her Vegetable Compound has done more for women than any other remedy.

"The great cause of woman's misery is in her womb. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound goes direct to the source of trouble, drives out disease, and cures backache, fainting, despondency, bloating, ovarian troubles, and leucorrhœa.

"I would have been in my grave if I had not taken Mrs. Pinkham's medicines."

—MRS. HANNAH HYDE, Bethel, Ind.

—Miss Raymond, whose horse was frightened yesterday by the band, saved herself from injury by a skilful use of her expert horsemanship.

"Well!" he inquired, "what are you going to do now?"

"I don't know. How the dence am I to find a young lady named I. B.? Why, there must be hundreds of girls owning these initials in Boston alone."

"Blest if I know. 'Tis the most peculiar will I ever had to see to."

"And look here," I continued, "supposing I did find this particular I. B. and that she was married—what then?"

"That's the rub. Let's see."

And he began to think. So did I. It was the strangest case I had ever heard or read of. And here was I—the unhappy mortal who had sworn to unravel it. Suddenly Mr. Dustie said:

"'Tis a strange case, but I have an idea. Now, Miss Cullom was as cunning as a fox. I believe she knew well that I. B. was unmarried. I shouldn't be at all surprised if the girl turned out to be her own daughter."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that possibly the old gal was a widow and not a miss."

"Then what do you advise?"

"If I were you, I'd hunt up the old lady's history. It might give you a light. You know, you have seven months to find the girl, and you can draw on me up to any amount in reason in the meantime."

"Why not open that sealed letter?" I inquired. And he replied:

"No, sir! What do you mean? That I, Hosea Dustie, should dishonor my trust? 'Tis certainly a rum case. But you'll have to get out of it as best you can."

CHAPTER II.

I shall never forget my first experiment in my endeavor to find I. B. Mr. Dustie's suggestion to examine into Miss Cullom's life was a complete failure. She had evidently sworn her servants to secrecy for the same eccentric reason that she dictated her strange will. I had therefore to plan for myself, and my first attempt was most amusing, if it wasn't successful.

I put the following advertisement in the Boston papers:

Wanted—The address of a certain young lady whose initials are I. B. A legacy of over $5,000,000 awaits her. The claims of adventuresses will not be entertained. Apply in person to E. P., Palmer House, Boston, on Thursday, June 8, before 2 o'clock p. m.

I instructed the waiters that if any young ladies called to see me they were to be shown to the large drawing room. But it did not occur to me that I had no earthly way of identifying I. B. until I read the advertisement in the paper next day. However, there was now nothing for it but to take chance. And I reasoned that if I. B. was "on top of the earth" the bait of $5,000,000 would bring her to the hotel on Thursday, and I calmly awaited the event.

I was immersed in a morning paper after breakfast on that Thursday morning when a waiter approached me and said:

"There are 10 ladies waiting for you in the drawing room, sir."

"What?"

"Ten ladies in the drawing room, sir."

"Very well. I'll come directly." And I nearly bit off the end of my cigar with vexation. Ten women to interview all at once! Ye gods! I had a peculiar aversion to interviewing more than one at a time—10 was—well, I said then, "This is the devil."

But I had hardly ejaculated the "old gentleman's" name when another waiter approached me smilingly and said:

"Five more ladies for you, sir."

"How many does that make altogether?" I asked, pretending that I expected a certain number.

"About 20, sir."

"Twenty devils," I muttered.

"Right you are, sir. They're the devil," interjected the waiter.

I was feeling uncomfortable. I believe everybody in the room noticed that I was uncomfortable. But the end hadn't come, for just then a stream of waiters poured through the doorway, each bearing a silver plate, and on each plate were the cards of about half a dozen ladies. I didn't look at one of them. I hadn't the courage. As each man delivered his cards and said, "Four, three, six ladies for you, sir," I grew madder and madder.

What to do I knew not. Finally I asked for a stiff brandy and soda, which I swallowed at one drink. But this didn't do me any good. And still the procession filed into the room, deposited their cards, grinned and filed out again. I think I'd have given $50 to smash one fellow's face. Each time he came in he said:

"They're fillin up, sir. Beauties too."

And I mentally ejaculated:

"Confound you!"

"Say!" said a westerner who happened to be present, "guess your lookin for high kickers for some ballet?"

"No, sir." I answered fiercely.

"Then what d'ye want this beauty show for? Got any objection to a fellow takin a look?"

"Certainly I have. Will you be good enough to mind your own business?"

The westerner chewed his cigar vigorously for a moment and then said:

"Look here, young fellow, I wouldn't lose me temper if I was you. 'Twould be dangerous if you was out in Col'rado. We've a habit o' startin graveyards out there pretty sudden."

I mentally wished he would "start a graveyard" with me right away. I think I'd have enjoyed a fight just then, but the hotel manager arrived in time to avert hostilities and said to me:

"I am sorry, Mr. Paton, but this kind of thing is against the rules."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, this girl business. Both drawing rooms are full of them; even the stairs are blocked, so that not a guest can pass. What are you going to do with them?"

"I don't know what to do," I answered, quite overcome by the affair.

"But something must be done, sir."

"I'm hanged if I know how to manage it. Look here, manager, can you give me a private parlor where I can interview them separately?"

"My God, Mr. Paton, it would take a month."

"Well it's got to be fixed somehow."

"But it can't be fixed here, sir," said the manager, who was getting angry.

All this time cards were being showered upon the table. And I was endeavoring to think of some plan to pacify the manager and at the same time carry out my scheme—I forgot that I hadn't formulated a scheme—when suddenly a waiter and chambermaid approached us. Both seemed to be excited, and the former, addressing his employer, said:

"The cops is complainin about de block o' carriages, sir."

"What have I to say to this?"

"'Tis de carriages o' de ladies wat wants to see Mr. Paton, sir."

"Very well. I'll see to it. What do you want, Ellen?"

"Please, sir, the guests can't come down stairs on account of all the ladies blocking the way. And, sir—and"——

"And what?"——

"Please, sir, I think some of the young ladies is a-fighting."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

WHY CAN'T I BE WELL?

Must I Always be Weak and Sickly?

THESE ARE SERIOUS QUESTIONS FOR MANY SUFFERING PERSONS.

Here Is a Definite and Positive Answer From the Best Authority.

You are not in perfect health. There is a weakness, a pain or a tired feeling, your blood is bad, your nerves are weak or some organ in the body is out of order and you need building up. Don't neglect such a condition, for delay is dangerous.

You can get well and have perfect helth just as well as not. The following letter will tell how. It was written by Mr. Dorman Bridgeman, one of the most prominent business men of Hardwick, Vt.

"Some time ago I contracted a severe case of nervous debility and throat disease. I was in such a nervous state that I could not write my own name and could not feed myself without dropping my food my hands trembled so.

"My nervous system was completely prostrated; my throat was also seriously affected so that it discharged blood. It became a question whether I was to live or die. I was in such a state that I was obliged to give up my business.

DORMAN BRIDGEMAN, ESQ.

I had spells of spasmodic coughing and doctors said I had catarrhal bronchitis. I could not sleep well, as my business was always before me. I would choke up and wheeze badly; I employed many doctors, but they did me no good. I heard of Dr. Greenes Nervura blood and nerve remedy and knowing it highly recommended, decided to use it. I immediately began to improve under its use and am now well. I advise everyone to use it."

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the surest and quickest cure for disease known, and it is just the medicine you want. It is especially beneficial in the spring when medicine always acts most quickly. Everybody needs a spring medicine whether sick or well, and there is none which has the curative powers of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It positively and completely cure nervous and chronic diseases.

It is purely vegetable and harmless and is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th st., New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

WILLIE AND MADELINE

Both Tell About That Disputed Correspondence.

The Aged Defendant Still Under Fire—To Be Examined on a New Line To-day—Did Not Give Her Money to Buy a Wedding Trousseau—Testimony of a Typewriter.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Although the proceedings yesterday in the Pollard-Breckinridge case were devoid of sensational features, the announcement made last evening by Judge Wilson that the defendant would be examined on a new line when he resumed the witness stand to-day, resulted in again filling the court room with a crowd whose faces have become familiar.

When the court assembled for the afternoon session Mr. Carlisle asked permission to put Miss Pollard on the stand to more fully identify the times she had received letters from Col. Breckinridge during their separation and to show that she had received and destroyed letters in 1889.

Major Butterworth objected, but Judge Bradley agreed with Mr. Carlisle, and Miss Pollard took the stand, and Mr. Carlisle asked: "Miss Pollard, did you, or did you not, correspond with the defendant during the session of 1885-6?"

"Now, Mr. Carlisle, I was never sep—"

"Hold on; answer the question," said Major Butterworth.

"Yes," said Miss Pollard.

"Were the letters you received from him typewritten or in manuscript."

"They were all typewritten."

"How were they addressed?"

"Miss Pollard, 56 North Upper street, Lexington, Ky."

"Can you identify any of these letters by the heading or address?"

"Yes, Mr. Carlisle."

"Identify one there."

"Well, I remember that he used 'My dear sister Louise' —"

"No, no," broke in Major Butterworth, "that won't do."

"Well, I must explain—I have to explain."

"No," said Mr. Carlisle.

"Can you identify any letter by the address?"

"Yes, one I remember was addressed 'My dear spitfire.'"

"Any other letter?"

"Yes, sometimes it was 'My dear sweetheart,' or 'Dear Madeline,' or, oh, I wish you would let me tell in my own way," she said, when Major Butterworth interrupted.

"You must stick to the question, Miss Pollard," said Mr. Carlisle.

"But I'm so hampered, Mr. Carlisle, I can't know what I'm saying if you don't let me answer in my own way."

Finally Miss Pollard was made to answer the questions directly and in answer to Mr. Carlisle, she said:

"They were all destroyed—every one—as soon as I had read them. He always asked me to."

Major Butterworth asked if Miss Pollard had received other letters during the time named from Washington.

"I don't know exactly," she said, "but I have a recollection that he addressed me letters from Massachusetts at the time."

"When you were examined on the stand you did not refer to these letters; why?"

"I did not refer to the heading of any letters because you did not ask me."

"Were these letters signed?"

"Yes; with a lead pencil. That was the only thing in his own hand writing that he did put on them."

Miss Pollard was excused and Col. Breckinridge taking the stand was again examined about the alleged letter beginning "My dear sister Louise."

Judge Wilson asked if in the "Sister Louise" letter, written by him, he did not refer to the great disparity in the ages of "Sister Louise" and himself.

"I made no such reference for the reason that there was no such letter dictated by me."

"Did you not in the correspondence express your hope of seeing the recipient soon again and speak of your impatience in not being able to see her?"

"I did not."

"I ask you," said Judge Wilson, "if you did not not in the letter beginning 'My Dear Sister Louise,' and in other letters, speak of your love and affection for the plaintiff?"

"I did not," said Col. Breckinridge, "for the reason that there were no such letters written."

Col. Breckinridge said that part of the time Miss Pollard was in the government's employ and teaching at the Holy Cross academy he was supporting her.

"Do you mean to say," said Judge Wilson, "that you supported her while she was at the Holy Cross?"

"I don't mean to say anything about it if I can get out of it," said Col. Breckinridge grimly, "but if you ask me the question—"

"I do ask you the question."

"—then I would say that I did pay her money while she was there."

Judge Wilson wanted to know how it was then that Miss Pollard got in debt at the Holy Cross for her board and Col. Breckinridge said he did not know of this until last spring. In answer to another question Col. Breckinridge said Miss Pollard told him that she could make some money by speculating through a gentleman and a lady who lived on Capitol Hill and the defendant had endorsed ten notes of $100 each for her.

"Don't you know the money was to be used in getting her wedding trousseau?" Judge Wilson asked.

"It was not. There is not a scintilla of truth in that statement."

During Miss Pollard's stay at the Holy Cross academy, said Col. Breckinridge, the relations between Miss Pollard and himself had been resumed.

"Of course there was a mutual feeling that these relations should be kept secret," said Judge Wilson.

"I know I was—extremely so," said Col. Breckinridge, smilingly. "I don't know about her, sometimes I thought she was, at other times I thought she was extremely anxious to have them known."

The defendant told of many experiments to avoid detection in his relations with the plaintiff. Once they secured a private room in an obscure street, "but," he said, "after a month or six weeks we found that whenever I came down the street toward the house where the room was eyes were glued to every window for three or four blocks around, so we concluded that the experiment was rather too risky." Suppressed laughter followed this humorously told experience.

Judge Wilson asked Col. Breckinridge if he blamed Miss Pollard for telling Mrs. Manar that she had been to dine at Col. Breckinridge's house and the witness said he did blame her for trying to produce a false impression about their relations when another denial not involving him would have done as well.

"Well, can you conceive of a more reasonable story to tell?" asked Judge Wilson, and Col. Breckinridge took him up with—"nor can I conceive of a more accurate story to be used subsequently, in the prosecution of an improper purpose."

Judge Wilson made Col. Breckinridge read his endorsement of the civil service applications filed by Miss Pollard in which he pronounced her a person of good moral character and of good repute and stated that he would "unhesitatingly" recommend her for employment to his friends. These statements were made under oath.

NEW YORK STATE OUT $1,500,000.

That Amount Wrongfully Refunded to Transportation Companies.

ALBANY, April 4.—Comptroller Roberts made public the report of D. J. Dewon, who has been conducting an investigation of the books in the tax department of the comptroller's office. The report states in substance that a careful reading of the facts here presented will show four grave errors, to call them by no harsher name, in the conduct of the affairs of this department and in its system of bookkeeping. The report shows that since Comptroller Chapin's administration $1,500,000, after having lain for years in the hands of the state treasurer, have been refunded upon flimsy pretexts or upon no pretext at all, under the rebate rule of Comptroller Chapin for interstate business. It also shows that during Comptroller Campbell's term the accounts of about all the transportation companies have been charged on the books in lead pencil writing. Mr. Dewon says that, while there was no warrant for granting such rebates, Comptroller Chapin decided to accept reports from companies doing an interstate commerce business upon their capital and earnings wholly employed in this state and did revise a tax for some few companies which paid a tax during his term.

REFORMATORY MANAGERS.

Notified to Show Cause Why They Should Not Be Removed.

ALBANY, April 4.—Gov. Flower has addressed an order to each member of the board of managers of the Elmira reformatory to answer the charges of misconduct and neglect of duty in office preferred against them, and to show cause why they should not be removed from office, within eight days after receipt of the order.

An Interesting Test Case.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 4.—The case of John Hurley, of Ansonia, against G B. Clark, D. R. J. Barry and D. M. Bassett, selectmen of that town, for $15,000 damages, is up for trial in the supreme court. In the fall of 1892 a son of the plaintiff was ill with smallpox, and was removed at a critical stage of the disease by order of the selectmen to the pest house, where he died. It is set up that the boy was removed by force and would not have died had he been allowed to remain at home. This is a test case.

Pleaded Guilty to Abduction.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Carl J. Jetnro, a clerk in the government mail service in Washington, D. C., pleaded guilty before Judge Martine in the general sessions court to an indictment charging him with the abduction of Maud E. Gilbert, 15 years old. Miss Gilbert lived in Washington with her mother, who is a physician. Jethro is more than fifteen years the girl's senior. He was remanded until Friday for sentence.

Governor of Bank of England.

LONDON, April 4.—Mr. David Powell has been re-elected governor of the Bank of England.

TARIFF TALK IN SENATE.

House Seats O'Neill and Encounters Another Deadlock.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The bill to carry out the award of the Paris tribunal of arbitration on the seal fisheries question was passed by the senate and the tariff bill was taken up at 2 p. m., when the republican side of the question was presented by Senator Allison, of Iowa. He spoke for two hours without notes and then yielded for a motion to go into executive business. He will continue his speech to-day.

House.

The democratic quorum long looked for appeared in the house yesterday and in two hours it had voted Joy (rep.) out of, and O'Neill (dem.) into, the seat from the Eleventh district of Missouri. On the last vote twenty-five democrats and three populists recorded their convictions that O'Neill had not been elected.

The English-Hilborn case from the Third district of California was discussed two hours and a vote taken on a resolution offered by the minority of the committee on elections that Hilborn was entitled to his seat. This was lost, 165 to 88, the republicans voting on this proposition. Twelve democrats and four populists voted with the republicans, declaring Hilborn elected. On the next roll call the quorum disappeared and the house adjourned.

Considering Bimetallism.

LONDON, April 4.—The committee appointed by the chambers of agriculture to consider the question of bimetallism has reported its action. The committee find that the silver systems of the United States and India have depressed the value of silver until it is now reduced to one-third of the price of gold under the system of bimetallism prior to 1873. The committee recommend the appointment of a royal commission on the currency. Several members of the chambers objected to the report of the committee, claiming that the present depression, particularly in agriculture, was not due so much to the silver conditions as to other causes, one of which was the importation of foreign cattle.

Le Caron's Bargain.

LONDON, April 4.—The Star says that before Major Henry Le Caron, the government spy, took the witness stand before the Parnell commission to give testimony against Mr. Parnell and his associates, he entered into an agreement with representatives of the London Times, the terms of which were that he should be paid a life annuity of £1,000 and that his life should be insured for £20,000 for the benefit of his backers. The provisions of this contract, the Star says, were strictly carried out, but whether the Times paid all the annuity and the premiums on the insurance policy, or whether the government assumed part of the obligation, is not known.

Diseased Cattle.

LONDON, April 4.—A deputation representing the chamber of agriculture called upon the Right Hon. Herbert Gardner, president of the board of agriculture, and urged the immediate slaughter of all imported cattle at their place of landing except under the most extraordinary conditions. Mr. Gardner declined to entertain the proposition, on the ground that such action would injure the trade relations of England abroad. He expressed his conviction that the present precautions were sufficient to prevent the importation of diseased cattle.

Pistol and Razor Party.

RED BANK, N. J., April 4.—At a colored ball at Jerry Belden's residence in West Red Bank a free fight occurred. Pistols and razors were freely used, and Charles Richardson, alias "Gold Coin," a local pugilist, was shot in the left breast. The ball was removed by a physician and the wound is not thought to be dangerous. Another colored man, whose name is not known, was seriously injured by being cut with a razor on the back of his head.

Not Ordered to Bluefields.

WASHINGTON, April 4. — The report from New Orleans that the United States steamer Atlanta would be ordered to Bluefields is not confirmed here. It is announced that the Atlanta, which went into commission at Norfolk, has not yet received such orders as those referred to. She cannot, in any event, leave Norfolk for several weeks.

Chairman Wilson.

SAN ANTONIO, April 4.—Congressman W. L. Wilson is still at the ranch of ex-Congressman Ben Cable, eight miles south of here. He is rapidly gaining in weight and strength and if no relapse occurs he will be able to resume his work in congress in a few weeks. He still refuses to be interviewed on political subjects.

Train Robber Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The president has granted a pardon to a man who was serving the extraordinary sentence of imprisonment for life "and five years," Henry Williams, one of the gang that "held up" and robbed the United States mails in Northern Texas in 1879.

Zell Sentenced.

NEW YORK, April 4.—William T. Zell, treasurer of the New York Athletic club, and an employee of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, was sentenced to four years in state prison.

Increase in Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The debt statement issued shows a net increase in the public debt less cash in the treasury during March of $3,754,472.54.

MEN WHO ARE ALWAYS BUSY.

Paine's Celery Compound Brightens the Eye, Increases the Appetite, Restores Sleep, Regulates the Vital Organs.

Under the stress of social or business duties, or both, how few business men find time to properly repair the waste of excessive mental labor and close confinement.

The result of this neglect is plainly to be seen in the care-worn, nervous faces and physical poverty of the average business man one meets.

But Paine's celery compound brightens their eyes, increases their appetite, causes good digestion and regular action of the organs of assimilation.

Much so called overwork of business men is the overwork of worry, care, anxiety, haste; these make the severest drafts on their vitality; those who suffer from nervous debility, mental depression, sleeplessness or dyspepsia find Paine's celery compound a powerful restorative. It regulates the liver and kidneys, cleans the blood and feeds the nerves and nerve centres all over the body. Recovery from disease of the liver, kidneys and stomach by the aid of Paine's celery compound is lasting. It is the greatest of all modern restorative agents.

Paine's celery compound is prescribed by physicians who differ in many other things but agree in estimating highly this greatest of remedies for curing diseases of the kidneys, rheumatism, gout, dyspepsia, Bright's disease and stomach disorders due to deranged nervous system.

A TRIUMPHANT MARCH.

Entrance of Coxey's Commonweal Army Into Allegheny City.

PITTSBURG, April 4.—Fully 5,000 people, including about 100 cyclers on their wheels bearing banners marked "Coxey's Brigade," met the commonweal army half a mile from the Allegheny City limits and accompanied the marchers in. Many houses in the lower part of the city were deserted and the streets were packed with people.

The march from this point to the camping ground on Smoky Island was continued as follows:

Police escort, buggies containing Allegheny City police and other officials, the bicycle brigade, seven police officers, Browne, Coxey and Coxey's son, the newspaper correspondents in buggies, the Pittsburg escort, numbering about 800 men; "Unknown" Smith followed by the commonweal army numbering about 800 men.

The army reached their enclosed camping ground a few minutes after 3 o'clock and immediately began the erection of the camp outfit.

The march through the city streets was an almost continuous ovation.

The men were very tired after the long dusty tramp and rested as soon as possible. Mess served at 7 o'clock was the best since the march began. It consisted of bread, butter, coffee, jelly, peas, tomatoes, and tomato soup. Commander Coxey and the marshals were the guests of a neighboring hotel.

After supper Coxey and Browne addressed a mass meeting of fully 8,000 people. A collection taken during the evening netted a handsome sum of money to the commonweal.

To-day a parade march will be made through the streets of Pittsburg and Allegheny to be followed by a mass meeting on the Allegheny wharf, Pittsburg. In the evening the men in a body will attend a local theater and another meeting will be held in old city hall at night.

THE SITUATION CRITICAL.

A Bloody Battle May Be Fought in the Coke Region To-day.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 4.—Sheriff Wilhelm reports the coke region quiet this morning. The strikers have served notice of a boycott on a Connellsville brewing firm, because their source of supply of beer has been cut off since the strike began. The company stores of the region shut off the supply of goods to all known as strikers and many thousands are now on their own resources for food and clothing, which they freely admit is limited.

But few plants north of Connellsville are in operation. Those remaining in blast are owned by the Frick Coke company. The latter company say that they will furnish all the funds necessary to protect their property and men. Sheriff Wilhelm says he can furnish any number needed. If deputies shall not prove sufficient protection the military will be asked. The foreigners in this vicinity are known to have purchased large supplies of ammunition, and from this it is taken that they mean trouble. The outlook is serious and doubtful.

A large body of strikers from the southern end of the region passed through Uniontown, enroute to the Oliver plant, where the company will, to-day, attempt to draw 1,500 tons of coke left in the ovens when the strike began. The mob were armed with guns, clubs, revolvers, iron bars and all manner of weapons. That there will be a battle is certain, if an attempt is made to draw the burning coke.

Coxey's Bowery Contingent.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The Bowery wing of Coxey's army is assuming definite shape, if the statements of the leaders are to be believed. Steve Brodie, whose saloon on the Bowery seems to be the headquarters of the gang, said that the proposed march to Washington was no fake. He said that Bob Finnegan, the leader, had recruited about 40 unemployed hat makers in Connecticut, and that with others they would leave Newark, N. J., for Washington.

Hatch's Anti-Option Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Representative Hatch, of Missouri, the author of the new anti-option bill, expects to get that measure before the house within the next three weeks or as soon as the pending election cases and the appropriation bills, now on the calendar, are disposed of. Mr. Hatch believes that the opposition to the anti-option bill will be slight as compared with that which was manifested against the other bills of this character in the past.

Good News for Bellefonte, Pa.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., April 4.—The fires have been started in the furnace of the Valentine Iron company at this place this morning and employment will thus be given to the 300 operatives. The furnace had been idle since last August, and this resumption means employment for many men who have not had a stroke of work during the entire winter. The works will be operated to their full capacity.

You Can Select Next Year's Styles.

The Press is an excellent medium for advertising Plainfield business. But even The Press has been surprised at the results which Love, corner of North and Watchung avenues, has had from his great advertisement sale ad.

Love says The Press is the paper to use to impress a good thing on the people of Plainfield. He has about 30,000 pieces of almost every kind of wall paper in stock. Some of it he is selling below cost at wholesale. Of course you want your rooms papered in the newest style. Love has already engraved about one hundred patterns for the season of '95, so that he can tell you in selecting wall paper what the prevailing styles of next year will be, as well as this. Love also keeps a large line of paints, oils, varnishes and mouldings.

OBITUARY.

John H. Jackson.

Counselor John H. Jackson died at his home, 826 Second place, this morning at 7. Not 45 years old, he had been troubled with cirrhosis of the liver for several years and in spite of the treatment of specialists and changes of climate he had suffered greatly, although he persisted to the last in his law business.

Mr. Jackson was a native of Rahway, where his father, whose name was also John H., was an editor. He graduated from Rutgers College and came to Plainfield 18 years ago. His first partnership was with the late Judge George P. Suydam with whom he continued until seven years ago. He next practised with W. R. Codington, who had studied law under his direction. After seven years they parted last August, when Mr. Jackson formed a partnership with Winfield S. Angleman and has since remained with him. Mr. Jackson's forte was in chancery cases and the higher courts.

For a dozen years Mr. Jackson resided on Grove street, but for the last five he has lived on Second place. He was twice married, his surviving wife having been a Miss Emily C. Crawford. He leaves two young sons, Wilbur and John.

The funeral services will be held at the house, Saturday afternoon at 2.

George H. Stewart.

George H. Stewart, a resident of Washingtonville all his life, died there at 6 this morning. He was 70 years old. He had been a widower for many years and for the last few months had lived alone. He owned a farm and often came to Plainfield with wood. He had been ill with the grip for a month and became worse Saturday when pneumonia set in.

Mr. Stewart's parents were William P. and Ann Stewart. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Daniel Webster, of Plainfield, and Mrs. John Willetts, of Washingtonville. His sisters are Mrs. Samuel Hedden, of North Plainfield, and Mrs. Elias Wilson, of Washingtonville. A brother, James H. Stewart, is a wheelwright of Somerset street, and another is Abel Stewart, who lives near the mountains.

Birthday Party.

Yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6, Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynch, of Madison avenue, celebrated her third birthday anniversary. The little guests arrived on time, and Mrs. Lynch was assisted in receiving them by Mrs. James Conneely, Mrs. M. DeCourcy, Mrs. D. McCarthy, Miss Anna Searing and Miss Mildred Marsh. The time was passed pleasantly by the little ones with games, singing and other amusements, until supper time arrived, when the following sat down to a well-laden table of good things to which they all did justice: Masters Walter Sharkey, Willie Rafferty, Leo DeCourcy, the Misses Margie DeCourcy, Nannie and Maggie Rafferty, Janie, Dorothy and Fanny Conneely, Alice Sharkey, Margaret Kenney, Madeline Sutton, Loretto Flanagan, Clara Flynn, Jennie Ledwith, and the hostess, Helen Lynch, who occupied the post of honor at the head of the table. The birthday cake was surmounted by three candles, denoting the age of Miss Lynch. After the supper the little guests amused themselves in various ways until the time for going home arrived, when they departed wishing Miss Helen many happy returns of the day. The presents received were numerous and appropriate, each guest bringing a gift.

The day was also the sixth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, and in the evening a few friends gathered and passed a pleasant time. Among those present were the parents of Mrs. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs M. DeCourcy, Mrs. James Conneely and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynch. Mr. Lynch is foreman of The Press's press room.

Daily Press Gift to the Children's Home

The Daily Press has reserved seats in Music Hall for tomorrow's matinee for the free use of the Children's Home. The little people will find the production of "The Rose of Killarney" a most delightful entertainment, wholesome and refined. Miss Lester and her company are doing a larger business even than Waite, who will not return to Plainfield this season, in spite of common report. Last night she delighted all with her songs and dances, and the band concert was superb. Tonight "Annette the Dancing Girl" will be given. The popular ten-cent matinees begin tomorrow, affording all a rare opportunity of enjoying good plays at lowest possible cost.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by I. W. Randolph, 21 East Front street. f-tf 87,

AN UNADDRESSED LETTER FOUND

Written to a Young Bride, It Contained Much of Interest.

A dainty scented envelope, correctly stamped and sealed, but unaddressed, was found on the street by the writer, a day or two ago. The letter it contained was evidently written by a young woman of good sense to a friend recently wedded. The surname of neither was given, and the letter is published in the hope that its contents may reach in this way the young wife to whom it was written. The letter read:

NEWARK, N. J., April 2, 1894.

Dear Marie—I'm so glad to hear that you will have a cozy little home of your own when you return from your wedding journey. How happy will be the task of furnishing it. I am sure it will be comfortable and tasteful, for I suppose you will go to Cannon's on Market street, Newark, where your mother and mine purchased their housefurnishings. I will watch their ads in the papers, and cut out those that will interest you. They have so many pretty things, and sell so reasonably, that I am sure you and John can furnish your entire house for less than the sum you say you have to spend. With love, ALICE.

TRENTON, N. J., April 4.—In the house a bill has been introduced legislating circuit court judges Miller and Child out of office. Governor Werts has signed the Jersey City corporation attorney and corporation counsel bill.

Dunellen and New Market.

THREE MEN TIE FOR THIRD COMMISSIONER.

The election of commissioners yesterday was brisk but quiet. Last Friday night an opposition ticket was made up, and no one but the leaders knew anything about it. It had the names of Stafford Staples, Jacob Fisher and John W. Moynihan on it, and the appropriation was the same as the other ticket. The regular ticket had John Apgar, John W. Moynihan and Frank Wyncoop as candidates. The voting till evening was light; up to 5 in the afternoon only 87 votes had been cast. The total number of votes cast was 208. Moynihan received 156, Fisher 111, Apgar, Wyncoop and Staples each received 101. It is the general opinion that the present board will appoint the third person, as three secured the same number of votes. Considerable excitement was manifested when the result was announced.

A stageload of young people left Dunellen last evening to attend the dance at the home of John Smalley, near New Market. A most enjoyable evening was passed, and it was early this morning when they departed for their homes.

Michael Gallagher still says he will not pay his fine, and wants to know why Officer Corea did not commit him to jail as he was ordered after the papers were made out. He has taken his case into his own hands.

Benjamin Dodwell, the young son of Conductor Dodwell, of the Central Railroad, is confined to his home with whooping cough.

Mrs. Eliza TenEyck and Miss Bassett of South Plainfield were guests of Miss Tingley of the borough yesterday.

Four members of the Plainfield Riding Club enjoyed a ride around Dunellen yesterday.

Dr. Frank Wells enjoyed wheeling through Dunellen and New Market yesterday.

Mrs. E.J. Olssen, of East Second street, Plainfield, visited friends in town yesterday.

Mrs. John Tingley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clawson in South Plainfield.

Dr. and Mrs. Brakeley spent yesterday in New York.

Tam O'Shanters in Pillows and Sheets.

The Tam O'Shanter Club gave a very enjoyable pillow and sheet party at the residence of Miss Helen Hasbrouck of Grove street last evening. Each person was wrapped in the ample folds of a sheet, and the face was covered with a white mask. In these ghostly habiliments the guests wandered around vainly seeking to penetrate the disguise of their nearest neighbors. Some of the efforts were crowned with success, but when the masks were removed many found that they had been laboring under a delusion.

Dancing formed a feature of the evening's entertainment, and the inner man was not neglected.

Among those present were the Misses Lulu French, Margaret Vermeule, Norah Williams, Alice Needham, Laura Emmons, Augustine Lissignolo, Bertha Needham, Carrie Kellogg and Helen Hasbrouck, Mrs. Hasbrouck, Messrs. Charles Angleman, Frank Richards, John Kirkner, Allen Harris, John McLaughlin, B. Egan, Sprowl, Smith and Disbrough.

No Gong Friday.

The city fire gong will be taken down Friday morning and cleaned and overhauled. It will be afterwards placed in another position on the electric light station. Spicer & Hubbard's planing mill whistle will probably be used instead during the day. The system of signals in the fire department buildings will not be interfered with.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The Denver Wheelmen have chosen August 13 to 18 for their national meeting. The racing men will be well taken care of by the western wheelmen, and the success of the meeting is assured.

At the first meeting of the new Board of Trustees of the Plainfield Bicycle Club held last evening, James Murray, George P. Mellick, J. W. Sandford, Jr., A. A. Tilney, Townsend Rushmore, Frank L. C. Martin and Morgan W. Daboll were present. Committees were appointed and other arrangements made for the meeting of the club next Monday.

The advocates of the flying-start system are unusually quiet this season. The advantages of this system of starting cycle races has been brought forward for so many years that a real test was given the idea last season and resulted in its practical abandonment. In record heats the flying start is very good, but in cycle races it is not as good as the standing start, and clubs should lose no time meddling with this idea this year.

The Asbury Park Wheelmen have decided to make arrangements for holding the tri-State meet in Asbury Park July 13 and 14. The wheelmen have been fighting for this meet for some time. Denver protested against the event, claiming that it would interfere with the L. A. W. meet at Denver a month later. They asked the league officials to interfere. John McGuire, Chief Consul of the Colorado division of the L. A. W., who was one of the strongest opponents of the tri-State meet, has withdrawn all objections, and so wrote to Chief Consul Holmes of the New Jersey division.

Lucky Investors.

The people of the East have little idea of the wonderful profits that accrue from wise investments in the far West. The new State of Washington—probably the richest in material resources in the Union—affords some striking examples. Tacoma in 1880 contained only 720 people, now there are 40,000. In its beginning a land company was organized with a capital of $500,000, of which less than $400,000 cash was actually paid in; yet over $8,000,000 in dividends have so far been paid to stockholders, and the assets on hand amount to over $7,000,000 more. Similar stories are told of Spokane, Seattle and other places. Pasco, the coming metropolis of the Inland Empire of Washington, is situated at the junction of the Columbia and Snake rivers, and is now being pushed forward to become a large city. You can get in now on the ground floor. Call on or address The Pasco Union Land Company, Astor Building, 10 Wall street, New York, and get a copy of the interesting illustrated pamphlet, "The Birth of a Great City", free.

New Bonnets in Edsall's.

The new and elegantly trimmed bonnets exhibited in Edsall's yesterday at the opening of his temporary millinery department prior to his removal to the Babcock Building, caused quite a furore among the hundreds who visited the department. Adjectives in the superlative degree were freely used in commenting on the refined taste displayed by Miss Gayton in unique styles and artistic combination of colors. Although she was under disadvantage for want of space to display the goods, yet the showing was fine. A very noticeable absence was that tiresome "sameness" seen in so many millinery departments. Among the large number of hats shown no two of them had the least resemblance to each other. The verdict was that Edsall's new millinery department promises to be headquarters in the future for the latest styles in these goods.

Visiting Back and Forth.

(From The New Brunswick Home News.)

Mrs. Andrew T. Manley, of Easton avenue, was visiting Mrs. D. W. Rogers, of Plainfield, last week.

Miss Percie Emmons, who has been the guest of Miss Ethel Booraem, of South River, and Miss Hettie Holman, of Livingston avenue, for the past week, returned to Plainfield yesterday.

Messrs. George Johnson and Burt Woodland, of Plainfield, visited friends in this city yesterday.

Taught as in Parliament.

The parliamentary drill given in the old Seventh-Day Baptist Church last evening by the W. C. T. U. was well attended. Mrs. A. S. Benjamin, of Michigan, a well-known worker in the Union, lectured and conducted an exercise in the rules governing meetings, by persons in the audience. The drill will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night. No admission is charged, and both sexes are welcome.

TILLMAN IS DICTATOR

He Now Takes Command of All Municipal Police.

The Dispensary Law Must Be Rigidly Enforced—Will Call the Legislature Together if Necessary—Residences Will Be Searched for Contraband Liquor—An Unusual Proclamation.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 4.—Governor Tillman has issued a proclamation declaring himself commander of the whole force of municipal police and marshals of the several cities of the state.

After quoting the law giving him the power to assume this command, he declares that it is made the duty of the police to enforce the dispensary law, that they have not done so, except in few towns, but have been obstructing and are active aiders and abettors of those who are defying the law, that the state constables appointed by the governor to enforce this law have been insulted and hounded by a lawless element of society, causing several encounters and bloodshed. He then says:

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin R. Tillman, governor of the state of South Carolina, do issue this, my proclamation, giving full and official notice to municipal authorities of every city and incorporated town in the state of South Carolina and to the police and marshals thereof, that, under the powers given me, the emergency contemplated has arisen and does now exist, and that I do hereby assume sole control of the whole force of municipal police and marshals of the several cities and incorporated towns of this state. They are hereby ordered to enforce all laws on the statute books, together with all municipal ordinances and orders from municipal authorities not inconsistent with the purposes of this proclamation. As soon as the emergency which is now upon us shall no longer exist I will relinquish control and restore the former status."

Before issuing his proclamation Governor Tillman spoke to a large audience at the state capital, addressing his hearers as, "Citizens soldiers, volunteers and fellow citizens." He said in part:

"South Carolina to-day is attracting the attention of the entire United States, the situation here is so grave and so anomalous, that it is proper for a clear and official statement to go forth. As the governor of the entire people (for I have never sought to be anything else), that statement can best come from me.

"We are all familiar with the occurrences of the past four days. You are aware of the contention made by those who are resisting the law. Now, let us look at the consequences. If the claim set forth that private residences shall not be searched for whisky is once admitted, it simply repeals the dispensary law, and it repeals it in an unconstitutional manner, for if whisky can be sold from private residences, if a man's house can be turned into a saloon, from which whisky can be transmitted to regular saloons, and we are not permitted to go in that private residence, search for and seize contraband goods, you can readily see it is useless to pretend to say that we have a dispensary law. I, as chief executive, have sworn that the laws of this state shall be obeyed and respected and until the dispensary law is repealed, legally, so help me God, I will exert all the powers I have to see that all the laws are obeyed." (Cheers).

He then described the disturbances at Darlington, the seizure of state arms by the mob and the hunt for the state constables. Continuing, he said:

"I say these men were advertising themselves to the world as lynchers, and that they intended to lynch these constables who were in the woods, none of them guilty of having started the row. They were galloping and hurrahing over the country, sending for reinforcements, and all bearing arms, but they have never fired a shot at a single constable. They waylaid the constables at the depot, but have never seen one since the first fire (laughter), and it seems that they did not want to find the constables.

"To-day we find the state divided into two hostile camps. Why? Simply because the minority are not willing to let the majority govern. The body politic is diseased, it is in fever. Why? Because in this city and Charleston the people have taken to their bosoms a viper in the shape of newspapers which distils day by day poison into their system and will not let the fever subside. They give me credit for nothing. They try to sting me personally by abuse, slander and misrepresentations. I wear a coat of mail which they have never pierced, that is an honest heart desirous of bettering the interests of this state and looking to the welfare of the whole people. But, fellow citizens, this strained relationship between the factions in South Carolina must stop, must cease, it cannot go on without precipitating civil war. We of the majority faction are not to blame. These men who have opposed us have got to submit to the rule of the majority.

"It has been sent abroad all over the state and the United States that my life is daily threatened, that men are offering to go to Columbia to kill me. Threatened men live longest. A barking dog does not always bite. My life is not worth much to me, but is worth as much as any other man's, and rather than desert my post to my enemies by leaving the executive mansion, where you have placed me, I would have gone out of it a corpse. (Cheers.)

"Who is doing all this? The blazing element. The Match which is trying to reach the powder is the barroom men, the whiskey men, and those who are egging them on. In God's name, as a statesman, and as a leader of enlightened public opinion, I shall not budge one inch from the position I take; this is the people's government and the people shall rule it. (Cheers.)

"I will tell you what I am going to do. I am going to tell the state in a proclamation the revised statutes of South Carolina are a mine of strength for a governor who will search them and enforce them. What would I have been able to do if I had not been able to control the railroads and telegraphs, preventing them from reinforcing the insurgents and sending abroad more incendiary lies to inflame the people. There is another sword of Damocles which the law places in my hands to suspend over these insurgents, and to-morrow I shall cut the thread which holds that in suspension, and use it, and that is section 519, which gives me power in an emergency to take control of the police.

"If the mayors and city councils do not make the police do their duty, I intend to see that the police do their duty or I will discharge the last man of them.

"I shall confine the duties of the constables to watching the railroads and seizing contraband whisky, and to watching the police, seeing that they do their duty, and report to me whether they are doing it. If they don't obey my orders strictly, if the authorities of the towns do not co-operate, then I shall call the legislature of South Carolina together and I will have the power given the executive to remove these men and appoint others in their stead who will obey the law and enforce it. (Cheers).

"We will continue to search private houses where contraband liquors are supposed to be with warrants when necessary. We are obliged to do this as long as it is the law. It is the law until repealed."

A voice—Why don't you obey the law yourself?

Gov. Tillman—In what respect have I not obeyed it?

Cries of "Shoot him! Shoot him! Shut up!"

Gov. Tillman—Silence men, and keep quiet. In conclusion, I will say to those who are opposed to this law to submit, to quit, to cease there opposition. They must cease it. The people of South Carolina must govern the state, and those who are in rebellion and resistance must get out of the road, because the train is on the track. I have got the throttle in my hand as governor. I am going in on time, so help me God."

The troops in Columbia then left for home.

CONNECTICUT INDUSTRIES.

Many of the Manufacturing Towns Report Improvement in Business.

ROCKVILLE, Conn., April 4.—Reports from many of the manufacturing towns of eastern Connecticut show improvement in business during the past month. The big woolen mills of this city are now all running, in part, and small orders are being received.

The New England company (woolen) have started up 60 out of their 105 looms.

The American company (woolens) have recently started up about 80 looms.

Belding Bros. & Co., (silk) are running their full force on 50 hours time a week.

Business continues good with White, Corbin & Co., envelope manufacturers. They have filled many orders the past month.

The Vernon Woolen company, at Vernon, have started up all their looms and their business has much improved.

The Ravine & Phoenix mills, Vernon, (cotton) are running full time with plenty of orders.

The Mather Electric company, Manchester, are preparing for a large fall business. The paper mills of Manchester are prosperous and have been very little affected by the business depression.

The Notchaug Silk mill, Willimantic, is running its full capacity. The finishing department of the Holland Silk mill, Willimantic, has resumed running full time. The Warren Woolen company, Stafford Springs, are increasing their working force to the usual number.

FEW MORE DAYS OF SERVICE.

Admiral Benham To Go on the Retired List on the 10th Instant.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—As the San Francisco cannot reach Bluefields in all probability before the ninth inst., a day before Admiral Benham retires, the navy department has informed him that he may use his own discretion as to whether he will accompany the ship to Mosquito or return to the United States by the first steamer from St. Lucia. It is thought that inasmuch as he could hardly accomplish anything officially in one day, and as he would cease to have any official work on the tenth, becoming a mere passenger on that date under the law, he will prefer to leave the ship at St. Lucia.

Captain J. C. Watson, who commands the San Francisco, has one of the highest records in the navy and he is confidently relied upon to take the best of care of American interests under all possible conditions. It was he who, as Admiral Farragut's flag lieutenant, after the recapitulation of New Orleans, went ashore without a guard, and climbing to the top of the custom house hauled down the rebel flag and hoisted the Stars and Stripes in its stead. He is said to be a man of unusual discretion and eminently fitted for investigating the Bluefields affair.

APPEAL TO CLEVELAND

LISBON, April 4.—Admiral da Gama, the Brazilian insurgent leader, having asked permission to be landed, with his followers in Buenos Ayres the government of Portugal has replied that the Brazilian refugees cannot be permitted to land anywhere except in Portuguese territory, and that such landing will be allowed only on conditions preventing them from returning to Brazil for the purpose of re-engaging in warfare against the Brazilian government. Another war vessel is being sent by the Portuguese government to Buenos Ayres to assist in conveying the Brazilian fugitives now on board the Brazilian warships Mindello and Albuquerque to Portuguese territory.

The fugitive insurgents are in a horrible plight. Many of them are suffering from wounds, others from disease and some from both. In addition to this state of affairs two cases of yellow fever have shown themselves on board the Mindello.

The condition of da Gama and his associates is so deplorable that the Freemasons of the Argentine Republic have joined in an appeal to King Carlos of Portugal asking his good offices in their behalf. Appeals have been sent to President Cleveland at Washington and to President Peixoto a Rio de Janeiro, asking for Mr. Cleveland's intervention and Peixoto's leniency.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

(CONCLUDED.)

"Fighting? Good heavens, Mr. Paton, this is intolerable."

I felt like a hen in a water barrel. I was infernally miserable. And I could have kissed that chambermaid when she said:

"Oh, sir, they're not a-fighting with their hands; only scolding, sir—all about a million o' money."

"Well, what are you going to do?" asked the manager.

"Waiter, please bring me a brandy and soda."

When I said this, in a most humiliating tone of voice, I think I must have looked confoundedly queer, for the manager burst out laughing and said:

"Look here, Mr. Paton, I can see that you're in a fix. Will you allow me to help you out?"

"I wish to goodness you could."

"Well, if you explain the case to me, perhaps I can."

Thereupon I told him that I wished to find a young lady who was heiress to several millions, but whose initials only were known to the lawyers. I don't think he believed me, but nevertheless, in my affliction of spirit, I felt as if I would like to have embraced him when he said:

"The only plan is this: I shall announce that you are ill, but that if the young ladies will kindly leave their names and addresses you will call on them."

This seemed to be the only channel open to me, so I readily agreed and had the happiness of watching the procession of beauties as they took their departure.

CHAPTER III.

When I counted the cards of my visitors, I found that they numbered 607, and in the fullness of my heart I cried:

"Heavens!"

Six months still remained before April 10, and I calculated that by visiting four every day, excepting Sundays, I should finish the lot in time. But then the real I. B. might not be among them. At any rate I determined to try, and accordingly I arranged to begin my pilgrimage on the following day.

Before going to bed I decided to select the four I was to visit first. There were Irenes, Iolanthes, Ios, Isodoras, Imogenes, Inezes, Isabellas, Idas by the score. It was a difficult matter to select four from among them. At first I thought I would do the thing by districts, but finally I tossed the entire lot into my hat and drew the following four names:

Inez Butler.
Isodora Byrne.
Io Bertram.
Irene Boswell.

I was pleased. I rather liked the names and drew lots again to decide which I should visit first. It was Inez. I was pleased again. It was my favorite name, and Miss Butler lived in an aristocratic quarter of the city. She was a Beacon Hill young lady. I decided that she must be beautiful and accomplished; in fact, before I went to sleep I almost fell in love with her in advance. And my dreams? I don't believe in psychology or psychic trances, but my dreams that night likened more to the actual than any I had ever experienced. Yes, I was at Miss Butler's home. She was my ideal of female loveliness, and she loved me. I was in a kind of paradise; we were to be married; I was assured that she was the real I. B.; everything was comme il faut, and I was just about to strain her in my arms when the shrill voice of the chambermaid cried:

"Seven o'clock, sir."

"'Twas all a dream. And I woke up with a sigh," and I swore inwardly that that particular chambermaid should never get a tip if I knew it. I wanted to feel just how it felt to have Inez in my arms for a moment, and that confounded maid interrupted us.

Honestly, I believe I was losing my senses over this mysterious I. B., and I was goaded to desperation when a giggling waiter brought me a morning paper containing a satirical account of "Mr. Paton's Beauty Show." I couldn't stand it. Everybody was looking at me. I ate my breakfast, asked for my bill and at once took my baggage to a private hotel, where I engaged rooms.

At 2 o'clock I hired a hansom and drove to her number on —— street. No, Miss Inez Butler was not in, but Mrs. Butler was at home. Would I please to come in? I went in. I wished to heaven I hadn't. An athletic looking lady introduced herself as Mrs. Butler, and before I could utter a word she said:

"How dare you, you contemptible scoundrel!"

My articulation was knocked off its feet. Her eyes flashed like angry lightning. I almost wished I had on a rubber coat or some other style of nonconductor. But presently I wished I had on something thicker, for before I had time to devise some mode of entrance into the conversation a cowhide whip was encircling my legs—worse than 10,000 flashes from her lightning eyes.

I turned to run and stumbled headlong into the arms of—of Inez. Yes, it was the Inez of my dream, and that part of it which the chambermaid had interrupted was now being performed in a most undignified fashion.

"Mother, what on earth is the matter?" was the first utterance of this lovely girl after I had extricated myself from her friendly but unintentional embrace.

The old lady became calmer and explained how she had gone to the Palmer House on the previous day "in answer to the advertisement of this scoundrel," and how her dignity was trampled under foot by my ill mannered reception of her, etc. But by this time I had discovered my tongue again, and I said, looking beseechingly at the younger lady:

"Will you please allow me to explain, Mrs. Butler? I assure you that all that trouble and confusion yesterday was caused not by me, but by the ill temper of the hotel manager."

And in a little while all remembrance of our unpleasantness was forgotten, and I had implanted myself in Mrs. Butler's good graces. She became very interested in the story of Miss Cullom's will, but she had never heard of the lady. I was invited to stay to dinner. And I did. And after dinner we had music and singing and spent a very enjoyable evening notwithstanding our peculiar introduction.

During the evening I discovered from Mrs. Butler that the young lady was only her adopted daughter, and that her name was Juliet. This was a blow to my dream vision. I was strangely drawn toward the young lady, nor did she seem to repel my attention. But it must not be, and when I took my leave, although I promised to call soon again, I hadn't the faintest intention of doing so.

My reception at the homes of the next 20 ladies I called upon was invariably disagreeable. I was becoming downhearted and morose. My friends whispered that my mind was unbalanced. In truth, I felt that this confounded mystery would drive me mad.

In despair I called again and again on the Butlers, and finally Juliet and I avowed to each other that not even Miss Cullom's millions could prevent our mutual love. We became engaged.

It was now running on toward April, and one day I received a message from Mr. Dustie that he desired to see me.

"Well, sir, how goes the search?" was his first question.

I told him that I almost despaired of finding the young lady in question.

"My dear sir," said he, "faint heart never won fair lady."

"That's all very well," I replied. "If you can find the girl, I'll guarantee to win her."

"But, tell me," asked the lawyer, "haven't you managed to fall in love with any one of your 607 beauties?"

I felt my cheeks redden as I replied, "No, sir, not one of the 607."

"You are a sly dog, Paton. You're in love. Anybody can tell it. Come, out with it. Hang it, man, I'm your friend whatever happens."

The old man talked so sincerely that I thought I would tell him the truth, but before coming to the point I told him how I had been cowhided, arrested as a lunatic, thrown down stairs and several other amusing reminiscences of my search. And he laughed heartily as he said:

"But the love case, my lad? Tell me about that."

And I replied:

"Yes, Mr. Dustie, I have fallen in love. I shall preserve my oath to endeavor to find this mysterious I. B. until April 10, but even if I lost not only the millions, but the $30,000 also, I shall marry the girl I love."

The old man took me warmly by the hand. The tears stood in his eyes, and he said brokenly:

"Ebenezer, you're your father's son. I'll stick to you, my boy."

"My father's son! What do you mean, Mr. Dustie?"

"I mean, my lad, that I was your father's friend. When Miss Cullom asked me to name a boy to conduct this search and upon whom she could rely to treat this young girl honorably—when they did marry—I remembered your poor father. I found your address, and you know the rest. Yes, you're Ebenezer's son, my lad, and I'll take care that you don't lose by your honorable determination. But who is the young lady?"

"Her name is Juliet Butler."

"Juliet Butler?"

"Yes, sir. But you start. Do you know Miss Butler?"

"No, Ebenezer, I do not. But I know of a Miss Butler. Where does she live? Does her father live?"

"She lives with Mrs. Inez Butler in —— street. Mrs. Butler's husband is dead. But Juliet is not their daughter."

"What do you mean?"

"She is an adopted child."

"Look you here, Ebenezer. Find out all you can for me concerning how Juliet came to be adopted by Mrs. Butler."

"You seem to be strangely interested in her, Mr. Dustie."

"I am, my lad. Is she not to be your wife?"

I took his hand and thanked him. And he continued:

"But there is another reason why I am interested in Miss Butler. If she is who I believe she is, you will not want Miss Cullom's millions."

"What do you mean?"

"Never mind. Do as I tell you. I'll stick to you. But don't forget to find I. B. if you can. You know you have sworn that, my lad, and I do not wish Ebenezer Paton's son to break his oath."

And when I left his office I felt like a new man. I had feared his anger for my determination to marry Juliet, but instead I received his friendship and protection. At one time during his conversation I suspected that Juliet was really I. B., but he quickly dissipated that idea. And now I went to work with a will and a light heart.

I quickly sought my darling and communicated to her the result of my interview with Mr. Dustie, and there were not two happier mortals alive than she and I. We decided to be married on April 10, as my oath would then be exploited, and Mrs. Butler was most gracious to me when I told her of our decision.

I then asked her to tell me all about her adoption of Juliet, and this she did in very few words. Juliet was found in her hallway when a mere baby. On her linen were the initials I. B. Mrs. Butler, having no children of her own, induced her husband to allow her to adopt the infant, and that was the story.

Mr. Dustie became very interested in these particulars. And, desiring me to use my best endeavors to locate I. B.'s whereabouts, he said that he would call on Mrs. Butler himself with reference to Juliet.

Between that time and April I called on at least 500 young ladies whose initials were I. B. At some houses I was politely shown to the door, at others I was fawned on by crafty mothers, and at the home of one girl, whose father knew Miss Cullom, I became so inquisitive and so positive that the young lady was the mysterious heiress that her father threatened to have me locked up in an asylum if I called again. I honestly believe that any other man would have gone mad. But then I had a happy event to look forward to, and I used to screw up my courage by saying to myself:

"Only for that confounded will I would never have met Juliet."

But the month of showers came at last. Juliet looked radiant in her wedding dress. But as we stood before the altar in Mrs. Butler's drawing room—that same room where I had been cowhided six months before—there was a merry twinkle in her eye that I couldn't understand. It made me feel awkward, and I must have looked awkward, too, for Mr. Dustie whispered in my ear:

"Have courage, my lad!"

And then the clergyman asked the question:

"Will you, Ebenezer, take this woman for your lawful and wedded wife?"

And I answered promptly:

"I will."

And then I nearly jumped off my feet when he said:

"Will you, Inez, take this man for your lawful and wedded husband?"

And she looked up into my astonished face with eyes full of love and answered:

"I will."

The ceremony was over in a twinkling. Juliet and I were man and wife, but what the meaning of the parson using the name Inez instead of Juliet was I couldn't make out. And when I asked the question at the wedding breakfast everybody laughed, and Mr. Dustie said:

"'Tis all right, my lad. You've won your bride honorably, and you've also won Miss Cullom's millions. And you deserved them too."

Mrs. Paton refuses to allow me to tell whether we are as happy as the days are long, but I have her permission to say that she was Mrs. Butler's (Miss Cullom was Mr. Butler's divorced wife) daughter, and she is not displeased with the young man whom Mr. Dustie selected to find her.

There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

GUILTY OF INDECENCY

Spectators at the Breckinridge Trial Scored.

Judge Bradley Disgusted With Their Conduct—Rebuttal Evidence the Programme for To-day—Breckinridge Makes Several Sensational Admissions During Closing Testimony.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Judge Bradley, who is presiding at the Pollard-Breckinridge case, took occasion last evening at the close of court for the day to perform a service for which all decent minded people must feel grateful. It was a scorching lecture to the spectators, in which he said that the curiosity exhibited by them had been disgusting. Corridors had been crowded by the prurient and crowds had assembled before the office of counsel. The spectators, he said, were also on trial "on trial for their common sense and decency, and I am ashamed to say that their conduct has resulted in a verdict of guilty of indecency. They remind me of buzzards sitting on a fence corner waiting an opportunity to pick up a little carrion."

To-day will be consumed in hearing rebuttal testimony and it is possible arguments will begin to-morrow, although the attorneys will probably ask for adjournment until Monday to give them time to prepare their pleas.

Col. Breckinridge's closing replies under fire of Judge Wilsons interrogations were sensational at several points.

After questioning the witness about his trip to New York in April, 1893, when he was married, and his meeting with the plaintiff at the Hoffman house, Judge Wilson handed Col. Breckinridge a paper and asked him if that were a fac simile of his marriage certificate. Col. Breckinridge said it looked like the original but said it was not.

"When you put down on this certificate that you had been married once, was that true?"

"I will tell you how that happened. When I came to that, I turned to Dr. Paxton and asked him if I must fill that out. He was an old friend and knew all about it. He said I might say if I had been married before, that it was my second marriage, and I did it. He was suffering from a nervous headache and had asked me to fill out the certificate."

In answer to further questions, Col. Breckinridge said that he had asked Dr. Paxton to keep the marriage secret until next fall. After the second public marriage in July, he had written the doctor not to make the secret marriage public.

"Where did you go on the night of your marriage?"

"My wife and I went to the hotel Logerot at 18th street and Fifth avenue."

"Did you register under an assumed name?"

"I did—under the name of Wm. J. Campbell and wife."

"From what place did you register?"

"I think I did not put down my own address."

This testimony created something of a sensation.

When asked whether there were ever expressions of affection by him to Miss Pollard, the witness said:

"There were expressions of affectionate interest, but not such as could be construed into an intimation that our relations could be on a different basis than they were. I took her in my arms and kissed her. There were all the accompaniments of such a relation, which was carried out not coldly or brutally."

"There were no expressions of love on her part?"

"I would not say that. She was at times very demonstrative, at times otherwise. She was a young woman of colloquial talents, sprightly and interesting."

The testimony of Major Moore, the chief of police, was read, and Col. Breckinridge said that he did not remember the conversation exactly as Major Moore told it.

"I think not," said the witness, in answer to whether he had stated, as Major Moore testified, that he had promised to marry Miss Pollard on May 31. "I think I said 'yes, I'll marry you this month, if God doesn't interfere,' and went right on talking."

"Well, he didn't interpose, did he?" asked Judge Wilson.

"If he did I thank him from the very bottom of my heart for having gotten me out of it," said Col. Breckinridge.

In the redirect-examination, Major Butterworth asking the questions, the witness told about Miss Pollard's visit to his room last year. He said she told him the only friend she had had gone insane, and she wanted the witness to marry her. He refused, and she said she was willing to again become his mistress and do typewriting work for him as a "blind." This offer, he says, he refused. She then said she would follow him wherever he went, and he told her she was turning into a blackmailer. Then she began to cry, and, as she suggested taking a walk, to avoid a scene he went with her to her apartment.

"I sat on a chair," he said, "and she sat on the floor with her head resting on my knee. She said I must promise to marry her before leaving the house, or there would be a scene."

After further refusals on his part, plaintiff went to the window, threw it up and said she would scream and just then somebody knocked at the door and said our voices were very loud and were disturbing people. "The information was imparted to me," said Col. Breckinridge, "that 'your voice is so peculiar that there's a member of congress here who will know you.'"

This statement was received with laughter and cries of "order" by the bailiffs.

HONORS TO KOSSUTH.

Impressive Ceremonies in the City of New York.

NEW YORK, April 5.—A large number of the 40,000 Hungarians in and about New York took part in ceremonies to honor the memory of the late Louis Kossuth. As early as 6 o'clock in the morning the demonstrations began, when a committee from the various Hungarian societies met at the Central Park block house, where Captain John G. Norman, of the Washington Continental guards, hoisted at half-mast the United States flag of 1812.

All the Hungarian societies, together with ten Italian and three Polish, and a part of the Irish brotherhood, formed on Second avenue, south of Thirteenth street. The procession began its march promptly at 1 o'clock and traversed several prominent streets to the City Hall park. There Mayor Gilroy awaited the veterans of 1848 and the survivors of Gen. Sanford's brigade, which received Kossuth in 1851. While the procession was moving past in review the Columbian liberty bell tolled 92 times, indicating the years of Kossuth's life. The Hungarian singing society rendered Kossuth's farewell song, accompanied by band music. At Centre and Grand streets the parade disbanded.

The memorial exercises proper began at 8 o'clock p. m. in Cooper union. Those who took part were M. Schnitzer, Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, Parke Goodwin, Morris Cukor, Joseph Birnbaum, Charles B. Daily and Frederick R. Coudert.

Taylor Put Out of Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 5.—F. L. Taylor, the Cornell sophomore who is confined in the Tompkins county jail for contempt of court, and who has been notified by the faculty of Cornell that he has been dropped from the university roll because of delinquency in his work, says he was unable to prepare for examination because he was required to be present at the sessions of coroner's and grand juries. Judge Smith granted a stay in Taylor's contempt case. He is requested to give bonds in $3,000 to appear and serve out his unexpired sentence if the judgement should be affirmed by the general term.

Notorious Anarchist Arrested.

LONDON, April 5.—The notorious French anarchist, Meunier, the accomplice of Francois and the avenger of Ravachol, was arrested last evening by Inspector Melville at the Liverpool street station. The police of three countries have been tracing his movements ever since the explosion at the cafe Very in Paris, almost two years ago. The charge on which he was arrested was that in causing the explosion he became guilty of murdering the proprietor. Both he and a comrade fought desperately, but the officers soon had Meunier secured and handcuffed.

Merry Row.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 5.—This city is in a blaze of excitement over the circulation of a pamphlet which purports to be an expose of the A. P. A. It contains the names of 700 or 800 persons who are alleged to be members of the association. Many whose names are thus listed deny connection with the association and suits for damages are threatened by certain persons who fear that their business interests may suffer as a result of the publication.

High Wind and Hot.

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill., April 5.—Arrangements have been completed for a joint debate in Mount Carmel between Mrs. Mary E. Lease, of Kansas, representing the populists, and Mrs. Helen M. Gougar, the prohibitionist. The debate will occur April 24. Mrs. Lease will discuss money, monopoly and the masses. Mrs. Gougar's text will be political responsibility for hard times.

Woman Notary in Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., April 5.—Gov. Werts signed the bill making women eligible to the office of notary public, and he at once, under this law, issued a commission to Miss Mary Ida Phares, an amanuensis in the office of Adjutant-General Stryker. This secures for Miss Phares the distinction of being the first woman notary public in New Jersey.

PRISONERS ALL NIGHT

The Commonweal's Hard Luck at Pittsburg.

Not Permitted to Leave the Ball Grounds and Compelled to Sleep on the Damp Ground Under Their Wrecked Tent—Police Escort Them Out To-day—Several Locked Up.

PITTSBURG, April 5.—The species of war between Chief Marshal Browne of the commonweal army and Manager Buckenberger of the Pittsburg baseball club, on whose park the army was camped, over the admittance of the public to the park, was amicably adjusted late last evening and the army remained in its quarters during the night. The gates, however, remained closed against all except those specially specified by Marshal Browne.

Thirty-two recruits joined the army yesterday and more are expected to-day.

Notwithstanding the settlement of the trouble with the manager of the ball grounds the commonweal army got deeper into the toils with the officials and were virtually prisoners all night.

Fifty of the men were arrested during the day and twenty-eight of that number sent to the county workhouse.

During the afternoon a high wind blew over the main tent and tore the canvass badly. It could not be repaired and the men were compelled to sleep under the canvass and on the damp ground.

The order of Chief of Police Murphy refusing permission to leave the grounds was the cause of the only demonstration of the day. Carl Browne told the men of it, at a secret meeting held in camp at 8 o'clock last night. Following on this, Browne, Coxey and Smith marched the entire command to the gates of the park and were there stopped by Superintendent of Police Muth and a detail of a dozen officers. Browne asked that the men, as citizens, be allowed to go out and attend the theatre. Muth replied that his orders had already been given and that he would arrest any member of the commonweal army found outside the camp grounds. The men submitted quietly and marched back to camp.

The donations received here were 300 pairs of shoes, 100 vests, 500 pounds of meat, clothing, and $40 in cash and a quantity of soap and tobacco. The police arranged the route of exit for to-day and will patrol the districts to be passed through. No trouble is feared at this point, but the advent of the strange army into the coke regions where the riots are now on, is expected to cause more trouble.

FRYE'S ARMY AT ST. LOUIS.

The General Tells What They Will Demand of Congress.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—The experience of Gen. Frye in the large cities and towns through which his army has passed and the liberal treatment they have received, led him to ask Mayor Walbridge for food for his followers. The mayor declined to give them aid and Gen. Frye then went to President Boyd, of merchants' exchange, who started a collection. A sum sufficient to supply the immediate needs of the army was soon collected. The strange appearance of Gen. Frye and two of his followers no change, caused much comment among the members and they were frequently asked what they intended to do when they arrived at Washington. "We will ask," said Gen. Frye "that immigration be stopped, the government to issue $1,000,000,000 in money, and that we be employed by the government on the construction of roads or anything else What we want is work; a chance to earn our living." When asked what his men could do, he stated that they were all mechanics except two, and they were preachers. There are sixty seven Knights of Pythias in the army.

California Recruits.

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—One hundred men are waiting here to join the 'Frisco contingent, numbering 350, to Coxey's army, now nearing this city.

RHODE ISLAND REPUBLICAN.

All the State Officials, Legislature and Important Cities.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 5.—Practically complete returns show that Brown (rep.), for governor, will be elected by fully 4,500 plurality. It has been a republican land-slide. The entire republican state ticket is elected and the legislature is overwhelmingly republican.

Last year the democrats controlled the house, having forty representatives, this year they will have but four.

The former democratic cities of Providence, Newport, Pawtucket and Woonsocket have gone republican.

The prohibitory vote was less than last year.

The complexion of the legislature ensures the election of ex-Gov. George Peabody Wetmore to succeed Senator Dixon in the United States senate.

Winner of the Bennett Prize.

NICE, April 5.—The steam yacht race for the James Gordon Bennett prize of 5,000 francs, the first round of which was sailed over a 53-mile course on March 29, was finished and was won, as on the previous occasion, by the Grand Duke of Leuchtenberg's Roxana.

The Ems' Passengers.

HONTA, Fayal, April 5.—The passengers and mails of the disabled steamer Ems will be put on board the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II., which is expected to arrive here about April 10. It has not yet been decided whether the transfer will be made here or at Ponta Delgada.

MURDER, WRECK, RUIN

Lawlessness Reigns Supreme in the Connellsville Coke Region.

Thousands of Desperate Foreigners Organized for Deeds of Depredation—Bloodshed and Ruin Mark Their Path—The Brutal Murder of Engineer Paddock—Pelted to Death With Boulders and Then Shot—Several Others on Both Sides Killed—Reported That Ten Huns Were Shot Down By Deputies—President Davis of the Miners Association Arrested for Murder.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 5.—Chief Engineer Joseph R. Paddock of the H. C. Frick Coke company, was brutally murdered by 200 riotous Hungarians at the Davidson Coke works at Connellsville late yesterday afternoon. The murderers were pursued by a sheriff's posse. One of the fleeing Huns was shot and instantly killed. Two others were fatally wounded. Two other workmen in the region who refused to join in the mob were assaulted and fatally hurt. They were carried away by their associates.

Ninety-four of the rioters and alleged murderers have already been arrested and are now in jail here charged with murder.

Two hundred picked men acting as deputies to Sheriff William H. Wilhelm, of Fayette county, mounted and armed to the teeth went galloping through the coke regions last night searching for L. R. Davis, president of the United Mine Workers, Daniel Darby, secretary of the organization, and John McSloy, who are alleged to have organized the murderous mob and who are said to be directly responsible for the killing of Paddock.

This region, which in other years has been shaken to its centre by discontented labor, is now fairly trembling on the brink of a revolution. Never before were the dangerous foreigners so thoroughly aroused. They seemed organized for murder, and from one end of the region to the other they have marked their path with wreck and ruin, and concluded the bad day's work with the killing of one of the most substantial men in the coke business. The murdered man lived at Connellsville. He leaves a wife and three children, and when his life was sacrificed he was endeavoring to escape the fury of the mob that came upon him like a cyclone.

He was at work at the time. He had with him his instruments and had just come out of the mine and was in the tipple. Hugh Call, one of his assistants, was with him when the murderous mob broke into the tipple building apparently with a view to burning it. Their wild shouts rolled through the place in a furious storm.

Call fired on the approaching mob, which seemed to intensify their rage and they rushed upon him. He jumped through a window and escaped. Paddock attempted to escape by running through the infuriated crowd.

Stones and clubs were hurled at him. Twice he was knocked down, but with superhuman effort he regained his feet. Finally he was knocked down by a heavy stone thrown by one of the mob. He fell senseless and each one of the demons struck him with a stone while he lay helpless.

His head and face were crushed. His clothes were torn and he was disfigured almost beyond recognition.

Then while he lay there dead, one of the mob fired a bullet into his head. His body was then carried to a window in the tipple building and was thrown about 40 feet to the burning ovens below.

Then the mob disappeared over the hill in the direction of Broadfor. Paddock was 35 years old. His killing occurred within sight of his home. He was a graduate of the Lehigh university.

Last night a dozen different bands of the outlaws were camped on their arms throughout the region, and to-day's work promises to be more deadly than yesterday's.

Every plant in the region south of the Leith works was visited by a band of about 300 strong early this morning and the men were compelled to quit. The raiders left Oliver, where they met at 1:30 a. m., and proceeded to Leith.

When the train with the rioting prisoners reached here a crowd of 20,000 people, threatening in aspect, gathered at the station. The sheriff had the cars run to a crossing convenient to the jail and the prisoners were hurried off to safety before the crowd knew of the arrival of the train.

There is not an American among the prisoners.

It is estimated that at least 9,000 tons of coke have been destroyed by the conduct of the strikers.

BLOODY RIOT EXPECTED.

Threat Made to Burn and Murder at Moyer.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., April 5.—Camped in Everson grove, near town, are 1,500 strikers, mostly Hungarians, Poles and Slavs. They were huddled around a hundred wood fires, and sympathizers supplied them with provisions last night for a square meal and breakfast this morning. They marched from Leisenring and Dickerson Run districts, a distance of twelve miles, and held meetings at Bradford and Moyer on their way here. President L. R. Davis, of the miners' union, was with them and he denounced the murder of J. H. Paddock, at the Davidson works of the Frick company, as an outrage that could not be condoned, and said that he hoped every man connected with it would be arrested and punished. "We cannot win the strike with lawlessness and murder," he said, "and while I deplore this sad occurrence, I hope it will not injure our prospects of success which to me looks bright."

The operators are taking the necessary precautions to prevent a surprise and special officers line the roads from this place to the different works.

The strikers held a mass meeting in the grove here at 6 o'clock this morning after which they began the march up the Mount Pleasant branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, intending to stop at all works between here and Mount Pleasant. On arriving at Mount Pleasant this afternoon, a mass meeting will be held. They expect that their march will result in bringing out all the men working in this end of the district.

It is rumored on the streets that an attempt will be made to blow up the general offices of the Frick and McClure coke companies with dynamite, and citizens enough volunteered to stand watch around the buildings.

Warrants have been issued for at least 200 strikers, including the leaders. As soon as President Davis heard that a warrant had been issued for his arrest he placed himself in charge of Chief of Police Eberhart, and said he would remain here long enough to-day to give the sheriff an opportunity to arrest him. There has been some talk of a threat to lynch the leaders of the strike in order to avenge the killing of Paddock.

A bloody riot is expected at Moyer. Threats have been made to burn the company store and to kill all those found about the works. Already 1,000 men have assembled in the vicinity of the works and as many more are soon expected, and an outbreak is almost certain. All the Frick works in the region have closed down and will remain idle after Paddock's funeral to-day.

Officials and Deputies Besieged.

PITTSBURG, April 5.—A Connellsville dispatch says: Late reports from Braddock say that ten Huns were killed during the night or fatally injured by the deputies and citizens who were pursuing them for the murder of Chief Engineer Paddock. A sensational rumor was received here to the effect that the clerks, officials and deputies in the offices of Frick and McClure companies are besieged by a mob of 3,000 strikers and the rioters are making menacing demonstrations. A telephone message from the company store partly confirms the rumor.

Davis Arrested For Murder.

SCOTTVILLE, Pa., April 5.—T. R. Davis, president of the Miners' association, was arrested here, charged with murder, it being alleged he led the mob that killed Chief Engineer Paddock. He was taken to Uniontown in a closed carriage. Three thousand strikers are marching to the Moyer works.

ANOTHER DYNAMITE OUTRAGE.

A French Restaurant Partly Demolished and Three Persons Hurt.

PARIS, April 5.—A bomb was exploded at 9:15 o'clock last night on the window sill of the Restaurant Foyot, in the Rue de Conde, near the Luxemburg. The restaurant was two-thirds full of late diners. Pieces of the bomb flew through the room, smashing glass and crockery. Everybody started for the doors, but the panic abated as soon as it became evident that only one bomb had been placed. When the police entered they found only three persons injured, one of them the socialist poet Tailade, who was severely wounded in the head.

One end of the restaurant was partly wrecked. The windowsill and two or three feet of the wall were blown out, the plaster was stripped from the ceiling as with a knife, and everything on the nearest table was in fragments. Not a window in the Rue de Conde front of the building was left whole. The windows of houses for 200 feet up and down the street were smashed into small bits and the pavement was strewn with glass.

The policeman who arrived at the restaurant first was informed by a bystander that a man then walking hurriedly down the street had just run out of the building next door. The policeman overtook the man and arrested him. It is not known that the police have any proof of the prisoner's guilt.

SIX KILLED BY DYNAMITE.

A Family at Oil City and a Neighbor's Child Are Victims.

OIL CITY, Pa., April 5.—The house of Joseph Kollas was wrecked by an explosion last night and Kollas, his wife and three children were killed. All of the bodies were terribly mutilated, except that of the mother.

The little daughter of a neighbor, Joseph Fessener, was killed while playing in the yard, being also frightfully mangled.

It is believed the explosion was caused by a dynamite trap which Kollas was examining.

New Congregational Ministers.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 5.—Examinations for admission to the Congregational ministry have been concluded here under the auspices of the New Haven Central association. Cathcart, Northfield, Mass.; Evore Evans, Kingston, Pa.; Henry T. Fowler, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Everett D. Francis, West Hartford, Conn.; Lathrop C. Grant and Harry L. Hartwell, Newton Highlands, Mass.; John O. Jones, Dublin, Ireland; Otto O. Krsale, Northfield, Mass.; John W. Price, Rockland, Mass.; Thomas M. Singer, Lewiston, Me.; Chas. S. Thayer, Westfield, Mass.

Cleveland Cannot Aid Them.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—President Cleveland received a troubled appeal from the Masonic lodge of Argentine urging him to intercede to have the government of Argentine permit the landing of Brazilian refuges from the Portuguese vessels at Buenos Ayres, but it is impossible for him to interfere in the matter and the state department will reply to that effect. The administration holds that it cannot consistently take action where the interests of Americans are not jeopardized and no exception can be made in this instance.

Driving Negroes From Franklin Park.

FRANKLIN PARK, N. J., April 5.—The action of the law and order league in ordering all negroes to leave Franklin Park by Saturday night has caused a commotion among the colored settlers. The league was induced to do this on account of the feeling of unsafety among the white residents since the Baker tragedy. Some of the negroes have already left, and it is expected that others will follow. It necessary the league will offer them inducements to leave for good.

Assemblyman McGuire Unseated.

ALBANY, April 5.—In the assembly a resolution declaring Assemblyman McGuire to be entitled to the Richmond county seat was lost by a vote of 56 to 67. A vote was then taken on the resolution awarding the seat to Mr. Conklin, the republican candidate, which was adopted.

English Seated By the House.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—By a vote of 165 to 17, the republicans not voting, the house admitted Warren D. English as a representative from the Third district of California and he was sworn in.

PRESBYTERIAN PROGRESS.

FIFTIETH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH.

Election of Officers and Reports from Departments of the Home Church and Its Branches.

The fiftieth annual meeting of the Crescent Avenue Church was held last evening with about 60 in attendance. The pastor, Rev. William R. Richards, was the moderator, and Israel C. Pierson clerk of the meeting. The minutes of April 5, 1893, were read and approved.

The resignation of Stephen R. Struthers as a deacon was accepted. Israel C. Pierson was re-elected for three years as trustee and John Bushnell was elected a trustee for the same time in place of the late John K. VanArsdale, whose term expired but a few days after his death. Stuart H. Whitney was re-elected a deacon for three years and Dr. Wm. H. Murray was elected for the one year of the unexpired term of Mr. Struthers, resigned.

With the exception of the Young People's Association all of the departments of church work made annual reports.

Mr. Richards read the tenth annual report of the work of the Ladies Aid Society prepared by Mrs. Albert B. Beers, in part as follows:

The Home Missionary Society has a membership of 140. Much interest is shown in the meetings. The members sent a box of useful articles to an Arizona mission last year and a Christmas box to a Utah charity. Every quarter $500 had been sent to Miss Buchanan, a teacher in the Mt. Pleasant school. The total disbursements have been $778 79, leaving a balance on hand of $2 74.

The Foreign Missionary Society is 22 years old and has 2 38 members who meet alternately in the two Presbyterian churches. Of the members 196 belong to the Crescent Avenue Church. To Miss Dascomb, the teacher in Botucatu, Brazil, $400 has be sent. Toward the support of the Presbyterial Missionary, Miss Gilvary, of Laos, $100 has been contributed; to Miss Morris, of India, $50; and to the general missionary fund of the church, $50.

The Young Ladies Mission Band is composed of 63 active and 3 associate members. A cake sale and an entertainment have been held by them. A contribution of $100 has been made for the cause in Corytiba, Brazil, and one of $96 to aid Mrs. Pareira, of India.

The Sunshine Mission Band has 52 members enrolled. The receipts have been $208. To Mosul, Turkey, $130 has been sent and $30 has been paid for a scholarship in Yokohama, Japan. After the expenses were paid a balance of $11 remained.

The Earnest Workers are 35 boys who are organized in the cause of missions. Financially they stand as follows:

Balance on hand	$ 1.07
Received during year	115.93
Total receipts	$117.00
Expended	107.00
On hand	$ 10.00

The church poor have been cared for quietly by the deacons and their wives, and consequently no definite report can be presented of this important work.

The Floral Committee's finances were stated as follows:

Balance on hand	$40.50
Contributed	49.78
Disbursements	66.92
On hand	$23.36

The Chinese Mission has been discontinued because of loss of membership and lack of interest.

Other gifts were:

McAll Mission	$135
Children's Home	278
Muhlenberg Hospital	130
Temperance	115

The year's work in Bethel Chapel was reported by Stephen A. Ginna. Progress has been very satisfactory, the average attendance having been the highest since the chapel was established. Contributions are liberal and the running expenses and half the pastor's salary are paid. Francis Stansby and Peter Wyckoff have died during the year.

The Sunday-school now consists of 3 officers, 11 teachers and 236 scholars with an average attendance conservatively estimated at 166. They have expended money as follows:

Contributed by scholars	$151.66
Evening collections	70.74
Contributed to church boards	16 00
One-half pastor's salary	450.00
Total expenditures	$688.40

Rev. W. A. Alexander referred to two financial items which had not been mentioned in the report. The pastor had been provided with means to enjoy a vacation in the fall and with a bicycle to aid him in his visits.

For Hope Chapel Henry C. Squires reported. The past year had been one of great privation to residents of the West End. The chapel reading-room and bowling alley had been kept open all day and in the evenings for the benefit of the unemployed. A teacher in the school had opportunely contributed $500 to a fund to aid the chapel's poor and with this and other gifts the Relief Committee had cared for all cases. Additional room was badly needed. The Sunday-school contained 546 members and the average attendance for a year had been 317; for the last three months 357; and for the last month 389. Forty-three members had joined the church on confession of faith and three by certificate. The whole church membership was 192, all mingling together with a unanimous spirit of Christian fellowship.

The Ladies Aid Society of 35 members had raised $100. Much good had been done by the Young Men's League in which 54 young men over 18 years of age had been banded together last November for social and spiritual advancement.

Three circles of King's Daughters were connected with the chapel. The Relief Committee had done a great work but no detailed report could be made.

The pastor, Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, said that 31 members had been admitted the year before, but that supplying physical needs of the congregation had interfered somewhat with efforts for a spiritual increase. The Relief Committee had used $200 of their own money and had reached every case.

Warren Chapel's work was related by L. N. Lovell, in brief as follows:

Organized as a union mission August 17, 1864, continued successfully until last year when the withdrawal of workers to denominational missions made it necessary for Warren to be adopted by some church organization. The teachers applied to the Crescent Avenue Church authorities for annexation Feb. 5, 1893, and were at first sent to the other churches. None putting in claims, the officers of the church called a meeting of the congregation and at this meeting, May 3, the mission was adopted.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey was called May 15 and Sunday morning services were begun Oct. 22. Seventeen have been admitted on confession of faith and 11 by letter.

Seven Sunday-school teachers left when the mission became denominational The large infant class was divided into nine parts and teachers secured for each. The members number 381 and 337 have been present at one time. Since the beginning of the year the average attendance has been 74 greater than that at the corresponding time last year.

The report of the financial affairs:

On hand May 13, 1893	$ 40.96
Received from chapel fund	400.00
Contributed in Sunday-school	261 87
Total receipts	$702.83
Mission debt, 1893	$164.45
Expenditures for all purposes	510.79
	675.24

The Home Sunday-school was represented by William D. Murray. The main facts of his report were:

The school has not increased in size as the older scholars are being sent to work in the chapels. The membership is 433 and the average attendance has been 250, or 280 without the summer months. The school has lost six men whose classes were in three cases disbanded, thus causing a loss of 20 young men. One scholar, Walter Schoonmaker, died last year. At the last teachers' meeting it was decided to try, next fall with a class of teachers, a quarter of study with the Blakesley system of instruction with a view of adopting it throughout the school. The teachers have had every Monday evening to study methods of instruction.

The running expenses of the school have been $523 38. The balance from the previous year was $54 68. From the church $390 99. has been received. The Sunday-school owes for the expenses of its excursion $69 99 and the church owes it $375. Sixteen scholars have joined the church. The offerings have amounted to $873 54. Expenditures of $1,016 50 have been made during the year, including $175 for mission work in Plainfield; $686 for home missions; and $155 for foreign. At Christmas a large amount of useful articles was distributed among the poor.

The Deacons reported:

Balance on hand last year	$ 1.07
Receipts	935.22
Disbursements	944.51

The trustees said they had reported at their own annual meeting.

The Treasurer of the Session reported as follows:

On hand April 1, 1893	$ 413.25
Received during the year	11,090.50
Total receipts	$11,503.75

Expenditures as follows:

Sundry expenses	$ 103.80
Foreign missions	2,497.59
Church erection	349.76
Home missions	1,163.42
Plainfield charities	376.93
Board of Publication	81.68
Education	528.64
Freedmen's aid	201.10
Y. M. C. A.	18.17
Board of Trustees, sundries	306.35
Ministerial relief	600.00
Chapels	4,742.29
Deposited in bank	534.02
Total	$11,503.75

The above is exclusive of the gifts of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Sunday-school. The church has expended altogether about $15,200 in benevolence.

The total membership, including the chapels, was 989 a year ago. Fifteen have died, 17 have been dismissed, 80 have joined on confession of faith and 31 by letter, making the present number 1,067. The Sunday-schools have 1,196 scholars enrolled.

RAISING THE PASTOR'S SALARY.

First Presbyterians Elect Officers and Transact Other Business.

The annual meetings of the First Presbyterian Church were held last evening in the Sunday-school room of the church. The election of elders, deacons and trustees took place, and reports of the various societies were read.

In the first, or church meeting, Rev. Charles E. Herring was chosen moderator, and J. M. Bettman clerk. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Following this the election of elders and deacons was held, resulting as follows:

Elders—Howard Pope, A. V. Cadmus.
Deacons—Edmund F. Nexsen, John Lindsey.

The reports of the Christian Endeavor Society, Woman's Home Missionary Society, Ladies Aid Society, Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, Superintendent of the Sunday-school, and Librarian, were read by Mr. Bettman. They showed steady progress and growth in each department, and gave evidence of active work done by all.

William H. Ladd was chosen moderator of the congregational meeting which followed the church meeting, and Howard Pope clerk.

The yearly report was read by the clerk. This was followed by the report of the treasurer, William Shotwell. It showed that the church was in good condition financially. Those present thought that Mr. Herring's salary should be increased $500, and it was so decided.

It was also voted that the annual expense for music should not exceed $800.

The question of assessing each lot owner in the North Plainfield cemetery $5 was discussed and so ordered. This is the first assesment since 1865.

The following trustees were elected: R. V. Cadmus, Fred Martin, J. C. Paul, Eugene Bond.

The meeting then adjourned.

A Strange Coincidence.

John McCormick, who was killed in Westfield yesterday by the Philadelphia flyer, was struck by Engine No. 450.

This engine having been on exhibition at the Chicago Exhibition and Mr. McCormick having been there in charge of certain exhibits, it was his special pride and to one visitor he remarked that he had seen it run through Westfield so fast that if it struck a fellow it would knock him nearly to Cranford, and when he saw it coming he always stood way back. But it caught him the first one.

An inquiry, under the direction of Overseer Cox, of Westfield, is in progress, to determine the legal settlement of the children of William Day, that are about to become town charges. The responsibility for their care will rest on Chatham, Fanwood, Cranford or Westfield.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F J. The contracting parties were Mrs. Katharine Gaston Quick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gaston, and Oscar Wilson Dunham of Plainfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. G. Read, assisted by Rev. Cornelius Schenck of Plainfield. The ushers were John G. and Wm. G. Gaston, brothers of the bride.

The bride was attired in a very becoming gown of fawn-colored silk entrain, trimmed with point de Gene lace.

The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful. After the bountiful collation had been served, Mr. and Mrs. Dunham left by carriage to Bound Brook to take the 5:45 train for Washington, D. C. About fifty guests were present from New York, Trenton, Plainfield and Somerville.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

H. P. DEGRAAF.

IN THE CAUSE OF MISSIONS.

Help Sent to Frontier Preachers by Plainfield Workers.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church held its anniversary meeting in Vincent Chapel yesterday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Jennie Fowler Willing, sister of Bishop Fowler, spoke at both sessions. In the afternoon the attendance was rather small, owing to the severe rainstorm. Mrs. Willing did not make a regular address, but an informal talk on missionary work. Between the two sessions tea was served in the parlor of the church under the direction of Mrs. John McNaughton.

In the evening reports of the work done by the mother society and by the Young Ladies Missionary Society were read by the secretaries of the two societies, Mrs. Noah Pike and Miss Cora Sheppard. Both reports were very acceptable, and showed that the societies had not been idle during the past year. Most of the funds had been expended for the support of the poor ministers stationed in the frontier districts, and the letters received from them testified to their heartfelt thanks for the assistance rendered by these contributions. Mrs. Willing spoke on "Young People and Missions", and made a very interesting and instructive address. She told what relations should exist between the young people of the church and mission work, and strongly urged more consecration to this important work of bettering the condition of men. During her address Mrs. Willing related interesting facts relating to the Salvation Army and praised the heroism of those who were willing to give up everything worldly in work for the Master. It was such a spirit that the rising generation of today should manifest in order to make themselves felt.

Sunday-School Teachers Raced for Potatoes.

About twenty of the Sunday-school teachers of the Holy Cross Church accepted the hospitality of Superintendent and Mrs. Benjamin R. Western, of Washington Park, last evening. It was the second reception of the season, a previous one having taken place prior to the opening of Lent, at Rector Murphy's residence. A feature of the evening was a novelty in the shape of a potato race. Twenty-four good-sized, irregular-shaped potatoes were placed in two parallel lines about eighteen inches apart; a lady and gentleman as partners, each provided with a very small spoon, then attempted to pick up the potatoes and deposit them in a basket which was placed at the end of either line. The time taken to do this was charged to each one, by Dominie T. Logan Murphy, who held the watch on this occasion. The person that accomplished the feat in the shortest time, either lady or gentleman, obtained the first prize of their class, and those who took the longest time, a second or booby prize. The game seems very easy of accomplishment, but the novice will find it no small task. The merriment which the many failures of the participants provoked while endeavoring to accomplish the feat, is one of the principal recommendations of the game.

The evening entertainment was closed with dancing and a collation, and was enjoyed exceedingly by all present.

The Reigning Favorite.

"The Silver Ledge", a romance of the West, will be the attraction in Music Hall tonight, and many new features will be introduced by Minnie Lester and company. The special concert of the band will please music-lovers, and Miss Lester's songs and dances will continue, as last night, to win new friends. As Annette the dancing girl she surpassed herself last night. The 10-cent matinees began today, and will fill the house tomorrow afternoon and evening. 10 cents will admit anyone to any part of the house. The balance of the week will probably win crowded houses for the great Minnie Lester Company.

Plainfield's Paregoric People.

Plainfield is getting fame of the wrong sort, as a result of the well-meant action of Mayor Gilbert concerning the illegal sale of drugs and the statement of the Charity Council that the paregoric habit was bringing poverty. Way down South they are learning of Plainfield as a paregoric city, as witness the following from the Louisville Courier-Journal:

According to a despatch the "paregoric habit" is becoming prevalent in New Jersey, many people drinking paregoric regularly instead of whisky. Paregoric contains both alcohol and opium, and paregoric intoxication is coming into notice to such an extent that the Mayor of Plainfield has issued a proclamation on the subject. Some extenuation, however, should be made in favor of people confronted by the alternative of New Jersey whisky or paregoric.

TOWN TOPICS.

WHAT IS DOING IN PLAINFIELD SOCIETY.

New Date for "The Grey Mare" and the Cast—Tonight's Concert and Dance—The Hillside Club—English Butler Rebuffed.

After a chapter of accidents and delays that would have daunted the hearts of less experienced and less determined amateurs, the cast of "The Grey Mare" is at last complete. Illness and death in the families of those who were to take part have caused almost endless changes since the piece was originally cast, but now every place is filled and the company has started on the earnest work of full rehearsals.

The performance, which was set down for April 17, has been postponed on account of the changes in the cast until Thursday, May 3. The play is a clever one, and the leading roles will be admirably done by Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Saunders, Constantine P. Ralli and Fred Walz. The cast is large, and will include the Misses Harte and Messrs. W. R. Cock, J. S. Anthony, Laurens VanBuren, Henry B. Ely and Charles J. Taggart. John Reginald Blake, under whose direction the performance is being given, will take the part of Stubbs, the butler.

The announcement that the Country Club is about to give a series of Monday evening dances to be started at once, was hailed with delight by society at large. The plan of these dances is unique. Members are invited to bring their friends and the dancing will be from 8 to 12. They will be quite informal, and the expense for each member attending is so slight that they should be well attended, even by those who have felt the need of economizing on dances and other amusements.

It is expected that the dancing set will turn out in full force this evening after the Amherst Glee and Banjo Club concert. Judging by the number of yards of bunting tacked up in the Casino and the dozens of Chinese lanterns and parasols and other products of the celestial kingdom, to say nothing of the electric lights, the decorations should be very fine. Certainly no other glee club has been received in Plainfield with such acclamation, and the Amherst boys are sure to take away with them many pleasant recollections of tonight.

An amusing story is going the rounds of the gossips concerning the adventures of a certain family well known in social and local political circles and an English butler, who was brought to Plainfield by the aforesaid family. The family are one and all members of the blue-ribbon society, and consider "rum", the generic term for everything stronger than picnic lemonade, the special weapon of Beelzebub. It is on account of this family peculiarity that there is any story to tell. The butler arrived (so the story goes) too late in the day to serve the dinner. He was taken over his department of the household, and instructed in his duty before retiring. As the man of the house is in business in New York it is necessary that he rise each morning with the lark; that is, if there be any lark in these parts to rise with. At any rate, he rises early, and the butler was instructed to call him. At the appointed time the velvet-footed minion entered the room, wished his master good morning, raised the shades, and laid out his clothing for the day. Then, turning to the still sleepy man, he asked him what kind of a cocktail he would have! All sleep vanished in a moment, and expostulations and explanations occupied the better part of five minutes. The shocked and grieved blue-ribbonite betook himself to town, and the disgusted butler followed by a later train, declaring that he could not stay in a "blooming house w'ere a gentleman couldn't get a peg now and then".

That energetic and enterprising little organization, the Hillside Tennis Club, held its annual meeting last night in the club-house for the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following ticket was recommended by the Nominating Committee, and was elected by a unanimous vote:

President—James T. Murray.
Vice-president—Charles S. Foote.
Secretary—Frederick W. Walz.
Treasurer—Josiah Browne.

Members of Governing Committees to serve two years—H. D. West, F. S. Martin, I. E. Morse.

After the meeting of the club the Governing Committee met and elected the following committees:

Ground Committee—F. W. Walz, Robert L. Burnett.

House Committee—I. E. Morse, Charles S. Foote, George P. Mellick.

Tennis Committee—Dexter O. Tiffany, H. D. West, F. W. Walz.

No arrangements have yet been made for the regular opening day, but the season will probably be opened formally with a tournament on Decoration Day as heretofore.

THE LOUNGER.

Following Plainfield's Example.

It is said that a branch of the A. P. A. is to be organized at Westfield.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

EXTENDING HER FAME ABROAD.

Plainfield Winning Favor in the Eyes of the Metropolis.

(From The New York Evening Post.)

That part of New Jersey lying within a radius of fifty miles of this city might well be described as the western and southern suburbs of New York city. Not only is New Jersey the official legal home of most of New York's great industrial corporations, but it is the actual as well as the official voting home of a very large proportion of New York city's business men. Its system of local government for its towns and villages results apparently in better administered towns and villages than many similar places in this State in close proximity to this city. This fact, no doubt, added to the natural advantages of so many of the near-by places along the great railroads running out of Jersey City, combine to make the New Jersey suburbs so attractive as a place of residence for New Yorkers. Jersey City itself is not only the chief point of departure for nearly all travelers to the West and South—practically all immigrants going to the interior as well as to the great West, go by way of Jersey City—but it is the clearing-house, so to speak, for all suburban commuters.

New Jersey offers many inducements to persons who prefer suburban life, combining the conveniences of the city with the advantages and charms of country life. In all of them the march of progress is as distinctly visible as in the metropolis, and in some it is even more advanced, all things considered. Perhaps no feature is more marked in this respect than the bountiful supply of pure water which all the New Jersey suburbs enjoy. In the matters of expense of living there is not, perhaps, aside from rent, much difference, but in rent there is a very considerable saving, which is of course more marked by comparison with the extent of the accommodation obtained proportionately for the money expended, and the accommodation is often the chief consideration in seeking houses for families of children. With the return of commercial prosperity, the renewal of work at full time in all the factories, the outlook for the New Jersey landlord and real-estate owner is regarded as a very reassuring one by agents and others supposed to be competent to form an opinion.

In Plainfield, which is reached by the Central Railroad of New Jersey, most of the annual changes among householders have already been completed, as April 1 is moving day in Plainfield. New Yorkers who do not understand this often grumble at the lack of vacant houses when they look about for a summer home towards May 1. This year there is a better supply than usual of desirable houses, as building has progressed through the winter. Building continues steady. Real estate in Plainfield commands as good a price as ever, but rents are reported a little lower. A modern house of seven to eleven rooms, with all improvements, rents for $30 to $35 a month. To this, however, must be added the water rate of $16 to $22 a year. Gas costs $2 a thousand feet. The passage of the bill to reduce the price of gas will be welcomed throughout the State. The town has a system of perfect, well-shaded roadways, connected with the macadamized county roads of Union, Essex and Morris counties, and bicycling is very popular in consequence. There has recently been more building in Plainfield for owners than for renting, though in the new Watchung Park sections number of fine houses have been built to rent. There are several apartment houses or flats, and this style of living has become popular among those seeking a home at low rent. These flats rent for $14 to $22 a month. Many store buildings with flats have been erected the past year. The flats are quickly rented, but the stores are in less demand. The ride to New York occupies only forty-five minutes over the twenty-four miles of railroad, and the commuters, of whom there are a great number, take especial delight in summer in the refreshing ride across Newark Bay by the long bridge. There are several club-cars in use on the road, the latest being the prize-winner at the Chicago fair. The club-car originated in Plainfield. These cars are hired by parties of commutere who club together for that purpose.

In speaking of Plainfield mention should not be omitted of Fanwood, Netherwood and South Plainfield, the last named being on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, nor of Dunellen; in fact Plainfield is the centre really of a very charming residential locality.

Westfield in a Rut.

There has been but little moving in Westfield this Spring, and but few newcomers are noted. At Cranford moving has been brisk, and many new families have taken residence there. Roselle may be called a railroad town, as so many of its inhabitants are in the employ of the Central Railroad. They are fixtures, so that the first of April does not affect that place.

Rice and Reese.

The Westfield Board of School Trustees has organized with Dr. Rice as president and S. W. Reese district clerk.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

WEST END NOTES.

The stores in the Thompson Building are being papered and painted.

John Cose has started in the chicken raising business with forty head. Col. Eddy contemplates the purchase of an incubator.

Quite a number of West Enders are looking for work in the factories in Jersey City.

The Young Men's League of Hope Chapel have prepared an excellent literary and musical programme for their entertainment in the chapel this evening.

ALL QUIET AT COLUMBIA

But Thirty Blind Tigers Are in Full Operation.

The Mayor Says He Shall Pay No Attention to the Governor's Proclamation Taking Control of Police—Coroner's Inquest Begun at Darlington—Dargan Makes a Statement.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 5.—Everything is quiet here to-day. Governor Tillman walked down the street this morning, went into a barber shop and was shaved. While on the street he was not jeered or otherwise insulted. Both factions regard this as an indication that conditions are more pacific than they have been at any previous time since the excitement began. Notwithstanding these symptoms, it is easy to see that the people are still excited and the animosities which have been engendered are intense.

Mayor Fisher, of Columbia, says he shall pay no attention to the governor's proclamation taking control of the police, under the advice of the city attorney. He says he shall treat it as utterly without authority. It is held by the city authorities that the governor has no right to take control of the police except in case of riot and then only with the acquiescence of the city authorities. He cannot discharge nor appoint policemen and there is no penalty for their refusal to obey the governor's order under any circumstances.

Gov. Tillman's friends insist that he has in no wise transcended his authority and that he is commander-in-chief of the civilian police as well as the militia forces of the state.

It is a notorious fact that there are more than thirty blind tigers in full operation in the city of Columbia at this time.

AFFAIRS AT DARLINGTON.

Coroner's Inquest Begun—Mayor Dargan Replies to Tillman.

DARLINGTON, S. C., April 5.—The coroner's inquest over the bodies of the men killed in the recent tragedy here is now in progress at the scene of the killing. No one except the officers of the court is permitted in the room. The constables are expected to arrive here sometime during the day. The citizens having pledged themselves to protect the constables, no trouble is expected.

Mayor Dargan has issued a statement replying to Gov. Tillman's speech. He says:

"You know the governor is a politician and he is making campaign speeches. When a politician gets in a hole he tries to get out of it, and if he has committed a mistake he is the last man under the sun to honestly own it. He tries to put it on someone else."

PHILADELPHIA GAS WORKS.

Alleged Audacious Scheme of Private Individuals to Purchase Them.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—A morning paper says an audacious scheme is on foot to induce the common council to pass an ordinance to sell the gas works to a private corporation, and that the movers are figuring on success over the mayor's veto. It is said that the movers propose to invest $6,000,000 in cash, $5,000,000 to be paid to the city direct and $1,000,000 in paving the way to success. John Wanamaker, when a former proposition was made to sell the works opposed the sale, but said if the city intended selling he would pay $25,000,000 for them.

HEYERMAN'S SENTENCE.

Two Years on Waiting Orders, But to Retain Number and Rank.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The sentence of the naval court-martial in the case of Heyerman for causing the loss of the Kearsarge is two years' suspension on waiting orders, Heyerman to retain his number and rank. The court recommended clemency.

The secretary of the navy has not yet approved the sentence.

BLAND DOWNED.

The House Refuses to Override the Seignorage Bill Veto.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The house, by a vote of 164 yeas to 115 nays, not the necessary two-thirds, refused to pass the seignorage bill over the president's veto.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The third days debate on the tariff bill was carried on in the senate, Senator Allison, of Iowa, speaking against the bill for two and a quarter hours, and Senator Mills, of Texas, making a brief but forcible defence of it as a compromise measure. Before the tariff bill was taken up there was a somewhat interesting struggle over the presentation of a memorial of the Philadelphia board of trade in favor of adequate duties on sugar. The result of the struggle was that Senator Quay succeeded in getting the main points of the memorial into the record against the struggle of the democratic side to keep them out.

Don't Want to Lose Our Trade.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 5.—The Canadian government has cabled Lord Rosebery, refusing to be made a party to the commercial treaty that Great Britain has recently negotiated with Servia. It is held that in extending the most favored nations clause to Servia Canada would be raising obstacles in the way of negotiating a reciprocity treaty with the United States, as has been experienced in the case of other countries with which Great Britain has commercial treaties.

Newark M. E. Conference.

NEWARK, N. J., April 5.—Over 200 ministers and a large number of laymen are in attendence at St. Luke's M. E. church, the occasion being the 87th session of the Newark annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

International Sanitary Convention

PARIS, April 5.—The international sanitary convention has been signed, the United States and Great Britain making reservations as to a few minor details.

A SPRING STORY

A Few Things You Ought Surely to Do at This Season.

In the spring we feel tired, languid and debilitated; the change from cold to warm weather causes the depression of the vital forces resulting in an inactive state of the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. A headache is common and the blood under goes changes which greatly debilitate the system.

You are not in perfect health. There is a weakness, a pain or a tired feeling, your blood is bad, your nerves are weak or some organ in the body is out of order and you need building up. Don't neglect such a condition, for delay is dangerous. You can get well just as well as not. Read the experience of Mrs. A. A. Herrick, of 40 Everett st., East Somerville, Mass.

"Two years ago I contracted a severe cold that settled all over my body. My head and left side pained me all the time, I had no appetite and could not sleep at nights; I was so nervous I thought that I would be insane and any work seemed like a mountain ahead of me.

"I would become completely exhausted on the slightest exertion. I was obliged to give up and take to my bed. I began to fear I should never get well, as nothing seemed to affect me; I was finally advised to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and did so.

MRS. A. A. HERRICK.

"It seemed to quiet me just as soon as I began using it. Before a week I could rest and sleep through the night and could feel my strength coming back.

"When I began the second bottle I could see I had improved very much. I continued taking it and in a few months no one would know I had been sick with severe nervous prostration.

"It also cured me of female troubles which I had been a great sufferer from. It is a wonderful medicine and I cannot say enough in praise of it. I advise any person afflicted with any of these complaints to use it, and I am positive they will get well."

If you want to be perfectly strong and healthy the best possible thing to do is to take this great curer and strengthener. You can be cured quicker in the spring than at any other season. You must take a spring medicine, everyone knows that, and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the best and most certain because it always cures.

It is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York City. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. There's nothing so GOOD as Cottolene

The new vegetable shortening. Wherever introduced, it drives lard from the kitchen, and indigestion from the household.

It has been tried by every test, and has met every requirement.

It is as much superior to lard as the electric light is to the tallow-dip.

The only question now is, will you give your family the benefits which its use bestows?

There's nothing Like Cottolene

In composition, in healthfulness, in flavor, or in economy.

Its success has called out a lot of imitations and counterfeits made for the sole purpose of selling in the place and on the merits of Cottolene.

Avoid them all. They are made to sell and they are a sell.

Get the genuine COTTOLENE.

Sold in 3 and 5 pound pails.

TROOPS ORDERED HOME

And Peace Again Prevails in South Carolina.

Embargo on Telegrams Also Raised—Darlington's Mayor Cheered By the Soldiers—Believed That the Next Conflict Will Occur at Columbia in a War on the "Blind Tigers"

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 6.—The following proclamation has just been issued by the governor:

Whereas, By the proclamation issued Saturday, March 31, the counties of Darlington and Florence were declared to be in insurrection and the militia were ordered there to suppress the same, and,

Whereas, The commanding general has just informed me that the insurgents have dispersed, and that peace and order are restored, and that the civil authorities are now able to uphold and enforce the law,

Now, Therefore, I, B. R. Tillman, governor of the state of South Carolina, do issue this my proclamation and declare that in the said counties of Darlington and Florence there is no longer insurrection and the civil status is hereby restored. B. R. TILLMAN, Governor.

A well authenticated report has it that Hon. George D. Tillman strongly censures the course of his brother, the governor. There is a general belief that there may be trouble at an early date in Columbia. It is well known that the police take no notice of the "blind tigers" running here, and it is also known that the governor has been taking notes of the places recently and is determined that the laws shall be executed. He will order the police to raid these places, which, it is understood, the police will refuse to do. They hold that they are municipal orders only. In the event of their refusal the governor will make an effort to discharge them. That will be resisted by the municipal authorities. These are the views of the conservative people.

There is an intensely bitter feeling between the people of the country, nearly all of whom look upon the governor as a great champion of the rural interests, and the people of the towns and cities, who rabidly hate him.

TROOPS LEAVE DARLINGTON.

The Mayor Cheered By the Soldiers—Telegraph Embargo Raised.

DARLINGTON, N. C., April 6.—Dress parade was held on the public square last evening, all of the military taking part, Major Westfield, of the Hampton guards, commanding. At the conclusion of the parade the soldiers offered three cheers for Mayor Dargan and the citizens of Darlington, which were given with spirit and enthusiasm. The troops left for home this morning.

The coroner's jury have rendered their verdict and it is satisfactory to the citizens of Darlington.

The verdict finds that McLendon and Cain did the killing of the citizens and that Redmond killed Constable Pepper. McLendon and Cain have been given to the military and warrants will be issued for them. The testimony at the coroner's inquest confirmed what has been previously reported, that McLendon fired the first shot and started the tragedy.

The military court found exactly the same verdict as the coroner's jury, although it has not been given out as yet officially. Mayor Dargan in an interview stated that the troops had all embarked this morning and that the authorities had arrived at a clear understanding. He said that he was glad that the troops had come here. They had been welcomed. In not one single case had there been any clash with the soldiers. They had not made a single arrest nor had they seen anything that would cause them to make an arrest.

Everything is quiet and it is thought that it will continue so. The expenses are now a matter of consideration and stenographers are making out bills to be audited by the officers. The expenses to the state for the invasion of the town are estimated at $20,000.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—There was a great change in the character of the proceedings in the house yesterday from th of the day before. Peace and quiet, almost dullness, prevailed. The fifth urgent deficiency bill was passed, bringing the appropriations under that head in the present congress up to $4,576,577.52. The postoffice appropriation bill was further considered before adjournment, but no conclusion was reached.

Death of Hon. James Gardner.

A few days ago while he was inspecting a monument that had been erected over his wife's grave, he fell against a barb wire fence. Death resulted from nervous prostration from the fall.

GREAT LABOR VICTORY.

Judge Caldwell Sustains Union Pacific Employes' Wage Demands.

OMAHA, Neb., April 6.—Judge Caldwell, Judge Riner concurring, delivered the opinion in the wage question of the Union Pacific employes, who protested against the cut of pay of engineers and trainmen which the company had proposed and Judge Dundy ordered March 1, but which had been suspended pending appeal to Judge Caldwell. Judge Caldwell ordered that the old schedules, rules and regulations shall continue, subject only to such modifications as had previously been agreed to, and he set aside the Dundy order. He held that the Union Pacific employes were not paid more than those on similar roads under similar conditions, or more than was just. He said further that the said railway labor organizations were conceded by both parties to be beneficial to the men and to the road. He censured the issuance of the Dundy order reducing pay without first giving the men a hearing, as like unto hanging a man first and trying him afterwards.

He also characterized the non-union strike order unnecessary, insulting and dangerous and as tending to incite men to revolt. Four of the five receivers, Doane, Anderson, Coudert and Mink, he said were without practical knowledge of operating a road, and therefore incompetent to make up a wage schedule. But for the erroneous course of a majority of the receivers he believed the wage question could have been settled in conference. It was not necessary to reduce the wages of men to pay interest or dividends on bonds or stock issued like that of the Union Pacific.

The petition of the monthly-salaried employes, whose pay was cut last September, for a restoration, Judge Caldwell said he could not entertain now for lack of time, nor could he that of the employes for control of the hospital fund. He advised both these petitions to be sent to the receivers to make an answer before they could be submitted to the court.

GREAT BOULEVARD.

Scheme to Build a Highway from Ocean to Ocean.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Mr. Dunphy (dem., N. Y.) introduced in the house a bill authorizing the president to appoint a commission of four men, one each from the war, agriculture, postoffice, and interior departments, to examine and report upon the feasibility and desirability of constructing a boulevard from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean. The bill was introduced at the request of Dr. John T. Nagle, chief of the bureau of vital statistics of New York. The commission, Mr. Dunphy says, is to report upon the cost of the boulevard, the character of the roadbed, and the several states through which it will run from New York to the Pacific slope. Dr. Nagle's idea is to make the proposed boulevard similar to that of the Western boulevard in New York city, with a roadway on either side and a promenade in the centre shaded by trees. Mr. Dunphy roughly estimates the cost at $100,000,000. Aside from the utility of the roadway, it would afford employment for thousands of idle men, which he regards as one of the chief considerations of the plan.

The Chinese Treaty.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The discussion in executive session of the senate on the ratification of the Chinese treaty promises to be brief but spirited on the part of certain Pacific coast senators, all of whom except Senator White of California, are opposed to it. Before Mr. White left for home three weeks ago he was sent for by Secretary Gresham, and spent an hour with the secretary going over the text of this convention, which had at that time not been sent to the senate. When Mr. White left the state department he was satisfied that the treaty was all right, but all his colleagues from the coast here expressed surprise at the fact that he had thus placed himself on record.

Chicago Has a Parkhurst Society.

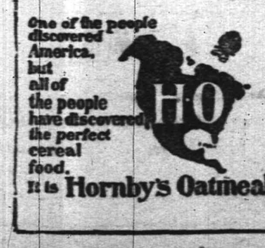
CHICAGO, April 6.—A society for the prevention of crime, similar to the Dr. Parkhurst society in New York, was organized in this city, with Rev. Dr. Wm. G. Clarke, pastor of the Campbell Park Presbyterian church, as president. Its object, as declared by the organizers, is to collect evidence and prosecute those in official position who protect disreputable houses, opium dens and gambling places. Election frauds will be looked into, and the society purposes to enforce the excise laws.

Indictments for Election Frauds.

NEWARK, N. J., April 6.—The December term of the grand jury of Essex county devoted fifty days to investigating election cases. Numerous arrests on capiases have already been made, Alexander Stone and Frank Corbett being the latest. This makes a dozen arrests in all. It is expected more arrests will follow. Forty men have been indicted.

Call Wins His Fight.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Call won his three days' fight by defeating the confirmation of Henry W. Long, nominated to be register of the Florida land office, by a vote of 32 to 16.



TO KEEP OUT POACHERS

Twelve of Our War Ships Will Patrol Behring Sea.

Uncle Sam Determined to Enforce the Decisions of the Paris Tribunal With or Without the Assistance of Other Interested Countries—Quick Work of Our Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The president and Secretary Gresham learned of the passage of the Behring Sea bill a few moments after the house had acted and they both expressed gratification at the prompt response of congress in what is considered little less than a national emergency. It was especially pleasing that the bill had passed without modification, this fact indicating the thorough adherence of the legislative branches of the government to the policy of the executive and materially strengthening the administration in its determination to insist upon the complete legalization of the decisions of the international tribunal of Paris. The president has no intention of permitting any delay to intervene when the engrossed bill with the signatures of the speaker and vice-president reaches him. It is expected to reach the white house soon after noon to-day and it will immediately be approved. In the meantime the necessary steps for enforcing its provisions will go forward with all possible rapidity.

Secretary Herbert has already ordered every available ship to rendezvous at Fort Townsend and Unalaska by May 1, and the rough draft of the instructions is all ready for his approval. Two of the ships, the Mohican and Yorktown, are already at Port Townsend, the Adams left Honolulu several days ago for the same point, the revenue cutters Rush, Bear, Corwin and the Albatross are ready to leave San Francisco on three days' notice for the rendezvous, while the Ranger and Bennington are hurrying to San Francisco to be docked and join the rest of the fleet.

There is no particular hurry about forwarding these formal instructions as the closed season under the decisions of the tribunal does not commence until May 1, and no protection is necessary until that time.

The first formality after the bill becomes a law by the executive's approval is the presidential proclamation warning sealers and the people generally of the law and forbidding them to poach in any of the forbidden waters during the season. The terms of this proclamation virtually fixed by the new law and its publication may be expected in a day or two, in fact it may be announced immediately after the bill is signed.

No concern is evinced by the president or Secretary Gresham regarding the attitude of Great Britain in the matter, the assurance of hearty co-operation recently received from the British government and its disposition to facilitate the passage of a similar bill through parliament, being considered wholly satisfactory. No fault can yet be found with the failure of parliament to pass the bill as promptly as our congress has done, for it is conceded that we have made an unusual record for promptness. Confidence is expressed in the good faith of Lord Rosebery's cabinet and in the ultimate agreement of parliament. But the action of congress renders the administration to some extent almost indifferent to the action of Great Britain, as the British diplomatic officers have already conceded the accuracy of the American contention that the decision of the Paris tribunal was final and binding upon both nations, and congress has, in effect, placed the United States in a position from which no withdrawal is possible.

This country has determined to enforce the decisions and the law with the co-operation of all interested parties, if they will assist, but to enforce it with or without such assistance, and all the force that is needed has been provided by the assembling of 12 ships convenient to the prescribed portions of the North Pacific ocean and Behring Sea.

GIVES UP ITS DEAD.

Last of the Thirteen Bodies of the Gaylord Mine Victims Recovered.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 6.—The finale of the terrible accident at the Gaylord mine was enacted yesterday afternoon when the body of the 13th victim, George Picton, the mine foreman, was discovered beneath the debris.

Like others, Picton's position indicated that he was running down the plane and was caught by the falling mass of rock. It was late last night when the body was wholly freed from the rock and coal which covered it.

Zimmerman Becomes a Professional.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Arthur A. Zimmerman, the champion amateur cyclist of the world, has renounced his allegiance to the League of American Wheelmen and joined the professional ranks. He has contemplated this step for some time past, but did not arrive at a decision in the matter until yesterday, when he informed George McDonald, the local agent of the wheel he rides, that all the necessary arrangements for the change had been completed.

Robert Ross Monument.

TROY, N. Y., April 6.—The Robert Ross Memorial association has decided to erect a monument as a memorial to Robert Ross, slain at the polling place in the third district of the thirteenth ward at the election March 6. The style and location of the monument have not yet been decided upon. The majority of the members favored a monument rather than a memorial building.

COKE STRIKERS ROUTED

The Connellsville Uprising Soon Peters Out.

Leaders and Many of the Ignorant Foreigners Locked Up in Jail—Only Two Deaths Resulting from the Outbreak—No Truth in the Story of the Finding of Eight Dead Huns.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 6.—What was designed to be the greatest strike ever known to the Connellsville coke region has from present indications completely petered out and there is not now left enough of the recent uprising of the discontented foreigners to make a creditable death struggle to a labor dispute. As a result of the courageous action of the officials, L. R. Davis, district president of the United Mine Workers association, Daniel Derby, secretary of the association, and 136 of their ignorant and dangerous followers are now crowded into the new jail here charged with killing Joseph H. Paddock, chief engineer of the H. C. Frick company.

The officials of Fayette county are now industrious in their efforts to bring to justice the riotous Desmond and McSloy, who it is asserted have been directly responsible for more contention, strife and distress in this region in the past ten years than can be credited to any score of men in Pennsylvania. Desmond and McSloy it is further claimed by officials were both dangerous anarchists, having been imprisoned several times since they came into this region, 11 years ago. They are reported to have left this region, but the authorities are confident of their capture.

The Hungarian killed by the sheriff's posses after the Paddock murder was the second and only other life taken in the uprising just suppressed. Two other Hungarians were seriously wounded, but it is now thought they will recover.

The report that eight dead Hungarians were found in a trench in a woodland at Brownfield was not correct. The report that sheriff W. H. Wilhem had called on the governor for assistance was unfounded.

There was no time during the four days of this trouble when the situation seemed more critical than at daylight yesterday morning. At least 3,000, men divided up into six distinct bodies, were marching in different directions through the region.

They had been out all night and had no information regarding the arrest of Davis and Darby. The main body moving on Mount Pleasant had scarcely gotten across the line into Westmoreland county when Sheriff P. J. McCann personally notified the army to disband and leave the county. He told them of the arrest of Davis and Darby. Almost immediately there was a decided break in the ranks, and before an hour the march was entirely abandoned. The marchers had thrown away or concealed their weapons and, subdued, they sought their miserable homes.

One hundred additional men were sworn in as deputies to-day and were distributed to points throughout the region. The Westmoreland county sheriff also added many more men to his army of deputies as a precautionary measure. About 40 more Hungarians were arrested by the Fayette county deputies during the day. The entire 138 rioters were inspected last evening in the jail and about 20 of them were identified as having been present when Paddock was killed. The time for giving Davis and Darby a hearing has not yet been fixed.

If the strike is broken, as now appears, the works in the region will resume tomorrow. All the coke works between Scottdale south to Fair Chance have been idle since Wednesday morning.

Some few of the more rebellious strikers say they have abandoned their fight only since the operators abandoned their efforts to make coke. They contend the fight will be renewed when an effort is made to start the works again.

The operators and the authorities are confident no further trouble will occur and it has been announced that a meeting of miners will be held at Scottdale to-morrow to officially declare the strike off.

There is talk that the court will summon a special grand jury at once and will require that the cases of the alleged murderers be disposed of at the earliest possible time, instead of keeping the unfortunates crowded into the prison until the regular term of court in June.

The people of the region are feeling more comfortable to-day. They seem to be discussing impartially the strikers and strikes. It is agreed that something is radically wrong here.

Admits He Is After the Gas Works.

BOSTON, April 6.—Mr. J. Edward Addicks, of the Bay State Gas company, says: "It is true that I shall make an offer to buy the gas works of the city of Philadelphia and press the matter to a conclusion. The people are in favor of the movement to place the gas interests with private enterprise, but the newspapers are opposed to the change. I do not care to state the price, but the newspapers say $20,000,000 is to be offered."

Thurston Married.

LA PORTE, Ind., April 6.—The nuptials of Miss Harriet E. Pattie, of St. Joseph, Mich., and Hon. Lorrin A. Thurston, the Hawaiian minister, were celebrated at the home of the bride, Rev. H. W. Davis, Congregational clergyman, the bride's pastor, performed the Episcopal marriage service.

In Their Sires' Footsteps.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Twenty-five new members have been elected by the chamber of commerce at its monthly meeting. They include George J. Gould, J. Pierpont Morgan jr., and Adrain Iselin jr.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Get Strength and Health with Paine's Celery Compound.

Take Paine's celery compound.

It is the remedy that makes people well

First prescribed by the greatest physician this country has seen, it has been used and prescribed and recommended by physicians of every school everywhere.

As a spring remedy it carries health and strength and renewed energy wherever it goes.

Food for the muscles is not food for the nerves or brain. But Paine's celery compound furnishes the very elements that rebuild worn-out nerve tissues. It feeds brain, nerve centres, calming and equalizing their action. It makes rich, honest blood.

Within a very few days after Paine's celery compound is regularly taken there will be a marked improvement in the general health; strength will become more enduring, the frame plumper, the spirits better and the breath sweeter—all declaring in the plainest terms a healthier action of nerves and blood.

Hundreds of men and women with that "run-down" feeling written all over their faces, unable to work, without courage, have recovered health, heart, ambition through this remarkable remedy for the blood and nerves. It purifies the blood. It enriches the blood. It generally stirs liver and kidneys and the other organs destined to keep sweet and clean the vital machinery.

A clear, sound mind in a sturdy, healthy body, a bright eye, an elastic step, a clear skin, come without fail when Paine's celery compound is given a trial with merely reasonable care and regularity.

Says Mr. Dudley B. Stratton, one of Worcester's best citizens, the prosperous proprietor of the Lincoln Square dining roome, in a recent letter:

"About six months ago I had a severe attack of eczema; no pen can describe my sufferings; I doctored and used all the cures I could hear of, but it was still in my system.

"Hearing that Mr. William H. Robinson, with the jewelry firm of Nelson H. Davis, 351 Main street, had been cured of eczema by using Paine's celery compound I called on that gentleman, and as a result started to take this wonderful remedy. What Mr. Robinson told me has been proven to be true, and I take the opportunity to express my gratitude. I will gladly answer any one who may wish to inquire further in regard to the medicine."

Paine's celery compound is the greatest blood and nerve remedy that medical science has yet attained. It makes people well.

Y. M. C. A. Work.

The reports presented at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. held last evening showed an average weekly attendance of 56 at the young men's meeting, an average attendance of 13 at the seven sessions of the Bible Training Classes, and a total average of 54 in attendance on the Educational Classes.

Twenty-five dollars was forwarded from the Extension Fund, which is subscribed by members of the association to carry on the work among young men in this and other lands.

The Boys Department had four meetings.

Reports were also received about the new building, finances, outpost, and physical work.

From a comparison of reports from the Associations of the State received in pamphlet form during the past few days it appears that the Plainfield Association conducts the largest educational work of any Association in the State. One Association reports more men on committees and only two Associations report a larger average weekly attendance upon Workers Bible Training Classes. Two report more situations secured. Only three visiting Associations had a larger delegation than Plainfield at the late State Convention at Montclair.

CONTEST FOR A CHILD.

Its Father Kidnaps It from the Plainfield Children's Home.

A child was taken from the Children's Home, Jackson avenue, yesterday, under peculiar circumstances.

Mrs. Silas Apgar, nee Miss Hoagland, went to the Home last Friday with her young son, Simon. The boy was placed in the care of the matron, Mrs. Sarah A. Hendrickson, temporarily. Mrs. Apgar then went to Poughkeepsie to work. The child was finally admitted to the Home yesterday afternoon by the governing committee.

The father, Silas Apgar, yesterday came to Plainfield from Pottersville with a man who claimed to be an officer. The two went to the Home and demanded that the child be delivered to them. Mr. Apgar said that his wife was slightly deranged and that he legally had a right to the possession of the child after the age of seven. The child is said to be seven years and seven months old.

The matron refused to let the men take the child and sent them to the President, Mrs. Horace Kimball.

Mrs. Kimball objected likewise and the men went away.

When they came back at 5 they said they had visited a Plainfield lawyer and been told that their claims to the custody of the child were legal.

A protest was made by Mrs. Kimball but as one of the men was an officer and their claim was liable to be valid, it was decided that nothing could be done but to let the child go.

The boy cried and objected to going with his father. He is the only child and the mother feared when she brought him that the father would come after him.

The Trophy Is Here.

The trophy to be presented to the C. Y. M. L., the champions of the Diocesan Bowling Union, has arrived. It is not of the design first selected, as one of those could not be obtained. It is a silver urn about 10 inches high, with two curved handles. Chased bands encircle the top and the bottom. On one side is a bowling scene, etched in. The other side is left plain for the inscription. On the top is the figure of a bowler. The presentation will be made at a reception to the other members of the bowling league.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

MADE LIFE A BURDEN.

MISS G. F. CRAWFORD, of Limestone, Me., writes: "For years I suffered monthly from periodic pains which at times were so acute as to render life a burden. I began using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I used seven bottles in as many months and derived so much benefit from it and the home-treatment recommended in his Treatise on Diseases of Women, that I wish every woman throughout our land, suffering in the same way, may be induced to give your medicines and treatment a fair trial."

MISS CRAWFORD.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful, invigorating tonic and a soothing and strengthening nervine, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor. For every "female complaint," it is the only remedy so sure that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't cure, you have your money back.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

H. P. DEGRAAF.

RECOUNT OF THE BOROUGH VOTE

The Call says: "Last night the votes of the borough election were recounted. Clerk Corlell, Judge Lewis and other parties interested in the count excluded all outsiders and opened the seals of the ballot box, counted the votes and did everything possible to elect a third commissioner, in which they had success. The second count resulted as follows:

Staples	103
Wynkoop	102
Apgar	101

"This places Staples on the list of Commissioners, the count of the previous night being wrong. It was a very bitterly fought election, and the winners of the independent ticket are very happy."

The handsome Japanese vase presented to the company by the winner, Mrs. Jacob Benner, now occupies a prominent position in their new meeting room.

The company presents a vote of thanks to all who aided the fair in any way, by personal attention, or by donation, and also to Garret Q. Packer, who kindly gave the use of his show window for the display of the vase during the week.

Plays in Hope Chapel.

Nearly 300 attended the entertainment given by the Young Men's League in Hope Chapel last night for the benefit of the excursion fund. The duets, both instrumental and vocal, were especially well rendered. David Thompson's Negro impersonation in the last number was excellent. No fault could be found with the presentation of the plays, although several of the participants had been given but little time for preparation, as they took the place of men absent in Jersey City.

The programme:

Somerset's Disputed Boundary.

The Commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court to settle the disputed line between Morris and Somerset Counties, have completed their labors, and monuments are now being set at the termini and at all road crossings along the line.

The work of the Commission was simply to define and locate upon the ground the line designated by the Legislature in 1749. The line as there stated starts at Allamatonck Falls and runs East and by North to the Passaic River. The starting point is easily located, but on account of the irregular variation of the magnetic needle the exact course to be run was a matter of considerable research and calculation. The Commissioners finally decided on the proper course to run, after having consulted with the officers of the U. S. Coast Survey. The line as run is about ten miles long.

MUSIC FOR EAR AND MOTION.

Concert and Dance of the Amherst Clubs a Delightful Social Event.

If the Amherst men who compose the Glee, Banjo and Mandolin clubs can return to their alma mater with a record of scoring as great a success in each of the 14 places where they will have given their concert as they achieved in Plainfield, they will have a record of which they may be proud. Few people, comparatively, know anything about college glee singing and banjo playing, and it is often hard for the best clubs to find a good audience unless there is some special interest in the town, resident alumni or many families of undergraduates. Everything combined to make last night's concert a complete success. Much judicious advertising, the reputation for real merit born by the club and the promised dance after the concert drew together a large and interested audience and it is safe to say that not one person in the Casino regretted coming.

The decorations in the Casino were elaborate and in very good taste. Cheese cloth of the Amherst colors, purple and white, was festooned about the walls in great profusion and was draped in long streamers from the roof. Over the proscenium was the word "Amherst" in large purple letters on a white ground, and the footlight board was entirely covered with purple and white. The balcony at the rear of the Casino was draped with great quantities of the bunting and the monogram of the college was tastefully inscribed in a large shield in the centre. From each of the wooden arches supporting the roof hung rows of Chinese lanterns, each with its individual electric light, while from the cluster lights hung huge umbrellas, shading them pleasantly. The bunch lamps around the walls were provided each with a tiny umbrella shade, and the entire effect was the best that has been seen in the Casino since the big subscription dance a year ago.

The programmes were tastefully printed on three cards tied together with bows of purple ribbon. The cover page had the college monogram done in a faint gray, while over it was printed in purple Amherst College Musical Association. The Casino, Plainfield, N. J." Thursday, April 5, 1894. The back of the programme bore a picture of the Amherst campus.

The numbers performed by the clubs were as follows:

Taken altogether the concert was an entire success artistically and financially, and Amherst is to be congratulated on having such a competent musical association. Whatever trips the clubs may have in mind they may be sure that if excellence in all departments will carry them through, success will be theirs.

A large number of young people stayed for the dance which was started after the rather difficult undertaking of getting all the chairs out of the Casino was accomplished. Elliott furnished the music and refreshments were served by the club.

Every number with the exception of the first was encored some of them twice and one three times.

The Glee Club is very well trained and possesses some good individual voices. Taken altogether their singing is most excellent although they might let themselves out a little more to advantage. They were heard at their best in the lighter numbers especially in "A Soothing Lullaby", which is a great favorite among Glee Clubs this year and which sets forth the many virtues of Castoria Soothing Syrup in a most amusing and tuneful manner. The "Integer Vitæ" was very well done and received much deserved applause. Some of the solos were excellent, notably Mr. Loud's "I Arise From Dreams of Thee."

Among the amusing encores were; "I have a Little Rooster and my Rooster Loves Me", "The Amusing Fair" and "Mary had a Little Lamb" in several languages.

The work of the banjo club was far above the average. Perhaps their best number was the "March of the Janizaries". The playing of the Mandolin Club was delightful. The members are entirely in sympathy and it would be impossible to mention any one number for particular excellence.

The ladies who lent their names as patronesses of the affair were:

Mrs. J. Edgar Corlies, Mrs. Rowland Cox,
Mrs. M. E. Edgerton, Mrs. Pliny Fisk,
Mrs. Howard Fleming, Mrs. Alex. Gilbert,

FORESTERS' THIRD BALL.

Court Pride's Members and Friends Crowd Turner Hall.

The third annual ball of Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8,024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, held last evening in Saenger and Turner Hall, was a success financially and socially.

The grand march included fifty couples and started promptly at 9, led by Thomas Booham and Miss Mamie Walsh. The music was by E. M. O'Reilly.

The success of the affair was due to the efforts of the efficient committees, who spared no pains to make everything pleasant for those who attended. The third annual will go on record as one of the pleasantest events of the season.

Those in charge were:

General Director—Henry Windham.
Floor Managers—Thomas Boohan, Thomas Marley.
Assistant Floor Managers—Sam. J. Flynn, J. Sullivan, Thos. Roddy.
Reception Committee—L. J. Coombs, J. Galbraith, M. Gill.

To Meet Thursdays as Heretofore.

The Reform Club met in their parlors in the basement of Reform Hall last evening, and held a business and a social session. Among the speakers of the evening were James McGee, Ethan Lanphear, J. W. A. Bauersachs and Edward Titsworth. The principal subject under discussion was the changing of the night of the weekly meeting. It was decided to continue to meet Thursday evenings as although the hall was often rented that night the meetings could be held in the parlors without interruption. The Sunday afternoon meetings of the women will be continued as usual.

Selections were played by Miss Doremus on the piano and Mr. Townsend on the violin. The women served refreshments at the close of the business meeting, and a social hour was enjoyed.

Wants Men Like Vanderbeek.

[From the Waycross (Ga.) Evening Herald, March 28.]

Mr. Vanderbeek and wife, who have been our guests for some weeks, left today for their home in Plainfield, N. J. Our people have been very much pleased with Mr. Vanderbeek and his charming wife, and the Herald is happy to announce that they have promised to return another season. It is altogether probable that Mr. Vanderbeek will be a real estate owner in the Magic City before a great while. Men of the Vanderbeek stripe are what Waycross needs, and such men are more than welcome to our town.

Old Folks Concert.

The old folks concert given by Mrs. R. A. Thomas for the benefit of Mt. Olive Church last evening was a decided success. The singers acquitted themselves to the satisfaction of all present. M. F. White and Miss Laura Robinson assisted Mrs. Thomas with several duets. The concert was pleasing to all, and great praise is due Mrs. Thomas for the preparations. The affair was a decided success throughout.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SHE HAS A PERFECT MOUTH.

Artists Knauft and Edwards Admire the Face and Praise the Work of a Plainfield Girl, Daughter of a Genius.

[From The Commercial Advertiser.]

Jessamy Harte, the eldest daughter of Bret Harte, is only 21. Her mother was a Miss Griswold of California, a clever and gifted girl, with great linguistic and musical accomplishments. Bret Harte's two eldest children, both of them boys, were born in San Francisco. The Hartes then moved to New York, and it was there Jessamy and her sister Ethel were born.

The family at present is living at Plainfield, N. J., where for a number of years the married sister of Bret Harte has had a lovely old-fashioned residence, though early in the Spring they all go over to London to join Mr. Harte, whose permanent residence is in England. They will make their home abroad, Mr. Harte's interests being centred there.

Brought up in an atmosphere of refinement and cultivation little Jessie Harte developed a fondness for music and the drama, and was also a great reader, though never over fond of school books. When a very little girl indeed she used to draw funny images and the pictures of queer children on the margins of the leaves of all her books. Miss Harte's work has been the "stroke of genius". Until last winter she had no regular instruction. Like her father, she is a bit erratic in her work. She had her first drawing lessons at a private school in Plainfield. Looking at her sketches, Mrs. Harte, whose own artistic sense is a good one, begged Jessamy to devote her time to a careful study of whatever particular line of drawing she felt she should most like to become proficient in. Her cousin, Professor Ernest Knauft of Plainfield, an artist of some note, also saw great promise in the crude little sketches and encouraged her.

But the prettiest things Miss Harte has done have been purely the work of her untrained imagination. George Wharton Edwards, with whom she has studied somewhat, says she is a genius: "Everything she has done thus far has been the work of a genius, not that of the student. She has a wonderful future before her if she will but apply herself."

The first thing of any importance done by her was her illustrations of "Camp Life in the Adirondacks" a year ago. Since then she has been rapidly rising into prominence.

Last winter her work consisted chiefly of head and tail pieces and initial letters.

Several of the covers of the Christian Union (the Outlook) were designed by her. But her forte will undoubtedly be figures, the pose of her girls being simply perfect in their grace. She will probably spend next season studying in Paris.

In appearance Miss Harte is a beauty. She is tall and graceful, with a remarkable fine carriage. Her head, small and exquisitely shaped, is perhaps a trifle imperious in its pose. She has blue eyes, set under heavy, straight black brows. Her coloring is the daintiest pink and white. Her neck and arms are perfectly molded, and she has beautifully shaped hands and feet. Her teeth are very small and white. Perhaps the greatest beauty of her face lies in the shape of her mouth, which is said by artists to be absolutely perfect.

Minnie Lester, Reigning Favorite.

Minnie Lester's Company will conclude its Music Hall engagement tomorrow night, and will leave with the people the memory of a series of charming plays most entertainingly presented. The company is composed of genuine artists, and is superbly managed by as able and agreeable gentleman as can be found in the theatrical profession. Miss Lester is a true star, and acts, sings and dances far better than any other repertoire actress ever seen in Plainfield. She is graceful, winsome, accomplished. Her support is admirable. The orchestra and band furnish admirable music, and every performance is a wonder and a delight.

The attendance last night was largely increased, and crowded houses are assured for this and tomorrow evenings. The matinees are a popular feature. The concluding matinee will be that of tomorrow, when "Ragged Jack" will be presented. A handsome gift will be given to each child attending. Tonight the play will be the beautiful romance "The Rose of Killarney", which won high favor at the matinee yesterday. Ten cents is all it costs anybody to get the best seat in the house at a matinee, and the evening prices are only 10, 20 and 30 cents. Every performance is wholesome and elevating.

Wants the Heathen Saved.

Miss Alice B. Spangenberg of Netherwood addressed an interested audience in the First Church of Christ last evening on the need of foreign missionary work. She spoke plainly of the reason why civilized and Christian countries should try to make their heathen brethren better. It was Christ's great command, and one of his last to the disciples. Miss Spangenberg compared the condition of the foreigners in whose cause she spoke, with that of Americans, dwelling especially on the girl widows of India. Her work's were received with marked attention.

CRACK SHOTS AT THE SCORE.

First Day of the Grand National Handicap, and Chas. Smith at the Front.

Not since the days of the old Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen—says the New York Sun—has such a crowd of expert pigeon shooters faced the traps as participated in the Grand National Handicap, in Dexter Park, Long Island, yesterday. No fewer than fifty-three competitors paid their $25, and shot in turn at marks ranging from twenty-five to thirty-three yards, and nearly every State from Missouri eastward had a representative. The Grand National was shot under the auspices of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, and was guaranteed to be worth $1,000. It proved a great drawing card, however, and the high men will divide between $1,200 and $1,500 some time this afternoon, the event not being shot to a decision yesterday.

Among the crack shots present were T. H. Kellar and Chas. H. Smith of Plainfield. Mr. Kellar did not shoot, but Mr. Smith did, and his score put him in the front rank. The Sun says:

"Charles Smith, of Plainfield, better known as 'Dutchy', is a remarkable figure. All the make-up he would require to do a turn as a Dutchman on the stage would be a pair of wooden clogs and a red handkerchief. Mr. Smith is ruddy-faced, flaxen-haired, rotund of person, good-natured, and a shot from way back. He missed his first bird, but knocked the others over as though shooting pigeons from the 30-yard mark was his especial sport. Mr. Smith is one of the few left-hand shots in the race.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 569 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

ABOUT 500 STRONG NOW

Many Slavs and Huns Join Coxey's Army.

A Dangerous Accession and Trouble is Feared—Grand Reception at Homestead—Supplies Now a Serious Question—A Nephew of H. C. Frick in Charge of Commissary Department.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., April 6.—Although they left their camp at Allegheny City under police directions and proscriptions the reception given the Coxey army on its march out of Pittsburg to this town was none the less overwhelmingly an ovation. The men marched through a solid line of people, packing the streets from the house walls out over the curbstones and into the streets, along the entire route, a distance of three miles. Passing out onto the Brownsville road, the long straggling column filed up the uneven road to the time of a base drum, never halting because of the rain storm that blew up.

At Beck's Run the Homestead delegation, headed by Elmer Bails, met and conducted the army along Eighth avenue to the location of the camp at Homestead and its house on the river bank.

As the army entered the town it was halted by Officer Gessner and Carl Browne was notified that he must restrict his men to the camp limits or they would be arrested. Twenty police were put on duty and an attempt made to enforce the regulations. A number of prominent citizens made an objection and it was not carried out.

The most surprising feature of the day's encampment was the large number of enlistments, 309 men crowding up to the improvised desk of Recruiting Sergeant Dale and were properly badged. Two new companies, the Pittsburg and Allegheny, were organized. The recruits were in the main Huns and Slavs and densely ignorant.

Some of Coxey's supporters fear that this element will make the army a disorderly body. As it now stands the entire force numbers about 500, consequently the question of feeding and caring for the men has become a very serious one. The commissary wagons were loaded down on their way out of Pittsburg. About 300 pairs of shoes, 500 pairs of socks, 300 vests and an immense quantity of provisions were distributed among them last evening. Donations were not quite so heavy.

Last night's meeting, in the hall famous as the assembling place of the strikers in 1892, was a tremendous one in point of numbers. The speeches of Browne and Coxey were well received, and the army is regarded in this town as a model organization.

Orders this morning announce a change in the route and the camp will be Camp Edd Leslie at McKeesport to-night.

A sensation was sprung in this town last night by the announcement of the appointment of Alex Childs to the position of chief of the commissary of the commonweal. Young Childs is highly connected. H. C. Frick, the famous president of the Carnegie Steel company, is an uncle of the young man, as is also Judge Marcus Acheson, of the United States circuit court. A. H. Childs, of the Carnegie Steel company, and Henry Childs, a wealthy merchant of Pittsburg, are close connections. Childs joined the army at Beaver Falls, and was appointed to his present position after the desertion of Kirkland on Tuesday. He is married and was but recently engaged in business in Baltimore. The announcement of his connection with the army is the talk of the town.

STUDENT TAYLOR OUT OF JAIL.

Released Pending Appeal—Mrs. Dingens One of His Sureties.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 6.—F. L. Taylor, the Cornell student who was sentenced to jail by judge G. A. Forbes for contempt of court, has just been released on an order from Judge Smith pending an appeal from Judge Forbes' decision to the general term.

Taylor will remain in the city and petition the faculty to reinstate him in his class. He has been served with a subpœna to appear before the grand jury on April 24. The sureties on the bail bond filed with the county clerk and approved by Judge Almy, are Mrs. Dingens, of Buffalo, and Benj. Rich, of Ithaca.

The Stamped Envelope Contract.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Postmaster General Bissell has notified the unsuccessful bidders for the contract for furnishing stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers to the government, who protested against the awarding of the contract to James Purcell of Hudson, N. Y., that he will give them a hearing next Monday. Mr. Purcell has had several interviews with the postmaster general for the purpose of demonstrating that he has ample facilities at his disposal to carry out the contract.

Steele in Hard Luck.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Herbert H. Steele, who has been in the Massachusetts state prison at Charlestown three years for forgery, and released a few days ago, was arraigned before Judge Cowing in general sessions on an indictment for forgery committed in this city in August, 1891. He pleaded guilty. The judge was of the opinion that the prisoner had been sufficiently punished, but under the law is obliged to sentence him. Steele was remanded for sentence on Tuesday.

Tried to Mob Ex-Priest Slattery.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Only heroic efforts on the part of the police, with the assistance of members of the A. P. A., prevented an enormous mob from doing injury to ex-Priest Slattery and his wife at the close of Slattery's lecture at Odd Fellows hall on "Why Priests Do Not Wed."

St. Gaudens' Design Suits Them.

TARIFF TALK BEGUN

Mr. Peffer Addresses the Senate on the Bill.

Would Gladly Vote for it If it Would Reduce Taxation, But is Afraid it Will Not—Speaks of the Commonweal Army and Intimates That There is "Trouble Brewing."

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The tariff bill was taken up yesterday afternoon in the senate, and Mr. Peffer (pop., Kan.) commenced his address on the bill. He thought it fortunate that in considering that great measure he was not hampered by any considerations of a party nature. With populists the tariff was not a party question. There was not a line or word in the populist platform concerning that subject. No man had authority to bind that party to any particular theory of customs legislation or to any special policy in that direction, except that whatever congress might do by way of establishing or revising a tariff should be done along the line of justice—justice to all the people, justice to all the interests of the people, of all classes, poor as well as rich. The central idea of populism was justice to the people, founded on the expression of Thomas Jefferson. He was afraid that the bill before the senate was not a bill to reduce taxation, but a bill to increase taxation. If it were a bill to reduce taxation he would be glad to give his vote for it.

Mr. Peffer spoke of "the army of the commonweal" as a moving body of men, gathering strength as it moves, like an avalanche, coming toward the capital of the nation—It might be objectless, loosely and wildly—but still showing that there was "trouble brewing." And that trouble which was brewing came, he said, from unjust taxation. The senate had before it a bill to reduce taxation, and he hoped that senators would go along day by day, concurring with one another in an earnest desire that in the end some legislation would be given to the people that would in fact reduce taxation or that would at least not add anything to their burden.

After Mr. Peffer had spoken for two hours it was agreed that he might continue his speech to-day, and Mr. Harris (dem., Tenn.), suggested that the reading of the tariff bill in full should be commenced. A motion to proceed to the consideration of executive business was made by Mr. Morgan (dem., Ala.), but was withdrawn at the request of Mr. Harris. It was renewed by Mr. Aldrich, (rep., R. I.), and the result was announced as yeas 10; nays 18. A motion to adjourn was then made by Mr. Aldrich.

Mr. Harris remarked that he had not supposed that filibustering would begin so early; and Mr. Aldrich replied that there was no filibustering on the republican side, but that the last vote had disclosed the absence of a quorum.

The motion to adjourn was voted down without the yeas and nays. The roll was called and forty-three senators answered to their names.

The vote was again taken on Mr. Aldrich's motion to proceed to the consideration of executive business, and the vote was: Yeas, 11; nays, 22—no quorum, many senators present being paired and, therefore, not voting. Then Mr. Harris said: "It is obvious that there is no voting quorum here at present, and there are but two things we can do with propriety at this hour of the evening. That is, either to direct the sergeant-at-arms to request the attendance of absent senators or to adjourn. I move that the senate do now adjourn."

The motion wag agreed to and the senate, at 4:40, adjourned until to-day.

House of Representatives.

In the house the bill was passed authorizing the secretary of the interior to lease hotel sites in Yellowstone Park. This, Mr. Hayes (dem., Iowa), who presented the measure, said, was needed for public accommodation. Mr. Hayes indulged in some lively fish stories in reciting the glories of Yellowstone Park, and after a little fun, in which Mr. Allen, the Mississippi joker, confirmed Mr. Hayes' trout-catching yarns, the bill was passed.

A change from these pleasantries manifested itself when, after roll call on a measure providing for a clerical appointment to one of the senate committees, Mr. Reed, criticising a decision of the speaker regarding the interruption of the roll call, said it was strange to have the roll call interrupted, even by unanimous consent. The speaker said: "The gentleman from Maine objects. Call the roll."

Then Mr. Reed said, emphatically: "The gentleman from Maine does not object."

The speaker insisted that the ex-speaker did, to which Mr. Reed replied: "My statement will go into the Record."

The speaker: "So will that of the chair."

Then Mr. Reed retorted: "And the public will be able to judge. It is a question of veracity."

This closed the incident and the resolution was passed. Another wave of trouble was a complaint by the newly-seated member from Missouri that his colleague, Mr. Morgan, another Democrat, had done him certain injustice when the retort came that O'Neill had better restrict himself to the duties that Joy had been elected to perform.

The postoffice appropriation bill occupied the further attention of the house until a recess, at 4:55, for an evening session to consider pensions.

At the night session of the house about 50 members were present. Six private bills were considered during the evening, three of them being laid aside with a favorable report, three passed over without action. At 10:20 the house adjourned.

Glass Plant Destroyed.

BRIDGETON, N. J., April 7.—Fire last night destroyed the glass manufacturing plant of Getsinger & Co., a dozen buildings comprising hollow-ware factories, window light factories, a store, and four houses of Captain Sam Perry, and one of Mrs. Paul J. Davis. The loss, it is believed, will reach $75,000, partially insured.

Will Have Men to Rely on.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 7.—Gov. Tillman said last night that he would have 25,000 men organized within two weeks on whom he could rely to execute any orders he might give should any further emergency arise.

Local Weather Forecast.

Fair; slightly warmer; winds shifting to south.

STILL MARCHING ON

Coxey's Forces in Western Pennsylvania.

Met By Brass Bands and Thousands of People at McKeesport and Duquesne—Food Becoming an Important Matter, but the Commander Claims to Have Enough.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., April 7.—The march of the Coxey forces through the centre of the coal and iron industry in western Pennsylvania was continued yesterday, the route being from Homestead to a borough on the outskirts of this city and considering the character of the country traversed and the number of new men in line the officers of the commonweal deem the day's work an excellent one. Homestead was not left behind until 11 o'clock, when the long column of 407 men on foot and twenty horsemen filed out of town. The line of march was past the Carnegie mills where they were heartily cheered, through Munhall and by a circuitous, mountainous detour through a mining region to Duquesne. The first part of the tramp was very disagreeable, the roads being covered with mud. After a steep assent had been accomplished, the roads were improved. At the brow of the hill above Duquesne a brass band met the force and escorted it to the town common. Then a lunch of crackers, cold meat and coffee was served, the officers dining at a neighboring hotel. After lunch a short drill was conducted and then the army accompanied by a mob moved toward McKeesport. At the bridge leading to McKeesport, a brass band and Col. F. A. Schoeller and J. Edd Leslie met the troops and headed them toward Camp J. Edd Leslie. At least 2,500 McKeesport people awaited at the other side of the bridge while four times as many stood on the sidewalk to see the inconglomerate aggregation pass by. The route ran along Fifth avenue, Market street and Third avenue to Reynoldton, where the command was halted in an open field. Owing to a delay caused by the breaking down of a commissary wagon, the main tent was not raised until 9 o'clock, but a supper of bread, coffee and meat was served in the open air. The arrangements for the encampment are very poor. A number of recruits joined at Duquesne.

The question of sufficient food is becoming more and more important as the mountain region will be entered by Sunday and then long marches and small towns will be the order. Coxey claims to have enough to carry the army through. Another change in the route is probable, as it is announced that a mistake in the published route has been discovered.

Coxey and Browne addressed a large meeting at Altmeyer's theatre here last night, but the cause of good roads and reincarnation met with but slight sympathy.

Favorable to Commander Kellogg.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The house naval committee has authorized a favorable report on the bill placing Commander Augustus T. Kellogg upon the list of naval officers who have been retired on account of incapacity resulting from long and faithful service. Commander Kellogg has been an inmate of St. Elizabeth's asylum for several years and has been drawing the lowest rate of pay consistent with his rank. The purpose of the present bill is to give him the same pay that other commanders on the retired list now receive.

Plotting a Revolution.

MADRID, April 7.—A despatch from Havana, Cuba, says that Captain General Calleja has just learned of the existence of a plot to overthrow the colonial government. The revolutionary agitator Maso is said to be the author of the plot, and General Martinez Gomez is believed to have been chosen to lead the movement. It is reported that a large quantity of arms and ammunition which had been collected by the plotters was discovered this week at Puerto Principe.

Edison's Application Denied.

NEWARK, N. J., April 7.—The application for a receiver for the United Phonograph company made before Vice Chancellor Fleet by Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, has been denied. The vice-chancellor also denied the application made by the same person for an injunction to restrain the company from electing directors at their annual meeting. He said he saw in the evidence submitted to him no authority for the interference of the court.

Prince of Wales' Narrow Escape.

LONDON, April 1.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says that the Prince of Wales planned to go to the Odeon theatre and dine at Foyot's on Wednesday. He would have occupied the room which was most damaged by the bomb explosion. After all arrangements for the evening had been made the prince changed his mind and went elsewhere.

Important Places Filled.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Mayor Gilroy has filled two important places in the city service by appointing Edward Bell as park commissioner in place of Paul Dana, resigned, and Edward P. Steers as school commissioner in place of Mr. Bell, who gave up that place to go into the park board. Both officers will assume their duties at once.

Cotton Mill Strike Ended.

DANIELSONVILLE, Conn., April 7.—The strike in the Williamsville cotton mill is ended, the weavers accepting the terms of the last reduction, after being out thirty days. It was thought the help would give in, as the mill had previously been forced to run on short time on account of the large stock on hand.

Working on Full Time.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 7.—The works of the Scranton Lace Curtain manufactory have gone on full time for the first time this year. The eight-hour schedule will on Monday be resumed at the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western car shops which have been working six hours a day during the winter months.

Standard Oil Company's Report.

ALBANY, April 7.—The annual report of the Standard Oil Company, of New York, was filed with the secretary of state to-day. It shows paid-up capital of $7,000,000; debts not exceeding $13,150,000; assets at least equal to $20,150,000.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Handsome Harry Burnett Said to Have Two Wives.

TOMS RIVER, N. J., April 7.—Harry E. Burnett, who on Nov. 9, last, was married to Mrs. Emma S. O'Hara, was arrested at their residence in Island Heights on a charge of bigamy, preferred by Mrs. Jane Lawrence, of Philadelphia, who claims to be the sister of Burnett's first wife.

Mr. Burnett is a handsome, dashing young Englishman, who has passed himself off as an ex-captain of the royal British dragoons, and who now writes "Dr." before his name. Mrs. O'Hara is the widow of the late Rev. John O'Hara, a member of the New Jersey Methodist Episcopal conference, and the proprietor of a celebrated homœopathic medicine by which he gathered considerable wealth, all of which he left to his widow.

Mrs. Lawrence and her husband say that Burnett's real name is Ernest Ebenezer Bennett, and that he hails from Dartford, Kent, England. Lawrence and he served together in the royal dragoons, but it was as a private, not as captain. Eight years ago he was married to Miss Elizabeth Dunn, in Philadelphia, by the Rev. Dr. Appleton.

Mrs. O'Hara's parents are wealthy residents of Bethlehem, Pa., and it was while Burnett was traveling about the country with the patent medicines that he met her there on a visit to her parents home.

It is understood that extradition papers will be at once procured by District Attorney Graham of Philadelphia. His wife is now enroute for America.

Iron Hall Funds.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—It is reported that Vice Chancellor Bird has ordered that the funds of the order of the Iron Hall in New Jersey should be turned over to receiver of the Supreme Sitting Failey, in Indianapolis, for general distribution. Thomas P. Curley, of Camden, the New Jersey receiver, has $80,906 in his possession. The members in this state will probably get about 50 per cent. of their claims.

Broker Hotchkiss Sentenced.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Philo P. Hotchkiss, formerly a well-known stock broker, was sentenced yesterday to four years in the state prison by Judge Cowing. Hotchkiss pleaded guilty of grand larceny in the second degree. A year ago he was given notes amounting to $24,000 by the Rochester Trust company for collection. He collected the money and appropriated it to his own use.

Sued for Royalties.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 7.—A suit was brought in the United States circuit court yesterday against Landers, Frary & Clark, the cutlery manufactuers of New Britain, by T. A. Andrews, of Galuesville, Texas. Mr. Andrews claims $30,000 damages for an alleged violation of contract in the payment of royalties on a patented improved faucet.

Musical Director in Trouble.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Signor Mancinelli, musical director of the Abbey-Grau Opera company, now at the Auditorium, was arrested here last evening, charged with picking pockets. He was suspected of being the leader of a gang of pickpockets, but the police soon discovered their mistake and discharged the director with profuse apologies.

Called to New York.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The Trinity Baptist church, Fifty-fifth street and Lexington avenue, extended a call to Rev. James W. Putnam, formerly pastor of the Temple Baptist church, Philadelphia, to become its pastor at a salary of $3 000 per year. It is thought that Mr. Putnam will accept the call.

Behring Sea Bill Approved.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The president received the Behring sea bill from the senate at 5:15 yesterday and immediately gave it his approval.

INCITED TO RIOT.

Huns Claim to Have Been Led Into the Strike.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 7.—The sudden collapse of the coal strike is the sole topic of discussion in this region. There are many theories offered in explanation. One advanced by the better class of Hungarians and Slavs is that their people have been led into the strike by the Irish and German elements who wanted to rid the coke region of them. The Hungarians and Slavs were brought to this country twelve years ago under contract to break the strike, and since then times have been getting harder. The Irish and Germans are said to have incited the Slavish people to riot and bloodshed in order to work up a prejudice against them and either cause them to be driven out of the country by force or starved out for want of work.

It is now certain that none of the strikers will be taken back at any of the works and that they will have to leave the locality. Many circumstances point to the fact that the strike is the result of a collusion of the Irish and German elements against the Slavs and Hungarians. All the leaders of the strike and the president and secretary of the organization are Irish, while none of the Irish employes at the coke works have joined the strike.

Imposing on the Law.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A practice has arisen of late in Canada of merchant tailors sending into this country, along the border, drummers who take the measure of men and have their clothes made in Canada in accordance with the samples submitted. When the clothes are finished the men repair to Canada and either wear the clothes or bring them in as personal effects, free of duty. The practice has grown to such an extent that protests have been made to the treasury department by merchant tailors of this country. The matter was referred to Solicitor Reeve, who decides that the practice is a fraud upon the revenue and the law. Steps will be taken to prevent any further imposition from this source.

ALL THE EVIDENCE IN

Ending the Breckinridge-Pollard Case.

The Colonel Was the Last Witness of This Most Dramatic Trial—Denied Almost Everything Said About Him—The Case Will Probably Go to the Jury on Thursday.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The curtain was rung down on the most interesting scenes of the Pollard-Breckinridge case yesterday when the last of the evidence was submitted to to the jury. It was a sort of clearing up day, like the last act in a play when explanations and reconciliations are in order, and the sessions of the circuit court differed from the drama conclusions only in the absence of an adjustment of the difference of the principal actors. That will be left to the jury.

Col. Breckinridge was the last witness of the trial. Like Miss Pollard, who had preceded him, he denied pretty much everything she and her witnesses had said, just as she had most emphatically denied all his leading statements and those put forward on his behalf.

The plaintiff's attorneys, Mr. Calderon Carlisle and Mr. Johnson, took the stand and testified that there was no truth in the inference put forward by the defense that one or the other of them, or the plaintiff, had slipped a Christmas card of Miss Pollard's into a book at the Norwood foundling asylum to strengthen her claim that she had been there in her confinement, and there was more testimony about the baby born in Washington on Feb. 3, 1888, to Miss Pollard, or "Mrs. Hall," as she called herself, and which died two months later at the Washington foundling asylum.

A sensation was narrowly averted at the morning session when old Aunt Mary, the colored midwife who attended "Mrs. Hall," said she had never seen "Mr. Hall" until that moment, when she "recognized him by the child."

To-day prayers for instructions to the jury will be submitted to Judge Bradley and arguments theron will consume the day. Monday the arguments to the jury will begin.

The case may perhaps go to the jury on Wednesday, but probably not until Thursday.

Mr. Calderon Carlisle will open for the plaintiff and Col. Phil Thompson for the defendant. Major Ben Butterworth will make the closing argument for the defense and Judge Jere Wilson will close the case with his argument for the plaintiff.

Relieved by a Stomach Pump.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 7.—After suffering several weeks with a disease that puzzled physicians, which was accompanied with hiccoughs for several days in succession, that would sometimes continue for days, and after the application of numerous remedies had been applied, the doctors a day or two ago used a stomach pump on John Minchin jr., of Goshen, the well-known Orange county horseman. His stomach was given a thorough cleansing, and among the contents pumped up were two pieces of steel, being parts of a small needle which Minchin accidentally swallowed three months ago. He was immediately relieved.

Demanded the State's Arms.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 7.—Assistant Adjutant General John Gary Watts arrived in this city yesterday morning on a special train from Columbia and proceeded to make a formal requisition on Gen. T. A. Huguenin, of the fourth brigade, for the arms belonging to the state. A general order was issued to all the captains requiring them to turn over to Gen. Watts the property of the state. It is understood that the arms will be surrendered without a murmur, but that most of the companies will purchase private arms and keep up their organizations as rifle clubs.

Lasker Defeats Steinitz.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Play in the eighth game of the chess match between Steinitz and Lasker, which began on Thursday and left off unfinished at 11 p. m. on that day, was resumed at the Union Square hotel yesterday, when Lasker, after seventy-six moves, secured a victory. The champion had lost a piece the day previous and, although he tried hard to avert defeat, he had to accept the inevitable. The score now stands: Lasker, 4; Steinitz, 2; drawn, 2. The second series of the match will begin at the Franklin Chess club's rooms, Philadelphia, next Friday.

Large Whisky Shipments.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 7.—Perhaps the largest shipment of American whisky ever imported into this country arrived yesterday per steamship Darmstadt from Bremen. There are 1,209 barrels of Maryland and Kentucky whisky in the consignment which was released from United States bonded warehouses in 1886 and has since been stored to age in Bremen. The whisky is consigned to J. H. Sanford, San Francisco, and will be started on its long trip west in a few days.

Ohio's Winter Wheat.

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—The first state crop bulletin of the year, just issued, shows that the wheat emerges from the winter in excellent condition—91 per cent. of a full average. Rye and barley are almost in the same condition.

Destructive Forest Fires.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., April 7.—A number of particularly destructive forest fires are now raging in the southern portion of Burlington county, and have caused a loss of many thousands of dollars to the lumber owners.

PUBLISHER OF DONOHOE'S.

What the Great American Catholic Monthly Owes to Paine's Celery Compound.

The name of Donohoe's Magazine, founded by Mr. Patrick Donohoe of Boston, in 1879, is known and respected throughout the English-speaking world.

Within the past year it has achieved almost marvelous success, and stands today peerless in its field, doing splendid work for greater religious tolerence and better economic conditions; this success has been won under the direction of its new publisher, Hon. Daniel P. Toomey, who, in addition, is at the head of one of Boston's book publishing companies and is a representative from that city in the legislature of Massachusetts.

Mr. Toomey writes as follows in a candid and interesting letter:

"I believe in Paine's celery compound. If I tell you why, you may perhaps, wish to publish my words. But even that does not deter me from writing you the truth. I have no sympathy with the man who helps tear down 'the bridge that carried him over.' Neither do I sympathize with the man who hides facts just because their publication may promote the success of others. Paine's celery compound helped me; that's the fact of the case.

"Finding myself run down and getting into a state of nervousness recently, I took the advice of a medical friend and bought Paine's celery compound. Its use gave me strength, energy and buoyancy. Business cares were made lighter than before. I believe in the efficacy of Paine's celery compound."

Mr. Toomey's experience is like that of thousands of others.

Brain workers, those who suffer from debility, exhaustion, mental depression, sleeplessness, find Paine's celery compound a certain rejuvenator of the vital portions. Hard study among students is a direct cause of debility. Energetic action cannot be kept up in the brain and stomach at the same time. If the mind be intently occupied with profound mind the nervous power will be concentrated in the brain, and the stomach being deprived of it, indigestion and disease ensue. Hence the weak digestion and sallow complexion of literary men and their constant complaint of ill health.

It is true that a hopeful man or woman can do more work and get well faster than one in despair. From the first taking of Paine's celery compound a feeling of confidence in recovery comes over the invalid New blood and fresh nervous energy give a hopeful outlook. Paine's celery compound hastens convalescence wonderfully.

In the spring, if ever, there is need of food for the nerves and brain. Paine's celery compound makes the weak strong. Makes people well. Try it.

Bad Fall, Little Injury.

William Laing, a carpenter, of 257 East Third street, while working on a new house on Willow avenue, yesterday afternoon, fell from a scaffolding twenty feet high. He was considerably bruised, and in the descent cut his left hand on a piece of tin which projected from the building. Mr. Laing went to Dr. Adams, and his injuries were dressed so skillfully that today he is able to be about.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

A WOMAN'S HORRIBLE DEATH.

GROUND TO PIECES BY JERSEY CENTRAL TRAINS.

Returning Home from the Grocery Store, She Is Compelled to Cross the Tracks Because of the Lamentable Lack of Bridge or Tunnel.

A woman was killed on the Central Railroad near the Grant Avenue station about 9 last night. Her mangled body lay on the track until this morning unnoticed by the crews of the trains which ran over it during the night.

Mrs. Margaret Shirley had lived with her son John at 1,015 West Front street since his wife died three months ago, taking care of his child and keeping house for him on the second floor of the house.

She left the house shortly after 8 last night to go to Frank Cullen's grocery on South Second street opposite the Pond Tool Works, taking the usual short cut across the railroad. To cross last night Mrs. Shirley had to climb over a string of coal cars. At the store the woman bought a dozen of eggs and a piece of bacon, and started back about 8:45. The young woman who waited upon her was the last person who saw her alive.

The hands on the newspaper train which ran through Plainfield at 5:45 this morning saw the remains scattered along the tracks. It seemed that the woman had been struck by an eastbound train and thrown across to the other track. Train 16 passes the spot going east, at about 8:48.

The station agent at Dunellen was notified and he sent the news to Plainfield. Undertaker Casey took the body to his morgue on West Third street. The County Physician was summoned by wire.

No search was made by John Shirley when his mother did not return last evening, as he supposed she had gone to stay with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Shirley, who is ill at 505 West Third street. A member of the family living below him informed John this morning that a woman had been killed. A moment later Harry Shirley came in with the exclamation "My God, mother has been killed, and we did n't know it till just now!"

Mrs. Shirley was 52 years old. She was a widow and left four sons, John is employed in the Potter Press Works. There is no bridge, tunnel or other safe way of going from one side of the railroad to the other between Grant avenue and Evona. Residents of the streets, including school children, between are accustomed to cross the tracks on the grade.

The Central Railroad some years ago desired to make a crossing west of the Pond Works, but Halsey Compton, the owner of the land, objected and the company was unable to put the scheme through. The accident last night is one that is liable to happen at any time.

"SPOT" SPOTS HER HOME AT LAST.

Ever Since Last August She Has Been Struggling Against Hard Times.

Homing pigeon "Spot", registered, belonging to J. Hervey Doane, was sent in a basket with about 100 other birds in August, 1892, to Cleveland, Ohio, to fly for Federation record. The birds were released, but few of them reached home on account of heavy storms and having to cross the mountains between here and the liberating station, which were known to be the home of thousands of hawks. A few of the birds, however, reached home a day or two after liberation, looking quite out of form, feathers pulled out, and their feet and legs covered with black swampy mud, all of which went to show how desperately they struggled to reach home. "Spot" was counted with the missing, and until today she had been pictured struggling with a savage hawk or lying in some dismal valley beaten down by the storms which met them on their homeward journey.

Yesterday she was found by her owner standing on her old perch, looking as happy as though she had just returned from her usual morning exercise about the loft with the rest of the flock. The whereabouts of the little wanderer during all these months will never be known; but one thing is sure—she never once forgot her old home, and no doubt she has been struggling hard to reach it. The big band with registered number is still on "Spot's" leg.

Systematic Pool Playing.

The pool tournament was continued in the C. Y. M. L. club-house last evening. M. Gill was easily defeated by John Flynn; and William J. Kiley by Charles Lang. Thomas Hughes was beaten 17 points by Thomas Owens; John Casey 2 points by John Moran; and John Gallagher 5 points by Thomas Carty.

Real Lightning, Indoors.

One of the realistic features of the great tornado scene in Lincoln J. Carter's new play, "The Tornado", to be produced in Music Hall next Wednesday night, is real lightning, which flashes and illuminates the scene all through its awful intensity. This is supplied by a system of storage batteries, carried by the company.

They'll Give a Violet Tea.

The Epworth League of Grace M. E. Church held a business meeting last evening at which President A. A. Taft presided. The society decided to give a violet tea for the benefit of the piano fund the evening of April 20, and selected Miss Grace Carroll, Miss Agnes Tingley, Miss Dehla Voehl and A. A. Taft to arrange matters.

CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL.

Mrs. Thomas Gives a Delightful Talk for the Scotch Plains Library.

Forty or fifty of the gentler sex met at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Sykes, yesterday afternoon to listen to an interesting lecture on "Canterbury and its Cathedral", delivered by Mr. Charles Thomas of Bound Brook.

Mrs. Thomas, in a very interesting way, gave a history of the growth of the Gothic Cathedral, as exemplified at Canterbury, giving many interesting historical facts concerning this ancient pile. Illustrated views in and about Canterbury drawn by Mrs. Thomas added much to the value of the lecture. One of the most interesting of these was a picture of Saint Martin's, the first Christian Church erected in England, a gift from the Pagan King Ethelbert to his Christian wife Bertha.

At the earnest request of her audience, Mrs. Thomas supplemented her description of Canterbury by a slight sketch of the cathedrals of Durham and Salisbury, pointing out in the illustrations of these buildings the essential difference between the strongly massed walls of Durham, built for defence as well as worship, and that of Salisbury, whose heaven-pointing spire served for a landmark for all the country round.

The lecture was given in behalf of the Scotch Plains Public Library, the guests all contributing to that object. The ladies of the House Committee, Mrs. De Forest Thomas, Mrs. T. J. Nicholl and Mrs. Thomas Paff, Jr., assisted Mrs. Sykes in receiving. Miss Lillian Nicholl gave fine selections on the piano. Tea and chocolate were served by a number of young ladies after the lecture was over.

A. R. Johnson and John Johnson, of this city, will spend Sunday with their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. William Roselle, corner of Halsey and Howard streets, Brooklyn.

A party of young people from Westfield very pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bunn, at their home on Elmwood place, last evening. Dancing formed the chief amusement, and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The time and place of the funeral of Diedrick Bremmer have been changed. Rev. Edward Klonka will conduct the services in St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Grove street, tomorrow morning at 11:30, immediately after the regular morning service.

Mrs. J. T. Armstrong left Plainfield this afternoon after a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, East Fourth street. She will visit her sister, Mrs. Walter G. Bunyon, of Elizabeth, and return to her home in Brooklyn tomorrow evening.

Seventh-Day Baptism.

In the beautiful Seventh Day Baptist Church last evening the impressive service of baptism by immersion was witnessed by a large congregation which occupied every available seat and filled the aisles. There were eight candidates, who thus sought admission to the church. They were dressed in white garments, and sat in the chair loft. Each came down in turn, and was baptized by the pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis.

Before the baptism itself took place, several of the candidates, at the request of the pastor, related their Christian experience, telling how and when their hearts were quickened by Christ. Dr. Lewis made the service very impressive and there was a total silence as the symbolic service was performed.

—J. M. Bettman has sold his three horses and bought a spanking new team.

—Huntsinger & Mulford, of the Park Avenue Market, put a handsome new delivery wagon in service today.

—Edward Baker, for embracing a young woman on Front street, while he was intoxicated, was fined $5 today.

—An "odorless" excavating wagon, while driving under the New street bridge this noon, broke down and the contents were profusely scattered about the street, causing a very unwholesome scent.

—The generator arrived yesterday at the electric-light station, for the electric-power system to run local motors for machinery. The trolley current will be used, and The Press will then be printed by electricity.

SEVERE EXPOSURE

Often results in colds, fevers, rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred derangements. We do not "catch cold" if we are in good condition. If the liver is active, and the system in consequence doing its duty, we live in full health and enjoy life "rain or shine." To break up a cold there's nothing so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They keep the whole system regulated in a perfectly natural way. If we do not feel happy, if we worry and grumble, if we are morbid, if the days seem dreary and long, if the weather is bad, if things go awry, it is the liver which is at fault. It is generally "torpid." A common sense way is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. We generally eat too much, take insufficient exercise, by means of which our tissue-changes become indolent and incomplete. Be comfortable—you are comfortable when well. You'll be well when you have taken "Pleasant Pellets."

No Constipation follows their use. Put up sealed in glass—always fresh and reliable.

REMARKABLE CURES.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

MAYORS SALUTE.

W. L. SAUNDERS AND H. E. NEEDHAM SAY NICE THINGS OF ONE ANOTHER.

Then the Republican Council Gets Down to Business in the Work of Removing Democratic Office-Holders. But Councilman Neal Presents Some Snags.

All of the members were at the first meeting of the new Borough Council last evening. Mayor William L. Saunders called the meeting to order and retired after he had sworn in the Mayor-elect, Henry E. Needham. In introducing the new mayor Mr. Saunders said that it was hardly necessary for him to say anything. Mr. Needham had not only been a regular attendant at the Council meetings, but had done his work with marked ability. If he made half as good a mayor as he had a councilman he would go down in history as the best mayor of North Plainfield.

The new mayor said that Mr. Saunders had well been spoken of as "the incomparable mayor". He had been conscientious and able in the performance of the duties of his office, not less than any one who had gone before him.

The newly-elected Councilmen, H. B. Lounsbury, J. C. Peck and John Valiant, were sworn in.

Mayor Needham read the following message:

North Plainfield, April 6, 1894.

To the Council of the Borough of North Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with custom it becomes my duty at this, the first meeting of the Council, to place before you for your careful thought some of the matters pertaining to the interests of the borough that have impressed me as deserving of consideration.

In regard to providing a system of sewage for the borough.

A special coumittee, appointed last year, in their report, which was published in the last annual borough report, state why in their judgment a better way of disposing of sewerage than the present method is needed and their reasons for favoring the intermittent filtration system, noticing also the advantages that would result from cooperating with Plainfield in this enterprise.

In view of the probability that the said city will soon be in a position to commence this work the appointment by this Council of a special committee, who should have this matter in charge, would seem called for.

A public work involving the expenditure of so large an amount of money as the construction of a sewerage system would demand, should not be entered into until full investigation had been made of plans and cost and an expression of approval obtained from the taxpayers of our community. The continued growth of the borough will before long, if not at the present time, make this improvement a necessity.

An act requiring that sidewalks within certain limits in the borough be constructed of stone flagging or other similar material went into effect the first instant. In many places the walks are in a bad condition, a source of danger to those compelled to use them, and in others no sidewalks waatever have been laid down. These cases demand a prompt and strict enforcement of the provision of the ordinance referred to.

The appointment of two marshals to do patrol duty at night has met with approval by our residents. Watchfulness is especially needed during the night for the better protection of person and property against the attacks of those evil disposed, as well as for the prompt giving of alarm in case of threatened danger. It is urged that provision be made for the continuance of this service.

Your attention is called to the need of providing some method by which fire alarms may be speedily given. The expense of providing and placing a sufficient number of electrical boxes at various points, so that alarm could be sent to the light station and the steam whistle blown, would be small in comparison with the increased safety that would result from the use of such a system. Our fire department, always prompt to respond and prepared to do efficient service, would thus be enabled to be on hand to fight the flames before they obtained headway.

The value of possessing a complete transcript of all contracts, agreements and papers relating to transactions in which the borough is or may be interested or concerned, was realized recently when a paper, made several years ago, that was required as evidence, was missing. To aid, therefore, in maintaining the rights of the borough in cases where disputes may arise it is recommended that the borough clerk keep in a book provided for that purpose a full record of all papers of this kind; and that whenever a change occurs in the clerkship all official papers in possession of the retiring clerk be turned over to his successor, who shall give a receipt for same.

The keeping of these records places considerable work upon the clerk and the increasing responsibility and labor incident to the growth in numbers and in the taxable values of this municipality should be taken into consideration in fixing the compensation of both the borough counsel and clerk.

The last annual report as printed shows a large apparent surplus in favor of the borough. The beginning of the fiscal year would be a proper time for the council to verify this balance by comparison with the accounts of the borough collector and treasurer.

Such a conscientious discharge of the duties that devolve upon this council may be expected, as will merit the approval of those who have confided to this body many of the interests of the borough.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY E. NEEDHAM,
Mayor.

A petition was received from the Memorial Detail of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., requesting an appropriation of $25 for the purpose of celebrating Memorial Day. On motion of Mr. Neal the matter was laid over for consideration as new business, as was also the request of Major Anderson Post, No. 109, G. A. R., that half of the money be given to that post.

The complaint of D. N. Groendyke and others that no sidewalk had been put down on Mercer avenue, between Grove street and Washington avenue, although the council had ordered one last fall, was referred to the Streets and Public Health Committee.

Warren Engine Company, No. 1, testified to the faithful work of their past chief engineer and thought that more efficient service could be obtained by the payment of an annual salary of $100, which the engineer well deserved.

Ex-Mayor Saunders presented the following:

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J., April 6, 1894.
Hon. H. E. Needham, Mayor North Plainfield:

MY DEAR SIR—I have the honor to submit to you herewith a statement of expenditures in connection with the Grove street improvement. You will observe that the total expense for the work up to the 1st of April has been $1,794.26.

This sum is divided as follows:

Amount contributed in labor from the unemployed fund	$ 931.00
Contributed in carts and teams	384.47
Received from subscribers to April 1, (cash)	442.50
Total	$1,757.97

The cash contributions, that is, those exclusive of the unemployed fund and contributed carts, are as follows:

J. F. Wilson	$500.00
J. H. Cooley	25.00
J. M. Emerson	50.00
Mrs. C. J. Taggart	5.00
	$580.00
Cash expenditure, as per report herewith	$487.79
Balance available	$ 92.21

The cash remaining to be collected from subscribers is as follows:

Balance due on J. F. Wilson's subscription	$125.00
Balance due on J. M. Emerson's subscription	12.00
To be collected from freeholders	60.00

The freeholders have agreed to contribute $60 toward the work which is now being done in excavating the channel of Green brook, so that this sum added to the cash contribution leaves a balance of $152.21 for further prosecution of the work after April 1.

I have paid to the Street Commissioner, Mr. Gavin, $442.50, being the full amount of cash paid into my hands.

The contribution in carts and teams have been made by Smalley Bros., J. H. Cooley and P. M. French.

The work has progressed, I think, expeditiously and economically. It is now nearly completed. The street has been graded from the Borough line at the mountain to a point about half way between the bridge and Green brook road. The unfinished grading is light and can be completed at a small expenditure. The work has been delayed during the past week because of the fact that the contributions in labor from the unemployed fund, and several of the contributions in carts, have ceased.

Yours truly,
WM. L. SAUNDERS.

A number of bills were referred to the Audit and Finance Committee and a report of taxes collected by H. N. Spencer was accepted.

Mayor Needham announced his appointment of the following committees:

Streets and Public Health—Valiant, Neal, Peck.

Fire, Water and Lamps—Peck, Lounsbury, Howell.

Licenses and Marshal—Lounsbury, Howell, Edwards.

Audit and Finance—Edwards, Valiant, Needham.

Laws, Ordinances and Elections—Neal, Edwards, Valiant.

Printing and Stationary—Howell, Peck, Lounsbury.

After a recess of ten minutes Mr. Neal moved and it was carried that the council adopt the by-laws and rules of order of 1885, which have since been kept in force.

On motion of Mr. Lounsbury and seconding of Mr. Valiant the salary of the borough clerk was fixed at $300 per year. Mr. Lounsbury moved that James K. Arnold be appointed borough clerk.

Mr. Neal said there was no vacancy to fill as an act of April 1892 made the term of borough clerks, appointed or elected after that time, two years. A similar state of affairs had been found before in regard to the assessorship. Mr. Vetterlein had been appointed in April, 1893, and had yet a year to serve. The matter was referred to the borough counsel.

Mr. Peck's motion, making the annual salary of the borough counsel $350, was carried and Charles A. Reed was re-elected.

On Mr. Howell's motion the salary of the chief marshal after April 15 was made $60. The same councilman nominated William N. Pangborn for re-appointment.

Mr. Neal said he took great pleasure in seconding the nomination. He knew that the council during the past two years and especially last year had recognized Chief Pangborn's services as fearlessly, faithfully and efficiently fulfilled. He sympathized with party affiliations but thought there was another consideration in the question than political obedience. If the sentiment of the public were obtained it would be found that but few opposed the chief. No man was as well qualified as the present official. Connected with courts for many years he was familiar with legal matters. Negligence or ignorance on the part of a marshal might involve the borough to a great extent. In former years uncalled for arrests had been made which could have been followed up at law. If a Republican could be found able to do the work, then Pangborn should be opposed; but it was not right to submit to blind party direction in appointing for an office so peculiarly different from all others.

Mr. Edwards moved as a substitute that the Committee on Licenses and Marshals be instructed to nominate marshals at the next meeting. He found no seconder.

Mr. Valiant said he did not want his Republican sentiments to interfere with the performance of his duty. It would be well to look into the matter and see if the present man was fit for reappointment. His motion that the Chief be reappointed until May 15, was seconded by My Mr. Peck and passed unanimously.

A motion made by Mr. Valiant was passed after discussion and correction fixing the pay of the Street Commissioner at $50 per year and $2.00 for each actual working day.

The Street Committee was authorized to advertise for bids for crushed stone bids to be supplied by April 15.

Mr. Valiant nominated Israel W. Stout for Street Commissioner. Mr. Neal amended by naming B. E. Gavin. On Mr. Gavin's appointment the Council stood:

Ayes—Howell and Neal.

Noes—Lounsbury, Peck, Valiant and Edwards.

Mr. Neal said he had private reasons, not political, for opposing Mr. Stout for any office and sugested Samuel G. Taynor. The Council opposed Mr. Taynor, voting as before.

On Mr. Stout's appointment the Council voted:

Ayes—Howell, Edwards, Peck, Valiant and Lounsbury.

No—Neal.

The Auditing and Finance Committee was instructed to compare the statement as printed in the annual report with books of the collector.

The bills presented were ordered paid and the Council then adjourned.

CYCLING COMMENT.

And now the festive April rain
In drenching torrent pours,
And wheelmen rush with look of pain
To snatch their bikes indoors.

To make their track on Randolph road near Park avenue the best in the State, the Crescent Wheelmen needs more subscriptions. Generous lovers of sport who have any spare ducats should communicate speedily with some of the committee. J. A. Haynes or J. Hervey Doane are ready to receive contributions.

The following letter from New Jersey's Chief Consul is self-explanatory:

ORANGE, N. J., April 5, 1894.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS—Dear Sir: Immediately after the National Assembly of the League of American Wheelmen at Louisville, in February, I was approached by a representative from Pennsylvania with a proposal to hold a New York-Pennsylvania-New Jersey Tri-State meet at Asbury Park. The chief officers of those States, as also the Chairman of the National Racing Board, were at once consulted, which resulted in July 13 and 14 being selected for such meet. The matter was fully ventilated among the delegates and met with unanimous support, knowing then, as we did, that the Denver date would be in August.

This Asbury Park meet was not intended in any way to conflict with the National meet, but our friends in the West seem to fear their Eastern rival to such an extent that they have raised a great cry that the Asbury Park meet would injure them. New Jersey, always loyal, has, therefore, decided to abandon the Tri-State meet idea, but will hold to the dates selected, at which time the New Jersey Division of the L. A. W. will hold the largest circuit meet ever before attempted.

The Asbury Park wheelmen are busy working, and with clear skies the people of this section will have an opportunity of witnessing the finest cycle racing ever presented.

This letter is written to set straight a matter which has been much mixed in cycle columns.

Very respectfully,
JAMES S. HOLMES, JR.,
Chief Consul N. J. Div. L. A. W.

It Paid Them.

When the City of Birmingham, Ala., was founded a few years ago, the capital stock of the company that owned the land was $200,000. The people who purchased its shares received, in 1883, 100 per cent. on their investment. In 1886 the stockholders received as a Christmas present an order for another dividend of 100 per cent. making a sum of 340 per cent. or $680,000 divided among them during that year. In 1887, the year of the "boom", the company paid 2,305 per cent., or $4,610,000.

Less than $400,000 cash was paid into the Tacoma Land Company of Washington, the new Western State, but the dividends paid out amount to more than $8,000,000, while the assets on hand amount to $7,000,000 more.

Col. McCartney, one of the engineers of the Northern Pacific Railroad, in 1881 paid $225 for two and a half lots in Spokane, In 1889 he sold them for $35,000, or 155 times more than they cost him.

He has since purchased land in the new city of Pasco, already a large commercial and railroad centre, at the junction of the Columbia and Snake Rivers, 145 miles from Spokane, and he expects to realize another enormous percentage. The Pasco Union Land Company have recently published an illustrated book entitled "The Birth of a Great City," descriptive of the locality, that will repay those who are looking for an opportunity to place their savings from month to month, where the dividends are large, and the field is full of golden promise.

The book will be mailed on application to the Pasco Union Land Company, Room 42, Astor Building, 10 Wall street, New York.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

Lost, But Afforded Fun.

The Sun, speaking of Plainfield's part in the great shoot just concluded, says:

"Charley Smith — 'Dutch' everybody calls him, because he looks like a Dutchman and is good-natured enough not to take offence at the little sport his friends think they are having at his expense—missed his fifteenth bird, a hard driver, and when he lost his twenty-fifth all chances of getting any part of the prize money disappeared. It was not a very hard bird, and Smith raised a great laugh by saying as he stepped from the score: "Dat was a hard beat, I don't dink'. But Charley has had his own share of luck this winter, and has a match on now with Tom Keller for the championship of Plainfield. One of Smith's kills was a beauty, a dark twister darting about like a swallow. Charley waited on him and brought him down beautifully."

A WOMAN'S POWER.

IT IS THE GREATEST ON EARTH.

It Establishes Thrones and Destroys Nations.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

The influence of women upon the civilization of the world could never be measured.

The flash of her eye, the touch of her hand, and we have the marvelous power of women, glorious in the possession of perfect physical health. Lydia E. Pinkham, by her wonderful discovery of the Vegetable Compound has done much to place this great health power in the hands of women. She has lifted them out of the misery brought by displacement of the womb, and all the evils that follow diseased uterus.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restores natural cheerfulness, destroys despondency, cures leucorrhœa, backache, strengthens the muscles, restores the womb to its normal condition, regulates menstruation, removes inflammation, ulceration, and tumors of the womb, etc.

Here are two women who speak from experience, and for the benefit of others.

Miss Helen Smith, 43 22d Place, Chicago, Ill., says:—"I was troubled with irregularity and leucorrhœa. I followed Mrs. Pinkham's advice, took her Vegetable Compound, and used her Sanative Wash. I now feel like a new woman, and am perfectly healthy."

Mrs. E. Fox, Woodstown, N. J., writes:—"I had been sick 10 years with womb trouble and leucorrhœa. Doctors could not help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did. Employment of any kind does not trouble me now, and I can stand nearly all day and not feel tired. I cannot thank you enough. I recommend the Compound to every woman who has any weakness."

Tornado in Town.

With a rushing, roaring tornado uprooting trees and carrying away houses; with two vessels colliding in mid-ocean; with a green sea tossing a drowning man high on its great crests, and with a shadowy corpse with golden hair lying on a dissecting table: there is enough in Lincoln J. Carter's great new scenic melodrama, "The Tornado", to satisfy the most ardent admirer of the realistic. In five acts the principal characters are taken from a little Wisconsin hamlet through almost every danger of land and sea. A dark alley in Chicago and the foot of Randolph street viaduct, with sky-scraping buildings in the background are bits of scenery. You may see it at Music Hall next Wednesday night.

BUSINESS SITUATION

The General Trade Outlook Fairly Encouraging.

New England Shoe Factories Running on Part Time—Favorable Reports From Philadelphia and Pittsburg—Bank Clearings for the Week Were $959,000,000.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Special telegrams received by Bradstreet this week from important distributing centers report general trade quite irregular, previous gains having been followed by shrinkages in many instances. Only three out of six of the more important cities in the New England and middle states furnish encouraging reports as to trade this week and not more than one-third of the cities, west or northwest, send corresponding advices. Three-fourths of the southern and southwestern cities regard the situation at least as favorable as heretofore. New England shoe factories are running on part time, but there is a better demand at Boston for lumber. Some Philadelphia cotton manufacturers regard the outlook more favorably, as do dry goods and notions jobbers in morocco and shoes and leather.

Baltimore jobbers have been pleasantly disappointed by the unexpected freedom with which North Carolina and Virginia merchants have made purchases, sales of dry goods, millinery and notions having been heavier than anticipated. Collections in South Carolina, however, are giving some uneasiness. At Providence general trade is smaller than in the corresponding portion of either March or February. There is a slight gain in business at Pittsburg in staple merchandise, as well as among manufacturers of Bessemer pig and billets. Buffalo reports the outlook less encouraging and lake freights the lowest known.

The industrial feature of the week is found in thirty-one strikes throughout the country, involving 40,000 employes, principally among building trades at New York and Chicago, textile industries at Paterson and New York, coal miners and coke operatives in western Pennsylvania and further west. Noticeably large increases in the number of small strikes weekly have taken the place of resumptions of industrial enterprises. Manufacturers of print cloths have marked the price up 1-16c., and report demand brisk. Prices of wool are no lower, but the demand is no larger, the feature being the arrival of Australian and Arizona wools. Increased demands for billets and Bessemer pig is due to shaded quotations. The trend of prices continues upward, including produce, canned goods, print cloths, wheat, corn, oats, pork, lard, sugar, live cattle and hogs. The drop in the price of anthracite coal, 50a75c. a ton, represents that which has long been in existence rather than a recent phase of the situation. Quotations for coffee and for cotton are steady.

Bank clearings this week aggregate about $959,000,000, 28 per cent. less than in the like week last year. Further advances in wheat are due to scares based on fears of crop damage.

The delay of expected revival in trade at Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit and Louisville has had a depressing influence and is aided by unseasonable weather; but business is reported fair at Indianapolis, and the expectation is for a good spring trade. Chicago jobbers in cotton dress fabrics, silks, hardware, clothing and lumber report increased sales, but at St. Louis unfavorable weather has checked the demand for dry goods and millinery and kindred lines, although expectation is for improvement in the demand because country stocks are not large. Kansas City reports considerable activity in general lines, as does Omaha, where improved weather and good roads have stimulated business.

There is some gain at Memphis, particularly in dry goods and plantation supplies, which is true at Atlanta and Augusta as well, where retailers and jobbers report more cash sales than for a long time. Birmingham jobbers in groceries report increased sales, as do those in dry goods and plantation supplies at New Orleans, although exports of grain at the latter are checked.

Indians Peaceably Disposed.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The commissioner of Indian affairs has received the following telegram from Acting Indian Agent Woodson regarding the trouble between the cattlemen and Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians from Darlington, Okla.: "No further trouble between the whites and Indians has occurred. Newspapers persist in publishing exaggerated reports. The Indians are generally engaged in farming operations and are quiet and peaceably disposed."

Dinner to Bishop Chatard.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Archbishop Corrigan gave a dinner yesterday to Bishop Chatard, of Vincennes, Ind., who sails for Rome to-day on the Cunard steamship Lucania. Mgr. Farley, Vicar General Mooney and a number of the pastors of the archdiocese were present to wish the venerable bishop bon voyage.

An Old Whaling Captain Dead.

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 7.—Captain Braddock Chester, the oldest whaling captain in New England is dead at his home in Groton, aged 84 years. He had commanded vessels from New York, New London and Mystic. He began his voyages at the age of 15 years and when 19 commanded a whaler.

Steamboat President Resigns.

BOSTON, April 7.—Mr. Charles F. Choate, for many years president of the Old Colony Steamboat company (the Fall River line) has resigned and Mr. J. R. Kendrick, third vice-president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, has been chosen to succeed him.

Coke Production Decreasing.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 7.—Coke production is on the wane for the first time since the beginning of the year. Last week the estimated tonnage of the region fell nearly 7,000 tons below that of the previous week.

BLAND'S FREE COINAGE BILL.

Nothing Dampens the Ardor of the Champion of Silver.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—It may be several weeks yet, but the earliest practicable moment Mr. Bland purposes calling up to the coinage committee one of the free coinage bills now before them. Mr. Bland will not do this until all the members of the committee favorable to free coinage are in the city. There are so many absentees at the present time that any other course is regarded by him as unsafe. Mr. Bland said, with his usual conservatism in discussing unsettled questions, that he could not tell what the committee would do but that he thought the veto of the seigniorage bill would result in more determined action on the part of the silver men on the committee, and that in all probability one of the free silver bills now before the committee will be favorably reported. What its fate will be in the house he could not say. A strong effort, however, will be made to secure some free silver legislation at this session, although no action looking to that end may be taken for a month yet.

TOM WATSON'S CONTEST.

Congress Is Where He Wants To Be At Again.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Ex-Representative Tom Watson, the Georgia populist, who achieved considerable notoriety through the "Where am I at?" incident of the last congress, is contesting the seat of J. C. C. Black from the tenth Georgia district. His attorneys claim that in Hancock county a number of electors who would have voted for Watson were not permitted to cast their ballots. In Richmond county, they say, there was such a systematic scheme of fraud, intimidation, bribery, and repeating on the part of the supporters of the contestee as should render the election in this county illegal and void. With the vote of this county eliminated the contestant would have a majority of the ballots cast. A train load of repeaters, they say, went from Augusta to Belair, wagons loaded with repeaters were taken from poll to poll and caused to repeat often and late, and repeaters were even carried from box to box at the same poll and allowed to cast repeated ballots for the contestee.

More Land for the Standard.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 7.—In the suit of W. H. Gillespie vs. Captain Joseph T. Jones of New York city involving title to 160 acres of oil land in the Sisterville field valued at $400,000, the supreme court of West Virginia holds that Jones is owner in fee simple of three-tenths of the lands beside the life estate of Mrs. Eliza Williamson and that he was entitled to all but one-eighth of seven-tenths of oil produced. Captain Jones thus secures a perfect title to seventy-three eightieths of the land in controversy. Jones is supposed to represent the Standard Oil company.

Germany and Silver.

BERLIN, April 7.—The new silver coinage bill was discussed in the reichstag. Count Possadowsky, secretary of the imperial treasury, who has charge of the bill, said that it would be impossible for Germany alone to regulate the coinage of silver. That was not to be expected, but as an international regulation was still a distant possibility Germany must act for the best under the circumstances. The fears expressed by Herr von Kardorff that it was the intention of Germany to adopt a pure gold standard, he said, were absolutely unfounded.

Bennett Buys the Vigilant.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The Evening Sun says: "The Vigilant has been sold to James Gordon Bennett. We are able to make this statement on authority which cannot be questioned. It is Mr. Bennett's intention, it is believed, to race the Vigilant against Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie, which was beaten three times by her last year, and against the prince of Wales's Britannia. The races will take place in English waters."

A Million for a Monument.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The will of the late Mrs. Cornelia Coster, who died last Sunday at the hotel Savoy, directs that her entire fortune of $1,000,000 be devoted to building a mausoleum in Woodlawn cemetery. If her instructions are carried out her memory will be perpetuated in the costliest tomb ever erected in this country.

More of Spaulding's Work.

AYER, Mass., April 7.—It is stated here that a new indictment has been found against Harold E. Spaulding, who is serving a term in the Fitchburg house of correction as a United States prisoner for the embezzlement of $36,000 from the First National bank of this town, of which he was cashier.

Hard Road for Rosebery.

LONDON, April 7.—The defeat of the government in the house of commons, when it was beaten by a vote of 228 to 227 on a private bill, has been the chief topic of discussion in political circles, and the prediction is freely made that the Rosebery government cannot exist much longer.

A Healy Party.

LONDON, April 7.—The Standard says Timothy Healy, the well known anti-Parnellite, is trying to form a party of his own, and that the disputes among the Irish nationalists are causing among the liberals a growing feeling of indifference to home rule.

Significant Vote in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The vote in the senate on Mr. Hill's motion to adjourn till Monday is regarded as having an important bearing on the fate of the tariff bill. It was a test vote, and the motion was lost—ayes 25, noes 26.

Chilian Ministry Short-Lived.

SANTIAGO DE CHILI, April 7.—The radical and liberal ministry which was formed on Wednesday was short-lived. The new ministers were not satisfactory to President Montt, and upon his refusal to accept them they resigned.

Strike for Old Wage Schedule.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., April 7.—A hundred weavers and spinners in Russell's woolen mills are on a strike, and there promises to be a protracted struggle. They demand the restoration of the old scale of wages.

A FEARFUL SUSPENSE.

She Thought It Would Never End.

Suspense is an awful thing. People suffer month after month from various troubles hoping yet doubting. Thousands of persons are injuring their health and breaking down under a load they cannot bear. They find they are getting nervous irritable, they can't sleep and often have headache.

There is not the slightest need to live on this way, for you can be cured just as well as not. Mrs. E. A. Williams, of Franklin, Mass., has suffered terribly from her nerves and ill health, but she is now well and tells in the following letter just how to be cured:

"I was broken down in health. My nerves were all unstrung and exhausted. I could not sleep nights and my limbs trembled all the time. It was evident that there was a terribly diseased condition of my nerves.

"I took all kinds of medicines but neither they nor the doctors did me any good. I became fearfully discouraged and thought I should never get well; the suspense was awful.

MRS. E. A. WILLIAMS.

"Having heard of the wonders of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I determined to use it; the result was remarkable. After taking three bottle my nervousness was all gone, I could sleep well and my limbs were all right. I was entirely cured by this grand good medicine.

"I cannot speak highly enough of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a Godsend to us poor sufferers. It cured me perfectly and completely of all my troubles and I know it will do the same for others. Oh! that I had taken it sooner."

Ask yourself this question honestly and fairly; if you knew a medicine would cure you, would you not take it? Well, everybody who takes Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is cured, and you will be. Commence now, in the spring, when you can be cured quickest.

A spring medicine is absolutely necessary to all, and people are sure that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the best. It was discovered by Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

No sooner has the wonderful merit of this new vegetable shortening, so much better than lard, created for it a remarkable sale and popularity, than the business wrens are ready to move upon the market with many worthless counterfeits. PRISON READY FOR HIM

Coxey's Promised Reception at Washington.

Leaders of the Commonweal to Be Arrested the Moment They Enter the District With Their Followers—Demonstrations to Be Prevented That Might Be Magnified Abroad.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The burlesque features of the Coxey tramp march on Washington disappear as more or less trustworthy accounts reach the capital that bodies of men, called into existence by the Coxey manifesto, and the publicity given it, are actually likely to arrive here within the next few days, some of them in fact having already arrived, and now cumbering the vagrant wards of the respective police stations. The gross iniquity of the proposition to precipitate a body of probably lawless and irresponsible men on the national capital without the remotest prospect of any beneficial result to the men themselves, and with the risk of grave disturbances certain to affect prejudicially the standing of this government before nations abroad, is fully appreciated. Whether the tramps to be turned loose here number hundreds or thousands, the anarchistic feature of the movement is recognized by the authorities and measures commensurate with the emergency will be taken.

Some fifteen years ago a demonstration of a similar kind was attempted by an Illinois labor agitator or "walking delegate" who then carried on his operations in the capital. There were large bodies of unemployed men in and around the city whom he endeavored to excite into a demonstration of the character which Coxey has copied.

The prompt arrest of what is taken to be the advance guard of the Coxey movement Saturday night, and their possible committal to the workhouse farm by the police court to-day may serve to dampen the movement, but it is of course admitted to be impossible for the District of Columbia to take charge of and support several thousand tramps, and in case the numbers reach that amount the efforts of the authorities will be directed to securing the leaders and giving them a dose of district law which fully reaches their case, leaving their misguided followers to be dealt with as leniently as circumstances will allow.

The courageous and level-headed veteran Major W. G. Moore, who fills the position of chief of police and will have control of the operations against the Coxey forces, has been busy looking up laws which will enable him to seize the commonweal soldiers just as soon as they enter the district. In addition to the very broad vagrancy law of the district, and another law which will effectually prevent the commonwealers from holding their proposed meeting on the steps of the capitol building, Major Moore has found two more statutes which apply to the case. Under the provisions of one of these, Citizen Coxey, despite his alleged affluency can be arrested, as he undoubtedly will be, and fined or imprisoned. This law makes it an offense for any person or persons to bring into the District of Columbia, any person or persons likely to become a charge on the community and it clearly comprehends Coxey's case. The penalty imposed for violations of the law is small, but its imposition will be sufficient to keep the chief commonwealer and his lieutenants in durance until his soldiers are disposed of in a manner that will relieve apprehension as to their danger to the city and citizens.

"Captain" George Primrose, who was arrested at the city limits Saturday night, at the head of 40 unemployed men from San Antonio, Texas, is locked up on the charge of violating this law, and he will be given a trial—the first under the statute—in the police court to-day.

Primrose's 40 companions are in various police stations, charged with vagrancy. Primrose says that his contingent has no connection whatever with Coxey's idea, and that he does not believe in Coxey, but the evidence runs the other way.

For several days past the police force of the district have been put through the riot and baton drills and these will be continued through the month. The district militia has been very active since Coxey started and has already had an emergency assemblage.

The incarcerated Primrose men seem to be enjoying life reasonably well under the circumstances. They are being well fed and in some of the station houses were furnished smoking tobacco. They are a quiet, well-behaved crowd, the most of them foreigners, to judge from their names and accent. They were averse to talking for publication, but all refused to acknowledge any organic connection with Coxey's army, though they said it was the idea of organized idleness as preached by the Massillon man and his associates that first led them to band together for their trip east. There are but few if any of the men who belong to labor organizations, though nearly all claim to have trades.

Tramp of the Commonweal.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 9.—Coxey's army, now numbering 280 men, quartered here last night in two halls secured by the town council after a weary march from 10 o'clock in the morning until 8:30 at night. To-day the march into the mountains was begun, and the army will reach Uniontown by night unless some trouble occurs in the disorderly coke regions, through which the army must pass. Since Saturday morning only two recruits have been added to the column.

Editor Moore Will Go to Jail Again.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 9.—Editor Charles C. Moore, of the Blue Grass Blade, the prohibition and infidel paper, who has been indicted for blasphemy, has decided to surrender. He will come to this city for that purpose. He will follow the course which he took about a year ago when he was imprisoned at Paris, Ky., for attacking the pastor of the Christian church and other members. At that time he continued the publication of his paper while in jail. He will refuse to give bond.

Most Will Locate at New Haven.

NEW YORK, April 9.—John Most has closed up the office of the anarchistic newspaper, Freiheit, at 167 William street, and, with the plant, has gone away. The Freiheit did not appear last Wednesday, as usual. New York, he has lately been saying, is no place for anarchy. It is understood he will locate at New Haven, Conn., and there issue his paper.

WHEELING'S NEW BISHOP.

Rev. Dr. Donahue Consecrated With Gorgeous Ceremonies.

BALTIMORE, April 9.—The Cathedral yesterday was the scene of one of the most august ceremonies of the Catholic church. With solemn rites and magnificent music Rev. P. J. Donahue was consecrated Bishop of Wheeling. Cardinal Gibbons conducted the services and performed the consecration in the presence of distinguished prelates and hundreds of the laity. There were gathered in the sanctuary five archbishops exclusive of Cardinal Gibbons, eight bishops, a large number of the lesser clergy and several hundred seminarians. Archbishop Satolli, the Papal Ablegate was not there but he was represented by his secretary, Monsignor Sbaretti.

The altar was beautifully decorated with potted plants, azaleas and lilies predominating. The cardinal robings of his eminence and the rich purple of the episcopate with the light of myriads of candles shining through the lilies and palms made a scene the gorgeousness of which was relieved only by the dark gowns of the priests, seminarians and acolytes.

In the sanctuary Cardinal Gibbons, in full canonicals, occupied the throne at the right while the assistant consecrators, Bishop Farley, of Detroit, and Bishop Haid, of North Carolina, were seated near by. Archbishops Ireland of St. Paul, Williams of Boston, Ryan of Philadelphia, Chapelle of Santa Fe and Kain of St. Louis; Bishops Phelan of Pittsburg, Keane of the Catholic University at Washington, Northrop of South Carolina, McDonald of Brooklyn, Van de Vyver of Richmond and Maes of Covington, Ky., were grouped in the foreground.

Cardinal Gibbons was the celebrant of the mass. The Very Rev. Charles Park was the assistant priest. Archbishop Kain, formerly Bishop of Wheeling, preached the sermon. The entire ceremony occupied more than three and a half hours.

STILL HARPING ON MASONRY.

Mrs. Lease Says She Is Preparing to Organize Lodges for Women.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Mary Ellen Lease of Kansas is in Chicago and in an interview she said she came here to organize a Masonic order for women.

"I have decided that the Masonic order has been of such wonderful benefit to men," she said, "so wonderfully uplifting and educational that it is certainly a pity to deprive women of the benefits. I do not propose to organize anything antagonistic to the present Masonic order, but the organization will be made in such a manner that they will co-operate with us and approve of it. I wish to organize here first and then in New York and other principal cities.

"I am already billed to speak in New York for a compensation of $500 a night at Madison Square. The lectures will be followed by the organization and the initiation of members of the Masonic degrees. This is really no new departure; in fact it is old. At one time in Europe, principally in France, the crowned heads all went wild over the scheme of conferring Masonic degrees on women.

"There is no use in saying there is any masonry in the Eastern star degree. I propose to use the bona fide Masonic order."

Asked how much she knew about the Masonic rites, Mrs. Lease looked knowing and said she knew all about it. Asked how she knew, she looked mysterious and said she did not care to tell, but it was not by "peeking, so there."

Twenty-five Years a Bishop.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 9.—The 25th anniversary of the consecration of the Right Rev. Frederick Dan Huntington, Bishop of Central New York, was observed with a union service of all the parish churches of this city at St. Paul's cathedral. Bishop Huntington was present and pronounced the benediction. The main portion of the celebration will be in June at the session of the convention, which meets in St. Paul's church here. At that time Bishops Potter, of New York, and Coxe, of Western New York, will deliver addresses. Bishop Huntington is 75 years old. He was a prominent Unitarian preacher before entering the ministry of the Episcopal church.

MISS POLLARD AN ACTRESS.

Lawyer Ben Butterworth Indulges in an Interview.

CINCINNATI, O., April 9.—"Miss Pollard is an actress, equal I may to say to Clara Morris or Sarah Bernhardt" said Hon. Ben Butterworth. "I never saw anything like it. She can simulate any passion or emotion and it is my opinion that this is but the prelude to her going on the stage. There was no excuse on earth for the bringing of this suit. Nothing is gained by it. Public or private virtue is not subserved by it. It is worse than a foul pestilence breeding contagion. Had I been called into the case three days sooner it would not have been tried, if my counsel could have prevented. And had I been a judge on the bench I would never have let it come to trial. There is no condoning of Mr. Breckinridge. I will not do it. He does not want it. I believe he would discharge me from the case if I did offer anything in extenuation.

"But to come to Miss Pollard. She is the most remarkable witness I ever heard of or ever read of. She has her case thoroughly in hand, every detail of it. I never saw anything like the tact and art of this woman. If there is a time when she hasn't a ready answer she will make a plea for sympathy to gain time and all the time her mind is active to coin some nice phrase or apt one in which to reply. You remember when she pleaded that I was hard on her. That was to gain time to think in a critical moment. She has nothing to gain, if she wins her suit, where she could have had everything her own why had she so willed. She could have gone anywhere and done anything and a word from her would have been law with Mr. Breckinridge. She could have had what she wanted."

TWO-DOLLAR WHEAT.

Significant Prophecy by a Distinguished Railroad President.

TORONTO, April 9.—President Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific railway, in the course of an interview here on the present condition of the wheat crop, said that the price of wheat will go to $2 per bushel within the next eighteen months. Mr. Van Horne, after estimating the world's total annual product at between twenty-six and twenty-seven hundred million bushels, says:

"Last year farmers received but little more than the cost of production for their wheat, while in many instances their return per bushel was smaller than the expenditure. This can only have one effect—the discouragement of wheat producers and the consequent decrease of acreage. If there is a decrease of ten per cent in wheat production this year on account of the low prices of last year, there will be a shortage of two hundred and seventy million bushels and ten per cent. of a decrease is well within the mark.

"As far as I can remember, there has never been a surplus of 150,000,000 bushels. This year the surplus has been used up by feeding to stock, and we will probably start in with as nearly clean sheets as ever before. If there is a shortage of but 150,000,000 bushels, this will not be discovered until too late to sow more wheat, and wheat will go up with a jump."

Against Expensive Funerals.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Rabbi Isaac M. Wise commends the work of Nathan Straus in providing cheap funerals for the poor, and adds that "funerals are so expensive because wealthy people are extravagant in this, as in every other respect. Their insane pomp, show and ostentation are extended to and beyond the grave. Up to this decade," the rabbi says, "expensive funerals were unknown among Israelites the world over. We had no use for funeral directors, costly affairs or gala habiliments to be buried with the dead. It is only in our day and among the fashionable denizens that the aping disposition invades also our funeral arrangements and overrides the beautiful and becoming simplicity of the Israelites."

The Fair Buildings Sold.

CHICAGO, April 9.—L. C. Garrett, a St. Louis contractor, has purchased all the big world's fair buildings from the South Park commissioners for $75,000. The structures included in the purchase are the manufacturers', administration, electricity, mines and mining, agricultural, fisheries and transportation buildings and machinery hall. This excludes only the fine arts building, now the property of the Field Columbian museum, the convent of the La Rabida, the two service buildings and the forestry building. Chicago men who bid on the buildings are complaining that they were sold out in favor of an outsider. The work of demolition will begin at once. The contractor must clear the park by May 1, 1896.

Yacht Valkyrie.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The British cutter Valkyrie will be put in commission April 10. A lot of new inside fittings have been put into her, and after she gets in the water the work of getting her ready for the trip across the ocean will be pushed rapidly forward. For her homeward passage the yacht will be rawl-rigged with a good-sized mizzen sail. All the spars and sails not wanted for use on the return trip will be sent by steamer, and when she gets home Designer Watson will fit her out for the racing season there.

Politics in a Bond Scheme.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 9.—The members of the school commission, who purchased the Hamilton county bonds to the amount of $10,000 without having examined into their legality, now pronounce the sale a republican scheme for the sole purpose of ruining the populists. Secretary of State Osborn, in an interview, admits that the only evidence they had of the validity of the bonds was the fact that the interest coupons had been clipped off up to date, which satisfied the board.

RUSSIA AND GERMANY

The Czar Promises to Visit Berlin and Potsdam.

Wilhelm Already Planning a Series of Fetes for the Occasion—Great Significance of the Revival of the Entente—Big Financial Houses Resuming Business With Russia.

(Copyright, 1894, by the United Press.)

BERLIN, April 9.—Emperor William has telegraphed to Kiel that the imperial yacht Hohenzollern must be ready by Whitsuntide for a long voyage. He intends to make a trip to the North Cape early in May. At court the report is that the emperor found Abbazia little to his liking. He is said to have chafed under the discomforts caused by the fickle climate and to be eager for another trip from which he may get the usual benefits of a vacation. His reception in Venice has been enthusiastic enough, however, to restore his good humor, for the cordiality of the Italian people has been quite beyond all expectations. The Berlin newspapers say that the popularity of the triple alliance with the Italians has been demonstrated once more.

Before going to the North Cape Emperor William wishes to fix the date of his meeting with the czar. Several days ago he ordered General Von Werder, his ambassador in St. Petersburg, to seek to persuade the czar to come to Berlin. Werder is said to have been successful in executing this order and to have obtained the czar's promise to pass three days here and in Potsdam as the emperor's guest. The emperor has already planned a series of fetes, which, in case of a meeting here, will show to the world the great significance of the revival of the Russo-German entente.

Big financial houses are resuming their relations with Russian enterprises. For instances the Discount society and several other firms announce the issue of Warsaw and Vienna railway bonds to the amount of 26,000,000 marks. The Koenigs and Laura works in Silesia have opened twelve new puddling furnaces to satisfy the increased Russian demand. The reports of German commercial agents, who are now swarming to Russia, agree that there is every prospect of an enormous trade. They add that if the boom be properly exploited here Germany will be able to get much of Russia's import trade away from England.

SCRANTON HOUSES IN DANGER.

Twelve Acres Over an Abandoned Mine Settled Several Feet.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 9.—Residents of Marget and William streets and Wayne avenue, in the northern portion of the city, are in great terror on account of huge cracks in the surface of the earth near their homes. An investigation revealed the fact that about twelve acres of the closely built-up portions of the town has settled several feet by reason of an enormous cave-in of the abandoned workings of the Leggetts creek mine. Many doors are crushed together so tightly that it is impossible to open them, and the magnificent new school building recently erected at a cost of $40,000 is in imminent danger of destruction. The House of the Good Shepherd, erected at a cost of $60,000, is also in the vicinity of the cave-in and will be effected if the crush becomes more serious.

Moody, a York street jeweler, had a fisticuff encounter on McNab street in which the clergyman was badly punished. His left eye is closed and his cheek badly cut. The altercation was the outcome of a lawsuit in which Bland appeared as a witness against Moody. The latter has been arrested on a charge of assault.

Rewards at Carnegie's.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., April 9.—C. F. Cline, superintendent of the press shop of the Carnegie steel works, has resigned. The cause is not made public. He will be succeeded by David Kennedy of the thirty-five and forty-inch mill. He had charge of Sill and the others who gave information about the defective armor plate to Secretary Herbert.

Elmira Reformatory Trouble.

ALBANY, April 9.—It is not probable that the senate will take any action regarding the Elmira reformatory until the result of the hearing of the board of managers which is to be accorded them by the governor this week on the charges preferred against them. It is likely that a committee of the senate will be appointed during the last week to consider what legislation is necessary as a result of the recent investigation.

Will Prove a Total Loss.

BRIDGEHAMPTON, L. I., April 9.—The three-masted schooner Benjamin B. Church, Capt. Allen, of New Bedford, from Philadelphia to Fall River, loaded with coal, which went ashore directly opposite the Mecox life saving station Saturday night, will prove a total loss. The crew was landed in the life saving station in less than an hour in spite of a blinding snowstorm which was prevailing at the time.

SOUTH BRAINTREE, Mass., April 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Thayer have just passed the seventy-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Thayer is 97 years old and his wife is 94. Both are in good health, with a bright prospect of rounding out a century of life. The event was appropriately celebrated.

MAY RENEW THE FIGHT

Trouble Expected in the Coke Regions To-day.

Strikers Find New Leaders and Threaten to Go On With the Contest—Their Plan Said to Be to Send Women Against Plants Guarded by the Deputies.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 9.—The lusty cokers of the Connellsville region seem to have recovered entirely from the reverses suffered by the wholesale arrests following the Paddock murder. They say they have plenty of leaders left and are now prepared to wage the contest to the bitter end.

The Sunday mass meeting near this place was largely attended. The plans for the future were carefully discussed. The strikers say they will prevent the starting of the works to-day, as contemplated by the operators in the southern end of the region. Leith and Redstone works, of the Frick company, will try to start sometime to-day without the protection of deputy sheriffs. The men at these plants are willing to work, but they are afraid to attempt it without armed protection and have asked the company to supply them with firearms so they can protect themselves. This, the company refuses to do.

It is thought that the plan of the strikers is to have the women raid the works where the deputies are on duty, while the men will cheer them on, and themselves look after the plants not guarded.

It is learned that the men who met here will go south and visit all the plants between Uniontown and Fair Chance. Another large body of strikers will thaw at Oliver and visit Leamont, Youngstown, Mt. Braddock, Wheeler and other plants where starts are to be made to-day. At Oliver the strikers threaten to stop the pumps and flood the mine.

Lively scenes are now expected.

Sheriff Wilhelm is preparing to move a large number of deputies on short notice.

A Scottdale report says preparations are being made to start nearly all of the coke works in that vicinity that closed down on account of the strike.

Michael Barrett will likely be elected district president and, Alexander Markey vice-president of the association at Tuesday's convention unless Davis is released from jail and will continue to serve in his official capacity.

Barrett May Renew the Trouble.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., April 9.—While everything is quiet at all the works in this part of the coke region, it is rumored that a large crowd of Hungarians and Slavs will arrive here from Fayette county to-day, bent on forcing the men working here to quit. Since it is known that Michael Barrett is now the leader of the strikers, the operators are not so confident that the trouble is over. Barrett, who is well educated, is probably the best posted workman in the region. He served a term in the work house for complicity in the 1891 riot at Moorwood.

Fatal Collapse of a Building.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—Four cheap coffins laying in a row in the morgue, and five bandaged forms reposing on cots at the city hospital, represent the dead and injured taken from the debris of a tenement building on the northeast corner of Desota and Beale streets, which collapsed yesterday. It is believed that others are under the ruins. All the victims are colored.

Mr. Wilson Convalescing Rapidly.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 9.—Representative W. L. Wilson returned here from the ranch of Sen. Cable, of Illinois. He has much improved in health since he left here ten days ago. His weight has increased several pounds and the only thing which troubles him is a cough. He will remain here a week or so and then make the journey to Washington by easy stages.

Coney Island Swept by Flames.

CONEY ISLAND, April 9.—Fire, which started in Lewis' hotel, destroyed that building, Stratton and Henderson's pavilion, Perry's concert hall, R. A. Sutherland's hotel, Tim Diney's restaurant and two or three buildings in that portion of the island known as "The Bowery." The loss is estimated at $25,000 or $30,000.

Croker Back in New York.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Brown as a berry and looking the picture of rugged health Richard Croker, the leader of Tammany Hall, is back from his long trip through the United States. He laughingly avoided all questions and said he had really nothing to say. He had a beautiful trip and enjoyed it exceedingly.

LISBON, April 9.—Ex-Minister Ruy Barbosa, of Brazil, who identified himself with the insurgent cause last winter, has arrived here with his family. He came as a fugitive for he feared to remain where President Peixoto could reach him.

A Wealthy Man Kills Himself.

WEST WINSTED, Conn., April 9.—John Woodruff, aged 61, one of Winsted's wealthy and estimable citizens, shot and instantly killed himself here Sunday afternoon. The cause of the act was despondency.

Leases Her Asbury Park Cottage.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 9.—Mrs. George W. Childs rented her Elberton cottage to Joseph J. O'Donohue, New York city chamberlain, for the season and offers to sell the same for $50,000.

The Jury Believed Her Innocent.

OTTUMWA, Ia., April 9.—Mrs. Anna Ealer, who has been on trial for throwing her husband down a well and firing the contents of a gun into him, has been acquitted.

Ocean Steamship Rates Increased.

BERLIN, April 9.—The conference of steamship agents in this city resolved to increase the charges for cabin and steerage passage to America, the increase to go into effect on May 1.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

Exaggerated Story of Starvation.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 9.—The reports sent out that there are 30,000 miners on the point of starvation in this valley are greatly exaggerated. The mines are working very irregular, however, and many men with large families in the mining towns and villages are not making more than $12 to $18 a month. The coal companies are giving them rent free at present, and while the Welsh, Irish and American miners and laboring men are not natural beggars there may be some suffering, but none of them are starving, as they manage to get along by denying themselves all but the necessaries of life.

Seal Fishers Crushed in Ice.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., April 9.—The sealing steamer Walrus has arrived here with a cargo of 12,000 seals. She was caught in the ice and crushed fifteen days ago and was leaking badly when she reached here. She was abandoned by her crew for a week while undergoing repairs. The Walrus reports that several other ships have met with similar mishaps and that the seal fishery is in a poor condition.

THE DISCOVERY OF AMERICA

by Columbus brought enlightenment to the world. New fields of enlightenment in this century are in the lines of science. The triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE or Breach, is now radically cured without the knife and without pain. Clumsy, chafing trusses never cure but often induce inflammation, strangulation and death. TUMORS, Ovarian, Fibroid (Uterine) and many others, are now removed without the perils of cutting operations. PILE TUMORS, however large. Fistula and other diseases of the lower bowel, are permanently cured without pain or resort to the knife. STONE in the Bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, washed out and perfectly removed without cutting. STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is also removed without cutting in hundreds of cases. REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

Miss Sherry of Philadelphia is visiting Miss Lillie Grogan at the North Avenue Hotel.

John Meeker of Philadelphia has been visiting William H. Grogan at the North Avenue Hotel.

Rev. Wesley Martin of Newark was in town this morning on business.

Few people have an idea of the work that is being done in improving and beautifying Clark's lake. For three weeks the large gang of men have been at work digging it out, and despite the inclement weather the results of the work are very gratifying. The owner, A. S. Clark, has headed the improvement with $100, and the following subscriptions have been received: James T. Pierson, C. B. Peddle, C. I. Bowler, H. E. Knight, Col. G. H. Starr, J. H. Eick, Levi Hart and W. J. Peckham, $25, John Ingram, Jr., $15, L. V. Clark, C. M. Smith, N. B. Gardner, J. M. C. Marsh and Welch Bros, $10, C. F. Conant, F. Coombs, H. L. Fink, William Gale, W. W. Gilby, Henry Lynde and J. H. Vail, $5. Other smaller subscriptions have been given making total received $450. J. S. Irving and C. A. Smith & Co., have contributed liberally in lumber and E. M. Pierson and Charles Sortor have given chestnut posts. About $200 is still needed to complete the work in a creditable manner, and when completed it will be a fine sheet of water for pleasure boats in the summer and afford excellent skating in winter.

The Tornado Coming.

The claim is made for Lincoln J. Carter's new scenic play, "The Tornado", that its realisms are of such an imposing nature that even the pictorial matter used in advertising the play do not do the piece justice, that the scenes depicted by the posters are actually so much more impressive when seen, as Mr. Carter presents them in his play, that one must acknowledge that for once the printer's ink has not overdone things. This, of course, is a novelty in theatrical advertising. But it has been promised that there should be nothing but novelties in the "Tornado", and Mr. Carter has shown in the past that he knows how to build astonishing things for the stage, so everyone will go and see his new play in Music Hall Wednesday evening.

Senator McPherson Fighting Race-Tracks.

(From The Summit Record.)

The people of New Jersey will not soon forget the courageous course of John R. McPherson in lending his voice and influence to the worthy work of opposing the measure designed to fasten on the United States the disgrace of Congressional sanction to book-making at the race tracks located in the District of Columbia. At this time when the race-track magnates are making a last desperate stand to resist the extermination of the evil they have fostered so arrogantly, it is refreshing to find a man who possesses the courage to throw down the gage of battle to the elements that have ruled so long and so ruinously. It is likely that Senator McPherson's attitude on the race-track question, has earned him the undying hostility of "Denny" McLaughlin and his cohorts at Guttenburg, but it will win for him the cordial commendation of every upright citizen of the State of New Jersey. And just at present the power of such citizens seems to be in the ascendency in this commonwealth.

Colored Y. M. C. A. Growing.

The meeting of the Colored Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon was well attended. Rev. H. P. Thomas, assisted by Mr. Cheeks, conducted the devotional exercises. The singing was under the leadership of Ieral Jones, and Miss Laura Robinson presided at the piano. There were addresses delivered by Rev. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Cheeks, who clearly set forth the blessing Young Men's Christian Associations has been in other places, and the good the Association is calculated to do here if properly handled and supported. Rev. Mr. Thomas said its object is not to destroy the place and harmony of God's Church, but to aid in making it what God designed should be for the salvation of mankind. At the close four young men came forward and enrolled their names as members. They were: Frederick White, Tucker Johnson, Windsor Lathan and Grant Cannon. The total membership is 75.

Best, Because It's Caw's.

Mr. Eells is in town—Mr. Samuel S. Eells, and before he leaves every man, woman and child in Plainfield will know and bless him. He comes to make writing easy, and the medium is Caw's famous fountain pen. Caw's is the best because it's Caw's, and you can have one a week on trial and not pay a cent. If Mr. Eells happens to miss you, you can look him up in Estif's, his headquarters.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

CYCLING COMMENT.

A prominent racing man asserts that the cycle racing season in this vicinity will be very active this year, while the dealers aver that the number of sales of wheels exceed last season by far, both of which are good indications.

The Union County Roadsters will hold a tournament on Decoration Day at Rahway; the Kings County Wheelmen will hold a meet on June 30 at Eastern Park; the Washington Wheelmen, at Manhattan Field on July 7, and the Harlem Wheelmen and the Elizabeth Athletic Club Cyclers will also hold tournaments, in addition to the usual number of small meets which will be held.

Since the international championships will be held abroad this year, and the League of American Wheelmen is sure to send a team to compete, there is considerable speculation as to which men will be chosen to represent America. The competition which is likely to result among the men for the honor of being chosen should make the early summer meetings very interesting. Outside of the honor attached to being sent over to represent the L. A. W. the rivalry for a free trip to England will be very great.

The great Zimmerman has become a professional. It was expected. The days of amateur wheeling are past, so far as the great racers are concerned. Time was when wheeling was an exclusive and gentlemanly sport; when the L. A. W. and the Amateur rules were of some importance. That time has either gone by or is fast going. Wheeling is now universal. A national body governing carriage riding and amateur rules for horse trotting would be almost as practicable now as the alleged rules governing amateur base-ball playing and amateur wheeling.

Arrangements for the famous Millburn road race are well under way. The Race Committee of the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs has decided that it will place time limit medals at one hour and twenty minutes this season—a change from one hour and twenty-eight minutes of last season. The handicap limit will remain at twelve minutes, and no change has been made in the entrance fee of $2. The entries will close May 16. Isaac B. Potter will act as referee and Francis P. Prial as handicapper. The course will be put in first-class shape, and some new records will be looked for.

Undoubtedly nothing that has occurred in cycledom of recent years has so thoroughly created comment as the decision of Arthur A. Zimmerman to forsake the amateur ranks for the professional. The agreement into which Zimmerman is reported to have entered seems to be an excellent thing for the champion. Ten thousand dollars cash will be deposited in the hands of a cycle company of England. This money becomes the personal property of Zimmerman on his arrival upon the other side. One hundred and fifty dollars will go to Zimmerman every race he starts in, win or lose, aside from the prize in the race. He will also receive thirty per cent. of the net gate receipts. At this rate he has made as big a move as has ever been negotiated in the sporting line and one which should enrich him in short order.

NOTES OF THE FIRST M. E.

While Dr. Barnes was at Conference, Rev. Dr. Simpson of Saratoga preached morning and evening in the First M. E. Church, yesterday.

A dime sociable will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church next Friday evening in Vincent Chapel. An entertaining programme has been prepared.

Scared By the Expense.

At the conference on the sewer question in Cranford the Linden representatives failed to put in an appearance. This was not much of a surprise, as it had been hinted that Linden was going to draw out of the affair. The engineers reported that a survey would cost from $200 to $300. The townships represented decided to ask their respective town counsels if they had authority to order a preliminary survey. The idea seemed to prevail, however, that the cost of a sewer would be too great to be borne by only two townships alone.

Funeral of Mrs. Tieley.

Mrs. Johanna Christiana Tieley, widow of John Tieley, died last Wednesday night, and her funeral took place Friday afternoon from the residence of Louis Burghmiller.

Decedent, together with her husband, came to this country in 1850, from Germany, and settled in a little farm overlooking the picturesque Washington Valley, where they lived until the death of her husband a year ago. Her own enfeebeld condition, added to her weight of years, forced her reluctantly to accept the kind hospitality of her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Burgmiller, where, in the sunshine of a pleasant home and Christian influence, her latter days were made happy by the many kind offices and attentions which the aged and infirm need so much. Her bright Christian character never forsook her.

She had a son in California, and a daughter in Idaho; these were all the relation she had in this country.

Decedent was 84 years of age, vigorous and strong beyond one of her age. Several years ago she met with an accident that at the time nearly cost her life. She was trying to put out a brush fire that threatened to burn her home, when her clothes caught fire, and were burned off. Her life was despared of for a long time, but she got well again.

Mr. Parker and Mr. Jennings of the brethern conducted the service Friday. In words of hope and admiration, those assembled were directed to Him who arose from the tomb and on whom alone rests our personal hope and security of eternal salvation.

Funeral of George Stewart.

The funeral of George Stewart took place Saturday afternoon. The immediate friends and relatives assembled at his late residence at 3, at which time the funeral proceeded to the Mary E. Wilson Memorial Chapel, where a large number of neighbors and friends assembled to pay their last sad rites of respect to one who in life had been a good neighbor and a kind friend. Many were the expressions of regret by those who knew him best in the community, where he had spent 70 years of life.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes preached a sermon on the value of the present opportunity in relation to our future weal or woe. The remarks of the preacher as he expounded the Scriptures were followed by the strictest attention. The cortege proceeded to the Methodist cemetery on Plainfield avenue, where the interment took place. The decedent was a good citizen and an honest man. What more can be said in his praise? The tributes laid on the casket were a sheaf of wheat, a wreath of immortelles, and lilies of the valley. The pall-bearers were W. F. Spencer, Truman Bilyeu, Andrew Wilson, W. H. Rogers, Frank Mobus and Wm. Demler.

In Memory of the Departed.

A service in memory of the late John K. VanArsdale was held last evening in Warren Chapel, and was largely attended, showing deep respect and honor to the departed.

The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Mr. McKelvey. A choir of young women sang two beautiful selections, "We are more than conquerors", and the "Christian's Good Night". Mr. McKelvey read appropriate Scripture lessons and offered prayers, after which he delivered an impressive eulogy of Mr. VanArsdale. He spoke of his acquaintance and association with him, and likened him to Barnabas—a good man, full of the Holy Spirit, both possessing similar traits. As a worker in the church and Sunday-school he was untiring, and his labors will bring forth an abundant harvest.

Mr. McKelvey, in reviewing the life of decedent, bespoke for everyone present their sentiments, and said that his life and work will be long remembered by all. The service closed with prayer and the benediction.

Funeral of John H. Jackson.

The funeral services of John H. Jackson were held Saturday afternoon at 1 at the home, 820 Second place. The house was filled with friends from Plainfield, New York and Rahway. Rev. E. M. Rodman conducted the Episcopal service and Rev. W. R. Richards prayed. The sermon was by Rev. J. W. Richardson. There were many handsome floral tributes. The interment was made in Hillside Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Lawyers Craig A. Marsh, Charles A. Reed, Nelson Runyon, John H. VanWinkle, Walter L. Hatfield and Joseph B. Coward.

Mr. Compton Advocates It.

Halsey C. Compton denies the report that he ever prevented a street from being cut through between Grant Avenue and Evona. He merely wanted compensation for land proposed to be taken. He advocates the opening of a street, and thinks the extension of Albert avenue would be desirable. The stretch of three-fourths of a mile now unprovided with a crossing certainly needs a bridge or tunnel for the safety of the public.

—Fifty pictures of London will be shown tonight in addition to the regular interchange set at the Camera Club rooms.

FIREMEN BURNED TO DEATH.

Fell With a Roof Into a Burning Milwaukee Theatre.

(Special to The Press.)

MILWAUKEE, April 9—The Davidson Theatre, the finest playhouse in Milwaukee, was burned between 4 and 5 this morning, causing the loss of a number of lives. Soon after 5, when the fire was seemingly under control, the theatre roof, on which a score or more of firemen stood fighting the flames, went down and the men were carried with it to the floor of the auditorium below. Some were extricated from the mass of flames in which the whole interior was developed by their comrades, who risked their lives to drag out the bodies of the dead and injured men.

Six or eight men were removed from the building when the rescuers were compelled by the flames to abandon the work. It was understood then that at least ten of the illfated firemen were still in the blazing interior.

FIRE IN A GIRLS SCHOOL.

All the Pupils Escaped from the Brighton Heights Seminary.

(Special to The Press.)

TOMPKINSVILLE, S. I., April 9—At 2:30 this morning fire destroyed the Brighton Heights Seminary for young women at Tompkins avenue and Fort place.

All the pupils, teachers, and the principal, Dr. George W. Cook, got out in safety. The loss will probably reach $10,000.

DEATH OF JOHN GRAHAM.

(Special to The Press)

NEW YORK, April 9—John Graham, the well-known criminal lawyer, whose leg was amputated yesterday, died at 4 this morning in the Metropolitan Hotel. He had been suffering from gout and a gangrenous affection of the leg.

Trinity's Good Showing.

The Finance Committee of Trinity Church, consisting of George L. VanEmburgh, H. E. Gayle and F. C. Adams, yesterday made a detailed report of the receipts and expenditures for the year ending March 31, 1894. It was read to the congregation by Chairman VanEmburgh, before the sermon at the morning service. The receipts were $5,253.01, and the disbursements $5,242.92; balance on hand $10.09. This, considering the money stringency, is a most excellent showing by this church, and is creditable alike to the zealous labors of the congregation and the good management of the committee.

This Costs Nothing to Learn.

Not every wage earner can afford to invest in a United States bond, or is satisfied with the 3 per cent. of a savings bank. He may learn of better opportunities by procuring an illustrated book entitled—"The Birth of a Great City". It is mailed free, and may be had on application to the Pasco Union Land Company, Room 42, Astor Building, 10 Wall street, New York city. Describing the resources of the new State of Washington, it also tells how men with an investment of one or two hundred dollars have counted their profits by the thousands. The contents are both suggestive and interesting.

He Stuck in the Mud and Drowned.

The body of an unknown man was found yesterday morning in a lonely part of the Rahway River, near Cranford, where the water is only three feet deep. Cries for help were heard Saturday night, and several men went along the river, but, owing to the darkness, could not find anyone. Yesterday Henry Beyer renewed the search and discovered the body lying close to the bank. The man was seen in the village Saturday, but no one knew him. He probably got fast in the mud while intox cated.

Laid the Corner-Stone.

The postponed corner-stone laying of the Emmanuel Baptist Church took place yesterday afternoon on Fillmore avenue between North avenue and East Third street. Rev. J. W. Mitchell, the pastor, conducted the services. He was assisted by Rev. J. H. Bailey, of Elizabeth; Rev. W. D. Thompson, of Westfield; and Rev. W. M. Wallace, of Trenton. The history of the church was read by the pastor. Rev. Mr. Bailey made the appeal to the people, and $53 was contributed to the building fund.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nervine she now weighs 108 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nervine has brought her."

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate."—Mrs. R R Bullock, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Forecast of the Principal Work in Line.

Hill Will Probably Make His Speech on the Tariff Bill To-day—Much Interest as to What He Will Have to Say—Appropriation Bills Before the House.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—According to programme the tariff debate in the senate will open up in earnest in the senate this week, but programmes and arrangements have thus far this session proved to be very uncertain and the opening day may disarrange the whole outline for the week. Unless this happens Mr. Hill will speak to-day and there will be naturally much interest taken in the line which the New York senator will take in the tariff discussion. Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, is down for a tariff speech on Tuesday. On Wednesday Mr. Peffer, the Kansas populist, proposes to give a further installment of the speech he has already commenced in favor of his own tariff bill, and will probably be followed by Mr. Hale, who however, may not be able to finish until the next day; Mr. Mitchell, of Oregon, is down for Thursday, and Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, for Friday.

Mr. Hill is expected to take the floor at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The apparent opposition of Mr. Hill to the tariff bill as it at present exists and his expressed antagonism to the income tax feature have caused a great desire on the part of his colleagues to hear what he has to say and especially on the part of the majority who have the tariff measure in charge Mr. Hill is sure to have an audience and members of the house will be present in numbers to listen to the man who is thought to hold the key to the tariff situation.

Mr. Quay some time ago gave notice of a free coinage amendment to the tariff bill and the possibilities of such an amendment to work mischief in the ranks of the democracy is so great that a vote upon it would be antagonized with vigor by the men in charge of the bill who, under any other conditions would be glad to have the opportunity to meet this issue.

There are other important matters pending in the senate. Among these is the Chinese treaty which Mr. Morgan is anxious to get out of the way. But little headway was made Saturday, the discussion being largely upon the question how the treaty should be considered. This contest will probably be renewed as soon as Mr. Hill finishes his speech, and whether the senate decides to discuss the treaty in open session or in accordance with the established precedents, there is every indication of a debate ranging over three or four days at least. Mr. Perkins, of California, is prepared for a speech of some length and Mr. Stewart, who is bitterly opposed to the convention has given notice that he will speak for two days, and, whether the doors be open or closed Mr. Stewart, judging from past experience, will probably be able to consume the time of which he has given notice. Mr. Dolph and Mr. Mitchell and one or two other gentlemen from the far west are also in a fighting humor. Altogether this treaty appears to have in front of it a rough passage.

Mr. Call has still part of his unfinished fight on hand growing out of the Florida appointments, and he showed sufficient strength last week to go into executive session against the protests of Mr. Harris who occupies the position of outpost among the parliamentarians on his side of the chamber. All these things will give the republicans sufficient excuse to relieve themselves from assuming the responsibility for any delay that may occur in the delivery of the tariff speeches that are ready for the pending week.

House of Representatives.

To-day is one of the Mondays set apart for business pertaining to the District of Columbia but as the district has no special representative in congress to look after its interests it is by no means unlikely that the postoffice appropriation bill, which is the unfinished business, will be taken up by the house. The item under discussion is one appropriating $196,000 for special and necessary facilities on what is known as the southern mail, from Springfield, Mass., to Atlanta and New Orleans. This is the only line in the United States so favored, and two members of the committee from which the bill came have formally opposed the item in the report upon the bill Something of a discussion may also be expected upon the amendment proposed by Dunphy (dem., N. Y.), prohibiting the postmaster general from having the postage stamps printed at the bureau of engraving and printing.

After the postoffice bill shall have been disposed of the river and harbor appropriation bill has the right of way and Chairman Catchings expects to ask the house to enter upon its consideration at once.

The caucus to be held Tuesday night upon the state bank tax question may have some effect upon the progress of business in the week but it is not expected to interfere with appropriations bills, whatever its deliverance may be. Should a decision be reached to support a bill to repeal the tax, it is believed that it will be made the order of business after the appropriation bills are out of the way, or at least not to their prejudice if they are ready for action.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

Those living at a distance can consult the Doctor by letter.

Send or call for our Book of Testimonials.

COTTOLENE IS MADE TO EAT

Made from clarified oil, expressed from Cotton Seed—as pure and golden as the Southern Sunshine which produces it.

For convenience in handling, there is added to this oil enough beef suet to make it a semi-solid.

The combination of these two pure natural products makes Cottolene, a shortening and cooking fat, with which in healthfulness, cleanliness, flavor and economy, nothing in the world can compare.

IMITATIONS are MADE TO SELL

To sell on the merits of the genuine. To sell by substitution; or by deception. To sell to the injury of the genuine, to the dissatisfaction of the consumer, to the detriment of the dealer, to the loss of all concerned—except the scheming counterfeiter himself.

If you wish the best food and the best health, you should insist that your cooking be done with genuine Cottolene. Refuse all counterfeits.

Sold in 3 and 5 pound pails.

120 HORSES BURNED

And 150 Carriages Destroyed in Baltimore.

The Majority the Private Equipages of Residents of the Fashionable Section of the City—Shrieks of the Dying Beasts Horrifying—Loss Nearly $400,000.

BALTIMORE, April 10.—Bernard Mancons' handsome three-story livery and boarding stable, Eutaw street, near Preston, was burned last night together with 120 head of valuable horses, 150 carriages and a large quantity of feed.

The flames were discovered just as the twenty odd employes had finished feeding the horses on the second floor of the building and made things snug for the night. They spread with such frightful rapidity that the men barely escaped with their lives. Efforts to release the frenzied animals were out of the question. The shrieks of the unfortunate beasts as the devouring element approached them were horrifying.

But 21 of the horses and carriages belonged to Mancon, the majority representing the private equipages of the residents of the fashionable northwestern section of the city. Mancon estimates his loss at about $200,000 with insurance about half that amount. The total loss will approximate nearly $400,000, as many of the turnouts were very valuable, several noted trotters being among the horses destroyed.

Senator Smith as a Labor Arbitrator.

PATERSON, N. J., April 10.—United States Senator James Smith, jr., visited this city and effected a settlement of the strike of the employes of the Barbour Flax Spinning company. The senator came here unsolicited and called on William Barbour and a committee of the strikers, and after a short conference a settlement was announced. Senator Smith assured Mr. Barbour and the committee that the importation of flax would receive the same protection as other textiles. The strike was then declared off, and President Barbour announced that the company would pay the old rate of wages.

Death of Henry A. Cram.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Henry A. Cram is dead at his home in this city, aged 75 years from the effects of a surgical operation. He came of an old New England family, his father being Jacob Cram, of Exeter, N. H., and his mother, Lydia Tucker, of Portland, Me. Mr. Cram was a successful jury lawyer until 1871, when he retired on account of ill health and devoted himself to modern literature and art. His widow is a daughter of John Sergeant, who was the candidate for vice-president on the whig ticket in 1832 with Henry Clay. Mr. Cram leaves five children.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—After postponing until to-day the vote on the pending question—a motion to discharge the order of arrest of March 26, upon which a vote was taken Saturday without producing a quorum—the house took up District of Columbia business. A bill to more effectually suppress gambling in the District of Columbia was discussed and withdrawn and a bill to authorize the adoption of children in the district was passed.

Fears for an Overdue Steamer.

BOSTON, April 10.—Grave fears are entertained for the safety of the overdue Belgian steamer De Ruyter, Capt. Meyer, and a crew of twenty-eight men, which sailed from Antwerpt twenty-nine days ago for Boston. She has undoubtedly met with some serious accident and many people incline to the belief that she has struck an iceberg and foundered. The De Ruyter is heavily laden.

Fourth-class Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The following fourth-class postmasters have just been appointed:

New York—R. C. Tomkins, Knowlesville; William Cranston, Little Genesee; W. A. Hildreth, Stone Dam.

Pennsylvania—Harry Turner, Good Intent; Leonard Nicholas, Highville; S. G. McFate, Plumer.

Chilian Claims Commission.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Chilian claims commission has at last completed its consideration of claims. They declined to act on the claims of Henry Chauncey, Peter Borigalapi and Andrew Moss, and awarded $155,233 to E. C. Dubois, whose claim amounted to $2,500,000.

Suit for $350,000 as Commissions.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 10.—The suit of John W. Fox against Franz O. Matthiesson to recover $350,000 as commissions for negotiating the sale of the Philadelphia sugar refineries to the New York Sugar Refineries company is on trial before Justice Dykman and a jury.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

COXEY IN THE COKE REGION.

March of the Commonweal Over Famous and Historic Ground.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 10.—Coxey's band of Weary Walkers, numbering 280 souls, camped here last night after a tramp of twelve miles through the western section of the disturbed coke regions. The march was over historic ground, being the famous region where General Braddock's fatal expedition marched and fought its way to old Fort Duquesne, and where Washington earned his early reputation.

On the road a toll gate was encountered and the army held up for toll. The gate keeper was deaf to the dissertation on the wrongs upon the laboring people by Coxey, and so the cash was produced.

An offer of the street railway company to furnish cars to convey the army through town to camp was spurned.

There were about 1,000 of the striking Hungarians from the neighboring coke regions in town during the night but though many of them were under the influence of liquors, they showed no inclination to be disorderly.

The three Coxey curios, Weary Iler, Jasper Johnston and "Cyclone" Kirkland, the astrologer, returned last night from a dime museum engagement, but they must submit to a court martial before being received back into the commonweal fold.

SICK AND SUFFERING.

Gen. Frye's Army in Imminent Danger of Going to Pieces.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—With rain coming down in torrents and a cold raw wind whistling through their improvised storm houses, Gen. Frye and his mud-beddraggled and discouraged army have sat and shivered around their camp fires at St. Jacobs, Ill., twenty-five miles east of here, for the past twenty-four hours. The men are scantily clad and as the last few days have been cold and stormy, many of them have contracted severe colds, which in some cases threaten to end in pneumonia. Others of the army are suffering from diarrhœa and kindred ailments, due to rapid changes in food, water and climate.

Owing to the isolated condition of the army it is almost impossible to secure medical attention and the sufferers are dependent upon the charity and care of the people in the neighborhood. The men have become quarrelsome and mutinous and dozens of them are hourly deserting the camp. When the army went into quarters Sunday night it numbered a total of 678 men, including officers and privates. This morning's roll call showed only 407 present. Another effort will be made to secure transportation from some of the east bound railroads. If this is unsuccessful, it is almost certain the army will go to pieces.

PANIC IN A CHICAGO SCHOOL

Children Trampled, One to Death, One Fatally and Others Injured.

CHICAGO, April 10.—One pupil was killed, one fatally injured and 15 others hurt at noon during a panic at the Von Humboldt public school, Rockwell avenue and Hirsch street. The mad rush of the children was caused by the bursting of a steam cock on the radiator in one of the rooms and the subsequent crying of "fire" by the frightened boys and girls.

The dead pupil is named Gunstren, 11 years old, who lived with his parents on Dana avenue. He was trampled under the feet of the panic stricken throng and expired while being taken to St. Elizabeth hospital. He might have survived the injuries caused by being trampled upon, but the suffocation from the crowding was fatal.

The fatally injured pupil is Andrew Anderson, 10 years old, whose home is 710 Rockwell street.

All the injured were trampled on and bruised or cut. Most of them were taken from the school in an unconscious condition to the hospital and adjoining homes for medical treatment.

There were 1,176 pupils in the three story school building, which contained sixteen rooms.

Fierce Blizzard in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 10.—One of the greatest storms of the winter raged here all Sunday night. There was a violent easterly gale and a heavy fall of snow, and although the wind had died out considerably last night it was still snowing hard. Tram-car service is demoralized and street traffic much impeded. Dispatches from various points in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick show the storm to have been general in the provinces, and especially severe in Cape Breton. Telegraphic communication is interrupted and reports come in slowly, but so far no fatalities have occurred in those two provinces.

MILWAUKEE'S FATAL FIRE

The Last of the Bodies of the Nine Victims Recovered.

MILWAUKEE, April 10.—The last of the bodies of the nine firemen who went down with the roof of the burning Davidson theatre and hotel yesterday has been recovered. The coroner's inquest will be held on Thursday and the fire and police commissioners will not investigate Chief Foley until after the inquest. It is claimed that he should not have ordered the men on the roof over the stage when he knew that the fire was directly under them.

Of the score of firemen who went down with the roof and were rescued all, it is thought, will recover, although several are terribly injured.

There were many acts of heroism displayed, chief of which was the daring of Michael Dunn, Captain of the fire tug Cataract. He was on the roof when it fell and grasped the situation in an instant. Other firemen rigged a rope making it fast to a portion of the hotel building and dropped it over the awful hole through which so many of their comrades had gone down to death.

Seizing the rope Dunn slipped down into the furnace. Soon there was a cry from below to pull the rope up. Dunn had found Pipeman Yeo helpless, tied the rope around him and ordered it raised. He found Fireman O'Neill in the debris. Just at this point a delegation of insurance patrol, that had effected an entrance from below, joined Dunn in the rescue.

The case of John Crowley was a terrible one. He lay buried under the debris from 5 a. m. until noon. When he first was discovered he was being flooded with water. He could talk, and begged them not to drown him. Near him a comrade was buried, who died before rescue.

Crowley was suffering for air.

A rubber tube was secured and inserted in his mouth and attached to an air-pump, and he was thus supplied with air while the task of removing the debris above him went on as rapidly as possible.

The origin of the fire, as far as known, was in the meat house of the hotel, which was on the top floor, under the roof, near the auditorium and stage.

Manager Rosenfeld of the Liliputians says his loss will be fully $45,000. He says he will not know until to-night whether or not he will disband the company for the season.

The total money loss occasioned by the fire is about $225,000. The damage to the hotel is slight.

WANT GHERARDI REMOVED.

Denounced By War Veterans for the Loss of Their Positions.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Following the reduction of force at the navy yard by Commandant Gherardi, who discharged, among others, some army and navy veterans, members of Gen. Alfred H. Terry Command, No. 1, Veteran Organization, United States Regular Army and Navy, have adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the members of Gen. Alfred H. Terry Command No. 1, Veteran Organization, United States Regular Army and Navy, condemn Commandant Gherardi of the Brooklyn navy yard, for his action in discharging war veterans from the navy yard. We consider it the duty of the government to give preference to all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors in all sorts of capacities, instead of giving preference to political vampires. We call upon the president to forthwith remove Commandant Gherardi from the office he now holds, as he is a disgrace to the service. He has stooped so low that he is unfit to wear the uniform of a United States officer. We also call upon the president to reinstate the men removed, who have served in the army and navy, and, if it is necessary to remove anyone to curtail expenses, let those be removed who never were in the United States service.

The adjutant was directed to send a copy of the resolutions to the president.

The Storm at Chatham.

CHATHAM, Mass., April 10.—The storm from the northeast which swept down upon Cape Cod Sunday was in many respects the most severe of this season. The seas on the shoals outside ran mountain high. The storm was accompanied by sleet and snow, which added discomfort and danger to those who were caught out. The gale blew furiously from the start, increasing every hour. The life savers, who were out on the beaches to render assistance to any unfortunate craft, had a hard struggle to face the blast. This storm must have been felt strongly by the Gloucester and other fishermen who are out on the fishing grounds, and it will be fortunate if they all come out right side up.

Points for Miss Pollard.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The beginning of the second month of the Pollard-Breckinridge trial witnessed the beginning of the end in the commencement of argument before the jury. Judge Bradley read his decision with reference to the prayers for instructions to the jury which were submitted by both sides on Saturday. Col. Breckinridge must prove that there was an agreement between Miss Pollard and himself to show that the promise of marriage made before witnesses was done for a blind. The burden of proof is thrown on the defendant.

HILL'S GREAT EFFORT

New York's Senior Senator Showered With Praise.

Even Those Opposed to His Views Congratulate Him on His Tariff Speech—Particularly Pleasing to the Opponents of the Income Tax Feature—Large Audience Present.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The opponents of the tariff bill and particularly those opposed to the income tax feature of the measure are showering praise upon Senator Hill and even some of those who do not entirely concur in his views have congratulated him upon his efforts yesterday. The speech occupied a little over two hours and held the close attention, for all that time, of one of the largest audiences that was ever packed within the walls of the senate chamber. It is not often that many senators remain in their seats during a long speech, but from the first sentence to the last of Mr. Hill's there was hardly a vacant chair on either side of the chamber, nor was there any apparent diminution of the interest manifested in the speech. While it was adverse generally to the tariff bill, as reported from the finance committee, it was particularly directed against the income tax feature of it, in regard to which Mr. Hill said that he did not want the great democratic party to be made the tail to the populist kite. He characterized the income tax as a scheme of spoliation and as a sectional tax.

The senator said:

"The political revolution which commenced in 1890 and culminated in 1892 was an emphatic expression of the popular will in behalf of certain governmental policies. Measures, and not men, were largely the issues involved in that movement."

In the latter He summarized those measures as opposition to the odious federal election laws, discontinuance of silver bullion purchases instead of the coinage as contemplated by the constitution, better and more economical administration of public affairs, and a condemnation of that abuse or perversion of the taxing power of the government which is known as the policy of protection for protection's sake alone, and a declaration in favor of a tariff for revenue.

"The enforcement of these policies devolved upon the party in power. It is not denied that some mistakes have occurred. Our foreign policy, especially that relating to Hawaii, it must be admitted, has not met the expectations of the people. A sense of humiliation prevailed when the project for the restoration of a deposed monarcy was unfolded by the administration, and gratification ensued when its abandonment or failure was reluctantly announced, influenced largely by an aroused public sentiment."

This blunder Mr. Hill considered was "the natural consequence of placing the department of state in charge of a republican statesman, distinguished and estimable though he might be, whose public services had always been identified in opposition to the democratic party, and whose political convictions upon the disputed public questions of the day, if changed at all, are carefully concealed."

Mr. Hill expressed regret that the president should not have been able to find in his own party some safe and honored statesman in whom he and his party could have placed confidence, one of democratic instincts and training, whose management of foreign affairs would have reflected credit upon the country, and would have avoided the promulgation of that un-American policy—a departure from democratic precedents—which was sought to be forced upon an unwilling people. In this view of the situation Mr. Hill contended that the opponents of the democratic party must accept some share of the responsibility for the blunders committed in our foreign affairs.

Coming to the question of tariff reform he drew a contrast between 1887 and 1894, and said an extreme reduction of tariff duties at a time when the treasury was swollen with a surplus of a hundred million dollars, when all our industries were in motion, assumed a different aspect when proposed now with a large and growing treasury deficit, with our industries paralyzed, our manufactories closed, our workingmen idle, and following upon the heels of one of the most disastrous financial panics in our history. What was safe and prudent and wise then it would be criminal folly to attempt now.

Then he proceeded to assail the president's dilatoriness of action in this matter. He said:

"A month prior to his inauguration the president was forewarned of the approaching monetary panic. He convened congress six months later, when the panic was subsiding which should have been averted.

"It is feared that this congress does not keenly appreciate the awful devastation which the financial cyclone of last summer has inflicted upon the business interests of our country. It has made havoc of prosperity, private and public. It has diminished all domestic and interstate trade, until a fifth of our railroad mileage is in the hands of receivers, and all our banks are gorged with money unemployed. It has struck down by hundreds the captains of our industry who have been wont to organize profitable enterprises, borrow capital, and lead the great army of labor.

"This is no time for partisan reproaches, however just. This senate is nearly equally politically divided, and it is apparent that if prompt remedial legislation is expected, then radicalism in any direction must be discarded. The extreme features of the McKinley bill must be eradicated, but patriotism alike demands that extremes in the opposite direction must also be avoided.

"On the 4th of March, 1893, the president became vested with exclusive power to convene congress for the purpose reaffirmed in his election. He decided to prolong the operation of the McKinley tariff for at least another year. The delay thus imposed upon the people's reforming zeal it is vain to regret. In the meantime the monetary panic, unfortunately precipitated upon us, has not only made havoc of our private industries, but has dried up the public revenues. The size of the treasury deficit at the close of the current fiscal year has twice been estimated by the secretary of the treasury. In his annual report the secretary of the treasury informed congress of a deficit for the current fiscal year of $23,000,000.

"A short month later, in his letter to the chairman of the finance committee, the same secretary of the treasury finds the same deficit to be $78,000,000. It may be unjust to the secretary of the treasury, as well as absurd in itself, to assume that suggestions in his annual report, made when he thought the deficit of the current year to be $23,000,000, stand good after his discovery a month later that the size of the deficit is $78,000,000.

"Yet the Wilson bill, framed originally upon the theory suggested by these high officials (the president and the secretary of the treasury) in their annual communications to congress, underwent no material change during its progress through the house, notwithstanding the altered situation. The theory survived its conditions. In the face of the protestation of private industries, and in the presence of such a paralysis of all general business as the treasury deficit attests and prolongs, this bill was framed by its authors, and, as passed by the house, sought to double the deficit by discarding customs revenue and to fill the void with an income tax.

"Against such a scheme—unnecessary, ill-timed, and mischievous—suddenly sprung upon the country in the hour of its distress—un-democratic in its nature and socialistic in its tendencies—I enter the protest of the people of the state of New York. They utterly dissent from any proposal to get revenue for the general government by taxing incomes. Their dissent is practically unanimous and altogether implacable."

Referring to that passage in the president's annual message in which he said a measure had been prepared "on the lines herein suggested, including a small tax from incomes derived from certain corporate investments," Mr. Hill said: "It will strike the thoughtful observer familiar with the history of the government as a strange and unusual procedure that the president of the United States should seriously inform congress of what one of its own committees has been doing in its preparation of a bill. It might be safely assumed that congress already had such information unless the bill had been prepared in the executive department and had been submitted to the committee concurrently with the transmission of the message to congress. In these latter days the distinctions between the functions and prerogatives of the executive department on the one hand and the legislative department on the other do not seem to be always observed. The truth is that the first information which congress had of the alleged details of the proposed bill was in the message itself.

"But the strangest part of this unprecedented proceeding was that in fact at the very date of the message, to wit, December 4, 1893, neither the full committee of ways and means nor the democratic members thereof had agreed upon any income tax or upon other internal taxation. The president's information was therefore inaccurate as well as premature. This awkward situation was not improved by the president's expression of his 'desire for the success of this measure,' being a measure not yet perfected, a bill in an inchoate state.

"But aside from any question of impropriety involved in the recommendation, and while conceding that the president in the first suggestion of a limited income tax injected the poison which has now spread until it has developed into a general income tax, nevertheless the latter scheme cannot find any real justification in the president's message."

He asked "Whence came this recent and unnecessary clamor for the imposition of an income tax as the policy of the government? Nothing was heard in its behalf on the part of either of two great political parties in the campaign of 1892. Neither the republican nor democratic platform proposed any such method of raising revenues. No prominent democrat or republican suggested any such measure. Its approval was limited to the platform of the newly formed populist party, and its advocacy was restricted to populist orators."

In conclusion he said: "I stand ready to support any reasonable measure for tariff reform framed within the lines and based upon the principles which I have here partially indicated.

"Mr. President, this is an important crisis in the history of the democratic party. The failure of tariff revision at this time means defeat, the demoralization, if not the division and annihilation of our party. Moreover it means, as we believe, injury to the best interests of the country. Let those who insist upon injecting into this bill this odious and undemocratic feature of an income tax, a relic of war legislation, pause and reflect upon the possible consequences of their unwarrantable demands.

"They should realize that it means the loss of the control of this senate, now nearly equally divided between the two great parties; it means the loss of the next house of representatives; it means the loss of the electoral votes of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and probably every northern state, and finally, it means the loss of the next presidency, and all that it implies. They should recollect that this income tax feature is justly regarded in New York and many other northern states as a scheme of spoliation, an unwarranted sectional attack upon their citizens of means.

"They should consider whether there is anything about an income tax so sacred, so desirable, so popular, so just and so defensible, that its maintenance is worth the risk which they are precipitating. Let them remember 1860 and the ultra demands then made upon the democratic party, to which it could not honorably accede. Demands which led to our division and defeat; let them remember the triumphs of our opponents, the civil war that followed, the devastation, the suffering, the humiliation which ensued, the military and carpet bag governments which flourished, the force bills which threatened, and all the incidents of the terrible years which darkened our party's and our country's history from 1860 to 1884, when, through wiser counsels, moderate action, conciliatory methods and restored confidence, we were intrusted with power again; and, reflecting upon all these things, let them say whether it is the part of wisdom, by the insistence upon extreme demands, to imperil the success of our party again, and thereby tend to retard the progress, diminish the glory, and endanger the highest interests of our common country."

The best reason for moving the freight-house is that the people all want it moved. As a corporation famous for serving the public faithfully, the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey should proceed straightway with this much delayed public improvement.

Assemblyman Codding deserves the thanks of all public-spirited Plainfielders for his energy in making sure the passage of the bill permitting sewers to be constructed on petition of one-half the assessed property-holdings. The petition is ready, and still being signed, and the bill is pledged to be a law. A sanitary sewerage system must come soon.

The protest of the people against School Board alleged extravagance will be calmly ignored by the Board, according to the word of a member. The efforts of the citizens must therefore be concentrated on the bill now before the Legislature, whose object is to transfer the control of fiscal affairs to one body, the Common Council, thus preventing excessive outlay on two great enterprises in one year. Sewers are Plainfield's greatest present need, and the money of the people should be used to secure them first.

That was an extraordinary revelation made in the New York Evening Post of Saturday, that the Free Immigrant Labor Bureau in the Barge Office is unable to meet the demands on it for laborers. Despite all the talk we have heard during the past winter about "the army of the unemployed", it appears that the farmers in the Eastern part of the country find it impossible to secure help, and have to send for newly-arrived immigrants. A similar condition of things is reported in the West, where prices for farm labor rule high and the demand exceeds the supply.

Purcell Loses His Envelope Contract.

WASHINGTON, April 10. — Postmaster General Bissell had a conference with the unsuccessful bidders for the stamped envelope contract, who came to protest against the awarding of the contract to James Purcell, of New York, and as a result he decided that under a recent act of congress the bids recently opened at the department were illegal. He will therefore reject them and re-advertise for proposals for furnishing stamped envelopes under the new law.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

APGAR'S GOOD SHOOTING.

The Evona Marksman and His Comrade Win the $1,000 Stakes.

New Yorkers are having a regular feast of pigeon shooting this year, but despite the fact that match follows match in quick succession, there is no abatement of the interest in the sport. There was a goodly sized crowd at Dexter Park, Long Island, yesterday afternoon to see W. H. Wolstencroft of Philadelphia and Neaf Apgar of Evona, defeat Thomas Peacock of Westfield, N. Y., and Rolla Heikes of Dayton, O., in a race for $1,000 a side, at 100 birds each, 28 yards rise and 80 yards boundary, the score standing at the conclusion of the match 179 to 171. Wolstencroft and Apgar led from the start, and were favorites in the betting.

The men named took part in the Grand National Handicap on Thursday and Friday of last week, and the match shot yesterday was the outcome of that contest.

The shooting of Rolla Heikes was not up to the high form New Yorkers would expect from the Ohioan, although it must be said that he drew more than his share of the fast birds. His work was very slighted until the last twenty-five birds, when he seemed to have better control of his pump gun and shot in splendid style, making kills that nobody could surpass. His work in the subsequent fifteen-bird match which he shot with young Schleman, the Florida guide from Tampa Bay, was very finished, knocking down all of his birds, 13 of them, with the first barrel. Wolstencroft did remarkably well until the final 25, when he dropped 5 out of the last 20. His marksmanship could not be improved upon from the 51st to the 80th birds, and it was a subject of general comment that the young Philadelphian had regained the form which made him known from New York to SanFrancisco while touring with the East and West teams a few years ago. He was the high man yesterday with 91 kills. Peacock, who is a very nervy, careful shooter, killed 90, losing four dead out of bounds. His companion killed but 81, and as Apgar bowled over 88, the handicap was too great to be overcome. Apgar centred most of his birds beautifully, and some of his one-barrel kills were of such a high character as to bring generous applause from the spectators.

Luck played quite a prominent part in the match, Heikes and Apgar having birds strike the boundary and fall back dead. The birds were not remarkable, nothing like those seen Friday last. The score:

	Killed.	Missed.
Wolstencroft	91	9
Apgar	88	12
Total	179	21
Peacock	90	10
Heikes	81	19

Two Roberts Dispute a Walk.

A sidewalk on Elmwood place, near Front street, is causing a neighborly tiff. It extends about 100 feet along the property of Robert Radford, Sr., and in wet weather the ground becomes soft, making walking very disagreeable. Several of the residents on the street say they have asked Mr. Radford to put down a board walk, but he has refused, saying the walk was good enough. However, to improve it, and having a surplus of ashes and cinders, Mr. Radford thought he would use them on the walk, and every day or two a fresh supply would be brought out and dumped.

Further down the street lives one of the objectionists, Robert Randolph, and as soon as the ashes were put on he would remove them and throw them into the street.

Mr. Randolph says he is not going to walk on the ashes and carry the dirt into his house, and that he will get up a petition and send it to the Council, making it compulsory for Mr. Radford to lay a stone walk. Meanwhile Mr. Radford says nothing, but dumps ashes.

BASE-BALL CHATTER.

The expensive experiment of running a high-priced base-ball team in Plainfield is not likely to be taken up again by the local enthusiasts. But it is a shame for the town not to have a good team, and if grounds could be had near town, and an amateur nine put in the field, interest could probably be revived and a successful series played. Base-ball in Plainfield lost prestige when the grounds were put over in North Plainfield. The women used to flock to the grand-stand on LaGrande avenue, and that gave the game a great boom. Convenient grounds, reached by a street less hot and dusty than Somerset, are a first essential. It was singular last year how the women would go to out-of-town games and not to those over the brook. They didn't seem to care for the fact that the team was the strongest in the State; they didn't like the distance to the grounds and the way of getting there. Will McLaughlin is just the chap to get a good local team together and restore base-ball to its former prosperity. Some club, however, ought to take hold of the matter to manage the boom. The Crescent Wheelmen say they do n't care to run a team, but are willing to rent a diamond on their field. The trouble is that while their grounds are all right for wheeling events, since cyclers will pedal to them, the grounds are too far out to make a popular base-ball field, if patronage is desired from the old-time followers of the sport. Most of the base-ball contingent who used to attend the LaGrande avenue games prefer to walk a moderate distance, or stay at home. From the present outlook, base-ball is dead in Plainfield. Who has the enterprise and the public interest to revive it? Heretofore individual effort has borne most of the burden. A good base-ball team being a good ad for a town, the Board of Trade ought to take hold.

"Doc" Currie, who caught Westervelt so successfully in the amateur ranks, is hustling to make the New Jersey Athletic Club team this year a winner. It is said that three of his old players, Fauss, Fountain, and "Red" Degumones, will play with the Englewood Field Club this year.

Anderson, the old Crescent left-hander who pitched for the Metropolitans Saturday, has been engaged by Ward to pitch to the New York players in practice. There is no intention of signing him. The big batsmen on the New York team are all left-hand batters, and Ward thinks it an excellent idea to have a good "south-paw" to twirl against the boys.

Meakin, another Crescent graduate, says he suffered from an attack of malaria all winter, and that he was in the care of three doctors.

The Paterson nine, a strong team, talks of playing Saturday games in Plainfield under the name of the Crescents. Their Paterson games are played Sundays, and they would get good practice and give good sport by Saturday games in Plainfield.

The Lawyers to Organize.

Charles A. Reed, Nelson Runyon, Craig A. Marsh and W. K. McClure have called a meeting of the lawyers of Plainfield to be held in the offices of Runyon & Moffet next Monday evening at 8. It is expected that a local bar association will be formed "in order that our members may become more closely associated, fraternally and financially, and for discussion of matters of importance to the profession, locally and generally."

Won From Plainfield's Low Bidder.

The Somerset Lighting Company has secured the contract for lighting the Bound Brook streets for another year at $20 per lamp, which is four or five dollars more than charged in Plainfield and North Plainfield, and four more than Charles Sebring of North Plainfield bid. The winning corporation ought now to clear its poles of all advertisements and paint them, so that they will look decent.

Plainfield's Gong Calls Rahway Out.

The trial of the Plainfield fire whistle Saturday afternoon caused a run for the Rahway department. It was heard so plainly there that someone, thinking it was a local gong, rang the fire bell on Independence Hook and Ladder Company's house, hence the alarm and run.

Music Hall Dissolution.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

Fred Andrews, of Holmadel, Pa., spent Sunday with friends in Dunellen.

The Independent Order of Foresters initiated a candidate last evening.

John Apgar is erecting a store for R. Giles, on Main street, opposite Maier's Hotel, where Mr. Giles will carry on the plumbing business.

The attendance at the New Market Baptist Church Sunday was unusually large. Four were received into membership in the morning.

Arrangements are being made for a dance soon to be given at Newtown, near South Plainfield. Several persons from Dunellen are interested.

A dance will take place at the home of Miss Lizzie Dunham, near New Market, Thursday evening. A number of Dunellen young people will attend.

Friday evening was pleasantly spent at the home of Mrs. Catherine Maier, Park Hotel, the occasion being her 56th birthday. During the evening several friends of the family called, and although the number was more than usually called Mrs. Maier did not suspect that they had assembled in honor of her birthday until she was called into the parlor, where a large cake surrounded by several dozen small candles, met her eyes. The cake had been ordered from Reusch's bakery, and was a fine specimen of handiwork. On the beautifully decorated top were the letters "C. M." neatly arranged. The Press wishes Mrs. Maier many happy returns of the occasion.

A lecture and the blessing of a statue will take place in the Church of St. John the Evangelist Sunday evening, April 15, at 7:30. Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Farrell was to give this lecture, but as God has taken this faithful servant to his eternal reward, Very Rev. Father McFaul, V. G. now Coadjutor of the Diocese, will deliver the lecture. He is an eminent speaker, and the subject is a very interesting one for every true American and should be well attended. Admission will be 25 cents; children, 10 cents; for the benefit of the church. The statue will be blessed immediately after the lecture. It is a statue of St. Joseph, imported from Europe, and has been presented to the church by Mrs. Catherine Maier in memory of her departed husband.

New Telephone Company.

The New Jersey Postal Telegraph and Telephone Co. yesterday had its articles of incorporation recorded at the County Clerk's office. The capital stock is placed at $500,000, and of this amount $16,300 has been paid in. The object of the company is to construct and use lines of wires between and in the different cities of the State. These are the incorporators: J. A. McClary, Rahway; Arthur Pomeroy, Boston; Orlando E. Condit and Stewart Lindsley, of East Orange, and Everett Frazer, of Orange.

This is the company which proposes to furnish cheaper telephone service to New York and New Jersey towns. Several subscribers have been secured in Plainfield. The rental of a 'phone is to be $25 a year, each subscriber buying $25 worth of stock. What has caused some to join the opposition to the Bell company is that the company insists in putting in high-priced long-distance phones. But the Bell company's system is established, and gives a service reaching everywhere.

REDUCED TO A SKELETON.

Mrs. Mira Mills, of Sardis, Big Stone Co., Minn., writes: "One year ago I was given up by my family physician and friends; all said I must die. My lungs were badly affected, and body reduced to a skeleton. My people commenced to give me your 'Medical Discovery' and soon began to mend. It was not long before I became well enough to take charge of my household duties again. I owe my recovery to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

GOV. WERTS'S FOUR VETOES.

He Disapproves of Several Pet Republican Partisan Bills.

TRENTON, April 10—In the House last night, Assemblyman Eton, an anti-Anderson and anti-Sewell member from Mercer county, attempted to head off the appointment of ex-Comptroller Anderson as Supervisor of the State prison.

He offered a resolution "that this House looks upon the rumored nomination of Edward J. Anderson for Supervisor of the State Prison by the Governor of this State with very grave suspicion, as an indication of a nefarious deal whereby the action of this body in passing an act to place the same appointment in the hands of the joint legislative meeting will be nullified."

Another resolution urged the Senate not to ratify Anderson's nomination, or any other, except in joint meeting. Republican Leader McEwan probably saved a party row on the floor by moving to table the resolution, which was done. There are indications of trouble ahead in the party when the resolution is called up.

The Governor sent three vetoes to the House tonight and one to the Senate He disapproves the Essex and Hudson Freholder Representation bill, because it is crude and indefinite, and "apparently but a temporary makeshift suggested by the desire of speedily obtaining a partisan end".

The second veto is of the bill abolishing the Boards of Freeholders in Essex and Hudson, and necessarily follows the veto of the first. The third is of a bill compelling land associations to lay out new streets in conformity with those already laid out. The Governor objects to this because it interferes with the rights of landowners.

The Governor vetoes the Mercer, Passaic and Camden Freeholders bill because there is not time to give due notice to the voters of the election of Freeholders, and because the bill proposes to hold the election without such notice. The four vetoes were read and laid over until Wednesday.

Among the bills introduced in the House was one providing that persons twice convicted of selling liquor illegally shall never again receive license, and persons twice convicted of selling on Sunday shall be fined $200 or imprisoned two years.

NEW JERSEY MAY BE GERRYMANDERED.

Republican State Committee Discusses the Possibility of Doing So.

TRENTON, April 10—The State Republican Committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon and transacted considerable important business. Its action was somewhat independent, more so than at any of the numerous meetings.

It advised that there must be more economy in the publication of laws. The State pays about $80,000 a year to 100 newspapers to publish the laws. The Legislature is advised to change the law so that less papers will be selected.

The committee strongly opposed the present tendency of the Legislature to strip the Governor of all appointments and put them in joint meetings. It was decided that the Governor has some right to recognition.

There was an informal discussion on a Congressional gerrymander. It is the opinion of a majority of the committee that the State could be divided into eight districts, five of which would be safely Republican.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Linnæan Society went on an outing yesterday afternoon under the guidance of Mr. Holck and Miss Bass.

A party of High School boys yesterday explored the flora beyond Metuchen and brought home an elegant lot of trailing arbutus. Edgar Serrell's tire exploded a mile outside of Metuchen and Fred Goddard shared his wheel with him, while A. Woltmann and J. Kirkner led the crippled wheel between theirs. This accident caused much fun and excitement.

A. Woltmann, '94, and E. I. Serrell, '95, are going to enter the interscholastic games.

In Music Hall Tomorrow Night.

The usual order of scenic melodrama has been cast aside by Lincoln J. Carter in his new play. "The Tornado". It is customary to have some one great scene or mechanical contrivance and exhibit it at the proper time in the action of the play, and with it is shown just how everything is coming out, and an audience need really stay only until they have seen the great feature. Mr. Carter not only gives his great Tornado scene at the close of the first act, but he follows it up in the second, with three more "special features", and in the third act a couple more, and with all this you cannot lose sight of his story, nor can you see how it will end to everyone's satisfaction. You must wait and see all the scenic vesture of the play, and get the ending in the lovely autumn garb with which Maple Grove is dressed in the last act.

A NOBLE GIFT

PLACED IN A DAUGHTER'S HANDS

In Order That a Life's Work May Be Perpetuated.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

It was an eventful day.

One of the noblest women of the age felt the weight of years upon her.

Her whole life had been given to one grand work, and her name was known throughout the civilized world.

Before her was a younger woman, and they were seated in the great "record room," where were stored many women's stories of sorrow and joy. Letters by the thousands, together with great books of record, containing the important points of advice and treatment in special cases, were all about them.

The elder woman turned over the leaves and read:—

"I was sorely afflicted with chronic inflammation of the womb . . . . I am now well."

Turning over another page she read:—

"They said I was consumptive, and sent me away . . . . But you opened my eyes to the truth, and through you I am well."

Another page and:—

". . . Your remedy came to me with hope, then the truth dawned upon me. You saved my life, and I bless you continually."

Then the book was closed and placed in the hands of the younger woman.

"These are the records of my victories over the peculiar diseases of women. They give the history of each case, and how it was treated.

"I am growing old. Some day I must give up the effort, and I bequeath to you my life work for the physical salvation of women. Carry it forward that all may be cured."

The elder woman was Lydia E. Pinkham. The younger was her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Pinkham, the one woman fully equipped to carry out the requirements of this noble legacy, not only by natural endowments, but from her knowledge through constant study and years of experience in assisting her mother in her voluminous correspondence and personal treatment of woman's diseases.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will redeem women from the fearful consequences of all diseases of the womb. All druggists have it for you.

DA GAMA GOES ASHORE

Escapes on a Tug From the Portuguese Warship.

Thirty of His Former Officers Leave With Him—No Resistance Offered and the Escape Believed to Have Been Planned—Many Friends of the Refugees at Buenos Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES, April 10, via Galveston.—It has just been learned that the insurgent refugee admiral, da Gama, did not sail away with the Portuguese war ships yesterday. He made his escape shortly after noon Sunday and arrived at the Buenos Ayres quarantine station late in the evening. The Portuguese sailors made no resistance to his leaving the warship.

Admiral da Gama, with a number of his officers, was confined on board the Mindello awaiting the arrival of the steamer Angolo, which sailed from Lisbon April 4 to convey him and his followers to Portugal, the remainder of his staff being similarly held on board the Alfonso de Albuquerque. Sunday afternoon a tug towing a lighter loaded with provisions for the Portuguese warships steamed alongside the Mindello, and the lighter was made fast to the warship preparatory to unloading.

While the provisions were being taken on board the warship da Gama and 30 of his officers went on board the tug, cut the lines and steamed away.

No resistance was offered by the crew of the tug, which fact suggests a prearranged plan for the escape of the insurgent admiral and his men.

This theory is very much strengthened by the attitude of the owners of the tug. They deny any complicity whatever in the escape of the men, and positively refuse to furnish any details, but they admit that they expect compensation from da Gama or some one in his behalf.

The destination of the fugitive admiral is not known, but there is an unconfirmed rumor that he has been seen in this city. This is not unlikely as da Gama has a host of friends here, many of them of wealth and influence, and he would have no difficulty in finding an asylum.

The people of the Argentine Republic generally are rejoicing over the escape of da Gama and the reports of Mello's successes at Rio Grande do Sul. These reports are not altogether trustworthy, but if Gen. Gomercindo's land forces are really co-operating with Admiral Mello in an attack upon Rio Grande do Sul it is clear that the province of Parana has been abandoned to Peixoto.

At the Portuguese legation it is denied that the two Portuguese men-of-war had sailed for Montevideo. The officials in the offices said that Minister Faria had gone to the roadstead to consult with naval captains concerning the escape of Admiral da Gama and his fellow officers. The opinion is general that the captains permitted the insurgent officers to escape in order to end discussion over delivering them to President Peixoto. Admiral da Gama's period of quarantine will end in ten days.

Gen Harrison a Drawing Card.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Stanford university has become a regularly scheduled point of interest in personally conducted excursions to California, and during the last four weeks Gen. Harrison has been one of the features of the place pointed out to tourists. Many visitors time their trips for Monday afternoons in order to have the opportunity to observe the somewhat strange spectacle of an ex-president of the United States discharging a professor's duties of instructing pupils whom for four years he governed. Yesterday there was a larger attendance of such listeners than usual, as Gen. Harrison delivered the fourth lecture before students, the subject being "The Confederation of 1781."

Behring Sea Matter.

LONDON, April 10.—It is understood that the conference between Lord Kimberly and Mr. Bayard related to the clause in the British Behring Sea bill, which provides that all vessels seized which sailed from their home ports before the passage of the bill—their commanders being unaware of the act—shall be acquitted of having violated the regulations for taking seals provided by the bill. The conference is said to have resulted in the cabling of assurances to Washington that satisfactory amendments to the bill will be made.

Coxey's Scheme Spreading.

PITTSBURG, April 10.—The populist county convention to be held in Pittsburg in two weeks will select twenty-two delegates to attend the state convention to be held in Harrisburg next June. The project is now under consideration to have the delegates from this county go to Harrisburg on foot, after the idea of Gen. Coxey, making speeches on the way at each of the towns as they pass through, and stirring up all the latent enthusiasm of those who entertain populistic ideas.

Police Captain Devery Acquitted.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Police Captain Devery, who has been on trial for a week on a charge of neglect of duty in allowing disorderly houses to run in his district, was acquitted by the jury. Capt. Devery's trial was brought about by Dr. Parkhurst, and the principal evidence against him was given by detectives employed by the Society for the Prevention of Crime.

Floyd Brothers Taken to Prison.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 10.—Frank and Lewis Floyd, convicted of aiding and abetting Paul Scheig in the looting of the Bank of Minneapolis, have been taken to Stillwater penitentiary. They were unable to obtain the $15,000 bail, pending appeal to the supreme court.

New York Hotel Keeper Assigns.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Bradford L. Esten, proprietor of the hotel Kensington, at Fifth avenue and Fifteenth street, has assigned without preference. Mr. Esten, it is said, had a lease of the place at $25,000 a year. Dull business is attributed as the cause of the failure.

OUR MINISTER'S WIFE.

Some Things Which She Knows and Tells.

The position occupied by the minister's wife enables her to hear many things of great interest, and people are always curious to talk with her. As she is sure to relate facts just as they are, it makes her conversation all the more important.

Mrs. Rev. W. B. Worthing, of W. Berlin, Vt., is a most charming and estimable lady. She has lately been besieged to such an extent regarding a certain incident that she writes the following letter for the public benefit.

"Last March I had the grip which left my stomach in such a condition that it would dot digest anything, I could not eat even baby food without the greatest distress. My nerves were in a fearfully weak condition, and I could sleep but little. I was also full of rheumatism from head to foot, and ached awfully night and day.

"I was in a terrible state and feared I should never get well. I tried physicians and medicines but got no better. Having heard the most astonishing reports of the good done by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I determined to try that this time instead of physicians.

MRS. REV. W. B. WORTHING.

"I commenced its use and am happy to say that the results most pleasantly surprised me. I received help from the first dose in the digestion of my food; this I know surely, for I left it off for one meal and plainly noticed the difference.

"After taking two bottles my digestion was even better than before I had the grip, and my nerves were entirely restored to their normal condition. My rheumatism left me and I had no more pains at all.

"I was entirely cured of my troubles, and all through the aid of Dr. Greene's Norvura blood and nerve remedy. It is a wonderful medicine, and advise everyone who is sick or suffering from any cause to take it. It cured me and I am confident it will cure others."

Ask yourself this question honestly and fairly; if you knew a medicine would cure you, would you not take it? Well, everybody who takes Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is cured, and you will be. Commence now, in the spring, when you can be cured quickest.

A spring medicine is absolutely necessary to all, and people are sure that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the best. It was discovered by Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

NOW FOR SMOOTH WORK

Order of Business On the Tariff Agreed On.

The Conflict of the First of the Week Patched Up—Walcott's Mexican Coinage Resolution Agreed To—Postoffice Appropriation Bill Discussed in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The conflict over the order of business on the tariff bill which raged for two hours on Monday, was smoothed over yesterday by an agreement on the part of the two leaders, Senators Harris, of Tennessee, and Aldrich, of Rhode Island, that the motion for an earlier daily meeting of the senate and the demand for the first reading of the bill should be withdrawn, that for the remainder of this week the bill shall be taken up on each day at 1 p. m., and the discussion continued until 5 p. m., and that between these hours no other business shall be transacted. To this arrangement unanimous consent was given.

Subsequently the resolution offered on the previous day by Mr. Allen (pop., Neb.) for a final vote on the tariff bill on June 7 was referred to the committee on rules.

The junior senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Lodge) occupied the floor from 2 till 4:30 o'clock with a speech against the bill.

Mr. Wolcott's resolution for negotiations with Mexico for the coinage at United States mints of Mexican standard silver dollars was agreed to.

The senate consumed an hour and a half in executive session over the nomination of Geo. W. Wilson to be collector of internal revenue for the Florida district, against which Mr. Call is making a determined fight. The speeches were made principally by Mr. Pasco, who champions the nominee, and Mr. Call. At 6:10 a call of the senate disclosed the absence of a quorum and an adjournment was taken.

House of Representatives.

The postoffice appropriation bill was the principal subject of discussion in the house. The effort to prevent the postoffice department from using the bureau of engraving and printing for the manufacture of postage stamps was defeated. The item of the bill appropriating $166,000 for special mail facilities between Springfield, Mass., and Atlanta and New Orleans, was discussed for some time on a motion by Mr. Kyle (dem., Miss.) to strike it out, but no conclusion was reached.

The motion to discharge the order of arrest of absentees made March 26 was held in abeyance until to-day in order to allow the speaker to examine the rule and precedents governing in the situation.

By unanimous consent Mr. Bryan (dem., Neb.) was permitted to make a personal explanation of his references while in Denver recently to the speech made by Mr. Reed (rep., Me.) to the republican Massachusetts club some months ago, which called out a letter from Mr. Reed last week to a western correspondent who had sent him Mr. Bryan's speech. He criticized Mr. Reed's statements and then Mr. Reed responded, reiterating what he said at Boston and elaborating it.

The committee then rose, and at 5 o'clock the house adjourned.

Hon. Augustin Schoonmaker Dead.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 11.—Hon. Augustin Schoonmaker is dead from tonsilitis after an illness of three days. He was born at Rochester, March 2, 1828, and had a common school education. He was at various times county judge of Ulster county, a member of the state senate, state attorney general, civil service commissioner and inter-state commerce commissioner. He was a member of the Holland society and for 30 years was a leading democratic politician.

Scores Miss Pollard.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Col. Thompson in his address to the jury in Col. Breckinridge's behalf assailed the plaintiff in terms of unmitigated vituperation. He embellished his speech with numerous Kentucky anecdotes and did not mince words or phrases in his unsparing denunciatirn of Miss Pollard's character. He said she was a money hunter and a money getter and is not after love and affection.

Considered Important Arrests.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The secret service division of the treasury department regards the arrest in Baltimore of James L. Wilcox and wife, on a charge of "sweating" gold coin, as a very important capture. Wilcox, the secret service people say, was the head of a gang of "sweaters" who have been operating from Denver, Col., east.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The marriage of Miss Hattie Blaine, daughter of the late Hon. James G. Blaine, to Hon. Truxton Beale, ex-minister to Persia and Greece, will take place Monday April 30, at the Blaine residence on Lafayette square. Owing to the death of the father of the bride and groom the wedding will be private.

Mexico Will Object.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 11.—The agitation in the United States in favor of the plan for coining Mexican dollars in the American mints is regarded with marked disfavor here and will not receive the approval of this government. Mexico cannot possibly concede to a foreign nation the right to coin its dollars.

ALBANY DEMOCRATS DEFEATED

The Honest Elections Party Elects Its Mayor and a Majority of the Ticket.

ALBANY, April 11.—The municipal election here resulted in the complete overthrow of the old Cleveland democratic organization, Oren E. Wilson, a republican, the candidate of the honest elections party, a fusion of the new democratic organization and the republicans, being elected mayor, over James Rooney, by an estimated majority of 3,400 votes.

The elections party also elects a good working majority of the board of aldermen and supervisors. Both these boards have been democratic for years.

The contest passed off quietly except in the 7th ward, where there was more or less trouble all day, owing to the efforts to run in repeaters. Several arrests were made, and Roark, of the old democratic organization, was also taken into custody for electioneering within 150 feet of the polling place in his district. In the second ward, which usually gives 400 democratic majority, Wilson received a majority of over 200. So in other wards was the democratic vote likewise reduced by hundreds.

Last fall the democratic majority for the state ticket in Albany was about 5,000, while James H. Manning, the present democratic mayor of Albany, was elected two years ago by a majority of nearly 6,000.

Republicans Sweep Lockport.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., April 11.—In the charter elections here the republicans won by sweeping majorities, electing James Atwater for mayor and five out of six aldermen. The city is normally republican by from 50 to 100.

New Castle, Del., Goes Democratic.

NEW CASTLE, Del., April 11.—There was little interest taken in the city election here and a light vote was polled, the republicans making no fight. A straight democratic ticket was elected.

Town Elections in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The republicans carried a majority of the town elections in California Monday.

Furious Storm on Jersey Coast.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 11.—A furious gale blew inshore all night along the entire New Jersey coast. The sea is high and rough, and a rain and snow storm prevailed. The storm is liable to cause damage to shipping.

Democratic House Caucus.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The democratic house caucus last night accomplished two things. First, it reiterated that plank of the national platform which provides for the repeal of the prohibitory tax on state bank issues. Second, to enable this plank to be executed that the Brawley bill should be introduced and an amendment permitted to be offered repealing the 10 per cent. tax on state banks and that the committee on rules be directed to provide for a full discussion upon this and other amendments.

Sudden Death of M. G. Colt.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Morgan G. Colt, of this city, son of Mr. Colt who invented the revolver, dropped dead in front of the postoffice in Summit, N. J., at noon. He owned a large residence there, which has been leased by Gustav H. Schawb for the last five years. Mr. Colt was arranging with Mr. James H. Kelly to have some repairs made to his property, when he suddenly reeled and fell dead.

Stopped Running for Want of Legs.

MADRID, April 11.—The Duchess of Manchester narrowly escaped losing her jewels while traveling through the Basque provinces. A thief stole them between Algeria and Victoria, but in trying to escape from the train he fell under the wheels. When he was picked up both legs were found to be crushed. The jewels were returned to the duchess uninjured.

CONGRESSIONAL SALARIES.

Holman, of Indiana, Wants Them All Cut Twenty Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Representative Holman, of Indiana, is in hearty sympathy with the resolution introduced in the senate by Mr. George, of Mississippi, last week to reduce the salaries of representatives and senators.

"It is a very worthy measure," said Mr. Holman. "It ought to pass. Congress ought to show some sympathy with the people in this hour of general destitution and unrest."

"At what figure would you fix the salaries of representatives and senators?"

"Oh," replied Mr. Holman, "I should say at $4,000. That would be a cut of 20 per cent. I think that would be sufficient."

"Would such a resolution pass the house?"

"If it passed the senate it would certainly pass the house."

"How is it likely to come before the senate?"

"It might be placed as a rider on the legislative appropriation bill. If this were done it is hardly probable that it would be stricken off on a point of order, for it would be germane to the paragraph which provides for the salaries of congressmen."

"Do you think that such an amendment will be offered to the bill when it comes up in the house?"

"That," said Mr. Holman, moving away from the reporter at this point, "I cannot say."

WHERE IS DA GAMA?

Reported Now That He Is Still Aboard the Mindello.

(Copyright, 1894, by the United Press.)

BUENOS AYRES, April 11.—One hundred and twelve Brazilian insurgent officers and sailors who escaped from the Portuguese warships Mindello and Alfonso de Albuquerque on Sunday afternoon have landed at the Buenos Ayres quarantine station.

Admiral da Gama, who was reported to be among those who escaped, is now said to have refused at the last moment to leave the Mindello.

The plan for the escape of the Brazilians was concocted in this city by Brazilian refugees.

When the United Press correspondent called at the Portuguese legation to inquire what action would be taken by the Portuguese government in view of the escape of the fugitives, the legation officials refused to give any information beyond saying that the two Portuguese men of war had sailed for Montevideo.

ADMIRAL BENHAM RETIRED.

The Gallant Commander's Days of Service Ended at Midnight.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—At midnight Rear-Admiral A. E. K. Benham became a retired officer and Commodore Francis M. Ramsey was promoted to the vacancy. Admiral Benham formally hauled down his flag on leaving the San Francisco at Curacos several days ago and is now understood to be on a merchant steamer approaching New York, where he should arrive before the end of this week.

A movement is on foot to give him a hearty welcome on his return in recognition of his firm position in behalf of American interests at Rio, his course virtually having destroyed the blockade of that port.

National Mine Workers' Convention.

COLUMBUS, O., April 11.—At the opening of the national convention of United Mine Workers of America President McBride severely scored General Secretary Hayes of the Knights of Labor for dishonesty and untruthfulness in representing that the national district assembly had 22,000 members at the time of the amalgamation when in fact it had only 7,000. He said if Hayes was not removed by the executive committee of the Knights of Labor the national district assembly should withdraw from it. McBride's utterances upon the wage question fully bears out the reports that a strike of national proportions is to follow this meeting.

Wyckoff Still Missing.

BLOOMSBURG, N. J., April 11.—The whereabouts of ex-Senator Wyckoff, who left Asbury Park on Thursday last, leaving about $35,000 of unsettled accounts, is still a mystery. His friends deny all knowledge of his present whereabouts.

COXEY'S ARMY RESTS

Held at Uniontown on Account of the Storm.

Numerous Desertions Looked for as the Men Seem Afraid to Attempt the Journey Over the Mountains—San Francisco Division in Trouble in Utah—The Boston Contingent.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 11.—Coxey's coumonweal army is still encamped in a grove just outside of this town and likely to remain there until the terrible mountain storm, which howled all night and this morning, subsides. When the furious storm swept down and the weather grew colder, with snow falling thick and fast, driving everybody indoors, the camp fires of the commonweal had to be forsaken for the more comfortable space inside a dining hall in the grove. Because of this tempest, the worst experienced here in years, the army spent most of the day in camp, only a few venturing down town to loiter about the public places.

At the encampment the scenes were really interesting. The barbers, tailors and cobblers of the command were kept busy at their respective trades. Two meals, consisting of coffee and bread, were served, and at night the men got hot vegetable soup, meat, bread and coffee.

Except the storm, the only matter talked about in Camp McCormick is the march over the mountains. In a special order Chief Marshall Browne made specific mention of the fact that any who feared the trip should drop out. The talk among the men is that this request will be literally complied with by many of them. Reports placed the number of probable deserters at one hundred.

Tramps constitute about two-fifths of the force, while the remainder are mainly roving workingmen of different trades, many of whom carry with them their tools, professedly with the intention of taking the first chance of employment offered. They state that they have joined the army in sympathy with its intentions, but are willing to desert at any time for good positions. The real cause of the grumbling is said to be not fear of hardships in traveling the mountains, but the concern about food.

All day the marshals of the army have been soliciting provisions about town, and Mr. Coxey claims to have purchased a supply of hard tack, bacon and coffee sufficient for four days' rations. Commissary Marshal Rinn says they have half a ton of hard tack, 200 pounds of coffee and 1,000 pounds of bacon. A considerable amount of clothing has also been procured and will be distributed among them to-day. As the army has but two commissary wagons a portion of the supplies will be shipped by rail to a point beyond the mountains.

Many people here have contributed to the army's support out of pity for the men, who look miserable.

One of the cowardly members of the commonweal army was arrested for fast riding, and Mr. Coxey paid his fine. Another of Coxey's brigade was sentenced to jail for 24 hours for drunkenness. One case of robbery was reported, and a member of Coxey's brigade was blamed, but the police authorities are inclined to believe that a gang of Pittsburg crooks, now in town, are responsible for the affair.

For the first time since he came east Browne was attired to-day in civilian garb, having discarded the cowboy attire.

GEN. KELLY'S CONTINGENT.

Stopped By Utah Officials and Suffering from Exposure.

OGDEN, Utah, April 11.—The industrial army, under command of Gen. Kelly arrived here from San Francisco and the leader was at once confronted with the order of the court that the Southern Pacific railroad should at once return the army over the Utah border. The railroad company refused to take the men back. Afterwards, it was decided to let the men go on east, the army agreeing to furnish a crew for the train, which would be provided by the railroad company. At a late hour they had not succeeded in getting a train.

There is great suffering among the army from exposure. One has died and a dozen are in a precarious condition. There were over 1,000 in the army Monday night but a count to-day showed 250 less than when they arrived in this city.

Don't Intend to Tramp.

BOSTON, April 11.—Registration for the Boston division of Coxey's army continues and some fifty men were added to the list during the past twenty-four hours by M. D. Fitzgerald. Mr. Fitzgerald says that the army does not propose to tramp to Washington, but expects to induce some railroad company to furnish free transportation.

Prendergast in the Dungeon.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Prendergast, the murderer of Mayor Harrison, is at present confined in the dungeon cell, as a result of disobeying the prison rules and fighting with the guards. He bit and scratched like a tiger and was pretty roughly handled before he was locked in the dark and cold cell.

Buffalo's Spring Blizzard.

BUFFALO, April 11.—A blinding snowstorm raged here for 24 hours and at midnight a blizzard of unusual severity prevailed. Reports from points in the Genesee valley state that the wind is blowing a gale and that the most severe storm of the season has been raging for 30 hours.

Her Remains Petrified.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 11.—The remains of Mrs. Mary Holtzfus, who died here nine years ago, has just been taken up for shipment to Philadelphia for a second burial. The body has petrified and weighs over 600 pounds, but weighed only 125 at death.

Removed as Game Protector.

ALBANY, April 11.—John Sheridan, of Penn Yan, has been removed as a fish and game protector of his district. His removal has been petitioned for for the past three years by various sporting associations.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The storm drove three wanderers into the borough lockup for protection during the night.

—A section of picket fence on Somerset street, near Jackson avenue, was blown down this morning.

—The gypsies have arrived at their annual encampment near Campbell's clubhouse, Park avenue.

—Jeweler Caleb Dickinson slipped and fell on North avenue this morning and was badly shaken up.

—Walter E. Probasco and Arthur B. Crane have formed a partnership for the advertising novelty business.

—A telegraph pole on Clinton avenue was carried down by the wind, and weight of snow on the wires.

—David Strauss, a large dry-goods merchant of Newark, has leased the store in the Love Building on West Front street, from May 1.

—The bad weather prevented the teachers and officers of Trinity Reformed Sunday-school from attending the quarterly session last evening.

—Two large maple trees fell on East Third street early this morning, one in front of Wm. E. Alpaugh's house and the other by Wm. Laing's.

—Several telephone poles on Somerset street near Jackson avenue gave promise of falling when the storm struck them, and are tilted considerably and swaying in the wind.

—Mr. Karlstraum, a Swedish missionary from Brooklyn, will address the Swedish Bible Class in the Park Avenue Baptist Church this evening at 7:30, in the class-room upstairs.

—A meeting of the Reform Club will be held tomorrow evening in Reform Hall. A paper will be read of interest to the club and its friends. Everyone is invited, and a large attendance is requested.

—A bitter east storm of wind, rain and snow has raged nearly twenty-four hours, crippling the telephone and telegraph service, and making the streets as disagreeable as in midwinter. People who did so much gardening in the fine days of March feel discouraged, and the tales of the ruin of the peach crop are as great as ever.

THOUGHT TO BE INSANE.

The Mother Whose Boy Was Kidnaped from the Children's Home Causes Trouble for the Police.

A woman who was lodged in the city lockup during last night was the source of much trouble to the police today.

She was noticed first in the city yesterday afternoon. In the evening she went to different hotels and was refused lodging. Policeman Frederickson found her about 10 on Park avenue in company with a Courier reporter. She asked the policeman where she could get a night's lodging, and was told that she could go to the lockup. Officer Frederickson took her to a cell, where she spent most of the night, weeping over the death of her mother.

This morning Chief Grant took her to the North avenue station, as she said she wished to go to Somerville. The woman showed him her money, forty cents.

Thence the woman went to the office of A. V. D. Honeyman, who recognized her as Mrs. S Apgar of Pottersville, whom he had assisted in legal matters. It was her son who was taken from the Children's Home by his father last week, as was told exclusively in The Daily Press.

Mrs. Apgar told Mr. Honeyman that the police had taken a $5 bill and a $25 check from her and had not returned them. The woman was confronted with Policeman Feederickson this afternoon. Their stories of what happened in the night were decidedly contradictory.

Frederickson's story was supported by Policeman Kiely and Flanagan and Chief Grant.

Those who met the woman last evening say she is insane, and her actions today would seem to show the same. The hotel men she encountered were very suspicious of her. The honesty of the policemen is unquestioned.

LOST IN THE STORM.

A SCHOONER FOUNDERED ON THE JERSEY COAST.

Twelve Men Carried Away by Falling Spars or Swept to Death by Heavy Seas—Life Guards Powerless to Save.

(Special to The Press.)

SANDY HOOK, April 11—In the thick weather which prevailed on the Jersey coast this morning, when the wind was howling seventy miles an hour, a three-masted schooner was blown ashore at Squan, a point between Sandy Hook and the Highlands of the Navesink.

Just when she went ashore has not yet been ascertained, but about 9, when the fog lifted a little, the crew of Life Saving Station No. 2 made her out on the beach, with great seas breaking over her. Capt. Patterson and his crew in the adjoining station were notified, and they proceeded at once to the assistance of Station No. 2.

Before Captain Patterson and his men reached the scene, the crew of No. 2 had made an attempt to get a line aboard the schooner. The mortar was run out, and a line shot to the vessel, but it failed to reach.

From the shore the men could make out that the schooner was pounding to pieces rapidly on the beach.

When Capt. Patterson had reached the scene two more attempts were made to reach the imperilled men aboard the schooner.

Twice were life lines shot out in her direction, but, as before, failed to reach her. At that time an observer stationed on shore reported that he could see the schooner going to pieces, and that none of the crew had been taken off.

The wind was then blowing 70 miles an hour, and the rain was coming down in torrents. Both interfered seriously with the work of the life-savers.

At 11 a despatch from the Highlands of the Navesink stated that the crew of the schooner, consisting of twelve men, had been drowned.

The life lines fell short, and the crews of the life-saving stations were unable to render the crew any assistance.

The vessel went to pieces in the storm and the crew was washed overboard. All were lost.

None of the bodies lost had been recovered up to noon.

Six men went down with the bowsprit. One man swam ashore and stood up in the undertow, but was knocked down by the breakers and carried back into the sea and lost.

One man went down with the mast and held on to a rope for nearly half an hour, then let go and sank.

There is terrible damage being done by the sea from a mile north of the bridge to Seabright.

At Hotel Normandie a building has fallen into the sea and is going to pieces.

The whole beach, from Seabright for three miles north, is under water.

TWELVE FAMILIES BURNED OUT.

(Special to The Press.)

BAYONNE, April 11—Twelve families, of forty persons, were burned out before 4 this morning, three tenement-houses being destroyed during the fierce gale. A general alarm was sent out soon after the fire broke out, but the firemen could do little. They were hampered by a scarcity of water and had to devote most of their attention to aiding the tenants to get out. Some had quite narrow escapes. The tenants lost all their effects, on which there was no insurance. The loss on the buildings is $10,000

The origin of the fire is not known.

The engine recently purchased from Plainfield was not used.

Sensation in the Borough.

A North Plainfield man telephoned to the station house at 7:30 last evening that a woman was shouting murder and calling for the police at the corner of Mercer avenue and Park place. As he said he could not find a policeman and it was possible that a crime was being committed, Chief Grant and Officer Kiely went over at once.

They found that the woman in the case was Mrs. Desandez who was complaining of the actions of Hackman Daniel Galbraith. The regular marshal was in another part of his beat, which covers the western half of the borough, but Special Marshal Stewart was there.

The city officers suggested to Stewart that he arrest Galbraith, but after a talk with the woman he decided not to. Galbraith then went away and quiet was restored. Galbraith and Mrs. Desandez are the twain who always occupy a box in Music Hall.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., L.L. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

A Plainfield Policeman Does the City.

A Plainfield policeman went to New York last week with his son. The son sought a position, and the two went up the east side to a man who had advertised. The visit successfully over, the pair from Plainfield started for the City Hall by the elevated. The train they took went the other way, a fact which they discovered when they reached the northern terminus.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c

AGAIN THE OPERA AT CRANFORD.

The Alcaeus Society Sings the "Doctor of Alcantara" and Drops the Curtain on Its Most Successful Season.

Cranford's pretty theatre was well filled last night when the Alcaeus Society closed the season of 1893-'94 with Eichberg's dainty Spanish opera comique "The Doctor of Alcantara". Everybody in Cranford was there, almost everybody in Westfield, a good deal of Elizabeth and a creditable showing from Plainfield. And they were all well repaid for the going. It is no small jump from the land of the languid Japanese to the sunny vales of Spain, and yet the clever players of the Alcaeus slipped out of the flowing gowns and fans and sandals of "The Mikado" and into the mantillas and sombreros and zerapes of tranquil Alcantara with perfect ease. The cast was thus:

Dr. Paracelcus	William Holmes
Carlos	Ogden W. Ring
Don Pomposo	Robt. P. Moore
Senor Balthazar	Robt. F. Hibson
Perez	H. R. VanSaun
Sancho	W. S. Barnaby
Isabella	Miss Ethel Voorhies Thompson
Lucrezia	Miss Sadie J. Brown
Inez	Miss Nettie Hellerman

William Holmes, representing Plainfield in the cast, easily carried away the first honors as the much abused doctor, a part that, seemed made for him and the music of which fitted his voice to a nicety. Mr. Ring as Carlos did his best work of the season, singing tunefully and looking the very ideal of the poetic lover. Mr. Moore was tremendous, Mr. Hibson unctious, and Messrs. VanSaun and Barnaby amusing in their particular roles.

Miss Thompson as Isabella, was bewitchingly pretty, and sang extremely well. Miss Hellerman, in a comedy part, acted cleverly and won no end of applause. Miss Brown had an ungrateful part and deserved great credit for making it both attractive and graceful. There was a wealth of flowers for those filling the feminine roles.

The chorus, as usual, was altogether excellent, although it had small opportunity to display its ability in this opera. What it did, however, was well done, and the mounting and staging were above criticism.

Charles H. Day conducted the adequate orchestra and H. M. Jackson directed the whole affair—as always—with rare care and intelligence.

BASE-BALL AND CYCLING.

The work of grading the track at the new grounds of the Crescent Wheelmen has been completed. The cinders were to be loaded today and brought to Plainfield for spreading. Twenty carloads of the best cinders have been donated by the always generous Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, and the track will be made the best in the State.

A number of out-of-town managers are negotiating for use of the proposed diamond on the grounds. The Wheelmen will have stages run to and from the grounds, affording quick and cheap transit, and the street railway company are planning for an extension out that way.

Stock in the Wheelmen's enterprise is being subscribed for liberally, as is right. Those who have public spirit enough to help such a project, which is a genuine aid to a town, should not wait to be looked up, but should go to W. H. Rogers, C. E. Teel or J. A. Haynes, and subscribe materially.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The High School Lyceum will hold its regular meeting Friday afternoon. The programme will consist of a declamation by T. D. Blair, '95, and a debate on the question "Will Electricity be a Greater Benefactor of Mankind than Steam has been?" E. I. Serrell, '95, and G. A. Howe, '95, will speak for the affirmative; and H. O. Nightingale, '96, and L. Fish, '96, for the negative.

The regular meeting of the Kappa Delta Phi will be held Friday afternoon. As it will be a Wendell Phillips meeting, each member will speak for two minutes on the life and works of Wendell Phillips.

Putnam & DeGraw.

Two popular young men who know the dry-goods business thoroughly, are Putnam & DeGraw, who in their new enterprise at 210 West Front street will carry with them much good will and patronage. They have opened a store which is fully stocked with hosiery, underwear, laces, ribbons, notions, trimmings, wash dress goods, men's furnishings, and dressmakers' supplies. They are enterprising and progressive merchants, and should win success.

Tornado Tonight.

Bad weather is today's, but worse (on the stage) is promised for tonight in "The Tornado" in Music Hall. This play is plentifully spiced with sensational situations. Among the scenic features are a collision at sea, a sinking ship, a burning house, and finally a tornado that displays to thrilling advantages the present possibilities of stage illusion.

HOW JEPTHA GOT OUT.

TOWNSHIP FATHERS TOO POOR TO PAY FOR HIS KEEP.

So the Visionary Crank is Turned Loose in a Community Whose City Judge He Murderously Assaulted.

When Jeptha Wagener reappeared on the streets of Plainfield, everybody naturally wondered how he came to get out of the asylum.

The cause of his being sent there was his crazy attack on Judge Wm. A. Coddington, whom he murderously assaulted with a horsewhip.

Plainfield physicians pronounced Jeptha insane, and he was sent to the asylum in Trenton. This probably saved him from a term in State Prison for his offense against the peace.

The question who should pay for his keeping was immediately disputed. The Freeholders of Somerset refused to meet the expense of the examination and transfer, and then the Township Committee protested against paying the bills in his case.

It is now asserted that the chief if not the sole reason for releasing Jeptha was the matter of cost. The authorities visited Mrs. Wagener, who was being maintained at the old farm by kind neighbors, and asked her if she would like to see her husband again.

She, thinking that they meant she could go to Trenton on a visit, said Yes. Later, learning that the intention was to release him, she said, "If he comes back he'll kill me".

A few days afterwards Jeptha came back to Plainfield, clothed anew, but whether or not in his right mind is a question. He excited comment by his queer doings, and paid a visit to The Press, where he refused to recognize his friends, and demanded copies of past issues to bring suit for damages.

The neighbors of Jeptha in the mountains state that he has resumed his former manner of living, staying up all night, standing on a chair or table and preaching to an imaginary audience, or writing out prospectuses of wildcat schemes. They have ceased helping the family because they are afraid to go there, as in his wild moments he is thought to be dangerous, judging from his treatment of his wife and children.

The state of the man's mental capacity may be inferred from a letter addressed to the representative of The Press at the last Republican National Convention in Minneapolis:

You will find in Minneapolis a Mr. Robinson his sheetiron roofeing wears his wife is my cousin give them my good wishes my suit will begin today D L & W R R for $50,000 Holy fathers of Palestine Columbus 400 years who held the ballas of this world in the hollow of his hand J A WAGENER.

THE NEW SPRING SUIT.

Watson & Co. Show the Correct Styles in All Their Broad and Market Street Windows.

Watson & Co., like all fashionable tailors, are now very busy making the new Dove-Tail Cutaway Suits now in such strong demand.

These fashionable suits are cut from the new twilled Vicunas, either all through alike, or in black and dark blues with pants from lighter shades. Watson & Co. make up exact duplicates of all the custom styles and have them "all ready to put on" at $15, $15.50 and $18, which you should see before you buy. Ask for the new Vicuna Suits, which are hung on separate racks in their Market street extension as fast as their tailors can finish them.—Newark Item.

The Third Choral.

The third concert of the Choral Society will be given in Music Hall, Tuesday evening, May 15, instead of May 10, as already announced in The Press. In the oratorio "Elijah" the members will be assisted by Miss Ziffora Monteith, Mrs. Carl Alves, W. H. Reiger and Ericsson Bushnell.

Gone to a Wedding.

Miss Lillian D. Garretson and George M. MacIntyre left Plainfield this morning on the 5:28 train for Poughkeepsie, to be present at the wedding of Mr. MacIntyre's cousin, Allen Howard Craft, of Harlem, to Miss Flora Wilbur Porteous, of Poughkeepsie. The ceremony was to take place in Christ Church at 12 noon. Mr. and Mrs. Craft will reside in this city after a short time.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

HYMENEAL.

Love—Dunn.

Miss Ella Dunn and James Love were married last evening at the home of Rev. Cornelius Sebenck, and left town this morning for Succasunna, the home of the groom's parents.

Mr. Love's mother is today celebrating the anniversary of her birthday, and the young couple intend surprising them.

At the marriage the bride wore a dark green dress trimmed with lace, while the groom was neatly dressed in a suit of conventional black.

On their return tomorrow evening they will make their residence at the home of the bride's parents until next Fall, when they will probably go to housekeeping.

A very handsome silver water pitcher was a gift from Mr. Love's employer, J. A. Smith.

Davis—Pope.

The marriage of Miss Jennie E. Pope to Charles Davis took place this afternoon at 3 at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pope, 92 Somerset street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles E. Herring. Miss Cora King, of Newark, was bridesmaid, and David S. Dunavan best man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. A. D. Pope.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left on the 3:43 train for Philadelphia, whence they will go to Bridgeton, the home of Mr. Davis's parents. They will return to this city, which will be their home.

On account of the illness of James C. Pope the wedding was private.

NEWS OF NEAR NEIGHBORS.

Westfield.

John Platt of Philadelphia has moved into the DeLamater cottage on Lawrence avenue.

The Town Committee will hold their next regular meeting Monday evening, April 16, at 7:30.

Aaron Clark, who has been confined to the house for the past week with illness, is slowly improving.

Two new greenhouses are to be added to the already large establishment of Jepson & Doerrer on Prospect street.

The Westfield Club bowlers of this place will roll a game with the Board of Trade on the alleys of the latter on Friday evening. This will be the last of a series of five games, and a very interesting game is expected.

The Westfield Club held their annual meeting last evening in their club-house on Elm street and the following were elected the officers of the club for the ensuing year:

President—Charles Bishop.
Vice-president—Eugene McGarrah.
Treasurer—Isaac Seeley.
Recording Secretary—Strother W. Rice.
Corresponding Secretary—Judson C. Mangan.
Trustees—W. B. Toucey, G. H. Embree, S. W. Reese, A. A. Drake.

The committee who have in charge the Westfield centennial celebration, to be held July 4 in connection with the National holiday, wants a township appropriation of money to carry through the enterprise. An effort will be made to have Assemblyman Codding work a bill through the Legislature that will make it possible to vote public money for such a purpose, and then to hold a special election in Westfield to vote for the appropriation. The idea of taxing the township to pay for the celebration is raising strong opposition. Heretofore the expenses of Fourth of July celebrations have been raised by subscription. Should the programme be carried out and the matter of public appropriation come to a vote it is doubtful if it can be carried.

Last Dance of the Corps.

The series of dances which have been given by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps ended last evening, when about 100 young people danced in Hulett's Hall until 4:30 this morning. The room was decorated with flags and bunting. Supper was served at 12 by the committee. Nathan J. Guttman's musicians were assisted by Frank Manchester.

The committee in charge consisted of David Bodine, Augustus Wilson, Albert Allen, J. V. Beekman, N. C. Ackerman and F. L. Manchester.

Grist of the City Court.

City Judge Coddington this morning found John Fillmore guilty of drunken misbehavior in the Netherwood Italian headquarters and made him pay a fine of $3.

Robert Alexander was adjudged guilty of disorderly conduct on Park avenue while intoxicated. His sentence was suspended.

ASSIST NATURE a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, and toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its tardy action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, biliousness, skin diseases, boils, carbuncles, piles, fistulas and maladies too numerous to mention.

If people would pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their bowels, they would have less frequent occasion to call for their doctor's services to subdue attacks of dangerous diseases.

That, of all known agents to accomplish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequalled, is proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion.

NEW JERSEY ELECTIONS

Results at a Number of Cities and Towns.

Republicans Make Sweeping Gains at Several Points—Were Victorious at Trenton, Newark, Jersey City and Other Places—Democrats Ahead at Paterson and Rahway.

TRENTON, N. J., April 11.—The republicans have carried the board of aldermen and all the city offices will fall into their hands.

The democrats carried only one ward, the fourth. The remarkable feature of the election was the lightness of the total vote and the heavy republican majorities.

Nearly all the unemployed in the city voted the republican ticket.

The next board of aldermen will stand fifteen republicans to eight democrats. John W. Barber, the republican candidate for alderman-at-large, is elected by a majority of 2,000, the heaviest majority ever given to a candidate for a local office.

Republican Victory at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, April 11.—After the most apathetic canvass that this city ever saw the republicans won a greater victory than they did two years ago when they elected Mayor Wanser. His majority was 3,500, while the complete returns for the different districts now give 4,759. The republicans elect five out of six aldermen. The democrats carried the second or "horse shoe" district by only thirty votes, their usual majority being from a thousand to twelve hundred. The present board of aldermen stands seven republicans to six democrats; the new board will be nine republicans to four democrats.

Democratic Gain at Paterson.

PATERSON, N. J., April 11.—Two surprises in the election here were the victory of Ezra M. Stiles, the citizen's and democratic candidate in the fourth ward, a republican stronghold; and of Matthew Maguire, the candidate of the socialistic labor party in the eighth ward, a democratic stronghold. The next board of aldermen will be a tie. The election was a democratic gain.

Republican Loss at Rahway.

RAHWAY, N. J., April 11.—The city election resulted in the election of a democratic water commissioner, a republican school commissioner and one republican and one democratic assessor. The democrats captured two councilmen, while the republicans elected two. This is a republican loss of one, in the fourth ward.

Republican Gains at Elizabeth.

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 11.—The election passed off quietly here. Mayor John C. Hahn, republican, has been re-elected by a greatly increased majority. The republicans elect two out of four freeholders and a majority of the city councilmen.

Newark Goes Republican.

NEWARK, April 11.—The republicans elect Julius A. Lebkuecher mayor over James M. Seymour, democrat, by over 3,000 majority. They also elect six out of nine candidates for the common council.

Result at New Brunswick

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 11.—The democrats elected three aldermen and the combined republicans and city club elected three. The democrats have eight majority in the common council.

Republicans Carry Both Oranges.

ORANGE, N. J., April 11.—The republicans made a clean sweep here, electing every candidate. In East Orange the republicans also made a clean sweep.

Election Result at Lambertville.

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., April 11.—At the regular spring election held here the entire republican ticket, with two or three exceptions, was elected. The most bitter fight was for members of the council and one excise commissioner. Datis Reed, no-license candidate, was elected by 36 majority. This gives the no-license men a majority of one and practically closes the saloons and hotels. The republicans now have a majority of five in the council.

Against Prejudice.

"Prejudice is a thief and robs us of many good things." Not the least of those of which it deprives some of us is the aid of the most valuable medicines, upon which we look with suspicion, simply because they are proprietary preparations. Yet, in certain cases, those medicines are the perfected results of the highest scientific knowledge, undoubted professional skill and long experiment. There is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, put up in accordance with a prescription that he employed with unbounded success for many years before he offered it to the public. There is nothing so good for the restoration to health of the disordered vital organs and for the purification of the blood. This has been proved in thousands of cases. The person who would hesitate to use Favorite Remedy because it is proprietary medicine would be foolish.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

SEVERN T. WALLIS DEAD

Passes Away at His Home in Baltimore.

A Well-Known Practitioner and Author of Two Volumes on Spain of Considerable Merit—A Whig, Then a Know-Nothing and Last a Democrat—He Died a Bachelor.

BALTIMORE, April 11.—Severn Teackle Wallis, well-known practitioner, died at his home early this morning of a complication of diseases.

Severn Teackle Wallis, A. M., LL. D., was born in Baltimore, Sept. 8, 1816; was graduated from St. Mary's college, Baltimore, 1832, read law with the late William Wirt and the late Judge John Glenn, and was admitted to the bar in 1837. He was elected corresponding secretary of the Royal Academy of History of Madrid in 1843, and in 1846 was chosen a fellow of the Royal Society of Northern Antiquities at Copenhagen.

His "Glimpses of Spain" published by Harpers in 1849 was well received and passed to a second edition.

In 1849 he was sent to Spain by the government of the United States to examine the title of public lands in Florida. "Spain: Her Institutions, Politics and Public Men," was published as a result of this visit, and was well received both in the United States and England.

In politics Mr. Wallis was a whig until the organization of the know-nothing party, afterward becoming a democrat, with which party he had since been connected.

In 1861 Mr. Wallis was a delegate to the state legislature, and, as chairman of federal relations, made reports which were obnoxious to the federal authorities. He was arrested and imprisoned for several months.

Mr. Wallis was never married and had, with the exception noted, never held public office.

NOT PAUPER IMMIGRANTS.

The Head of a Detained Family Produced $2,586.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Joseph Karsky, 41 years old, and his large family, which included his wife, Helena, five children, ranging in age from 2 to 15 years, and his father and mother, aged 75 and 65 respectively, were steerage passengers on the Netherlands-American steamship Veendam, from Rotterdam.

When they reached Ellis island they were detained by the authorities on account of their unkempt appearance, as paupers, and likely to become a public charge. At the hearing before the board of special inquiry, the man stated that he had owned a farm there which he had sold for the purpose of coming to America to settle. His was going to Dakota, where he had a friend named Franz Zundee Dickinson, a land owner.

It took quite a lot of urging to get the man to tell whether he had any money. After the interpreter had convinced him that if he had any it would not be taken from him he put his hand into one of the pockets of his peasant garb and drew forth a greasy and worn wallet. It was examined by the board and found to contain $2,000 in crisp united States bills and $580 in in gold coin. The board admitted the family.

Labor Troubles at Olneyville.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 11.—There is every indication that the strike begun by the weavers of the Riverside mills in Olneyville last week will fall through completely within a few days. Already the operatives are weakening and applying for work, and while not half of the number have gone back, there have been sufficient defections to warrant the expectation of a general return. The strikers went out for the reason that the mill management had turned every other loom "about-face," so as to have them run in pairs, and one weaver was asked to operate two looms. The contention was, first, that this meant the obtaining of two men's work from one man and a practical reduction of wages by 50 per cent., and, lastly, so many fines for imperfect weaving that not even the low wages made under the one loom plan could be depended upon.

Archbishop Fabre as a Censor.

MONTREAL, April 11.—His Grace, Archbishop Fabre, some time ago forbade the faithful of his church to read "Les Trois Mousquetaires," by Alexander Dumas, which was advertised to appear in the Canada Revue. Le Monde was also forbidden to publish it, although it did appear after being subjected to expurgation. La Patrie then follo wed with the announcement that it would publish "Monte Cristo," by the same author, but this was denounced by the archbishop. Lastly the Compagnie Dramatique Francaise have been rehearsing "Les Trois Mousquetaires" in a hall under the chapel of the church of St. Jean Baptiste. When the archbishop learned of this, he denounced the play, which was to have been produced Monday night, and forbade the church to be used for such purpose. Another play was therefore substituted.

Bennett as a Yachtsman.

LONDON, April 11.—The Telegraph, commenting on the reported statement of James Gordon Bennett that he will bring the yacht Vigilant to England, says the performances of that boat in English waters will be watched with even greater attention than was the career of the Navahoe, keen as was the interest taken in that vessel last season. The Telegraph thinks that the Vigilant's participation in races here may finally settle the still disputed question whether English yachts are equal to American under the conditions of English racing.

Chinese Wreck a Mission.

SHANGHAI, April 11.—The French missions at Hsianiu, in the province of Shen-Si, have been burned by a riotous mob. The priests in charge of the missions were severely maltreated by the mob, and, in addition, have been thrown into prison. The French government, through its minister to China, has demanded redress for the outrage, and has threatened to take energetic measures to obtain satisfaction should there be any delay in according justice to the missionaries, punishing the offenders and granting compensation for the loss incurred.

Cuts in Quick Succession.

ANSONIA, Conn., April 11.—The wages of the employes of the Star Pin company have been reduced 10 per cent. This is the second cut made at the mill within a short time and much dissatisfaction is expressed by the employes. The company's manager says that the reduction was absolutely necessary owing to the great cut in prices of the manufactured goods.

Victoria Visits Humbert.

FLORENCE, April 11.—Queen Victoria returned King Humbert's visit at 5 o'clock. King Humbert met her majesty at the entrance to the palace and kissed her hand. Queen Victoria was carried in her chair into the grand salon, where she held a reception lasting half an hour. The queen was cheered as she took her departure for the villa.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 11.—The contract for making paper for the United States internal revenue department for one year from June 1 has been awarded to the Alexander Valfour Paper mills of West Philadelphia. The contract last year was awarded to the Walker Mills of Burnside, Conn.

Victoria and Lord Melbourne.

When Lord Melbourne became the queen's prime minister on her accession in 1837, she was a young girl only a few days over 18 years of age. When Lord Melbourne was succeeded by Sir Robert Peel in 1841, the queen was still a girl in years, but she was 22 and married. Under the gentle auspices of Lord Melbourne the girl princess became a woman and a queen. Sir Robert Peel's task was a very different one. By the queen's side he found a prince three months younger than the sovereign, a foreigner by birth, full of keen intellectual interests, of singularly strong and masterful character, absorbed by honorable ambition to utilize powers he was conscious of possessing, and yet, owing to the jealous regard of English statesmen in former times, precluded by constitutional usage from taking his place on the throne beside his wife.

The queen had been anxious to make her husband king consort and indeed had strained every nerve to bring it about, but Lord Melbourne had turned a deaf ear to hints and suggestions, and it was only when he met her plain request by the rough though not unfriendly remark: "For God's sake, let's hear no more of it, ma'am. If you once get the English people into the habit of making kings, you may get them into the habit of unmaking them," that the subject was dropped.—Nineteenth Century.

Trying to Escape.

"There," said the young wife proudly as she deposited the hot plate carefully on the table, "that's the first mince pie that I ever made without any help, all alone myself."

"So it is!" exclaimed her husband enthusiastically, looking it over critically meanwhile. "And as long as it is the very first, my dear, don't you think that instead of cutting it it would be nice to keep it for a souvenir? How would it do to have it framed?"—Somerville Journal.

The More the Better.

He—Is there such a thing as a man knowing too much?

She—Not if he tells it all to his wife.—Detroit Free Press.

Recording a Claim.

A former resident of California tells many amusing incidents of the people of the mining district in which he lived for some years. When a person discovers a mineral vein, it is the duty of the mining district recorder, at request, to proceed upon the spot and record a notice of the claim. The recorder of one of the mining districts, having to absent himself for a short time, left, as he thought, a competent deputy in his stead, charging him particularly in recording any "claim" to mention its distance from some other object for future reference and identification. On his return he found that the deputy had recorded only one claim during his absence, and that was graphically described as "located about 800 yards north of an old, broken wheelbarrow."—Youth's Companion.

A Sharp Tongued Judge.

Some of Mr. Justice Matthews' obiter dicta will be long remembered, such as the remark, "The truth will occasionally leak out, even in an affidavit." Here is one of the latest: In a dispute as to what took place before a judge at chambers counsel, who, like his opponent, was not present there, remarked, "Experience shows it is very unprofitable to refer to what took place there when neither counsel was present." "Often still more so," said his lordship, "when both were."—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Difference.

"Did you see that young Takeasy had accepted a position?"

"No, I didn't see it, but I heard some one say that he had finally got a job."—Newport News.

DEATH IN THE STORM

All on Board Two Vessels Perish on the Jersey Coast.

One Crew Swept Away By the Furious Seas in Plain View of the Helpless Life Savers—One Poor Seaman Carried Back After Fighting His Way to Shallow Water—Great Destruction Along the Coast—Damage By Wind, Snow and Rain at Many Points—Delaware Fishing Boats Annihilated.

HIGHLANDS, N. J., April 12.—No such storm as that of yesterday and last night has visited the Jersey coast in years. Telegraphic communication below this point is entirely cut off, and New York is reached only by a circuitous route.

The railroad northward to New York and way stations suffered but little delay, but southward, a mile distant, the great Highland bluffs caved, hundreds of tons of earth falling over the track, stopping all trains.

Below the Highlands the beach branch of the road is inundated as far south as Seabright station, and trains north from Long Branch stop there. Railroad ties cover the beach inside the sea bulkheads between the Highlands and Seabright, and the tracks are bent into horseshoes in many places.

When the storm was at its height, the atmosphere thick with pelting rain and snow, and the wind blowing a hurricane, scraping up great combers that beat with terrific fury on the coast, the operator at the Highlands station of the Jersey Central road saw a three-masted schooner off shore laboriously working along towards Sandy Hook, bound in.

He at once notified the marine observer at the Hook to warn life saving station No. 1, that a vessel was coming ashore. This was done and Captain Patterson of that station telephoned station No. 2, at Sperm City cove, five miles nearer the scene of the threatened wreck, and the life savers set out for work.

Meantime the operator watched the schooner. The man at the wheel seemed oblivious to his danger. At 8 o'clock, when the crew was doubtless changing watches, the seamen evidently discovered their danger, for the spanker was run up a piece and the schooner was worked around close into the wind and headed off. There was a chance for her still, but suddenly she swung back and it was seen that the spanker was torn to shreds. She was being blown by a seventy-mile gale directly into the breakers. Speeding on she came head on to the beach.

All hands could be seen clambering aloft.

She had hardly got ashore when the life savers were on the scene. They had brought no boats. None could live in such a surf. They got their life lines and guns ready. One was fired, but the line parted.

Another line went over the schooner and hung over the stay, but the two men in the mizzen shrouds could not get to the line. Another line fell over the stay between the main and foremasts. Three more of the luckless sailors were in the foretop, but they could not reach the line. Three others of the crew were clinging to the bowsprit.

The bow of the schooner was fast put under the power of the angry sea. She was rolling over from side to side and pounded against the beach. A lurch to starboard broke the port stays and shrouds of the mizzen mast and another lurch carried that stick by the board, pulling the main topmast along with it.

The men who had been in the mizzen shrouds were not seen again. At this point Capt. A. H. West and seven men arrived from the life saving station at Seabright, three miles to the south. Just as they arrived the mainmast and the foremast of the schooner succumbed and went over the port side. This broke off the bowsprit and the last man had been washed into the roaring, seething breakers. Only two reappeared; one was a big and powerful man and had been seen jumping from the bowsprit as it snapped off. He fought desperately to gain the shore and got near enough to get a footing was deep. Another line fired at that moment and he might have been saved, but none was left, three being the outfit number of a station, and the two not parted were tangled in the wreckage of the schooner.

Another comber broke and the man disappeared.

One other man was seen clinging to one of the masts. His strength gave out, he let go, and was not again seen.

The fury of the storm continued with unabated violence and the ill-fated vessel began to break up. In less than two hours only a portion of her bow, held together by the bracings of the forecastle, retained any semblance to a ship. This was thrown over on its starboard side and on the port side could be distinguished the name, Kate Markee.

No bodies came ashore. They were carried out by the undertow, which is extra strong when the wind is inshore. With a change of wind some of the bodies of the luckless crew may be washed upon the beach.

The Kate Markee hailed from Cape Ann, whence she was carrying paving stones to Philadelphia. She was commanded by Capt. Daniel Handy, who, it is presumed, was trying to make haven, when his vessel came onto the beach.

ALL HANDS LOST.

The Albert W. Smith Driven Ashore at Sea Girt and Wrecked.

MANASQUAN, N. J., April 12.—While the great storm was raging the fiercest the crew of life-saving station No. 9, at Manasquan, found a vessel had grounded upon the bar about a half mile south of the Beach house at Sea Girt. The masts of the vessel had been swept by the board. The crew fired a shot over the vessel but there was no response to the effort, and inside of half an hour the vessel went completely to pieces. A piece of wreckage which floated ashore bore the name "Albert W. Smith." The vessel was an eastern one and was bound north.

The crew of 8 or 10 men were lost.

Members of all the life saving crews have been instructed to look out for the bodies which it is expected will float ashore south of Manasquan Inlet.

It will be several days before the actual damage along the New Jersey coast can be ascertained.

This has been the greatest storm, so say the life savers, since 18 years ago, when the big vessel went ashore at Sandy Hook.

Horses Killed By a Live Wire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—During the storm here a telephone wire which was crossed with an electric light wire was blown from its fastenings from Thirtieth street and Ridge avenue and fell across the backs of a pair of horses that were drawing an omnibus. One of the animals was instantly killed and the other was so badly injured that an end was put to its existence. The driver, William Duncan, in trying to disentangle the wire, was rendered unconscious, as was also Addis Welch, the driver of another bus, who went to Duncan's aid. Both men were severely hurt, but their recovery is expected.

Greatest Snow-Fall in Forty Years.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 12.—The storm in Schuylkill county was the greatest in point of snowfall in forty years. At Pottsville there is fifteen inches; at Frackville, the head of Mahanoy plane on Broad mountain, the snow is twenty-eight inches deep. Not a coal train has been moved and all the track laborers and extra hands are kept busy in digging open the switches and the main tracks, while engines with snow plows are at work clearing the tracks to the mines. The collieries are all idle.

Foot of Snow in the Catskills.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 12.—A severe northeast snow storm raged here for 24 hours. In this city about six inches of snow is upon the ground while up in the Catskills in several places the snow is fully a foot in depth and drifting badly. The storm has been very severe on the Hudson river and vessels have carried on navigation with difficulty.

Great Damage in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The storm did great damage in Brooklyn. Trees, signboards, skylights, telegraph poles and wires blown down in all sections of the city, together with several houses in course of erection. Several persons were injured by falling signs and a wagon was smashed at the bridge entrance. The money loss will be great.

Maryland's Latest Storm in Years.

BALTIMORE, April 12.—The storm which began Monday night has continued through forty hours without cessation. There is but little snow in the city, the occasional rain precipitation and the high temperature disposing of most of it. It is the first time since the early '80s that snow has fallen in Baltimore so late in the season as April 11.

Sturgeon Fleet Annihilated.

MILFORD, Del., April 12.—The sturgeon fleet has been almost annihilated at Cedar Beach. Six boats were sunk and nine washed inland a mile. Over 31 nets are gone. Thirty fishermen's shanties were washed away. The whole farming country is under water for a mile inland.

An Old Landmark Blown Down.

NORTHPORT, L. I., April 12.—The old mill at Northport, which was over 100 years old, was demolished by the wind. The large flagpole on Main street was blown over, and many people who were passing at the time narrowly escaped being struck.

Snow as High as the Fences.

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., April 12.—The great northeastern snow storm was one of the worst of the winter. The roads in the country are badly drifted and in some places impassable. Farmers coming in report the snow as high as the fences.

Destruction in Delaware.

DOVER, Del., April 12.—The storm did considerable damage along the bay shore. Three schooners were driven high on the marsh; the iron draw bridge was carried away, and about 25 head of cattle were drowned.

The Storm at Elmira.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 12.—Twenty two inches of snow fell here, but it is melting fast. Railroad traffic is considerably delayed and some of the electric surface roads are blocked and others are badly crippled.

Schooner Driven Ashore.

NORTHPORT, L. I., April 12.—The schooner Speigel, from New York, was driven high ashore while anchored in the canal at Port Eaton. She may be saved when the gale abates.

Young Fales' Case.

TRENTON, N. J., April 12.—The case of Alden Fales, the Newark boy murderer under sentence of death, was discussed by the court of pardons, but no action was taken.

MINERS WILL STRIKE

Over 200,000 Men to Quit Work on April 21.

Double That Number in Associated Industries Will Be Affected—Decision of the National Convention of Miners at Columbus—Provision for Other Strikes if This One Fails.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—The national convention of miners supplemented the resolution declaring a general strike on April 21, with another resolution authorizing the national executive committee to declare a similar suspension of work at any time during the year, if the first strike does not secure the desired end.

President McBride then appointed a committee to report a scale of wages upon which the organization will stand in the fight which it is expected the strike of April 21 will inaugurate. It is almost certain that this will be an increase over that of one year ago when 70 cents per ton for straight pick mining in the Hocking valley was made the basis, with the established differentials for all the different mining regions, and methods of mining. This basis will probably be 75 cents for the next year.

The convention elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

John McBride, Ohio, president: P. H. Penna, Pennsylvania, vice-president; P. A. McBride, Ohio, secretary-treasurer.

It is claimed that in this strike over 200,000 men will cease work, and double that number in associated industries will be affected. The organization controls all the labor engaged in mining bituminous coal in the United States and covers the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, and Colorado.

MARCHED THROUGH SNOW.

Coxey's Followers Experience Another Trying Day in the Mountains.

CHALK HILL, Pa., April 12.—The commonweal army marched 12 miles over the mountains and most of the way through from six to eight inches of snow, and encamped at an old continental mansion, within one mile of this point, last night. The march was almost heroic, six miles of it, up over Laurel ridge of the Blue ridge mountains, being accomplished in a snow storm. Both the men and horses were almost exhausted by the terrible exertions of the trip when the summit of the mountain was reached, but as the camping place was six miles ahead it was necessary to force the marching to reach it before night.

At the foot of the mountains a halt was called for a lunch. Horses were fed and the men given a dozen crackers each for the meal. Then the command pushed on, reaching this point at 5:30 p. m. A detail of ten men had built fires in each room of the old mansion camp and the place was ready for the men as soon as they came in, bedraggled and exhausted after the terrible tramp. They were a pitiable looking lot, as many of them did not have heavy clothing of any kind, many wearing seersucker vests and being without overcoats.

As soon as possible after reaching camp, the cooks prepared a plentiful supply of corned beef, bread and coffee.

To-day the march of fourteen miles to Petersburg was begun.

PRISONERS AT SALT LAKE.

The Industrial Army Willing to start East on Foot.

SALT LAKE, Utah, April 12.—The situation at Ogden is unchanged. The industrial army continues to be guarded as well as it can be by the small force on the ground which is not big enough to prevent constant desertions. The Southern Pacific officials continue to defy the mandate of the court ordering them to ship back their wards to the west. The Union Pacific and Rio Grande Western continue to announce that they will only move the army eastward on payment of full fares and the governor and his posse continue to await developments, guarding and feeding their vast corral of prisoners.

At a meeting of the army held late last night it was unanimously decided that they would march east on foot if allowed, but that they would not return west even if transportation were provided.

At the last moment a compromise was reached and the army was released. They at once began to march east. They will be accompanied to the state line by officers.

May Investigate Tillman's Action.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce heard Representative Grosvenor in support of his resolution directing the committee to investigate the legality of the action of Governor Tillman, of South Carolina, in seizing the telegraph lines of South Carolina during the recent disturbance there and preventing the transmission of press dispatches. As soon as they examine the various laws and decisions of the supreme court in relation to the subject, the full committee will determine whether or not an investigation is necessary.

Legislature Adjournment Question.

ALBANY, April 12.—Senator Saxton says that no resolution for final adjournment will be put in until after the governor has acted on the appropriation bill.

Proposed Catholic Congress.

MUNICH, April 12.—It has been decided to hold the proposed general Catholic congress in this city in 1895.

A MASTERLY EFFORT

Major Butterworth's Plea for Col. Breckinridge.

Dramatic, Finished, Poetical, and, in All, a Wonderful Speech—Equal To, if Not Surpassing, His Best Efforts on the Floor of the House—The Court Room Densely Crowded.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—"Clear this room, clear these people out." These words marked one of the dramatic periods in the very dramatic speech delivered by Major Ben Butterworth in defense of Col. Breckinridge. But it was not Major Butterworth who commanded that the room be cleared. He had just told the jury that he came into this breach of promise case because "Ben Butterworth would not desert in adversity the man he had known in prosperity."

Major Butterworth is known everywhere as a lovable, sociable man, and the very truth of his words woke a responsive cord in the spectators which was demonstrated in loud applause, and Judge Bradley, who is a great stickler for propriety, ordered that the room be cleared. There was no applause for Major Butterworth during the day but several times there were suspicious movements that betokened spontaneous outbreaks of approval for the wonderful oratory displayed by the bluff ex-congressman. For it was a wonderful speech. Even those who were not with the orator in his argument admitted that it was a masterly effort. If not convincing, it was dramatic, finished, poetic, at times sensational. At other times the sentiments expressed were so pathetic that more than one pair of eyes filled with what is poetically called "a suspicious moisture."

Major Butterworth began in a seemingly embarrassed manner, as if his heart were not in what he had to say. But he soon warmed up to his work. Every idea was illustrated by appropriate gestures done with a natural grace and dramatic effect that made his words doubly interesting and all through his argument Major Butterworth held up Madeline Pollard as "an innocent little school guyrl," quoting the ten words of hers frequently, and then contrasting that description with the testimony about what Miss Pollard had done and said and attempted to do. He pictured her as the girl so innocent that she allowed a man to betray her after an acquaintance of 24 hours, and told how much more innocent was she than the girls he had played with on the banks of Miami, who knew the differences between lecherous caress and honest kiss. He described her as the mother who gave up her children without a word or a protest on the days of their birth, and then with dramatic fervor, spoke of mother-love and how no mother of true tenderness for her babe would allow it to be taken from her breast without risking her life to retain it.

But the most dramatic periods were those when Major Butterworth rushing forward like Salvini as Iago, his eyes blazing, his head shaking, stood before the man he was defending, and with both clenched fists shaken in his face told him he was guilty of forgery, of perjury, of indecency, of disgracing his family, "unless"—and Major Butterworth spoke in a tone that meant disbelief in all his accusations and belief in the words that follow—"unless Madeline Pollard lied," and then he would proceed to hold Miss Pollard up as a woman who held the truth in slight regard.

There were few people in the court room during the early morning, but when it became known that Major Butterworth was making a speech equal to, if not surpassing, his best efforts on the floor of the house of representatives the chamber was soon densely crowded.

TWO BULLETS IN HIS BRAIN.

Examination of a Suicide Adds Valuable Information to Science.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 12.—The late Dr. W. I. Brenizer, who committed suicide in this city last Saturday, before he died, left his brains to Cornell university in the interest of science. In connection with this it may be of interest to state that Dr. Wilder, who has charge of this department in the university, has secured by written agreements the brains of some twenty Cornell professors and prominent Ithaca citizens (at their demise) in the interest of science. The doctor has a regular printed form which is signed by the donor and attested by a notary public.

When Dr. Brenizer was discovered dead a bullet wound was found in the temple and one in the forehead. This led to the belief that but one shot had been fired by the suicide, the doctors claiming that it would have been an utter impossibility for the suicide to have put more than one shot in his brain. When the brain was removed by the university people, two bullets were found imbedded in the brain, thus destroying the learned doctors' theory.

They claim that this fact is an important discovery and of great interest to the medical world and criminal authorities.

Magee Held Without Bail.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The examination of Lawyer Joseph T. Magee, charged with the murder of Miss Martha Fuller, in the law office of William J. Mullen on the evening of March 17, was concluded in the Tombs police court, and Magee was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

WORKING GIRLS IN DANGER.

Rush for Spring Goods Doubles the the Strain on Tired Shop Girls—Vacations a Long Way Off—How Many Keep Well and Strong.

"O men with sisters dear,
O men with mothers and wives,
It's not the linen you're wearing out,
But human creatures' lives."

If Thomas Hood could have looked into one of the big retail stores in any city in the endless streams of eager buyers and the pale faced shop girls behind the counters, he would have included women as well as men in his appeal for more humanity.

In order that some may go finely clad and have leisure, thousands of tired girls must wear out health, good looks strength by long close hours in offices, behind monotonous store counters and in factories.

"Women," as Dr. Weir Mitchell says, "are by physiological nature more liable to be nervous and thin blooded than are men. It is a sad drawback in the face of the duties of life that a little emotional disturbance, anxiety or nervous strain suffices to overcome the woman as it does not the man, and that the same excesses which make him irritable make her nervous.

The greatest friend tired, feeble women have today in Paine's celery compound, the discovery of Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college. This great nerve regulator and purifier yet known is the mainstay of a great proportion of the homes throughout the country where nervous weakness have entered; Paine's celery compound begins at once to rebuild the shattered nerves and nerve centres all over the body. It is the one spring medicine, because it removes impurities from the blood; gives new life and vigor by filling every tiny ramification of the blood vessels with rich red blood, capable of making healthy tissue.

"The difference between the knowledge of today," says a well-known scientist, "and that possessed before Dr. Phelps' studies of the nerves and the intimate connection with every process in the body is enormous. Dyspepsia, for example, is now ranked as a nervous disease and, as in the case of other nervous weakness, it is readily curable by attending to the nutrition of the nerve centres with Paine's celery compound. Diseases of the kidneys, heart and liver are cured in the same radical way by providing abundant and appropriate nutrition for these parts."

"Not more food but better," is the watchword of the best medical skill—better food for nerves and nerve centres. When the system is completely nourished the tired-out, run-down feeling vanishes, and the craving of the nerves called neuralgia, rheumatism and heart trouble ceases.

"There is one remedy deserving the name of spring medicine—that is Paine's celery compound," said a very careful physician. Sick headache, sleeplessness, mental oppression and lack of energy are cured by Paine's celery compound. It makes people well.

FLOWER GIVES WARNING.

And Urges the Legislature to Save Adirondack Park.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12.—Gov. Flower sent the following message to the legislature: "There has been pending before your honorable body for more than ten weeks a bill which is of vital importance to the maintenance of the Adirondack park. It is a measure which is intended to correct an oversight in chapter 711 of the laws of last year, relative to the sale and redemption of land sold for taxes, and its passage has been strenuously urged by the forest commission and others interested, officially or otherwise, in the protection of our forests. So essential to the cause of forest preservation do I regard this bill that I take this means of bringing it again to your attention and of urging its speedy enactment. The facts occasioning the introduction are by this time generally known. By numerous tax sales in years gone by the state has come into possession of about 900,000 acres of forest lands. Through cancelations of tax sales, however, permitted by the loose phraseology of the law, thousands of acres have been reclaimed by private individuals and timber land speculators, and now there are on file in the comptroller's office over 200 additional applications for the cancelation of tax sales covering about 150,000 acres of Adirondack land. Unless the defect in chapter 711 of the laws of 1893 above alluded to is corrected the state is likely to be deprived of this great area of forest land and eventually of a large proportion of its Adirondack holdings."

LESSONS IN FOREIGN TRAVEL.

The Bourn Family Display Their Expense Accounts in Court.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 12.—Ex-Gov. Augustus O. Bourn, who is also ex-consul at Rome, is defendant in an interesting suit begun before Judge Rogers of the supreme court. The plaintiff is ex-Gov. Bourn's wife's sister, Mary W. Morrill. The Bourn family went abroad, and Miss Morrill accompanied them as their financial manager. The children were placed in school at Stuttgart, while the older members of the family toured the country. Miss Morrill claims that she was compelled, time and again, to pay expenses out of her private purse, and even to pawn her watch and diamonds to satisfy the claims of merchants and hotelkeepers before they would allow the family to leave the villages and cities they visited. Once she was detained four weeks waiting for a remittance from America, and finally she sacrificed her income from certain stock she owned. She wants reimbursement in the sum of $6,000.

Ex-Gov. Bourn says that during the time his family was abroad he sent them $20,000, and he is desirous of knowing where it went to. The court continued the case to give Miss Morrill an opportunity in which to make out a list of the bills she paid and the loans she made on account of the Bourn family's travels.

State Bank Tax Repeal Question.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Representative Walker (rep. Mass.), who is one of the members of the house committee on banking and currency, said that in his judgment there was no probability that a bill repealing the 10 per cent. state bank tax would pass the house. "The republicans," he said, "will oppose it almost to a man, and I doubt if more than half of the democrats will support it."

As a result of a Chancery suit brought by Caroline F. Harrison, the mortgaged premises of John K. Van Ness in Plainfield and North Plainfield are advertised to be sold at the Elizabeth Court House, Friday, May 4, at 2 p. m.

Monday, April 23, at 2 p. m., at the Somerville Court House, is set for the sale of mortgaged premises in North Plainfield, owned by Adam Fritz and others, the sale resulting from Chancery proceedings of Emily Sandford and others.

By an execution issued in Chancery March 28, the premises of George Lissignolo are advertised to be sold at the City Hotel, Tuesday, May 15, at 2 p. m., in a case wherein Martha J. Chaytor, sole surviving executrix of Thomas Chaytor, is complainant.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

Mizzen Peak Cottage.

Up on the mountain just back of Bound Brook is a cozy cottage known as Mizzen-Peak, where Isodore Fauchergu, a most competent chef, affords rare hospitality. He provides the best of dinners, the best of wines, the best of rooms; and his cottage commands a magnificent view of the thrifty New Jersey plains. The view is even superior to that at Washington Rock, and parties out for a delightful drive should go in his direction and stop there.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

PLAINFIELD WATER MOTORS.

The Supply Company Complains of Not Making Money from Them.

Plainfielders who use water motors in running fans to cool their places of business have been much incensed by a letter received from the Plainfield Water Supply Company by each of them.

Motors have been used for this purpose two seasons but more generally last season. The power was put in at the solicitation of the company and paid for by the month, the price $6 or $8 being determined by the number of fans and size of motor.

The letters received last week read as follows:

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 5, 1894.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have had a test made of the quantity of water used to run motors for fans in Plainfield, and find that at the rate you are paying the water company does not receive as much for the water used as it costs to pump it at Netherwood, and I therefore am constrained to ask you to make some other arrangement for operating your fans hereafter. Motors cannot be operated at a rate satisfactory to consumers without loss to a water company, except where pressure is obtained by gravity.

Very truly yours,
FRANK BERGEN,
President.

In spite of the definite language of the letter, officers of the company today declared that they did not mean to put a stop to the use of motors. They claim that the company simply intends to make customers put in meters and pay for the water at ten cents a thousand gallons. This, they say, is to be done to prevent the waste of water, as consumers now run the motors night and day instead of a certain number of hours daily as agreed.

It has been hinted that the company has taken this action in order to force people to put in the electric light company's motors at more profit. F. B. Pope, secretary and treasurer of the Water Company, said this morning that such was not the case, and that the stock in the two companies was not held, to any considerable extent, by the same parties.

The fan-owners are very indignant over the matter, but do not know exactly what the company means to do. The taking away of the water power would make worthless the machinery that has been paid for by the business men, and the cost of substituting another system would be considerable.

A meeting of the men interested will soon be held. It is probable that an agreement will be made to do without fans or use their own power if the motors are taken out, as threatened in the letter.

Galbraith Arrested.

Hackman Daniel Galbrairh, whose actions Tuesday night about the residence of Mrs. Ula Fernandez, Park place and Mercer avenue, were instrumental in causing an alarm to be sent to the police, was arrested this morning.

He was arraigned before the justice and pleaded not guilty to the charge under the State law of disorderly conduct and of causing a disturbance. He was released on $100 bonds to appear Monday evening at 8. George DeMeza is his counsel.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

H. P. DEGRAAF.

COKE REGIONS AGAIN QUIET.

Increase in the Force of Deputies Since the Disorder of Yesterday.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 12.—All is quiet this morning in the coke region after the disorders of yesterday, when over 400 strikers swooped down upon the Youngstown works of the Frick company, completely surprising and capturing almost every one of the seventy workingmen and deputies.

When the mob reached Leisenring they were dispersed by Sheriff Wilhelm after considerable trouble. During the excitement the sheriff, who weighs over 200 pounds, fell over an embankment and broke his right arm.

Although quiet reigns the sheriff is overrun with requests for deputies as a result of the Youngston trouble. There are more deputies on duty to-day in the region than at any time since the strike began, and the chances of serious rioting are proportionately reduced.

The Judge Jenkins Inquiry.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 12.—With the testimony of General Manager Kendricks the Jenkins investigation came to an abrupt ending. The committee expected to hear testimony all day, but all witnesses who have volunteered to give information have been heard, so there was nothing left for the committee but to declare the inquiry closed. Representatives Boatner, Terry and Stone will leave for Washington at once. Congressman McGann, who caused the investigation to be inaugurated, expresses himself satisfied with the inquiry, saying that the objects of the labor organizations had been attained. Messrs. Boatner, Terry and Stone will make their report at once after reaching Washington. All declare themselves satisfied with the inquiry and decline to express an opinion as to the result.

REASONS FOR THE WADSWORTH SITE.

Four Arguments Why a Plainfield High School Should Be Built in Such a Location.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Apropos to the discussion of the action of the Board of Education in the matter of a new High School Building, I commend to those who criticize the Board unfavorably the following words from the last report of Addison B. Poland, Superintendent of Public Instruction in the State of New Jersey: G.

There are four things to be considered in the erection of new school buildings, and these should be taken up in the following order, and not in the reverse order, as is too frequently the case: First, the location; second, the size; third, the construction; fourth, the cost.

With reference to location, the site should be (1) healthful, (2) convenient, (3) spacious.

To be healthful, a site should be selected on high and dry ground, should be well drained and should not be contiguous to any infectious surroundings. It should be conveniently accessible from all parts of the district, so that little children may not have too great a distance to travel in order to attend school. It should be spacious enough to afford a large playground. In the larger cities it may be necessary to overlook this last consideration, owing to the high cost of land. But whenever possible, the school grounds should be large enough to afford a good-sized playground for all children that attend. A large corner lot should be secured whenever available, not only for its greater convenience of access, but more particularly for better light and a freer circulation of air. To crowd one or two thousand pupils into a single building, as is often done in cities, and to permit such building to be shut off on two or more sides by adjoining factories or tenement houses, is little less than cruelty, for which there is no excuse. Not the cheapest, but the best, building sites should always be chosen, regardless of cost. If a good location is so desirable for a private house, to be occupied by a single family, how much more desirable is an eligible site for a school-house, to be filled for a considerable portion of the year by hundreds of children and youth.

Kossuth in Wax, and Hungarian Dancing Girls.

The finest representation of Hungary's great General, Kossuth, that has been exhibited anywhere during the recent observances throughout the country, of his decease, was at Eden Musee, where a handsome wax figure of the great soldier and patriot was admired by thousands of people. The figure has a prominent location in the great central hall of the Musee, on a platform beside the famous group of the crowned heads of the world. The national coat-of-arms and wreath of immortelles tied with Hungarian colors are the appropriate ornaments with which the noble figure is decorated. The entertainment in the concert hall comprises now the very cream of the vaudeville profession. Arnold Kiraify has imported this week a fine troupe of Hungarian girls, all expert dancers and select beauties of their native land. The Countess Aurelia Bothien-Sandor, one of the most celebrated of European beauties, gives for the first time in America some of the difficult solos performed by the dance artists of Hungary. She appears in the most lavish costumes, and is ablaze with diamonds. Powell, the magician, in his startling illusion "She", founded on Haggard's great novel, is also one of the attractions.

How to Study the Scholars.

The Sunday-schools of this State are organized into what is known as the New Jersey State Sunday-school Association. The object of this organization is to start schools where none exist, and to increase the efficiency of existing schools.

The association for this purpose employs as State Secretary Rev. E. Morris Fergusson, who gives his whole time to this work.

Next Sunday Mr. Fergusson will visit Plainfield, and the following programme has been arranged for him:

10:30—Preach in First Presbyterian Church.
2:30—Address Crescent Avenue School.
3:30—Address Methodist School.
4:15—Address Union Teachers Meeting in Vincent Chapel, on "How to Study the Scholar".
8:00—Address in Washingtonville Chapel.

Mr. Fergusson will be the guest of Wm. D. Murray, and will be glad to see any who are interested in Sunday-school work, Saturday evening.

Student Taylor of Plainfield Dropped.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 12—Sophomore Taylor, of chlorine fame, will not be reinstated in the university. He was not dropped for suspected complicity in the chlorine case, but for poor scholarship, in company with some others, and it can be stated, on authority of President Schurman, that there is no chance of his being taken back. There will probably be no new developments in the chlorine case until April 24, when Judge Forbes will reconvene court. He has written to the district-attorney that he will take no steps until that time, allowing Judge Smith to bear the responsibility he has assumed.

FIRST HERE IN 19 YEARS.

Union County Physicians Celebrate Their 25th Anniversary.

The Union County Medical Society held its twenty-fifth annual meeting in the Hotel Grenada yesterday afternoon. About half of the 51 members were present to transact the routine business and partake of refreshments. The society usually meets in Elizabeth, and yesterday's session was the first in Plainfield since 1875.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Dr. N. L. Wilson, Elizabeth.
Vice-president—Dr. Walter E. Cladek, Rahway.
Secretary—Dr. E. B. Grier, Elizabeth.
Treasurer—Dr. F. W. Westcott, Scotch Plains.
Reporter—Dr. S. J. Keefe, Elizabeth.

The regular committees, standing, ethics, medical students and medical registration of three members each, were appointed.

Four new members were elected. They were Doctors F. C. Ard and D. Van D. Hedges, of Plainfield; Dr. Frank B. Searles of Plainfield and Bayonne; and Dr. E. J. Westphal of Elizabeth.

The retiring president of the society Dr. M. B. Long of this city, read the paper of the day. He discussed at length from a medical standpoint the various practical questions in regard to alcohol.

At the close of the reading a Courier reporter was politely removed.

The society usually has a dozen cases of special interest shown at their meeting, but the weather prevented the attendance of any patients except one. He was a man from the Elizabeth Hospital who had entirely recovered from injuries received in a railroad accident. He had sustained a compound fracture of the skull so severe that parts of the bone and brain had to be removed.

The next meeting will be held at the call of the president, Elizabeth will probably be the place of meeting.

OBITUARY.

James F. Martin.

James F. Martin, son of the late James and Mary A. Martin, died at 4:30 this morning. He had been confined to the house a week, the result of injury to his spine in a runaway accident. The runaway was of horses owned by Smalley Bros., for whom Mr. Martin worked, and he was carried some distance lying with his back across the shafts, the strain being something tremendous, and his head being in danger of catching in the spokes of one of the rapidly revolving wheels.

Decedent was brother of Gilbert S Martin of The Press composing room, and of Joseph Y. Martin of Three Bridges, and a member of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M. He was born May 26, 1875.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Gilbert S. Martin, 157 Duer street, Sunday afternoon at 2.

—The insurance companies will pay Middlesex county $13,000 for the loss of the Landing bridge.

WEST END NOTES.

A game was arranged last evening between married and single men of Hope Chapel, to take the place of the scheduled game, as the team from North Plainfield did not put in an appearance. The score:

Married.		Single.
Robert Gow	155	J. Young	135
D. F. Stewart	120	S. Thompson	120
D. Turner	120	W. Stewart	114
	355		369

Three new regulation bowling balls will be received for the Hope Chapel alleys.

The regular weekly prayer-meeting will be be held in Hope Chapel tomorrow evening.

H. Turner, W. Leland, J. Neal, R. McGinnis, D. York, and Thomas Reed, have secured excellent positions in the Curtis Electric Light Company's Works at Lafayette.

John Reed, formerly of the Scott Printing Press Works, has secured a similar position in Newark.

Fred Newman has been elected Assistant Superintendent of Hope Chapel in place of F. H. Andrews, who leaves to take a young men's Bible class in the Crescent Avenue Sunday-school.

The West End is overrun with worthless dogs, and people are complaining bitterly.

A number of tramps have already made their appearance in this section. D. F. Stewart was obliged to drive one away from Mrs. Powere's home this morning.

The sidewalks throughout the West End are in a wretched condition. It would seem as though the residents were deserving of better walks.

WEST ENDER.

11 Years of Faithful Service.

Now that it has been definitely arranged that Frederick Koechil, of the German Reformed Church, is about to leave, the people of the church are beginning to realize the more what a loss they are to sustain.

When the Newark Classis met last Tuesday they granted the joint request of the minister and the people for a dissolution of the pastoral connection after July 1 next. The session expressed regret that Mr. Koechil was compelled to leave by his poor health and "expressed its high regard for him as a brother and minister, and its appreciation of his eleven years of faithful, successful and unremitting labors."

A fitting monument to the combined generosity of the congregation and the earnest work of Pastor Koechil is the handsome new building of the church on Craig place.

Buried, Unidentified.

No clue has yet been obtained as to the identity of the man who was drowned in the Rahway River at Cranford Saturday night. The body was buried in the Potter's Field in Elizabeth, after being photographed.

TALKING OVER BIG FIRES.

Six Veteran Volunteers Visit a Plainfield Comrade.

William H. Warner, of West Second street, was taken by storm Saturday evening by an unexpected delegation of six veteran volunteer firemen of the Philadelphia Fire Department, who were firemen in the good old times gone by. They came to give a fraternal surprise to Mr. Warner, their ex-Assistant Chief Engineer of the Philadelphia Volunteer Fire Department.

The delegation was cordially welcomed by Mr. Warner, who assured them that the premises were in their possession during their stay. They informed their ex-Assistant Chief that seventeen years was most too long without a meeting. The hostess, Mrs. Warner, did the honors of the house, and a luncheon was served and a good time was had in general, in firemen's style.

The comrades took possession of the dining room, each with his pipe and tobacco. The visit was very pleasant and one long to be remembered.

Many big fires were called to memory. Major Neill related the fires in Kensington in '44, the great riot between the Catholics and the Native American Party. He also spoke of the hardships the firemen had working on the St. Michael's Church and Parochial School, the pastor's residence, and other buildings connected with the church. They worked amid bullets flying in all directions, while row after row of houses were all in flames. The hose leading to these was badly cut. Shortly after that the St. Agustine Roman Catholic Church was set on fire. The hose laid at that fire was also made useless. At this fire firemen were forbidden to put on water. The military and city troops were at this fire. The firemen were battling against all odds. The large edifice was burned to the ground. In the fifties a big fire occurred on a wharf three blocks long, and two blocks wide, lasting two days and two night. This was a great time for the firemen. Many other big fires were referred to. Most of the delegation were firemen from 1840 to 1870, and that year by an act of the Elect and Common Council the volunteer system was abandoned and steam engines were substituted for hand engines. The volunteer department consisted of sixty-two engine, hook and ladder, and hose companies. The chief and his assistants were not supplied with conveyances to fires. They all manned the rope with the boys, or got to the fires as best they could. Each company received from the city $300 a year. The new department pays the chief engineer $3,000 a year; inspector $1,200; eight assistants $1,600 each; secretary $1,200, and messenger $700. The department consists of 41 steam engines, four chemical engines, seven trucks, and one fire boat, all conducted by forty-nine foremen at a salary of $1,150 each; thirty-three engineers at $1,050; thirty-eight assistants at $912 50; forty-four drivers and seven tillermen at $912 50; also 379 hose and laddermen at $2 50 a day, and twenty-six at $2 25 a day, besides two pilots at $1,050 a year each.

WOMAN'S HEROISM.

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE IT.

What Heroic Efforts They make to Appear Cheerful and Happy.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

How many, think you, have any idea of the suffering endured by so large a proportion of the women of America?

Very few men have the slightest conception of the pain endured by so many women, even those of their own households, or the heroic efforts they make to appear cheerful and happy.

Maid of Orleans.

Women ought to be told just where the danger lies, for their whole future may depend upon their knowledge, and how to overcome it.

Lydia E. Pinkham solved the mystery after years of experience and study. She unerringly traced the cause of nearly all of woman's suffering to the womb.

Other years followed and her Vegetable Compound was given to the world.

And now, after years of marvellous success, it is acknowledged the unfailing remedy for all forms of female complaints, ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, irregularity, suppressed or painful menstruations, leucorrhœa, bloating, flooding, backache, nervous prostration, kidney trouble, etc., and is found on the shelves of all respectable druggists.

Such cases as this of Mrs. M. F. Fozzy, of Campello, Mass., speak volumes. She says: "I was very sick. I did not ever expect to get up again. Menstruations had stopped suddenly. The pains all through my body were terrible. As a last resort I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a box of her Liver Pills. I also used a package of her Sanative Wash.

MRS. MARTIN E. FOZZY.

"Relief came at once, and to-day I am a well woman. Menstruations regular, no backache, entirely cured of leucorrhœa and bearing down pains. Nothing equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.—"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia, radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 25c. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, druggist, Plainfield. 12 6 tus

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies as indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

HALE ON A NEW TACK

In the Arguments Against the Tariff Bill.

The Maine Senator Contends That the Present Measure Would Kill All Prospect of Canadian Annexation and Confront Us With a Dangerous Rival.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Senator Hale (rep., Maine) presented an argument against the tariff bill, and an interesting feature of the speech was as to the effect of the bill upon the annexation sentiment in Canada. Mr. Hale contended that its passage would postpone indefinitely any prospect of such annexation. That one consideration he thought so important that it ought to be a death blow to the bill. He expressed his conviction that if a vote was taken at once, and if senators voted according to their convictions, the bill would die, and would never be resurrected.

In closing up the discussion on that point Mr. Hale said:

"Without any condition or reciprocity this bill gives up every particle of protection which farmers and others on this side of the border now have, for the benefit of the Canadian farmer, and thereby postpones indefinitely any prospect of annexation. The moment that the Canadians get what they want, by a democratic free trade tariff, that moment the annexation sentiment dies out, and we may look to see, as the legitimate result of this bill, if it passes and is maintained for the next few years, the dying out of the annexation sentiment on the other side, and the American people will find themselves confronted with a rival, perhaps hostile, dominion all along our entire northern border. This in itself is so important a consideration that, in the broad domain of statesmanship it ought to be, alone, a death blow to this bill. Every patriotic impulse of the American people is aroused against such a policy."

House of Representatives.

The republicans refused to vote upon the motion to discharge the order of arrest of members, made March 26 to aid in securing the attendance of a quorum to dispose of the then pending contested election cases. This left the house without a quorum, and at 1:40 an adjournment was taken. Before the roll was called, Speaker Crisp sustained the contention of Mr. Reed (rep., Me.) respecting the parliamentary aspect of the matter.

Not Filibustering, Says Reed.

"The action of the republicans in refusing to vote upon the motion to discharge the order of arrest made to the sergeant-at-arms on the 26th of March," said Mr. Reed, after the adjournment of the house, "is not filibustering. It is a protest against the whole proceedings. When the order was passed we protested against it, believing, in the first place, that there was no power in the house to make such an order, and, secondly, that it could not, in any event, be passed by less than a quorum. The speaker has ruled that as a member I cannot call for the report of the sergeant-at-arms until he is ready to make it, and he was kept out of the house several days after the report was ready, in the vain hope that it would be accepted, and the order of arrest discharged, and nothing further said about it. The republicans do not propose to approve that course. Under that order 28 members of the house are placed absolutely under the control of the sergeant-at-arms; he may arrest them to-day or to-morrow. Indeed, if he executes the order he must do so. But that is not what was contemplated or desired. In endeavoring to escape the consequences of their folly, the democrats inevitably sink deeper into the mire. They ask republicans to aid them by approving the course they have chosen to adopt in this regard, and having vainly protested against it at the outset, we do not intend now to tacitly approve it by our votes."

Postmasters Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The senate has confirmed the following postmaster nominations:

New York—C. S. McClellan, Mount Vernon.

New Jersey—F. A. Rice, Flemington; H. E. Doughty, Haddonfield; C. D. Van Cleave, Irvington; F. G. Weiss, Bordentown; J. W. Thompson, Cape May; J. G. Smithfier, Bound Brook.

Connecticut—C. I. Balch, Manchester.

Massachusetts—W. J. Wallace, Norwood.

New Hampshire—T. L. Wadleigh, Meredith; T. E. Fletcher, Tilton; Edward Finerty, Milford; D. H. Daniell, Franklin Falls.

Maine—G. R. Theobald, Richmond; J. H. McKeeman, Rumford Falls; J. H. Twombley, Audoben; A. J. Rowe, Norway; F. E. Gilchrist, Thomaston; M. M. Folsom, Old Town.

Walsh's Committee Assignments.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The Senate has given Senator Walsh, of Georgia, the following committee assignments:

Quadro-Centennial (select), chairman; postoffices and post roads; relations with Canada (select); national banks (select), and private land claims.

Mr. Vilas, the ranking member of the committe on postoffices and post roads, was made chairman.

Paterson's Labor Troubles Spreading.

PATERSON, N. J., April 12.—The employing silk dyers have refused to sign the union schedule in consequence of which the employees of Augur & Simon have gone out on strike. The doffers in the Dolphin Jute mill also went out for an increase of 10 per cent. The broad silk weavers in the large mill of the firm of Hitchcock & Meding were refused schedule rates and left their looms.

Knife Works to Shut Down.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 12.—The works of the New York Knife company at Waldon will shut down on May 1. This will be bad for that village as in prosperous times the knife company gives employment to 350 persons. The uncertainty about the tariff is the reason for the coming shut down.

DO YOU OVERWORK?

Do You Get Exhausted and Irritable?

SUCH CONDITIONS MEAN MUCH MORE THAN YOU THINK.

How To Do the Most and Best Work Without Getting Tired.

People are ambitious, they want to better their condition and to have the good things of life. To do this they overwork and put too great a strain on their strength and nerves. In consequence, the nerves become weakened and the person soon loses the power to work as much as formerly.

When the nerves are weak, the heart also becomes weakened. Severe heart disease is liable to follow if this condition is not checked. Weak heart causes poor circulation, indigestion and other troubles. It is a dangerous condition to neglect; the following letter written by Mr. W. A. Phillips, of Moretown, Vt., gives some interesting information.

"I have been troubled with heart disease and indigestion, not being able to do a full day's work for some time. I employed physicians and used many remedies, but was not benefited by them. I have seen days in the last few months when I would have given anything to be able to do a good day's work.

MR. W. A. PHILLIPS.

"I finally commenced using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and in a very short time derived more benefit from its use than any medicine I had taken. I think it the best medicine I have ever used. I heartily recommend this to all the sick and suffering."

If you are working harder than you ought and feel any of the symptoms coming on or if you cannot work readily and easily, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and you will be cured. It will strengthen and build you up so that you can work as much as you ever could. Take it now, in the spring, for this is the best time to be cured. Everybody needs a spring medicine and this one is doing more good than any other known remedy.

It is purely vegetable and harmless. Dr. Greene, its discoverer, is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted at his office, 35 West 14th street, New York City, free, personally or by letter.

TROUBLES OF MINERS

Situation Uncertain in the Coke Regions To-day.

Barrett Issues a Circular Calling on Others to Join in the Strike—Alabama Miners and the Turtle Creek Valley Workers to Stop Work To-morrow—Wage Scale Fixed.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., April 13.—President Michael Barrett has issued a circular in which he calls on the workmen of the north end of the district to join the men of the south in the strike for better wages. He places the responsibility of the strike on the ill-advised officials of the several coke companies, and says that the conventions were held and the men organized for the purpose of peaceably adjusting the existing difficulties.

He declares that they there is no nationality in the strike, but equality among all workmen, and urges the men to continue the struggle in a peaceable manner.

All was quiet in the coke regions this morning, but there were mutterings that indicate that the trouble is not yet over, and it is believed that several raids will be attempted before the day is over. In the Vanderbilt region is the greatest danger of immediate trouble. The Rainey, Cochran and Juniata companies, with plants in that vicinity, have called upon the sheriff for protection from mobs, which are soon expected. All the employes at their works have been heavily armed since the beginning of the strike, but an extra force of men has now been put on. An attack is also expected at the Adelaide plant, which is also guarded by armed men.

Mine Wage Scale Decided.

COLUMBUS, O., April 13.—The national miners' convention decided that the wage scale and conditions adopted at the convention one year ago shall be demanded as the object of the strike to be inaugurated on April 21. This is the 70 per cent. ton basis, an increase from 20 to 25 cents per ton on wages now paid in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Alabama Miners to Strike To-morrow

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 13.—The general council of the United Mine Workers of Alabama, which organization embraces 3,000 miners, has ordered a general strike, effective to-morrow, April 14. The miners were working under a wage schedule which does not expire until July 1 next. The miners are in no condition financially to conduct a strike and serious trouble may result.

Turtle Creek Miners Will Strike.

PITTSBURG, April 13.—The 900 men employed by the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal company, in the Turtle Creek valley, have voted unanimously to resist the proposed reduction in the price for digging, from 65 cents to 55 cents per ton. The strike will be inaugurated to-morrow.

Walsh Will Keep the Old Hands.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Senator Walsh of Georgia has been besieged with applicants for the clerkship of his committee, and such other senate patronage as may be at his disposal. He has settled this matter in a way that will no doubt be appreciated by the people of his state. "I was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Colquitt," said Mr. Walsh, "and that is a comparatively short time. I do not think it would be proper for me to dismiss those who were placed in positions by Mr. Colquitt, one of whom is his son, and for that reason, I, at least, shall make no changes."

Voted Old Ministers Out.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 13.—A tremendous sensation has been caused here by the action of the Oklahoma Presbytery at a packed session. A certain faction of young men voted old and tried ministers out of their fields against the wishes of the churches where they were serving and recommended certain personal friends yet in college for the places. The churches who have thus been denied the right of self-government have revolted and widespread dissention will result.

Straus Dines Statesmen.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Representative Isador Straus, of New York, gave a dinner last night at the Arlington, at which Speaker Crisp was the guest of honor. Others who were present were the vice-president, Secretaries Gresham and Carlisle, Don M. Dickinson, of Michigan; Senators Gorman, Gordon and Walsh, and Representatives Catchings, Outhwaite, Dunphy, Tracey, Montgomery, Bynum, McMillin and Breckinridge (Ark).

GOULD'S ENGAGEMENT OFF.

Family Objections to a March With Miss Tyler Prevail.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Howard Gould and Miss Odette Tyler, the actress, whose engagement was formally announced on March 27, are not to be married after all. Mr. Gould himself made public the fact that the engagement had been annulled, with the consent of both parties.

The news of this unexpected action got out in the afternoon in theatrical circles and set everybody wondering why the couple had so suddenly decided to part. When the announcement of the engagement was made, the fact was revealed that Mr. Gould's relatives were opposed to the prospective union, but it seemed that Mr. Gould was determined to marry in spite of the family dissatisfaction. Howard Gould is the authority for the statement that the wishes of his brother George and others of the family have been effective in causing the cancelling of the engagement. He was seen at the Hotel Waldorf, just before his departure for Lakewood.

"It is true that the engagement between Miss Tyler and myself is off," he said. "It was declared off after a talk we had about the attitude of my family, who objected to the match on the ground of my youth. It was a question of breaking with my family and marrying her, or of giving up the idea of our union. Miss Tyler agreed that the preservation of family harmony was the best thing for both of us. That is all that I can say."

PACIFIC RAILROADS.

Commissioner Wade Hampton Reports Against Foreclosure.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Wade Hampton, the commissioner of railroads, has prepared a brief paper embodying his views on the subject of Pacific railroad indebtedness to the government. He has laid this paper before the house committee on Pacific railroads, and it will receive careful consideration at their hands. Mr. Hampton begins with the statement that when the indebtedness matures, three forms of settlement will be presented.

1—Foreclosure.

2—Maintain the sinking fund and require that a larger percentage of net earnings be paid into it.

3—Refund the debt.

The commissioner is obviously opposed to a foreclosure. "A foreclosure," he says, "will not satisfy the debt, as a sale of the subsidized lines under decree of court would not realize more than enough to cancel the amount of the first mortgage bonds, in which case the United States would be required either to lose the claim or buy in the lines and pay off the first mortgage indebtedness."

Fine Point of Chinese Law.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 13.—Advices from China state that a Foo Chow magistrate has just rendered a peculiar decision. A woman named Hinghwa sold her 13-year-old daughter to a Foo Chow man for $100. The girl ran away and returned to her mother, who sold her again to another purchaser for $80. The first purchaser laid the case before a magistrate, who ordered the arrest of the girl's mother, but the woman hanged herself before the order was executed. The magistrate decided that if the second purchaser wanted to keep the girl he would have to pay $30 for the mother's funeral expenses and $40 compensation to the first purchaser.

Invited to a Pesthouse.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 13.—Dean Millard of the university medical department has invited the forty members of the senior class to go to St. Paul on Saturday to see the smallpox cases at the pesthouse. The invitation made a sensation in the class, and when, after an earnest debate it was accepted by a majority vote, the minority was almost ready for a riot. Health Commissioner E. S. Kelly has made an order in which he says all members of the class who go to the pesthouse will be quarantined there.

Bloomers Again Bloom.

DENVER, Col., April 13.—The progressive women here have adopted a pattern for dress reform and when 100 pledges shall be secured they will appear on the street clad in the new garments. The movement is spreading more rapidly than was expected. The dress consists of bloomers reaching to the ankle and any kind of waist the wearer may prefer.

ON TO THE CAPITAL

Progress of the Bands of Commonwealers.

Journey of Coxey's Followers Half Completed — The Commander-in-Chief Makes a Flying Trip to Pittsburg—Gen. Kelly's Command Occupying Merchandise Pullmans.

ADDISON, Pa., April 13.—A sheriff posse of 35 men met the army of peace as it crossed from Fayette to Somerset county and all night the emissaries of Somerset county law were encamped about the commonwealers camp here ready to care for any law breakers. Consequently this town was aroused from the dreamy lethargy of a mountain hamlet and the streets were walked over more than for many a day.

It was another weary tramp for the sore footed followers of Coxey's fortunes but they walked with a will over the 14 miles of muddy pike, reaching this town at 5 o'clock.

At daybreak the ground was frozen but later the clouds broke and let the sun appear and the snow, which was from four to six inches deep soon began to disappear. The roads grew muddy but the Coxey command made good time.

The departure from Coalk Hill was not noteworthy in ano particular. The road was a hard one for the teams and as the wagons were heavily laden they traveled very slowly. Steep hills were plentiful by noon, however, when Smithfield was reached and a halt called for dinner. Smithfield was not greatly excited over the army, but turned out nearly all its 150 inhabitants to see it. After hard tack and coffee had been served the men were turned loose to do as they pleased while General Coxey and Brown addressed the people. When they finished their addresses Sheriff Hoover, of Somerset, announced himself and said he had come to look after the property of the people along the route and proposed to accompany the command to the Maryland line. With Sheriff Hoover were the county treasurer, county commissioner and ex-sheriff and about twenty-five deputies.

By 2 o'clock the army was again in motion. Progress toward Addison was slow, but the march was enlivened by an Addison escort of horsemen and band who joined just outside of Smithfield. At 5 o'clock the weary column came straggling into camp with banners displayed and the band blowing its liveliest.

Camp Jefferson was established in the barn yard of Jaspar Augustine, an influential local citizen. He allowed the men to sleep on the hay in his barn. The men got a substantial meal of bacon, bread, coffee and potatoes. They spent most of the evening about town. The saloons were closed to prevent any rows.

The commissary of the commonweal was further stocked to-day by twenty-one barrels of hard tack, 1,000 pieces of bacon and 200 bales of hay secured at Smithfield.

S. treasurer at Baltimore; Barnes Compton, naval officer at Baltimore; Frank T. Shaw, collector of customs at Baltimore; C. Ridgely Goodwin, surveyor of customs at Baltimore; S. Davies Warfield, postmaster at Baltimore.

FINES FOR ABSENTEES

And Members Refusing to Vote on the Call.

A Resolution From the Committee on Rules Which Creates a Great Sensation in the House—Effort to Prevent Filibustering—Plan Objectionable, But May Be Adopted as a Necessity.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A resolution introduced in the house by the committee on rules at the beginning of the session yesterday to fine members $10 for failing to vote on the call of the yeas and nays, or for absence without leave, precipitated a season of filibustering which continued until 6:30 p. m., when an adjournment was taken until noon to-day. Before adjourning a resolution was adopted revoking leave of absence and directing the sergeant-at-arms to telegraph absent members that their presence is required. No other business was transacted.

The following is the new rule submitted from the committee on rules:

Rescind clause 1 of rule 8 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

1—Every member shall be present within the house during its sittings, unless excused or necessarily prevented, and shall vote on each question put unless he has direct personal or pecuniary interest in the event of such question. Whenever, in pursuance of section 5, article 1 of the constitution of the United States, the house of representatives, at the request of one-fifth of the members present, shall order the yeas and nays of its members on any question to be entered on its journal, and upon a call of the roll of its members for that purpose a quorum thereof shall fail to vote, each member within the hall of the house who shall fail to vote when his name is called, unless he has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the event of such question, and each member who shall be absent from the hall of the house when his name is called, unless he has been excused, or is necessarily prevented from being present, shall be fined the sum of $10, and the speaker shall cause an entry of such fine to be made against such members on the journal of the house and the same shall be collected and paid into the treasury of the United States.

If fines shall be entered on more than one roll call during the same day, the second entry on the journal relating thereto, shall have the caption "Fine number two," the third entry, "Fine number three," and so on.

It shall be the duty of the clerk of the house to certify to the sergeant-at-arms of the house the names of all members against whom fines are entered and unless they shall be voluntarily paid to him, he shall deduct the amount of said fines from the compensation of said members. A call of the roll of the members of the house shall not be deemed to have been completed until the speaker shall have made all necessary orders regarding fines which may be imposed on members in pursuance of the provisions of this rule.

It shall not be in order to move nor shall the speaker entertain a request for unanimous consent to remit the fines required to be entered as aforesaid.

The reading of the resolution was received with laughter and applause by the republicans and while the yeas and nays were being called it was discussed with much interest by knots of members about the clerk's desk.

How Members View It.

The resolution created a great sensation in the house. The widest diversity of opinion exists as to its merits. It may be said, in a general way, that a majority of the democrats favor the resolution; but the statement requires some qualification. It is not what a good many members like, but they feel that some action ought to be taken which will bring about a quorum and they will support any proposition that may accomplish that result, even though the proposition itself be distasteful to them. One member from the extreme south, who is well known for his strict construction of all questions of a constitutional character, said that he would vote for it, but "that he should hold his nose at the same time." The eastern wing of the democratic party are outspoken in their opposition to the resolution. Many members believe it cannot be enforced if adopted. No republican, so far as can be learned, will support the resolution, and the claim is made that a sufficient number of democrats can be found to vote with the republicans to defeat it.

Phil Thompson's Speech.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 13.—The Evening Times attacks the speech of Mr. Phil Thompson in defence of Congressman Breckinridge. It says: "Col. Thompson's entire argument, from opening to close is pitched upon a plane so low, brutal and vulgar that every self-respecting and state-loving Kentuckian must rise up and repudiate with scorn, indignation and detestation, the estimate which he places upon American manhood and womanhood."

Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. expect to send $500,000, and Lazard Freres $750,000. The last two amounts will be obtained from bankers. The gold will go to Paris.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 13.—The schooner Susan H. Ritchie, which is stranded at Bay Head, with cargo, will surely go to pieces.

HARD LUCK AT THE START.

Brigadier General Jones' Followers Driven Out of Chester, Pa.

CHESTER, Pa., April 13.—The Coxeyites from Philadelphia did not receive a very cordial welcome from the police authorities of this city. Soon after their arrival in Chester, where they intended to encamp for the night, the chief of police gave them one hour's notice to leave the city.

Brigadier Jones, as the men termed their leader, went to the mayor's office to confer with that official, but he was out of town, and the commandant gave orders to the army to move. Followed by a crowd of men and boys they proceeded to Lamokin woods, just across the city line in South Chester borough. The chief of police there also ordered them to leave unless the burgess gave them permission to remain. This was finally secured and the army camped there last night. This morning they started for Wilmington.

Through Utah in Freight Cars.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 13.—As was predicted would be the case, the industrial army, which marched out of Ogden, boarded a freight train of empties at midnight and were whirled on their way east. They filled 25 cars, and there is little doubt that the Southern Pacific arranged with the Union Pacific to have the train ready, though, of course, the Union Pacific would not admit any such arrangement.

As all towns on the route through Wyoming the train will be held at the suburbs and the army prevented from scattering. At Cheyenne the train will be stopped at the stock yards, near the city, where the men will be fed. The army now has three days rations.

Middletown Preparing a Welcome.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., April 13.—The announcement that the New England division of the commonweal army would pass through this city has set on foot a movement for an ovation. The Middletown and Portland Ferry company has signified its willingness to transport the army across the river free. As this city is on the direct route from Boston to New York the line of march was wisely mapped out. Citizens here will endeavor to treat the army with an unusual degree of respect. A public meeting will be arranged and prominent speakers from the ranks of the army will be asked to make addresses.

Nominations By Governor Werts.

TRENTON, N. J., April 13.—Governor Werts renominated David A. Depue, of Newark, for justice of the supreme court. The term is seven years and the salary $9,000 per year. The governor at the same time nominated Major E. A. Anderson for supervisor of the state prison. This berth is worth $3,000 per annum, and the term is three years.

Irish Funds in Paris.

DUBLIN, April 13.—The Irish Catholic says: "The hopeless and hapless negotiations in regard to the Irish funds deposited in Paris have ended, and Mr. McCarthy has directed a renewal of the litigation, against the stoppage of which Messrs. Healy, Murphy, Arthur O'Connor, Knox, and ourselves unavailingly protested."

GET NEW BLOOD IN APRIL.

The Body a Machine that Cannot be Stopped for Repairs---Paine's Celery Compound Feeds Its Shattered Nerves, Purifies the Blood, Makes Refreshing Sleep Possible.

March winds and April showers sweep and scour the earth and clear the air of winter impurities, making it sweet and wholesome.

The same thing takes place in the body the pores open and the blood that creeps in winter now rushes through the arteries in a fuller, stronger stream.

Now is the great season of purification, of new life, new hope, new ambition. It is the best time to get well. Spring is hopeful and the invalid gets well quicker when hopeful than despondent.

Thousands of people throughout the country are this month taking Paine's celery compound—the great spring medicine that makes people well.

"What March does not kill may be done for by April, says an old adage; the nine weeks from Feb. 1 to May 1 develop the hidden germs of disease inside the body and without. For health's sake cellars and the dark closets and corners must be cleaned out, and every one needs to take a spring medicine like Paine's celery compound; years have shown the wisdom of doing so.

April has always been set down as the best time to remove impurities from the blood and regulate the nervous system.

The formula for Paine's celery compound was given to the world by Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., while he was professor in the Dartmouth medical school A remarkable nerve food and blood purifier, it is the most valuable contribution to the world's progress that American college influence has sent forth.

Its power of restoring lives of countless men and women from feebleness and despair to strength and usefulness is known in every part of the country. It has added years of active, joyous existence to thousands of weak, tired-out ailing women who thought themselves doomed to be invalids for the rest of their days. Paine's celery compound cures thoroughly rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, disease of the heart, liver and kidneys and every form of nervous weakness. It cures as nature cures, by feeding the vital inmost parts of the body, the blood and nerves.

All the parts of the body are adjusted with the greatest nicety, and a derangement of one affects the whole. We cannot stop this complicated mechanism for repairs, because we do not know the secret that would set it going again. The repairs must be made when it is in motion.

It is in sleep that the machine goes slowly, the heart beats less rapidly, the blood circulates less quickly, the nerves rest, the muscles relax, and each gains vigor in the only way it can—by sleep and rest. Paine's celery compound quiets and regulates the nerves and the tired exhausted man and woman, on the verge of breaking down, gets sleep and the means of recovery to health and strength.

All over the country Paine's celery compound is convincing overworked business men, anxious housekeepers, women behind counters and in offices, school teachers and all who use their brains excessively, that the unqualified praise from physicians and others, who are careful of what they say, is not too strong for this great remedy that is making so many well and strong.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

A CHURCHFUL OF DELIGHT.

A Cultured Audience Feasts Its Senses on Masterly Music and a Splendid Edifice.

The powers of the new Midmer organ in the Seventh-Day Baptist Church were displayed in an eminently satisfactory manner last evening, when a programme of excellent selection was rendered by organist Frank Taft of Brooklyn. Mr. Taft is a master in his profession, and he sat before an instrument last evening of surpassing tunefulness. The recital was listened to by an audience comprising representatives from all the churches in the city, who came by special invitation not only to hear the chosen notes of a Midmer masterpiece, but also to view the beautiful new architectural pile, the pride of the Seventh-Day Baptists throughout the country.

Much has appeared in these columns of the beauties of this edifice, but few entered its portals last night for the first time but were surprised and delighted at what they saw. A sight of that magnificent dome with its glistening lights must be had before any idea of its wonderful beauty can be realized.

Mr. Taft's playing was heartily enjoyed by everyone. Particularly notable was his rendition of the delicate passages in selections such as the fantasia on themes from Gounod's Faust.

Miss Hamlen, who received a cordial reception in this city once before this season, at the Choral concert, sang two numbers of the programme, and was compelled both times to respond to an encore. The effect of her appearance last night will be apparent the next time she comes to Plainfield, for her splendid voice and pleasing manners have already made her a favorite among music-lovers in this city. Two of the selections she gave last night have been sung before Plainfield audiences this winter, but not so sweetly nor powerfully. She captivated at the start by ascending to the high pulpit-box so that all might see and hear to perfection.

Miss Utter is a rare accompanist, as Miss Hamlen learned last evening.

David E. Titsworth and those who, with him, are responsible for last evening's recital, may well be congratulated on its marked superiority over anything of like nature given in this city in years.

The Seventh-Day Baptists gave a rare exhibition of generosity in yielding the main body of the church to their guests and contenting themselves with the lesser rooms. The building was crowded, campchairs being needed in the aisles to accommodate all with sittings.

Had to Subdue the Clock.

The clock in the Seventh-Day Baptist Church is bound to make itself heard, and last night it clattered so noisily its warning sermon of Father Time that it seriously disturbed the effect of Organist Taft's finest passages at the opening of his recital. It was finally found necessary to subdue the clock by depriving the pendulum of motion. It may be a good timekeeper, but its voice is not in tune with the new Midmer organ.

A horse ridden by John Dugan, a coachman employed by William M. Sandford, shyed near the corner of East Second and Richmond streets shortly before 7 last evening. Dugan was thrown, his foot catching in the stirrup, and was dragged to Front street. The horse went on and was caught by Charles H. Farlee. Dugan's head was badly cut and was sewn up by Dr. J. B. Probasco.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

DEATH OF DAVID DUDLEY FIELD.

(Special to The Press.)

NEW YORK, April 13.—David Dudley Field, the well-known jurist, died suddenly at 3 this morning of pneumonia. He was 89 years of age.

Mr. Field only arrived from a six months' sojourn in Italy and the South of France two days ago. He seemed in perfect health.

SENATOR PEFFER TALKS TARIFF

And Diversifies the Subject By a Suggestion Regarding Unemployed.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The populist senator from Kansas, Mr. Peffer, delivered in the senate chamber the third part of his speech on the tariff bill. He did not define exactly how he would vote upon the bill as it stands, but made it clear enough that, if it gave the benefits of protection to the manufacturers and refused them to the farmers, he would be in favor of free trade. He would stand by the eastern manufacturers, however, if their representatives in the senate would help him to retain the duty on wool, to put sugar on the free list and to retain the sugar bounties. He said he would, at the proper time, present a substitute that would embody these views.

Making a diversion from the tariff argument and speaking of the movements of the great army of the unemployed all over the country, Mr. Peffer declared that if congress was not so hampered with constitutional restrictions it should place within the hands of the president of the United States before 30 days a bill that would provide employment for all. The making of good roads he would leave to the people of the immediate neighborhoods, but he would start two straight railroads, one from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and one from the great lakes to the gulf. He would set all unemployed men at work, and would pay them good wages at the end of the week. Then, he thought, the dark clouds would roll away.

MRS. LESLIE IS SURPRISED.

Particularly So to Learn of Mr. Wilde Marrying a Woman of No Means.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Mrs. Frank Leslie upon being shown the cable despatch announcing the marriage of Mr. "Willie" Wilde, expressed herself as much surprised at the story and could hardly credit it. She said:

"I received a letter from Lady Wilde only last Monday, and she made no mention of a coming wedding. I have met Miss Lees in London, and consider her a very estimable woman. She is about 40 years of age. But as to her marrying Mr. Wilde—well, he has no money, and she is almost similarly situated. She has about $1,000 a year income, and as Mr. Wilde has been living with his mother, and as Lady Wilde has no wealth, I fail to see how they will get along. I am particularly surprised to hear this story, because I cannot imagine Mr. Wilde marrying any woman who has not money."

FLOWER WILL INVESTIGATE.

Meanwhile He Will Request That Brockway Be Suspended.

ALBANY, April 13.—When Governor Flower was asked what action he proposed to take on the answer of the Elmira reformatory managers to the charges filed against them, he replied: "I shall deny the request of the managers to dismiss the charges preferred against them and shall appoint a commissioner or commissioners to investigate these charges to the bottom and to ascertain the truth with reference to the management of the reformatory. Pending this investigation and my decision upon the the charges I shall request the board to suspend Mr. Brockway from the position of superintendent."

The reformatory managers' reply is a general denial of all the charges made against them, and also that the investigation was conducted by a committee authorized by law or in an impartial manner.

Sugar Commission Suit Lost.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Leonard & Co. have lost their suit against sugar king Franz O. Matthiessen and the sugar trust on trial in the supreme court at White Plains. The jury, after being out twenty-two hours, announced their verdict. Justice Dykman had charged the jury that they must find for the full amount, $565,000, or nothing. Several of the jurymen say this point was decisive with them. If they had had any discretion as to the amount, they would have found for the plaintiff for a reasonable amount.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

H. P. DEGRAAF.

After hearing the revolting particulars of the case Judge Moore issued the necessary warrants, and Officer Mattox yesterday arrested Royal Day, Ernest Humes, and Roger Haskard. After an examination of the accused the Judge held Day and Humes in $100 bail for the Grand Jury, and discharged Haskard, but held him in $50 bail as a witness at the next Grand Jury.

Landlord Staats a Heavy Loser.

Ex-Senator Martin Wyckoff, of Warren county, left his home at Asbury, last Thursday, and has not since been heard from. A number of people who had entrusted money to his care are out of pocket to the extent of several thousand dollars. It is estimated that there will be a loss of $200,000 by his departure. Among the losers is John H. Staats, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel in Somerville, who was formerly a resident of Asbury, and who kept the Plainfield City Hotel before his nephew John E. Beerbower. He had given to Senator Wyckoff bonds and securities to the amount of $10,000 and can get no trace of them, though he went to Asbury, last week, to find out what he could.

Asbury has no bank, and many of the farmers of the neighborhood, who are well-to-do, when their crops had been turned into money, were accustomed to confide the cash to the Senator to invest in stocks or bonds for them. He supplied them in a private way with banking facilities.

George Washington Arrested.

Mrs. Anna Morris, colored, of 613 West Third street, had George Washington, of the same race, before Justice Nash this morning. Her complaint was that Washington had stolen a silver watch and $12 in money from her room Wednesday morning. She said the watch had been returned. Mrs. Morris said she had not seen him take the property but that no one else could have stolen it. She had no one else's testimony to offer.

Washington admitted having had money which had previously been in the hands of Mrs. Morris, but said the woman had given him the roll. He had not counted it and thought he must have spent it as he had none left. Justice Nash asked for $50 bail for Washington's appearance before the Grand Jury and as it was not furnished the man went to the lockup.

WATSON AGAIN ACCUSED.

Sixth Charge of the City Against Him, for Illegal Sale of Liquor.

For the sixth time, Michael F. Watson has been brought before the City Court charged with violating the eleventh section of the city ordinance in selling liquor without a license.

Watson has repeatedly applied for a license, but it has been regularly denied him. Failing in this, it is alleged that he has continued to sell without one.

The first charge was made December 21, 1891, and the complaint sworn to December 26, 1891, Cornelius Guinee and Henry Drake having testified to buying liquor in his grocery. He pleaded not guilty, and had a trial. The City Judge fined him $100.

Another charge, for selling liquor to P. Nugent, P. Powers and Gall, December 15, 1891, was brought against him, and sworn to December 26, 1891. This case was adjourned twice, and Watson finally retracted his plea of not guilty, and paid the fine imposed, $100.

Chief Grant made a third complaint October 26, 1892, for selling to Winifred Ferguson, July 24, '92. In this Watson pleaded not guilty, and trial was set down for Nov. 9, 1892. The case was dismissed on the recommendation of Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh.

Officer McCue made a complaint against Watson, October 26, 1892, Patrick Cashman having testified to securing liquor in his place. The charge was made September 26, 1892. The case was adjourned twice, and finally dropped.

Again Officer McCue made a complaint. This time, September 30, 1892, Charles Devlin said he purchased liquor from Watson. Watson pleaded not guilty, and after the case was adjourned twice it also was dropped.

Complaint was made by Chief Grant March 10, 1894, of Watson having sold whiskey to Lawrence Green, and the charge was sworn to April 10. Watson appeared, pleaded not guilty, and was put under $250 bonds to appear next Wednesday, April 18, at 2 p. m.

Congressman Dunn Hopeful.

(From a Washington despatch.)

"The people of our State"—said Representative Dunn of Elizabeth—"are dissatisfied with the form of the Wilson bill and with the delay in the Senate. As long as there is non-action just so long can the protectionists terrorize the legislative power by shutting their mills and adding to the number of the unemployed. When the protectionists are compelled to take their hands from the throats of the people the latter will see where their interests lie. The depression in business is due to the over-production caused by the unnatural stimulant of the McKinley bill, but the manufacturers charge it to a Democratic Congress."

"Is this true about the New Jersey manufacturers?"

"There is no question about it, in my judgment. Take, for instance, the Barbour Company, in Paterson. There are a handful of people in the company who have become millionaires under protection, though they reduce the labor of their mills to absolute beggary. They admit that they have more orders than they can possibly fill, yet they make a cut of ten per cent. in wages and force a strike, with the sole purpose of terrorizing the legislative power here at Washington and inducing their discharged employees to work upon the sympathies of Congress."

"Is the present condition likely to last?"

"If the Senate will pass the tariff bill and reduce taxation the Democrats will win next November."

Plainfield Atlased up to Date.

The Atlas of Plainfield and North Plainfield which has been in course of preparation in the office of F. A. Dunham, City Engineer, for the past three years, is now in the hands of the engraver, and will be ready for delivery to subscribers some time next month. No pains are being spared to have the map strictly reliable and up to date in every respect. Even after the proofs were returned for final correction the whole city was carefully gone over again, and the maps were compared, so that all recent changes in the location of lots and buildings might be noted and the map kept corrected up to the day of its publication.

April Snows.

The snow storm which commenced Tuesday morning lasted until yesterday, a period of 48 hours, and was one of the longest continued and worst storms which has occurred in this section in many years. The one more nearly resembling it in severity and duration, perhaps, and the one more frequently referred to by our older citizens, occurred on the 9th and 10th of April, 1862, when 18 inches of snow fell, "beating all the records of April snows in the memory of the oldest inhabitant".

HYMENEAL.

Zeller—White.

The marriage took place yesterday afternoon at 4:30 of Miss Mary White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen White, to Theodore Zeller. Rev. Father Smyth performed the ceremony in St. Mary's Church in the presence of many friends of the young couple; the best man, was Daniel White, of New York, the bride's brother. The bride was dressed in white silk, and the bridemaid, Miss Rose Scheffler, of New York, also wore white.

A number of friends were informally received after the marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Zeller left on the 8:48 train for New York, to make their wedding tour by a route not announced. They will keep house on Jackson avenue.

Testing the Blue Line Flyers.

Charles Kinyon of Raritan and a party of young engineers from Stevens Institute, began, Saturday, a series of novel and valuable scientific tests on the two fastest engines that run on the Bound Brook route between New York and Philadelphia.

The object of these tests is to determine the merits and economy of the new double compound engine, lately purchased by the Philadelphia and Reading road, over the old style, straight line high pressure engine, now in common use.

To facilitate these tests, the company has built a cage-like enclosure on the pilot of each engine. In this enclosure are stationed a number of scientific instruments for testing wind pressure, the stroke of the pistons, the revolutions of the fly wheel, etc. These instruments are carefully watched, and their indications recorded every few minutes, by the young engineers who stand on the pilot as the engine speeds along at the rate of 60 miles an hour.

To make these tests complete, it is necessary to weigh the amount of coal consumed by the engine, take the weight of the train, and count the number of passengers carried.

The tests will require twelve trips to be made between the two cities mentioned, after which Mr. Kinyon will make out his report, which will enlighten the railroad officials as to the comparative merits of the two engines and also serve as his graduating thesis at Stevens Institute in June.

A Great Scheme for Good Reading.

A magazine club, well managed, is a source of great pleasure. The Washington Park Magazine Club of several years standing, has been very satisfactory. Eight members take the following magazines: Harper's Monthly, Century, St. Nicholas, Scribner's, Lippincott's, The Art Amateur, Godey's, Cosmopolitan, Review of Reviews, and Book News. Of this list, two or more magazines come to each member Monday of each week. Two new magazines are started with each member every month. On each magazine is pasted a printed slip with names of members in the order of their passing and blanks for the date of the transfer. The beauty of the scheme is the fact that the cost of all the magazines to each member does not exceed the price of one first-class magazine.

Occasionally there are delays and consequent grumblings, but the members are generally considerate of the rights of others, and notwithstanding some drawbacks, consider it a privilege to have access to so large a number of magazines at so small a cost.

Dance of the Lyceum.

The C. Y. M. L. club-house was visited by about 100 young people last night. They found an evening's enjoyment in dancing to music furnished by E. M. O'Reilly. The affair was arranged by M. Cashin, William O'Connor and John Ffynn. W. Kiely was floor manager, and his assistant Charles Lang.

The dancers included: the Misses Maggie Casey, May Flanagan, Kate Dorgan, Lena Butscher, Maggie Reville, Frances Monihan, Mamie Casey, Josie Butscher, Kate Corrigan, Kate Mack, Maggie Flanagan, Kate Carty, McIntyre, Motley, Higgins, Whalen, Daley; and William Delahanty, P. Reville, M. Owens, P. Mack, James Conneely, William Winn, T. Owens, Edward Denny, M. Whalen, Thomas Burns, M. Higgins, John Moran, J. Whalen, John Curran, D. Bagley, J. Keenan and Messrs. O'Connor and Waters.

—A special temperance meeting will be held in the Salvation Army rooms Saturday evening. A prominent man from New York, who is well known by many in Plainfield, will tell of his former experience as a drunkard. There will be several other speakers.

THE WAY IS OPEN to health and strength, if you're a nervous, delicate woman. The medicine to cure you, the tonic to build you up, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. You can depend upon it. The makers say it will help you, or cost you nothing. They guarantee it.

As a safe and certain remedy for woman's ailments, nothing can compare with the "Prescription." It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, and a soothing, strengthening nervine, perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system.

It's a marvelous remedy for nervous and general debility, St. Vitus's Dance, Fainting Spells, Dizziness, Sleeplessness, and all the nervous disorders due to functional derangements. It has often, by restoring the womanly functions, cured cases of Insanity.

GOV. WERTS NOMINATES.

Depue for Judge, Anderson for Prison Inspector—Senator Voorhees Reads the Riot Act—House Members Urge the Senate Not to Confirm Major Anderson's Nomination.

TRENTON, April 12—Gov. Werts today renominated David A. Depue of Newark for Justice of the Supreme Court. The term is for seven years, and the salary $9,000 a year.

The Governor at the same time nominated Major E. A. Anderson for Supervisor of the State Prison. This berth is worth $3,000 per annum, and the term is three years. Mr. Anderson is a member of the Republican State Committee, but there is considerable opposition to him in his own party. Many Republican members of the House are urging the Republican Senators not to vote for his confirmation. It is believed, however, that he will be confirmed and probably with the aid of Democratic votes. Gen. Sewell, John J. Tetley and Franklin Murphy are for Mr. Anderson, who, they say, has been an invaluable member of the party in the past. Major Anderson was State Comptroller up to the time that the Democrats secured power a few years ago, and turned all the Republicans out of office.

As soon as Anderson's name came in the Republican Senators went into conference. Leading members of the House like Speaker Holt and Messrs. Storrs, McEwen, Lewis and Woolsey were admitted, and they urged the Senate to confirm no nominations except those endorsed by the joint Republican caucus. The House is in favor of depriving the Governor of the power of appointment and wants to pass the bill, vesting the power in the joint meeting. Henry L. Butler, of Passaic, who was Prison Supervisor once and wants to be again, is said to be the father of the joint meeting bill, and the Representatives of Passaic county, including Speaker Holt, are fighting hard for the bill. Senators Voorhees, Stokes and Thompson "read the riot act" to the House members who entered the conference, saying the Senate would suffer no dictation at the hands of the House and would not be robbed of prerogatives.

It would confirm or reject nominations as it pleased and without reference to the pleasure of the House. None of the Republican Senators are however disposed to vote with the Democrats for Anderson's confirmation, those in his favor now saying that they will stick to him to the last, doing all they can to secure his confirmation, but they will not go with the Democrats unless that turns out to be their only way to success.

In the Senate the $2 Gas bill still sleeps in the Committee on Corporations. Senator Daly moved the committee be discharged from further consideration of the measure, but the motion was voted down.

The Republican joint committee on partisan legislation went into conference again at 1 o'clock to discuss once more the question of the appointing power. Ex-State Comptroller Wm. C. Heppenheimer is to be appointed Circuit Judge. The Legislature last year authorized appointment of three such judges, but only two were appointed. Heppenheimer's nomination is expected by the Senate this afternoon.

Besides Senator Skirm of Mercer it is reported that President Rogers and Senator Hoffman of Atlantic are fighting Anderson. An executive session may be held later in the day.

The House Committee on Judiciary, through Chairman Salinger, reported the referendum amendment without recommendation, and report was concurred in. Mr. Storrs next offered a resolution which was adopted: Resolved, That the so-called referendum amendment to Constitution be referred to Attorney-General with a request that he advise this House with respect to its constitutionality.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 127. Four bottles have cured Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Elmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

TWELVE MAY BE DEAD

Mammoth Sugar Works in Buffalo Burned.

Several People Injured By Jumping From Windows and a Dozen Missing, Supposed to Be in the Ruins—Lose, $1,000,000 on the American Grape Sugar Works.

BUFFALO, April 13.—Flames were seen breaking out of the front of the American Grape Sugar works on Scott and Chicago streets, one of the largest concerns of its kind in the country, last night. A general alarm was promptly responded to, but when the firemen reached the scene the entire structure was a mass of flames. Sixty men were employed at night on the top floors of the work, and it was seen at once that all would not be able to escape.

Among the employes seriously injured by jumping from the windows of the eighth floor are:

James Young, head bruised and badly burned; William Lawndowski, badly cut and burned; William Maurice, both legs broken, will die; John Stern, badly cut. Lieut. Scraeder, of fire company No. 1, was badly hurt by falling walls, and Joseph Wieber, pipeman No. 1, badly burned and leg broken.

At 10:30 o'clock the fire spread to the public fish market and the wholesale meat district.

It was not until midnight that the fire was gotten under control.

The loss to the adjoining property, including the fish market and Klinck's wholesale meat market, will amount to about $20,000, making the total loss about $1,200,000, on which there is an insurance of about $500,000.

All but 12 of the 60 men employed in the building at night have been accounted for. It is feared that they are in the ruins. Their names cannot be learned at present.

The fire was caused by an electric light wire on the top floor.

The Grape Sugar Works buildings were mammoth structures.

The history of the American Glucose company in Buffalo would present a phenomenal instance that wait upon enterprise and skill. Fifteen years ago the extent of the infant enterprise was measured by a daily consumption of but 500 bushels of corn. From this small beginning it has attained proportions, which within the past decade have at times involved a daily consumption of over 20,000 bushels of corn in this city alone, and although the westward movement of part of the trade necessitated the transfer of a portion of its capacity to western fields, yet the Buffalo works have been operated continuously at a capacity never less than 15,000 bushels of corn daily.

The annual products of the works, including grape sugar, glucose, syrups and animal products reached 150,000,000 pounds.

Employment was furnished to 700 men, who received annually in salaries $200,000.

VERDICT TO-MORROW.

Closing Hours in the Sensational Pollard-Breckinridge Suit.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Pollard-Breckinridge case will go to the jury to-morrow and a verdict will probably be rendered that day, for jurymen have no liking for being locked up over Sunday, as the jury undoubtedly will be if its members fail to come to a conclusion before midnight. To-day Judge Wilson is making the closing arguments for the plaintiff which will be the last argument in the case. He will continue all day and send his speech some time to-morrow, when Judge Bradley will charge the jury.

Typhoid Epidemic at Montclair.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., April 14.—Samuel Prescott, the 17 year old son of John Prescott of Montclair, is dead from typhoid fever, as is also Harding Taylor, a Verona dairyman, from the same disease. This makes five deaths from typhoid since the epidemic began. All these deaths resulted from the use of milk from the dairy of George W. Gould at Verona. Taylor is the dairyman who bought Gould's route when the health board of Montclair stopped Gould from selling. There are 11 cases of typhoid at Mountain Side hospital and about 50 cases in Montclair.

Father Phelan Gives In.

BALTIMORE, April 13.—The trouble in the archdiocese of St. Louis which has attracted widespread attention among clergy and laity of the Catholic church has been settled. Archbishop Kain a few months ago denounced the Western Churchman of St. Louis, and forbade Catholics to subscribe to it. The editor, Father Phelan, a priest of the archdiocese, appealed to the papal ablegate, Monsignor Satolli. Father Phelan has since thought better of the matter and telegraphed his obeisance to Archbishop Kain, who is visiting friends in this city.

Will Give the Boy a Chance.

ALBANY, April 13.—Governor Flower has pardoned a youth named Young, who was transferred two years ago from the Elmira reformatory to Clinton prison. The governor declines to enter into particulars in regard to his case, or to tell where he belongs, as he says he wants to have the boy get a situation and a fresh start in life which he could not do if spotted through the newspapers.

Breckinridge Will Be in the Fight.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 13.—A letter to a personal friend in this city Col. Breckinridge states positively that he will make the race for congress. He says: "I am in this congressional race to the bitter end. I am not going to be on the defensive, but am going to make an aggressive fight."

Bank President Indicted.

EXETER, N. H., April 13.—The grand jury has returned four indictments against President Putnam of the Granite State bank, Exeter, for the larceny of $22,000, embezzlement of $20,000 in bonds, larceny of $500 and embezzlement of $10,000 in checks.

EXIT THE SMUT CASE

Verdict in Pollard Suit Expected To-night.

Closing Scenes in the Most Sensational Breach of Promise Trial Ever Held in Washington—Ex-Judge Wilson Scores the Gray-Haired Defendant.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—To-day will probably see the curtain rung down on the final act of the most sensational breach of promise case in the history of the national capital and the country will know the united opinion of twelve men, good and true, who have patiently and attentively listened to every word uttered by witnesses, counsel and judge throughout the proceedings, as to Col. William C. P. Breckinridge's obligations to Madeline Pollard.

Judge Bradley said this morning before Judge Wilson began the closing remarks of his address that if the jury did not reach an agreement before he left the court house this evening he would instruct them to render a sealed verdict to be opened Monday morning. It is believed that he will remain until midnight if there is a probability of the jury reaching a decision by that time.

Ex-Judge Wilson's closing address was a powerful argument for the plaintiff. His voice is keen and penetrating and when it rose in accusation against the defendant, who sat unmoved beneath the terrible fire of words, it was particularly effective. At one point he said: "I stand here for womanhood. This defendant proclaimed from the stand that while affairs of this kind only injured a man they destroyed a woman. I am here to insist that the social law shall be equally distributed. I stand here to protest against allowing this man to enter my parlor and your parlor, while the basement door and the gate in the back alley are bolted against the woman. I would condemn him, condemn him if I could so that the condemnation would ring round the world."

He said he would like to ask Major Butterworth what he would do with the fallen woman and the man who injured her. "I suppose," said Judge Wilson, "that he would turn the woman out and send the man to congress."

Continuing he said:

A Craven and a Coward.

"What is the argument of Col. Thompson and Major Butterworth? It is not that this 17-year-old girl was betrayed by this 47-year-old man but that she betrayed him. That's their argument. If it were not so serious it would be ludicrous. How could that defendant sit there and allow the utterance of such a statement if he were not a craven and a coward? He says 'The woman did it.' That's his defence; it's the old story of the garden of Eden; that's what Adam said when brought before the King of men; she did it, and, gentlemen, Adam has not been in good grace from that time to this.'

Major Butterworth had told the jury nothing whatever about the case, said Judge Wilson. When he started in to do so he found that he was getting into muddy water, so he said: "I'll just stand on the bank and shoot off fireworks."

Judge Wilson's remarks caused occasional laughter and some shuffles of approval, which Judge Bradley rebuked.

"There is one thing I expect to show, and if I show it I shall be satisfied," said Judge Wilson. "It is that this woman, friendless, alone, barred out of society—that this woman's condition is traceable to the crime of that man."

Judge Wilson referred to the intimacy of the defendant and the plaintiff as showing that Colonel Breckinridge considered Miss Pollard his equal, and, therefore, good enough to be his wife. He said that Colonel Breckinridge had taken her to the Ebbitt house to see his Kentucky friends.

Colonel Breckinridge shook his head at this and Mr. Stoll told Judge Wilson that there was no testimony to that effect. Judge Wilson insisted that Claude F. Francis had so testified and, added the lawyer, "When I asked the defendant about this on the stand he didn't deny it."

Shut Out By the Court.

"But that is not so," said Col. Breckinridge in a low voice.

"I can't have these interruptions by outside parties," Judge Bradley said.

"To what do you refer, your honor," asked Judge Wilson.

"I mean these interjections by the defendant."

"Does your honor mean that I have no right to represent myself here," asked Col. Breckinridge in a surprised voice.

"I mean you are represented by counsel, who will speak for you," Judge Bradley said impatiently.

"But I have a constitutional right to represent myself too," Col. Breckinridge replied.

"If your honor so decides it, I'd like you to say so," but Judge Bradley did not answer and Judge Wilson continued. Taking up the promise of marriage, Judge Wilson spoke of the intimate social relations between Col. Breckinridge and Miss Pollard, laying great stress on Mrs. Blackburn's testimony that defendant had repeatedly told her he loved no one but Madeline, "Madeline, mind you," said Judge Wilson, "not Miss Pollard," and that he had not the slightest intention of marrying Mrs. Wing. The promises of marriage before Major Moore were made after the defendant's secret marriage and the defence had sprung this secret marriage upon the plaintiff's counsel, thinking that would overwhelm them. But they didn't know the law and their defence fell to the ground.

Reporters Spoiled Their Game.

Their surprise was sprung too soon, for the omniscient pencil-pushers had found it out, and it came into the possession of the plaintiff's counsel and spoiled the game. Impressively Judge Wilson told of the scene in Major Moore's office when the plaintiff and defendant clasped hands, and despite the fact that the defendant had been married 13 or 14 days before he swore before high heaven that on the last day of that month he would make her his wife.

"He should be by her side to-day," cried Judge Wilson. "Instead of being her defamer, he ought to be her guardian and protector to-day. If that promise had been made in the state of New York it would have been a binding contract—a marriage—and if he had made it while he was already married, it would have put him behind barred doors."

Mr. Wilson continuing, without sparing the witnesses, handled the testimony of Brand and Kaufman and other witnesses who made oath to the plaintiff having visited the house of Lena Staigen when that house, at the time spoken of, had no existence, and said he knew of nothing more unworthy of reprobation than the putting before the jury every perjured statement that could be hunted up in the back alleys and slop barrels of Lexington to blacken the character of this unfortunate girl.

Then Judge Wilson took up the testimony of Rankin Rossell, who was at one time engaged to the plaintiff, and said that Rossell had furnished a loop which the defense had tried to place around the neck of his client's character.

"I wish," said Judge Wilson, "that I might say of him as Tom Corbin said of a notorious scoundrel named Van Zandt, 'May God have mercy on your soul,' and stop there."

Her Word as Good as His.

Judge Wilson took up the statement of Col. Breckinridge that on the day he called on Miss Pollard at Wesleyan college, she told him that she had had relations with Rhodes. This Miss Pollard had denied. "Her word is as good as his," said Judge Wilson. "Her word in this case is as good as his and this doctrine of improbability comes here with crushing force against the defendant."

"Oh, Col. Breckinridge is the most agile man on the witness stand that I ever saw," said Judge Wilson. "You might fling him out of the window but he'll light on his feet."

Then, with dramatic manner and deep voice of accusation, Judge Wilson made a severe arraignment of Col. Breckinridge.

"It pains me to say it, gentlemen," he said, "but I must say it—he has lived a lie. For ten years his life has been that of faithlessness to the most sacred obligation of life. He has lived a life of hypocrisy, such a life as he himself has said, 'You can't find words to coin into phrases to define the height and length and depth of my fault.' I am so filled with pity for this homeless, friendless woman, that I can find it in my heart to say things that I would not otherwise have said. After he has told you that he has lived a lie for ten years I do not believe I could find a man so foolish as to believe him now. What has he not done? He has even falsified his marriage certificate. Can you believe the story he tells with all its improbabilities, and which he asks you to believe in the same breath in which he tells you of all these deceptions of other people. How can you know he is not practising these things on you? Whatever there is of slime upon her comes from this defendant. Every distorted muscle and every broken bone in her character comes from this defendant. It is the trail of the serpent that is over her life."

Judge Wilson painted a picture of the plaintiff, kept out of the society of her sisters, but taken in by the house of mercy, and paid a high tribute to Miss Ellis, the elderly lady from the house of mercy here, who has accompanied Miss Pollard to the court house every day.

SUBURBAN HANDICAP.

Promise of an Exciting Contest—List of the Best of the Entries.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The entries thus far received for the suburban handicap, to be run at Sheepshead Bay in June, number 58. There may be a few more from San Francisco, but it is not likely that the total will be over 60.

The best horses in training are entered and it is by no means unlikely that the suburban of 1894 will be the most exciting contest ever decided over the Sheepshead course.

A glance over the list below, which includes the best of the entries, will show that the three-year-olds are going to make a strong bid for the big stake this year. They are a high class lot, and lightly weighted, as they will be, they may disprove the tradition that a three-year-old cannot win the suburban. Following are the entries:

Lamplighter, Raceland, Don Alonzo, Clifford, Sport, Pessarra, St. Leonards, Prince George, Lowlander, Parvenu, Copyright, Carlsbad, Charade, Picknicker, Stowaway, Candelabra, Rainbow, Senator Grady, Nero, Terrifier, Hyder Abad, St. Domingo, Herald, Hornpipe, Speculation, Potentate, Advent, Assignee, Sleipner, Banquet, Ajax, Bassetlaw, Mars, Vestibule, Diablo, Pactolus, Blitzen, Ramapo, Comanche, Pickpocket, G. W. Johnson, King Lee, Leonawell, Domino, Helen Nichols, Kinglet, Fidello, Lazzarone, Count, Henry of Navarre, Jack of Spades, St. Michael, Longdock, Will Fonso, (imp) Sydenham, (imp) Strombolt.

JURIST FIELD'S DEATH.

Plans for the Funeral—Numerous Messages of Condolence.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The funeral of David Dudley Field, the great jurist, whose death occurred suddenly yesterday of pneumonia, will take place on Sunday afternoon at Calvary church. On Monday the body will be taken to Stockbridge, Mass., for burial.

The pall bearers will be Chief Justice Fuller, Hon. John Bigelow, Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, Hon. Abram R. Lawrence, Hon. William M. Evarts, Joseph Choate, R. M. Galloway, R. E. Deyo, Chancellor McCracken and Judge Charles Andrews.

Numerous messages of condolence were received from all parts of the country especially from members of congress and the secretary of the navy. A telegram from Judge Stephen Field stated that he would reach the city from Washington in company with Chief Justice Melville, W. Fuller and Judge David Brewer.

David Dudley Field was a brother to the late Cyrus W. Field. Other brothers still living are Stephen Field, a justice of the United States supreme court, and Rev. Dr. Henry M. Field, editor of the Evangelist. David Dudley Field was born at Haddam, Conn., on Feb. 13, 1805. He was graduated at Williams college in 1825. He studied law in Albany first with Harmanus Bleecker, but after a few months removed to this city, where he completed his studies. In 1828 he was admitted to the bar, and became a junior partner in the law firm of Henry and D. Sedgwick.

Mr. Field, until 1885, was continuously engaged in the active practice of his profession. As early as 1839 Mr. Field wrote a "Letter on the Reform of the Judiciary System," and afterward addressed a committee of the New York legislature on the subject. In 1846 he wrote a series of articles on "The Reorganization of the Judiciary," which were widely distributed in pamphlet form.

Mr. Field's influence was felt in the constitutional convention of 1846, and the report called for a general code and the "Reform of the Practice." In September, 1847, he was appointed commissioner on practice and pleadings, and as such took part in the preparation of the code of procedure.

In 1873 Mr. Field presented to the social science congress his "Outlines of an International Code," which attracted the attention of all jurists and has been translated into French, Italian and Chinese. An eminent chancellor of England said that "Mr. Dudley Field of New York, had done more for the reform of laws than any other man living." During the civil war Mr. Field was a strong adherent of the administration, and was active with voice, pen and purse, in aid of his country.

For eight weeks in 1876 he filled the unexpired term in congress of Smith Ely, who had been made mayor of New York city. At this time he acted with the democratic party, and was one of the advocates on that side in the dispute over the presidential election. Mr. Field delivered numerous addresses and contributed very largely to current literature on political topics. His "Sketches Over the Sea" appeared in the Democratic Review at the time of his first trip abroad, in 1836, and he published "Speeches, Arguments and Miscellaneous Papers."

The Queen a Good Card.

TACOMA, Wash., April 14.—As a means of attracting attention to the Interstate fair to be held here, the managers are in correspondence with Queen Liliuokalani with the view of securing her presence as a drawing card.

NEW YORK, April 14.—None of the many fishing vessels that were off the coast in the severe storm of Wednesday have yet arrived in port.

Ensign Snow Dies in Brazil.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The navy department has been informed of the death at Montevideo of Ensign William Snow, jr., who was recently transferred from the New York to the Yantic. Ensign Snow was appointed a naval cadet from Massachusetts in 1890.

Stores for the Behring Sea Fleet.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 14.—The navy yard tug Traffic is busy loading ordnance stores at Fort Wadsworth and the coal dock for shipment to San Francisco, where they will be distributed to the Behring Sea fleet.

"FULL OF STONE; SINKING."

Last Cry Heard From the Rigging of a Storm-beaten Vessel.

BOSTON, April 14.—The captain of a Gloucester schooner which arrived at Boston yesterday said: "We were bound from Georges Banks and on Tuesday afternoon we fell in with a schooner whose sails and rigging were slatting about, showing plainly that she was unmanageble. We crossed her stern and read the name Jennie M. Carter. We were under reefed sails, but the sea was so high that we did not dare to put about to stay by the wreck and take the six men on board who were in the rigging.

"All we could hear was 'Full of stone; sinking.' Then the snow shut the vessel out of view."

For Her Blighted Love.

BUFFALO, April 14.—Herman Brinkman, of New York, who plays the clarionet in the orchestra which Mme. Patti takes about the country with her, is in jail here at the instance of Miss Emma Stollmeyer, 22 years of age, of this city, under civil process in a breach of promise suit for $10,000.

THE H-O COMPANY, New York.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

The Farmers Want Hon. O. M. Tinkham---April Finds Him Well Again.

There is no man more popular among the farmers of the country than Hon. O. M. Tinkham, whose likeness is here given.

A man of acknowledged ability, of commanding presence, an excellent presiding officer, he will undoubtedly fill with credit the office to which the farmers of his own state wish to elect him.

Ten years an agricultural editor of the Freeman and Watchman of Montpelier, Vt., secretary and president for several years each of the Vermont state dairyman association, and employed by the boards of agriculture of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and New York at their meetings, assistant commissioner of agricultural affairs, dairy commissioner at the World's Fair at New Orleans, member of his state legislature, where he was the chairman of the house committee on agriculture and recently accredited by the secretary of agriculture to Europe to study the labor problem, he is one of the most conspicuous representatives of the farming interests of the country.

Some time ago Mr. Tinkham was prostrated with heat in the hay field, and from the consequent derangement of the system suffered severely from dizziness, so much so that walking was difficult. He tried the famous Paine's celery compound which had been so publicly recommended by Mayor McShane of Montreal, Rev. Father Ouellet, Miss Mabel Jennes, Ida Lewis and others and the result was most happy. To quote his own words: "the dizziness is all gone, and I am now quite recovered."

The success of his vigorous lectures on his European experiences has been marked. He is now residing at North Pomfret, Vt., and the citizens of the state will wisely insist upon his going into politics so far as to take the lieutenant governorship.

Men and women all over the country are finding strength and freedom from disease in Paines celery compound. It corrects unhealthy nervous action and feeds the nerve centres with just the elements are needed to build them up again into healing tissues. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college discovered the formula for the famous Paine's celery compound after long years of study of the changes that take place in disordered nerve tissues. Dr. Phelps was accustomed to explain in his lectures his mastery over disease due to bad blood and nervous weakness, as follows. "In diseases of the liver, kidneys and heart something is in the blood that ought not to be there. Neutralise these bad humors; the nerves and nerve centres are starving; feed them with the elements that will build them up again. Paine's celery compound embodies these advanced ideas regarding the blood and nerves.

As was to be expected, so remarkable a discovery has not failed to attract the attention of scientific men all over this country and Europe. Medical journals have given Paine's celery compound much discussion. It is extensively used in all the large homes and institutions for sick and aged persons throughout the country Today it stands unquestioned as the most valuable and reliable remedial agent at a physician's command for curing neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, inability to sleep and diseases of the heart, liver and kidneys. It is prescribed by the entire medical faculty.

It is the greatest spring medicine, "the only spring medicine worthy the name," says one physician of the highest standing in the profession. For languor, debility and all forms of nervous weakness it has proved its invaluable curative power. It makes people of all ages and occupations well and active.

The famous Dr. Parr, who lived to such a patriarchal grand old age, was accustomed to say: "Now is the watchword of the wise. 'Now' is on the banner of the prudent." Take Paine's celery compound "now."

April is the most favorable time.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

The night smells of the "odoriess" excavators are abroad in the town. Oh, for a sanitary sewerage system!

North Plainfield ought to buy the old Plainfield truck. It can be had cheap, and it's needed over the brook.

There is no Cheap John advertising in The Daily Press. Press ads are worth paying for, for the profit they bring.

Babbette pool room is a bad hole, a disgrace to the city. It has supplied the courts with too many criminal cases. Close it up!

The sigh of Plainfield citizens is, Move the freight-house! Commuters want a decent approach to the station from the south side, and the city deserves that the unsightly sheds be taken away. The town has too long been misrepresented to strangers' eyes by this blot at its gateway.

The Press is too crowded today with other reading and ads to permit the beginning in this issue of the new copyrighted serial, "A Twentieth Century Romance". This, as its title indicates, is a tale of the next century, but its name cannot suggest the quaint and fanciful conceits which are so skillfully set forth in its columns. It will make a sensation.

You can't keep it down. Old Boreas buried 'neath the pitiless snow what the High School boys had n't plucked, and here it is again, Spring's serenest smile on Earth's broad face, trailing arbutus, gladdening the eye, and scenting the balmy April breezes with its fragrant bloom. This small sweet flower is a harbinger more blessed than the moving van or the handorgan.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

TOP STORY BURNED.

House of Charles F. Jennings Damaged by Fire and Water.

A practical demonstration of the needs of the borough fire department was given today.

It was discovered at 11:15 this morning that the roof of the residence of Charles F. Jennings, corner of Rockview avenue and Grove street, was burning. The alarm was given to Warren Engine Company by several persons at the same time.

Because of the weak floor in the rear of the engine house the engine stands in front of the hose cart and accordingly, as is the custom, Driver Peter Seader's team hauled the engine to the fire first. The hose followed as soon as a horse could be obtained.

Meanwhile flames were bursting from the central gable of the shingled roof. A large crowd gathered and all helped in taking out the contents, including mattings and carpets.

The engine was not used. Two lines of hose were stretched from the corner of Rockview and Washington avenues and two small sprays were poured upon the roof from the ground. The balconies and the roof could not be reached until Seader's team went to West Second street and brought the old Zephyr truck which spent the Winter outdoors.

In fifteen minutes the flames were put out, the fire burning out the attic floor entirely but doing but little damage to the second story. Mrs. Jennings then returned from a carriage ride. Mr. Jennings was telephoned to in New York.

The house, a handsome structure of stone and shingle, has not been built a year. It cost $20,000. The loss is in the neighborhood of $5,000, the water having soaked the walls and woodwork of the lower floors, and is covered by insurance. The only article of furniture damaged was a lounge, the cover of which was burned.

The fire probably started from a defective flue leading from a fire place. Mr. Jennings is very grateful to the neighbors who removed the contents of the house.

THE STABBING "AN ACCIDENT".

So the Row in Babbitt's Dive Goes Lightly Punished.

City Court was well attended this morning, both by prisoners and by interested citizens. The examination of the details in 13 cases took up nearly the whole morning.

Linn Calloway and James Corrigon were arrested by Policeman Vanderweg. Corrigan entertained Mr. and Mrs. Calloway for a week at his Cottage place home. Last evening Calloway came back for articles he had forgotten and a row followed, Corrigan striking first. Each was fined $5.

Charles and Wm. Frey, brothers, were arrested by Policeman McCue on complaint of the wife of Charles. The couple quarreled yesterday and in assisting his brother William struck his sister-in-law. The men were fined $10 each.

Albert King, arrested by Detective Corsa, for drunkenness at the North Avenue station, was fined $3.

Mrs. John O'Rourke of 517 West Sixth street had Michael Killian, who lives in part of her house, in court for pushing her against a door. The evidence was quite contradictory. Mrs. O'Rourke had come downstairs when she heard him criticising her house before a visitor, Thomas Welsh, and the Judge decided that Killian had started the quarrel. He paid a fine of $5.

Charles Perrine and wife Carrie were charged by Adam Hubler and wife Harriet with general disorderliness on East Third street. They pleaded not guilty and were assisted by the evidence of Theo. Wilson and Geo. Monckton. Joseph Jackson, Mary Morse and Maggie Laine contradicted. Complainants and defendants were adjudged guilty and sentence was suspended with warning.

Mrs. Perrine received the remarks of the Judge with counter assertions and was fined $5 for contempt of court.

A row among the colored customers of Babbitt's East Front street pool-room occurred about 7 last evening. One of them was stabbed. It was thought that the knife was used intentionally, but testimony in the court did not uphold the suggestion. The story as told was that the fight started at a pool table and continued in a game of craps.

John Peterson was pushed against "Lover Joe" Randall who, it was said, was whittling with a penknife. John received a cut in the back an inch deep and one and a-half inches long. "Lover Joe" then ran for the door. John threw a pool ball at him which went through a window. Louis Peterson hit Randall with a cue. Thomas Peterson also assisted.

Randall escaped to B. R. Force's store. Chief Grant and Policeman Kiely, Cooney and Frederickson arrested the four named. John and Joe pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each. The other were dismissed under suspended sentence.

The evidence having shown the fact that James Babbitt kept a house in which gambling with dice was conducted, he was brought before the Judge. Babbitt denied the charge and "Lover Joe" and Louis Peterson testified against him. He was found guilty and sentence deferred until next Saturday morning at 9. The maximum penalty is $100 fine or sixty days in jail or both.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

H. P. DEGRAAF.

REVIVAL OF THEATRICALS.

More About "The Grey Mare", Its Story and Cast—Tennis and Other Local Recreations.

It has been a long time since Plainfield's amateur actors have bestirred themselves and decided to give a play. Over a year has elapsed since the last performance in the Casino, and it seems longer than that on account of the numerous plans of which the public has heard from time to time and which have been broached only to fall through. Many good things were promised early in the season but somehow they failed to materialize and every one was glad when it was finally announced that the "Grey Mare" which had such a long and successful run at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, is to be given by a company whose stars are the same who have played in so many delightful dramas in the past few years and have done so much to give Plainfield the enviable reputation of having the best amateur dramatic performances for many miles around.

No less than six plays were given in the Winter of '92 '93 while a season unbroken by any events dramatic stretches behind us this year.

The "Grey Mare" is an adaptation from the German and is owned by Daniel Frohman of New York. It is produced here May 3, by special arrangement with the owner. The play is pure comedy and the plot is most interesting. It is full of good, hearty laughs from beginning to end. The story hinges on a lie told by John Maxwell a middle aged physician and country gentleman, for the purpose of breaking his fiancee of the habit of fibbing. John argues that by telling her a lie and sticking to it he will convince her of the enormity of the action and that one object lesson will be enough to break her forever of the practice of telling even white lies.

Living in the house with John are his brother David, David's wife, Julia, his fiancee, Katy, who is Julia's sister, and Algy Maxwell his ward.

The lie that he decides to tell is the comparatively simple statement that he had taken a horseback ride, but the terrible complications that ensue when John endeavors to substantiate this statement would have puzzled the brain of Machiavelli himself had he been obliged to unravel the mystery.

A love story is of course necessary to the completeness of the play and is supplied by Algy, who runs off with the daughter of an erratic Frenchman, the Count de Chevielle who lives in the neighborhood. John's unfortunate choice of a lie gets him woefully mixed up in the minds of the County Constabulary Cologne Gavachu and his sworn in family solicitor Mr. Beswick, with the Scapegrace Algy David, who has sworn to assist Algy, gets himself in a peck of trouble by concealing a French maid whom he takes for the daughter of the Count, in an unused room of the house. Meanwhile Algy has succeeded in marrying the Count's daughter and appears on the scene with his bride just as the irate father is offering to run the entire company through the middle unless his daughter be restored to him. Explanations and reconciliations follow, and the curtain descends upon peace and harmony once more restored in the Maxwell family.

There are many side issues that add to the interest of the piece and make it one of the most charming of modern productions.

Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Saunders, who take the leading roles of Kate and Mrs. Maxwell respectively, will undoubtedly add one more to their already long list of successes.

Constantine P. Ralli, as John Maxwell, will be a delightful surprise to those who have never seen him act. The company in previous performances have been weak in men, with one or two notable exceptions in comparatively unimportant parts. It would be hard to find an amateur so thoroughly equipped to exhaust the part as does Mr. Ralli. Fred. W. Walz, as David, is doing exceptionally good work and Mr. Cook, as Colonel Garochan, is of course inimitable. Mr. Ely will make a sprightly and amusing Algy, and the lesser parts of the Count de Cheorelia, Beswick and Collins will be taken by Messrs. Laurens Van Buren, J. S. Anthony and George Taggart respectively. Miss Harte will play the French maid while her sister Miss Ethel Harte will play Helen, the Count's daughter. Taken altogether the cast is exceptionally strong and the name of John Blake as coach is only needed to make the company complete and assure its success.

The violent and wintry storm of this week has dampened the ardor of the tennis enthusiasts as it did the ground of the courts. Last week work was being done on many of the courts through town and everything indicated that a particularly early season might be expected, but those who pin their faith on April's smiles are apt to be disappointed and tennis rackets and duck trousers have been put away for a week or two more. Aside from the usual condition of the courts which, except in the case of cinder ones, is apt to be very bad, the early Spring is by far the most pleasant time of year to play. One has cool weather, brilliant sunshine and afternoons long enough to give one plenty of time on the courts and make it quite worth while to dress even if one comes out from New York. Tennis in the past few years has to be ranked as almost the only general amusement that had the power to bring people out of their houses and make the Summers anything but extremely dull.

While it would hardly be just to say that the popularity of tennis is falling it is still true that other games are coming to the fore and are likely to give it a tussle for first place even in the coming season. The most popular of the new games is Golf. Golf is new in the way that tennis was new a dozen years ago in that it is a revival. It is in truth a very old game and its popularity is growing in this country, and has already grown in England where it is now a reigning favorite. Tennis is described by the unappreciative as "knocking a ball back and forth over a net". Golf would be explained by the same person as "knocking a ball into a hole and out again". However Golf has plenty of good healthy exercise in it, as a regular Golf course is some three miles in extent and is often longer. There are plenty of smooth meadows in the environs of Plainfield that would make admirable Golf grounds, and I shall be very much surprised if the game does not find a foothold here within a short time.

Very little is going on in a social way now in the shape of large entertainments of whatever kind. The Monday Night dances at the Country Club will continue to be pleasant things to go to or to stay away from as people feel disposed. It is a strange thing how willing people are to stay at home when there is anything going on and what a fuss they make when there is a week free from social engagements of any kind before them. There has been a small epidemic of card parties in North Plainfield and every body seems to have an amusing time enough at them.

Welsh rabbits continue in popularity and no one suffers in consequence. The terrors of indigestion from welsh rabbits disappear like the mists of the morning when approached bravely and people are no longer afraid of them.

The one interesting spot on the social horizon is the promised performance of the "Grey Mare" May 3. Otherwise life goes on as peacefully as a Summer day and the private affairs of the good people of Plainfield seem all sufficient to keep them amused. THE LOUNGER.

WELCOMING THE PASTOR.

Greetings to Rev. Herbert Munson, Returned from Conference.

A most enjoyable reception was given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue Chapel last evening, to the Rev. Herbert Munson, who commences his second year as their pastor.

The chapel was well filled, and excellent entertainment was provided.

A unique part of the programme consisted of dialogues and tableaux representing titles of different books, which were left for the audience to guess. The first was "Much Ado About Nothing", and was very cleverly given.

A pleasing violin solo was given by Clarence Hillman, with Miss Pool as accompanist. A tableau was then given, which was readily guessed as "A Woman in White".

The humorous recitation, "George Washington Johnston of Kentucky", was rendered in excellent style by Mr. Rogers, and as an encore he gave "A Social Call". Hearty applause greeted both selections.

A very pretty dialogue represented "Mill on the Floss". This was followed by "Little Women", which was given so well that the actors were obliged to repeat it.

Clarence Hillman again delighted all with a violin solo, which gained plaudits.

Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" was appropriately illustrated with a large letter "L" of scarlet color.

The last number on the programme was the dialogue representing the proverb "Better Late Than Never", which was perhaps the best given, the different parts being well taken.

James McGee, who announced the several numbers on the programme, called on Mr. Munson, who made a few remarks. He said there was no occasion for seriousness, for he was not going to make a speech, neither was he going to ask them to take up a collection. It gave him a great deal of pleasure to speak to them and know that for another year he would be able to give them spiritual food for thought, and he hoped all would look forward to a year of much earnest effort in well doing.

At the conclusion of his remarks, all were served with coffee and cake, and thus closed a very happy evening.

GRACE M. E. SOCIABLE.

Abundant Entertainment Provided, and a Good Cause Helped.

The home of John Valiant on Craig place was filled with members of the congregation of Grace M. E. Church last evening. The affair was one of the socials which have formed a feature of the work of the church.

The Women's Home Missionary Society was in charge last evening and managed the sociable through a committee consisting of Mrs. Edward Vermeule, Mrs. Herbert F. Randolph, Mrs. A. Mosé, and Mrs. Elmer Winckler. A collection was taken up for the cause.

To add to the enjoyment of games and refreshments a short programme was presented. Miss Bessie Valiant sang a solo, Mrs. Garey read a selection, John Stiner sang, and a dialogue was given by the Misses Bertha Stevens, May Conroy, and Lizzie Hoagland. A vocal solo by Miss Alice Carroll and a violin solo by Eyckman Winckler closed the programme.

Good Time in Vincent Chapel.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First M E Church gave a pleasant sociable in Vincent Chapel last night. Miss Teale recited, Mrs. Douglass sang, Mr. Joy read and Dr. Barnes made a speech. Coffee and biscuit were served. All expressed pleasure at the return of Dr. Barnes, and he spoke of his happiness at being continued in the pastorate.

DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED.

The Borough on Tiptoe in Expectation of What Is to Come Out of Hackman Galbraith's Frustrated Attempt at a Social Call.

Daniel Galbraith, who was fined $10 in the borough as a result of his affair with Mrs. Ula Fernandez, told The Press that he was only trying to make a social call.

"I first tried the back door,"—he said—"was refused admittance there, and tried to get in at the front. Then Mr. Pease began talking to me, and it was he who telephoned for the police. There was no disturbance, but Sergeant Kiely raised his hand to me and said he would knock me into the gutter."

To the police, after arrest, Galbraith said he was trying to deliver some papers to Mrs. Fernandez. It is charged that he broke window glass, trying to gain admission to the house, and alarmed Mrs. Fernandez into calling for help.

The authorities are still investigating, expecting to involve some very prominent men in the case if any further arrests are made.

POTTER'S WIN.

They Defeat at Bowling Their Rivals of the Scott Works.

Intense rivalry was good naturedly expressed throughout the game, although the team finally victorious was the leader from the beginning. At the end of the fifth frame the team from the West End works was 180 pins ahead.

Their lead had increased to 305 when the game ended. The scorer was Frank Meeker and the umpire Augustus Wilson.

The rest of the evening was spent socially. A number of the rival bowlers tried their skill individually. The men from Scott's are not disheartened, and another game will follow in a few weeks.

Took 11 Frames to Beat.

In an exciting game of 11 frames the Board of Trade bowlers defeated the Westfield Athletic Club team on the Trade Temple alleys last evening. The game was the final and deciding one of a series of five. Westfield led in the ninth frame and the teams tied in the next. Plainfield scored 142 to Westfield's 132 in the next frame.

Can't Reach the Ball.

George Wilson, the 13-year-old son of Marshal Wilson, accidentally shot himself yesterday morning.

He and Harry Kesselring were handling a revolver of 22-calibre in the rear of the marshal's house on Chatham street when the weapon was discharged. The bullet entered young Wilson's left leg, just below the knee, and lodged in the calf. Dr. M. B. Long probed for the ball, but was unable to reach it.

SAVE DOCTOR'S BILLS

by paying attention to properly regulating the bowels thereby preventing a thousand and one derangements of the system which follow neglect of this precaution. Once used for this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are always in favor. They're purely vegetable and far better, as a liver pill, than blue pills or calomel. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular—not to constipate.

Miss MARY ANGUISH, of Glen Easton, Marshall Co., W. Va., writes: "Two years ago I was pale and emaciated, had fermented in my stomach. A physician pronounced my case 'Catarrh of the stomach,' but he could not help me. I lived a month without solid food and when I tried to eat I would vomit. At this time I began taking Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and in two weeks I was decidedly better. I am now in good health, and never felt better in my life. I have a better color, eat more, and have no distress after eating—having gained thirteen pounds since I began taking them.

ALUMINUM FROM JERSEY MUD.

(From The Philadelphia North American.)

W. S. Morrow of Westfield, Union county, N. J., a silver miner, was registered last night at the Lafayette. He is in the city attending to certain matters in connection with his new cheap method of making aluminum. It is his intention to form a company and to erect works in this city for the manufacture of this metal. He showed a sample, which he said had been made from Jersey mud. Mr. Morrow has been a miner since 1853, when he first went to California. Since that time he has been working at silver mining in that State and Mexico.

"The war on silver"—said he—"has brought business to a standstill in the City of Mexico, and the people there are all complaining, but the mining is still going on, for there is an easy method of reducing wages there, as there are no labor unions at the Mexican mines."

MERCY FOR MOFFITT.

Release of the Man Who Shot at a Farmer Near Plainfield.

In Court of Special Sessions yesterday, presided over by Judges McCormick and Hyer, an application was made to the court in behalf of William Moffitt, who some time ago was sentenced to three months in jail for having discharged a shotgun at a farmer on whose farm he was trespassing near Plainfield.

The applicants showed that Moffitt's wife and children, deprived of his support, were in destitute circumstance, and that Moffitt, if released, would get employment at once.

The Court ordered Moffitt to be brought from jail, and in view of the facts set forth, annulled the former sentence and resentenced him to one day in jail.

BASE-BALL CHATTER.

The Somerset Democrat wonders: "Are we to have a ball team this year? A good amateur team would be able to draw people to the West End grounds. Manager Mack, let us hear from you."

The Crescent Juniors defeated the Arlingtons by the score of 12 to 1. The battery of the Crescents was E. Townley and C. Sutphen, and of the Arlingtons C. O. Dodge and J. Wawien.

The Fourth Ward Juniors want to play any nine whose members are under 17 years of age. Philip H. Sheridan of 430 West Sixth street is captain. The nine: Flynn, lf.; Higgins, c.; Sheridan, 1b.; Scott, 3b.; Connors, ss.; Guinee, p.; P. Guinee, 2b.; Lyons, rf.; Smith, cf.

The Paterson Base-ball Club will probably open the season Sunday, April 29, with the Syracuse Club of the Eastern League. The Patersons will again be the management of F. D. Ramsey. The games will be played at Willard Park. The team will be a strong one, consisting mostly of old Crescent, Westfield and Somerville players. Warner, who made such a success while on a recent trial with the Brooklyns, will catch, and Coogan pitch. Touhey will cover first base, and Murray will guard second. Leo Smith, the old Newark favorite, will play shortstop, while Mooney, the ex-Eastern League player, will play at third. The outfield will be Sneden, Tierney and Shackleton. The following games have been arranged up to date: May 6, with Easton; May 13, with Baltimore; May 20, with the Cuban Giants; May 27, with Easton; June 3, with Cincinnati; June 10, with Louisville; June 17, with the Cuban Giants. They also have games arranged with the Washington and St. Louis clubs.

A YOUNG GIRL'S LIFE.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS.

The Story is the Same, No Matter What Her Station In Life May Be.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

No matter whether she walks to her daily toil or rides in her carriage in the park. No matter whether she is one of the millions or one of the few thousands.

Whatever her station in life may be, she is subject to the same physical laws, and suffers in proportion to their violation.

Girls' over sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle the physician. They withhold what ought to be told.

Thousands have found health and comfort through the counsel of Mrs. Pinkham. If you are sick, write her at Lynn, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves the young girl from the danger resulting from organic disturbance, such as suppression or retention of menses or irregularity. It cures displacement of the womb and all forms of disease arising from derangement of the organ. It is a remedy for woman, given by a woman.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. BIG VICTORY FOR LABOR

The Union Pacific Must Restore Salaries.

Decision of Judge Dundy at Omaha—He Scores the Circuit Judges for Refusing to Hear the Employes—Wages Paid Before the Reduction Only Fair and Reasonable.

OMAHA, April 14.—Judge Dundy in the United States court yesterday directed the receivers of the Union Pacific to restore salaries.

It was 11 o'clock before Judge Dundy came into his chamber to read his decision, but there was a large attendance of railway officials, employes and attorneys.

The decision was, in part, as follows:

"I very much dislike to enter upon the hearing of the matters involved in this application for reasons hereafter to be stated, but under the circumstances surrounding the petitioners and the difficulty under which they labored in presenting their claims to the court, resulting in their being completely ignored, after they had, as alleged, been promised a hearing, I have thought it no more than fair to hear them rather than to send them to their distant homes unrecognized and unheard.

"Whilst Judge Caldwell was here holding court for the purpose of hearing the alleged grievances of some of the labor organizations (I had nothing whatever to do with hearing them) I positively declined to hear the complaints of the parties, as it seemed to me that, under orders heretofore made by the circuit judges, the complaint ought to have been hear i before one of those judges.

"But after the hearing before Judges Caldwell and Riner had been completed, and after Judge Caldwell had left the city, application was again made to me praying for a hearing, which had heretofore been denied them. At this time an affidavit was filed and presented to me, stating, in substance, that the petitioners had been promised a hearing, they had been waiting for days to have the promise carried out and, finally, that they had been absolutely refused the hearing theretofore promised them. I therefore concluded to entertain the application and to fully hear the merits and demerits of the claims made in the petition now under consideration."

Judge Dundy then reviewed the history of the applications and orders in the cases between the receivers and the men, giving Circuit Judge Caldwell, a severe scoring. The opinion continues:

"The petition presented and now under consideration shows, in substance, that the committeemen before named represent about 4,000 employes of the railroad, who are members of the American Railway union; that the men they represent have been in the employ of the company for from six months to twenty years; that the wages usually paid to the men for a great length of time had been reduced on the first day of last September and that the wages paid before the reduction were only fair and reasonable. The prayer of the petition is for a restitution of the old schedules as it stood before the change. It is claimed on the one side and admitted on the other that 8,000 or 10,000 of the men are affected by the reduction, a large part of whom were common laborers. Some of the men so employed belong to organizations, some to no organization. It it should be thought proper to make any order whatever in the direction asked, then any such order ought to be for the benefit of all parties similarly situated whether belonging to any of the associations or not. In such a matter all should be treated fairly, and so far as practicable, alike.

"It is necessary for the receivers to have a large number of men to operate the road successfully. It cannot be done without it. If men cannot be employed at just and reasonable rates, as viewed from the receivers' standpoint, then they would be fully justified in applying to the court for leave to pay more than the usual and ordinary rates. But the wages the men are at the present time receiving were fixed by the railroad officers long before the receivers were appointed. Considerable testimony was taked which tended to show that a part of the employes were not at the present time receiving living wages. Many of them doubtless are, whilst some of them are certainly not.

"An order will be entered directing the receivers to restore the old wage schedule in force before the first of September last, so far as it relates to the men represented by these petitioners and others similarly situated. And in cases where the men receive less than $60 per month since increased pay shall commence on the first day of March last. And in all cases where the men received $60 per month or over, the increased pay shall commence on the first of the present month.

This order shall remain in force until otherwise ordered.

Tea Growing in South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The British foreign office has published a report from E. H. Rawson-Walker, consul at Charleston, on tea raising in South Carolina, in which he declares that owing to the climatic conditions of that portion of South Carolina where the plant has been cultivated, gives promise that great success will attend the production of tea there. Opinions of experts are given which show that the product ranks very high.

Nothing To Do With Liquor.

PORTLAND, Me., April 14.—Col. F. N. Dow, son of Gen. Neal Dow, the great temperance advocate, authorizes a denial of the statement going the rounds of the press of the country to the effect that he is, or has been, the manager of, or in any way connected with the management or conduct of any hotel, or of anything whatever to do with the liquor business.

No Foreign Lawyers for Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 14.—The Connecticut Bar association in the application of attorney McCrain Cox, of New York, and others, for admission to practice by courtesy, voted to admit no foreign lawyers to practice in this state unless they pass the regular bar examination.

Anti-Stock Watering.

THE WEIGHT OF CARES

Some of Their Effects on the System.

THEY BRING ON WRINKLES AND PREMATURE OLD AGE.

A Sure Way By Which You Can Avoid All These Results.

All have cares of some kind and cannot avoid them. The business man, clerk, factory hand, housekeeper, society person and student all have their responsibilities. It is those cares which make so many have weak nerves, weakness, poor blood, indigestion, kidney and liver complaint, headache and innumerable other troubles.

There are countless numbers of persons in just such condition; they are not sick with any particular disease, but are out of order, have weak nerves and tired bodies. They do not eat or sleep well, wake tired mornings with bad taste in the mouth, a dull feeling head; they have lost their snap and energy and work becomes an effort. An important letter relating to this subject has come from one of the most prominent and wealthy citizens of Waterbury, Vt. Geo. W. Atkins, Esq., is a leading business man there, being at the head of the firm of Atkins & Haines, and well known throughout New England He writes the following letter for your benefit:

GEO. W. ATKINS, ESQ.

"About two years ago I had pneumonia and was brought very low. After I got out I was in a very feeble condition, not being able to attend to my business for some time. I was all run down and did not know what to do.

"I was nervous and exhausted, and worried over my condition. I took many remedies but did not seem to get any benefit.

"At last I decided to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, having heard it very highly spoken of. I had not taken it but a very short time when I began to notice decided improvement. I continued using it and the benefit derived was marvellous.

"I was cured by this wonderful medicine and recommend it to everybody. I have no hesitation in saying it is the best medicine I have ever seen."

You know you want to be strong and healthy. All you need do is to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and you will be all you desire. Think this over; there is one season when medicine acts better than any other and that is spring. It is also the season when everybody is obliged to take a spring medicine.

The leading one and the best is Dr. Greene's nervura blood and nerve remedy. Everybody is using it now.

Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City, discovered it. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

All that's Yellow is not Cottolene

There's hardly a housekeeper in the country but has heard of Cottolene the new vegetable shortening. It is a strictly natural product; composed only of clarified cotton seed oil, thickened for convenience in use, with refined beef suet, pure and sweet. So composed,

COTTOLENE

Was bound to win, and to drive out lard from the kitchens of the world. When housekeepers wish to get rid of the unpleasant features and results of lard, they should get Cottolene, taking care that they are not given cheap imitations with vegetable names, spuriously compounded to sell in the place of Cottolene.

It's easy to avoid disappointment and ensure satisfaction. Insist on having Cottolene.

Sold in 3 and 5 pound pails.

Breckinridge Will Fight the Pollard Verdict.

Has No Doubt of His Success in His Congressional Contest—In Receipt of Assurances From All Parts of the District—Miss Pollard in a Hospital Suffering From Prostration.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Representative Breckinridge spent most of Sunday at home with his family and friends. In the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Breckinridge, he took a carriage ride.

The defendant in the famous breach of promise case will have a conference today with Messrs. Butterworth and McKierney, of his counsel, to discuss the motion for a new trial, which, he said, would be made within the time fixed by the rules of the court—four days. It will be pressed to a determination with all the vigor possible, and if overruled, as he anticipates, there will be an appeal to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia.

"During the past month and to-day," said Col. Breckinridge, "I have been in receipt of letters and telegrams from every county in my district assuring me of the continued constancy of my friends. They believe that my career is not yet ended; that I have some years of good work in me as their representative. To-day I received a cordial invitation to speak at Paris, Bourbon county, Ky., on May 7, and numerous telegrams from other portions of my district. I have no doubt of my renomination and re-election if my life is spared."

Miss Pollard was so overcome by the protracted strain upon her that she was taken to Providence hospital, where she still remains. She received no callers and is reported by the attendant to be resting quietly. She and the famous old claimant, McGarrahan, are both entered on the books of the hospital as suffering from nervous prostration.

Women Will Fight Him in Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A memorial and resolutions, endorsed by the Womens' Christian Temperance union and the Womens' National Press association will be presented to the house of representatives to-day, asking it to consider the case of W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, regarding his conduct so unbecoming a legislator. These resolutions had their origin in a secret assembly of prominent women of Washington, few in numbers at first, but which has rapidly grown, as its purpose became known in the homes of others.

SENATOR VANCE'S DEATH.

Gov. Carr Requests that the Remains Lie in State at Raleigh.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Many telegrams of condolence were received by the family of the late Senator Vance, and among the callers at the residence were Vice-President Stevenson, Speaker Crisp, members of the cabinet and a great many senators and representatives. Among the telegrams received were those from Governor Carr and Mayor Thomas Badgar, of Raleigh. Hon. C. M. Busbee, postmaster at Raleigh, a man prominent in the politics of his State and who married a neice of Mr. Vance, has arrived, and will return to Asheville with the funeral party. Governor Carr and the council of state have requested that the remains be brought to Raleigh and lie in state in the capitol building and be interred in the cemetery at a spot visible from the capitol, where the senator thrice took the oath as governor of the state.

Asheville, N. C., in Mourning.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 16.—All the flags are at halfmast and the court-house is draped in black with a large oil painting of Senator Vance hanging on the outer wall of the building wreathed in white flowers. Announcement of his death was made in all the churches of the city at the morning service. A monster memorial meeting for the whole of western North Carolina has been arranged for and will probably occur Friday. Senator Vance's first wife, his father and mother and one child are buried in Asheville.

END OF BRAZIL'S REVOLT.

Conflicting Rumors as to Mello's Whereabouts.

LONDON, April 17.—A dispatch from Montevideo says: The insurgents lost 350, killed and wounded, and the government forces 100 in the recent battle at Rio Grande do Sul; General Salgado, who had differences with Mello, with 900 insurgent troops, has arrived on Uruguayan soil. The whole force is unarmed. What is left of the insurgent squadron has gone to Paranagua. Admiral Mello abandoned all his vessels, which were found deserted inside the anchorage of Santa Catalina, and they were taken possession of by the government. The revolutionary junta is said to have fled south by land. One report says that Admiral Mello, with his officers, surrendered to the Uruguayan government, were disarmed and nominally placed under arrest; another report denies this.

Two Men Waylaid and Mortally Hurt.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 16.—Two men were waylaid by robbers in this vicinity Saturday night, and both were mortally wounded. Hungarians attacked Dominick McAndrew while on his way home and beat him into insensibility, fracturing his skull. About the same hour Adam Bronski was assaulted by three Hungarians, who left him for dead in the road. His money and watch were taken. He cannot live. Within four months 24 murders have been committed in Luzerne county. In almost every case the murderers were foreigners, who have not even been arrested.

KEARSARGE LOG-BOOK,

And Other Valuable Relics of the Lost Vessel Found.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A cablegram has been received by the secretary of the navy announcing that Mr. Lloyd Phoenix, while cruising in his yacht, Intrepid, accompanied by Mr. John Schuyler Crosby, had visited the Cayman Islands, where they found in possession of the islander's the Kearsarge's bell, part of the memorial tablet commemorating the engagement with the Alabama and the log book of the ship.

These are the very articles which the state department, at Secretary Herbert's suggestion, notified all American consuls to try to secure, and the two yachtsmen, learning of this went in search of them with complete successful results. The log book was particularly desired during the court-martial of Commander Heyerman and Lieutenant Lyman, and now that it is secured the secretary of the navy will probably not pass upon the sentences pronounced by the court until he has had an opportunity to examine the book.

Mr. Phoenix was compelled to purchase the relics from the wreckers who held them, but it is not known what amount was paid. The articles will be delivered to the navy on the arrival of the Intrepid at New York in the course of a week or two.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the Society Observed—Wonderful Growth.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Receipts of $823 in 1820 and of $1,231,609 in 1893 tell the wonderful story of the growth and work of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States. In the historic Forsyth street church, where the society was organized in 1819, its seventy-fifth anniversary was observed yesterday afternoon. Bishop E. G. Andrews presided, and prominent Methodist clergymen and laymen were present.

The treasurer, the Rev. Dr. Sanford Hunt, read from an old report to show that the founders of the society did not look to foreign missions as much as to the civilization and evangelization of the American Indians. However, he was very glad that the infant had become a man and had stretched out its helpful hands over the whole universe.

During the day the old wooden chair used by Bishop Asbury, which now occupies a place in the vestry, was an object of much interest, and even admiration.

BOOTH AT PITTSBURG.

His Efforts for the Salvation Army There a Signal Victory.

PITTSBURG, April 16.—The salvation army, led by its national commander, Ballington Booth, captured the city yesterday and won a signal approval of its objects and methods from a great meeting of citizens that cannot fail to produce important results in the future.

Commander Booth came to this city accompanied by Adjutant Edith Marshall and Major and Mrs. Halpin. Saturday evening a grand rally was held at the barracks on Grant street. Yesterday afternoon the grand opera house on Fifth avenue was litterally crowded from pit to dome with a representative audience including many clergymen. Commander Booth was warmly welcomed. A brass band accompanied the singing. In his address, Commander Booth talked of the great need for the good offices of the salvation army in this country, telling of its rebuffs, its victories and its objects.

Last night at the same place, a similarly and, if possible, more enthusiastic audience greeted Commander Booth and his several aids.

THE COKE REGION TROUBLES.

To-Day Will Decide Whether or Not the Strike is at an End.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 16.—To-day will demonstrate whether or not the strike in the coke region is at an end. At all the striking plants Sunday mass meetings were held, but the proceedings were kept secret.

At Lemont part of the strikers decided to go to work. Strike leaders, however, finally persuaded them to remain out until the strike is settled. Judge Mestrezat has fixed to-morrow morning for a hearing on the writ of habeas corpus for John McCloy, District President Davis and Secretary Daniel Darby, the leaders of the strike who are now in jail. Mike Barrett, the present president, is still missing. He will probably be deposed at the meeting called for next Wednesday at Scottdale. The Cambria workmen remain firm in their resolve not to return to work. At nearly all other places work will resume to-day.

GOSSIP FROM BERLIN

The Kaiser Makes an Impression at Vienna.

Revival of Bismarck's Attacks on the Government Expected By His Friends—American Swindlers to the Front Again—Count Eulenburg Dines Ambassador Runyan.

(Copyright, 1894, By the United Press.)

BERLIN, April 16.—Letters from Vienna say that the emperor distinguished himself by joviality and good fellowship at the huzzars' luncheon on Friday. He clinked glasses with several officers of the regiment, drank an unusual quantity of champagne, and dispensed decorations right and left. To Count Starhemberg, winner of the long distance race between Vienna and Berlin, he gave a silver snuff-box set with diamonds.

Frau Sacher, who provided the luncheon, showed the emperor, with great pride, a tablecloth on which were embroidered the initials of the long-distance riders. The emperor admired the tablecloth so openly that, eventually, he received it as a memento of the occasion. There is no doubt that by his visit to the barracks the emperor has enhanced his popularity with the Austrian army.

Prince Bismarck will go to Varzin in June, and later, despite the recent declaration to the contrary, he will make his annual visit to Kissingen. The Kolnische Zeitung says: "Prince Bismarck's daily walks are growing longer and his health is better than in years. With the return of self-confidence, he has relaxed into his old habit of occasionally disobeying his doctor's orders as to his diet and drinking. He feels again the keenest interest in politics and is especially disturbed by the anti-Austrian policy of the government. His friends expect an early revival of his press attacks upon the government. They publicly holds that the restoration of his pleasant relations with the emperor need not prevent the frank expression of his opinions or his efforts to influence the public mind."

Complaints lodged with American consuls show that the opening of the tourists' season has brought the usual number of traveling swindlers from England and America. The favorite dodge of these swindlers is to call themselves American journalists. They pretend to represent American newspapers or news syndicates, and try to obtain free board and lodging at the hotels, promising in return to puff the proprietors. At the same time they use the proprietor's name to help them buy on credit. Eventually they disappear, leaving numerous unpaid bills.

Anton Rubenstein, the composer and pianist, told an interviewer on Wednesday that he was about to retire from public life. He would pass the rest of his days on his estate in Russia, he said, and under no circumstances would he then return to the concert stage, as he had had quite enough of it.

Captain Vreeland, accompanied by his wife, has left the American embassy here for Vienna, where he will serve for four months as naval attache. He will go to Rome next winter on a leave of absence.

Count Botho zu Eulenburg, Russian premier, gave a dinner on Tuesday to Theodore Runyan and the secretaries of the American embassy.

Dr. Von Lenbach, the artist, is staying at Friedrichsruh to do a portrait of Bismark in Cuirassier uniform. The portrait is to be given to the emperor.

The Queen of Wurtemburg is seriously ill and is likely to be confined to her bed for several weeks. An abcess in her leg was cut recently. The operation was followed by symptoms which reveal a grave constitutional weakness.

It is understood that the foreign office here is prepared to claim a protectorate over Samoa as the best solution of the present complications, in case the American senate first approve a resolution that the United States withdraw from the Samoan agreement.

Alexander Ukrainzeff, who says that he is the illegitimate son of Emperor Alexander II., of Russia, was sentenced in Dresden Saturday to eighteen months' imprisonment for swindling.

Talking Free Trade.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Free trade theories, not "tariff reform" principles, as the speakers declared, were freely ventilated at a mass meeting in the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Philadelphia single tax society. The speakers were Congressman Tom L. Johnson, Henry George and Arthur H. Stephenson, the latter a local wool merchant.

Striking Weavers Return to Work.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 16.—The striking card room operatives at Mechanics mill have returned to work and the mill will soon be in full operation again. Investigation made by the strikers since they left work disclosed the fact that they had been receiving higher wages than other mills were paying for similar work.

Still With the Prendergast Case.

CHICAGO, April 16.—William Preston Harrison denies the story that A. S. Trude has withdrawn from the Prendergast case. "Mr. Trude has not thrown up his brief in the case," said Mr. Harrison, "and he will be found here when the case is called in Judge Chetlain's court on May 21."

ANTI-LORDS MOVEMENT.

Radicals Determined To Have a Definite Declaration.

(Copyright by the United Press.)

LONDON, April 16.—The anti-lords bill, fathered by Lord Wolmer, Mr. Curzon and Mr. Brodrick, has assumed definite shape, and has at once obtained the strong opposition of the radicals, who have nothing for it but jeers. They certainly have reason to complain of its provisions, and it is very doubtful that it will be introduced without considerable change in its terms. The measure provides that a peer, after sitting in the house of commons throughout one parliament, may resume his right to sit in the house of lords if he shall so elect. On the other hand, the bill provides that a peer once electing to sit in the house of lords shall forever forfeit his right to sit in the house of commons. This is decidedly a jug-handled scheme, and must of necessity meet with strong opposition.

The cabinet are having considerable difficulty in arriving at a decision as to the manner in which they shall deal with the anti-lords question. The ministers well know that the radicals are determined to force them to a definite declaration on the question in the course of the session and are alive to the necessity of arriving at some determinate course of procedure. They are continuing their discussions on the subject at every meeting of the cabinet and every effort is being made to reach some conclusion in the construction of some form of measure restricting or abolishing the veto power of the lords that will command the approval of a majority of the house of commons.

FOUR THOUSAND VACCINATED.

Inhabitants of Fourteen Blocks Visited by the Doctors.

BROOKLYN, April 16.—Forty inspectors of the health department in Brooklyn, accompanied by 130 policemen under the command of Capt. Campbell, compulsorily vaccinated fully 4,000 persons within a radius of 14 blocks in the upper section of Williamsburg in one night. Every human being living in the houses embraced in the area bounded by Union avenue, Jackson, Leonard and Bayard streets, was vaccinated. It was made necessary on account of the many concealed cases of small-pox in the district known as the "Green." The district is mostly inhabited by Italians and last week an Italian who fell and hurt his leg and who was removed to St. Catharine's hospital, was found to be suffering with small-pox, and in Driggs avenue, where he lived, half a dozen other cases were unearthed. Soon after twilight the inspectors and policemen gathered, and block by block the houses were surrounded and guarded, and the operations continued until long after midnight. The inspectors feared trouble from the Italians, but to their surprise not a murmur was heard from them, even when they were aroused from their slumber. The only trouble the vaccinators encountered was from Henry Rawson, a young man, and his wife, who live in Richardson street, near Leonard, and who peremptorily refused at first to be vaccinated. Mrs. Rawson went into hysterics and Rawson declared that they would die rather than be vaccinated. They finally changed their minds and were vaccinated.

McKane's Property Divided.

NEW YORK, April 16.—The property transferred by John Y. McKane to his relatives and friends consists of his interest in the Ocean Parkway, Sea Breeze avenue, West First street and Sea View Elevated Railway company, and a number of lots and houses in Coney Island, Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay. His railway interests, which he transferred to his son, James McKane, are the most valuable.

This judicial use of the telephone is regarded as a unique precedent.

BROWNE IS ON TOP

Coxey Discharges His Son and the "Unknown."

The Army Voted Against Browne, But a Threat to Stop the Commissary Wagons Changed Matters—First Display of Extravagance—To Go to Williamsport by Canal Boats.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 16.—The once famous "Unknown" of the Coxey army was stripped of his veiled glory yesterday, and likewise of his honors as a member of the commonweal. The conge was extended to Jesse A. Coxey, son of the commander of the famous force. This morning Carl Browne, the deposed leader of Saturday, has entire charge of the body. The main body is intact and living once more on good food at the expense of Cumberland's citizens.

A decided revulsion of feeling in favor of the "Unknown" was announced yesterday morning.

J. S. Coxey, the financial backer of the movement, returned to the front at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and immediately began an investigation of the revolt of Saturday evening. His first conference was with Browne in private, both refusing to make any other statement than that they had foreseen by the power they have as reincarnated beings, gifted with the powers of prophecy and forsight, they had expected such a schism and were prepared to deal with it as the conditions demanded.

After seeing Browne, the "Unknown" and Jesse Coxey were called in and notified that they had grossly violated the regulations of the commonweal, and were discharged. An unseemly wrangle followed, during which Browne and the "Unknown" reviled each other roundly as rogues, agitators, fakirs, etc.

When the men came from Odd Fellow's hall to the camping place for their breakfast, both men climbed upon piles of wood and addressed the men. At one time Browne attempted to get on the same enclosure with the "Unknown" and was roughly pushed off, falling on his back from the violence of the shove. He attempted no return. Smith called on the men for a vote and was sustained by 154 to 3, many of the men not voting or being absent.

Mr. Coxey next took the stump and spoke at length on the necessity of peace, showing determination only in the statement that the "Unknown" would have to go, and if the men wanted to abide by him they could, but he (Coxey) would not allow any of the commissary wagons to go with them. This decision was received by the men without a murmur and the "Unknown" and Jesse Coxey left the camp.

The departure of the army from Frostburg was quiet, although many people had gathered to see the motly army go by at Eckhart, a mining town, where the miners were out in force to greet the commonweal, but made no demonstration.

Cumberland people took advantage of the day to go out in crowds to witness the entrance of the army. At 2 o'clock Camp Victory, so named by Browne in honor of his (Coxey's) command), was pitched in a park, two miles west of town. Ample arrangements had been made for providing and protecting the army of peace.

Private citizens bought and donated 600 loaves of bread, 440 pounds of meat, coffee, cheese, hay and corn, sufficient to sustain the army a day.

Sheriff King of Allegheny county had deputies accompanying the column on its march and will continue with them until they leave the county.

Mr. Coxey announced this morning that the army would proceed to Williamsport, Md., direct from Cumberland, by the Chesapeake and Ohio canal. This extravagance, he says, is warranted by the receipts at the gate at camp yesterday, an admission fee having been exacted and necessitated by the broken down condition of the dock. Fully 4,000 people visited the camp.

The revelation of the identity of the "Unknown" was made by the man himself. He is E. S. Pizzaro, of 81 South Peoria street, Chicago, and is engaged in the patent medicine business. A rumor that he will attempt the organization of a rival army is denied by him, and he says he will, instead, lecture in favor of the Eldorado gold mine.

Early this morning there was a rumor that the army will spend another day in Cumberland, holding a monster mass meeting in the opera house and starting on Tuesday for Williamsport by canal boat.

Kelly's Army at Council Bluffs.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., April 16.—The grounds around the transfer depot were crowded with people when the train bearing the western division of the industrial army under Commander Kelly arrived. The appearance of the train was greeted with cheers from the crowd. The train was made up of box cars and the doors stood open and were filled with men who responded to the cheers by waving American flags. The tops of the cars were also loaded down with members of the army. The train was side tracked out on the prairie and the passengers descended and commenced preparing their delayed breakfast. Commander Kelly was surprised that Gov. Jackson had called out the militia to protect the citizens and said that the army was one of peace and such precautions were entirely unnecessary. Mr. Kelly said he had no plans as yet but his men needed a rest and as they have provisions enough to last until Wednesday he thought of taking a rest. He said he hoped to get a train from some of the lines running into Chicago to carry the army on. The army now numbers nearly 1,000.

Yale and the Coxey Movement.

When the New England contingent from Boston passes through here on Wednesday several hundred Yale sympathizers will greet them in a grand triumphal march through the city and a cordial reception will be given the commonwealers.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, - - Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE. - Managing Editor.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

Plainfield's fire protection would be faultless, if the horses were always on duty. They've no business working away from duty's call.

Measure the ads, or count the papers, any day. Our press room is always open to public inspection, and we have no mechanical counter to shove ahead.

Ads that bring business bring more ads. That's why The Daily Press leads in advertising patronage. Press ads are just like compound interest, in their results.

As a corporation so accustomed to the shifting of its property, it ought to be a simple and quick matter for the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey to move that freight-house.

People coming to Plainfield to look for a home are not favorably impressed by the sweet odors disseminated by the prevalent "odoriess" execavators. Strangers are astounded at the lack of sewers.

The open and loud profanity heard continually on the streets of Plainfield is a disgrace to manhood, and an insult to womanhood whose unwilling ears are compelled to hear it. Are the police aware of the prevalence of this vice?

You've seen a juggler take a palmful of tightly squeezed paper, shake it up and bring forth a barrelful of paper shavings or paper flowers. He makes it look like more—but it is n't. Be wary of jugglers in the newspaper business. They're as full of tricks as they are of inflation.

North Plainfield ought to arrange its engine-house so the hose cart could be had for service immediately. Hose is the first essential when the gong blows. Hydrants with high-pressure water service make the engine a superfluity in most cases. Saturday afforded a most impressive object lesson in this respect.

The Central Railroad Company of New Jersey has done many good things for Plainfield, and the one thing it needs to do to make itself solid is to move the freight-house. The change which the company has in its power to make at the North Avenue station would aid materially in Plainfield's boom.

As soon as the Standard learns who Westfield's leading man really is we will send a reporter to interview him as to the time he gets up in the morning.—Westfield Standard.

Like the Ernest of Hawthorne's beautiful story, Editor Pearsall is apt to find the living reality of the Great Stone Face in himself. Editor Pearsall comes pretty near doing all the leading for Westfield town. "And that's so!"

If the School Board wishes to achieve the distinction of economical management, why does n't it stick to to the plan of open bidding on all public work? In the expenditure of public money, whether for books, printing, plumbing, furniture, repairs or supplies of any kind, work should be given to the lowest bidder without even the semblance of partiality being shown.

That is a false sentiment which prompts some North Plainfield rs to say that the old Plainfield fire truck is n't good enough for them. It was good enough for Plainfield till a year ago, and hasn't outlived its usefulness, as was demonstrated Saturday. North Plainfield needs it, and it's a bargain that some community is going to snatch pretty quick. There's such a thing as being too nice. For a community that is trying to economize, to refuse a good fire truck because its former owner has a better is being too nice.

The assignment of P. M. Demarest is a matter for regret to all Plainfield. He has been in business here 20 years, and has been a hard and earnest worker, building up a large and high-grade trade. But the credit system has proved more than he can stand. The enormous debt owed him by customers is the cause of his failure. It is a misfortune for a man to be forced to yield to such pressure at his time of life, and all will sympathize heartily with him. The Press hopes that he can arrange matters to continue in business. He is too enterprising and valuable a merchant to lose.

There is this to be said in favor of School Board indebtedness: The Board has an excellent easy-payment method, distributing the bonds over a term of years so that the annual tax on each new school put up is small. Just such a method is proposed for the construction of sewers. The sewers must come, or something will drop, and that something will be Plainfield real-estate values. Sewers or shrinkage; land-owners, take your choice. You can get ahead by signing; you can drop below by being an obstructionist. Plainfield is n't the only lovely place on earth, and outsiders have a bad idea of even a Plainfield paradise that has no sanitary sewerage system.

The Daily Press of Saturday contained, by unerring printers' measurement, and by accurate calculation, more actual local news than any other Plainfield newspaper. The size of type used by The Daily Press is uniformly of a much smaller body than that by which the uninitiated are deceived in some other papers, and The Daily Press thus gives more reading within a specified space. The regular advertising of The Daily Press, uninfested by any Cheap John methods, has long been, was Saturday, and continues to be, greater than that of any other Plainfield paper. It is not with a feeling of boastfulness, but of reasonable pride in meriting its success, that The Daily Press extends its greetings and expresses its gratitude to an appreciative public. The Daily Press realizes its responsibility to an intelligent community which accords to it the local leadership in circulation and advertising patronage; and it sticks to the serene, solid and substantial path of devotion to Plainfield's prosperity and progress. It has no concern in the toy-balloon business, and it feels that the popular verdict as to what is Plainfield's best newspaper is best proved by its own standing in comparison with that of competitors.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The Executive Committee of the Journal bicycle team races will meet tonight in Elizabeth. Final arrangements will be made for the season's races. As the Linden Township Committee have not repealed the law against road racing, the course through Cranford will not be used. It is probable that the committee will tonight select a course between Elizabeth and Rahway. It is likely that none of the Plainfield clubs will enter teams, though the Lyceum may find six swift riders willing to enter.

It has just been learned that a number of Zimmerman's friends will give New Jersey's crack rider a complimentary dinner next Monday night. The event will take place at a New York hotel, and will be in the shape of a farewell to the former amateur.

The membership of the New Jersey Division L. A. W., has passed the 2,000 mark and is rapidly increasing. A road book is offered to every member securing three applicants, and each applicant is given a complete set of road maps.

They have peculiar ways of handicapping racers in Egypt. Recently one man was compelled to ride with a weight of 66 pounds strapped to his machine because his competitor was the heavier man. In spite of this the little man won the race.

Samples of Oat Meal will also be distributed.

Funeral of James F. Martin.

The funeral services of James F. Martin were held yesterday afternoon at 2, from the residence of his brother, Gilbert S. Martin, 157 Duer street. There was a very large attendance of friends and relatives.

Ninety-two members from Franklin and Somerset Councils, J. O. U. A. M., attended in a body, and Juniors were present from Dunellen and Bound Brook.

Rev. J. W. Richardson conducted the services, opening with prayer and Scripture reading, after which he made a few remarks which were very comforting and helpful, especially to the immediate family and relatives. Dr. D. J. Yerkes also spoke words of consolation. Both clergymen gave testimony to the character and life of the departed.

At the conclusion of the service the members of the lodge took a last look at their departed brother. They then conducted the funeral cortege to Hillside Cemtery where burial was made. The lodge service was very impressive at the grave, and was in charge of Past Councilor David Bodine.

The floral emblems were numerous and beautiful. From the cousins of the decedent were nineteen Easter lilies, symbolizing his age; a large pillow from the lodges, bearing the inscription "Our Brother in V. L. and P."; and a floral tribute from the deceased's employer, with the words "Smalley Bros" thereon and several bunches of cut flowers.

Pall-bearers were chosen from members of the lodges.

Ernest C. Smith of Lafayette College found time pass so agreeably with Sandford avenue friends, Sunday, that he missed the last stage to South Plainfield, and had to walk the distance, to catch the Lehigh Valley train. But it was a romantic walk in the moonlight, the scent of the pure white rose on his coat was exhilarating, and his reception here was food for pleasant thought. Mr. Smith purposes living in Plainfield after graduation.

Fair for the Relief.

A children's fair was held Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Henry E Bowen, on Watchung avenue, for the benefit of the Plainfield Relief Association. The little ones supplied all the salable articles themselves and did the entire work of getting up the fair, selling tickets and advertising by word of mouth. The house was crowded with juvenile customers from 2 until late in the afternoon. The little girls to whom credit is due for the affair are: Miss Ethel Bowen, Miss Beesie Bowen, Miss Marguerite Simpson, Miss Elsie Martin, Miss Helen Martin, Miss Helen Talmadge, Miss Emma Miller, Miss Florence Patterson and Miss Madeline Ostermoor. The ticket-takers at the door were Masters Frank Talmadge and Harry Ostermoor. The net proceeds of the fair amounted to $30 26, which amount will be handed over to the relief fund immediately.

Monday Dances.

The Monday evening dances at the Casino will be held hereafter alternate Mondays only. The first of the new series will be Monday, April 30 Music will be continuous from 8 to twelve.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with snuff, powders or astringents because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your drug gist has it.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

G. A. R. Reception.

The reception given by the W. C. T. U to the two Grand Army Posts of this city at the Union's rooms on Watchung avenue, Saturday evening, was a most enjoyable affair. There was a large gathering of veterans, who were very much pleased with the programme of music and readings, and the stirring address of Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis.

Excellent refreshments were served to all, and an evening of pleasure was the result of the Union's efforts.

Both posts joined in hearty thanks for the generous hospitality provided.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

REPUDIATES REFLECTIONS.

PLAINFIELD'S SCHOOL BOARD REPLIES TO CITIZENS' CRITICISMS.

Figures Produced Which Were Omitted from the Statistics of the Protest—The Accommodation of the High School But One of Six Needs to Be Met by a New Building—Schools Overcrowded Throughout the City—Teachers' Wages Little Better Than Servants'.

The following document has been prepared in answer to the protest of the people published in The Daily Press Tuesday evening, April 3:

AN ADDRESS FROM THE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO THE CITIZENS OF PLAINFIELD.

GENTLEMEN—A committee of citizens having presented to the Board of Education a protest against the erection of a new High School building, and this protest having been published in the papers, we feel that the answer should be made to you. This course seems the more necessary because the published protest presented figures in such a way as to give a very misleading impression of our school and contained inferences that reflect only on this Board, but on the whole previous administration of the schools. We accordingly answer the protest, point by point.

THE COST OF THE SCHOOLS.

Under this head we present the following letter and its answer:

Plainfield, N. J., April 3, 1894.

Mr. H. M. Maxson,
Superintendent of City City Schools:

DEAR SIR—At the desire of the Board of Education, I hereby request you, as one familiar with school statistics, to examine the figures contained in the protest presented to the Board at its last meeting, also similar data for the State at large, and present in writing at the next meeting of the Board any further information you may obtain bearing upon the question of school expenses.

Yours respectfully,
J. B. PROBASCO,
President of the Board of Education.

Plainfield, N. J. April 9, 1894.

Dr. J. B. Probasco,
President of the Board of Education.

DEAR SIR—In accordance with your request, I present the following report:

PER CAPITA COST.

The percentage of per capita cost of education presented in the protest is found in a table on Page 40 of the New Jersey School Report for 1892.

The table as prepared by the State State authorities gives the per capita of 32 cities and large boroughs; the table of the protest presents data from twelve cities and towns selected from this list.

The following page of the same report calls attention to the fact that Bordentown pays $31.82; Camden, $30.05; Woodbury, $28.70; Montclair, $27.55; all more than Plainfield; East Orange, $27.32; Bloomfield, $27.32, (but 7 cents less than Plainfield), and Orange, $26.38; Long Branch, $26.34; Bayonne, $26.32; Phillipsburg, $25.56; Newark, $25.33, Princeton, $25.19, (all above $25.)

Summarized, this shows four cities higher than Plainfield, two practically the same (If we had spent but $94 less that year our rate would have been $27.32) and six with rates from four to eight per cent less than ours.

materially larger than that of all the other cities except Elizabeth. I have placed opposite the cities quoted in the protest the expenditure of each for buildings, (including bonds and interest). It will be seen at once that the only other city that spent anything, comparatively, for this purpose was Atlantic City, and that paid a little less than a third as much as Plainfield.

The $22,540 expended by our city consisted of $14,525 for the extension to the Bryant Building made in that year and $8,024 for bonds and interest. It is manifestly unfair to include those items in a comparison with cities that have built no new houses or that paid nothing for bonds and interest in that year.

Omitting these items, to arrive at an equitable basis of comparison, it appears from the table of the protest thus revised that in four of the 12 cities quoted, the regular expenses were more than in Plainfield.

It might be said, still further, that of the $22,057 expended by Plainfield, $15,000 did not enter into the taxation at all that year, being added to the debt, to be paid $1,000 per year.

CAUSES FOR DIFFERENCE IN PER CAPITA COST.

Where there is a difference in the comparative cost of education in two cities there are underlying causes for the difference, which may not be at once apparent from the statistics.

A few causes, however, are suggested by the columns in the accompanying tables, "enrollment per room", and "average wages of lady teachers". The first column shows that Phillipsburg, for instance, seats 41 children in a room where we seat but 31. This means for Phillipsburg one-fourth less expense for buildings and maintenance, one-fourth less the number of teachers and a proportionate reduction in expense for salaries; the other column shows that it pays its lady teachers a third less than Plainfield does. New Brunswick puts a third more pupils in a room and pays its teachers one-sixth less; Bridgeton puts two-thirds more pupils in a room, and pays the teachers more than a third less, while Perth Amboy crowds more than twice as many into a room and pays the teachers about two-thirds as much as Plainfield does.

Thus the cause of the difference in a large number of cases is suggested. When it is considered that the numbers quoted are the average, and that the number in the lower rooms usually runs much higher than the numbers quoted, the condition of the primary rooms in some of the cities may be better imagined than described.

It is impossible for us to condense and mix grades without serious loss in the advancement of the pupils. One of the important causes of the great excellence of Plainfield schools is the fact that the rooms have not been allowed to become overcrowded when it could be avoided.

The other means that cities with low rates take to reduce the per capita cost is to reduce the teachers' salaries. But "as the teacher, so the school". If character is a product of the highest importance, as every student of education believes, then the teacher must herself be a woman of high character and thorough training for the special work of teaching. Only by carefully selecting such teachers have the Plainfield schools attained their high standard. But to get such teachers necessitates fair wages. Plainfield pays an average of $423 per year. Subtract from this, board at $5 per week for 52 weeks, which the Plainfield teachers pay, and there is left barely the wages that a good servant receives above her board, while the teacher's position subjects her to many expenses that the servant's position does not.

An examination of the column of wages will show that the cities that are nearest the front rank in education pay about the same wages that Plainfield does. Any material decrease in wages paid would mean a loss of many of the best teachers, and secure, in the future, teachers of less experience, less ability by less preparation, and consequently cause a retrograde from our educational eminence.

THE TRUE COMPARISON.

But all such comparisons between town and town, without consideration of the conditions, are uncertain and misleading. The true method is to compare only comaunities that are similar in character and that have equally good schools. Perhaps the communities in the State that meet both these conditions best are Montclair and East Orange. The following table shows our comparison with these cities.

Montclair has just paid $24,000 for a High School lot, and $19,196 for a High School Building, while East Orange paid $15,000 for a lot and $107,000 for the building.

COST OF SCHOOLS ELSEWHERE.

In this connection it may be of interest to you to know something of the cost of some good school systems elsewhere. I accordingly append the figures for a few towns of which I have reports. In Connecticut, Middletown 27.81; Portland, 32.24; Hartford, 38.44; Meriden, 24.99; Waterbury, 29.01; Norwich, 32.39; Stamford, 27.41. Rhode Island, Newport, 35.30; Pawtucket, 36.30. Massachusetts, Salem, 28.13, Newton, 34.48; Waltham, 32.63; Dedham, 33.73; Hyde Park, 27.65; Brookline, 47.46; Milton, 42.63.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY M. MAXSON.

INCREASING THE TAX-RATE.

As to increasing the burden in these hard times, we would say that even if the building were at once erected, there would be no increase whatever in the tax-rate for a year to come, and that when taxation is affected by the new building the increase will be only about 8 cents. It should be borne in mind that the cost is not all assessed at once but that it is added to the debt and paid in small installments.

Furthermore, we are assured that by building in the present business depression, we could save from 15 per cent, to 20 per cent. on the cost of the building, so that immediate construction would not only not have added to the tax burden in these times of depression but would have saved quite a sum to the city and would have given employment to workmen at a time when it is greatly needed.

As to the tax-rate itself we would call to mind these facts:

First—We understand that in the smaller cities the tax-rate for the school is usually larger than that of any other city department.

Second—That the people by direct vote gave this Board power to assess up to 50 cents for current expenses, but that the Board has never taxed as high as that but once, and that some years ago.

Third—That since 1888 the total school tax has decreased 14 cents.

Fourth—That in 1891 the school tax was reduced 2 cents, but this Board was the only city department that reduced its rates.

NEED OF A HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

The need of a High School opens up the whole question of the ability of this Board to judge of the needs of the schools and its wisdom in planning to meet them. We will not discuss that question but simply present the needs and our decision.

The Board is confronted with the following conditions:

First—At the Byrant school four of the ten rooms with nearly sixty pupils each and the other rooms full.

Second—At the Franklin school two of the ten rooms with over fifty pupils each.

Third—At the Washington school one room with over sixty pupils.

Fourth—A High school rapidly filling its quarters, with accommodations behind the times for such a school and such that it is utterly unable to do modern work in the subjects of most vital interest to the pupils not going to college.

Fifth—With not an unused class room in any of the four buildings mentioned, to permit growth.

Sixth—An increase of over 200 in the average attendance in the city schools this year.

Under these conditions the Board decided upon the following plan—to erect a new building with modern equipments that should bring our High school up to the footing of other schools in the State, and enable it to do more for its pupils and provide for its growth for years to come. The High school would then abandon its rooms in the present building, and the Grammar schools would move into them from the Franklin school, leaving vacant rooms in that building. By a change of district lines and by transferring pupils to the Franklin school all the rooms in the various schools now crowded could be easily relieved, and room be given for future growth; thus one building would meet all of the six difficulties.

ENLARGING THE WASHINGTON SCHOOL BUILDING.

In opposition to the plan of the Board, the protest suggests that we build on land already owned by the city and verbally the enlargement of the Washington school is recommended.

We have accordingly had a skilled architect make an examination of that building with a view to putting on an additional story. He reports that, owing to the thinness of the walls, a steel frame would be necessary, and, owing to insufficient trusses, the roof would be better torn off than raised and that these two facts would necessitate so much reconstruction that the work would cost nearly as much as a new building; that, furthermore, the plan of the present building is extremely ill suited for permanent use, having no ventilation, but one-fifth or one-fourth the proper amount of light, and that poorly arranged, insufficient wardrobes, and no place to put stairs for additional stories.

We would say in addition that the location of this school is now exceedingly objectionable to the parents, many refusing to send their children to it; that alteration or the erection of a new building would turn six classes out of doors, and require the provision of new quarters and disorganize and scatter them for a year; that when done it would relieve only the Washington school, since that district already reaches within one block of the Franklin school, and the Bryant and Franklin schools would be as crowded as ever; enlargement of the Washington school building would, therefore, meet but one of the six needs that confronts the Board and that one of the least importance.

REGARDING THE IRVING SCHOOL.

We would say that nine rooms in this building are already occupied and the others probably will be in the near future. The gathering of more children into either of the other wards we deem impracticable.

ABOLISHING THE HIGH SCHOOL.

It is hinted that excessive taxation should be avoided by curtailing or abolishing the High school. With the fact in mind that nearly half the cost of instruction in the High school is met by tuitions paid by out-of-town pupils so that it adds but a little more than 4 cents to the taxation, we do not believe the question of "High School or no High School" needs to be discussed. We would emphasize the fact that the new building should not be looked at solely as a High school expense; the accommodation of the High school is but one of six needs to be met by its construction.

Finally, as to the protest itself: the Board would assure you that it has not been and is not now moving hastily in the matter, but slowly and with careful deliberation. It is not wedded to its own opinion, it has no pet project to carry out, it is not seeking to have its own way in spite of any number of citizens or one citizen; it is simply trying, with all the wisdom that it possesses, to conscientiously fulfil the duties that its oath of office binds it to in providing adequately for the growing needs of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,
J. B. PROBASCO,
E. L. FINCH,
FRED. C. LOUNSBURY,
O. L. JENKINS,
L. N. LOVELL.

If this page of the report had been also quoted, Plainfield would have appeared in a favorable light.

Page 38 of the report shows that our expense per capita was almost a dollar (97 cents) less than the average for the whole of the county of Essex, and but 26 cents more than the average for the whole of Hudson county. I present herewith the cities of the protest with these omitted cities added, and also some additional data that will assist in making a sound comparison of our city with others.

Cities omitted by the protest are in italics.

Included in the Plainfield per capita is an expense of $286 for books for library, none of which came from taxation, being obtained from school entertainments. If this had been omitted, as it should have been, our per capita would have been reduced to $27.17, and six cities would appear with a higher per capita than Plainfield.

TOTAL ANNUAL EXPENDITURE.

The protest calls attention to the fact that the total annual expenditure of Plainfield was

COURT AT A BILLIARD TABLE.

Biblical Parable Brought Up to Date, and the Judge's Right Off Interrupted.

The parable of the virgins wise and foolish was exemplified in Plainfield Saturday night. V. Harry Yarnall, formerly in the Plainfield electric-light plant, and now constructor of electric railroads for L. W. Serrell, Jr., came out from New York; and was cycling in company with his friend Mr. French.

Mr. French had provided for himself a lantern with oil, but Mr. Yarnall had none. Policeman Cooney therefore hailed him and told him of the advance of Plainfield in the matter of an ordinance regulating wheeling. Mr. Yarnall held that Mr. French's light was sufficient for both, but Policeman Cooney said that was a matter for the Court to settle. He offered to parole Mr. Yarnall for his appearance Monday morning, but the offending cycler said he had to be in New York then. He asked for immediate trial.

Judge Coddington, equal to any emergency, established court in the billiard room of the City Hotel, where he was interrupted in after-dinner recreation. The Judge must have been ahead in the game, for though he has raised the limit on bicycle fines he was good-humored enough to let Mr. Yarnall off at the old price. The culprit borrowed the necessary dollar of A. D. Mallinson and paid the fine, and the Judge declared the green-cloth table no longer a Bench, and went on increasing his score.

FREE INFORMATION BUREAU.

That's Just What This Park Avenue Institution Is Getting to Be.

The questions asked at a popular library are usually many and various, and show for what a diversity of reasons people use a library. Below are given some of the questions answered during the past week at the Plainfield Public Library: "Something that will give a fair idea of the income tax"; "A book about throat diseases"; "Some attractive books about the Middle Atlantic States"; "Sketch of the life of Kossuth"; "Something telling about immigration, whether it ought to be restricted or not"; "Who is the patron saint of France?"; "Anything about Wendell Phillips"; "An account of Magellan and his discoveries"; "Something good about Spain and Mexico"; "Something not very long about the rule of the British in India"; "A good sketch of Washington Irving's life"; "What are the characteristics of the age?"; "Some book about the care of dogs"; "A book giving points which will help in a debate as to which is the best country to live in, France or England"; "Something about Siberia"; "A comprehensive short life of Gladstone"; "Some illustrated books about South America", "A good short life of Bismarck"; "Some nice books on China".

This list is not a complete one, but may serve to show something of the work done in the reference department of Plainfield's Free Public Library.

A Valuable Donation.

Clarence W. Bowen, of Fulton street, New York, as secretary of the committee, has presented to the Plainfield Free Public Library a copy of "The history of the Centennial Celebration of the Inauguration of George Washington as First President of the United States". The volume, of folio size, is very handsomely gotten up, with many illustrations and portraits of Washington and prominent men and women of his time, containing much valuable matter relating to his inauguration, with a full account of the centennial celebration in NewYork, in April, 1889. Being so valuable a work, it will belong strictly to the reference department, and can be seen only on application to the attendant.

Water Wanted.

Efforts are being made to have water pipes laid in Elmwood place. The Council will be petitioned to put a hydrant at the corner of Second street, and residents of seven out of the sixteen houses on the place have agreed to patronize the Water Company.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Fewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all try these remedies."—Solomon Fewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

MRS. KUHN.

MRS. KUHN, of 615 E. 16th Street, New York City, writes as follows: "It pleases me to state that I had a running sore upon my neck, and had it operated upon three times, and still it was not cured. I was also run down very much. There was a decided change after using 'Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.' I took a few bottles and was soon cured. Later my husband had a lump behind his ear; he tried your medicine, and one bottle cured him. I shall always recommend your medicines.

JUDGE AND JURY DISAGREE.

Singular Proceedings in the Panwood Court.

The case of Henry Cook against the Township of Fanwood was tried Saturday before Judge Moore and a jury in Scotch Plains.

S. S. Swackhamer of this city appeared for the plaintiff, and though having a very difficult case to handle, presented it with marked ability. W. R. Codington for the defendant was remarkable for his objections, thus giving both gentlemen a chance for the display of their oratorical powers. After the evidence for the plaintiff had been submitted, a motion by the defense that the Court instruct the jury to render a verdict of no cause of action was granted, and the jury was so instructed; but to the unspeakable surprise of all, the jury returned with a verdict of $20 for the plaintiff. "Jury discharged—verdict set aside"—said the Judge.

Orator and Choir for Memorial Day.

Final arrangements are being made by Major Anderson Post No. 109, G. A. R., for the observations of Memorial Day. Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis will be the orator at the evening meeting in the old Seventh-Day Baptist Church. The choir will be composed of Mrs. Asa Collier, soprano; Miss Ketcham, alto; Elmer Runyon, tenor; Robert Gorton, bass, with Miss Jessie Utter accompanist, and Dr. Berg and Miss Berg cornetists.

Disputing Detective Doings.

And now Henry C. Drake denies that he was a witness against Michael F. Watson. He contradicts Mr. Guinee, and says that Guinee drove him to Watson's and drank there with him. The police say that Guinee's story is correct, and that Drake accepted $4 for expenses to secure evidence against Watson and never reported on the $4 advanced.

Should Have Been Printed in Town.

The tickets for the "Grey Mare" that were to have been on sale this morning at Reynolds's and Leggett's pharmacies, did not arrive until late this afternoon on account of a delay on the part of the New York printer. They will be on sale this evening.

P. H. Demarest Assigns.

A deed of assignment was made this morning by Peter M. Demarest the grocer, for the benefit of his creditors. Craig A. Marsh is the assignee. The assignment is for the equal benefit of all creditors, without any preferences whatever.

Wheel Wrecked by Trolley Track.

A rear wheel of a wagonette in which A. D. Thompson and daughters were riding on East Front street was smashed yesterday afternoon at 4. The driver turned too quickly from the street railway tracks at the corner of Watchung avenue.

Can't Discourage Dunellen.

Dunellen bowlers are plucky. Undaunted by two defeats, they have challenged the United Bowlers of Elizabeth to a third game. The Elizabethans have accepted, to bowl on the Dunellen alleys Wednesday night.

Rushing the Trolley Scheme.

The trolley road between Paterson, Orange and Trenton will be begun shortly, and the projectors expect to have the greater part of their system in operation within a months.

Nine Good Bowlers.

The Board of Trade bowling team which will roll with the C. Y. M. L. tomorrow evening will include VanEmburgh, Littell, Stephenson, Buckle, Petrie, Maltby, Teel, Davis and Vail.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Senator Vance's Death Disturbs Many Plans.

Both Branches Will Adjourn To-day in His Honor—Tariff Speakers as Announced So Far—The Question of Rules the First Important Business Before the House.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Senator Vance's much regretted death will disturb many plans that had been formed for this week's business in congress. Both senate and house will adjourn in his honor soon after the meeting to-day. The late senator from North Carolina was universally liked by his associates of both political parties. His genial personality carried sunshine wherever he went, and the resolutions of regret adopted in his case will not be perfunctory merely.

When the senate adjourned Saturday evening, after a two weeks' debate on the Wilson tariff bill, there had been delivered during that time a total of nine speeches, and one of those, that of Mr. Mills', was impromptu and a very short affair, which will be supplemented later by a set speech from the same gentleman. Those who have thus far addressed the senate are, in the order in which they spoke: Senators Voorhees, Allison, Mills, Peffer, Hill, Lodge, Hale, Mitchell (Ore.) and Quay. This does not appear to be a very large list of set speeches, the time consumed in their delivery considered. Under the amicable agreement reached by Mr. Harris and Mr. Aldrich the present arrangement of meeting at noon and discussing the pending bill until 5 o'clock will be continued throughout this week, with the understanding that the debate is to begin on the paragraphs a week from today. The republicans at first thought they would insist upon general debate for a longer period than three weeks, but they have abandoned that idea and appear to be anxious to get into the discussion of the bill by items.

There is no rule in the senate under which debate can be restricted, and a speech consuming days can be made upon a single item or a general speech could be delivered on a trivial amendment to the paragraph under discussion. It is for this part of the debate that some of the leading speeches of both sides of the chamber have been reserved.

Mr. Smith, of New Jersey, who was to have spoken to-day and whose speech had been looked forward to with much interest, will not speak until Thursday, on account of Mr. Vance's death. He may not even be able to get in his remarks on Tuesday because of an agreement that on that day there should be an executive session for the special purpose of considering the Chinese treaty. Mr. Morgan is very anxious that this matter be disposed of and may insist that the agreement be carried out, the more so for the reason that he has made all his arrangements to leave the city Wednesday for a ten days' trip through his own state on political business. It would be very natural for Mr. Morgan to desire this treaty to be out of the road before he started. In that event Mr. Smith's remarks may be held in abeyance until Wednesday, but both Senators Morrill and Turpie have given notice that they will speak on that day. Mr. McLaurin, of Mississippi, who gave notice that he would speak on Tuesday, will also give way until later in the week.

The republican senators who are prepared to speak are Messrs. Morrill, Perkins, Higgins, Hawley, Gallinger, Cullom, Dolph and Frye, while the democrats will be represented by Messrs. Mills, Smith, McLauren, Turpie and Palmer. Beyond these no senator has announced his intention of speaking.

House.

The course of legislation in the house this week will depend largely, if not altogether, upon the reception given to the resolution from the committee on rules, to provide for counting a quorum in accordance with the decision of the democratic caucus last Friday. Of course, nothing will be done on that matter today because of Senator Vance's death. Despite the expressions of republicans, a disposition to support the proposition, which was somewhat numerous Saturday, it is by no means certain that it will be adopted when in opposition and delay. A leading republican, who early expressed a qualified intention to vote for the rule, is now doubtful of the expediency of giving the proposition the support of the republican minority. "I think," he said, "it would be wise to let the democrats adopt the rule by their own votes. Unless they all confess their fault and make the rule possible by their united support, I am afraid they may say later on that it is not a democratic measure anyhow and that it was foisted upon the house by a combination of democrats and republicans. Probably we had better let them decide the matter for themselves."

Cotton Released From Custody.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Joe Cotton, the well-known race-track man, has been discharged from custody. He with three others were arrested Saturday charged with "tapping" the Western Union wires. His counsel proved to the court's satisfaction that Cotton knew nothing of the wire "tapping." The other men were held for examination.

Moody's Good Opinion of Congress.

CHICAGO, April 16.—D. L. Moody, the evangelist, has just left this city for Salem, Mass., where he will conduct revival meetings. Notwithstanding the Breckinridge case, he declared it as his belief that there were never so many good and true men in congress as there are to-day.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

Those living at a distance can consult the Doctor by letter.

HER MISGUIDED LIFE

Miss Pollard May Edit a Report of the Trial.

Only to Awaken Good Sentiments and Not to Keep Alive Bad Sensations—No Idea of Going on the Stage or Otherwise Adding to the Publicity of Her Unfortunate Career.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Miss Madeline Pollard is still at the Providence hospital, suffering from nervous prostration which followed upon her trial. Inquiries elicited the information that her condition has not improved, but remains about the same. Whether this means that she is likely to pass through a serious illness is not yet known.

The following card from Miss Pollard was sent to a New York paper:

"As my unfortunate case is now ended with a verdict in my favor, I do not see why I may not say how deeply and heartily I thank the press of the United States in general for all that has been said in my behalf, and how clearly I see and admit the justification for much that has been said against me. And if the press will be so good as to be my messenger I should like through it to say how deeply grateful I am for the kind letters which have come to me and to my counsel from all parts of the United States during the terrible ordeal through which I have just passed.

"If the future holds anything for me it cannot be in the direction of publicity and sensation. If my untrained literary ambition is to receive any reward or justification it must come with labor and patience, and I have no idea of going on the stage or lecture platform, or otherwise accentuating the publicity which my unfortunate career has had in this trial.

"I have been applied to by various publishers to edit a report of the trial, but I have not brought myself to think that this would be a wise step, and if I should take it it will be only because I believe myself able in a good sense to point the moral of my misguided life and to awaken good sentiments in the public rather than to keep alive bad sensations.

Day of Mourning in Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The senate was the scene yesterday of the funeral ceremonies of the late Senator Vance. The galleries were filled with an immense audience. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Dr. Hoge, of Richmond, Va., who preached a short funeral oration. They were witnessed by the president and the members of his cabinet, the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, the speaker and members of the house of representatives. The house was in session only a few minutes, adjourning out of respect to the memory of the deparled senator.

Rhode Island State House Bonds.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 17.—The twenty-five bids received for the new state house bonds, aggregating $1,500,000, and to run ten, twenty, thirty and forty years, when opened showed that most of the bidders wanted certain lots. The best three bids for the entire issue were those of Spencer, Trask & Co. and Dunscomb & Jennisen, of New York, each bidding 105 215-1000, and Blake Bros. & Co., of Boston, 105 79-100, and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, 105 88-100, each with accrued interest. The bid of the latter house for the whole issue was accepted.

No Warrant for Rev. Dr. Wheeler.

CONCORD, N. H., April 17.—Sheriff Fellows denies that he has warrants for the arrest of Rev. A. J. Wheeler, secretary and executive officer of the State Law and Order league. John H. Albin, counsel for one of the parties who is alleged to have made a loan of money to Mr. Wheeler, said that so far as he knew no warrant had been issued for Mr. Wheeler's arrest.

King Philip Mills Strike.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 17.—Between 370 and 400 employes of the carding room of the King Philip mills still refuse to go to work. Pickets were stationed at the mill gates to look after "knobstick," but no one applied for work in place of the strikers. The carders were unanimous in their vote upon the strike and appear determined to make a bold stand.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The market opened the week in a quiet fashion, with a moderate attendance of buyers and mail orders about up to the average of the past week. The weather conditions are, however, of the finest, and cannot fail to have a stimulating effect on business, so badly interfered with by the late cold, stormy spell.

Will Have a Big Celebration.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., April 17.—The selectmen have received word from the secretary of the navy stating that the cruiser Marblehead will be in this port on the 4th of July to receive the town gift of a set of colors, providing the vessel is fully completed at that time. The townspeople will have a big celebration.

Death of an Old Hartford Druggist.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 17.—Seth Talcott, senior member of the wholesale drug firm of Talcott, Frisbie & Co., is dead. He was 70 years of age and had been in the drug business in this city for 40 years.

An Escaped Convict Captured.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., April 17.—William E. Hain, alias Robert P. Lord, who escaped from the state prison at Michigan City, Ind., on March 5, has just been captured here.

WHERE THE LAW STOPS.

Protection for Person and Purse But Not From Sentimental Injury.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The action of William B. Murray, a broker, to recover $30,000 damages from the Gast Engraving & Lithographing company for publishing lithographs of his daughter, Ethel, has been dismissed by Judge Bischoff, of the court of common pleas. The lithograph was entitled "Ready for the Party," and was used as a soap "ad." Judge Bischoff says that Murray can neither get an injunction nor ask for damages because of the publication of portraits of a child. He also says:

"The law does not take cognizance of, and will not afford compensation for sentimental injury to person and property. The law protects the person and the purse. The person includes the reputation. The body, reputation and property of the citizen are not to be invaded without responsibility in damages to the sufferer, but, outside these protected spheres, the law does not yet attempt to guard the peace of mind, the feelings or the happiness of everyone."

The judge does not pass upon the rights of the child in the matter.

The Royal Wedding at Coburg.

COBURG, April 17.—The Prince of Wales has arrived here to attend the wedding of Princess Victoria and Grand Duke Ernst Ludwig. The building which was partly burned here was the Bellevue restaurant. Some decorations were burned and the building made uninhabitable, but the total damage was much less than was expected. Just after the fire had been gotten under control a special train arrived with the Czarewitch and the Grand Dukes Vladimir, Sergius and Paul, together with their wives. Men are at work restoring the wedding decorations which were destroyed by the fire. Crowds are coming in from the country to the popular celebration of the wedding. No more rooms are to be had at hotels or lodging houses.

Breckinridge Back in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Representative Breckinridge, of Kentucky, will resume his congressional duties to-day. He is a member of the house appropriations committee, and was an active member in that body until called from his legislative duties to the celebrated trial. He was about the house for a few minutes this morning. He first went to the appropriations committee room, where he spoke with several members regarding the work in hand. He was looking well. The members made no demonstration when he came in. While none of them were effusive in their greetings, all whom he addressed received his advances in an apparently friendly spirit.

North Carolina's Day of Grief.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 17.—Raleigh is preparing to pay fitting honors to the remains of Senator Zebulon B. Vance here to-day. At a special meeting of the board of aldermen suitable preparations for the reception of the remains and for their escort to the capitol, where they will lie in state, were made. Public meetings of citizens were held in various towns of the state last night and tributes paid to the memory of the dead senator. All prominent buildings here have been draped in mourning.

Rev. S. S. Palmer Held for Court.

PITTSBURG, April 17.—The Rev. S. S. Palmer, who was arrested last week at the instance of his foster daughter for bigamy, has been held for court. It appears that he secured a divorce from his first wife, but in a manner that will not be sustained by the courts when the facts are made known. A special meeting of the Pittsburg presbytery was held and a committee appointed to investigate the charges against Palmer.

For a Great Electric Supply Plant.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 17.—Terry's Island in the Connecticut river opposite Enfield and Suffield, and just north of the Consolidated railroad bridge at Warehouse Point, has been sold to an electric syndicate for electric purposes. It is proposed to build a dam across the river at this point, where an almost unlimited amount of power can be developed for supplying the surrounding towns with electricity.

Will Meet at Asbury Park.

MADISON, Wis., April 17.—The annual meeting of the National Educational association which it was intended to hold at Duluth, Minn., this year, will be held instead at Asbury Park, N. J., July 6 to 13. Supt. Wells says the change of plan is owing to the action of the Western Passenger association in refusing to grant ticket extensions.

To Attend General Slocum's Funeral.

ALBANY, April 17.—Both the senate and assembly appointed a committee to attend the funeral, in Brooklyn, of General Slocum, and adjourned out of respect to his memory.

Farm Property Burned in Germany.

BERLIN, April 17.—Nearly fifty houses were destroyed and eight farms were devastated by fire in Oldenburg.

Dr. Cyrus Edson, [illegible], says:

H-O Hornby's Oatmeal

THE ARMOR PLATE FRAUDS.

A Claim of New Evidence, But the Proof Not Forthcoming.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Secretary Herbert when asked about certain sensational publications regarding wholesale frauds alleged to have been perpetrated in the Carnegie armor furnished the navy, said it was true that several weeks ago he received a letter from James K. Wallace, a Pittsburg attorney, offering to put the department in possession of new evidence regarding irregularities at the Carnegie works, and he replied by letter to Wallace that if he had any reliable evidence and would bring it to Washington it would be considered. No reply was received, but a little later extended statements alleging new frauds appeared in print. About a week ago he received a second letter from Mr. Wallace in about the same terms as the first one and he then wrote a second reply, several days ago, referring to the first and repeating the willingness of the department to examine any proofs that might be submitted. No answer to this has been received and the only information the department has that Wallace is in Washington with his proofs is contained in newspapers.

Secretary Herbert still expresses his readiness to consider any properly authenticated testimony, but he is not prepared to say without examining further into the matter whether he would consent to sign a contract binding the government to pay for the proffered information.

Benedict in No Hurry.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—It is said that the delay of the senate committee on printing to act upon the nomination of Mr. Benedict to be public printer is due as much to Mr. Benedict as to any other cause. It is understood that he does not desire to take charge of the office until about the first May, in order to give Mr. Palmer sufficient time to get his affairs in order, and prepare to turn the printing office over in ship shape form. Mr. Palmer when he succeeded Mr. Benedict showed every disposition to coöperate with the latter in enabling his predecessor to wind up the affairs. Knowing Mr. Benedict's wishes in the matter, it is said, Senator Gorman has evinced no desire to hurry the confirmation. It is expected, however, that the committee will be called together early in the week for the purpose of acting upon the nomination and reporting it to the senate.

International Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The state department has received for forwarding to the forty-nine independent nations of the world official copies of the memorial for international arbitration prepared at the World's Columbian exposition. The memorial is signed by all the officers of the exposition and the prominent members of the congresses held at Chicago last summer, by the members of the present cabinet, leading senators and representatives, and by prominent men and women generally. It is a beautiful and unique document, making a strong plea for the establishment of permanent universal peace to be secured by applying methods of arbitration whenever differences arise among nations.

Tracing Bomb Fiends.

NEW YORK, April 17.—It is probable that the fiends who last Friday placed the dynamite bomb on the lawn of William Strange's residence in Paterson will shortly be apprehended. The well-known silk merchant gave it for analysis into the hands of John C. Pennington, a New York chemist. Mr. Pennington said that all the dydamite manufacturers in New York can distinguish their own make by certain characteristics. The dynamite used in this particular bomb has, it is said, been traced to a firm who has its agency in Paterson. This is the first step towards tracing the men who placed the bomb.

McKane's Appeal.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The case of the appeal of John Y. McKane from the decision of Judge Lacombe, in the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, refusing to release him from the custody of F. H. Durston, warden of Sing Sing, upon a writ of habeas corpus, will be heard by the supreme court of the United States next Monday, the 23d inst., ahead of the cases set for that day. The motion to advance was made by the attorneys for the state of New York, McKane opposing the motion.

College Savages in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 17.—A fatal accident occurred at Huntington, Tenn., where a party of school boys attempted to haze a new student. The plan was to take the victim to the woods and frighten him with pistols fired from ambush. One of the shots struck a young man named H. T. Harper, who was passing along the road at the time, inflicting a wound from which he died in a few hours.

Jersey's Oyster War.

BRIDGETON, April 17.—But little news has been received from the seat of the oyster war. It is reported that seventy-five other captains have been arrested on their boats and taken before a justice of the peace and bound over for court. Up to a late hour none of the boats that had the officers aboard who made the arrests have returned, and it is feared that a fight has taken place.

Safe, If Watched.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The sub-committee of the house public buildings committee has returned from Chicago and report that the Chicago public building is not as dangerous as the newspapers claim. It is safe, and, with proper watching, will remain so for five years, at least, says the committee.

Death Warrants for Two.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 17.—The condemned murderers, James Newton Hill, Allegheny county, and James B. Carpenter, Juniata county, will be hanged June 14. Gov. Pattison has issued the death warrants.

REAR-ADMIRAL COXEY

He Temporarily Drops His Military Title.

Now in Command of the Commonweal Army's Fleet of Canal Boats. Return of the Prodigal Son—"Unknown" Smith Badly Squelched. The Departure from Cumberland.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 17.—Peace once more prevails in the army of the commonwealers. General Coxey may or may not be, as has frequently been stated, the guileless victim of Carl Browne, but, nevertheless, there has not been a murmur of rebellion since his return and ultimatum on Sunday morning. It was a case of the loaves and fishes, and the marchers found on their first collision with the commissary department that it at least was a one-man power institution. They had to be Coxeyites or Tannerites, and they chose to march at Coxey's command rather than fast at their own pleasure.

Coxey also showed that he is the active head of the party by manipulating the canal authorities and securing their consent to transport his army by water to Williamsport. Consequently the start was made at 10 o'clock this morning, two boats carrying the horses, men, wagons and camp outfit.

Gen. Coxey will temporarily drop his military title and assume rank as rear-admiral in command of the fleet.

The commonweal transports will be followed by another canal boat, carrying the newspaper correspondents and telegraph operators, who will send dispatches en route, giving the public the incidents of he voyage.

The run of 84 miles to Williamsport can be made in 30 hours' constant travel, but Coxey announced that stops would be made at all canal towns to address the public. Stops will also have to be made for cooking on shore, but no recruits can be received until road travel is resumed.

The army could have been considerably augmented at Cumberland, but after 20 unemployed pottery workers were enrolled the recruiting office was closed by order of Coxey, who said that 300 men, the number now in camp, was enough to transport and feed until the open country beyond Williamsport was reached.

In the stretch from Hancock, Md., to Washington the line of march diverges, taking in Hagerstown, Frederick and other good sized towns where recruits may be expected and the halts within the last 40 miles of Washington are long and frequent, lending color to the rumor that there is a distinct understanding between Coxey and the several other commands on the road for a rendezvous outside the district line. This, if true, portends a much more formidable gathering of the idle army at the capitol than has yet been admitted by any save the commonwealers themselves.

The fame of the "great unknown" has been completely shattered by the announcement that he is a Chicago patent-medicine fakir. Young Coxey has been taken back into the ranks and the veiled lady still hovers around, but the "unknown" is no longer respected by the Coxeyites.

KELLY'S ARMY AFOOT.

But a Convenient Train of Empty Box Cars Soon Expected Along.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., April 17.—Gen. Kelly's industrial army is footing it east. The army gave up its special train of box cars belonging to the Union Pacific, in which it came from Ogden, and an engine was at once attached and the 27 empty cars started westward. The men are heading for Davenport, as the most direct point east. They camped at Parks Mill last night, about five miles from Council Bluffs. Kelly says that about 200 men had been added to the army in Council Bluffs.

It is not considered likely that the men will walk through the state. The opinion is that a convenient train of empty box cars will go out, which will be "captured" by the commonwealers.

Kelly asked the Council Bluff's authorities if they would supply 24 hours' rations to enable him to leave. He estimated the cost of feeding the army at $600 per day.

RIDE OF PAUL REVERE

To Be Reproduced With Historical Accuracy.

Unique Celebration of Massachusetts' New Holiday April 19 Proposed By Medford, Arlington and Lexington—The Exciting Ride, the Challenge, the Caution of the Sentry, Etc.

BOSTON, April 17.—A unique celebration of the new holiday (April 19) has been arranged by the towns of Medford, Arlington and Lexington in the shape of a reproduction of the ride of Paul Revere, which will take place on Wednesday and which will be given with as close a regard to historical accuracy as is consistent with picturesque effect.

A horseman will ride from Medford to Lexington, attired in the costume of the period, and will do his best to arouse the inmates of every house on the route. Inasmuch as Medford was the first place at which Revere really aroused any one, it has been deemed advisable not to begin the ride from Charlestown.

This modern Paul Revere will therefore start at a point just outside of Medford and, riding in, will carry the alarm to the old royal house, where the people will be waiting all ready to be aroused. From this point signals will be given for the beginning of the celebration.

Along the route illuminations and fireworks will light up the road to Arlington, at which place Cooper Tavern will be alarmed, salutes will be fired and the Medford programme will be substantially reproduced.

From Arlington to Lexington the road is for the most part lonely and there will probably be but little celebration, but in Lexington an enthusiastic welcome has been promised the rider. The ride will end at the old Hancock house, on the Bedford road, where, as a fitting ending, the scene of one hundred and nineteen years ago will be reproduced—the challenge, the caution of the sentry and the arousing of the house.

A young lady of Lexington will enact the part of Dorothy Quincy, and there will probably be a Hancock and an Adams.

Denounces Thompson's Philosophy.

CHICAGO, April 17.—During his chat with a reporter in the Lake Shore depot while waiting for his private car to be attached to the eastbound express, Chauncey M. Depew was asked for his opinion of Lawyer Paul Thompson's moral philosophy uttered at the close of the Breckinridge trial. The railroad magnate became suddenly grave as he said: "Such a speech has never been made before and never will be again. Thompson's philosophy is false and the statements that preceded it are untrue. Ninety-nine per cent. of the American people of both sexes are true and pure in their home lives. His accusation of general immorality is a slander, and that all men are libertines is a sweeping falsehood."

ROYAL ARCANUM'S ROYAL SHOW.

Brilliant Programme Enjoyed by a Large and Enthusiastic Audience.

If thorough appreciation and enthusiastic applause are an indication of success, Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, may well take pride in the brilliant entertainment given to its members and their families at the Stillman Building lodge rooms last night.

The array of talent provided by the committee was a perfect surprise to the audience, and the manner in which the programme was arranged showed forethought and ability.

Long before the hour set for the commencement of the programme, every seat in the spacious hall was occupied, and standing room was at a premium.

To say that it was one of the most successful entertainments ever given by any fraternal organization would be putting it mildly. The opening overture, entitled "Bridal Veil", was played by the Amphion Orchestra, under the leadership of P. L. Conde, with such dash and finish that the applause lasted for several minutes. A tenor solo entitled "Volunteer Organist", by Albert C. Plant, followed, and earned him the unqualified approval of the assemblage. "Violinisms", performed in a masterly by Hugh J. Emmett a brilliant meteor among the star entertainers of this country, consisted of a solo and eccentricities that were wonderful, and seemed almost impossible to perform, so intricate were the movements. Charles J. Ward gave a humorous recitation, and as an encore a comic song, which pleased very much. Next on the programme came a soprano solo, sung by Mrs. A. H. Mulford, with violin obligato played by M. A. Korff, entitled "Angels' Serenade". In the faultless rendition of this and the encore number, a sweet, melodious "Spring Song", the perfectly trained voice of this accomplished Plainfield young women was heard to perfection. At her second appearance Mrs. Mulford sang a beautiful Spring song by Tynes, also with violin obligato by Mr. Korff, which was full of fire and life; and it did not need very much, under the charm of this delightful song, so perfectly rendered, to transport one in thought from the hall to where the harbingers of the glad Springtime, the ever-welcome robins, were really singing their happy Spring songs among the fresh green foliage of the silver maples.

Hugh J. Emmett closed the first part of the programme with an original humorous musical monologue, and which "brought down the house" or rather up, because the audience fairly rose to their feet with enthusiasm at the wonderful tricks performed on the violin; the humorous side of this instrument was excellently demonstrated. The Amphion Orchestra, of which the city of Plainfield may well be proud, opened part two of the programme with a potpourri from Gounod's opera Faust. In conception, brilliancy of execution, and excellent blending of tone-volume, it could not have been excelled by any other orchestra; it was perfect.

Albert C. Plant then gave an excellent imitation of the famous Black Patti. His art in mimicry and comical imitation of the renowned vocalist's mannerisms were given in such good style that the appreciative listeners were loth to see him go off the stage.

A dramatic recitation by Miss Florence Smith was given with a depth of feeling and elocutionary power quite surprising and earned for her hearty approbation several encores, to which she graciously responded in a humorous vein.

Brother F. J. Pope's baritone solo "Anchored" was sung with excellent effect, and was much appreciated by the assemblage. Just previous to the final number, Hugh J. Emmett, the prince of entertainers, gave his side-splitting slawripping, unconventional ventriloquial funnyisms, and kept his listeners screaming with paroxysms of laughter for twenty minutes, and then he was not allowed to go. This artist certainly scored a greater success than any that has recently appeared in Plainfield, and Plainfield Council is to be congratulated on having secured the assistance of such an able gentleman. Caprice Finale Aphrodite was played by the Amphion Orchestra with vim and heated furore, so that the audience which had by this time become tired from long sitting rose and kept applauding for many minutes. A more contented and happy audience never left any hall, and this entertainment may well be classed as one of the most successful ever given in this city. The committee in charge consisted of A. M. Rea, H. B. Ely and M. A. Paff; they deserve praise for their efforts.

HIGH SCHOOL CHRONICLES.

Honors Awarded for Commencement.

Much jollification was afforded by the trip of the Linnæan Society yesterday afternoon beyond Metuchen in search of trailing arbutus. Six of the masculines and two of the gentler sex rode on their cycles, while three of the males were overwhelmed by eighteen girls in the stage. Just outside of Metuchen, George Horne punctured a tire, and had to borrow Nathan Lane's wheel, which he rode while guiding his disabled wheel, and Charles Morse carried Lane on his coasters. On the return trip Horne rode on top of the stage, listening to the college songs of the people within. The wheelers got home early, but the stages not till after 7. The chaperones were Charles F. Hoick, Miss Bass and Miss Whitney.

The Junior Class yesterday chose Miss Phœbe Lovell to be valedictorian and Fred W. Goddard salutatorian, for Commencement. Each will have 20 minutes, and no other graduates speak. The Historian, Poet and Prophet will fulfill their functions at the class dinner.

SOUGHT SUBTERRANEAN SAFETY.

Fugitive Doud Unsuccessfully Tries the Green Brook Tunnel Route.

Special Policeman William Robinson made an important arrest under peculiar difficulties at 8 last night. Thomas Doud of the Boulevard was discovered in town by the police last evening. He was wanted by the borough for fighting with John Morecraft last Fall. Morecraft got 60 days, but Doud escaped.

Robinson chased him into the wagon shed above the brook adjoining Blimm's Hotel. Doud dropped through a hole in the floor into the brook and started east. He passed under the bridge and L. M. French's carriage repository. When he came out on the other side the policeman was awaiting him and gave chase.

The two floundered up the brook. Both fell in two feet of water and were well soaked. Robinson finally caught Dowd on the borough side of the brook, opposite Stiger's alley, and delivered him over to Marshal Pangborn. This is Dowd's second attempt to escape arrest in this way. His first was successful, as he reached land back of Music Hall.

Borough Magistrate Crosley this morning sent Doud to jail for 60 days. The city will deal with him afterwards.

The Martins Are Here.

Spring came to Plainfield yesterday afternoon at 4. With it came four of the West Front street colony of martins. W. W. Coriell has just completed a new house close by the old one to make things more comfortable for the birds this season, but the advance-guard seemed to cling to the old red house. The dispute between the sparrows who winter there and the newcomers was not harsh this year.

The birds came in the middle of their allotted time. For years they have arrived between April 11 and April 21. The rest of the colony is expected at any time now.

ARREST FOLLOWS WRECK.

McKenzie Got What He Wanted, and More Besides.

The wreck of Henry McKenzie's wagon on Somerset street had its sequel in the arrest of Blacksmith Bilyeu, Monday morning McKenzie had his vehicle wrecked some time ago by colliding with an electric car. Supt. Adleman told him to take his wagon to Bilyeu & Winans and have it repaired and he would pay the bill and allow him two dollars besides. McKenzie importuned Winans for the money, but he told him he was not authorized to pay it, but he would ask the Superintendent about it. The Superintendent told Winans to pay the two dollars and put it in the bill. Saturday McKenzie stopped again. He said he wanted the money. Winans then handed him two dollars; then without a word of thanks he intimated that they had tried to bluff him out of it. This drew Bilyeu's attention to the conversation, and he told him that they did not want that sort of talk from one whom they had just accommodated. After some further abuse on McKenzie's part, in which he said they were a pair of quacks, and did not know their business. Bilyeu told him to leave, to which remark he replied that he would go when he pleased. Bilyeu opened the doors, and, putting his hand on the visitor's shoulder, told him he would likely go before he got ready. McKenzie's protests were of no avail, and in a moment he was on the sidewalk. He then went before Squire Austin at Warrenville and swore out a warrant for assault. Constable Ryman served the papers on Bilyeu in his shops. He was taken before Squire Austin, and admitted to bail in the sum of $200, Clarence Bilyeu going on his bond.

Bilyeu's friends jokingly promise to send him some fruit to Trenton this Summer.

WEST ENDER.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

Blatz Succeeds Ulrich & Blatz.

Constable Aaron Mattox this afternoon sold out Charles M. Ulrich on two chattle mortgages on meat, fixtures, wagons and horses. One was held by Figge Brothers of Brooklyn, and the other by Vincent W. Nash. Joseph A Blatz bought the property and is now the sole owner of the West Front street business. Mr. Ulrich will probably continue in the management of the store.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c

James Kolneckl, formerly with John Cook, is engaged in the carting business with a new team from New Providence.

Fred. Clark and George Stone traded horses yesterday so satisfactorily that each thinks he has the better of the bargain.

Dr. Charles Layton has come from back of the mountains and is now assisting in the management of the old DeBaud Hotel.

Henry C. Meyers the recent purchaser, has had the old Spencer place on the hill overhauled and repaired by John Joseph Smith.

The woman of the Baptist Church spent yesterday cleaning the building in preparation for the coming of the new pastor.

The same stage load of young folks from the Plains and Fanwood, that went to the dance in Berkley Heights, March 30, will attend a ball there April 27.

A large number of gypsies are now encamped near Seeley's Mills. Many visited them Sunday. The gypsy nine beat a New Providence team at baseball 7 to 6.

The Twilights of Scotch Plains awaited in vain Saturday the coming of Captain Edward Flynn's team from Plainfield. They wish to meet players not over 16 years of age.

George Vanderbilt has begun active farming operations on the land he rents from the Stites estate. He will probably start in the produce business on a large scale in the Fall.

The Misses Hayes, who recently sold their homestead on the Westfield road, have begun their new house on Park avenue, Fanwood. Contractor John Bornman is digging the cellar.

A most enthusiastic serenade was that given to Mr. and Mrs. William B. Buckley Saturday night. Mr. Buckley was married to Miss Annie Wetherall last November, but managed to keep the matter secret. The couple are now boarding with Mrs. Buckley's aunt, Mrs. Susan Parse.

John Cook's best horse was stricken with paralysis and had to be killed Saturday. He engaged one of Fred Clark's horses in its place. Yesterday the mate to the one dead narrowly escaped drowning in the pond near the crusher. The animal ran in and was with difficulty brought out.

Harper, Hollingsworth & Darby started up their fur mill on upper Park avenue yesterday. About 40 Hungarians and Italians are employed, but the people of the Plains do not object to the use of foreign labor as the work of preparing fur for the hatter is hard and injurious to the health, and the highest wages paid is $5 a week.

Albert Bender will at once build a new dwelling on the site of the house on Diamond Hill burned early last Thursday morning. No explanation of the cause of the fire has been reached. Augustus Shultz, who was left in charge, still sticks to his story that there was no fire in the house and that he was asleep in the barn and did not awake until the burning frame fell.

Westfield.

The Township Committee met last evening in the Town Rooms at 7:30. The full board was present, and after the minutes of the previous meeting were approved a petition was presented signed by a number of storekeepers and property-owners requesting the committee to appoint Henry Myers a policeman. The petition was received, ordered placed on file, and Henry Myers was appointed a policeman without pay. A petition was received from Bernard Ris and others requesting the committee to have the northeasterly sidewalk, beginning at Academy place and continuing on to within about 200 feet of Park street, cut down to conform with the present grade of the road. The petition was received, ordered placed on file, and the matter referred to Committeeman Gardner, it being in his district. A deed was received from E. J. Whitehead and others deeding Carlton place to the inhabitants of the Township of Westfield, which was referred to the Township Counsel for their approval. A petition was received from property owners on Elm street, between North avenue and Broad street, relating to the construction and paving sidewalks, which was received and the Town Clerk instructed to give notice of said petition according to law and post notices of same at the following places: Post-office, depot, town rooms, Dr. Gale's store and at the corner of North avenue and Elm street. A petition was received from Bernard Ris calling the attention of the Committee to the condition of sidewalk on the northeasterly side of Summit avenue between Academy place and South avenue, and the matter was referred to Committeeman Gardner with power, it being in his district. Committeeman Conant presented a printed list showing the points where the additional 60 or 70 incandescent electric lights were to be placed, and after the list was accepted the matter of placing two arc lights was discussed and a resolution was passed that communication be made with the Suburban Electric Company directing the placing of an arc light at the intersection of Broad and Elm street and at the Broad street railroad crossing, subject to change by the Township Committee for incandescent lights. Bill for L. C. Theis for scraping roads, amounting to $22.50, was received and ordered paid, after which the meeting adjourned to meet Friday evening, April 27, at 7:30.

PLAINFIELD HEARS OF HAMPTON.

What Is Being Done for Negroes and Indians in the South.

An audience that filled the lecture room of the Crescent Avenue Church listened last evening to an explanation of the work of Hampton Institute, Va., by its chaplain, Rev. H. B Turner. Seventy excellent stereopticon views were shown, including characteristic Southern and Indian scenes and pictures of the Institute's buildings and scholars.

The history of the school was most interesting, and the description of the methods employed impressed all with the importance of the work accomplished. Founded by General Benj. F. Butler just after the war as a day school, the institution has grown until now there are 700 regular students, 300 day scholars from the vicinity, and 80 instructors. Of the pupils 150 are Indians and the rest Negroes. The school grounds cover 150 acres, besides a farm of 600 acres.

While the general object of the school is to make the pupils teachers to their people, those who do not graduate from the Normal School course are taught trades and useful accomplishments, which they in turn can teach their neighbors. A single fact which illustrates the practical methods in use is that girls are taught carpentry in order that they may repair the old school houses in which they intend to work.

Selections were sung by a quartette composed of an Indian and three colored boys. A collection for the benefit of the school was taken up at the close.

Only a Sample of Its Methods.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—An article appeared in The Courier in a leading column headed "Not For Prizes but For Money"; the article itself stated that a card party was held at the residence of Misses Margaret and Edith Miles, naming four others, that made a party in all of six; that games of cards were played, not for prizes but for honors of the games. I think the maliciousness of the article in quite apparent; first, in the bold heading of the article; secondly, in making a particular article of it, when such news generally appears in brevities, etc., or small news item; thirdly, in trying to cover the heading by the article itself, and by stating that supper was served at midnight and dancing was enjoyed after. The whole thing is malicious and untrue. The facts are as follows: three young men called, also the daughter of a neighbor; no cards at all were played; no supper was served at midnight; and the parties left before eleven o'clock. I do not see how any fair-minded or respectable person can fail to see the maliciousness of the article or can encourage such a paper.

A Promising Partnership.

Sanford W. Heller of East Front street and John A. Koch of North avenue, will start a meat market in Elizabethport this week. The store, 63 First street, will be a branch of Mr. Koch's, and will be managed by Mr. Heller, the two dividing profits. Mr. Heller leaves the office of the Union Dressed Beef Company of East Third street to engage in the new business, and with his practical experience the venture will no doubt be very successful. His position here will be filled by Harry Vail of Duer street, who is already learning the ropes.

SINGING AND DANCING.

Amusements of an Evening with the Members of the Gesang.

The entertainment and ball of the Gesang and Turn Verein brought out the jolly Germans in full force last evening. The singing was the part of the programme most commented upon. Leader Richard Schroeder proved that he had not been idle for the past month and a-half by the singing of the adults and of the children of the German School. The children took part for the first time in two years, in spite of the short time which the new instructor has been with them, and sang well.

The following programme was well rendered:

Overture.....Orchestra
Harmony.....Children
Morning Greeting.....Saengerbund
On the Horizontal Bar—
Chas. Meyer and Fred. Schroeder.

THE LIEUTENANT,
a one-act play.
CAST:

Lieutenant of the field.....Richard Schroeder
Franz, his valet.....John Retzer
Baron von Hochberg.....August Wolffe
Levi, a Jew.....Jacob Schlick

Acrobatic feats..Messrs. Meyer and Schroeder
Halderoestein.....Children
Vocal solo.....Charles Dresselt
Till We Meet Again.....Saengerbund

The committee was composed of August Wolffe, Herman Klinsman, Jacob Schlick, John Betzer, Fred Schroeder. The floor manager was Charles Meyer and music was furnished by E. M. O'Reilly. Dancing was enjoyed during the rest of the long evening.

AN ADDITION TO THE CHOIR.

Dr. True's Magnetic Eloquence Brings a Feathered Songster to the House of Worship.

Rev. Dr. True conducted the morning service in All Saints, Fanwood, Sunday, and it was attended by a congregation numbering 89, until the text was announced, when a beautiful little songster which had been hopping about outside the sacred edifice flew in, and, after making several circuits of the building, settled down on an overhanging cornice, apparently enjoying the eloquent discourse.

Not a note did he utter until the sermon was concluded, when, with a cute little turn of the head, and a suspicion of a wink with his bright little eye, a strain of most delicious melody echoed above and around the congregation, as though one of God's humblest creatures did indeed appreciate the words of gold to which it had so unexpectedly been a listener; and the little fellow disappeared through the doorway to rejoin his mates.

In Contrast With Hazing.

The kindness shown the Freshmen class in women's colleges in contrast with the treatment of the Freshman class in men's colleges, is very prettily illustrated at Bryn Mawr. In addition to calls, "teas" and an attitude of cordial welcome from the older students, it is the custom of the Sophomores each year to give the Freshmen a play in the gymnasium. The play selected at one time was one of Hans Andersen's fairy tales dramatized. Some months later, the Freshmen gave a play, and the invitations to the Sophomores requested them to occupy the front seats at the entertainment. When the curtain rose, the Freshmen stepped forward with baskets of roses, which were scattered over the astonished and delighted Sophomores. They had chosen this unique and pretty way to make public acknowledgment of the kind and generous treatment received at the hands of the Sophomores.

Officers Commissioned.

The Salvation Army meeting last evening was attended by 700 people. Major Evans, Ensign Wood, Captain Taylor and Secretary Damon, from the New York headquarters, were present.

FEAST OF THE METS.

Life Insurance Men Enjoy Life's Good Things.

Alfred Norbury, assistant superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, entertained Superintendent S. D. Price of Elizabeth, together with the assistants and agents of this district, by giving them an oyster supper in Stephenson's, North avenue, last night. These suppers are given alternately at different places, to promote sociability and advance ideas and plans relative to the growth of the insurance business.

Mr. Price's remarks last evening were very practical, and full of good suggestions, being the result of a long experience.

The different subjects of vital importance were discussed by all, and Mr. Norbury was able to give many points of great advantage.

The excellent menu provided by Mr. Stephenson was all to be desired, and was served in good taste by Lewis Lowrie. Those who enjoyed the spread were: Superintendent S. D. Price of Elizabeth; Assistants Alfred Norbury and J. B. Martin of Plainfield; Frank Green and F. C. Wentworth of Elizabeth; W. Irwin Mullen and R. K. Donaldson of New Brunswick; C. Drake and C. W. Nichols of Rahway; agents J. R. Naylor, W. H. Shearer, A. B. King, G. S. Vail, C. Wuffling and A. Arnold of Plainfield.

The guests departed at a late hour for their homes.

Mr. Norbury received a handsomely framed certificate of merit yesterday, in recognition of diligent efforts for the company. It was much admired last evening.

CYCLING COMMENT.

A meeting of the Executive Committee for the ten-mile Journal team race was held in Elizabeth last evening. The course was changed from Cranford to Morris avenue, as the Linden Township Committee will not allow racing in Cranford. W. S. Harrison was elected chairman and W. J. Kiely secretary.

W. H. Rogers, Charles Dunham, F. L. C. Martin and Joseph A. Haynes, the Racing Committee of the Crescent Wheelmen, held a long meeting last evening but took no definite action.

Country Club to Dine.

The regular monthly dinner of the Union County Country Club will be held in the Casino tomorrow evening.

THIS TELLS THE STORY.

FROM ATLANTIC TO PACIFIC

Praises Come, Unlimited, Heralding the Success of One Woman's Work.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

From all sections of this great country, no city so large, no village so small, but that some woman has sent us her words of joyful thanks for health restored.

From San Francisco Mrs. Detwiler writes, from her Laurel Ave. home, that she unwisely left her room all too soon when her baby was born.

The result was an aggravated case of displacement of the womb that wholly prostrated her.

The doctors tried medicines, apparatus, and she suffered everything.

"I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The effect was wonderful, and, thanks alone to her, I am now well."

Mrs. Kate Morris, 100 Mulberry St., New York, says:—

"For years I suffered with womb trouble. I was so sick and nervous that I could not stand or sit, the pains through my back made me crazy. I tried several doctors but found no relief. I was advised to try your Vegetable Compound. I did, and to-day I am a well woman."

From far-away Texas comes word from Mrs. Jennie Arthur of the town of Taylor:

"I did not know what rest was for months. I was so dizzy and faint at times I thought I was dying, and, oh, how my back did ache! I am a living witness of the miraculous effects of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Relief came with it at once. I sleep all night, and am now as well as ever in my life."

From the great state of Pennsylvania, Mrs. L. Travis, of Thurlow, tells a similar story of utter misery resulting from womb trouble; all the fearful results of this dread trouble was upon her when the Lydia Pinkham Vegetable Compound came to change the whole current of her life, and she ends up her letter by declaring: "I owe all to you." Thousands of other names are here. Let your faith lead you to the certain remedy for all your troubles. Your druggist has it for you.

LIABLE TO EXPULSION

Grand Northern Engineers Disobey Their Order.

Firemen Likewise Will Receive No Assistance from Their Union—Chief Arthur Arrives on the Scene—Strikers Gain a Slight Victory—The Road Tied Up Tight.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 17.—Despatches from all important points along the Great Northern railway system are to the effect that no trains are running on that line between Crookston, Minn., and Seattle, Wash. The strikers have gained a little ground. They hung up the train arriving at Fargo at 5.25 a. m., thus suspending traffic between Fargo and Crookston, Minn.

All branches of the line are therefore tied up, except St. Paul, Breckinridge, Barnesville and the St. Cloud and Fergus Falls.

At the general offices of the company there is a general indisposition to talk. President Hill was in conference with President Samuel Hill, of the Montana Central, and it is stated that they instructed Superintendent Bryan to confer with the strikers at Dakota and Montana points. A large number of Brotherhood engineers and firemen along the line are willing to resume work, but the American union men refuse to man their trains. The Brotherhood men who are out from sympathy for the strikers have been informed by their chiefs that they are violating their oaths, and that if they continue to remain out will be expelled from the Brotherhood.

Chiefs Clark and Morrissey, of the Brotherhoods of Conductors and Trainmen, arrived here yesterday, and Chief Arthur, of the Engineers, arrived to-day.

Chief Arthur said: "The engineers entered into an agreement with the company when I was in St. Paul a few weeks ago. This settled their differences, and the engineers who are members of the brotherhood have broken that contract in leaving the service of the company. They have also violated the rules of the brotherhood and are liable to expulsion. I came here in response to a summons from the executive committee of engineers."

He says that Chief Sargent, of the Brotherhood of Firemen, whom he met in Chicago, had about the same views to express as to the action of the firemen who were members of the brotherhood. They had broken the rules of the organization and would receive neither moral nor financial aid. Sargent said he had advised President Hill to treat the striking firemen in that light.

Vice-President Howard, of the American Railway union, has given out the following official statement:

"We insist on a settlement in favor of the American Railway union. We are, however, ready and willing to arbitrate our differences. A strike will be authorized in St. Paul if deemed necessary. I do not hesitate to say if it was required we shall call out men over the entire Great Northern system. The fallacy that the company is endeavoring to cast abroad that the brotherhood men are in sympathy with the officials of the road should be dissipated. As a rule, the brotherhood men are not opposed to our union. In this contest we feel that we are right. All the Great Northern men have been restless over the cut forced upon them, and actually cannot live on the wages now paid them."

While there is no positive information, it is expected that the strike of the men on the Minnesota divisions of the Great Northern will develop at Minneapolis by Wednesday night.

Chief Clerk Renick's Distinction.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Edward J. Renick, of Georgia, the new chief clerk of the state department, has the distinction of being the first appointee in the government service who entered through the civil service, and the first candidate in the whole United States to pass the civil service examination as to qualifications of a legal nature. He was appointed to a $1,200 clerkship eight years ago and has passed through all grades, step by step, since April 17 last. He was selected for the chief clerkship entirely without political influence or other solicitation.

Gov. Waite Victorious.

DENVER, April 17.—The long fought police board contest has just ended with the decision of the supreme court, which upholds Gov. Waite's claim that he had the legal right to remove Martin and Orr. A writ of ouster was ordered and the defiant members given 24 hours to give possession to Mullins and Barnes. The costs of the proceedings were taxed against the retiring members. Martin and Orr retire gracefully, yet still asserting that it is all a political scheme.

Inquest on Miss Shields' Death.

LITTLE FERRY, N. J., April 17.—The inquest over the remains of Bella Shields, of Ridgefield Park, who was shot dead on Sunday afternoon as the words "Let me to tiny bosom fly" escaped from her lips while singing a hymn, was held here. Peter Duane, aged 12 years, who accidentally discharged the shotgun which caused Miss Shields' death, was exonerated.

More Smallpox in Sing Sing.

SING SING, N. Y., April 17.—Another case of smallpox has broken out at the prison. The town board of health at a meeting authorized Supervisor Todd to address a communication to the state board of health asking it to have the rag industry abolished at the prison.

Fatal Crossing Accident.

CAMDEN, N. J., April 17.—The south bound passenger train that left here for Woodbury at 1:40 p. m., struck a two horse team at Seventh and Mount Vernon streets crossing, demolishing the wagon, killing both horses and fatally injuring Joseph Souders and Joseph Rice.

Nominated By Gov. Flower.

ALBANY, April 17.—The governor sent to the senate the nominations of Dennis Ronan to be harbor master at the port of Albany, and Mrs. P. H. Graham to be manager of the Rochester state hospital. Referred.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

Those living at a distance can consult the Doctor by letter.

Send or call for our Book of Testimonials.

MILLER'S CLOSE CALL

Tragedy in the Ex-Attorney General's Law Office.

A Former Member of the Indiana Legislature Wounds His Brother-in-Law and His Attorney—Mr. Miller Engages in the Struggle and is Covered With Blood.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 18.—Ex-Attorney General Miller's law office in this city, over which appears the sign "Miller, Winter & Elam, attorneys," was the scene at high noon of a most sensational affray in which Addison C. Harris, a prominent lawyer of this city, and Wm. H. Bruning, of New York, were wounded, while Mr. Miller miraculously escaped. The cause of the shooting, it is said, was a feud, which has existed since 1885, between W. M. Copland, of Madison, Ind., and Wm. Bruning, his brother-in-law, and had its birth a dozen years ago when Copland began paying court to Mr. Bruning's sister.

The Bruning family was opposed to the marriage of their daughter to Copland, but in 1885, while the latter was a member of the legislature he and the young woman arranged to marry against the will of the parents. Miss Bruning went west, but the family was acquainted with their intention and prevailed upon her to return home, later giving a reluctant consent to the marriage. Copland and his wife took up their abode with the latter's parents, where they resided until the parents died.

Between the husband and brother there was, however, a bitter hatred, and when the elder Bruning died Copland's wife brought suit to set aside the will. There followed a short time after another suit against Bruning by Mrs. Copland to set aside a conveyance of property alleged to have been made by her to her brother under threats to take Copland's life if she refused. These suits were filed in Madison, but as Bruning was living in New York they were removed to the federal court.

Depositions in the case were taken in Indianapolis yesterday. As the court adjourned at noon Copland approached Attorney Harris, who is employed by him, and said that he understood that the depositions would not be taken as the parties were not ready. Harris suggested that they go over to the office of Miller, Winter & Elam and see them about it, that firm having been employed by Bruning. As they entered the office Harris recognized Bruning and advanced to shake hands with him. At the same moment Copland saw Bruning, and, quick as a flash, he drew a revolver and commenced firing at Bruning. The latter arose as the first shot was fired and evidently attempted to defend himself, but Copland followed up his fire with two more shots before anyone could recover from their astonishment and interfere.

It was found a moment later that two shots had taken effect in Bruning, one breaking his jaw and the other taking effect in his arm. As the third shot was fired Attorney Harris grabbed Copland and attempted to hold his arm. Just at that instant another shot was fired and Mr. Harris' arm fell by his side, its bone being broken by the shot. Ex-Attorney General Miller was in the private room and appeared a second later and attempted to hold Copland, but the latter struggled desperately and throwing the ex-attorney general from him followed Bruning into the front office, firing as he went.

Police Superintendent Powell who was passing on the street heard the firing and entered the room. With the assistance of five other men Copland was thrown to the floor and placed under arrest. In the melee Copland received a severe cut upon the head, but was not otherwise seriously injured.

When Miller and Winter emerged from the struggle both were covered with blood from the wounds on Copland's head. When seen at the police station Copland was greatly excited and expressed regret that Attorney Harris had been hurt.

Copland was a member of the legislature in 1883 and 1885, and has an extensive acquaintance in this city. A spring back dirk knife with an eight inch blade was taken from his pocket at the jail. The revolver is of large calibre, of the hammerless pattern. It was stained with blood. Only one of the six chambers was filled, showing that five shots had been fired.

WANTED A HAUNTED HOUSE.

Hall Thought He Was Buying a Place Full of Ghosts.

LONDON, April 18.—An odd action is being tried in the courts here against the earl of Abingdon, at the instance of Mr. Scott Hall. Some time ago Mr. Hall entered into a contract with the earl's agent for the purchase of the Cumner place, the agent, Mr. Hall claims, representing it to be the house in which Amy Robsart died.

In further representation of the desirability of the purchase the agent, it is alleged, asserted that frequent appearances there of the ghosts of Amy Robsart, Varney and Anthony Foster had attracted a large number of visitors, among whom were many Americans. Upon these representations Mr. Scott Hall contracted to purchase the place, but subsequently discovered, as he claims, that the Cumner place he had bought was not the Cumner place in which Amy Robsart was killed.

Mr. Hall declares that the original Cumner place, the scene of the death of Amy Robsart, is in ruins and several miles from the locality of his purchase. He therefore asks to have the contract of purchase annulled.

THE NEW HOUSE RULE

Triumph of the Principle of Ex-Speaker Reed.

A Resolution Providing for the Counting of a Quorum By Tellers Adopted, Another Week of Peace Assured the Tariff Struggle—Plan to Force England Into a Silver Agreement.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—In the space of two hours the majority of the house of representatives reversed the policy that had guided them in the matter of counting a quorum, and voted for the resolution reported from the committee on rules, changing the rules so as to provide for the counting of a quorum by the aid of tellers—one from each side of the house. It received the support of all but 47 of the democrats who voted and of all the republicans and was adopted by a vote of 213 to 47. The populists did not record their votes on either side of the question.

Democratic opponents of the rule refused to enter into an agreement to limit debate, and Mr. Catchings (dem., Miss.), in charge of the resolution, moved the previous question. This being ordered it cut off all debate except for half an hour. When the vote was announced Mr. Reed received an ovation from his republican colleagues, and from the galleries over the triumph of the principle for which he had contended.

The unfinished business was then speedily disposed of, the order of arrest of March 26 was discharged, and the house entered upon the consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill and discussed the measure until 4:40 o'clock when an adjournment was had.

Senate.

The unanimous consent under which the senate has been considering the tariff bill for the last week has been renewed and is to continue until 5 p. m. on Tuesday of next week. Then one democratic senator is to have the floor for a couple of hours to close "general debate," after which the consideration of the bill, paragraph by paragraph, is to be begun.

As was explained in the course of discussion on the proposition this agreement does not preclude senators from making speeches that will cover the whole bill. Besides that a special reservation was insisted on by Mr. Hill that he might move to proceed to the consideration of the free list section before rates are fixed on dutiable articles.

The bill itself was not taken up yesterday until near 3 o'clock, and then speeches were made on it by two democratic senators, Mr. McLaurin, of Mississippi, and Mr. Smith, of New Jersey.

Notice of an amendment to the tariff bill was given by Senator Lodge, in line with his recent remarks on the resolution as to the coinage of Mexican standard dollars. It proposes, in reference to all articles, the product of Great Britain, or any of her colonies, to double the rates of duty provided in the bill, and, where these articles are on the free list, to impose a duty of 35 per cent. ad valorem, and to maintain these additional and discriminating duties until Great Britain shall consent to and take part in an international agreement, together with the United States, for the coinage of silver.

The senate adjourned at 5:40 p. m.

Rev. A. J. Wheeler Arrested.

BOSTON, April 18.—Rev. A. J. Wheeler, of the law and order league, who has been active in liquor prosecutions recently, is under arrest on a civil process at the instance of an agent of Golding & Co., of Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. Some years ago Mr. Wheeler established in this city the Wheeler Publishing company. His presses and machines were purchased of Golding & Co. upon the installment plan, and he was to pay in all the sum of about $1,400. Up to the present time he has paid only about $600. An investigation made disclosed that he has mortgaged the property for about $1,600. Other charges of crookedness in connection with the publishing company are alleged.

Captain Shepard's Reprimand.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Captain F. H. Shepard, commanding the Minnesota, was publicly reprimanded by the secretary of the navy in compliance with the sentence of the court-martial which tried the captain for reflecting on the motives of Capt. F. M. Bunce in an official letter. The reprimand consists solely of a copy of the charges and findings of general orders issued from the department. These were printed fully in the newspapers more than a week ago. While the sentence of the court is thus carried out to the letter naval officers cannot find any reflection on Captain Shepard in the matter, so he will not be disturbed from his present duty which is considered about the most desirable in the navy.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

The case against the School Board was ably presented by Mayor Gilbert in Trenton last night. It is too bad that to the exposition of the merits could not have been added the legal points by Mr. Marsh. The able counselor was shut out by just the sort of a trick to be expected from a body not willing to submit to the vote of the people.

There are newspapers and newspapers. Some indulge in toy-balloon frolics, filling up dead space with self-righteous proclamations, and Cheap John ads begged at $3.50 a quarter of a page. That is n't The Daily Press kind. Press ads are all paid for, at an honest price, and at the same price to all; and without soliciting The Daily Press easily surpasses all others in Plainfield in advertising patronage. There was just one newspaper with enterprise enough to have a representative present at the hearing of the Plainfield School Bill in Trenton, and appreciative enough of the desires of the people to supply a full and accurate narrative of the proceedings. That newspaper is The Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The Lyceum Cyclers expect to make runs a feature of the season's sport. They will be made Saturdays and evenings in addition to Sundays. At the meeting tomorrow night several for the near future will be arranged. A long run which will probably be taken will be to Elizabeth, by train to New York, to Tarrytown, by ferry to Nyack, to Paterson, to Plainfield.

The Elizabeth Athletic Club and the Elizabeth Wheelmen will each have a team in the Journal team race to be held June 9, and will probably have a strong rival, the Union County Roadsters of Rahway. Plainfield's chances of representation are small.

The racing committee of the Crescent Wheelmen met last evening. John J. Kenney was appointed a committee on advertising in the programme for the opening. The programme of events with which the track will be opened Saturday, June 2, was arranged as follows:

1 mile novice—Class A.
½ mile scratch—Class B.
1 mile scratch (local)—Class A.
½ mile scratch—Class A.
½ mile scratch—Boys under 18.
1 mile handicap—Class B.
2 mile handicap—Class A.
1 mile scratch (consolation)—Class A.

Equine Excitement.

Mrs. Timothy A. McCarthy of West Front street, Evona, drove down Liberty street shortly before 10 last evening in a two-seated carriage with three other women. Near Third street the horse got his foot back of the whiffletree and tangled himself in the harness and the carriage.

Everybody started to help. While one man tried to take off a wheel, another unfastened the shafts and two others began to unhitch the horse. Everyone pulled a different way and the horse got provoked. The harness and a shaft broke, the dashboard collapsed, and the crowd scattered. Matters were finally arranged peaceably and the horse with the bruised leg was led home.

CAN'T TRUST HOME RULE TO PLAINFIELD PEOPLE

ARROGANT POSITION OF THE SCHOOL BOARD, AS AFFIRMED BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE.

Weak Argument Made by the Board in Opposition to the Bill to Repeal Their Power of Running the City into Unlimited Debt—Mayor Gilbert's Powerful Defense of Principle and Championship for the People—Singular Confession that the Autocratic Board Feels Only Its "Dignity" at Stake, When the Issue Is in Reality the Mighty Fundamental Law of Self-Government.

(Special to The Daily Press)

TRENTON, April 17—Plainfield held possession of the Senate chamber tonight, when the Committee on Education gave a hearing on the Plainfield School Board Bill, known as Senate 51.

This bill was introduced by Senator Voorhees March 27, and designs to strip the School Board of its power to run the city into unlimited debt and impose excessive taxes without the consent of the people.

The Plainfielders present were the following:

FOR THE BILL.	AGAINST IT.
Alexander Gilbert.	J. B. Probasco.
Craig A. Marsh.	E. L. Finch.
Elias R. Pope.	Leander N. Lovell.
John M. Whiton.	Henry M. Maxson.
George H. Frost.	Mason W. Tyler.
The Daily Press.	John Ulrich.
	T. C. Pollock.

The hearing began at 8 and lasted till after 10. It was productive of much edifying debate, and this full and exclusive report of the proceedings will show the people of Plainfield exactly where the School Board stands in consideration of their constitutional rights.

It is an interesting attitude.

It is just this:

The people can 't be trusted to decide for themselves!

The policy of the School Board was the same as last year, when a similar bill was smothered as a result of John Ulrich's knowledge of legislative methods—a policy of delay. The committee and its visitors gathered, and the chairman, Senator Stokes of Cumberland, announced that argument was open. Mayor Gilbert and his adherents asked that the opponents of the bill state their objections to it. This brought Mr. Ulrich to his feet, insisting that the opponents of the bill had understood tonight's hearing was to be of the proponents, and that the opponents were to be heard Thursday night.

"Last year"—said Mr. Ulrich—the proponents were heard first, and the opponents the following week."

"Yes:"—retorted Mr. Gilbert—"and you got the decided advantage of us. We came to Trenton in good faith, supposing that the matter was to be honestly debated. Acting in good faith, we consented to speak first. The succeeding week the opponents appeared, and when our representative, Mr. Marsh, asked to be heard, the committee said 'Your side has had its say, and we'll not hear you'."

Considerable time was occupied in this discussion of who should be heard first. Senator Voorhees sided with Mayor Gilbert and held that the burden of proof rested with the opponents of the bill—that according to custom the bill was presumed a good bill till proved to the contrary.

Mr. Lovell said that the notification that there was to be a hearing had come too late to them to prepare themselves properly.

"We are here"—said Mr Gilbert—"prepared to hear and answer objections. Notice was given to our opponents at the same time it was given to us. We have a right to hear the objections first. We may decide, after hearing them, to do away with the bill. They think the people are with us. We do not want to be antagonistic to popular will. I want to be and I am willing to submit an amendment to the bill, providing that it shall not take effect until it is submitted to and receives the approval of the people at the polls. But I am not willing to have the same sort of a game played this year that was last."

Mr. Lovell warmly asked what the gentleman meant by "game".

"Oh, I don 't mean you"—said Mr. Gilbert, and Mr. Ulrich asked, and repeated the question, if he meant him, if he meant that he played a game.

Mr. Gilbert reiterated what he had already said about last year's proceedings, and Mr. Ulrich subsided.

Mr. Marsh suggested that the course of procedure that had obtained for a century ought not to be reversed. The New Jersey practice was to hear the opponents first, and he asked that the committee announce it as their rule of procedure.

Chairman Stokes responded that since the disputants could not agree who should speak first, he would make that rule. He then asked if the whole discussion could not be avoided by acceptance of the amendment proposed by Mr. Gilbert.

"That amendment"—said Mr. Voorhees—"is a home-rule amendment, and home-rule is what we are all fighting for."

Col. Tyler still argued for delay. He said he had not had adequate time to prepare to argue on a measure of this importance. He had thought to hear the argument for the bill, and discussion afterwards. The bill proposed to change the condition in affairs of the Board that had prevailed for years, and he felt that it was not a thing for the people to decide but rather for gentlemen accustomed to dealing with legislation. To submit it to the people was not a wise thing to do.

Mr. Lovell said that there were other towns anxious to be heard on the bill—that Morristown sided with the Board.

"We have other cities on our side"—retorted Mr. Marsh.

Dr. A. VanNest Baldwin was introduced by Senator Voorhees as representing New Brunswick. He explained that in that city the money to be used for schools was voted by the people at an annual meeting in May, and one-half the Board was elected yearly by the people. New Brunswick was opposed to giving the Common Council charge of such a matter because the New Brunswick common councils were distrusted more than the school boards were.

Senator Voorhees explained that the bill as introduced would not pass unless as amended, eliminating New Brunswick, so Dr. Baldwin could go home in peace and tell the people of New Brunswick their schools were safe.

He went.

COL. TYLER'S ARGUMENT AGAINST THE BILL.

Col. Tyler began the real argument against the bill. Going back to the inception of the Plainfield public school system, he said:

"Plainfield was separated from Westfield as a township in 1847, and in 1848 this Board of School Trustees was incorporated. The gentlemen composing the Board had more to do with the schools than with any other institution. Dr. Stillman, whose name is highly honored in Plainfield, and who is regarded as the author of our public school system, planned the school government just about as it has continued ever since. The Plainfield Board of School Trustees was 21 years old, had obtained its majority, when the city was incorporated. During that time the schools had grown and become identified with Plainfield more than any other one thing, and were honored throughout the State and almost throughout the country. Everywhere Plainfield was spoken of as having one of the best public-school systems. In 1867 a bill was passed authorizing Plainfield to issue bonds in $15,000 for a new school building, with a proviso that $2,000 of the principal should be paid each year. In 1869 the Legislature passed another bill authorizing Plainfield to bond for $15,000 more, to cover the debt owed for construction and repairs. In 1875 Plainfield was authorized to spend $20,000 additional. So that up to 1875 the city seems to have had $50,000 less the $2,000 paid each year. I can't understand this legislation in any other way than that Dr. Stillman and the Board of Education, seeing the necessity in Plainfield of establishing and maintaining good schools, were supported in their good work by the public. The character of the schools commended them to all. The enterprise the Board has always exhibited, that has characterized it from the start, won the confidence of the public, and seeing the requirements they gave the Board authority to fulfil them.

"In 1869 Plainfield was incorporated as a city, and until 1881 or 1882 was allowed only $10,000, through the Common Council, to pay all city expenses exclusive of poor and schools. In spite of this, in 1875 the Board of Education was authorized by an act of the Legislature to raise any amount required, not exceeding ½ of 1 per cent. on the taxable valuation annually. That law exists today, and it is this power of the Board of Education that it is proposed to take away."

Col. Tyler went on to refer to the legislation of 1882, by which the School Board can issue bonds on the schools in the name of the Board of Education, and Mr. Marsh interjected that the amount to be paid each year was not specified.

THE WADSWORTH PURCHASE.

"Until an unfortunate occurrence of last year,"—continued Col. Tyler—"when a certain locality got stirred up because a piece of land was purchased and a High School was proposed to the alleged impairment of a high-priced locality, this system was the pride of the city, and the strength and power of the Plainfield schools were the boast of everyone.

"A good deal of antagonism was stirred up against the Board on account of this purchase and this measure was originally intended as a retaliation. The bill purposes to strip the Board of powers held and duties discharged with honor during the entire period of its control. It is especially unfortunate that this movement should be arising out of such an incident.

COUNCILMEN NOT SO TRUSTWORTHY AS SCHOOL TRUSTEES!

"The intent of the proposed law is to cripple the Board of Education, a body clothed under the New Jersey law with authority to represent the citizens of Plainfield in the matter of school interests. It has so represented the people for 45 years, with entire satisfaction. The Common Council is a body of much more recent origin, selected to represent the city in the matter of police, lights, and general business affairs, excepting schools. Now the well-known policy of New Jersey is to keep distinct and separate the school system and the general municipal business; and they are kept distinct because it is thought that only by so doing can this most important of all interests be properly and adequately taken care of. The School Board is composed of men of much higher character and better education, more thoroughly interested in the school question, than the Common Council. It has been proved to the satisfaction of the people that the system is a wise one and ought to be maintained.

COUNCIL LIKELY TO SERVE ITS OWN RIVAL INTERESTS.

"The effect of this legislation is to take away the power vested in the Board of Education of deciding when a school shall be built, how much shall be paid—to take this away from the Board of gentleman who have given this subject thorough special study for years—and to vest it in the Common Council, a body with no particular interest in education, knowing nothing of the wants of the locality in that regard, and having its own entirely different interests of police, lights, etc., to provide funds for.

"The Council is likely to serve its own interests first, to the danger of the school interests, and whereas our schools now occupy first place they would be made to take second rank. It is most unfortunate to make a change of this kind. It ought not to be done except for the strongest reasons, especially after the present system has been so long employed, and worked so well. There is no reason for placing the school finances in the hands of a co-ordinate body of less knowledge of the subject, and with rival interests to take care of."

Col. Tyler resting, Senator Stokes inquired into the methods of the Board. He asked if the Board merely passed a resolution when bonds were to be issued.

Mr. Marsh replied that the Board put a mortgage on the school property for every loan, and bonded. There was no limit to the amount they could carry. Each year's interest went in the tax levy, and the loaner looks to the city for repayment. The Council was taxed on the School Board's order.

Mr. Finch said that when a loan was wanted it was for a new school, and that school was mortgaged to cover it. They paid the interest and $1,000 a year on the principal. "They can raise all the money they like"—interposed Mr. Pope.

"As I understand it,"—said Mr. Stokes "you can raise any amount, say $70,000, and the city will be taxed $1,000 a year, and 5 per cent. interest on the whole amount, for 70 years."

CAN RUN UP THE TAXES WITHOUT LIMIT.

Mr. Finch added that the Board had been reducing its annual tax, when other departments of the city had not been reducing theirs.

Mr. Marsh said that by the law of '82 they could place in the tax levy as much as they saw fit for the payment of the construction of buildings.

Mr. Finch pointed out that on the $200,000 or $300,000 school property the present debt was only $71,000.

"Could n't you"—asked Mr. Marsh—"put all of that $71,000 in one year's taxes, to be paid ?"

Mr. Finch asked if Mr. Marsh would do such a thing, and said that was a question to ask school children, not a proposition to make a business man. The custom was to spread the payments over a series of years.

"Yes,"—said Senator Voorhees—"but is n't it possible to do as Mr. Marsh says ?"

Mr. Marsh—"Yes."

Senator Stokes—"What is the limit you can pay each year ?"

Mr. Finch—"I understood $1,000 on each building."

Mr. Marsh—"I 'd like to see the law. We con'end there is no such law. I ask all your lawyers to produce it."

At this point Mr. Finch got somewhat excited and said:

"If this thing is ventilated honestly and above board, the Committee will never report the bill, and it never would have been introduced but for personal feelings."

Senator Stokes—"Is there any limit to the number of buildings you can build each year ? Could you build three, each costing $50,000 ?"

Mr. Marsh replied that only one building could be built each year.

After some further questioning, Mayor Gilbert was given the floor.

MAYOR GILBERT'S RESPONSE

"It is no purpose of mine"—he said—"to reply to the charge against our motives. The gentleman pretends to say that we are actuated by selfish, retaliatory motives. I am very much surprised that the gentleman should make such a statement. It is the first time in all my acquaintance with the estimable gentleman that I have known him to impute wrong motives.

"We are all friends and neighbors; we all favor the cause of good schools. None of us has any desire to lay any obstacle in the way of public education. We are simply here to discuss an important public question from different points of view.

"On one side, we propose to do nothing novel of strange to the schools. Introduce no revolutionary principle or condition The principle we advocate is the same as generally operates in this State and nearly every other. I have examined the question, and we do not find that the schools elsewhere are vested with the power to issue bonds or create municipal indebtedness without the consent of the people or the people's governing body. Only five States are exceptions to this rule, and only two places in New Jersey, Plainfield and Morristown. In each of these places, the School Board has the power to borrow money and increase indebtedness to an unlimited extent. The communities are powerless to prevent unwise expenditure, except by the tedious, long and uncertain process of changing the character of the Board. In Plainfield one school trustee is elected every five years, and there are five trustees.

A FIGHT FOR PRINCIPLE.

"We are not here from any factious opposition to the School Board, but contending for the important principle that a special board, created by law for a special purpose to administer a special interest, shall not be clothed with the power to create municipal indebtedness without the consent of the people or of the municipal body clothed by the people with the power to administer its fiscal affairs.

"If you pass this bill, you simply create uniformity in this State, place Morristown and Plainfield on the same level as other cities; give all the same degree of protection. I ask you, gentlemen, in all fairness, if you are willing that Plainfield and Morristown shall be a law unto themselves in this particular. Why are not we the people entitled to the absolute control of our public debt ?

"The imputation is made that we will impair the interests of the School Board. How ? The bill does not disturb the administrative functions of the Board. It takes away no power. It leaves absolute and exclusive control of the school fund, in their hands. All of their power is continued, except that when they want to build or purchase, creating a public debt, they will have to mature their plans and present them for approval to the people's body, the Common Council.

"It is n't fair to say that the Common Council is inimical to the School Board. Before our opponents say that, they must show us that the cause of education has suffered through the operation of this general law.

POLITICS IN THE BOARD

"It is intimated that the passage of this bill will introduce politics into the Board. If this had n't been said with so much seriousness so many times, I would think it a streak of humor. It has no foundation. The bill does not touch the political status at all. It makes no change. There is just about as much politics in the Board now as there can be. It has been one-sided for a great many years, and looks as though it always would be. The Democrats have given up hope, and the same big Republican majority that elects a common councilman elects a school trustee.

PRAISE FOR THE COUNCIL

"I would say for the Common Council that it is an honor to the city of Plainfield, being composed of men representative of the best interests, men of wealth and education and refinement. I would not know, were I a candidate, which body I would rather serve on, Council or School Board. They are the same grade of men. In the city conventions there is the same scramble for control by wards and delegates, for councilman or school trustee, and at the polls the party polling the most votes elects its candidates. There's just as much politics in one as in the other.

"We simply want that our fiscal body, which has been endowed by the people with managing the finances, should be given absolute and complete control of the question of public debt. We are opposed to having lodged in the hands of any special board the power to impose taxes without our consent. The School Board has this power to an unlimited extent.

"It is unjust to say we are opposed to the cause of education. We will go as far as anyone in any reasonable enterprise to enlarge the school facilities. But we must have control of the question of increasing our debt. We never will have properly regulated municipal government till the taxes and debt are all put into the hands of the one body which is elected to handle fiscal affairs and which is most responsive to the will of the people."

Mr. Gilbert cited the old Fire Commission trouble, telling how the special power of that body had to be overthrown by an outraged public, just as this similar special power is sought to be overthrown.

Mr. Gilbert concluded with a reiteration that he would not work against the people and that he was willing to submit the matter to a popular vote.

Senator Stokes asked the Mayor if any unwise investments had been made by the Board, and he replied "I think the management has been good".

SCHOOL BOARD POWER SECURED BY STEALTH

"But"—he added—"let me say that the people were very particular in their City Charter to provide that no debt should be incurred without the consent of the people. They thought they had closed the doors against the imposing of burdens against their will. In 1882 the School Board, finding it necessary to build new buildings, secured the passage of the bill giving them the power we now propose to revoke. They secured it by stealth. I do not mean the word offensively, but that they got the bill passed without the knowledge of the people, virtually over-riding the protective feature of the Charter.

"The Board has built houses freely; we have always thought we were well provided with school-houses, yet last year it was proposed to build a new High School, to relieve overcrowding in the primary departments.

ENORMOUS DEBT TO BE ENTAILED, AND TREMENDOUS ANNUAL RUNNING EXPENSES.

"No arguments are produced for the need of a High School, yet they bought a $13,500 lot, and propose building a school which the architect says can't be put up for less than $75,000. That's $88,500; and adding it to the $71,000 debt already existing we have $159,500 saddled on a people who thought they had provided against such a thing.

"And, further, that school is going to increase our yearly expenses $10,000 to $12,000. That is figured up by careful accountants and former members of the School Board, and is made up of interest on principal, additional teachers, light, fuel and repairs.

"That 's what has stirred us up—the discovery of this enormous annual cost.

"It is right and proper to take pride and honor in our public institutions, but the people must not be burdened because of lavishness; and we are here to fight against the expenditure of money resulting in burdensome taxes upon us, and we shall fight it, till we win."

The balance of the evening was spent in desultory discussion. Mayor Gilbert brought out the fact that the expenditure last year amounted to $62 000. Mr. Lovell insisted that part of that was borrowed money, and Mr. Gilbert promptly added the interest on that, and swelled the total to the discomfiture of the Board. Mr. Finch held that with the new school erected outside pupils would flock in, and their tuition would pay all extra annual expense. Retort was made that Plainfield had no business to provide new schools except as needed for her own children.

Mr. Finch was finally angered into saying that the dignity of the Board must be sustained against the assault of this bill. Mr. Whiton reiterated with: "Now we've struck the keynote to the situation. They feel that their dignity is at stake; we feel that it is a question of what Plainfield people believe to be their rights."

Regarding the citizens' petition against the Board, Mr. Finch said that some expressed regret at having signed it. Mr Whiton said Yes—that one man said he was sorry he signed it because of the reception he got from the School Board afterwards. Mr. Whiton further said that only three persons out of all he had met had refused to sign—the first because he would sign nothing, on principle; the second, because he had n't verified it; the third, because he did n't like one man who had signed.

By a trick Counselor Marsh was shut out of the debate. He was to conclude the argument, responding to Counselor Vredenbergh of Jersey City, who is counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and who was indpced to appear by Mr. Pollock, Mr. Pollock being in the Company and a friend of the School Board. Mr. Vredenbergh declined to speak, "owing to the lateness of the hour", and Mr. Marsh was therefore denied the right to present the brilliant plea that was expected of him. He got in one parting shot, however, and a telling one, by exclaiming that the Committee must bear in mind that the legislation of New Jersey had for years been to take away all such special powers and restore them to the people.

Mr. Marsh was shut out by just such a clever trick last year, and it was a high compliment to this fearless and eloquent champion of popular rights, that this exhibition of fear of him should be made

The feeling of the majority of the Plainfielders, at the the close of the hearing, was that the bill would probably be reported favorably to the Senate.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. MYSTERIES!

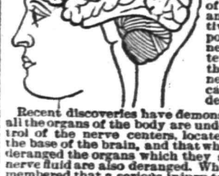
The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.



Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

NO MASTODON, SAYS BULLMAN.

Beef Bones Dug Up in Elizabeth, Exposed by a Plainfield Expert.

J. P. Glasby, Elizabeth, N. J.

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your inquiry requesting my opinion upon the nature of certain substances found by your workmen while engaged in excavating a cellar in Elizabeth avenue, Elizabeth, and which were erroneously said to be part of the skeleton of a mastodon, I would state as follows:

With but three exceptions, the pieces found consist of corals, among these, some twenty in number, it was easy to identify a large specimen of the Meandrina or brain coral, and several varieties of Madrepora or branch coral.

Three pieces of bone were found which are not, however, at all fossilized, and which are evidently beef bones. As I understand that these bones were found at a higher level than the coral, within the area of a formerly existing cellar, it is more than probable that the coral was placed in the position found many years before the bones.

In regard to the supposition that the coral grew in the place where found, there is not the slightest particle of evidence, nor can there be, for no fossils of the Radiates have ever yet been found in the Triassic shales of the Atlantic seaboard; the conditions under which these shales were deposited, namely from brackish water, being distinctly unfavorable to their growth.

These corals in all probablity came from the West Indies, but whether they came as ballast or as curiosities to be given to Governor Carteret whose mansion formerly stood about one hundred feet back from where they were found, cannot be told.

It is however certain that they have been in their present position over one hundred years. The slight excavations made under my supervision, indicate that there formerly existed a small rivulet or wash from Elizabeth avenue to Elizabeth creek, and that this was filled in prior to the building, in or about 1790, of the two house, formerly occupying the site where you are now building. This filling in may have been done by Governor Carteret in 1680 when he built his house, but of this there is no proof, and the question must rest a matter of conjecture.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES BULLMAN.

Back Bruised, Not Broken.

The rumor that a girl had broken her back in a quarrel last night was untrue. It arose from the fact that two girls quarreled about a skipping rope on their way home from Washington School yesterday afternoon. Annie Honey, aged 10, the daughter of Mrs. Kate Honey, of 456 West Second street, was thrown down by Ida, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Rev. J. W. Mitchell, pastor of Emanuel Baptist Church.

Her back was badly bruised and she was attended by Dr. M. S. Simpson. The girl's mother says she will make a complaint against the colored girl.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

The Presbytery.

At the afternoon session of the Presbytery in Dunellen yesterday the reports of the churches were heard, the Plainfield pastors giving statistics of the annual reports as already published in these columns.

At today's session the application of Corydon C. Tyler of this city for license to preach was considered. Verdict was not reached at the hour of going to press.

The report of the Committee on Temperance, Rev. W. E. Honeyman chairman, was accepted, and Mr. Honeyman commended for his diligence.

The anti-Briggs delegates to General Assembly were elected by a large majority, Revs. Green and Buckle defeating Revs. Kempshall and Payson. The alternates are Dr. McNulty and Rev. W. E. Honeyman.

The elders are Messrs. Barnes of Perth Amboy and Young of Clinton.

Whist at the Park Club.

Thirty-nine members of the Park Club played duplicate whist last night. They were divided into North and South against East and West. There were eight tables.

Rogers, Mrs. Lincoln, Miss Musgrave, Mr. and Mrs. Woltmann, Peter B. Matthews, Elston French, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Leslie Daniels, Lemuel Serrell, Jr., Miss Chilton.

The North and South beat the East and West by 35 points.

The McCarthy Accident.

The accident was the result of malicious mischief by boys who meddled with the harness while the horse stood in front of the church.

This practice is too frequent and dangerous.

The harness was damaged $10, and the horse is in a serious condition.

LONG STRING of diseases and derangements have their origin in torpor of the liver. Deranged appetite, constipation, headache, sour stomach, gassy belchings, indigestion, or dyspepsia, are due to sluggish liver.

MR. JOHN A. DEBERRY, U. S. Inspector of Immigration at Buffalo, N. Y., writes as follows:

"From early childhood I suffered from a sluggish liver. Doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines afforded only temporary relief. I tried Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, taking three at night and two after dinner every day for two weeks and then one "Pellet" every day for two months. I have in six months increased in solid flesh, twenty-six pounds. I am in better health than I have been since childhood. Drowsiness and unpleasant feelings after meals have completely disappeared. Respectfully yours,

John A. DeBerry

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

H. P. DEGRAAF.

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL.

Breckinridge Wants To Go Through the Agony Again.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Counsel for Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge filed a motion for a new trial of Madeline Pollard's suit against their client. The reasons given in the motion are as follows:

1. Because the verdict is contrary to the evidence.
2. Because the evidence is insufficient in law, to sustain said verdict.
3. Because the verdict is against the weight of evidence.
4. Because the damages awarded by the jury were excessive.
5. For errors of law found on the exceptions reserved during the trial and noted on the minutes of the justice who tried the case.
6. For errors of law in granting the written instructions prayed by the plaintiff's counsel and in refusing instructions prayed by counsel for the defendant.
7. For errors of law contained in the charge of the court to the jury.
8. For errors of the court in commenting on the evidence of witnesses and on witnesses whose testimony was offered on the trial.
9. For specific errors to be assigned hereafter on the hearing of this motion.

The motion is signed by Butterworth & Dewell, John T. Shelby, William A. McKenney and Phil. B. Thompson, counsel for defendant.

Athletic Contest.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—J. C. Meyers, a local patron of athletics, who took the initiative for the coming international contest of strong men, has received a letter from D. A. Sargent, professor of physical culture in Harvard university, favoring the tournament. He says: "I see no difficulty in arranging a series of tests. I will act as referee in such a contest, with the understanding that Wm. A. Stecker, Henry Brown, of St. Louis, Wm. B. Curtis, of New York, and some medical man act as referees. I would desire that these gentlemen and myself arrange the tests. This would render everything fair and above board, and the tests would be of popular interest, as well as of scientific value." Mr. Stecker agreed to serve. St. Louis will no doubt be the place selected for bringing together the athletes.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

REPARTEE IN THE HOUSE

Many Subjects Discussed With Occasional Tilts.

Lemuel Quigg Injects the Most Enlivening Feature Into the Days Discussion—Consular Diplomatic Appropriations the Work in Hand—Four Tariff Speeches in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Nominally the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1895, was the subject under consideration in the house yesterday, but really various other matters furnished the topics that were talked about. These were the Van Alen appointment as minister to Italy, the Hawaiian incident, Wanamaker's appointment as postmaster general, the election of Mr. Quigg (rep.) as representative from a democratic district in New York, the quorum counting rule, and finally the Wilson tariff bill. Beyond coming to an agreement to close general debate to-day, no progress with the bill was made in the day's discussion.

Mr. Grow (rep., Pa.), condemned the policy of the present administration toward Hawaii, denouncing it as un-American and antagonistic to the growth of liberty among nations.

Mr. McCleary replied briefly to the strictures by Mr. Hitt (rep., Ill.), of Tuesday upon the administration of Assistant Secretary Quincy in the state department. He said he believed that whether the republican or democratic party was in power, it was right that the offices should be filled by the adherents of that party. (Democratic applause)

With the permission of Mr. McCreary, Mr. Warner (dem., N. Y.) said he understood, and all the members on the democratic side understood, that when the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Hitt) read the statement that Josiah Quincy had "sent out to look after our trade in the uttermost ends of the earth the usual quota of broken-down men and ignorant editors," it was not so much an arraignment of Quincy's appointments as it was a confession of the methods of the administration which had just closed. (Derisive laughter on the republican side)

Continuing his defense of the appointments made in the diplomatic and consular service, Mr. McCreary said as against the appointment of Van Alen he would put that of Mr. Wanamaker, who, according to published accounts, had raised $400,000 for the republican campaign fund.

This brought Mr. Adams (rep. Pa.), ex-minister to Brazil, to his feet, in a warm defense of Mr. Wanamaker.

Van Alen, Mr. Adams said, was wholly unknown to the public before his appointment. He confessed that he had never voted until he saw an opportunity to better his social position by seeking the highly honorable appointment of minister to Italy. The chairman of the committee on foreign affairs made a great mistake, said Mr. Adams, when he attempted to compare Van Alen, the aristocrat of aristocrats, with Wanamaker, the democrat.

Mr. Quigg (rep., N. Y.), referring to a statement in Mr. Hooker's speech to the effect that the elections in his section of the country were conducted cheaply injected the most enlivening feature into the day's discussion. He recalled an explanation made to congress some years ago by Gen. Spinola, and which he (Mr. Quigg) heard from the galleries, of the method of conducting campaigns in the south. Mr. Quigg assured Mr. Hooker that if he would send a marked copy of his speech to W. C. Whitney and remove to New York he would doubtless be returned to the house as cheaply from that state as from Mississipi.

Mr. Enloe—I should like to know if that is the way the gentleman got here himself.

Mr. Quigg—No; that is not the way I got here myself. If the gentlemen wants to know how I got here myself, I will tell him. (Applause and laughter on the republican side). I got here because you enabled the people of the Fourteenth Congressional district of New York, 10,000 democratic as they are, to take a yea and nay vote on the Wilson bill. That is how I came here, and you are answered; now sit down.

Mr. Enloe—I want to ask the gentleman if he thinks it is decent manners to tell a member to take his seat when he has answered a question?

Mr. Quigg—What did you say?

Mr. Enloe—I said this. If you want to hear what I said, I say that if you did come into congress, you have not learned decent manners, to address a member and ask him to take his seat. (Cries of "oh, oh," on the republican side).

Mr. Quigg—I did not apprehend that my answer to the gentleman would afford him any great delight; and I am quite satisfied he does not feel any.

Mr. Enloe—If the gentleman will allow me to ask him a respectful question, I would do so.

Mr. Quigg—I shall with great pleasure.

Mr. Enloe—And that is, to inquire of him whether he has accomplished the purpose he had in coming here. Has he "killed the Wilson bill?"

Mr. Quigg—I did not say I would. I did say to the people of that district that if they would elect a republican to congress from a democratic district in a great manufacturing city, probably the majority here would show some little sense. I told them I thought probably the result would be that the democrats would understand that the gun was loaded and that they would know or find out by the slow process of education that they had better not go any further. I do not say you had sense enough to appreciate it. I would not undertake any such contract as to deliver you on that proposition. I only thought so, and I did not think that very hard either. (Laughter.) I hoped so, and I hope so yet; and I rather think the Wilson bill is smashed. (Laughter and applause on the republican side.) But that is quite aside from the purpose of my remarks. Does the gentleman desire to ask some more questions?

Mr. Enloe—I suppose then that its death is due to the fact that the gentleman was returned from that district, and perhaps he is the author of the speech recently delivered by the distinguished gentleman from New York in the other branch of this body.

Mr. Quigg—I should be very content to be the author of that speech, but I can assure the gentleman from Tennessee that it never occurs to any republican from New York, unfortunately, to suppose that the senior senator from that state is not able to take care of himself. He has done so frequently to our dismay and discomfort, and I should hope to your satisfaction.

Mr. Meredith (dem., Va.) denounced the administration of the postoffice department by Wanamaker, and was followed by Mr. Reed, who said:

"We seem to have settled some things in this discussion. It is clearly settled that W. C. Whitney is a good man. It is clearly settled that Grover Cleveland is a good man. It is clearly settled that Van Alen was not appointed minister to Italy because he contributed $50,000 to the campaign fund. Now, will somebody on the other side tell us why he was appointed?" (Republican laughter.)

Mr. Grosvenor (rep., O.), who had several times attempted without success to interrupt Mr. Wise: "May I ask the gentlemen a question?"

Mr. Wise—(emphatically and amid general laughter) I cannot refuse you the opportunity to talk.

Mr. Grosvenor—Was that a democratic congress?

Mr. Wise replied that it was, and added that it was his purpose to strip Thomas B. Reed of the false colors under which he had sailed. He added that Mr. Springer of Illinois had voted and spoken for the rule.

"That," said Mr. Reed, sotto voce, "accounts for its defeat."

There were four tariff speeches delivered in the senate yesterday, three of them against, and one for the pending bill. Those against it were made by the republican senators Morrill, Cameron and Quay. Senator Turpie spoke in advocacy of the bill.

BLOODY RIOT NEAR DETROIT.

Sheriff Fatally Wounded, Two Poles Shot Dead and Many Injured.

DETROIT, Mich., April 19.—In a fight which occurred about noon yesterday in Grosse Point township, just over the easterly county line, between a force of Polish laborers seeking employment on city water works extension, Sheriff Collins was probably fatally injured, two Polish rioters were shot dead, half a dozen more were seriously injured, at least three fatally, a police officer was badly hurt and as the result the county jail is now filled with fifty of the rioters.

Guarding Royalty at Coburg.

COBURG, April 19.—Incidental to the preparations for the Hesse-Coburg marriage, the authorities have taken every possible precaution against anarchist outrages. The police are keeping a close watch upon strangers, and suspected persons are the subjects of rigid inquiry as to their business, residence, etc. The city is full of detectives of all nationalities and all the royal guests, including Queen Victoria, the Prince of Wales, and Emperor William are accompanied by an unusual number of body guards. The city is in gala attire.

The Contractor Too Slow.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Commodore Matthews, chief of yards and docks, has recommended to Secretary Herbert the annulment of the contract for building the large dry dock at the Brooklyn navy yard, on account of the comparatively insignificant progress made in the past fifteen months by Contractor Gillies. An expert statement was made to the secretary of the navy that the work already done should have been completed in six months, but it is apparent at the present rate of progress the dock will not be delivered to the government in ten years.

Mart Buzzard Convicted.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 19.—The jury in the case of Mart Buzzard and Joseph Brownsweiger, charged with burglary and shooting old Isiah Shaeffer, near Groffdale, this county, last October, rendered a verdict of guilty. Abe Buzzard, the famous Welsh mountain outlaw, who is now a religious lecturer, was one of the principal witnesses against his brother Mart. Mart made a statement to the court that his brother Abe had robbed and shot Shaeffer and that he (Mart) had nothing to do with the crime.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The senate has confirmed the following nominations:

John B. Brawley, of Pennsylvania, to be assistant register of the treasury.

Postmasters—New York — Frank H. Maute, at Lancaster; Samuel R. Welles, at Waterloo; Horatio Judah, at Port Richmond.

Pennsylvania—Allen T. Frederick, at Allentown.

WILL OF DAVID DUDLEY FIELD.

Almost His Entire Estate Left to His Daughter, Lady Musgrave.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The will of the late David Dudley Field has been filed for probate. Practically everything is left to Lady Jennie Lucinda Musgrave, Mr. Field's only surviving child. It was made on May 22, 1890, and there are two codicils, one dated November 22, 1891, and the other November 3, 1892. The first bequest made is that of $5,000 to the town of Stockbridge, Mass.; the money to be held in trust, the income to be applied to the care and decoration of the cemetery of Stockbridge where so many of the decedent's relatives are buried, and also to be used to defray the expenses of the ringing of the chimes at least once a day in the tower built by him overlooking the cemetery. The second bequest is for $5,000, and is to go to the town of Haddam, Conn., where Mr. Field was born. This bequest is to be held in trust and to be invested the same as the first and the proceeds are to be applied in caring for the Field park at that place. The will then reads:

"I make no other gifts to charities because I have during my life given so much in that way that my fortune has become only what seems to me sufficient for the support of my daughter and her children in the manner to which they have been accustomed."

BRECKINRIDGE DENOUNCED.

A Christian League Classes Him as an Enemy of All That is Good.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The National Christian league for the promotion of social purity has passed the following resolution:

In view of Representative W. C. P. Breckinridge's elevated rank of statesmanship, his high position in the church and expounder of morals in the schools, honored in society, at home and abroad, as the respected head of a family, who has been disclosed to the eyes of a whole nation as a hypocrite in the church, a prominent deceiver in his high official position as a statesman, and a violator of every sacred relation in the home and family during the past decade, be it

Resolved: That the National Christian league for the promotion of social purity appeals hereby to the manhood and womanhood of the nation to recognize in W. C. P. Breckinridge the common enemy of the church, of the home, of the state, and of society at large, and that they be urged as an imperative duty, as well as privilege, both by preconcerted public action and by individual effort to teach the lesson that "the way of the trangressor is hard" and thus to make his life stand out as an example and a warning.

REFORMATORY INVESTIGATORS

Governor Flower Names the Elmira Commissioners.

ALBANY, April 19.—Gov. Flower has appointed the following gentlemen as commissioners to take testimony in the charges made against the board of managers of the Elmira reformatory: Hon. William L. Learned, of Albany; Dr. Austin Flint, of New York, and Hon. Israel T. Deyo, of Binghamton. They are to take testimony and examine witnesses as to the truth of the charges and to report the same to him.

It is also ordered that the examination proceed with all convenient speed.

The governor also notified the board of managers that he should expect them to suspend Mr. Brockway from the position of superintendent until the charges against the board have been disposed of by the governor.

Can Pension Money Be Attached?

HARTFORD, Conn., April 19.—An important suit to decide whether pension money on deposit can be attached for debt has, by agreement of counsel, been reserved for the opinion of the supreme court. Robert Price sued Fred T. Covell in the court of common pleas to recover a debt of $200. Covell's money on deposit in the Society for Savings was attached. Judge Calhoun gave judgment for plaintiff, but the bank refused to pay over the money, claiming that the money was pension money and, under the United States statute, not liable to attachment.

Gen. Frye's Army at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, April 19.—Gen. Frye's army of 200 reached here last night from Seymour, Ind., over the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern. When Mayor Mosby heard of their coming he arranged with Capt. Peabody of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad to place the army in freight cars and forward them through to Washington as rapidly as possible. The cars containing the men were stopped four miles out of the city limits and the army will be held at this point in camp until ready to move.

Petitions for a Pardon.

BOSTON, April 19.—A petition was presented to the pardon committee of the executive council yesterday for the pardon from state's prison of Leonard Choate, where he is now serving a life sentence for arson. Drs. Haselton and McLaughlin reported that they were of the opinion that Choate was laboring under a mania for setting fires. He was sentenced Feb. 13, 1871, and is now 59 years old.

MARK TWAIN ASSIGNS

His Publishing Firm Financially Embarrassed.

Failure to Get Money Expected the Cause—Liabilities Not Known, But Probably in the Neighborhood of $200,000—Mr. Clemens' Personal Wealth Not Stated.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The assignment of Samuel L. Clemens, "Mark Twain," and his partner Frederick J. Hall, who compose the firm of Charles L. Webster & Co., book publishers, at No. 67 Fifth avenue, has been filed in the county clerk's office. The assignment was without preference and the deed was signed by Mr. Clemens in this city. It was stated that his residence is in Hartford, and Mr. Hall's at Far Rockaway.

The assignment was a complete surprise, and is stated to be on account of the failure of the firm to obtain money which they confidently expected to get to meet obligations just maturing.

Bradstreet reports state that the business under the firm name of Charles L. Webster & Co., was started on May 1, 1884, by Charles L. Webster and his wife's uncle, Samuel L. Clemens. The firm started in to publish the works of Mark Twain, but afterwards added the works of other authors, principally subscription books. They also handled miscellaneous books.

The financial strength of the firm was centered in Mr. Clemens, who was supposed to be worth several hundred thousand dollars. Mr. Webster withdrew from the firm in 1888 and died on April 26, 1891. Frederick J. Hall succeeded Mr. Webster in the firm upon the latter's withdrawal in 1888, and has since continued as the active manager of the firm's business.

Besides Mark Twain's works, the firm published the memoirs of Gen. Grant, life of Pope Leo and other books. In 1891 the firm began the publication of the "Library of American Literature," into which, it is understood, they put $100,000, and which tied up part of their capital. They sold this part of the business in Oct., 1893, to Mr. Evarts Benjamin. Early in January last Mr. Hall stated that the firm sold part of their subscription book business, continued to have a subscription branch, but were making trade books the feature of the business. Their certain resources in the business amount to from $150,000 to $200,000 above any debts.

Mr. Clemens is worth from $300,000 to $400,000 outside of his investment in the firm.

Mr. Hall was found by a reporter at his desk busy writing letters. He said:

"The assignment was very sudden and unexpected. We had expected to get money from certain sources which we had counted upon to meet certain maturing obligations, but we were very much disappointed in not obtaining this money and, consequently, could not meet the obligations referred to, and we thought the best course for all concerned was to make an assignment. I can not give any details of the firm's affairs at present, not until I have had a consultation with the assignee. I do not like to make any statement as to the assets or liabilities now, but no doubt the assignee will make a proper statement as soon as he has looked into matters."

Asked if the liabilities would amount to $250,000, Mr. Hall replied that he did not think they would. Mr. Clemens he said was in the city.

Brainbridge Colby, the assignee, said: "The liabilities are considerably more than they are at present able to pay.

"Mr. Clemens," he said, "is individually liable for the debts of the firm as well as the other partner. How much individual means he has I do not know, but I do not think he has very much."

BIG STRIKE SPREADING

Great Northern Employes at Minneapolis Go Out.

The Crisis in the Trouble Arrives—Strikers Enjoined By the Court From Damaging or Interfering With the Company's Property in Any Manner.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 19.—The Great Northern employes here have gone on strike.

ST. PAUL, April 19.—The crisis has come in the Great Northern strike and the company will from this hour play its hand with sternness. Judge Sanborn of the United States court of appeals has granted an injunction against the strikers in both Minnesota and North Dakota, and cited them to appear in his court in St. Paul, April 27, to show cause why "Each of them should not be enjoined and restrained from disabling or rendering in any wise unfit for convenient and immediate use any engines, cars or other property of the Great Northern Railroad company, for use in interstate commerce, the carrying of mails or government supplies, and from interfering in any manner with the possession of any locomotives, cars or any other property of said Great Northern Railroad company."

United States Marshal Bede immediately swore in a large number of extra deputy marshals, and sent them to the points of disturbance. Six of them under the leadership of Deputy Sheehan went to St. Cloud and served the order of Judge Sanborn upon L. B. Foster, president of the American Railway union branch at St. Cloud. The order will be served upon the strikers at Morris, Breckinridge, Barnesville, Crookston and other principal points along the line in Minnesota.

Except on the St. Paul division and on the Minnesota Eastern, the branch line to Duluth, only an occasional train is running. It is stated at labor headquarters, however, that the side tracking and uncoupling of trains will be discontinued until the strikers can take legal advice.

Vice President Howard, of the American Railway union, said that the issuing of the injunction would not affect the present situation.

It is learned from inside sources that the Great Northern has had applications enough already from new men to fill every position on the road and the officers would doubtless begin putting them to work at once, but for the position assumed by the Brotherhood of Firemen, Engineers and Conductors, who stand ready to move their trains but say they will not work with new men.

The company has been refused assistance by the sheriffs and police officers in several towns when the strikers were committing overt acts in violation of the laws.

The developments along the line to-day are in the direction of tying up the road a little tighter. The shopmen, switchmen, trainmen and section men at Barnesville quit their places at midnight and the short branch from Morris to Brown's Valley was tied up by the refusal of the men at Morris to move their trains. The attempt to embroil the Northern Pacific has failed.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

Good citizens will applaud Judge Coddington for his sentence in the Watson case. Mere fines will not deter illegal liquor sellers from continuing to violate the law, but the fear of jail will have a wholesome effect.

The tide of high-grade immigration into Plainfield is temporarily checked by lack of a sanitary sewerage system. But the system is now assured, and this definite knowledge will decide prospective settlers who have been hesitating.

The complete and exclusive narrative of the School Bill argument, published in The Daily Press alone, yesterday, was the admiration of all Plainfield proper owners, the envy of jealous competitors, and the one dinner-table topic of the town.

Political Pickings.

HYMENEAL.

Brown—Worth.

The marriage of Miss Nettie Worth to George F. Brown took place last evening, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes officiating.

It was a quiet home wedding, only relatives attending. The Episcopal form was used.

The bride was charmingly dressed in white silk crepe, with long veil caught with lilies of the valley. She wore handsome diamond earrings, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The groom wore evening dress. The house was decorated with flowers, and the display of gifts was very beautiful.

After a wedding supper the wedding journey was taken, at 9:30, the bride wearing a black traveling dress. The happy couple will visit Washington one week, and will live at the home of the bride on Grove street, where the ceremony of last night took place.

At the hour of parting, rice was plentifully bestowed, and if the groom raised his umbrella in Washington today he must have been showered with rice, for the parachute was slyly filled with it.

Mandeville—Voorhees.

Miss Jeanette J., daughter of W. H. Voorhees, formerly of Plainfield, was married last evening at her home, 173 Decatur street, Brooklyn.

The clergyman was Rev. Herbert Welch, a classmate of the groom. The Episcopal ceremony was used. The bride wore white silk, en train, with veil and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and rosebuds. She was a most beautiful bride. Her father gave her away.

The bridemaids were Miss Florence Lambertson and Miss Nellie Johnson. Dr. Pomeroy was best man.

The marriage took place in front of a bank of palms and ferns, and the house was elegantly decorated.

The guests from Plainfield were Miss Grace Johnson, Miss Sarah Johnson, Miss Minnie Arnold, and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Huff.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

COUNTY JAIL FOR M. F. WATSON.

CITY COURT DETERMINED TO STOP ILLEGAL LIQUOR SALES.

A Jury of Unusual Calibre Quickly Adjudges Watson Guilty, and Judge Coddington Imposes $100 Fine, and 60 Days—Appeal, of Course.

Michael F. Watson, of Grant avenue, was yesterday found guilty in the City Court of selling liquor without a license, and was today sentenced by City Judge William A. Coddington to pay a fine of $100 and be imprisoned for 60 days.

The jury consisted of Clarence L. Titsworth, Joseph D. Spicer, William B. Wadsworth, Clarence F. Bond, William C. Burt, Frederick H. Andrews, William Thompson, George H. Burgess, Jr., Chas. T. Kissam, John H. French, Geo. Griffen and Edwin H. Holmes.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh opened the case for the city and read the ordinance against the illegal sale of liquor.

Revenue Collector John M Pruden, of Elizabeth, testified that Watson had no wholesale license.

Lawrence Green, the purchaser in the case, swore that he had bought the flask of whiskey exhibited in court from Watson March 10. The records of the City Court and the testimony of Chief Grant showed that Green had been arrested that night for drunkenness.

The City resting, Lawyer Walter L. Hetfield began the defence. The defendant swore that he had sold nothing stronger than cider and the Home Brewing Company's beer. Then John Walsh, Charles Elliott, John James, Harry Bassett and John J. Carney testified that they had been in Watson's store March 10 and had seen no whiskey sold. They acknowledged that they had not seen Watson and Green all the time.

The lawyers agreed to submit the evidence to the jury without summing up. The Judge charged the jury to follow the evidence carefully in arriving at a decision and at 6 they retired. After five minutes deliberation a verdict of guilty was returned.

Watson's sentence this morning was the full extent of the law. His bond of appeal was given by his father-in-law, James McFadden.

PROGRESSIVE JERSEY CENTRAL.

The Commuters' Favorite Railway Planning Novel Improvements.

(From The New Jersey Railroad Employe.)

The Central is arranging for the building of a tug, that in size and speed is calculated to eclipse anything of its kind afloat.

It is said that the Central has in contemplation the erection of stone stations at Annandale, Lebanon, Asbury, Cranford, Claremont and Phillipsburg.

The Central contemplates building a four-story brick building adjacent to the Communipaw station, similar to the office buildings of the P. R. R. in Jersey City. The superintendents and other officers will occupy the second floor, and the lower floor will be finished off into rooms for the conductors and trainmen. The contemplated change is hailed with delight by the men, as the prospect of being transferred from their present uncomfortable quarters is extremely gratifying.

The Central has just fitted out and put into service the first hospital car in the history of railroading. It was turned out at Ashley shops recently and is now stationed in Mauch Chunk ready for use. It is divided into two compartments, both of which are fitted up for hospital use. There are cots for the patients, a good supply of medicines and lintels and other necessary articles for the care of the injured. The car is painted a light cream on the interior and is made bright and cheerful. Maimed and injured patients can now be tenderly cared for and rest as well as at home. It is said that other roads will shortly follow the Central's example.

FIVE SHOTS AT A FUGITIVE.

ANNIE'S FAITHLESS LOVER GIVES THE POLICE A PRETTY CHASE.

Entices His Captor Over the Brook, Gives Him the Slip, Sleeps All Night Under His Nose, and Skips by the Light of Early Morn, Spite of the Delaying Mishap of an Upset Buggy, and a Running Fire of Bullets.

A borough coachman spent last night hiding from the police, and finally made his escape at daybreak this morning.

A New Brunswick justice came to Plainfield Tuesday and through Justice Nash obtained a warrant for the arrest of Thomas Boohan, a coachman employed by T. B. Penton, of Rockview avenue, on a charge of breach of promise preferred by Miss Annie Laidlaw, of New Brunswick, who formerly worked on Putnam avenue, Plainfield. The warrant was endorsed by Justice Crosley of the borough, and Boohan was arrested at Mr. Penton's house at 6 last evening by Constable Vanderhoff.

In company with the constable he went to Lawyer George DeMeza, whom he asked to act as his counsel. The party went to D. S. Roberts, who refused to give bail for Boohan. Mr. Penton was telephoned to and he told Boohan to come to him for a consultation. The constable took his prisoner to the Penton place and remained near the barn while the coachman went into the house to have a private conversation with his employer.

Constable Vanderhoff waited nearly an hour, until after 10, and then Mr. Penton come out to where he was and began to talk to him about the matter.

The constable says that Mr. Penton explained to him that he was unable to furnish bail for Boohan as he had, a year ago, turned all of his property over to his wife, and a check was not valid for bail. The two talked for twenty minutes and the constable finally asked for Boohan. The gardener was sent in after him and on coming out said he had gone away.

Mr. Penton remarked that this was queer and asked the officer what he was going to do about it. He said his house was open for search, but the constable thought that to search the cellar was all that was necessary. Thomas could not be found there.

Vanderhoff went to the North Avenue station and waited till the 11:28 train. Then he went back and met Marshal Wilson on Rockview avenue. The two went to Chief Marshal Pangborn and afterwards lay in wait on the stoop of a house diagonally opposite the Penton place.

They saw the Penton barn doors fly open suddenly at 5:30 this morning. A horse dashed out with a buggy in which were seated Thomas, and Charles, the gardener. The officers rushed toward the gate, revolvers in hand, and called to the pair to halt. Thomas turned the horse too short and the buggy was overturned, both men being thrown out. The officers made for Thomas, Wilson firing three shots and Vanderhoff two without effect. The constable kept on after Thomas, in spite of his injured leg, which he hurt in an accident. They went to the brook, back to Rockview avenue, to Girard avenue, to Front street, Boohan finally escaping near the ice-house. A complaint has been sworn out against the gardener for assisting in the prisoner's escape. The buggy, a fine new one owned by Mr. Penton, had the top and two wheels wrecked. The horse stood, after the accident.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

CRACK CLIMAX CLUB.

Good Sweepstakes Shooting at the Traps.

The monthly shoot of the Climax Gun Club, held at the club grounds yesterday, was well attended. Nineteen members participated in the regular shoot, and several visitors, who arrived too late to enter for the main event, took part in the several sweepstake events that followed. The club shoot, in which the weaker shooters are allowed liberal handicaps, in the shape of an extra number of targets to shoot at, the allowance being from 2 to 15 targets, resulted as follows: Squires, 25; Apgar, 21; Smith, 21; Brantingham, 19; Keller, 17; D. Terry, 24; August Trust, 26; Manning, 17; Voehl, 18; "Williams", 24; Goodman, 18; J. Zeglio, 27; Cramer, 17; Richter, 8; J. Darby, 20; W. Terry, 17; L. Darby, 21; "P. Jay", 23. In the sweepstake shooting, there was no handicap, every shooter being on an equal footing. The Empire targets were thrown, hard and low and at unknown angles, making the shooting as difficult as possible. The results of the several events follow:

Event No. 1, 10 targets—Apgar, 10; Smith, 9; Keller, 9; D. Terry, 8; Brantingham, 9; Squires, 10; Trust, 7; J. Darby, 8; R. Manning, 8; Williams, 6; Carman, 5; Goodman, 3.

Event No. 2, same conditions—Keller, 10; Brantingham, 10; D. Terry, 9; Trust, 8; Manning, 8; Squires, 8; Apgar, 7; Williams, 7; Carman, 7; Smith, 6; Cramer, 6.

Event No. 3, same conditions—Trust, 10; Smith, 10; Brantingham, 9; Apgar, 8; Keller, 8; D. Terry, 7; Morning, 6; Squires, 7; Williams, 4.

Event No. 4, same conditions—Smith, 10; Brantingham, 10; Apgar, 9; Keller, 8; Williams, 4; Manning, 4.

A series of team matches of 15 men a side is being arranged between the members of the Climax Club and the Union Gun Club of Springfield, the first meeting to take place May 9 on the Climax grounds.

THEATRICAL TOPICS.

NEW YORK, April 18.—"Sowing the Wind" has been sixteen weeks at the Empire Theatre, and the crowds there are larger than ever. It will run until the middle of May, and the indications are that it will be withdrawn at the very height of its success.

The Breckenridge case in Washington, where Miss Madeline Pollard is suing the Kentucky Congressman for $50,000 for breach of promise, has given renewed interest to the "Sex against Sex" question Sydney Grundy has treated with such power and beauty in his successful play.

There is a very wide difference, however, between the Washington case and "Sowing the Wind" story. In the play, in occupies a vague and misty place in the background, and its offensiveness is offset by the pictorial richness with which the dramatist dresses the piece and the pure and holy type of young woman selected for the heroine.

This young woman is persecuted, and an attempt is made to punish her by separating her from the man she loves, on account of her mother's sin. The "sex against sex" duel is bravely and splendidly fought between her and the adoptive father of her affianced husband. It all ends happily, for the man who is opposing her turns out to be her father, and he quickly sees the injustice of his course.

"Sowing the Wind" is not only pretty to look upon, for its costumes and scenery are wonderfully clever combinations of colors, but it is an intellectual treat, being charmingly written. Manager Charles Frohman pronounces it the greatest dramatic success of his career. It is the biggest success the Empire Theatre has yet had.

John Drew, in the pretty American comedy "The Butterflies", shares fashionable attention with "Sowing the Wind". Mr. Drew is an actor who readily adapts himself to the work he has in hand, and as the hero of this charming comedy he passes from the gay and airy to the sweetly sentimental and again the soberly earnest with the ease and grace of a master. He is delightfully aided in the love scenes by Maud Adams, whose dainty and exquisite acting is always admired. "The Butterflies" has crowded houses all along. Its run at Palmer's Theatre ends with the month.

"Charley's Aunt", after a run of nine months at the Standard Theatre, will leave there April 28, and go to Chicago April 30, to begin a five-weeks run. This comedy is the funniest ever written, and its success is of tremendous proportions. Not a seat has been vacant in the house at any performance since the run began. It is now in its fifth month in Boston, where it will remain until the middle of Summer.

It Supports All Claims.

One of the most remarkable cases brought to public notice is that of Mr. J. F. Beach of Stone Ridge, N. Y., who for years suffered from stone in the kidney. Early in August he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. By the 15th of September he voided a good sized stone, and he has been a well man since. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is not a mere soother of pain, but, by its alterative action, purifies the blood, dissolves and causes the expulsion of gravel and stone from the kidneys and bladder. The testimony of hundreds vouches for this. It will build up a system run down by overwork. All druggists.

Plainfield Young Men Explore a City Whose Circuit Would Test Their Diurnal Cycling Capacity—Shunned by Native Rovers, Though the Site of the Garden of Eden.

The explorations made by the Boys Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening, were of a highly interesting and edifying nature. Various ancient cities were visited, through the medium of papers written by the members, but the best trip was that led by C. E. Hungerford, who conducted his eager followers though Babylon. He gave them a very vivid visit, as follows:

"The city of Babylon has always been the most interesting of the ancient cities for study—First, as to its location; second, as to its grandeur; third, as to some of the doings in that city; fourth, as to the result of some of its happenings.

"The river Euphrates divided into four different channels outside of the Garden of Eden, and one of the branches ran through the city of Babylon, which was the capitol of the Babylonian empire, and whose position on the origin l site of the Garden of Eden is thoroughly settled by recent discoveries.

"Babylon was laid out in a perfect square, and was 15 miles on each side, making the entire distance around the outside 60 miles. The wall was 100 feet high, surmounted by towers, which were 100 feet above the wall, or a total of 200 feet above the ground. This wall was divided into 25 equal parts, by gates, which were placed in the wall, and from one gate to the other directly opposite ran a boulevard. The city was thus divided into 625 perfect squares. Each square was three-fifths of a mile on each side, and was subdivided by streets. The Euphrates river running down through the city, cut some of the squares diagonally.

"There were 225 square miles in the city, and 144,000 square acres. It would take a good horse an entire day, driving pretty rapidly, to make a circuit of the city. Dr. Talmadge says it was five times the size of the city of London, which is considered the largest modern city in the world.

"The towers on the walls were used to station soldiers in, to guard the city, and the walls were sufficiently thick to allow six chariots to drive abreast on the top.

"The gates of the city were of solid brass, and were sufficiently large for chariots to pass through. When the gates were closed there was no way to get into the city, and the gates were closed at the approach of an enemy and at night. The only method of warfare in those days was either by arrows or battering rams. A ram consisted of a large piece of timber headed with iron or brass. From 10 to 100 men would seize it and rush up and hammer it against the gates.

The Euphrates furnished an abundant supply of water, and the climate was very favorable for luxuriant growth. The buildings were located on either side of the streets, and were built somewhat back from the street, with flat roofs; from one roof to another sprang arches, and the people could pass from one building to the other over ther arch.

"Babylon was founded before the flood, but it came into its glory under the hand of King Nimrod and Nebuchadnezzer. King Nebuchadnezzer went up into the mountains of Lebanon and married a wife, but she found that the lowlands of the plain were detrimental to her health, and so Nebuchadnezzer built a mountain for the queen, in the middle of the city over the river; the mountain was 400 feet above the river, and the soil so deep that the largest cedars of Lebanon would grow and thrive in it. This mountain was planted with luxuriant vines and plants, and they grew with such abundance that they hung over the sides of the walls, and formed what is now one of the seven wonders of the world, The Hanging Gardens. On top of this mountain was placed a huge engine, which would take up water from the river, and fling it in spray over the vegetation.

"The buildings were magnificent. On the banks of the river were two immense palaces; one on the east was 2½ miles around it. They were connected by arches over the top, and also by tunnels under the river. In the largest palace was a large banquet hall, where Belshazzar held the great feast of a thousand lords and their wives, the entire assemblage consisting of from two to three thousand persons. It was at this feast that the golden vessels were brought out and used. The handwriting on the wall appeared, and foretold the fate of Belshazzar, and the fall of Babylon.

"While Nebuchadnezzar was king, the Babylonians succeeded in capturing the Israelites, and among the prisoners taken was Daniel. When the handwriting on the wall appeared, Belshazzar was very much frightened, but, being intoxicated he continued the feast. He supposed that the soldiers were on guard, that the gates were locked, and thought there was no harm that could befall them. You all know how the city was taken by the Medes, who dug a new channel for the river outside the city, and entered through the channel.

"Recent travelers have discovered in the ruins of the temple a large image of a lion carved from stone with a muzzle over its mouth, standing over the prostrate form of a man; it is supposed to represent Daniel in the lion's den, the lion's mouth being closed.

"Up to the present day, the city has never been rebuilt, and no Arab will pitch his tent near the ruins."

BE CAREFUL ABOUT GARBAGE.

And Don't Let Bad Plumbing Be Neglected, If You Want to Retain Good Health.

The Board of Health gives some seasonable advice, just now, in the interests of good health. It says:

At this season of the year cellars should be thoroughly cleaned by the removal of all ashes and unwholesome accumulations. Ventilation and whitewashing are important, and disinfectants should be used where necessary.

All plumbing should be carefully examined, and pipes should be cleaned with soda or potash dissolved in boiling water and poured down the wash basin outlets. This is especially important with kitchen sinks.

Householders are urgently requested to observe the sanitary code by keeping kitchen refuse in a suitable covered vessel, and the same should be removed at least twice a week by the legally authorized garbage collectors. Swill and refuse must never be thrown on the ash-heap. There is a penalty of $10 for placing ashes or rubbish in the same receptacle as kitchen garbage.

All persons are cautioned against throwing or allowing their servants to throw slops, empty cans or refuse of any kind upon ash-heaps, either in the back yard or in the cellar.

Careful inspection and cleanliness lessen and prevent diphtheria, typhoid fever and other serious sickness.

Impure drinking water, foul cesspools, neglected privy vaults, and obstructed drains, contribute to the development of diseases that are often fatal.

Premises should be put in thorough sanitary condition in advance of the Health Inspector's Spring visitation.

Our public water supply is pure and wholesome, and the drinking water therefrom is preferable to that from shallow wells which are seldom safe against contamination in the thickly settled parts of the city. It is hoped that a complete system of sewerage for the city may not be longer delayed.

The law requires every privy vault to be emptied at least once a year, and prohibits the casting therein of waste water or refuse materials. The filth of these underground receptacles is dangerous to health, and dry earth or slaked lime should be sprinkled on the inside walls and contents frequently. A solution of copperas or chloride of lime can be advantageously used about every fortnight for intersecting cesspools and drains.

The Board of Health will carefully consider any questions of sanitary importance brought to their notice and prosecute known violations of their ordinances injurious to general health.

Who Won in This Swap!

A subject of much discussion in the borough is "Who got the best of the bargain, John Duck or Willard Ross?" Now, Ross had nine white Brahma hens and a rooster, and Duck had a gun. The two traded. The relative value of Duck's chickens and Ross's gun seem to become farther apart as time goes by. Duck's chickens are a source of much pleasure and profit to him, while Ross has n't used his gun yet. A public debate on the question, in which prominent men will take part on both sides, is suggested.

Looking to Plainfield as a Model.

A committee from the New Brunswick Boys Club, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Miss Thiberts, and Superintendent Ackert, visited the Plainfield Boys Club last evening and inspected the workings of the club. They were particularly interested in the Manual Training Department, which is a distinguishing feature of the Plainfield Boys Club. Superintendent Ackert reports a club membership of 450, with a nightly attendance of 75.

Bachelors Tea.

At a business meeting of the Young Men's Association of the Monroe Avenue Chapel last evening it was decided to give a bachelors tea within a month. The officers of the Association, President Blanchard Randolph, Vice President Samuel Saums, Secretary Charles Hyde, and Treasurer C. H. Burt, were appointed a committee to arrange the tea. The question of changing the by-laws relating to the appointment of committees was discussed. Election of officers will be the business of the meeting next month.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a few months the cartilaginous bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

BURIED TREASURE IN PLAINFIELD.

WORK OF EXCAVATION WILL NOT BE LONG POSTPONED.

Plainfield Property Interests Joining Heartily in the Work, in Recognition of Its Value to the Community—Digging to Begin in Second Street.

Mankind everywhere is always eager to unearth buried wealth, but in Plainfield, for very excellent reasons, the people are about to take the opposite course and instead of digging up a treasure are going to plant one underground.

This is n't a tale of Capt. Kidd; the treasure is not visionary. It is a simple statement of the latest facts in the development of Plainfield's most important enterprise.

The best treasure, the greatest blessing, that can come to Plainfield today is a sanitary sewerage system. And it is coming, sure and soon.

Another paper has stated that the requisite number of signers to the petition has already been secured. But it was n't in The Press, and it is n't so. Property value of about $100,000 still remains to be obtained.

A committee is hard at work, however, and within a short time the three-fifths required by law will doubtless have been secured. By that time the bill before the Legislature, to reduce the required percentage of signers to one-half, will probably be a law. The bill is to be reported favorably this week. So in any event, sewers are assured for Plainfield.

Councilman George H. Frost, Chairman of the Committee on Water and Sewers, says that the work of construction will begin this Summer. August, September and October will see much of it completed. They are the best months to work in, as the ground is freer of water. Mr. Frost was asked by The Press if the upturning of so much dirt would affect Plainfield's health.

"Not in the slightest"—he replied.—"It is not virgin soil, and it is sandy, porous and dry. There will be no sickness whatever, resulting from it. Besides, only a block at a time will be opened. The grade on each block will be reached, the pipe laid, and the filling-in will follow immediately. The work will be done as expeditiously, though more carefully, that the laying of water-works pipes. They could run up or down hill; the sewers have to be laid to careful grade, to secure proper flow."

Mr. Frost said further that the sewers would be laid first through the thickly populated district. Second street would be first opened, and the main laid from Washington street to Plainfield avenue. It has been decided to run a grade both ways on Second street, from the crest at Washington street. The easterly flow will swing around through Richmond street to Broadway, following the natural grade, and, making a circuit of the residence district, will join the westerly flow in the main proceeding to the disposal works. This Washington street division, Mr. Frost says, will save the city thousands of dollars on cutting. The original plan was to run the one grade, from Richmond westerly all the way, but Mr. Frost's expert engineering devised this improvement.

The exact location of the disposal works depends on the ability to purchase farm land at a reasonable price. The trunk sewer may turn at Grant, Clinton or Rock avenue, and the filtration beds will be somewhere west of the city. They will be an annoyance to no one, a detriment to no property.

Into the Second street main tributary sewers will run, accommodating Front street and all cross streets. The other main will be built later, along Putnam avenue or Broadway. The work will be extended as rapidly as possible, after the Second street sewer is completed. A large section of the thickly settled part of town will be sewered before next Winter.

Because of technical terms, some may still misunderstand just what intermittent filtration is. That is the system Plainfield is to have, and it is a splendid thing. An engineering expert describes it in popular language in the last Century Magazine:

"In intermittent filtration large volumes of sewage are applied to small areas of land, submerging it to a considerable depth, and soaking into the earth in the interval between doses. A larger proportion of the impurities of the sewage attaches itself to the particles of soil below the surface than in broad irrigation, and a smaller proportion of the water is removed by evaporation. The success of this method calls for a much more porous soil than is required for irrigation, and ample drainage is more important. The bacterial action extends to a greater depth.

"No sharp line can be drawn separating irrigation from filtration. The differences are differences of degree rather than of kind. If an absorptive soil, with good drainage, is used for irrigation, so much of the flow will sink into the ground as to make it largely a filtration system; while with filtration through beds of considerable extent, the surface exposure of the area, after the subsidence of the sewage, differs little from that which follows an irrigative flow.

"With both methods the result is good, more or less good, of course, according to the skill of arrangement and to the carefulness of management. Under the best conditions it is practically perfect, the effluent being freer from organic impurities and from bacteria than the purest river water used for the supply of towns. I was one of a large party of visiting engineer who drank freely of the pure and sparkling outflow of the underdrains of the Gennevilliers sewagefields.

"The Massachusetts experiment showed that the filtration of sewage through very fine, nearly white sand, at the rate of 25,000 gallons per acre per day, and during cold weather, produced an effluent containing less introgenous organic matter than the waters of Lake Winnipiseogee.

"The adoption of one or the other of these methods will be indicated by quality of soil, area available, cost of purchase and other local conditions. The ideal disposal field would be one of such an absorbent character that sewage would not flow to its furthest limit before disappearing in the ground, and with such a slope as to give it a lively flow, and to prevent a ponding. It would be, in short, coarse gravelly or sandy land, with a smooth surface and a marked slope. On such land full crops could be grown, even with heavy flooding, at short intervals."

Son and Father Laid to Rest.

The interment of the late J. K. Van-Arsdale took place Wednesday afternoon in Hillside Cemetery. The body of his little son Elliott, who was buried several years ago in the North Plainfield Cemetery, had been removed; and was re-interred at the same time by the side of his father. Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards conducted the service. A number of friends accompanied the family as the last sad rites were performed for their departed ones.

CURES OTHERS

BAD COUGH, SPIT UP BLOOD,—CONSUMPTION.

MR. K. C. MCLIN.

K. C. MCLIN, ESQ., of Kempsville, Princess Anne Co., Va., writes: "When I commenced taking your 'Discovery' I was very low with a cough, and at times spit up much blood. I was not able to do the least work, but most of the time was in bed. I was all run-down, very weak, my head was dizzy, and was extremely despondent. The first bottle I took did not seem to do me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles, and now I do not look nor feel like the same man I was one year ago. People are astonished, and say, 'well, last year this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can thankfully say I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery,' would have resulted in my death."

PREPARING FOR THE COXEYITES

Washington Police Look on His Crusade in a Serious Light.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The precautions to prevent any possible disturbance from the Coxey mob have been about completed and are of the most thorough nature. The district commissioners discussed the matter in a formal manner at their session. They are convinced that they have ample authority for dealing with the visitors. A map of the city was examined and points located where the Coxey men might be corralled.

At all the stations the patrolmen are put through the riot drill every afternoon. Under the leadership of a sergeant the men go through a regular system of tactics.

Formerly every police station had several stacks of Springfield rifles for use in emergencies, but in 1878 these were exchanged for Colt's revolvers, then the latest improvement in firearms. These guns are at every station, and are being overhauled and placed in condition for use. They are forty-eight calibre, the chamber holding six cartridges, and have a rifled barrel a foot long. The length of the barrel makes them inconvenient to be carried in a pocket, and they are worn in belts provided with cartridge boxes each holding between thirty and forty cartridges.

These riot guns have seen use, having been used with deadly effect at the time of the labor troubles over the building of the bureau of engraving and printing, when a general riot was precipitated, and several of the rioters killed by these guns. Capt. Austin, then lieutenant of what is now known as the First precinct, at the corner of Seventh and D streets, had a conflict with a mob, in which several more men were killed.

THE GOLD RESERVE.

Curtis Says It Will Be Invaded Again, If Necessary.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Assistant Secretary Curtis, who has just returned from New York, said that while there might be a few millions of gold exported between now and May 1, no large exportation of gold in the present commercial conditions was expected. Both Paris and Vienna, he said, had recently put out loans, and while gold exports were at all times difficult to trace, the impression was that the gold that we lost last Saturday went to Paris. Mr. Curtis said the treasury department would follow the law, and if the gold became so low as to necessitate an invasion of the gold reserve to meet just obligations of the government, there would be no hesitation in using it as it had been used prior to February 1 last when it declined to $65,000,000. There was no probability, certainly none now discernible, of anything happening which could very soon reduce again the reserve to such a low figure.

Pay of Letter Carriers.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Mr. Dunphy (dem., N. Y.) offered in the house a bill to increase the pay of letter carriers. The measure provides that after June 30, 1895, the pay of letter carriers in cities of more than 75,000 population shall be $600 for the first year's service, $800 for the second, $1,000 for the third and the fourth and thereafter $1,200. Carriers in cities of less than 75,000 population are to receive after June 30, 1895, $600 for their first year's service, $800 for the second and for the third, and after $1,000. The bill of Mr. Cummings (dem., N. Y.) on the subject proposed to increase the pay of carriers in the ten largest cities. Mr. Dunphy does not believe the Cummings bill can pass as it will be antagonized by those representing the smaller cities. He thinks that the pay of carriers should be increased, and considers the bill offered as just and covering the ground.

Major Comly Dead.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Major Clifton Comly, president of the ordnance board, under whom many of the government tests of guns at Sandy Hook have been made, died at his quarters on Governor's Island as the result of a stroke of paralysis with he was seized at the Sandy Hook proving grounds. Major Comly was born in Ohio fifty years ago, and was graduated from West Point. He was attached to the army of the Potomac during the war, and for meritorious service he was brevetted captain, March 13th, 1865. He became connected with the ordnance department at the close of the war, and has been in charge of a number of arsenals throughout the country. He was instructor of ordnance and gunnery at West Point from 1881 to 1886. He was assigned to Governor's Island in 1891 from the Indianapolis arsenal.

Parson Moon and His Fence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 19.—Rev. Benjamin Moon, of the Free Will Baptist church in Washington village, has won a victory over the New York & New England railroad in his fence chopping contest. On several occasions in the past few months a fence which the railroad built over a crossing was chopped down by the parson because he believed the people of the place had a right to cross the track at that point. The fence cutting was attended occasionally by exciting scenes, and the railroad employes had barely got away from rebuilding when Parson Moon was out again with his axe. The town council has now decided that the fence shall not be restored.

Chilean Claims.

WASHINGTON, April 19. — Secretary Gresham has proposed to the government of Chile the establishment of a new commission to consider the claims which failed through lack of time to be adjudicated by the commision which was ended by the terms of the treaty on April 9, and an intimation that Chile will agree to the proposition has already been received through unofficial sources.

Bi-Partisan Police Bill.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 19.—Senator Lexow's New York city bi-partisan police bill has passed the assembly by a vote of ayes, 76; noes, 50. The bill as passed has incorporated in it the amendments agreed upon at the republican caucus. The assembly amendments will now have to be concurred in by the senate.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

There's nothing SO GOOD AS Cottolene

The new vegetable shortening. Wherever introduced, it drives lard from the kitchen, and indigestion from the household.

It has been tried by every test, and has met every requirement. It is as much superior to lard as the electric light is to the tallow-dip. The only question now is, will you give your family the benefits which its use bestows?

There's nothing Like Cottolene

in composition, in healthfulness, in flavor, or in economy.

Its success has called out a lot of imitations and counterfeits made for the sole purpose of selling in the place and on the merits of Cottolene.

THE NATIONAL SPORT

Opening of the Baseball League Season.

Result of the First Games Surprises for the Cranks—Washington Team's Splendid Work—Big Crowds in Attendance—Indications of the Return of Public Interest in the Game.

BALTIMORE, April 20.—In the presence of the largest crowd that ever witnessed a ball game in Baltimore the championship season opened here. The New York Giants were pitted against the Orioles and were defeated by the score of 8 to 3.

As early as 12 o'clock crowds of enthusiasts began to arrive on the grounds. The baseball fever seemed to have seized old and young alike. By 1 o'clock 1,700 persons had paid their entrance fees and passed through the turnstiles. The electric and cable lines and vehicles of every description continued to dump their human loads at the gates of Union park until long after the game had begun. A special train from New York brought 150 cranks and newspaper correspondents.

More than 1,200 of the 1,500 invitations sent out by Secretary Vonderhorst were accepted. The guests included Mayor Latrobe, city officials, congressmen, state legislators, society leaders, and nearly all of the members of the theatrical profession now in the city.

The Orioles looked very natty in their new white suits as they led the march onto the field a little after 3 o'clock. They played a magnificent and errorless game of ball. Robinson's throwing to second was superb, Davis, Ward and Van Haltren being easily retired on attempted steals. McMahon was in grand form and kept the hits well scattered. Brouthers and Murphy carried off the batting honors, each making three hits, but two of Dan's were doubles.

Game was called at 3:40 o'clock. The Orioles started the run getting in the third inning when a base on balls, two stolen bases, two errors, a force and sacrifice hits gave them two runs. Three runs were scored in the fifth on a base on balls, Brodie's single, Brouthers' double, Kelly's sacrifice and Reitz's single. In the eight three more runs came in on two singles and doubles.

The Giant's tallied in the fifth through a single, a steal and two sacrifices. Two bases on balls, two sacrifices, a steal and a single gave them two in the eighth.

Last night the members of the Baltimore and New York clubs attended the performance of the "Parlor Match" at Harris' academy of music.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT BOSTON.

Eight Thousand People Witness the Defeat of the Bridegrooms.

BOSTON, April 20.—The opening championship game at the south end grounds between the Bostons and Brooklyns was ushered in with the best weather of the month and an attendance of nearly 8,000 people, indicating a revival of interest in the American game. The contest began in a manner that assured a close and small score, but in the fourth inning the champions struck their gate and pounded Kennedy at will. From then on the Bridegrooms were not in the game.

Jack Stivetta had on plenty of steam and for six innings held the visitors down to two hits. After this he slowed down a little, but even then was hit with little effect. Five scattered hits off the big fellow shows his form. Bannon caught the crowd by his batting and base running, but showed that he had much to learn to cover right field at the south end in the face of the sun. He lost the ball twice in the sun in the fifth inning but made a brilliant catch and doubled up Kennedy at first in the eighth inning.

Long scored Boston's first run in the third inning by lifting the ball over the left-field fence for a "homer." Singles by McCarthy, Nash, Tucker and Bannon, a fumble by Kennedy and a home run by Lowe yielded five runs. Long added a triple to the fusilade upon Kennedy, but was at third. Bannon's two muffs in the fifth inning gave the Brooklyns their first run without the aid of a hit.

A couple of bases on balls and a wild throw by Corcoran gave the Bostons a run in their half of the fifth. A fumble by Corcoran, in his anxiety to make a double play, followed by a hit by Stivetts produced two runs for the home team in the seventh, and in the eighth a single by Duffy and two-baggers by McCarthy, Tucker and Lowe, with a muff by Foutz of a thrown ball mixed in yielded four runs.

Corcoran led off for Brooklyn with a three-bagger in the ninth inning and scored on Foutz's deep fly to left.

Washington Team a Wonder.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Between six and seven thousand people, including many prominent in political life, witnessed the opening game of the championship season between the Washington and Philadelphia teams. It is safe to say that not one hundred of those present expected to see the home club win, since the team now representing Washington is composed of new men without more than local reputation. The game of ball played against their strong opponents was all the more surprising. From the outset they outplayed their rivals at every point and, backed up Esper's pitching in the most improved style, winning rather easily. Cartwright's batting and fielding was the bright feature of the game. Weyhing did effective work for the visitors and his support was good. Score: Washington, 4; Philadelphia, 2.

Browns Start Off Well.

ST. LOUIS, April 20.—Eight thousand people witnessed the opening baseball game here. Killen, Pittsburg's star pitcher, proved an easy mark for the Browns, while Breitenstein pitched championship ball from start to finish. A street parade, followed by short addresses by Lieut.-Gov. O'Meara and Mayor Walbridge preceded the game. All the new men on the Browns equalled expectations and local enthusiasts are already placing the club near the top. The batting of the Browns was phenomenal and nearly every hit counted. Pittsburg was weak at the bat and somewhat ragged in fielding. Score: St. Louis, 11; Pittsburg, 3. The Pittsburgs refuse to play Sunday games and will close here to-morrow.

Opening Games To-day.

Cincinnati and Chicago will play the opening game of the season at Cincinnati to-day, and Louisville and Cleveland at Louisville.

SENATE TALKS COXEY

Unusual Discussion Over a Populist Resolution.

Peffer Believes the Commonwealers Should Be Heard By the Senate—Congressman Hines Thinks They Would Run From Work—Coxey Going to New York to Sell Stock.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The approach to Washington of the various bands that have come to be designated "The Army of the Commonweal" was the subject of a brief but somewhat remarkable discussion in the senate.

A resolution had been offered last Saturday by the populist senator from Kansas, Mr. Peffer, for the appointment of a select committee of nine senators to receive all written or printed communications from these visitors, and to hear them orally in the presentation of their grievances.

This resolution was laid before the senate yesterday, and its author explained the motives which had led him to offer it. The action which he proposed would do much, he said, to modify and mollify the popular impression as to the exclusiveness of the senate and as to its right to the title of the American house of lords.

The populist senator from Nebraska, Mr. Allen, said that it would be unwise for the senate to deny to these men the right to present their grievances in person. They had a right, he said, to be treated with as much courtesy and kindness as the president of the United States. And he expressed great indignation at the idea given out in the newspapers that they were to be received with the bayonets of soldiers and the clubs of policemen.

The resolution went over without action, and the tariff bill was taken up and a speech in opposition to it was made by Senator Perkins (rep., Cal.). After his speech eulogies of the late Representative Enochs, of Ohio, were delivered, and at 5:15 p. m. the senate adjourned.

WOULD WORK SCARE THEM?

Representative Hines' Plan to Get Rid of the Coxey Army.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Representative Hines, of Pennsylvania, has evolved a plan that he believe will speedily dispose of Coxey's army after their arrival in Washington. He proposes introducing a bill appropriating $10,000 to be expended in improving some of the country roads in the District of Columbia. "I will venture the prediction," said the congresman to-day, "that less than $500 of the appropriation will be expended. The army will get out of town so fast that all the rest of the money will be converted into the treasury. In fact, if such a resolution had been passed a week ago it would have resulted before this in the disbandment not only of Coxey's forces, but all the collateral branches as well."

Coxey Going to New York.

WILLIAMSPORT, Md., April 20.—Admiral Coxey having brought his army safely to shore once more, has decided on a trip to New York to dispose of his Massillon stock at a horse sale. He leaves the army at Hagerstown, for which place the start was made this morning. Coxey and Brown, stopped at the only hotel in town and were the centre of a crowd of curious ones all day and evening. A party of ladies came down from Martinsburg to pay their respects on behalf of the populist club there, and one of them fastened a big bunch of hyacinths on Mr. Coxey's breast with a gold pin. The only recruit here was a one-legged tramp. His application was rejected on the ground of moral unfitness.

Kelly's Men Entertained as Guests.

WESTON, Ia., April 20.—The Kelly army arrived here last evening in a heavy rain and drenched to the skin. The people of the town turned out to greet the soldiers and they were taken into the houses as guests.

Divorce Granted to a Dead Man.

BUFFALO, April 20.—Judge Lambert has approved the report of the referee in the suit for divorce brought by conductor Sydney King against his wife, which report found in King's favor. The case is a unique one in that while the divorce was pending King was killed in the Lehigh Valley accident at Batavia two weeks ago, and the question arose whether a divorce could be granted to a dead man. On the decision depended the right to the insurance on King's life, the reversal of his pension as a veteran and such other property as he was possessed of. Lawyers here say they have record of a similar case.

Beltzhoover Again Quite Ill.

CARLISLE Pa., April 20.—Congressman Beltzhoover has arrived from Washington and is lying quite ill again at his residence in this city under the care of his physicians.

IN THE THRONE ROOM

Wedding Breakfast of the Grand Duke Ernest.

Great Assemblage of Royal and Imperial Guests—The Bride and Groom Depart Amid the Cheers of Princes and Showers of Rice in a Heavy Thunder Storm.

COBURG, April 20.—A heavy downpour of rain last night spoiled the proposed illumination of the city in honor of the wedding of Grand Duke Ernest Louis of Hesse and his cousin Princess Victoria Melita of Saxe-Coburg and the celebration will be attempted this evening.

The wedding breakfast was served in the throne room of the palace. At the right of the reigning duke sat Queen Victoria, the czarewitch, Princess Henry of Prussia, the Grand Duke Sergius, Crown Princess Maple of Roumania, Princess Alix of Hesse, the princess of Saxe-Meiningen, and Prince Philip of Coburg. At the duke's left sat the Empress Frederick, the prince of Wales, the duchess of Connaught, the Grand Duke Vladimir, Princess Louise and Princess Henry of Battenburg, Princess Alexandra and Prince William of Hesse. Opposite the duke sat the duchess of Saxe-Coburg. At her right were Emperor William, the Grand Duchess Vladimir, the princesses of Saxe-Meiningen, Princess Philip of Coburg, the Grand Duke Paul, and the duke of Connaught. At the left of the duchess were the bridegroom and bride, Prince Henry of Prussia, Prince Henry of Battenberg, Prince Henry of Hesse, Prince Ludwig of Battenberg, Crown Prince Ferdinand of Roumania, and the Grand Duchess Sergius.

The royal children occupied the seats at each end of the table. There was a superb display of gold and silver plate and flowers. The German emperor proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom, whom he called his dear cousins, and the grand duke of Hesse responded with a "hoch" to the emperor.

After the breakfast the bride donned a traveling costume of white and gray-blue cloth. The white skirt was embroidered with rose sprays and the bodice with blue-gray electric silk. She returned to the wedding party in half an hour, bade everybody good-bye, and then entered with her husband an open phaeton covered with flowers which was awaiting her in the courtyard.

All the guests were in the courtyard. Before getting in the carriage she embraced her mother and sister repeatedly. The crowd of princes cheered as the carriage drove away and the princesses threw showers of rice after the carriage.

The streets through which the phaeton passed were filled with cheering Coburgers and tourists. Fifteen minutes later it began to thunder and the rain came down in torrents.

A gala performance was given at the opera house in the evening. Nearly all the wedding guests were present.

The Wedding Ceremony.

The marriage ceremony, which took place in the palace chapel, began at 12:30 p. m. In the wedding procession to the chapel the duchess of Saxe-Coburg, mother of the bride, was escorted by Emperor William of Germany and followed by ex-Empress Frederick, who walked alone. The prince of Wales and the czarewitch came next, walking side by side. Queen Victoria was escorted by her son, the duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, the father of the bride, and was seated in an arm-chair in the front row of seats semi-circling the altar. The seat next to her was occupied by Emperor William, next to whom was seated the duchess of Coburg. The corresponding seats on the other side of the aisle were occupied by the prince of Wales, ex-Empress Frederick and the czarwitch. The other royal personages in attendance occupied the seats in the three rows of chairs immediately back of the first. When the bride and groom entered the church a signal was given, in obedience to which all the bells in the town pealed simultaneously, and when the rings were exchanged a salute of twenty-one guns was fired. Doctor Mueller, superintendent general and supreme councillor, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Court Chaplains Bender and Hausen.

The magnificent jewels and bright dresses of the ladies of the ducal court and their imperial and royal guests, the gorgeous uniforms of those in military garb, and the exquisitely beautiful costumes of the bride and her attendants, formed a most brilliant picture of splendor. Queen Victoria wore a crown of diamonds. She remained seated throughout the ceremony. The other royal and imperial personages and all the other guests stood while Dr. Mueller addressed the bridal couple and received their responses. After the benediction the bride and bridegroom turned to the queen and kissed her affectionately. The bride then kissed her parents, the prince of Wales and the other royalties, and the procession was re-formed and marched out of the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The guests went immediately to the great hall, where the wedding breakfast was served.

An Historic Edifice.

The church in which the ceremony was performed was consecrated as such in 1738. Before the time of Martin Luther it was used as the chapel of a convent conducted by barefooted friars, and the organ, stone pulpit and baptismal font in the palace church are relics of the days of the friars. The convent was converted into a palace in 1548. The parents of Queen Victoria were married in this church in 1818.

Royalty at a Horse Race.

ROME, April 20.—King Humbert, Queen Margaret, the prince of Naples and many members of the court attended the Roman derby.

MANY READY TO STRIKE

The Great Miners' Struggle Begins To-morrow.

President McBride Believes That Nearly 225,000 Men Will Obey the Call at Once—Several Thousand Already Out—West Virginia Miners Will Probably Remain at Work.

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Preparations for the most extensive strike in the history of coal mining are completed, so far as official action can assist in the formal preparations. John McBride, president of the United Mine Workers of America, is in communication with local officials in every quarter, and believes from the reports received that nearly 225,000 men will quit work at high noon to-morrow.

It is thought that the block miners of Indiana and the cannel coal miners of Pennsylvania will not go out, as the miners of those coals are not members of the Mine Workers' union. The strike will effect all the bituminous fields.

West Virginia Miners Sick of Strikes.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 20.—Appearances indicate that the order of the national officials of the United Mine workers for a strike, will have no influence with Kanawha and New River coal miners. The union has practically no organization here and miners who are members declare they are sick of strikes.

Pittsburg District Men Ready.

PITTSBURG, April 20.—The miners of the Pittsburg district are all ready for the suspension of work to-morrow at noon, and every miner will stop work at that hour. The coke region miners will not be taken into consideration in the coming struggle, as they have been acting upon their own responsibility.

Men at 80 Mines to Quit.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 20.—Six thousand five hundred miners in the sixth bituminous district, comprising eighty mines, principally along the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad and in northern Cambria county, will strike to-morrow. Five hundred men at Hastings struck to-day.

4,000 Now on Strike.

ROCHESTER, Pa., April 20.—The coal miners' strike is on. Four thousand men have gone out. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg railway, the Western New York & Pennsylvania railway and the Fall Brook railroad will find but little business during the strike.

The Whole Town in Ruins.

VIENNA, April 20.—The fire in Neu-Sandec has burned out and virtually the whole town lie in ruins. Many persons are missing and are supposed to be dead. The injured have been removed to other towns. Hundreds of families are sleeping in the fields.

EX-GOV. JARVIS APPOINTED.

To Succeed the Late Zebulon Vance in the United States Senate.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 20.—Hon. Thomas J. Jarvis has been appointed and has accepted the United States senatorship to succeed the late Senator Vance.

Gov. Jarvis was speaker of the North Carolina house in 1873, was lieutenant governor in 1879, succeeded Vance as governor in January 1879, was re-elected governor in 1880, and was unanimously recommended by the legislature to President Cleveland for a cabinet position in 1884, but instead was appointed minister to Brazil by Mr. Cleveland.

He is a platform democrat at all points.

Walcott Wins in Sixteen Rounds.

BOSTON, April 20.—Joe Walcott, the colored welter-weight of Boston, bested Tom Tracy, the Australian, at Music hall last night in the presence of 1,500 people. The contest was announced as one of ten rounds but at the expiration of that limit neither man showed any desire nor intention to discontinue the battle and it was carried out to a finish which came in the 16th round. Walcott is much the stockier of the two and appeared all through as the stronger, but Tracy was very agile and saved himself much punishment by his clever ducking and clinching after his own delivery. The fight was a lively one throughout and up to the very last round.

End of the Brazilian Revolution.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Brazilian minister, Senor Mendonca, has received a cablegram officially announcing the rebellion ended. The despatch is as follows: "Aquidaban was sunk in the port of Santa Catharina, by torpedo boat of the fleet of the Brazilian government. Mello went to Buenos Ayres with the cruiser Republica and four other vessels, asked and obtained asylum, declaring that he abandoned the contention for lack of resources. Delivered vessels to Argentine government. Rebellion ended."

Bill Dalton and His Gang Wiped Out.

PERRY, O. T., April 20.—This town is greatly excited over the news, brought in by a woman courier, that in a bloody encounter Wednesday near Ingalls, 68 miles from here, with United States deputies, the notorious Bill Dalton and his gang of seven outlaws were wiped out and that one or two deputies were killed. Sheriff Scruggs has left with a posse on a forced march for the scene of battle. Dalton has a sister living in this city.

Mortally Wounded By a Thief.

TROY, N. Y., April 20.—David C. Ritchie, of the firm of J. A. Wait, Son & Co., coal dealers, was mortally wounded last evening by a thief who, with a companion, had entered the office of the firm with a view of robbery. The thieves escaped.

Concord's Big Celebration.

CONCORD, N. H., April 20.—The celebration in this city of the first Patriot's day was a grand event. The exercises began at sunrise and continued long into the evening. Fully 20,000 people took part.

Decides Not to Reduce Wages.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 20.—The president of the Milwaukee Street Railway company has decided not to reduce the wages of the street railway employes, and there will be no strike.

Valuable Collaterals, Railroad Passes, an Insurance Policy for $1,000, and Gen. Negley's Commission, Signed by President Lincoln, Among the Stolen Property—The Thief Ran Away with a Watch in New York and Left the Fortune Behind.

Gen. James S. Negley was awakened by The Daily Press last night and told of the recovery in New York of valuable property that had been stolen by a servant from his home.

Despatches were received by The Press, from New York, stating that a valise containing $50,000 in bonds and Gen. James S. Negley's commission and other papers was found in a thief's possession there, and The Press immediately carried the news to Gen. Negley and received his hearty thanks.

Captain Schmittberger, of the West Thirtieth street station, got possession of the bag, in rather a peculiar manner.

A lady living in Madison avenue called at the West Thirtieth street street station house on Wednesday afternoon and reported that she had been robbed of a gold watch by a man servant. She said she had secured the servant at an intelligence office in Sixth avenue, and that he had only been in her employ for four days when he disappeared.

Detectives Kash and Jeroloman were detailed to investigate the case and went to the intelligence office. There they learned that the man had his name placed on the list, but instead of paying the customary fee of $2 he offered a bond as security until he could call and pay it.

The proprietress sent the man to the Madison avenue house, where he received employment. Kash and Jeroloman then visited the Madison avenue house and learned that the man had left a bag when he ran away. They opened the bag and saw enough to convince them that they had made an important capture, for the bag was stuffed full of railroad bonds.

Altogether there were fifty-five one thousand dollar six per cent. bonds of the New Castle Northern Railroad, issued in 1883, and maturing in 1923. They also found a commission, signed by Abraham Lincoln, President, and Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War, promoting James S. Negley to the rank of major general of volunteers, and dated November 29, 1862, and a package of yearly railroad passes, covering nearly every railroad in the country.

Satisfied that the recovery of the bag was important the detectives reported the matter to Captain Schmittberger, who notified the Detective Bureau, and Inspector McLaughlin called at the station house last evening, where he went carefully over the documents.

James S. Negley, Jr., is secretary of the Newcastle Northern Railway Company, while the General is president. A life insurance policy on the life of the son for $1,000, in the Ætna Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, was also found in the bag.

The Central Office will make an effort to capture the watch thief and will then charge him with the larceny of the bag of bonds. Detectives Kash and Jeroloman were away from the station house all last night and it was believed that they were looking for the alleged servant.

It is expected that Gen. Negley will visit the station today and claim ownership of the bag. It is a rough looking leather valise, with strong and heavy straps binding it tightly when closed.

Today Chief Grant was notified of the find, and the Tenderloin detectives and Central Office men in New York are hunting high and low for the dishonest servant.

The story of the robbery as told by Gen. Negley to The Press last night was as follows:

A man came to Gen. Negley's New York office the first of March and applied for a place as coachman. He said he was Michael Coleman of Twelfth street, New York.

Gen. Negley hired him, and he worked at odd jobs about the General's place on West Seventh street, this city, until March 30, when he was discharged.

The General first learned that the man had been dishonest when a private memorandum book of his employer was found in the man's room. Then it was discovered that saws, chisels, other tools and articles of no great value missing from their place in an outbuilding used as a workshop and storage room. The General suspected that Coleman was the thief. He did not report the matter to the police, but quietly investigated with the idea that the man had accomplices in Plainfield who received the stolen goods as he stole them. Then the valise containing the $50,000 in New Castle Northern Railroad bonds and private papers of value was missed.

A few days afterward, Gen. Negley knew that the thief was in New York, as a bank notified him that the bonds had been offered to it.

The bond offered at the New York intelligence office was a bond of the Newcastle Northern Railway Company of the face value of $1,000 issued on July 1, 1883, and maturing on July 1, 1923. He offered this bond to the manager of the intelligence office in lieu of the $2 fee generally charged. The manager accepted the bond, and it was understood that the man was going to redeem it as soon as he got his first month's pay. The detectives were also told that there was a huge valise over in the man's room in the Madison avenue house. They went there and found the valise.

Gen. Negley was educated at the Western University. In 1846 he enlisted as a private in the First Pennsylvania Regiment and served in most of the most important engagements during the Mexican war. At the close of the Mexican war he interested himself in farming and horticulture.

At the beginning of the Civil War he raised a brigade of three months' volunteers, and was commissioned Brigadier-General of Volunteers in April, 1861. He served in Alabama and Tennessee with the Army of the Ohio, and was in command at the battle of Lavergne, defeating the Confederates under Gen. Richard H. Anderson and Gen. N. B. Forrest.

He was engaged in the Georgia campaign, and at the battle of Chickamauga held Owen's Gap.

After the war he settled in Pittsburg, Penn. He was a Representative in Congress from 1869 to 1875, and from 1885 to 1887, being elected as a Republican. He removed to this city about 1888.

"It is sad to realize we are born to die The philosopher has said, 'Man thinks all men are mortal but himself.'

"What a joy it must be to those left to know that a mother is beyond the pains and ills of this life.

"I greet you with the blessed thought that our departed sister has gone to be with Christ. She goes from her troubles to a land where there is no sin nor sorrow."

Dr. Barnes's remarks were followed with a touching prayer.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

BASE-BALL CHATTER.

Crescent graduates of the past two seasons are giving some idea of the material Plainfield has had and failed to appreciate.

Keeler is with the Baltimore National League team, and Bonner keeps him company.

Turner is on the Philadelphia League team.

McIndoe plays with Haverhill in the New England League. Sneden will probably play with him.

Jones is on trial in Binghampton, Eastern League.

Leo Smith returns to the Eastern League, where for years he led all players in his position as shortstop.

Fritz is with the Binghampton Eastern League.

McIndoe has been signed by Manager John Irwin on T. H. Keller's recommendation, and Sneden will probably go with him. Irwin had last season's Wilkesbarres, and took Bonner on Manager Keller's recommendation. Little Joe Keenan will probably play with the Asylum team at Morris Plains. He and Rafferty have had positions as keepers there since last Fall. Mr. Keller could have secured for him a good position, but has advised him not to leave a yearly certainty to play ball for a few months, when he could get good money and a surety.

While all the big teams are strengthening with Crescent graduates, Plainfield has gone out of the base-ball business. Who is there left to educate the coming players?

CYCLING COMMENT.

The Victor Wheelmen met at the home of Captain Israel Jones last evening. The regular business was transacted and it was decided to have a run next Sunday afternoon.

Captain Israel Jones, of the Victor Wheelmen, reports the roads from Newark excellent for bicycle riding. He made the trip here in an hour and twenty minutes this afternoon.

The Kings County Wheelmen will hold their thirteenth annual race meet Saturday, June 30, at 2 p. m., on the half-mile track of the Parkway Driving Club of Brooklyn, situated on the Ocean Boulevard and King's Highway. The list of prizes and entry blanks will soon be issued. Entries close June 23, with H. S. Blakeman, 1,255 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn.

The League of American Wheelmen's Racing Board has registered a list of riders' racing colors. One of the new rules requires the racing men to forward to the board a description of the suit each intends to wear on the track this season. If the color or combination of colors has already been chosen by earlier applicants, new combinations must be selected and registered. The bicyclist, like the owners of racing stables, will be designated hereafter largely by colors, some of which are polychromatic and startling.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

SPECIAL CHILDREN'S DAY.

Tomorrow a Particular Event in the Free Public Library.

Public Librarian E. L. Adams announces that tomorrow will be Children's Day at the Library Building, and all children, whether users of the library or not, will be made welcome. In the main room and the art gallery will be shown a selection of some of the best literature suitable for boys and girls from four to fourteen.

Parents, teachers, or any interested in children's reading, will find this exhibit of value to them as an aid in suggesting to those in their charge wholesome and good reading. That an oversight should be had over what young people read is very important, but with the mass of children's books on the market it is difficult unless one makes a special study of the subject to know the good from the bad, or the pure and wholesome from the weak and trashy. At the exhibit to-morrow the effort will be to have a selection from the best and most attractive literature written for boys and girls, and it will be broad enough to include all classes of literature.

From 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5:30 p. m. the librarian and the assistant will be at liberty to give any suggestions or assistance in their power.

Protesting a Place Long Licensed.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Will not The Press lend its influence to the people of Scotch Plains in what seems to them a good cause?

An attempt is being made to obtain another license for what the recent fire has left of the place known as Lowe's Hotel, and reputable citizens are as a body opposed to it. This house has been a questionable resort. It was a local nuisance, and the names that have been mentioned with its future offer no guarantee or prospect that it will be anything better if licensed again.

But it is not wanted, even if it were respectably conducted. In this little village we have already three licensed houses of which one at least might as well be dispensed with.

I am an advocate for the fullest freedom of action being allowed to every citizen, and I think the principle of licensing has been much misunderstood, but I take it that the first purpose of requiring permission, from what ought to be a competent authority, before a public house may be opened, is to protect society against the nurture of immorality and neighbors against what may be an intolerable annoyance.

Since the fire, Lowe's Hotel has had no proper accommodation for a road-house. The barns and outbuilding have been destroyed by the fire. There is nothing left but a place where people may find space to drink and carouse; and to grant a license to such a place, in opposition too to the wishes of the village, would be little less than an offense against common decency. To Forbid Faith Curing.

Voorhees stock among women who profess and practice the faith cure has fallen away below par. Mr. Voorhees has shocked a number of these women. They went to Trenton to defeat a bill to prohibit the practice of the faith cure in this State. The gentle cranks told Mr. Voorhees about the wonderful cures they had witnessed. Mr. Voorhees told them that mind curing was in his opinion nothing but hysteria. This declaration was greeted by a chorus of ohs and a general arching of the brows. Mr. Voorhees, who is the father of the bill the fair curists fear, declined to withdraw it. He suggested that they call upon the Governor. Perhaps they could persuade him to not sign it. He must have received some intimation of the experience Senator Voorhees had kindly mapped out for him, for just then he found that he had urgent business in Jersey City. The bill will in all probability become a law.

HYMENEAL.

Hallock—Erickson.

Miss Jean B. Erickson, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. E. N. Erickson, was married to James Hildreth Hallock in Grace P. E. Church last evening at 7:30. Mr. Erickson, father of the bride, is a leading advertising manager of New York city.

The church was well filled. The beautiful decorations of white roses, lilies and palms were from William H. Brower, of New York and Plainfield. Instead of the regulation ribbon across the central aisle was a garland of white roses.

Rev. E. M. Rodman performed the ceremony. The bride's attire was an empire gown of white satin brocade with duchesse lace. Her bouquet was of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Minnie B. Murray. The bridemaids were Miss Murray and Miss Kirkner of Plainfield, and Miss Knowles and Miss Macy, of New York. Their gowns were white and the bouquets were of white roses and maidenhair ferns. The best man was Willard Parker Hallock, and the ushers were Fletcher D. Hallock, Lee Ashley Grace, Julius E. Erickson and Roger W. Erickson. Mrs. Freeman played the wedding march.

A wedding supper and a reception were given at the bride's home, 424 West Eighth street, afterwards. The house was handsomely decorated with flowers, roses, lilies, palms and smilax being used with good effect. The caterers were Davis Bros. of Newark. Austin's orchestra, of Brooklyn, furnished music.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallock left for Washington on the 10:10 train. They will reside on East Ninth street.

Among those who attended the reception were:

Darby—Shuck.

Miss Ida May Schuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schuck, was married yesterday to Joseph S. Darby of Alton. The wedding was held in Grace M. E. Church at 4. Rev. Herbert F. Randolph, the pastor, officiating. The church was prettily decorated by F. W. Miles, the Somerset street florist. White roses and lilies were tastefully combined with palms and smilax. The building was crowded.

The bride wore a dress of white figured silk. The maid of honor, her sister, Miss Margaret M. Schuck, wore pink silk. Both carried bouquets of roses. The bride was given away by her father. Walter R. Darby, brother of the groom, was best man, and William Force and Herbert L. Randolph were the ushers.

A reception to the relatives and intimate friends was given after the wedding at the home of the bride's parents on Vine street, in the decorating of which Florist Miles had again shown his skill.

The couple left at 8:17 for Philadelphia and after their wedding trip they will live on the Rahway road, Alton, near Mr. Darby's old home. They have many valuable gifts to beautify their home.

Traynor—Mahoney.

John C. Traynor, foreman of the planing hands in the Pond Machine Tool Works, was married in his native place, Middletown, N. Y., yesterday, to Miss Kate Mahoney. The wedding ceremony was performed in the Catholic Church at 3:30 in the presence of relatives and intimate friends by Rev. Father McClancy. The bridemaid was the bride's sister, Miss Mary Mahoney, and the best man was M. Cashin of this city. A reception at the bride's home followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Traynor came to Plainfield last evening at 11 and went at once to housekeeping in their home on Liberty street.

While Mr. Traynor was away last evening the C. Y. M. L. of which he is a prominent member, enjoyed the refreshments he had provided for them in the club-house and held an informal dance in his honor.

Another Church.

Rev. Davy Blow of Waverly, Virginia, who is trying to start a Colored Church of Christ in this city, spoke last evening in the Christian Endeavor meeting at the First Church of Christ. B. W. Hand has promised him all the help that he and his brethren can furnish him in his efforts.

WOMEN'S RELIEF BENEFIT.

Mother Goose, Gypsy Camp, Music, and Lots of Tableaux.

The entertainment given and arranged by Miss Anna D. Cooper of Westfield, in Reform Hall, last evening, for the benefit of Women's Relief Corps, No. 10, Auxiliary to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., was a success. The audience was large, and the programme was most heartily received.

The singing of the Mother Goose Melodies by the young people was especially good. The tableaux were arranged very tastefully, and the representations were true to the subjects.

The Gypsy scene was a romantic one, and brought forth much applause.

Mrs. E. B. Hart was an excellent accompanist.

Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, Mrs. Brokaw and Mrs. McVoy constituted the committee in charge, and, assisted by Miss Cooper, prepared the programme:

VICTORY FOR THE PEOPLE.

Plainfield's School Bill Reported Favorably, and Progressing Towards Becoming a Law.

When the bill providing that boards of education in cities cannot borrow money by issue of bonds in excess of $5,000 without consent of the govering boards, came up in the Senate on second reading, Senator Drake moved to strike out the enacting clause. He said Morristown wanted the measure killed.

Senator Voorhees earnestly and successfully fought the motion. He said the bill acted as a check to extravagant expenditure of money. The measure was advanced to third reading, and will be taken up for final passage next week.

...for Mr. Wiechers.

Justice Truax of the Supreme Court, before whom was tried the suit brought by George F. Wiechers, of Porto Rico, against the Central Trust Company, to recover $202,500 worth of stock of the American Sugar Refining Company, directed a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $167,625 yesterday.

George F. Wiechers, the plaintiff, is the father of John F. Wiechers of Plainfield, of the firm of Field, Lindley, Wiechers & Co. The complainant charged that he was swindled out of 1,400 shares of stock through Field's forgery, and that the Trust Company was surety for it.

Plainfielders Hear Varied Voices.

There was an unusually large attendance at the meeting of the Nineteenth Century Club at Sherry's last evening. The subject of discussion was "A Message from Asia to America". The speakers Mohammed Alexander Russell Webb, editor of The Moslem World, New York, whom some of us were fortunate enough to hear in this city last Autumn; the well-known Unitarian minister, Minot J. Davage of Boston; and Kinza Rinze Minanmota of Japan. A number of Plainfield people were present.

Lunch-Box Sociable.

The Charity Circle, King's Daughters, of Hope Chapel, gave a lunch-box sociable in the chapel last evening.

Miss Carrie Hunter was in charge, assisted by other members of the circle.

Recitations by George Lees and piano solos by Mrs. Fred Canfield were followed by various games.

The lunch-boxes were auctioned, and brought prices ranging from 25 cents to $2. Excellent lemonade was provided.

The event was successful financially and socially.

Chief Grant has been notified to appear as a witness at court martial of the desertera, Allen and Durenmatt, on Governor's Island next Tuesday morning at 10. The two are the men who deserted from the regular army detachment stationed at West Point and who were caught in the borough by Chief Marshal Pangborn and Chief Grant and turned over to the Governor's Island authorities.

Introduction of a Bill in the New Jersey Legislature to Remedy Naturalization Evils.

A bill has been introduced in the New Jersey House of Assembly by Mr. Storrs of Essex to remedy the evil growing out of the lack of State laws governing naturalization, which have resulted in the right of suffrage being indiscriminately conferred, and in the practical purchase of the votes of foreigners through the payment of naturalization fees by politicians. An important feature of the bill is that it prohibits naturalization within thirty days before election. The clerk of any court is prohibited from naturalizing any one, and the only courts that can do so are the Supreme Court and the Court of Common Pleas. Final application of aliens to be admitted to citizenship may be filed in term time or during vacation of the courts named, but no final action can be taken except on stated days or during the regular terms of the courts.

The application for papers must be in the form of a petition, made under oath, and filed in the court at least fourteen days before final action shall be taken. The papers must include the names of the persons whom the applicant intends to summon or witnesses, and an affidavit of a citizen of the United States that the petitioner is personally known to the affiant and that he has resided for five years within the United States, and one year at least, immediately preceding the presentation of the petition, in the State of New Jersey, and during that time he has been known as a man of good moral character.

TO SHOOT COAL THROUGH JERSEY.

Extraordinary Measure Proposed by a New Jersey Assemblyman.

Assemblyman Wilbur has a bill on the calendar which has created much excitement at the State House, because of its very remarkable provisions. It provides that certain corporations can lay pipes in any part of the State, these pipes to be utilized for conveying coal mixed with water for heat and power. This is a new kind of pipe line and also a new way of carrying coal.

Pipe lines are to be run from the coal regions across Pennsylvania into New Jersey, with a terminal in Jersey City, and the coal is to be forced through the pipes by a hydraulic pressure. This bill gives the right to lay these pipes and conduits under the public roads, streets, avenues and alleys in the cities of the State. They are to be two feet below the surface and must not interfere with public travel. In municipalities the company must get the right of way from the Common Council or other governing body before they can open the streets.

The bill has the usual provisions requiring the company to repair the streets where they make openings. Assemblyman Wilbur claims no knowledge of the bill, except that one of his constituents gave gave it to him to introduce, and that he has done. He understands that when the committee are ready to give a hearing on the bill the promoters of the scheme will come forward and give all the details.

No Law Against Hazing.

The college hazing bill was resurrected in the House yesterday, and one of the most interesting debates of the session followed. The bill was tabled two weeks ago, and was taken from the table on motion of Mr. Carroll of Hudson. It was again placed on final passage and Mr. Storrs, a graduate of Yale, made a speech in opposition to the bill. Mr. Storrs said that hazing only had the effect of rubbing off the ragged edges of the boys.

Mr. Flynn favored the bill, declaring that something should be done to stand as a menace to rich men's sons who go to college and then insult other students with their gibes.

The bill was lost; though 27 members voted for it to 18 against. It requires 31 votes to pass a bill.

NEW JERSEY NEWS.

CLOSED TO HEBREWS.

Mrs. Munro Will Not Rent Any of Her Long Branch Cottages to Them.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., April 20.—Mrs. Norman L. Munro, owner of Norwood park, comprising over 50 cottages, has notified all her agents not to rent any cottages to Hebrews this season. Norwood park is situated near Hollywood and is one of the finest and wealthiest resorts in New Jersey. The cottages for years have been occupied by the wealthiest people of New York and Philadelphia. Many will be barred out now. Miss Norma Munro said to-day: "We are not going to allow any Hebrews in our cottages this season. We have instructed our agents to that effect and all those Hebrews that were here last year will have to seek other quarters."

Mr. Munro before his death attempted to do the same thing from year to year, but he never enforced the rule. This will cause great annoyance to many wealthy people who intended securing these cottages for the season.

Charles Smith expects to remove his house on Seventh street to John street, opposite Essex, as soon as the Council gives a permit

The two new regulation bowling balls for the Hope Chapel alleys have arrived and are in use.

Name His Name.

(From The Dunellen Weekly Call.)

We have heard fish stories by the score, but when a prominent Plainfield man, who has been guilty of telling yarns about fish before, tells us that he mistook a small sachel lying open for a fish's head, then we must say he had something with him besides his fish line.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 259 W Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO AT BLUEFIELDS.

Would-be Dictator La Cayo Snubbed By the American Commander.

NEW ORLEANS, April 20.—Bluefields advices under date of April 13 are just received here. The agonizing strain to which the American residents of Bluefields have been subjected since the 12th of February last was satisfactorily broken yesterday by the arrival of the United States warship San Francisco. The usual courtesies were exchanged between Captain Watson, of the San Francisco, and Captain Clark, of the British warship Magicienne and that night the Magicienne steamed away for Colon.

As soon as it became known to LaCayo that the San Francisco was at anchor he hoisted the flag of Nicaragua over his residence. Then, anticipating a call from Captain Watson and his officers, he prepared a sumptuous champagne dinner for the occasion, but Captain Waison and his officers returned to the San Francisco without exchanging courtesies with the would-be dictator.

Captain Watson, in company with Consul Braida, came ashore this afternoon and went direct to the office of Jose Madriz, the special commissioner from Nicaragua, for the adjustment of the Mosquito difficulty, but the interview was still in progress when the vessel sailed.

WILL IT END IN A DUEL?

Lawyer Stoll Addresses a Scathing Letter to ex-Judge Wilson.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The Herald says that attorney Charles H. Stoll, to whom Judge Wilson, during the final argument in the Breckinridge trial in Washington, imputed improper conduct, afterward formally retracting the offensive remarks, is not at all satisfied with the retraction. He forebore acting further until the verdict was rendered. Upon the advice of Mr. Butterworth and Colonel Breckinridge another forty-eight hours was accorded Judge Wilson after the trial in which to make a more complete retraction and apology. This not being forthcoming Mr. Stoll addressed a letter to his antagonist from this city under the date of April 16, which virtually amounts to a challenge.

After indulging in a scathing and contemptuous criticism of Judge Wilson's conduct and character, Mr. Stoll declines to accept the retraction which was offered as a proper apology for the offense and proceeds as follows:

"As nothing further has been heard from you, I am compelled to say to you in plain language—first, that you deliberately stated what you knew to be untrue when you said to that jury and to the world that the letter in question was a forgery.

"You are a much older man than I. The respect which every young man has for gray hairs, wherever found, makes it impossible now, after what I have referred to above, to take that only means of redress left to a gentleman when an unwarrantable attack, under the protection of a court, is made against that which, to you, is but little, but which, to a gentleman, is more than life itself.

"I therefore take this which seems to me to be the only proper course left open to me to express to you the contempt which I have for a man who under such circumstances could stoop so low and to further say that an examination into your real character satisfies me that such things as this are but the natural impulse of your nature.

"In conclusion, permit me to say that in the trial of this cause you have in this instance at least stated things which you knew to be false; that you have connived at, if, in fact, you did not yourself advise, perjured testimony; that you have shown yourself a coward in not standing by your deliberate statements, and demonstrated your lack of decency by saying enough to save yourself a thrashing without any attempt to take away the sting caused by your infamous conduct."

Sarcasm for Lodge.

LONDON, April 20.—The Times contains a sarcastic leading article on the amendment offered to the American tariff bill by Senator Lodge providing for the imposition of differential duties, where treaties are not contravened, on imports from Great Britain or her colonies until Great Britain agrees with the United States for the coinage and use of silver. In the course of its article the Times reminds Senator Lodge of the existence of a treaty forbidding the United States to impose on British goods any higher duties than those levied on goods of the same kind imported from countries other than Great Britain.

Sensational Murder Story.

CHICAGO, April 20.—A morning paper prints a sensational story to the effect that Joseph McLaughlin, a witness who was much wanted by the prosecution in the Cronin trial, was murdered while en route to this country from Scotland or immediately on his arrival in this city. McLaughlin has not been seen or heard of by his friends since last January, and it is said his sister, Mrs. Foy, believes he was done away with to prevent him from corroborating her important testimony in the trial of Dan Coughlin.

Closely Guarding a Fiend.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 20.—Swartsfager, the young farm hand, who criminally assaulted Mrs. Charles Dennis in an unoccupied farm house, Wednesday, is being closely guarded by jail officials as an attempt at lynching is feared. As Mrs. Dennis was in a critical condition at the time of the assault her recovery is very doubtful.

Guillotined as a Parricide.

PARIS, April 20.—Auguste Laureau was guillontined at Dijon for the murder of his mother, his wife and his mistress. As a parricide, he was led to the guillotine barefooted, wearing only a white shirt and trousers. Before he was taken from his cell a black veil was thrown over his head as a further distinguishing mark of a parricide.

If the clever salesman tells you that you buy cheaper than any one else, don't be so foolish as not to believe there's some one else buying cheaper than you. We have one price for all, and its always on the "tag" in plain figures.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

KELLY IS NO ANARCHIST

He Proves Himself to Be a Leader of an Army of Peace.

Emphatically Refuses to Accept Transportation for His Men on a Train Captured By a Monster Crowd of Sympathizing Workmen at Council Bluffs—Exciting Time in the Railroad Yards—Two Young Girls in the Front Rank of Those Who Clambered Onto the Captured Engine — Tracks Torn Up By the Company — Will Probably Travel By Boat.

OMAHA, April 21.—General Kelly has proved his claim to be the leader of an army of peace as he emphatically refused to accept a train taken to Weston by his Omaha friends. The train was captured at the Council Bluffs transfer for the purpose of bringing the industrial army back to Council Bluffs, but General Kelly declined to accept the accommodation, claiming that it would be an express violation of the law.

The crowd which proffered the locomotive and cars to General Kelly was composed of Omaha workingmen, who, at a mass meeting determined to aid the commander and his army through Iowa by force if necessary. A committee was appointed to ascertain whether Kelly had been aided by the railroads, and report to the workingmen of Omaha as early as possible.

When at 10 o'clock in the morning the committee reported that the Kelly army had not obtained transportation, the agreed signals were given, church bells rung and whistles blown, and the workingmen of the city, numbering 5,000, turned out and thronged Jefferson square, from which, after the report was heard, the crowd organized and elected officers and started on foot for Council Bluffs. The manager of the bridge line offered them the free use of the bridge and, two abreast, they started on their long walk. They were met in Council Bluffs by a delegation of workingmen of that place and all marched to Bayliss park and selected a committee to wait on the railroad officials and make known their demands.

Women Take a Hand.

A mass-meeting of the women of Council Bluffs was held in the opera house, and they marched in a body to where the conference was held and demanded that the Kelly army be given a train.

At 3 o'clock the conference between the committee and the railroad officials was completed. The members of the committee were given to understand that transportation would not be furnished to Kelly and his men. This information was conveyed to the waiting thousands who had congregated about the courthouse to await the coming of Chairman Tichnor.

Reaching the grounds the chairman elbowed his way through the crowd and ascended the court house steps. When he announced the result of the conference it was greeted by a roar of howls, jeers and hisses. After making a short address he stated that the committee had decided to wait until 4 o'clock at which hour if a train was not furnished, one would be taken and run out to Kelly's camp where the men would be loaded on and started on their eastward journey. He spoke in strong terms against violence and cautioned the men against any destruction of property.

The crowd then moved to the Union Pacific transfer and had been there but a minutes when a train stopped. It was found to be bound for St. Louis and although the leaders of the crowd declared that they would have a train and that quickly this one was allowed to proceed.

Down in the yards was Union Pacific engine 846 having three empty cars. The crowd made a dash for this engine and captured it in a jiffy and were soon heading it for the bridge and Omaha.

The successful capture of this locomotive inspired another crowd of sympathizers which had begun its search in another direction with more courage, and when Union Pacific engine No. 1696 pushed a string of cars up into the yards the mob rushed for and easily captured it.

Girls in the Front Ranks.

Two young girls, May Cromer and Annie Hooten, were in the front rank of those who clambered up the cab steps and on the tender, where they triumphantly waved an American flag.

In less than a minute the engine and cars were crowded with people, and the men in the lead frantically waved their arms and shouted to the surging crowd, but their voices were drowned by the cheers of the mob, which was increasing in number as though by magic.

Dozens of women were in the crowd surging about the train and they were jostled and knocked about by the crowd, but they pushed with the rest and cheered or hooted as the occasion demanded.

The engine and train was run up and down the tracks with the engine bell clanging and its whistle blowing and the steam escaping from the escape valves to the accompaniment of cheers from thousands of throats. The other locomotive was dismissed by the pro tem. crew, who now joined the crowd about the big capture. Finally a train consisting of eleven box-cars was made up and, loaded down with sympathizers, started amid much cheering for Weston.

Company Tears Up the Tracks.

The progress of the train, however, stopped suddenly when it reached a point one mile west of Weston. The railroads had sent men out to tear up the track between Council Bluffs and Weston and they had already gotten several up when the train arrived. While the sympathizers were endeavoring to induce the men to replace the rails a number of Kelly's men appeared and made them put the track in order. The track was also torn up for some distance east of Weston, shutting off all hope of progress by rail in that direction.

When the train reached Weston it was greeted with cheers, but those on board were surprised to see Gen. Kelly advance in a dignified and quiet way and announce his decision to not accept the train, as under his rules of peace he could not do what would be an express violation of the law. So, in as many words he absolutely refused the train.

He greeted his friends warmly, however and an open air meeting was held at which speeches of felicitation were made by Kelly, his lieutenants and the visitors.

Many had come on foot and in carriage and the town presented an animated appearance.

The industrial soldiers are still cheerful, after all their rebuffs and setbacks and Kelly is still tirelessly going about from group to group with words of encouragement.

Will Leave on Foot To-day.

Gen. Kelly announces that he will start with his army on foot for Council Bluffs to-day.

The train left for the transfer depot at midnight; the Kellyites bidding the passengers a rousing good-night and gave them three cheers.

There are four very sick men in the industrial army who were brought here on the train and who were left at a hospital here. The object of the return is to arrange another outlet and it is probable the army will go down the river by boat.

The Union Pacific has made a formal demand on Mayor Bemis, of this city, and Governor Crounse, of Nebraska, for protection for its property. The governor has the two local militia companies under arms and awaiting orders in their armories to be ready at a moment's notice in case of need.

Large crowds of people from here went to Council Bluffs last night, some parties numbering over 1,000 men, marching all the way.

A large meeting was held in Jefferson square at which the Iowa authorities were scathingly denounced.

Many of the army slept in barns last night, and when the farmers went out after had lain down for the night they found the men lying on the bare floors. They told the men to pull down hay from the lofts and said they had expected them to make themselves comfortable. The men replied that they did not wish to disturb property. Then the farmers repeated the invitation to get down the hay and they gladly did it.

GEN. FRYE'S COMMAND.

Conducted Through Cincinnati Under a Strong Police Guard.

CINCINNATI, April 21.—The camp at Cullom's station was named after Lieut. Brangan of the police force by the commonweals, who met the party on their arrival. Planting a flag which had been given them by the school children of Los Angeles, Cal., the commonwealers surrounded it and gave three cheers for Camp Brangan. There are 210 men in the crowd, eight of whom are on the sick list.

As no preparations had been made for feeding the men when they arrived, and as they had had nothing to eat since Thursday noon they were in bad humor. At 11 o'clock the associated charities furnished the men with a substantial dinner.

After finishing they were conducted under heavy police escort through the city to Ivorydale, where the army expected to catch a freight train on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railway.

Sophomores' President Kidnapped.

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 21.—The sophomore class of the University of Vermont started for Montreal on the early train yesterday, for the annual class supper last evening. The freshmen heard of their intended departure and about 25 were on hand. They captured several satchel, belonging to the sophomores, and rushed J. F. Stearns, the sophomore president, into a closed carriage and at last accounts he had not been found. Posters have been issued, offering a reward of not more than three cents for Stearns, return. The local police are at work on the matter.

Not Infallible in Their Affairs.

MADRID, April 21.—The pope's address to the Spanish pilgrims on Wednesday has aroused the supporters of Don Carlos, the Bourbon pretender to the throne of Spain, to the issuance of a manifesto combatting some of the sentiments expressed by his holiness. The pope's words are interpreted by the Carlists as advising full recognition of the sovereignty of King Alfonso XIII., and in their manifesto they intimate their disbelief in the infallibility of the holy father when dealing with political questions.

Postoffice Robbed in Daylight.

NEWTON, L. I., April 21.—Four hundred dollars in postage stamps and cash was stolen from the postoffice of Corona village yesterday afternoon. The postmaster's 16-year-old daughter was alone in the office at the time and while a stranger engaged her in a lengthy conversation it is believed a confederate opened the safe and stole the contents. That it was the work of professionals there is not a doubt and it is thought that it is the same gang that has been working the country for some time past.

Bride and Groom Terribly Beaten.

LEBANON, Pa., April 21.—Frank Friend and Miss Cora Walborn were married at Myerstown Thursday night. A calithumpian band called later and tendered the couple a serenade. They became rather boisterous and were ejected. A row followed in which the bride and groom were beaten unmercifully. Mrs. Friend received a terrible scalp wound and injuries to one of her arms. The serenaders will be arrested.

Claim She Was Not His Wife.

MONTPELIER, Vt., April 21.—Suit has been brought against the estate of the late William Patterson, of Ryegate. It is claimed that the woman with whom he lived was not legally his wife, so that she and her children are not entitled to the estate of $40,000 which he left. The claim is made on behalf of a nephew and niece of Patterson.

Dismissed from the Militia.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 21.—Capt. Bernard Hackett, of company B, second regiment R. I. M., has been dismissed from the service by order of Governor Brown, in accordance with the sentence of the court martial that recently heard charges against this officer of falsifying pay rolls and other acts unbecoming an officer.

And When Coburg Has Just Assumed Family Cares?

That's What Liberal Member Morton Asked the Commons to Do Last Night With the Duke's Royal Annuity, But His Motion Suffered Defeat—Only Getting $275,000 a Year

LONDON, April 21.—Alpheus Cleophas Morton, liberal for Peterborough, moved in the house of commons last evening that the annuity of £10,000 drawn by the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha in his capacity of Duke of Edinburgh be forthwith abolished.

Henry Labouchere, the radical leader, seconded the motion. The Duke, he said, did not need the money, as his income from other sources was ample. From Coburg, which was a rich principality, he drew £30,000 yearly. By his marriage he had obtained £15,000 yearly. The duke, moreover, was a foreign sovereign. As such he might at any time find his obligation opposed to the interests of Great Britain. There was no valid reason why England should support the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. She might just as well pay the expenses of the Emperor of China or the Lama of Thibet. The grounds usually given for a grant of this sort were not applicable to a foreign sovereign. The usual argument for a royal grant was that the English princes were expected to make a certain display and fulfil certain social functions. Any reasoning of this kind could hardly be made to bolster the claims of a prince who lived and ruled in a foreign land.

Lord Randolph Churchill, who helps Mr. Balfour lead the conservatives, attacked Mr. Morton's motion warmly.

Sir William Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer defended the grant. It was perfectly regular and proper, he said. A more inauspicious moment than the present one could not have been selected for proposing the ungracious act under consideration. The abolition of the grant would not commend itself to the sentiments of the nation.

Sir William said he hoped that a division of the house would not be forced, but if his honorable friend (Labouchere) should insist upon it, the government must appeal to the opposition for support. He himself had never felt more keenly the absence of the great leader whose place he filled so unworthily and whose personal influence in such matters had been so great. (Loud and prolonged cheering.)

Mr. Morton's motion was defeated in division by a vote of 208 to 67.

The conservatives, liberal-unionists and the Irish with the single exception of Florence O'Driscoll supported the government in the division. Sir Charles Dilke and Sir Wilfrid Lawson voted with the radical minority.

New Hampshire Shakers.

CONCORD, N. H., April 21.—The report from San Francisco, to the effect that New Hampshire was to lose its Canterbury community of Shakers is denied by Elder Henry P. Blinn, who directs the affairs of the community. The story, he said, was not new to him, as he had already read an extended account of the proposed movement in a San Francisco paper, "but," he declared, "the assertion that we purpose abandoning our home on the Canterbury mills is incorrect. What the future may have in store for us in the way of change, of course, cannot now be told, but nothing of the kind described is now contemplated by us. It may be, and I hope is true, that a society has been formed in California, but with that we have nothing directly to do."

WHY WOMEN DREAD APRIL

Spring Cleaning-Sewing, Sweeping Planning and Hurried Meals Exhaust Body and Brain.

April—windows and doors may now be opened. A note of preparation is apparent in every household.

Spring means to the average woman extraordinary exertion. Garments must be made over for the new season; the long winter's account with dirt and dust must be settled even at the expense of diminished vitality and shortened life.

With such strain on body and mind thousands of women are sure to overtax their strength. Hosts of too anxious wives and mothers sacrifice health and future usefulness to this fearful moloch of spring cleaning.

April is by far the hardest month for the women of the house. The long siege of winter leaves them little strength for such excessive labor, and when the strain is over many find they have been living on their nerves and are on the road to nervous prostration and weakness of a vital organ.

After great strain on the system Paine's celery compound, the great modern nerve and blood remedy, best restores vigor and strength to the body. Men and women run down, weak, and nervous feel very soon an increased power for work and enjoyment.

All have the true instinct that life, recovery from illness and the maintenance of health come from perfect nutrition. Paine's celery compound reaches the very origin of nervous weakness as well as diseases of the liver, kidneys and stomach. It brings to the million of nerve cells all over the body the exact food they need to become again healthy vital tissues.

This is, in a nutshell, why Paine's celery compound is the remarkable remedy that it is for curing diseases due to enfeebled nerve power, such as neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney and liver complaints.

Digestion is distinctly under the control of the nervous system and when these nerves are underfed and in a semi-paralyzed condition the stomach becomes little better than a heated receptacle in which the food is not digested, but undergoes a sort of fermentation, which gives rise to nervous dyspepsia, gout, etc., the heart weakens, strength departs and life becomes a burden.

It is just the craving of starved nerves for better nutrition that Paine's celery compound quickly and fully meets. It causes the blood to free itself of every particle of poisonous humor.

The first bottle of Paine's celery compound "starts the tired out, "run down" man or woman fairly on the road to firm health.

Says Mrs. C. E. Pruneman of Dover, N. H.: "I was run down and felt very tired all the time. I was not able to do my work, and had not been since baby came to us. I took a bottle of a certain sarsaparilla, but it did me no good. My sister came to me and advised me to get a bottle of Paine's celery compound. I was discouraged and had no faith in anything. My father went and got the compound to try and see if it would not do me good. Before I had taken one-half of the bottle I felt as well as ever, and I have done my own work ever since without any trouble."

Here is the experience of thousands of others.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

The Senator Who's Pushing Plainfield's Bills.

(From The Railway Advocate.)

The name of our brilliant and popular Senator, Hon. Foster M. Voorhees is being frequently mentioned, in connection with the Republican nomination for Governor next year. Senator Voorhees has all the necessary requirements for a good Governor, and should he be the candidate the people of this State would witness one of the liveliest and most brilliant campaigns the State has ever known. The white plume of Henry of Navarre, as an awakener of enthusiasm, would be as nothing, compared to the smiling face and silver tongued oratory of this brilliant young Jerseyman. He would prove a second "Billy" Russell, whose wonderful triumphs in the old Bay State were entirely the result of his personal popularity. Senator Voorhees is his counterpart in New Jersey.

Union County Roads the Best.

(From The Elizabeth Journal.)

The magnificent stone roads in this county are still the finest object lessons in road building this country affords. This morning a number of gentlemen from Fulton County, New York State, visited this city, and under the guidance of Engineer Dunham of Plainfield, went over the roads. They were highly gratified and will doubtless do all they can, on their return to Fulton County, to insure the building there of just such roads as we have here.

Mayor Needham in Westfield.

(From The Leader.)

Henry E. Needham, the young man who has recently been elected Mayor of North Plainfield, is the son-in-law of John Marsh, the veteran Scotch Plains meat man. Mrs. Needham, as Miss Marsh, had a large circle of friends and acquaintances in Westfield.

Putnam & DeGraw are trade-winners because they give purchasers more than the worth of their money.

To Arrest the Gang.

John King, aged 17, was held in $50 bail this morning to await a hearing in the City Court. He is charged with insulting a woman on South Second street last night, while he was with five other boys. He will be tried with the others when all have been caught.

Does n't Want a Lawyer.

James Downes of Westfield, charged with assault on Mary Harrison of that township by striking her in the face with his fist, pleaded not guilty in Elizabeth yesterday, and trial was set for April 25. When asked if he had a lawyer he said that he did not want one.

MONOPOLY'S GRIP IN PLAINFIELD.

ONE-MAN POWER AND ITS ATTENDANT EVILS.

Other Towns Lighted Without Cost to Taxpayers, While Plainfield Pays Enormous Sums for Service—Dictation of Private Corporations, Causing Inconvenience and Expense on Every Hand.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The elections last week in this State and in New York indicate that the people are getting tired of "bossism" in politics, and are asserting their fundamental rights. As a believer in popular government in the true sense of the term, and a lifelong Republican, I rejoice in this triumph of right principles.

Now, to anyone at all familiar with the conduct of municipal affairs in this Republican (so styled) ruled city, it must be apparent that we as a municipality are gradually becoming more and more firmly within the control and dominated by a ring the existence of which is proving to be a serious menace to the best interests of our taxpayers.

In view of the fact that The Press circulates in the majority of our homes and is read by our most substantial citizens, I, as a taxpayer of the city and an old resident who has wakened up to the true condition of affairs, beg the privilege to use sufficient space in your columns to sound a note of warning for the benefit of our voters.

We have a serious question before us for solution. It is the duty of all good citizens to help solve the problem by taking a more active part in the selection of candidates for local offices and not blindly accept the nominations which the "machine" or "dictator" thrusts upon us.

It is a known fact that our city legislators have, at the dictation of the bosses, granted valuable franchises to home monopolies controlled by the men in power in the dominant party, without adequate return to the city, and have made it possible for corporations in which they are largely interested to demand of the consumer such price as they may choose for the supply of necessaries.

Take the case of the supply of light, electric as well as gas, and water. The charge for gas here is $2 20 for a thousand feet, while in other places where the population is no greater the charge is very much less.

I am able to state from personal interviews with several of our city merchants, that they are in many instances replacing gas with oil because of the exhorbitant price charged by the gas company. There are 150 towns in the United States where the electric light plants are under municipal control, and we find that out of one hundred and twenty, last year five towns were lighted without cost to the taxpayers, while our bill for January last alone was $812 75.

Through the failure of our city authorities to deal with the question of water supply in the proper way at the proper time, we have been placed in the power of another monopoly. When the Water Company was first organized and put in operation, meters were placed in residences and other places, and a moderate and reasonable charge made for the use of water. But when the method of supply became popular the meters were removed and price for water doubled.

A further restriction is now attempted to be made apparently in favor of a street-sprinkling concern the proprietor of which is said to be largely interested in the stock of the Water Company. The latter company has given notice to its patrons that water must not be used to sprinkle the streets in front of their residences. It would be interesting to know what the proprietor of the street-sprinkling concern pays to the city for his valuable street-sprinkling privilege and to the Water Company for the water used. He draws the water necessary from the city's hydrants in unrestricted quantity, and we are yet to learn that the city is recompensed for this use of its property.

Had our city fathers 15 years ago bonded our town for all these improvements and owned them, the late discussion as to the propriety of another school building never would have been called forth, for we would have had sufficient funds in our city treasury for school houses, as well as street macadamizing, parks, etc.

Let us do away with this one-man power—an idea repugnant to to the enlightened state of society in which we live. It is the duty of the taxpayers of our city to consider this matter earnestly and with the interests of the many in their clear view. It is time that the machine should be smashed and that the government should be conducted in the interests of all the people and not for the personal aggrandizement of a few self-constituted rulers who are fast becoming to think themselves all-sufficient. Let us not submit to the dictation of the few, but rather let the people show that they are sovereign in fact as well as in theory.

ANTI-MONOPOLY.

Stabbed by a Lead Pencil.

Russel Miller, young son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Miller, met with a painful accident Thursday evening. While his father was holding him, the boy took a long lead pencil out of his pocket, and after playing with it awhile he slipped and fell and the pencil entered his mouth a considerable distance, inflicting a painful incision. He is much better now, however, and the sore is healing.

—Dr. Endicott's horse, recently purchased from the fire department, ran away about 3:30 this afternoon, on Park avenue. He was caught near Front street by Special Policeman Robinson, and returned to the doctor's home.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

A TRAMP'S SHOCKING DEATH.

He Jumped from a Coaler in Front of a Passenger Train.

An unidentified tramp jumped from a coal train directly in front of the 8:31 train, Conductor VanArsdale of Somerville, near Netherwood this morning. His head was crushed, and he was injured internally. He was taken unconscious to Muhlenberg Hospital, and died at 1 p. m.

GARDENER KELLY HELD.

His Employer Furnishes Bonds for His Hearing Before the Grand Jury.

Charles Kelly, who was arrested on a charge of assisting Thomas Boohan to escape arrest Thursday morning, appeared before Justice T. R. Crosley last evening. His counsel was George DeMeza.

Constable Vanderhoff swore that Kelly had driven Boohan from the barn. Marshal Wilson supported his statements.

Kelly said that Boohan came to him at 5:30 Thursday morning and said he must go away with him. He objected. Boohan said he was going away with his employer's horse. Kelly decided to go along to bring the horse back. He did not drive, having never been permitted to handle the horses. Lawyer DeMeza said that Boohan was not escaping when he went from the barn. He had escaped before, as the lawyer had seen him at 11 in the city.

Justice Crosley held Kelly in $400 bail for the Grand Jury. The bond was furnished at noon by Mr. Fenton.

Where He Draws the Line.

One the great advantages of the New York department house is that you can purchase there almost anything from a needle to an anchor. Love, corner of North and Watchung avenues, intends, as nearly as possible, to follow out this plan. You can find there an immense assortment of wall-papers, a full line of paints, oils and varnishes, glass cut in endless sizes, a beautiful line of rugs, mats, and carpets, elegant window shades, fine stationery, and oh, ye smokers, they do say Love has the best cigar kept in town. Yet Love says he does not keep everything. He stops at feeding bottles, pills and ointment, which people frequently ask for there. His store is kept so clean, and presents so bright an appearance, it is frequently taken for a drug store. Ladies are bound to prefer to look at wall papers in a store that is free from the smell of paints and oils, which are all kept in a separate department.

Before Judge Coddington.

Mrs. John O'Rourke's testimony in the City Court last Saturday caused the Judge to impose a fine of $8 on Charles Killian for pushing her against a door. Through Lawyer George DeMeza the case was brought up again by Killian this morning. The opposing counsel was William R Codington.

After a hearing which occupied the whole morning, Mrs. O'Rourke was adjudged guilty of causing the disturbance. Her sentence was suspended and Killian's fine remitted.

Why the Gong Did and Did n't Blow.

The argand lamp in Babbitt's pool room burned a hole in the wooden ceiling after closing hours last night. An alarm from Box 12 resulted in speedy extinguishment. The loss was $10. Two lengths of hose burst.

Because of a "ground" in the circuit, only one round of the box sounded, the depleted current not being strong enough to open the armature that works the gong. The house tappers worked all right. The "ground" has been remedied.

Talking Trolley for the Mountain.

President Thomas Nevins, Sr., Secretary Chandler Riker, Thomas Nevins, Jr., and others of the Street Railway Company, accompanied Miller John H French on a tour of Johnston Drive yesterday afternoon. The object of the trip was to see the feasibility of extending the trolley road over the drive to Scotch Plains. They were favorably impressed at the undertaking, and all agreed to give the subject serious consideration.

$1,000 Insurance Paid.

The Travelers Insurance Company through a special agent who visited Plainfield Wednesday, paid the widow of the late John H. Jackson the company's check for $1,000 in payment of a life policy held by Mr. Jackson. The Travelers is always prompt in settling losses, and by this commends itself to the people at large. Wm. A. Woodruff is their local representative.

Relief Corps Work.

At the meeting of the Women's Relief Corps, No. 10, Auxiliary to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., last evening, one person was received and initiated. The advisability of repeating the entertainment given in Reform Hall Thursday evening was discussed, but nothing definite was decided on. Next Monday evening the committee on the last entertainment will meet and settle accounts.

Babbitt Fined $50.

NOISELESS NOMADICS.

FINDING its original meeting-place in the Standard Fashion Building outgrown, the Ladies Bicycle Club organized in New York early in March is arranging for more commodious quarters, where visiting wheelwomen from such places as Plainfield may find every comfort. The club held its fourth business meeting Thursday night at the residence of Miss Fitzpatrick, 347 West Fourteenth street. One object of the meet was to talk over plans for the further enlargement of the club, which has members not only in New York, but in Brooklyn, Plainfield, and several other New Jersey towns. The membership is to be unlimited and the title under which the organization will be known is the Woman's International Bicycle Club. Branches will be formed in all the States, one flourishing offshoot being already located in SanFrancisco, and a communication from Miss Julie Olsen, of of Copenhagen, Denmark, tells that great interest in the club is being displayed there.

The Time Wheelmen of Philadelphia have sent out invitations to Newark cycling clubs to meet Monday night to arrange the annual century run from Newark to Philadelphia. The Time and Alpha Wheelmen decided to give individual runs of their own, but the former, seeing that the regular run was likely to fall into oblivion, decided to extend invitations to the Newark clubs and perfect an organization of some kind, which would have for its sole object the perpetuation of the Newark-Philadelphia century run.

Charles Kluge, the well-known professional rider and follower of Frank Egan's league, has opened a store in Jersey City.

"The Asbury Park Wheelmen, Jr.," is the name of a new cycle club recently organized in the Park.

PRELIMINARY COACHING TRIP.

Philadelphia Men Make a Trial Journey Over the Line Through Plainfield.

The members of the Suburban Road Coaching Club of Philadelphia, who will begin next Wednesday to operate a public line of coaches daily between Philadelphia and New York, started from Philadelphia this morning on a preliminary journey over the route. The party consisted of Col. Edward Morrell, Neilson Brown, Edward Browning, E Rittenhouse Miller, Harrison K. Conor, members of the Suburban Road Club, and John C. Groome, who will do a trick on the box occasionally while the experiments last, which will be until May 12, according to present calculations if the drivers and horses hold out under the strain.

Col. Morrell drove on his coach Alert, drawn by a finely-groomed four-in-hand team of bays. The coach, after having been photographed by three cameras from an opposite sidewalk in the presence of quite a number of spectators, left the front of the Stratford Hotel at 8 on the minute and it is due in New York at the Hotel Waldorf by way of the Erie Ferry to Twenty-third street at 8 this evening. There will be eleven changes of horses and one change of coaches.

The party left Col. Merrell's coach at Torresdale, twelve miles north of Philadelphia, are making the rest of the journey on Neilson Brown's coach, formerly the Coronet. The first change of horses was made at Cedarville, near Frankford, and the others at the old Red Inn near Torresdale, at Pulmerville, near Bristol, at Trenton, Princeton, Franklin Park, New Brunswick, Plainfield, Elizabeth, Newark, and the last change at Jersey City.

Five horses have been placed at each stage except Princeton, where there are twelve. The horses used between Philadelphia and Trenton are from Col. Merrell's stables, and Neilson Brown's teams will be used north of New Brunswick, the other members of the club supplying horses for the intervening distance.

Each member of the club will take a turn on the box on the way over, and Neilson Brown will handle the ribbons when the coach reaches New York. The coach will be driven back to Philadelphia Tuesday, and Wednesday the regular daily trips begin with two new coaches, one leaving New York and the other Philadelphia at 8 a. m and meeting at Princeton.

The coaches are the Aquindnick, built in New York, and an imported London vehicle which will be named the Alert James P. Scott of Philadelphia has chartered the coach for a party of guests on its first regular trip from Philadelphia, and next Saturday the New York Coaching Club, composed of Reginald Rives, Frederick Bronson, T. A. Havemeyer, Prescott Lawrence and others, will make the journey over from New York, at the invitation of Neilson Brown.

Today's trip is the first journey between the two cities by four-horse coach since one was made on May 8, 1878, by Delancy Kane and the members of the New York Coaching Club.

The change of horse in Plainfield is at the Sixth street stables of Adam Blair. The hour of expected arrival in Plainfield was 3:45.

NEW JERSEY NEWS.

Young Fales.

NEWARK, N. J., April 21.—Sheriff Lehlbach has received formal orders from Gov. Werts directing him not to carry out the sentence of death in the case of the boy murderer, Robert Alden Fales, because the court of pardons had commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life at hard labor. Sheriff Lehlbach will not divulge the date on which the youthful criminal is to be removed to state's prison, but says it will be within ten days. It is not likely that any effort will be made by his counsel to upset the verdict of the court of pardons and release the murderer from the state's authority.

Mayoralty Muddle in Rutherford.

RUTHERFORD, N. J., April 21.—Theodore G. Hoster (dem.) was elected mayor of East Rutherford on Tuesday by ten votes. The republicans elected five out of the six councilmen and claim that twenty-six votes disappeared in the count, which would have elected William McKenzie mayor. Last night Mayor Hoster tried to organize the council, but the republican councilmen obstructed the proceedings. They adjourned the meeting without accepting Mayor Hoster's message, and are taking legal proceedings to have a recount.

AN AMERICAN QUEEN

AND HER FOUR DAUGHTERS.

A Scene on the 8 O'clock Express Between Boston and Worcester, Mass.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

It was a pretty sight.

The passengers turned around in their seats to better note the something unusual.

A noble looking woman had entered the car, followed by four daughters, ageing from fifteen to twenty years. The mother had one of those good and wholesome faces that one so rarely sees, but that men and women always admire. The daughters had the same healthy, wholesome look. They were well born, well cared for, and, without doubt, never suffered from any of the ills that curse many women.

Mothers owe a duty to their daughters that in too many cases is neglected.

Nature has provided a time for purification, and if the channels are obstructed, the entire system is poisoned and misery comes.

Mrs. Chas. Hines of Duncannon, Pa., a woman of large experience, in speaking of a mother's duty, says: "Watch carefully your daughters' physical development.

"Mothers should see that nature is assisted, if necessary, to perform its office, and keep their daughters well informed as to matters concerning themselves."

Irregularities, from whatever cause, are sure indications of organic trouble. With irregularities come disturbance of the stomach and kidneys.

Violent headaches often attack the victim, pains shoot everywhere. Extreme irritability follows quickly, and then utter despondency overwhelms the already overburdened life. Unless the obstruction is removed at once, your daughter's whole future will be darkened.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will accomplish the work speedily. It is the most effective remedy for irregular or suspended action known.

The largest purchase of Dress Goods we ever made at one time was made last week—over two hundred pieces of fine imported dress fabrics, not one piece costing less than 60c per yard and some 70 and 80. We put them all on one table at the reasonably low price of 39c per yard. All on table No. 1.

Matting—At the recent trade sale in New York we bought over 200 rolls of the finest matting made at lower prices than matting ever sold for before. We offer a good heavy matting for 13c per yard. Extra heavy seamless fancy matting 14c. Extra heavy seamless white matting, a great bargain, 14c. worth 25c. Linen warp seamless matting 25c., regular value 40c.

Spring Coats and Capes—The entire line of one of the leading coat and cape manufacturers of New York City. We cleaned out the entire line at one-third off, and they will be sold the same way. Every garment is made of the best material, handsomely trimmed and made in the latest style. In addition to coats and capes you will find in this department an elegant line of house wrappers and street dresses. Fine cambric wrappers, ready made, 89c. This is a new department and to bring it before the people we have made prices very attractive.

Housefurnishing Dept.—Our regular annual sale of granite ironware takes place this week. We put on sale over 200 cases of this ware. Will be sold at the same prices you pay for tinware.

HIGH SCHOOL CHRONICLES.

Special Arbor Day exercises will be held in Assembly Hall, Friday morning.

The Linnean Society will start on their weekly excursion Monday afternoon at 2.

The Botany Class went on an expedition after specimens Thursday afternoon.

Charles B. Fernald, a member of the class of '93, has returned to school to renew his study of the classics. He is the orator of his class, and was one of the original members of the Lyceum. For the rest of this term he will use his talents in the Kappa Delta Phi.

The P. H. S. A. A. will hold a meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. The selection of the emblem will be discussed, and each member is requested to bring in one or more designs. Further arrrangements for the Field Day will be made, and a committee of arrangements appointed.

The Kappa Delta Phi held their regular meeting Friday afternoon. The question "Is the Telegraph of more benefit than the Telephone?" was debated. C. B. Morse, '95, and J. V. Beckman, '95, spoke in favor of the affirmative; and L. Rand, '96, and N. Probasco, '94, for the negative. After a very exciting debate, the president decided in favor of the affirmative. The programme for next week's meeting will consist of a "Hat Talk".

The regular meeting of the High School Lyceum was held Friday afternoon. The debate on the programme was postponed two weeks on account of the absence of one of the debaters. A hash debate on the question "Would a Navy be of more benefit to the United States in time of war than an Army?" was substituted. M. Pierson, '96, acted as principal for the affirmative, and H. W. Riley, '97, as principal for the negative. The debate was won by the negative. L. Bull, '96, gave a humorous declamation.

Lyceum Bowlers Easy Victors.

The regular team of the Board of Trade visited the Lyceum last night. The C. Y. M. L. bowlers defeated them by 90 pins without any trouble at all. The nearest the tradesmen came to winning was in the fourth and fifth frames, in each of which they obtained a slight lead.

New York Style But Plainfield Make.

New York fashionable bonnets and hats are now being made in Plainfield, and women are no longer obliged to go to New York for their articles, greatly to their delight and convenience. Edsall's three New York milliners are kept rushed, working under great disadvantage for want of room in the present quarters. They hope in a short time to be situated in the new parlors in the Babcock Building, where greater facilities will be offered. Those who have patronized the new department are well pleased, both as to price and styles, and success in the new enterprise is insured from the start.

The patrons of Edsall's millinery department are assured that their neighbors' hats will not resemble theirs, for Edsall's milliners make no two hats alike. They are competent to invent styles; they do not copy.

Columbia's Guests.

Grand Officers Diesendorf and Colyer visited Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. O. U. W., last evening. They were entertained afterwards in the Board of Trade clubhouse.

CLERK VETTERLEIN TURNED DOWN.

BOROUGH COUNSEL REED CONSTRUES THE LAW AGAINST HIM.

Clever Opinion Which Makes It Easy for the Council to Supplant Him With a Republican—Other North Plainfield Business—T. B. Penton Scored.

An adjourned meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening, all of the Councilmen attending.

C. C. Boice said that he owned the Heyniger Building and claimed the election rent due the owner. The petition was referred to the proper committee, as were also the petitions following.

S. E. Townsend and others asked for crosswalks on Myrtle avenue at the corner of Sycamore avenue and of Girard avenue.

A. D. Thompson and other owners of land in Watchung Park, asked that Fairview avenue, from Somerset street to Westervelt avenue, and Watchung avenue, between Jackson and Grandview avenues, was accepted

Corporation Counsel Reed presented the following opinion:

To the Honorable the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN—Pursuant to your resolution referring to me for an opinion the question of whether or not there is a vacancy in the office of borough clerk, I have carefully investigated the subject.

The Act under which the Borough of North Plainfield was organized was approved April 5, 1878, and section 7 thereof provided that on the organization of the first council elected after the creation of the borough, some suitable person, resident of the borough, should be appointed clerk, who, in the words of the statute, "shall hold his office at the pleasure of the Council"—Supplement Revised Statutes, p. 49, sec. 9.

That course was adopted in North Plainfield, and has been followed down to this time, the resolution appointing the clerk having always stated that the officer was appointed "to serve at the pleasure of the Mayor and Council for a term not to exceed one year", or words to that effect.

It is now asserted that the law governing the subject has been changed to the extent that the power of fixing the term of office of the clerk has been taken from the Council, and the term has been fixed by the Legislature at two years.

On examination I find that such is unquestionably the fact. An Act approved April 14, 1891, provided that in all boroughs the term of office of every clerk thereafter elected or appointed should be two years.—Laws of 1891, p. 417.

That Act was not passed until after our clerk had been elected in April, 1891, and consequently did not affect the term that year.

On March 24, 1892, that Act was amended in so far as it related to certain townships (namely those townships which are governed by a special charter) but re-enacted the provision that the term of borough clerks thereafter appointed should be two years.—Laws of 1892, p. 258.

That act went into effect March 24, 1892, and still remains in force.

It cannot be successfully contended that the Council can by any resolution alter the statute law.

In April, 1892, the Council had the power to appoint a clerk, and it did so, but the statute fixed the term of office at two years.

The clerk chosen in April, 1892, was by law appointed for two years, and it follows that unless there occured some event which amounted to a resignation or removal from office, he remained clerk until April, 1894.

The clerk appointed in April 1892 was Mr. Brokaw. Both himself and the Council understood that the appointment was for but one year and Mr. Brokaw, acting upon that understanding, voluntarily surrendered the office in April 1893 and made no claim upon it nor attempted to exercise it after that date. I am clear that the acts and circumstances surrounding that incident were such as to create a vacancy in the office—as effectually so as if Mr. Brokaw had formally resigned and the resignation had been formally accepted.

Such being the situation Mr. Vetterlein, was appointed in April, 1893, by a resolution in the form ordinarily used.

What was the effect of that resolution?

The answer is to be found in the statute governing the filling of vacancies in such offices.

That statute provides as follows:

"That in case of vacancy in any subordinate office in such borough, occasioned by death, resignation, inability, disqualification, removal from office, or neglect or refusal to act, or other cause, it shall be lawful for the said board (council) to appoint others in their stead to fill such office for the unexpired term thereof."

Even if no such provision were made by the statute, the appointment must have been considered to be for the unexpired term.

Such is always the case where the term is fixed by law.

It follows that the appointment of Mr. Vetterlein in April, 1893, was in law to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Brokaw, and that such term having but now terminated, the office is vacant and should be filled by appointment which by law will be for two years terminating April, 1896.

This makes it unnecessary to go into the question of whether or not Mr. Vetterlein would not be estopped, by reason of accepting the position under the resolution by which he was appointed, from claiming the office beyond the period expressed in that resolution. It may be that such an act would be considered tantamount to presenting a resignation to take effect at the end of the year.

In the case of the assessor, to which reference has been made, the resolution oppointing that officer did not attempt to limit the term, but declared that he was appointed to serve "for the term provided by law".

Very Respectfully,

CHAS. A. REED,

Dated April 20, 1894. Borough Counsel.

Smalley Brother's bid for crushed stone, $.95 per ton for ½ inch, $.92 for 1 and 1½ inch, and $.85 for 2½ inch, was referred to the Street Committee, together with a petition from J. H. Cooley and others that Jackson avenue, between Westervelt and Franklin avenues, be accepted.

At their suggestion the License and Marshal Committee were empowered to expend $30 on the lockup for painting the court room and putting ventilating grates in the ceiling of the cells.

Patrick Kelleher, janitor and engineer of Warren Engine Company, refusing to serve in both offices, was appointed engineer at an annual salary of $50, and it was decided to hire a janitor at $70.

Thomas R. Crosley was designated Borough Magistrate for another year.

Mr. Valiant brought up the question of having a copy of the ordinances in force, none having been compiled since 1888. After discussion the committee was instructed to prepare and publish the borough laws in pamphlet form.

The license for borough dogs was fixed at $2 for the year, beginning May 1.

On motion of Mr. Lounsbury, seconded by Mr. Howell, James K. Arnold was unanimously appointed borough clerk for two years from April 15.

Mr. Lounsbury referred to the matter of contributing $25 to the G. A. R. posts for the celebration of Memorial Day. Mr. Howell questioned the legality of giving money in this way and was supported by Counsel Reed, who said that the State Constitution expressly prohibited, in municipalities, the giving of public money to any individual or association. The Council, he said, had no power to vote public money except for the purposes for which it was appointed.

Special Marshals appointed were: William Conway, Henry Bodenheimer, Horace D. Pangborn, Peter Dœringer, Israel Compton, Charles Debele, Francis M. Whiteley, Israel Jones, John Stein, Peter Stram, James Stewart, Jacob Kettering, Samuel Moore and Richard McDonald.

The importance of strengthening the floor in the rear of Warren engine-house so that the hose cart could be placed in front, was discussed.

Loans of $1,000 each were ordered, one for the light account and one for the borough account.

Mr. Howell said that T. B. Penton, of Rockview avenue, had placed sharp pickets on the outer edge of his sidewalk. They projected eight inches above the ground and were dangerous at night. He thought it an outrage, and suggested that it was perpetrated from "pure cussedness". Mr. Penton, he said, was already before the people as a candidate for notoriety. The Street Commissioner was instructed to have the stakes removed at once.

No further action was taken before the Council adjourned.

The Retort Courteous.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—My attention has been called to a statement made by a councilman at the borough meeting last evening, respecting certain pickets which my gardener put down to try to protect the grass on the edging of my curb between the trees until it has a chance to grow.

I wish to say that I was not aware of the same being dangerous to anyone who used the sidewalk, as the pickets are two feet from the sidewalk, and would have had my gardener remove the same if even the thought of danger had occurred to me.

I wish to add that the councilman's expression that I did such a thing from "pure cussedness" is gratuitous and scarcely the language of a gentleman, and it certainly does no credit to his constituents to have such a "Reuben" as a representative.

THOMAS B. PENTON, JR.

FOR RICH AND POOR.

Andrew Sipperley, of Schaghticoke, N. Y., Added to the List of Prominent People Who Have Been Benefited by the Use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

SCHAGHTICOKE, N. Y.—It is ignorance rather than anything else that makes life miserable, but ignorance of the value of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy does not exist in Schaghticoke today; as a blood medicine and nerve tonic it stands supreme. One of the principal reasons for its great popularity in this neighborhood comes from the benefit our townsman, Andrew Sipperly, derived from its use. Mr. Sipperly has suffered for years past with a chronic kidney trouble, bilious attacks and, at intervals, with violent neuralgia in the head and face. Up to last fall he rarely knew a well day. At that time his wife, who had learned of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, determined to have him use it. In writing to a friend about Mr. Sipperley's recovery, Mrs. Sipperly says:

"Since he has used Favorite Remedy, he has had no serious trouble, and his general health is greatly improved. I became acquainted with the benefit Mrs. Lewis Ryan, of South Cambridge, New York, derived of its use, and found that she had suffered from kidney disease and chronic constipation for years, so my husband began to take it, and with splendid results." Mr. Sipperly, in writing of his sickness, says: "For several years I was subject to attacks of kidney trouble and gravel which was attended with most excruciating pain, but since I began the use of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy I have had no serious trouble, and my general health is greatly improved. I know of a great many people about here who have used Favorite Remedy, and in every instance it has cured." One of the officers of the Albany N. Y., Hospital recently said, in speaking of Favorite Remedy: "I know of its great medicinal value, and to my knowledge it cures the diseases for which it is prepared."

The great value of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy lies in the fact that it dissolves the excess of uric acid in the blood. Many of the ailments people suffer from—for instance, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles, and the sickness peculiar to women, all come from this one cause. Favorite Remedy dissolves this acid and expels it from the system, thus curing the disease. In cases of scrofula, diabetes and Bright's disease, it has cured where other treatments have failed. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is for sale by all dealers in medicine at $1 a bottle or 6 bottles for $5, which brings a treatment within reach of all.

—It has been erroneously stated that Union County elected only one Democratic Freeholder, last election. In reality, four Democrats were elected.

CHECKS FOR A QUARTER MILLION.

GEN. NEGLEY RECOVERED THEM WITH HIS $55,000 BONDS.

But a Deputy Sheriff Complicates the Famous Robbery Case by Levying on the Booty for an Unsettled Judgment of a Bank Against the General.

It transpires that Major General James S. Negley has more reason than first appeared, for joy over the recovery of the sachel which had been stolen from his home in Plainfield, for not only did it contain fifty-five six per cent. bonds of the Newcastle Northern Railroad, of Pennsylvania, but there were also two checks for an aggregate of a quarter of a million dollars. They were made payable to Mr. Negley's order, and each bore his signature; one was for $150,000 and the other was for $100,000. There was a grant for some Canadian lands signed by Queen Victoria.

The Major General was on the track of the thief, and would have caused his arrest had not the Madison avenue woman in whose house the sachel had been left turned it over to the police.

Major General Negley visited the West Thirtieth Street police station yesterday morning and identified the valise and its contents. He was closeted with Captain Schmittberger for some time, and then he told what he knew about the man whom he accuses of the theft. His name is Michael Coleman, Negley says, and he was engaged about two months ago as coachman and man of all work. Several trinkets were missed shortly after Coleman was engaged and when, one day, Negley searched for the man, intending to tax him with the thefts, he found he had left.

Among some articles that Coleman had left behind him was found a paper that had been in the valise, which had been kept in the library. When the Major General searched for the valise it was gone. Some days afterward the president of a bank in New York notified Major General Negley that one of the stolen bonds had been offered to him for sale at a very low figure.

Negley says he learned that Coleman was corresponding with a girl who knew one of his servants, and that the latter told him. It is his belief that the man has many confederates, who are systematically robbing persons from whom they obtain employment.

Captain Schmittberger would not talk about the case, further than to say his detectives were on the thief's trail, and that he could not escape. Inspector McLaughlin, he added, also had some detectives looking for him. Shortly after Major Negley left the station house Deputy Sheriff Carraher called and levied on the valise and bonds, under an execution on an old claim in favor of the Fifth National Bank.

This institution obtained judgment against Major General Negley on March 28, 1885, for $2,635, and it has never been satisfied. Under the rules of the Police Department the bonds have been sent to Property Clerk Harriott, at Police Headquarters. This official notified the Deputy Sheriff he would hold the bonds subject to the Sheriff's orders.

In Love with the Roads and People.

Three members and the clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Fulton county, N. Y., were taken over the Union county by F. A. Dunham, County Engineer, and his Superintendent, H. C. Van Emburgh. They were highly pleased, and will recommend similar work on 40 miles of their roads in the vicinity of Johnstown and Gloverville. They will never get tired of telling how they were entertained while here.

Concerning Coxey.

Coxey's army is known as the Army of Peace, but from the cold reception it is getting as it nears Washington it may develop into an army of war, and war to the knife. And speaking of knives, if you are in need of carving-knives, butter-knives, bread-knives, fruit-knives, or anything in that line, you can be sure of finding the best for the money at Collier's, 103 Park avenue.

Joy in the First M. E.

A number of the young people of the First M. E. Church enjoyed a sociable given by the Epworth League last evening. There were excellent recitations by Miss Mary Luckey and Miss Etta Raybert, a charming vocal solo by Miss Fillmore, and two fine readings by Mr. Joy. After the programme, coffee and crullers were served, and all enjoyed sociability.

Street Railway Doing Well.

A meeting of the directors of the Street Railway Company was held last evening. The receipts for the year were calculated, and routine business was transacted. The directors expressed gratification at Supt. Adleman's management. Nothing was done in regard to extending the line.

GREAT STRIKE TO-DAY

Date for Beginning of the Miners' Struggle.

President McBride Estimates That 132,000 Men Will Answer to the Call Before This Evening, and That By May 1 35,000 More Will Go Out and Then the Anthracite Miners.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—President McBride, of the United Mine workers, made for the United Press this morning the following estimate of the number of miners that will go out before 6 o'clock this evening and their distribution among the states:

Pennsylvania, 50,000; Ohio, 26,000; Iowa, 5,000; West Virginia, 6,000; Tennessee and Kentucky, 5,000; Missouri, 3,000; Alabama, 3,000; Colorado, 4,000; Indian Territory, 2,000. Total, 132,000.

These figures include, he explains, only those miners who declared their intention to go out. He feels sure that others will join in the strike to-day, and on or before May 1 he is confident that the movement will be joined by 20,000 miners in the coke region of Pennsylvania and 25,000 miners in southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

Eventually, he says, the anthracite miners will join in the strike, numbering 125,000 men.

Encouraging telegrams were received from organizers Tom Farr, in West Virginia, and Cameron Miller, in Indiana. Secretary P. A. McBryde has started for Illinois. President McBride will remain at headquarters for the present and conduct the strike from this point.

Situation in Cambria County.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 21.—The mining situation in Cambria county appears to be very serious. All the mines at Gallitzin and Bennington have already shut down and the miners are idle. Reports from Gallitzen are to the effect that the men are determined to hold out, but are badly prepared to make a strong fight. To-day at 3 o'clock all the miners in Southfork, probably the most important centre of the coal industry in this county, will hold a mass-meeting, when it will be decided whether they will strike or keep at work. At Lilly and Portage news comes that the men will work to-day, but go out on Monday. Rumors only can be obtained from Hastings, Patton and Carrolltown. These are to the effect that the men will join the national strike. Here in Johnstown the situation is a puzzle. To-day claims are made that not a single miner employed by the Cambria Iron company will go to work on Monday. In Somerset county strike talk is popular. A telegram from Somerset says that the Listic mine-owners have discharged all who threatened to strike, and hired new men.

TO APPEAL TO WASHINGTON.

Alleged Inhuman Treatment of Coke Strike Prisoners.

PITTSBURG, April 21.—Rev. C. L. Orbray, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church at Braddock, a native Slav, accompanied by other ministers of Pittsburg and Uniontown, has gone to Washington to consult with the Austrian minister with regard to alleged inhuman treatment of the strikers in the coke region, confined in the Fayette county prison charged with riot. It is alleged that the prisoners are poorly fed, ill-treated, and are compelled to sleep on the stone floors of their cells. Rev. Mr. Orbray will endeavor to ameliorate their condition by applying to Secretary of State Gresham, through the Austrian minister, to have the prisoners removed to some other prison where the feeling is not so strong against them.

Mr. Orbray also states that the entire fatalities of the coke region riots numbered two only, viz: Engineer Paddock and an unknown foreigner. The body of the latter was permitted to lie on the public highway for two days without any attention whatever, and that up to the present time no inquest has been held on the remains and no attempt made to establish identity or nativity of the victim of an equally unknown and unsought assassin.

Paterson Silk Strikers Returning.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Paterson silk ribbon weavers, on strike in that place, reached the Forty-second street ferry late yesterday afternoon. They numbered 400 in all, and they reported that not a single man had left the ranks since they started in the morning. They were met by about 1,000 New York silk weavers, also on strike. After staying a short period in this neighborhood, they marched to Wendell's assembly rooms, where they had dinner. They remained in town last night and started on the march back this morning.

Compelled to Ride a Crazy Horse.

NEW YORK, April 20.—A suit for $50,000 damages has been begun in the court of common pleas against Foxhall Keene, James Keene and Albert Cooper, of the racing firm of Keene & Cooper, by Thomas Ray, a stable boy and jockey who used to ride for the Keenes. He asserts that in August, 1891, he was compelled to ride a crazy horse and that he was thrown from the horse before the race started and injured so badly that his leg had to be amputated.

To Consecrate a Converted Priest.

MADRID, April 21.—Archbishop Plunket, of Dublin, and two other Irish prelates will come to this city shortly to consecrate the converted priest, Cabrera, as protestant bishop of Madrid. The ceremony is likely to provoke a hostile demonstration.

Fierce Hail-Storm at Clayton, N. Y.

CLAYTON, N. Y., April 21.—A fierce hail storm set in here at 7:15 p. m., hailstones measuring from five to eight inches in circumference covering the ground. This is a phenomenon never before experienced in this part of the country.

A Mayor Killed By Lightning.

THOROLD, Ont., April 21.—Charles Ripley, a prominent merchant and mayor of the town, was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon and instantly killed.

New Zealand Wants Samoa.

LONDON, April 21.—A despatch from Auckland says the New Zealand cabinet intend to suggest that Great Britain allow New Zealand to annex Samoa.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

THE OLD-FASHIONED STYLE

of pill gives you a feeling of horror when you see it and when you feel it. Like the "blunderbuss" of a former decade, it is big and clumsy, but not effective. In this century of enlightenment, you have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which cure all liver troubles in the most effective way. For Indigestion, Constipation, Bilious Attacks, Sick and Bilious Headache, nothing has been found to equal these pills of Dr. Pierce's invention.

MR. S. BAKER, SR.

Mr. SAMUEL BAKER, Sr., of No. 161 Summit Ave., Phillipsburgh, N. J., says: "There is nothing that can compare with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, as Liver Pills. They have done me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken."

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

Those living at a distance can consult the Doctor by letter.

The WREN in Business

It is characteristic of the Wren that it will sneak in and occupy the nest made by another bird, in preference to building one of its own. This same trait is often seen in business. It is shown by the imitators of

COTTOLENE

No sooner has the wonderful merit of this new vegetable shortening, so much better than lard, created for it a remarkable sale and popularity, than the business wrens are ready to move upon the market with many worthless counterfeits. Any housekeeper can be easily and cheaply convinced of the value of COTTOLENE by simply giving it a trial. They will then be unwilling to go back to lard, or go down to fraudulent imitations.

HARD COAL MEN HAPPY

The Bituminous Strike Will Boom Anthracite Trade.

Operatives Already Preparing to Put the Mines on Full Time—Believed That Anthracite Miners Will Not Join the Strike—President McBride Satisfied.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 23.—The great strike of the bituminous coal miners bids fair to boom the anthracite coal trade in the Wyoming valley. During the past winter the mines have worked very little and many of the workmen found it exceedingly difficult to earn enough to keep them and their families. The prospect of full time provided the strike is not soon settled, has cheered the miners and laborers up.

The coal operators are already preparing to put the mines on full time in anticipation of large orders from the consumers of soft coal. The effort of the United Mine workers to secure the co-operation of the anthracite miners is sure to fail, as the latter are only too glad of the opportunity to secure enough work to aid them in getting out of debt. The various railroads in this section are working day and night getting their rolling stock ready for a large output and it begins to look as though the strike would result in a general boom of all kinds of business throughout the anthracite region.

PRESIDENT M'BRIDE SATISFIED.

All That He Counted on and More Too Have Suspended Work.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—President McBride of the United Mine workers of America when asked to-day about the great strike, said:

"The order of strike has been obeyed just as we expected. All that we counted upon and more have suspended work. The Michigan miners, who are not members of our organization, have gone out. There are about 500 of them. You may say that 85 or 90 per cent. of all the miners to whose interest it would be to join the strike have done so."

When asked if in his opinion it was true that there was a month's supply of coal mined ahead, as many of the operators are claiming, he replied that it probably was, on the whole. In some districts the supply was probably greater than that.

There are now, according to Mr. McBride's estimates, a half million tons of coal on the Lake Erie docks, left over when navigation closed last fall. "These" he said, "look like big figures, but it will not last long."

To Take Strikers' Places.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 23.—A great many Polanders, Hungarians and Italians are leaving this section for the bituminous coal regions to take the places of striking miners. Agents of the strikers have been in this region for two days and have warned the foreign element that if they attempt to take the places of strikers they will meet with a warm reception. The English, Welsh, Irish and American miners of the anthracite region will aid the soft coal strikers.

Assurances of a General Strike.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 23.—Advices from all parts of the coke region give assurances that the general strike order will be observed by the workmen. At many of the coke plants the men did not go to work to-day. The leaders say that by this evening 50,000 coke workers will be in line and that the Scottdale convention will order all of the coke workers out on a strike. Messengers have been sent to all of the coke works to notify the men not to report for work.

Vote to Strike.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., April 23.—About 400 miners employed at the coke works between Valley and Broadford held a meeting at Everson and a resolution declaring in favor of a strike was adopted.

Will Join the Strike.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., April 23.—The East Broad Top miners, numbering 300, at a mass-meeting, resolved to join in the strike with the Clearfield men and to remain out as long as the latter.

No More Gravesend Prosecutions.

NEW YORK, April 23.—No more indictments will be found against the residents of Gravesend or any of the officials. It was the intention of Lawyers Lamb, Wernberg and Shepard to have an extra grand jury drawn in May to re-indict some of the men in prison and to also indict officials at present in Gravesend. After a consultation the lawyers decided to let the matter drop. They say sufficient evidence cannot be obtained to convict the men.

The Great Northern Strike.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 23.—Despatches from Barnesville, Willmar, St. Cloud and Crookston, show that no attempt was made by the strikers to impede or wreck trains. Fifty deputies are at Willmar and will move out over the line to Breckinridge and Crookston. No trains were sent out by the Great Northern Sunday. It is believed that traffic as far as Minnesota is conserned will be resumed to-day.

Absconder Lohman Captured.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The Brooklyn police have been notified of the arrest of William D. Lohman, the absconding cashier of the excise department, who disappeared on January 27th last. The man was arrested in Toronto, Canada, by Chief Constable William J. Gassett.

Three Negroes Lynched for Arson.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 23.—Three negroes, Tom Black, Johnson Williams and Tony Johnson were lynched at Tuscumbia, Ala., about midnight Saturday night. The negroes were charged with having a month ago, burned the barn of Claude King, a farmer of that vicinity.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Tariff and Appropriation Bills the Work in Hand.

An Era of Uncertainty Regarding the Tariff That is Causing the Democrats Much Uneasiness—Republicans Ready With No End of "Remarks."

WASHINGTON, April 23.—To-day ushered in the fourth week of the debate in the senate on the pending tariff bill and with it comes an era of uncertainty that is causing the senators in charge of the measure much uneasiness. Although the present amicable arrangement under which the bill is being considered in general debate from 1 o'clock until 5 in the afternoon is to end with the speech of Mr. Mills, of Texas, to-morrow, the democrats know that general debate will not end at that time and that although the day following the bill will be technically given up for consideration by paragraphs, the field of debate will be broadened and the opportunity for the consumption of time will be enhanced. It is the impossibility of foreseeing just where this discussion will lead that is causing the managers of the bill much worry.

The attitude of the republicans during the past week has not been encouraging for it has made conspicuous the fact that the minority considers any means justifiable to prevent final action on the tariff measure. Mr. Quay started in with a speech that was made up largely of census statistics devoted to the iron and allied industries of his state and when Saturday night came Mr. Quay had not finished telling the senate how unjust the pending bill would be to the industries of Pennsylvania nor had he ceased to quote from his formidable, and, apparently inexhaustable supply of figures.

At the same time Mr. Quay was very accommodating and gracefully yielded to any senator who wanted to make a speech, and he even went so far as to permit anyone to insert in the body of his speech such "remarks" as the interrupting member saw fit to make. Meanwhile, Mr. Quay yielded to Mr. Dolph, and that senator started in with a speech which, in its incomplete shape, would fill many columns of the record, but nevertheless is said to be only just begun.

The condition that now confronts the senate is one where two senators have the floor and are yielding to such of their colleagues as are ready to go on with the debate, the two senators referred to holding themselves ready to take up the discussion at any moment and resume their "remarks." The present tariff situation in the senate calls to mind the many long speeches made during the silver fight.

That the democrats appreciate what is brewing is manifest from the amendment offered to the rules by Mr. Gray, of Delaware, Friday, which provides that "no senator shall read a speech, nor shall he read from any book or paper except it may be to quote an authority or illustrate a point or argument which he is making, without unanimous consent." This was aimed at Mr. Quay's census figures and the numerous citations found in Mr. Dolph's speech from the messages of President Harrison and at such future quotations, in extenso, of which republican senators are believed to have in store.

The republicans, however, are not fearful of Mr. Gray's amendment to the rules. It has gone to the burying-ground of innumerable amendments that have preceded it—the committee on rules—where it will probably slumber until the next recess of congress.

The week opens with a speech by Mr. Washburn, of Minnesota, who, after a brief discussion of the tariff in general, will devote himself to a consideration of the reciprocal relations of this country growing out of the McKinley act and the evil effects which he thinks will follow the abandonment of that policy. Mr. Washburn's prepared remarks are said to be of exceeding length and will occupy all of to-day.

Every vote taken on any and all amendments will be by yeas and nays. The republicans have sufficient numbers to demand this and have declared their intention of putting every man on record on every point.

Appropriation bills will be the general order of business in the house this week.

Dowe's Bullet-Proof Cloth.

BERLIN, April 23.—The Mannheim tailor, Dowe, gave an exhibition of his bullet-proof coat before the surgeon's congress, now in session here. The bullets fired at a twenty-five-foot range failed to penetrate the coat or even startle Dowe, who was inside of it. When the test was over Dowe was applauded heartily, and several members of the congress spoke flatteringly of his invention.

TERRIBLY COWHIDED.

A. P. A. Enthusiasts Mobbed at Palatka, Fla.—Trouble Not Over Yet.

PALATKA, Fla., April 23.—George Dunford, a Canadian, has been here several weeks representing the A. P. A., and made remarks about the Catholic church which has aroused quite a prejudice against him. Saturday night an altercation occurred between H. G. Newbeck and Dunford, in which the latter was badly disfigured.

Marshal Nix, recently from North Carolina, espoused the A. P. A. cause, and is alleged to have made serious remarks against the morality of the Catholic priests.

This aroused the indignation of the Catholics, and yesterday C. J. Rogers, George Mundes and H. G. Newbeck caught Nix in his room and gave him a dreadful cowhiding. His screams were heard several blocks.

Nix was ordered to leave town, but stopped in Rowton's store and was again cowhided. Later he was rescued by the sheriff from a mob who had taken him to the outskirts of the city, for what purpose is not known, and put aboard a train for Jacksonville.

Nix refused to leave town and is stopping at a hotel, which is guarded by an extra reserve of police. It is feared an effort will be made to mob him.

HUNDREDS DYING DAILY.

Terrible Ravage of Yellow Fever on Land and Water at Rio.

BALTIMORE, April 23.—First Officer Hector McKinnon, of the barkentine Priscilla, just arrived from Rio, says that yellow fever is rampant at that port. Hundreds are daily dying, the dread scourge claiming its victims both on land and water. Captain Charles S. Powell, of the Priscilla, died of the fever on February 23, and the cabin-boy, Hamilton S. Peter, succumbed a few days later.

Mr. McKinnon says the "dead boat" makes daily trips to the vessels in port. The bodies of the victims are placed one upon the other as economically as possible and taken down the harbor for burial. It is a shocking sight, he said, to look over the rail of a ship into the "dead boat" and into the white faces of the poor sailor lads, who, away from home and friends, were stricken down and died.

MANY LIVES WERE LOST.

Later Reports Only Add to the Horror of the Earthquakes in Greece.

ATHENS, April 23.—Many reports from the towns which have suffered most severely from the earthquakes of the last two days have just been received.

The loss of life and property is much greater than was at first supposed. In the Locris district 129 persons are known to have been killed while many more are missing.

The loss of life in this was small but damage to property has been enormous.

The famous Byzantine church at Daphne, upon which the work of restoration has been going on for years, has been badly damaged, the beautiful mosaics being disfigured beyond hope of restoration.

Scathing Arraignment of a Judge.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 23.—A sensational feature of President Debs' address to the American Railway union meeting here was his attack upon Judge Jenkins, in which he said: "Jenkins is the most corrupt scoundrel that was ever outside of prison walls. He is a man whose whole life, both public and private, is rotten to the very core and I stand prepared to prove it, too. Jenkins is a disgrace to the bench upon which he sits and to the people who elevated him to the position.

Hanging Dead on a Live Wire.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., April 23.—The body of Archie Lamont, aged 19 years, employed at the Carnegie Steel works as a carbon setter, was found by employes Sunday, hanging on a live wire in the works. No one witnessed the man's death, which was caused by the electric current. A small spot on his forehead and another on the great toe of the left foot, indicated the points of contact. There were no other marks.

WILHELM IS PLEASED

Claims the Credit for the Czarewitch's Betrothal.

His Eagerness to Close the Russo-German Commercial Treaty Now Made Clear—The Czarewitch Wins A Charming Princess—Royalty Busy With Weddings.

BERLIN, April 23.—The great family gathering at Coburg has broken up rapidly since yesterday morning and by this evening the little capital will be almost deserted by its scores of royal guests. Emperor William and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught left the city last evening. The Prince of Wales departed to-day to meet the Count of Flanders and congratulate him upon the betrothal of his daughter the Princess Josephine, to Prince Charles of Hohenzollern. The wedding which is to take place on May 29 will probably be made an excuse for another meeting of crowned heads and princes.

Queen Victoria and her daughter, the Empress Frederick, will pass several days more in Coburg, which is a favorite spot with both. The czarewitch is reported to be attending the Princess Alex of Hesse whenever she appears in public. During the first day or two of the Coburg celebration he took pains to remain in the back ground. He so carefully avoided any act which might give color to rumors of his engagement that at the last moment before the official announcement even the intimate friends of the Princess Alix doubted the existence of an understanding. He is now so assiduous in his attentions, however, that all the conventional stories of a true love match have been started on their rounds.

When Emperor William left Coburg he cordially invited the betrothed couple to visit him and the empress in Potsdam. His plan is that they should come at the same time with the Grand Duke and Duchess of Hesse who will make a visit to Potsdam part of their wedding tour.

Nobody else in Europe probably is so well pleased as the emperor with the czarewitch's betrothal. Hardly any event of his reign has put him in such high spirits and he is said to claim the credit for planning the whole situation preceding the denouement. In court circles the conviction is that the match originated in a secret understanding at which the emperor and czarewitch arrived during the czarewitch's last visit to Berlin.

The emperor's eagerness to conclude the Russo-German commercial treaty was due largely to the prospect of the marriage. He knew that the failure of the treaty would mean the failure of the match and that its success would insure not only the marriage but also an exceptionally satisfactory entente with Russia. Even the agrarian politicians see now why the chancellor, who was acquainted with the whole plan, acted as if he held an impregnable position when he defied every effort to defeat the treaty.

The intimate friends of the Coburg and Hessian houses agree that the czarewitch has won the loveliest of Queen Victoria's grandchildren. The Princess Alix, however, is worthy of much higher praise than this, for she would shine as a beautiful and fascinating woman in any society. She has finely chiselled features, a clear complexion, and large, bright, laughing eyes. Her small mouth is the proper Cupid's bow and her smile discloses the whitest of teeth. She is clever, lively and unassuming. She is as fearless a rider as any woman in Germany. In Darmstadt, the Hessian residence, her popularity is unbounded. She has a merry disposition and some unconventional ways which have endeared her since her sixteenth year to the people of the grand duchy.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the princess and the czarewitch sat a dozen times for photographs. Emperor William dropped all ceremony and arranged impromptu groups for the benefit of any enterprising photographer who succeeded in penetrating to the palace courtyard. At one time four photographers had their cameras focussed upon the young couple. As each photographer retired he was obliged by the princess to give up half his negatives and make numerous promises as to the distribution of the first finished pictures.

The newspapers are absorbed in discussions of the political meaning to be attributed to the Coburg meeting, the marriage and bethrothal. Queen Victoria's presence in Coburg is regarded as completing the reunion of Russia's, England's and Germany's reigning families. It is believed to have placed the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gothe in a position to act as intermediary between the great European courts.

The duke himself is neither diplomatist nor politician, but his wife aspires to be both. She desires strongly to play a decisive part in the intimate family meetings hitherto held in Copenhagen. Part of her plan is to enhance the importance of those annual reunions by arranging for the presence of Emperor William and several other German princes. The Austrian newspapers, while admitting that the whole Coburg affair will tend to preserve the peace, find one cause for offence. That is the enforced absence of Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria. As a Coburg prince, they say, it was to be expected not only that he would be invited, but also that he would attend the wedding. The czar, however, refused to let the czarewitch and the other Russian grand dukes go to Coburg in case Prince Ferdinand was to be present.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

The Assembly has passed a bill providing that the laws of New Jersey shall be published in the Holland language. The Legislators are evidently anxious to live up to the traditions of Jersey Dutch and a return to first principles.

It is not the fault of the Central Railroad of New Jersey that it cannot get sufficient water front to run more boats and relieve the pressure on those it has. The company tried to get space near the Battery, but failed. A man of H. P. Baldwin's capacity, however, is bound to devise some way of meeting the demands of a clamorous public, and Mr. Baldwin's big brain is busy working at it.

Harper Brothers admit that they contributed $1,000 to the "Committee of Thirty", representing the regular Republican organization as opposed to the Platt machine, but that it was given on the stipulation that it was to be used in fighting the Platt and Tammany combination, and that it does not indicate a return to the Republican party in national politics. This puts an entirely new aspect upon the matter as it was at first reported.

Some people are never satisfied. Here the Government gave away in Plainfield, through Congressman John T. Dunn and The Daily Press, bushels of farm and garden seed, such as watermelon, turnip, cucumber, lettuce, corn, peas and beans, yet one deadhead customer kicked like a moolly cow because he couldn't get a peck of onion setts, some tube-rose bulbs, a rubber plant and a couple of palms. The Press asked him to wait till the post-office commission came.

In Livingston Manor, N. Y., the women have all united in a pledge not to buy a dress for a year at more than 25 cents a yard. They want to lighten masculine burdens, and say:

"And we further promise to observe a strict economy in all our household matters, and cheerfully add by those delicate sacrifices to the general stock of home comforts too often dispensed with for the frivolous outside adornment of the body alone."

There is likely to be a great rush to Livingston Manor of young men looking for sensible and economical wives.

Pusher Pearsall.

[From The Westfield Standard.]

The Plainfield Press quotes:

As soon as the Standard learns who Westfield's leading man really is we will send a reporter to interview him as to the time he gets up in the morning.—Westfield Standard.

And observes:

"Like the Ernest of Hawthorne's beautiful story, Editor Pearsall is apt to find the living reality of the Great Stone Face in himself. Editor Pearsall comes pretty near doing all the leading for Westfield town. And that 's so!"

There 's where you are wrong, Brer. Clarke. "We know our place, partly, God forgive us", as 'Father Phil' would say. And our place is in pushing and shoving; once in a while we get out in front and pull a little, but we 've been knocked down and stamped on so often that we 're almost too humble for the business just now. As soon as we discover Westfield's leading man we 'll send you his photograph. The last time we counted him there were fifty of him—all leading in different directions. All the same Westfield is a great town to live in. And that 's so!

Plainfield's Moral Example.

(From The Elizabeth Journal.)

Plainfield caught a man selling liquor without a license. The City Judge did n't let him off with a mere fine, as is done in some other places in Union county, but sent him to jail. The City Judge was right. Light fines do not deter men who willfully violate the laws. A few days in jail has a much more deterrent effect.

TO RENEW THE WATER CONTRACT.

This and Other Business Necessitate the Calling of a Special Meeting of Council.

A special meeting of the Common Council has been called for Wednesday evening by request of Councilmen Fisk, Bird and Erickson. The City Clerk's call gives the following objects:

To renew the contract between the city and the Plainfield Water Supply Company for the period ending ten years from the date of said contract on the same terms.

To adopt on third reading and final passage the ordinance already introduced entitled "An Ordinance for the Assessment of Taxes for the year 1894".

To award contract for repairs on Grant avenue.

To take such other action regarding the matters above referred to as the Common Council seem fit and proper, and to transact any other business that may come before the meeting.

A Dangerous Trick.

White Perch in a Peach Basket.

Druggist H. L. Freeman, Halstead Compton and Jeremiah Manning went to Bound Brook on an all-day fishing trip Saturday. They returned with a peach basket full of white perch.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

BAYONNE TO DRINK FROM PLAINFIELD.

The Netherwood Service to Be Extended on Across the Bay.

The Union County Water Company, which obtains its supply from the Netherwood wells, has offered to provide Bayonne with water and water-works, giving 3,400,000 gallons daily for three years and more afterwards. The price proposed is $98 50 for the first million gallons, decreasing with each additional million gallons. The Bayonne Board decided to meet next Tuesday evening to consider the proposal.

BARTLE'S BAD BREAK.

He Finds that New Brunswick's Equine Methods Do Not Prevail in Plainfield.

Arthur E. Bartle, a huckster from New Brunswick, drove to town this morning with his produce. He stopped near Hummer & Muiford's market, Park avenue, leaving his horse untied. Just in front of the horse and wagon stood a team of colts attached to a wagon, which belonged to Frank Haines of Mt. Bethel. Bartle's horse became frightened, and started to run. The wheels caught in the wheels of the wagon in front. The team of colts then began kicking. Bartle's horse started across the street, and the wagon caught in the large post in front of B.T. Barnes's store, and held there, while the horse got around the corner. Mr. Bartle caught him in front of The Press office.

Mr. Haines is unable to determine his damage, as his horses are considerably cut, and the harness is much broken. The harness on the Bartle horse was also broken. Sergeant Kiely made a complaint against Bartle for not tying his horse, and Judge Coddington fined him $5.

Haines will probably bring suit for damages to his team.

OBITUARY.

Sarah M See, mother of President Wm. G. E. See, died this morning of heart disease. She was daughter of Oliver Dunn and was born in Plainfield March 2, 1820. The funeral will be from the house of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Talmage, 294 Willis avenue, New York, Thursday, April 24, at 2 p. m.

Peter C. Onderdonk, formerly a Plainfielder, died Saturday while on a visit to his son Charles in Jenkintown, Pa. He was 83 years old. He had three sons and two daughters. The funeral will be held tomorrow in New Brunswick. Previous to 1882 Mr. Onderdonk lived on West Seventh street. He owned the block between Madison and Central avenues. He had resided in New York since. Chief George W. Grant was employed by him for 12 years.

Killed on His Way Home.

Redfern Gallagher, the wooden-legged tramp who served 30 days last Winter for stealing Greenbrook chickens, identified as his brother Charles the man who died in the Muhlenberg Hospital Saturday from his injuries received on the Jersey Central. The body was removed to the home of the young man's parents in Bayonne. Gallagher left Bayonne last Fall, and had been roaming the country. He was on his way from Baltimore when run over.

Redfern Gallagher lost his legs in a railroad accident, and his father was killed in one. Charles was 32, and unmarried.

The only effects in the pockets of the dead man were the usual tramp's outfit—soap, glass, comb and razor

The Way Our Grandsires Rode.

The unwonted spectacle of a tally-ho coach drew a large crowd of people with speedy horses and bicycles to Park avenue Saturday afternoon. The coach was over an hour late. The change of horses was quickly made. Return trip was made today, and the regular trips (one each way daily between New York and Philadelphia) will begin Wednesday. The single fare for one person is $15; return trip ticket, $25.

The Old Feud.

Dominick Duffy and James Caufield were arrested by Chief Marshal Pangborn Saturday night at 6:30 for fighting on Somerset street. Duffy pleaded guilty before Justice Crosley a few hours later, and was fined $4. Caufield said he was n't guilty and will have a hearing tonight at 8. The fight was the revival of an old feud.

Wheels Wrecked.

Bicyclists who followed the tally-ho Saturday came to grief on the return trip. Howard Riley made a sudden turn, and Percy Long ran into him from behind and was upset. The frame and pedals of Long's wheel were bent. Firman Ferrar on P. L. Conde's wheel smashed into the wreck, and his front wheel was bent heart-shaped.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 185 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.
WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:
MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.
H. P. DEGRAAF.

CONSCIENCE.

The friend I loved betrayed my trust
And bowed my spirit to the dust.
I keep the hurt he gave, yet knew
He was forgiven long ago.

From him I did not merit ill,
But I would bear injustice still,
Content, could years of guiltless woe
Undo the wrong I did my foe.

MURDER OF S. R. RANDOLPH.

The Motive Was Robbery, and He Was Found Dead in His Cabin.

A despatch from Shoshone, Idaho, gives the following details of the murder of a former Plainfielder, already referred to in these columns:

S. R. Randolph, an old-time resident of this State, was murdered on his ranch, ten miles south of Bellevue, the night of Tuesday, April 17. He was found Wednesday morning by S. A. Stolsworth, a tenant of the ranch, lying dead in bed, his head beaten in with the pole of an axe which lay on the floor. The murderer must have dealt the first blow while Mr. Randolph was asleep, causing instant death.

At the coroner's inquest several jurors suspected Stolsworth, who was later arrested, but on examination no evidence was produced which implicated the accused, and, by request of District Attorney Barnum, he was discharged. Stolsworth has always borne a good reputation. Attorney Barnum said he never should have been arrested. The general opinion is that Stolsworth is innocent. It is evident from the appearance of the cabin that robbery was the motive for the crime, but no clue has yet been found. Mr. Randolph was a native of New York and was 76 years of age. Two sisters live in New Jersey and two brothers in Plainfield. The body will not be brought East on account of its mutilation.

NOISELESS NOMADICS.

FOREMOST among the topics discussed in cycling circles at present is the retirement of Champion Zimmerman from amateur competitions and his probable successor. Opinion seems to be pretty evenly divided between Sanger, Johnson, Tyler, Bliss and Dirnberger, with Sanger a slight favorite. Should Sanger be fortunate enough to come up to the expectations of his friends, good judges predict that he will never declare himself to the cycling public as "Zimmy" has done, because he is too reserved in his manner. Johnson, the wise ones believe, would likely make a more popular champion than the Milwaukee flyer.

Perhaps the man best qualified to discuss the chances of the future champion is Zimmerman himself. He has raced against them all, and what he says should be of interest. He believes that the race for the coveted honor will narrow down to a struggle between Harry Tyler and Walter Sanger, with the chances in favor of the latter. Johnson he does not consider dangerous, and would not be surprised if Bliss and Dirnberger beat the Minneapolis flyer out for third place. He believes Dirnberger's performances this season will be of a very high order and may worry even Tyler and Sanger.

The Montclair Athletic Club will hold a special meeting Wednesday night to determine whether or not to admit women to membership in the organization. It is said that a majority of the members are in favor of admitting them.

The Racing Board of the League of American Wheelmen has granted the Elizabeth Athletic Club cyclers the privilege of holding a race meet June 16. Ten events will be decided, including the Saltonstall cup race for the individual championship of Union County.

At the annual team race for the team championship of Union County, to be held in July, it is expected that at least twelve teams will compete. Chief Consul Holmes of the New Jersey Division of the League of American Wheelmen has been selected to referee the event, and Fred Kerr of the Hudson County Wheelmen will officiate as starter.

The Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs held their annual meeting last week at the Columbia, Fourteenth street, New York. Officers for the ensuing year were elected, and it was decided that the association will hold a century run with the New Jersey Cycling Club. The run will cover the hundred miles from Newark to Asbury Park and return and will take place June 23. The newly elected officers are as follows: President—A. E. Hildrick of the Riverside Wheelmen; Vice-president—M. A. Heath of the New York Tourist Club; Second Vice-president—Henry L. Saltonstall of the Elizabeth Athletic Club Cyclists; Secretary—W. C. M. Hotze of the Brooklyn Prospect Wheelmen; Treasurer—George A. Miller of the Newark Atlantic Wheelmen; Executive Committee—R. G. Betts and J. J. Woods for New York County; Fred Hawley and W. O. Tate for Kings County; H. Strugnell for Hudson County; Carl Von Lengerke for Essex County; F. L. C. Martin of Plainfield for Union County, and C. E. Burton for Queens County.

A movement is on foot among the colored wheelmen of Cleveland, O., toward the organization of a league similar in the purposes to the L. A. W., to be known as the Afro-American Wheelmen's Association. A committee has been appointed, consisting of Frank Isaack, A. J. Bragge and Willard Jackson, to ascertain what can be done toward forming a National association. Here's a chance for Israel Jones to help.

The Montclair Athletic Club Wheelmen have adopted a uniform consisting of coat, knickerbockers and cap of dark gray cloth, the latter having the club emblem in scarlet; white shirt, black four-in-hand tie, black stockings and low black shoes.

The E. Alsdorf Company of Newark, represented in Plainfield by John Vetterlin, has built a "Jersey Flyer" bicycle for The Railroad Employee, which weighs but seventeen pounds. It will be offered as a premium to the person obtaining the greatest number of subscribers to that paper, and is exhibited in the windows of the E. Alsdorf Company.

The latest unicycle machine is said to weigh only thirty pounds. Its rear wheel is spokeless, having three arms extending from hub to rim, to which are attached rollers, one resembling a chain-wheel. The chain runs from the crank-axle sprocket to the chain-wheel above mentioned, pulling it forward.

One of the favorite diversions of Denver cyclers is coasting down Pike's Peak. To be drawn up a 25 per cent. grade for 90 miles in a comfortable passenger coach, and then turned loose for a spin down one of the most picturesque roads in America, is the height of luxury for a wheelman. The bicycle course is 23 miles in length, and for the last 10 miles is as hard and smooth as a floor.

All county championship meets, as well as State championships, will this year be under the control of the State Racing Board. The Board at present consists of Frederick Kerr, president of the Hudson County Wheelmen, chairman; A. H. Chamberlain, of the Union County Roadsters, of Rahway, and J. C. Tattersall, of the Mercer County Wheelmen, of Trenton.

To preserve bicycle tires, avoid extremes in temperature and use no oil, varnish or other dressing.

A first-class three-lap track is to be built at Riverton, Burlington County, by members of the local base-ball club. A number of Philadelphia cyclists are interested in the scheme.

The Essex County Wheelmen will hold their century run to Trenton August 12, starting at 5 in the morning. The distance is 126 miles, with good roads all the way.

One of the latest novelties in the sundry line is a small mirror, attachable to the handle-bar, to enable riders to observe vehicles and other cyclists approaching from the rear.

Dr. R. H. Lamb, of Moorestown, Burlington County, recently allowed himself to be arrested, in order to test the officer's right to take him in for using the sidewalk. He paid his fine under protest and brought action before a higher court.

The Irvington and Millburn road race, Decoration Day, is the representative road race of America. It is held under the auspices of the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs, and the committee in charge of the arrangements consists of J. J. Woods, of the Columbia Cycling Club, of New York, chairman; Frederick Hawley, of the Kings County Wheelmen; M. A. Heath, of the Tourists Club; Geo. Miller, of the Atalanta Wheelmen, and W. E. Scudder, of the Jersey City Athletic Club Wheelmen. With such energetic men in charge, the race this year promises to be more largely attended and hotly contested than ever before. Previously, the entry list has ranged from 125 to 200. The race will probably start at 11 a. m., rain or shine, and the 25-mile course must be traversed in 1 hour and 20 minutes this year, or the bronze medal will not be awarded.

A big cycling event will be the century run to Asbury Park, June 23. The distance is a full hundred miles, and 60 per cent. of the roads along the route chosen are either macadam or almost as good as macadam. There are only two miles of poor wheeling, and no hills to speak of. Starting at Newark, the cyclers will wheel to Belleville, thence to Rutherford, Passaic, Paterson, back to Montclair, through Orange to Plainfield and New Brunswick, where they will stop for dinner. Thence they will proceed via Old Bridge to Keyport, Middletown, Red Bank, along the Rumson road to Seabright, and thence through Long Branch to Asbury Park. Arrived at Asbury Park, the tourists will be welcomed by the Asbury Park Wheelmen, and will stack their wheels and refresh themselves with a dip in the surf.

One of the largest meets ever held in this section of the country will be the circuit meet at Asbury Park, July 13 and 14, to take the place of the recently abandoned tristate meet.

Many Attractions, and Each a Star.

The excellence of the vaudeville bill at Eden Musee and artistic features of the Historic Chamber attract large crowds as the warm weather approaches. The familiar wax-groups have been touched up and many of them improved by the addition of new costumes or changes of posture. Among the new talent in the Concert Hall are N. Nizarras and Mlle. Thora, the famous gymnastic performers. Their feats upon flying rings and trapezes are as graceful and daring as ever attempted in a circus. Powell, the wonderful magician, is mystifying all. One of his miracles is called "Rapid Transit", a solution of the problem which bothered New Yorkers for a long time. Into an ordinary trunk he locks one of his pretty assistants, and a few seconds later she has traveled farther than from the Battery to Harlem. Ruth Davenport, the pretty soprano, has been singing "Tit for Tat", which has proved as great a hit as her other popular ballads. Lola Yberri, the charming Spanish dancer, who has astonished New York with no less than one hundred original dances, and whose non-appearance in Plainfield at the charity benefit was a disappointment too many, has brought out another dainty creation called the "Oriental Cloud Dance". Majilton, the clever juggler, continues to amuse with his droll specialties; he is a side-splitting show in himself. The "Tinker", a laughable sketch presented by the clever Holdsworth Trio, proves to be popular novelty.

A Guide to All Plainfield.

The new atlas of Plainfield and North Plainfield, which will be issued in a few weeks by City Engineer F. A. Dunham, promises to be of great value to all who are interested in real estate in this city. The map is very complete. It shows the location of all lots and building in the city; also the location of the electric railway, hydrants, fire-alarm boxes, etc., and all points of interest such as schools, churches and cemeteries. The atlas will also contain a complete map of the city on a scale of about 1,000 feet to one inch, which will show all streams, streets, avenues, railways, etc., and will be found very convenient for use as a reference map for finding the location of any street or avenue in the city or borough.

Through Danger's Gauntlet, Home.

Will Buckalew of West Fifth street has returned from a trip of six weeks to Florida. The three-masted schooner on which he was a passenger was sixty hours in danger of sinking in the storm off Cape Hatteras.

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 W. Front street. Price $1.

PLAINFIELD'S PAST PET.

OWN in Riverton, Burlington county, they have a beautiful grass diamond, an elegant grand-stand, and a crack nine. The games are liberally patronized. Yet the whole township has only 4,000 inhabitants, a mighty interesting comparison with Plainfield.

Rutgers College Varsity nine has scheduled two games with the West Ends—in Somerville May 30, in New Brunswick June 16.

The lack of base-ball in Plainfield will be felt Memorial Day. The kranks are likely to go to Somerville and see their old pet John Harkins in the box.

Westfield, like Plainfield, feels too poor to have a team this year.

The Cuban Giants, the champion colored base-ball team, are now ready for business. John M. Bright will be their manager. Several new players have been secured. Clarence Williams and W. Jackson will be the catchers; John Robinson, John Nelson and William Seldon, pitchers; Sol White, first base; Frank Grant, second base; W. Terril, shortstop; Andy Jackson, third base; John Paterson, O Jackson and W. Jackson, outfielders. Seldon, when not in the box, will cover left field. The team will play 110 games during the season. Last year they played 139 games, of which they won 121. The Giants will play in Newark April 29 and May 13.

A base-ball game was played on the Irving school grounds Saturday morning at 10:15 between the Pondville Juniors and the Young Crescents. The score: Pondville Juniors, 19; Young Crescents, 17. Umpire, B. Martin. Scorer, K. Reid. Time, two hours.

CARNEY'S CRANE.

It Was Stuffed, and Its Message Was the Sign of Death.

Some practical jokers have been having considerable fun with Special Policeman Dennis Carney of Short Second street. Late Saturday evening they placed on his porch a large stuffed crane, from whose bill hung a card, with skull, crossbones and the word "Whyo", in large letters. Mr. Carney was frightened considerably, as he thought that harm was intended.

The bird and placard were taken to police headquarters, where they are on exhibition.

The recipient was sure the bird was an eagle, and said it was a bad omen. His fellow-policemen had a good laugh at his expense.

Carney offers $20 reward for the identity of the offender.

Before Judge Coddington.

John Dolan had his sentence suspended in the City Court this morning. He was drunk and disorderly about town Saturday night.

Charles Cooper was ordered to come to court next Saturday morning. He and John King are two of the gang of six boys who will be tried for insulting a woman.

Trains Passed Against Orders.

John Smith, 45 years old, and for several years manager of the Thompson Homestead, Roselle, was killed Saturday night at the Roselle station while getting on a passenger train at the station. A coal train came along as the passenger train was waiting, and Mr. Smith was knocked under the wheels.

To Water Elmwood.

The petition to the Water Company, asking for the extension of the pipes through Elmwood place, has been signed by Charles Hand, Mrs. Robert Randolph, Charles Conover, E. E. Vail and M. C. Dobbins. The Common Council will be petitioned for a hydrant, at their next meeting.

Fancy Shots for Members Only.

I. Gerstel, billiard and pool expert, will be at the Park Club-house Thursday evening, April 26, at 8:30, to give an exhibition of fancy shots in billiards and pool. Only members will be admitted.

COPYRIGHTED FICTION IN THE DAILY PRESS.

"A Twentieth Century Romance", by Edie W. Merriman.

Pennies for Your Dates.

A Calendar Social will be held in the chapel of the Park Avenue Baptist Church Tuesday evening, May 8. The proceeds will apply on the amount pledged by the Christian Endeavor society for paying the church debt. Those attending are to calculate the number of pennies to bring by adding the month of the year to the day of the month of their birthday.

Alerts on the Move.

Alert Hose Company will probably leave their quarters in the new fire department headquarters tomorrow and enter the newly-renovated house on West Second street, for many years occupied by Zephyr Hook and Ladder Company.

Temple Bowlers.

The following men from the Board of Trade will bowl the Westfield team on the Trade Temple alleys Thursday evening: VanEmburgh, Teel, Lowrie, Buckle, Watters, Maltby, Barnes, Littell, Davis, Petrie, Vail.

Third Regiment Coming.

Borough Councilman Edwards's company held their weekly drill in Reform Hall Saturday night. It is expected that members of the Third Regiment will be present next Saturday.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nervine she now weighs 106 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nervine has brought her.

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate."—Mrs. R. R. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

KELLYITES IN CLOVER

Neola's Mayor Gives Them Freedom of the Town.

Sheltered By Residents at Their Homes—Farmers Will Loan Teams to Help the Commonwealers on Their Way To-day—Swift's Army Mobbed Before Leaving Boston.

NEOLA, Ia., April 23.—According to orders, bright and early Sunday morning, Gen. Kelly's army bade good-bys to Weston and the people who had been so kind to the industrials in the hour of their direst need, and started on foot on the march eastward. It reached Underwood about noon and at 4:30 in the afternoon arrived at this village.

Neola has never had a celebration of any kind to equal the demonstration which greeted the arrival of the Kelly army. A crowd of 3,000 people, villagers and farmers, gathered to welcome the pilgrims of peace. The army came on foot, Gen. Kelly in advance, mounted on the horse which was presented to him at Council Bluffs, and preceded by the Underwood cornet band playing national airs.

Welcomed By Citizens.

Gen. Kelly's forces were met at the outskirts of the town by a procession of juvenile militia and men and women from the town, bearing flags, and Mayor Johnson with the members of the town council and a committee of representative citizens who all joined in according the army hearty greetings and welcomed its members as the city's guests.

Father Schuffmacher, of the Catholic church, joined in the welcome and declared that his sympathies were with the army of workingmen. He showed his interest in the welfare of the army by hustling around among the neighboring farmers and securing the use of 150 teams, which will be loaned free of charge to help the army on its way to-day. The farmers will carry the industrials as far as Avoca.

The army was quartered in a pretty grove east of the city last night, and nearly every resident of the town gave shelter to all whom they had room for. Enough provisions are on hand for two days' rations and Neola has contributed to the commissary department provisions which will amount in value to about $300, and in many ways have the residents done all in their power to help the weary men.

Given the Freedom of the Town.

Mayor Johnson, in a few brief remarks, gave the Kellyites the freedom of the town. Round after round of cheers greeted the announcement that the army had been provided transportation for to-day's trip.

Liberal contributions of money were given the army. The citizens of this place are strong in their denunciation of the officials of the railroads for their refusal to furnish a train for the army, and especially are they bitter against the Rock Island and Milwaukee roads for abandoning their trains between this city and Council Bluffs, thus practically shutting off all communication.

During a meeting here Judge Hubbard was severely scored for his policy, and after the meeting indignant citizens hung the judge in effigy on one of the principal streets of the town.

Edna Harper, the Omaha woman who made herself prominent at the time of the capture of the locomotive in the transfer yards, has joined the army in the capacity of a correspondent.

RIOT ON BOSTON COMMON,

The Industrial Army Begins Its Journey in a Manner Unexpected.

BOSTON, April 23.—Pandemonium raged on the common Sunday, pandemonium that ran dangerously near the verge of full fledged riot. During its height the New England delegation of the industrial army made their escape from the midst of 50,000 excited men and singly "hit out" for Roxbury. This was not, however, until their banner had been torn to fragments and several of them pretty severely handled. Speeches were interrupted, hissed, drowned in cat calls and blotted out of existence with derisive cheers.

Lucien Saniel, of New York, was unceremoniously dropped on the barbed wire fence that surrounds the band stand and his hands badly cut and a new broadcloth suit torn.

Even Morrison I. Swift was spattered by a piece of tobacco thrown while he was speaking. Miss Charlotte Smith tried to make an address from a dry-goods box placed under a tree on the outskirts of the mighty gathering, but was thrown to the ground and only rescued by a detachment of police. Fights were too numerous to count and the much heralded departure of Boston's contingent to the rendezvous of the idle in Washington was broken up to prevent an actual riot.

Thirty-eight men later formed in Roxbury and took up their line of march to Dedham. Before reaching that place they had received twelve more recruits.

First Stop Made at Dedham.

DEDHAM, Mass., April 23.—The members of the New England industrial delegation, on the way from Boston to Washington, arrived at Dedham Centre at 9:30 last evening. By order of the chairman of the board of selectmen they were allowed the free use of a vacant storeroom in Memorial Hall. They were met at East Dedham and given an impromptu ovation by some 300 or 400 citizens of that village, who also accompanied the delegates to Dedham. The members of the delegation immediately turned into their quarters and bunked on the floor and on the counters. The delegation in the main is a very respectable looking body of New England workmen.

To-day the delegation will resume the line of march to Mansfield, the next stopping place. From Mansfield they will go via Attleboro, Providence and Fall River to Hartford, which is as far as the line of march is planned.

Bring Out the Tar and Feathers.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 23.—Edwin C. Witherell, rector of the Episcopal church at Stillwater, has eloped with Mrs. Anna Burns. He leaves penniless a wife and babe, who are now at the home of Bishop Brooke, in this city. Mrs. Burns deserts a kind husband. It is thought they went to Kansas City. Witherell is about twenty-seven years old, handsome and affable.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, 75c.

A KNIFE in the hand of a surgeon gives you a feeling of horror and dread. There is no longer necessity for its use in many diseases formerly regarded as incurable without cutting.
The Triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE or Breach, is now radically cured without the knife and without pain. Clumsy, chafing trusses can be thrown away! They never cure but often induce inflammation, strangulation and death.
TUMORS Ovarian, Fibroid (Uterine) and many others, are now removed without the perils of cutting operations.
PILE TUMORS, however large, Fistula and other diseases of the lower bowel, are permanently cured without pain or resort to the knife.
STONE in the Bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, washed out and perfectly removed without cutting.
STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is also removed without cutting in hundreds of cases. For pamphlet, references and all particulars, send 10 cents (in stamps) to World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

COTTOLENE IS MADE TO EAT

Made from clarified oil, expressed from Cotton Seed—as pure and golden as the Southern Sunshine which produces it.

For convenience in handling, there is added to this oil enough beef suet to make it a semi-solid.

The combination of these two pure natural products makes Cottolene, a shortening and cooking fat, with which in healthfulness, cleanliness, flavor and economy, nothing in the world can compare.

IMITATIONS are MADE TO SELL

To sell on the merits of the genuine. To sell by substitution; or by deception. To sell to the injury of the genuine, to the dissatisfaction of the consumer, to the detriment of the dealer, to the loss of all concerned—except the scheming counterfeiter himself.

If you wish the best food and the best health, you should insist that your cooking be done with genuine Cottolene. Refuse all counterfeits.

Progress Made By the Several Bands of Itinerents.

General Kelly Meets With a Cool Reception at Avoca, Iowa—He Takes Back the Deserting Regiment and Apologizes to Colonel Sneed—The New England Army Fed at the Poor Farm and Excused From Sawing Wood—The Coxey Forces Greeted By Their Great High Priest From Washington.

AVOCA, Ia., April 24.—Gen. Kelly's casting off of the San Francisco company at Neola came back upon him last night like a boomerang. The surrender on the part of Kelly occurred near Shelby, where the industrials halted for lunch. Here the expelled company presented itself for reinstatement and was received into the army with an apology to Col. Sneed by Kelly, who, seeing the sentiment of the people was turning against him, immediately took the company back.

This was not the only set back Kelly received. When he reached Avoca there was no reception awaiting him, the city officials refusing to furnish any enlivening feature to bid the army welcome. Camp was pitched in a field and the mayor at once ordered the arrest of any member found outside the camp during the night. On account of the cold and dampness this order was soon revoked, vacant store rooms thrown open and the men comfortably housed for the night.

NEOLA, Ia., April 24.—Gen. Kelly's army was in a perfect uproar yesterday at breakfast the general was kept busy pacifying the men. After breakfast was over and the men were arranging to break camp, preparatory for leaving by wagons for Avoca, the climax was reached. Col. Wm. F. Baker, of the first regiment, San Francisco, left camp to attend to some duties at the commissary headquarters, located in the city hall. While he was securing the medicine and clothing for the sick men Gen. Kelly approached him abruptly and snatched his straps from his shoulders, relieving him from command as colonel, and dismissing him from the army.

Col. Baker was ordered from the hall, and, upon refusing to go, was thrown out bodily by the general. Gen. Kelly threatened Baker with arrest if any further disturbance was created.

The trouble between Gen. Kelly and Col. Baker started in camp Sunday night in a tent, over a couple of women. Gen. Kelly when asked why he took such a course said:

"Col. Baker was removed for violation of army orders by being out of camp Sunday night under the influence of liquor and that he had been seen with a couple of women of an unsavory reputation at a hotel."

Kelly was sustained by his army. A court-martial will be held at Avoca and a new appointment will be made to fill vacancy, provided Baker is found guilty.

Col. Baker denies that he was intoxicated and says that he was out Sunday night as an escort to some Underwood women who were visiting the army. He claims to have been snubbed and ignored by Gen. Kelly ever since the army started from the coast.

The general told San Francisco company C, yesterday that he must separate them from the commander, Col. Speed, because of the dissensions which have arisen among this company, and gave them the alternative of going into other companies or quitting the army. They chose the latter course, and when the army started they separated and walked down the track alone to the number of something like fifty. There is all sorts of talk afloat as to the dissension, but it is believed that this company will return to the fold.

The army is still in high favor with the people and farmers. There have been several requests on the part of women to join the column, but the general is adamant against such recruiting. He says it is hard enough to manage men without attempting to manage women.

There are supposed to be several young women correspondents traveling with the army. They travel, however, simply as the other sympathizers do and do not take any more part in the camp life than mere spectators, unless they happen to be hungry at the time the potatoes are handed about.

Chicago's Contingent.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Part of the commonweal army which proposes to join the original Coxey band in Washington have gone into camp at William League's idle cooper shop on North avenue. J. H. Randall was chosen commander of the division and company officers will be picked out at once. Commander Randall says he will move his men this week, whether Kelly comes or not. The personnel of the Chicago contribution promises to be superior to others, many of members of trades unions out of work being enrolled already.

Frye's Men Are Law Abiding.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 24.—The health officers under orders from the state board of health visited Gen. Frye's army and vaccinated all who did not have good marks on their arms. They offered no resistance, simply saying that they were sworn to obey the laws of the various states through which they might pass. An effort is being made to secure railroad transportation for the army eastward from here. They have made a good impression on the people of the city.

The 940 Industrials at Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 24.—The industrial army now massed here, numbering 940 recruits, is expecting to make a start for the national capital to-morrow. Sympathizers are trying to raise money to charter a train to take the men to Washington without stopping. The army decided to dishonorably discharge any man who offered to work for any railroad where the men were on a strike.

Rockville's Distinguished Visitors.

ROCKVILLE, Md., April 24.—"Unkown" Smith, "Cheeky" Childs," his partner, and the "Veiled Lady" are registered at the Montgomery house, where arrangements have been made to spend all of this week. Coxey's army is due here Saturday morning.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

FED AT THE POOR FARM.

Fitzgerald's Soldiers Not Compelled to Saw Wood, However.

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Mass., April 24.—The regiment of the industrial army, bound overland from Boston to Washington, arrived here dust-covered, footsore and hungry last evening. The tramps were held up outside the town by order of the selectmen, who, after being notified of the army's arrival, allowed it to enter and proceed to the poor farm, where 133 pounds of beef were being boiled for the men's supper.

Usually tramps who partake of the town's hospitality are compelled to saw wood in the morning, and when the industrials learned this they objected strenuously.

Saw-horses and cord-wood were handy, but after a consultation, it was decided that the army would not be compelled to do manual labor.

Fifty-one believers in Coxey's ideas, headed by Commander Fitzgerald and A. C. McKenzie, a socialistic student of Brown university, made up the entire command.

One soldier fell by the wayside between here and Dedham.

Last night a socialistic meeting was held, at which Commander Fitzgerald made a speech, but he was not accorded an ovation.

The night was spent in the hay loft at the town poor farm, and at 7:30 this morning the journey was continued into Rhode Island, via the old Boston post road. There are 53 tramps at the "Tramp's Retreat," awaiting the arrival of the army.

"UNKNOWN" IN WASHINGTON.

Says He Has a Squad of Followers Ready to Join Coxey's Band.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Smith, the "Uaknown," Coxey's cashiered lieutenant, put in an appearance at Coxey headquarters here yesterday afternoon in Rechabites hall and created somewhat of a sensation. He wore a brown velveteen coat and vest, a pair of white riding trousers, and black leather leggins and fine shoes. A heavy blue overcoat thrown back displayed a massive gold chain that encircled his neck and was anchored in his pocket by a heavy gold watch, which he ostentatiously consulted as he walked into the commonweal headquarters. He asserted that he had just ridden in from Rockville, Md., where had left his wife, and that he had five or six hundred followers encamped in that neighborhood, who were ready to join the army as soon as his differences with Commander-in-Chief Coxey had been arranged. He stated that "Col." Redstone was now endeavoring to arrange matters, and that he would return to Rockville at once.

Coxey's Command at Boonesboro.

BOONESBORO, Md., April 24.—The army of the commonweal camped last night with hopes high and ready enough to take the 18-mile walk that would be necessary to land them in Frederick today. They had met the great high priest of their movement, "Col." Redstone, who had come on from Washington to meet them. If half that he told to the members of the commonweal and to the "war" correspondents who visited him be true there is a royal reception awaiting the army in Washington.

Negotiations are on foot for securing the old amphitheatre at Glen Echo as the final camp at the edge of the District of Columbia. There are a lot of empty cottages there that will be good.

The camp last night was pitched at the east edge of the town, in Wagner's field, a level piece of ground with a good sized brook running through it, making an excellent camp ground.

Train Better Than the Senate.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Citizen George Francis Train issued the following proclamation last night: "The senate, 26 to 17, refused to receive Coxey's people. I have taken Mezzerot music hall in Washington for Thursday night to receive the chiefs of all armies marching on Washington, when the whole idea of the march will be explained. I leave here by the late train Wednesday night, reaching Washington Thursday morning in order to give what the senate has denied, and I guarantee that they will receive full and fair hearings."

Big Contingent Leaves Oakland.

OAKLAND, Cal., April 24.—Eight hundred and fifty men and four women, comprising the industrial army of Oakland and San Francisco, started from here yesterday on their march to Washington. All were well clothed and provided with blankets. Two wagons were loaded with provisions and camp supplies. The leaders are relying on the Southern Pacific furnishing them with a train.

Expect to Get There Eventually.

EVANS, Col., April 24.—Capt. Greyson's band of commonwealers remain here, while their leader is at Greeley spying out the land. The people here are feeding the army. They are now working under the rules made by Coxey and have hopes of getting to Washington eventually.

K. of L. Policy Towards Commonweal.

CHICAGO, April 24.—General Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, who is in this city to attend a meeting of the general executive board, said that the Coxey movement would be discussed and an address issued stating stating the policy of the order toward the idea.

Tried to Burn Out the Little Devils.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 24.—Clifford Hand, a farmer of Talleyville, Brandywine hundred, has been arrested on a charge of being the author of a half dozen serious fires in that neighborhood during the past year. His own barn and his brother's house and barn were among the properties destroyed. He is a tuberculosis victim and has admitted that he caused the fires, saying that the buildings were infected with little devils.

MORE TROUBLE FEARED

The Situation at Bluefields Again Alarming.

Nicaraguan Troops Landed as Soon as the San Francisco Left for Port Limon to Coal—She Will Be Absent Several Days—Outrageous Treatment of a New York Woman.

BLUEFIELDS, M. R., Nicaragua, April 18, via New Orleans, April 24, per steamship Clinton.—Since the departure of the San Francisco for Port Limon to coal and send a report to the navy department of the situation here, there have been some exciting events which has caused a great deal of uneasiness.

Capt. Watson of the San Francisco left two officers here with instructions to proceed to Rama and investigate the killing of the American, William Wilson, by Aguella, the acting governor of that town.

They have not yet returned, but a report has reached here that the mail boat which plies between here and there and which flies the American flag has been seized by the Nicaraguans.

As the Clinton is preparing to sail, a schooner load of Nicaraguan troops has just landed, having come up from Greytown. It is reported that three other boat loads of troops are coming.

Lacayo was very much agitated when he learned that the troops were about to land as he feared that trouble would ensue with the Americans and natives, especially as the American war vessel was down at Port Limon and would not return for several days.

A Mrs. Renton, of New York, has arrived here with her little niece, 7 years old, and reports having been subjected to barborous treatment.

Her left wrist is shattered by a bullet. It seems that her husband had a claim near Brewers Lagoon, in Honduras, where they lived. A man named Johnson, also an American, lived with them.

One night a half breed called Johnson to the door and shot him in the knee with a winchester. Later Renton was called out and shot in the stomach by the same man.

As Mrs. Renton went to her husband's rescue she was shot in the wrist and then seized by the fiend, who had been reinforced by several of his ilk, and with her neice she was made to ride on muleback for three days and subjected to many indignities. They finally brought her to Port Garcias where, hearing that Nicaraguan troops were in the vicinity, they abandoned her.

She found the assistance of some Americans, who made up a purse and sent her to this place, where she is being well cared for.

She avers that the attack was prompted by parties who wanted to get possession of her husband's claim.

She has not been able to learn whether her husband and his friend ever escaped alive, though she does not think they did.

FRENCH SPY DETECTED.

Caught While Trying to Steal Tailor Dowe's Bullet-proof Coat.

BERLIN, April 24.—A French officer was caught in the wintergarten of the Hotel Central while he was trying to steal the bullet-proof coat which Tailor Dowe exhibits there daily. He told a rambling story for the purpose of convincing his captors that he was innocent of wrong intentions. To avoid complications his captors finally released him.

Later about 20 German infantry officers were testing Dowe's coat privately, when the Frenchman appeared among them. He was recognized by one of the officers, was expelled from the hall, and was ordered to leave Berlin at once, in case he wished to escape punishment. He went on the first train.

Quadruple Lynching About Ripe.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 24.—A special from Jasper, says: Four negroes went to the home of Mrs. Simons, a respectable white lady who lives alone with her daughter, and attempted to commit an outrage. The ladies fought desperately for their honor and their resistance and screams finally frightened the brutes off. The ladies were badly injured in the struggle. The entire country around Jasper is aroused. Men with dogs are scouring the woods for the fiends.

Oyster Dispute Decision.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The controversy between the states of Maryland and Virginia over the arrest of residents of the former for taking oysters in the waters of the latter, was decided in the supreme court of the United States, Mr. Justice Field announcing the opinion, which sustained the contention of Virginia on every material point at issue.

Lived to the Age of 100 Years.

CORNING, N. Y., April 24.—Mrs. Ann Smith is dead at Painted Post, aged 100 years, one month and seven days. Her father was an officer in the war of the revolution.

DOINGS IN CONGRESS

Another Labor Resolution in the Senate.

Peffer's Effort for a Select Committee to Listen to the Commonwealers Receives 17 Votes—Washburn the Latest Tariff Orator—District Business Before the House.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The populist senator from Kansas (Mr. Peffer) introduced in the senate by request, a bill entitled "A bill to dispose of idle labor and discourage idle wealth in the District of Columbia and for other purposes," its object being to impose on all idle land in the district an annual tax equal to its annual increment of value, and to use the revenue, thus obtained, in the construction and management of public works in the district, so as to give employment to idle citizens. The bill was referred to to the district committee.

Mr. Peffer also made an effort to get before the senate again his resolution for a select committee in connection with the expected arrival of Coxey and his followers, but his motion was negatived by a vote of 17 to 26. Among the affirmative votes were those of several leading republican senators, including Mr. Hawley of Connecticut, whose motive for so voting was, presumably, to give the populist senator from Nebraska a chance to reply to his (Mr. Hawley's) characterization of Mr. Allen's speech on the subject, as being charged with "the bacilli and bacteria of anarchism." There were only five republican senators voting in the negative, Messrs. Chandler, Frye, McMillan, Morrell and Sherman.

The house bill to protect the birds and animals in Yellowstone National park, and to punish crimes therein, was passed with several amendments.

The four hours time allowed for debate on the tariff bill was mainly occupied by Mr. Washburn (rep., Minn.), whose opposition was more particularly directed to the annulment of the reciprocity features of the McKinley act. The speeches of Senators Quay (rep., Penn.) and Dolph (rep., Ore.) are still incompleted. The senate adjourned at 5:25 p. m.

House.

The house devoted itself to business relating to the District of Columbia, and considered some measures of local interest. A bill similar to the fires racing law of New York was rejected.

WILL USE SMOKELESS COAL.

No Warning to Be Given Poachers of the Approach of the Cruisers.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Secretary Herbert does not intend that the vessels of the Behring sea patrol fleet on their summer cruise shall make such a smoke as to give poachers warning of their approach. The coal he has had sent to Onalaska for the ships is a smokeless variety, from the Comax mines of British Columbia.

As this selection brought forth voluminous patriotic protests from residents of the state of Washington, he sent a letter to Commander Clark, the flag officer of the naval fleet at Port Townsend, directing him to have all the vessels of the fleet take sufficient coal from the Fairhaven mines in Washington to enable them to reach the coal supply at Onalaska and to make a full report of its qualities. The instructions continue.

"As this coal emits very black smoke, it is not deemed expedient to use it while vessels are patrolling Behring Sea. After reaching the base of coal supply, which has already been contracted for as far as practicable, no other coal will be used."

Chicago to Fight Smallpox Scourge.

CHICAGO, April 24.—At a conference of Mayor Hopkins, Health Commissioner Reynolds and Chairman Madden of the common council finance committee the commissioner was given almost unlimited power to incur expense for the purpose of exterminating the smallpox scourge. He will at once begin a systematic crusade in every part of the city, dividing it into districts with health officers in charge.

New York Senators Caucus.

ALBANY, April 24.—The republican senators last night caucused on party measures awaiting the action of the senate. The senators practically agreed upon all the bills with the exception of the New York York sheriff salary bill. Regarding the latter bill Senators Owens and Reynolds said they would vote against it.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 24.—There has been a noticeable increase in the number of buyers around the market this week. The displays of flannels to be offered at this week's auction sales are the centre of attraction and discussions of the probabilities of these sales the chief topic of conversation.

Germany and Jesuits.

ROME, April 24.—The vatican is informed that although the bundesrath will reject the bill passed by the reichstag permitting the return of the Jesuits to Germany, the Berlin government has decided to grant that permission to members of other orders that have been expelled.

Another Young Man Goes Wrong.

BOSTON, April 24.—E. H. Thayer, a clerk in the Boston postoffice, who as treasurer of the Boston Postoffice Clerks' association is $800 short in his accounts, has disappeared. He is 31 years of age and has a wife and four children. It is believed he has been speculating.

Prize Fights Legal in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—The Olympic club has won a big victory in the supreme court, which has just affirmed the decision of the lower court, and the result means that the club may give fights again.

Count Elie Still in Prison.

PARIS, April 24.—Count Elie of Talleyrand-Perigord, who was arrested at the instance of Max Lebaudy on a charge of forgery, has not yet secured bail.

Troy Police Bill.

TROY, N. Y., April 24.—The Troy police bill has passed both senate and assembly and is now in the hands of the governor.

SUSPENSION COMPLETE

Not a Miner at Work in the Pittsburg District.

20,000 Men Idle in That Locality—Efforts of the United Mine Workers Successful—Coke Workers Decide to Join the General Strike—Prospects of Trouble in West Virginia.

PITTSBURG, April 24.—The United Mine Workers' officials of the Pittsburg district are very busy individuals at present. As a result of their persuasive arguments 4,500 men, who were on the fence as to whether they would strike or not, have decided to join their brethren in the fight for a uniform rate of wages.

The 4,500 men mentioned above were employed in the Turtle Creek and Irwin mines. President Dearmit, of the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal company, operating the Turtle Creek mines, met the United Mine Workers' officials in joint debate. President Dearmit tried to convince the miners that his contract with them was valid and if the workmen did not perform their part, his company would hold them and the United Mine Workers' officials for any losses the company sustained by the men refusing to work.

The United Mine Workers' officials convinced the men that the contract spoken of by Mr. Dearmit, was not binding on them, and that many operators had failed to keep their contracts and that the miners must now all join together and have the operators establish a uniform rate that will be just to operators and miners alike.

After the debate the 1,500 men employed at Turtle Creek decided that they would join in the general strike.

The 3,000 miners at Irwin on learning of the action taken by the Turtle Creek men also decided to strike. This makes the suspension in the Pittsburg district complete and 20,000 miners are now out on strike.

The action of the miners at Turtle Creek and Irwin caused general rejoicing among the miner officials and the men, and will greatly strengthen the general strike.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

It seems that little Morristown has a bigger pull in Trenton than Plainfield has.

If the city knows when it's well off, it will stop tinkering with the fire gong and get an expert on it to put it in shape.

The best thing the borough can do is to buy the old Plainfield fire truck. It 's a bargain, and the borough's sore need of it was again emphatically demonstrated last night.

One of the Newark trolley cars, on which an inventor has been graciously permitted to place a fender, ran into a big dog Saturday night and picked him up. Finally, when the car stopped, he jumped out badly scared, but little the worse for his experience. If the car had been without a fender, mangled canine would have been strewn all along the route. This is a pointer for Plainfield. Fenders should be provided for every electric car.

THE RIGHT KIND OF CITIZEN.

A town or city is just what its citizens make it. Given the right sort of people, and a desert waste will be transformed into a garden that shall bloom like the rose and a straggling settlement into a thriving city. Given the wrong sort of citizens, and all the advantages of soil, climate, geographical position and wealth will go for naught. Manufactures do not make the city. It is the city that makes the manufactures. The stockyards and the grain elevators did not make Chicago; pork packing did not make Cincinnati; a railroad center did not make Indianapolis. In each case the city is the cause and the business the effect. These cities had public spirited men, and they attracted the kind of business which is located in them—that is all.

And what is the right kind of a citizen? He is the man who does not look across the continent for an investment, but spends his money at home and encourages home enterprises. The right kind of citizen does not grumble about high taxes, because he has sense enough to know that taxes must be high in a growing city, and that if low taxes are a desideratum he must go to a place that has stopped growing or that never has grown much. The right kind of citizen knows the distinction between the virtue of economy, which avoids all waste, but spends money freely for public improvements, and the vice of parsimony, that spends nothing unless absolutely compelled to. The right kind of citizen may not be a wealthy man—indeed he is more frequently not one—but he cheerfully helps support the public schools and the churches, and he is in favor of the public library.

The right kind of citizen believes in well lighted streets and good sidewalks, for he knows that vice and crime hate gaslight and electric light almost as much as they do daylight, and that they delight in darkness. He also knows that these things give a good impression to strangers. The right kind of citizen also is fully aware of the fact that no expenditure brings so great a return to the citizen as that which he pays in taxes provided it be honestly and judiciously applied.

The wrong kind of citizen sees none of these things and does none of them.

If every man, woman and child in this locality would make a resolve that not a dollar of their money should be spent outside of the community henceforth an era of prosperity would immediately set in.

POLITICAL PICKINGS.

(Tom Lane's Washington Correspondence in The Summit Record.)

Congressman Dunn was among the most active and aggressive of the Democrats who opposed the adoption of the quorum-counting rule in the House. He said he believed there should always be a working majority of Democrats in attendance on the sessions and he was willing to be here at all times to aid in disposing of public business. He believes the quorum-counting rule is a violation of the spirit if not the letter of the Constitution, and he expressed his views to his colleagues in no uncertain language. Mr. Dunn said he was not worried over the proposed gerrymander of his District. He says he can carry the projected District by a larger majority than he carried the present District eighteen years ago.

Richard V. Lindabury, the well-known New Jersey lawyer, visited Washington on Tuesday to represent Mr. T. B. Adams of Summit, in the fight in the Senate against imposing a duty on silver lead ores. The smelting interests, with which Mr. Adams is connected, will be very injuriously affected if the proposed duty is retained, and Mr. Lindabury is endeavoring to prevent its imposition.

While here, Mr. Lindabury had time to briefly discuss politics, and despite the recent disasters, he spoke most hopefully of the outlook for Democratic success in New Jersey. He said he meant to devote all of his energies to retrieving the losses that had been sustained during the past year and he was confident that Union County would send three Democratic Assemblymen to Trenton next November. He is all the more eager to accomplish this, since he feels in a measure responsible for last year's results, and as the race-track issue has been removed from politics, he feels that he can with dignity and propriety, resume his place in the councils of the Democratic party.

They 'll Thank Their Teachers.

Great Chiefs of the State will attend the presentation.

MARRIAGE LICENSES IN NEW JERSEY.

A Bill Fixing Any Person $100 Who Marries a Couple Without One.

The House of Assembly adopted last night a concurrent resolution offered by Republican leader McEwan, providing that the Legislature adjourn on Friday, May 4, until Monday, Sept. 3.

Mr. Thompson introduced a marriage license bill, which inflicts a penalty of $100 on any person who marries a couple who have not procured a license. Bills were also introduced legislating out of office the State Board of Pilot Commissioners, and the Boards of Excise, Boards of Health, and Boards of Assessment in Jersey City and Newark, and providing for the appointment of non-partisan Boards to succeed them.

The Senate passed last night the bill requiring instruction in the public schools of the effects of alcohol and tobacco on the human system. Senator Bradley had it in charge, and after ex-President Adrain made a speech in its favor it went through unanimously. In the House there was but a single vote against it. The bill has been introduced annually for the past five or six years. It was introduced this session, and passed, through the personal efforts of Rev. W. E Honeyman of North Plainfield. Senator Bradley said New Jersey was one of of the six States in the Union which had not passed such a law.

By a party vote the Senate passed the bill abolishing the Boards of Public Works in Paterson, Camden and Trenton.

Somerset Street Surprise.

John Voehl was pleasantly surprised by the arrival of a party of friends at his home, 65 Somerset street, last evening. He was 17 years old yesterday, and it was his birthday that had been remembered by Albert D. Honeyman and Albert Johnson when they began to arrange the surprise. John is the youngest member of the New York Produce Exchange, and is well known in the borough.

Sam Frazee came with the visitors, and to his music the evening was spent in dancing. A supper was served at midnight, but the dancing did not stop then.

Among the guests were: The Misses. Minnie Smith, Cora Shepard, Libbie Springer, Etta Blatz, May McLoughlin, Lena Smalley, Ida Dunham, Lizzie Stafford, Della and Tina Voehl, Lottie Coriell, Katie and Sadie Blimm; and Messrs. Martine LeRoy, Frank Faulks, Edward Clark, Lewis Scott, August Sergeant, Frank Blatz, Robert Clark, Harry Coddington, Howard Woolston, George Chandler, Will Morrison, Will Kitchen, Harry, James and Thomas Stafford.

Suit for $2,500.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

THE SCHOOL BILL.

IT HANGS FIRE IN THE SENATE.

Morristown Fighting Its Passage, and Senator Voorhees Has to Appease That Town.

(Special by Wire to The Press.)

TRENTON, April 24—The Plainfield School Bill is having a hard fight for it, because of the opposition made by Morristown.

Plainfield and Morristown are the only places in the State affected by the bill. They are the only cities in the State where the School Board has absolute power to raise money for school-houses and run the city into debt without the consent of the Common Council.

Morristown has more confidence in its Board of Education than in its Common Council, and is fighting the measure just as vigorously as Senator Voorhees is pressing it.

The bill received a favorable vote in the Senate yesterday, but came back, today for final adoption with numerous amendments proposed, designed to exempt Morristown.

Senator Voorhees could not see how the proposed amendments would exempt Morristown without excepting Plainfield also, and as he found by counting noses that under the circumstances he could rally only 8 votes for the bill to 9 against he was forced to vote for reconsideration and tabling, rather than have it defeated outright.

Of the Republicans, Senators Ward and Thompson voted against the bill.

"As it stands now"—said Senator Voorhees to a Press representative—"the bill is on the table, and I have to devise some means of securing Morristown's exemption."

It is likely the bill will be amended subjecting it to acceptance by the people at the polls, as suggested by Mayor Gilbert.

FOUR SHOTS IN A COURT ROOM.

(Special to The Press.)

NEW YORK, April 24—A lively scene took place in Judge Bischoff's court at 11 this morning, when Michael Donnelly, sitting inside the railing in front of the Clerk's bench, rose up, and, drawing a 38-calibre revolver, fired four shots in rapid succession at his former partner, Patrick J. McArdle, who was sitting in a chair not ten feet away.

None of the shots took effect, not even among the spectators who crowded the rear of the room.

Donnelly was seized and arraigned before Police-Justice Martin in the Tombs Court, and held in $5,000 bail for examination tomorrow.

The trouble arose out of an old suit brought over a year ago by McArdle against Donnelly.

BROKE TWO RECORDS.

Colonel Morrell Drives the Vivid Through Plainfield to Philadelphia, Being Only Fourteen Minutes Off the Schedule.

Colonel E. de V. Morrell yesterday broke the record for continuous driving and for time by driving the coach Vivid from the Hotel Waldorf, New York, through Plainfield, to the Hotel Stratford, Philadelphia, in eleven hours and thirty-eight minutes, on a wager with some members of the New York Coaching Club.

The New Yorkers bet that one man could not take a coach from New York to Philadelphia without rest and without being a half an hour behind the eleven hours and a half schedule for the drive between the two cities. Colonel Morrell took the wager, and with several members of the Philadelphia Suburban Coaching Club left the Hotel Waldorf, driving the coach Vivid, at 7:41 yesterday morning.

The distance from the Waldorf to the Stratford, is 106 miles, and in that distance fourteen changes of horses were made, the fourth being at Blair's stables, this city. Forty-five minutes were spent at lunch in Princeton and twenty-three minutes were consumed by unavoidable delays, such as open drawbridges, etc., which were deducted from the time. The coach arrived at the Stratford at 7:29 last evening, having made the distance in 11 hours and 38 minutes, from which, subtracting the twenty-three minutes for delays, made the time for the distance between the two cities eleven hours and fifteen minutes. Colonel Morrell's feat is considered a remarkable one in coaching circles, as there is no record of any man having driven a coach such a distance without rest.

The regular coaching trips will be made, one each way daily, beginning tomorrow.

The Spring House Cleaning

Wisely urged by the BOARD OF HEALTH is not complete without a proper use of DISINFECTANTS. But, in choosing these, do not be misled into paying fancy prices for "patent" specialties. Common lime is better than any of them for damp cellars and stables. For vaults, drains, cess pools, the best and cheapest disinfectant is COPPERAS, supplied by us by the pound or barrel at low rates. But for use in the house, in the plumbing, in kitchen sinks, in closets, for purifying the air of sick rooms, deodorizing offensive discharges—in short, for all purposes of a household disinfectant, nothing can excel the powerful solution of chlorides made and sold by us for 15 years under the name of REYNOLDS'S ODORLESS DISINFECTANT. Seventeen-Year Locusts.

NYACK, N. Y., April 24.—The seventeen-year locusts appeared by the thousands above ground at this place, coming up through holes which looked as though made with a cane, and varying from one to three feet in depth. At sunset they again retired to their holes. If the weather is warm they will be able to climb this week, and then the destruction of young foliage will begin. Most of the grubs which came out were lively. They are precisely like those which appeared in 1877. The larvae have been sheltered in perfectly formed clay nests, similar to wasp nests. The average depth at which they are found is one foot, showing that they have traveled one or two feet toward the surface within two weeks.

Not a Workingmen's Paradise.

LONDON, April 24.—The Times says that the news of a gigantic coal strike and the march of the industrial armies in America again shakes the idea that America is the workman's paradise. The newspaper proceeds to suggest that the parties to the strike confer together and affect a compromise, as was done in the great coal strike here, in order to save enormous financial loss and individual suffering. This industrial army, it adds, will not be tenderly treated by the Washington police. A spark in such inflammable material may cause a conflagration, and in any case the spectacle is suggestive of much discontent, for which the lauded representative system of the United States affords no outlet.

The court then ordered that the habeas corpus writ be discharged and that King be remanded to M Lean asylum. This is the second unsuccessful attemp to secure the release of Mr. King.

We have been very busy during the past month buying goods from manufacturers who wanted cash and were willing to sell at our price, and we will offer the entire lot of goods at remarkably low figures.

Here's the Goods, the Prices.

Dress Goods—The profit cut off of every piece of Dress Goods in the store.

The largest purchase of Dress Goods we ever made at one time was made last week—over two hundred pieces of fine imported dress fabrics, not one piece costing less than 60c per yard and some 70 and 80c. We put them all on one table at the reasonably low price of 39c per yard. All on table No. 1.

Matting—At the recent trade sale in New York we bought over 200 rolls of the finest matting made at lower prices than matting ever sold for before. We offer a good heavy matting for 10c per yard. Extra heavy seamless fancy matting 14c. Extra heavy seamless white matting, a great bargain, 14c., worth 25c. Linen warp seamless matting 25c., regular value 40c.

Spring Coats and Capes—The entire line of one of the leading coat and cape manufacturers of New York City. We cleaned out the entire line at one-third off, and they will be sold the same way. Every garment is made of the best material, handsomely trimmed and made in the latest style. In addition to coats and capes you will find in this department an elegant line of house wrappers and street dresses. Fine cambric wrappers, ready made, 89c. This is a new department and to bring it before the people we have made prices very attractive.

TAXPAYER'S PROTEST AGAINST GIVING AWAY A TEN-YEAR WATER FRANCHISE.

If the Plainfield Company Is to Supply Water to a Million People, Then the Town Whose Wells Are Drained Therefor Should Be Recompensed by the Corporation.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I noticed in your paper last night that the members of the Common Council are to hold a special meeting tomorrow evening to consider the renewing of the lease to the Water Company for a period of ten years. I protest against any action in giving away this valuable franchise unless the city receives proper consideration.

The letter appearing from a citizen in your columns Monday is most timely and instructive. The Water Company by removing water meters and refusing to allow property-owners to water the streets fronting their houses have acted most unjustly. The people have rights which their servants in the Common Council must respect. The troubles agitating today the whole country have been caused by public officials seeking to fill their pockets instead of reducing taxation. The day is fast approaching when the people will get together and overthrow their rulers. I hope the people will fill the Common Council chamber tomorrow night and carefully watch the proceedings. If a ten-year lease is not worth $10,000 to the city, let the lease be then for one year only.

The Water Company are about to extend their mains to Bayonne. Surely if Plainfield in the next ten years is to supply water for a million people our taxpayers should require their servants in the Common Council to withhold the valuable franchise unless proper consideration is given. TAXPAYER.

NOISELESS NOMADICS.

June 2 will be opening day of the Crescent Wheelmen's new track.

A cyclist proposes to race a yachtsman around the Island of Corsica. The cyclist will give the yachtsman forty-eight hours' start.

Only class A riders will be allowed to compete in the events to be contested at the race meet of the Elizabeth Athletic Club cyclers June 16.

What is known to the wheelmen of Santa Ana, Cal., as the kite-shaped track, is 11½ miles of smooth, level road, without a single heavy grade.

Last year Canadian wheelmen paid duty on $225,000 worth of wheels imported into Canada, besides a consequent advance on the price of machines of home manufacture.

Philadelphia is to spend $8,000,000 during the ensuing three years for improved streets. This expenditure will make that city the best paved in the world.

Kansas City has twenty of its letter-carriers mounted on bicycles. So successful has the venture proved that it is expected that this number will be doubled before the Summer has set in.

A relay race of 150 miles from New York to Philadelphia has been arranged for June 2. Both class A and class B riders are eligible to compete. Individual prizes will be given in addition to team prizes.

J. W. Linneman, the holder of the 100 mile road riding record, has been training for the Irvington-Milburn race. Linneman is riding in good shape at present and expects to lower many records during the season.

Eastern riders will find it hard to race in Denver. People who have had experience in becoming acclimated in Colorado are of the opinion that the precautions that will be taken by Walter Sanger and others in training a few weeks in Denver before the meet will be futile, as the time will be entirely inadequate to acquire the desired result. Horsemen have had lots of experience in racing in the high altitude and pure atmosphere, and believe that only native horses or those thoroughly acclimated can be successful on the track. The effect of speed or great exertion is serious to a performer not accustomed to work in the locality. His lungs cannot take in a sufficient quantity of oxygen, and he suffers from a sort of asphyxia and frequently bleeds from the nose and mouth.

Messrs. W. H. Squire and A. H. Wilcox, of Meriden, Conn., have planned a Summer bicycle trip from Meriden to Nova Scotia that will occupy two weeks. The party will start from Meriden July 16 and run via South Farmington to Boston. They will take the steamer Boston for the sixteen hours' sail to Yarmouth, which will be reached Tuesday morning. From there they will wheel to Digby and Grand Pre through the historic Annapolis Valley and the land of Evangeline, passing through Kentville and Windsor to Halifax, which will be reached Sunday night, and where Sunday will be spent. The trip will be resumed Monday, stopping at Truro, where the tides are the highest in the world; at Amherst long enough to visit the famous ship railway, and thence via St. John, N. B., to Eastport, Me., and North Lubec, where Sunday may be spent at the Y. M. C. A. encampment. From this point the return will be accomplished by steamer. So many applications have been received that the number has been extended from twelve to twenty. Wheelmen wishing to join in this tour should address W. H. Squire, Meriden. The distance of the ride is 1,300 miles.

Mayor Haynes for Collector.

It is understood in Washington that the appointment of an Internal Revenue Collector for the Newark district will be made without fail this week, and although it is officially stated that no decision has yet been made, it is unofficially understood that Mayor Haynes is almost certain to be the appointee. It is said that many prominent Democrats in the State of New Jersey have indorsed Mayor Haynes, and that for the reason that there is nearly a unanimous sentiment in his favor, his appointment is assured.

The Epworth League of the Scotch Plains M. E. Church will give a social at the residence of Mrs. John Marsh. Jr., this week Friday evening. A musical programme has been prepared and the young people are looking forward to a very enjoyable evening.

The meat market of John R. Marsh might easily have burned Saturday night. For several hours smoke was smelled, but its source could not be found. Mrs. Joseph Clark finally at 9 discovered a charred circle in the floor which had evidently started from a cigar being thrown in the sawdust.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., have changed their meeting night from Friday to Thursday and will begin under the new arrangement this week. It is expected that, because of the change, a number of members, prominent among them Butcher James Guttridge, of Netherwood, will become more regular attendants.

John Reddin is an active organizer in the effort to start a local council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. It will be instituted as soon as a few more members are obtained. It is proposed that the Council hire the rooms in Scotch Plains over the store formerly occupied by Thomas Cleaver's grocery business.

Sucker spearing is now extensively practised. George Vanderbilt aroused the envy of his neighbors last Friday morning by appearing with 21 fine fish from Seeley's race. One weighed two pounds. Edward Verity speared 40 small ones at the same time in the brook back of A. D. Shepard's house. William Messler and George Vanderbilt went Saturday night and secured a pike and a sucker. Bill saw several snakes.

Chatty Notes Picked Up in the Borough by the Stroller.

Fairview avenue is now macadamized.

A $4 fine was imposed on a pugilistic citizen last night.

There is a rumor that another public place is soon to change hands.

The time has again arrived when you must hide your dog, as the assessor will soon interview you.

Blake Brothers amateur minstrels are practising in a cornfield in the rear of Uncle Peter Wooden's residence, nightly.

Thos. Doud, the contractor, is putting in gas mains in Lorraine, Roselle, and nearby places, for the Elizabethtown Gas Company.

There's a woman in the borough who says her husband is the most even-tempered man in the place, because he's mad all the time.

Frederick Vortermeyer, a resident of Sandford avenue, is about to begin the erection of a handsome residence in Watchung Park, where he expects to reside.

D. F. Godown of Vine street has the contract to erect the billiard and bowling rooms for Frank Linke. W. G. Dillingham of South street, New York, is the alley builder.

Brad Smalley of Netherwood was inspecting Harry Williams's gamey little thoroughbred the other day, and pronounced the animal a long-distance runner, and one that if rightly handled would make a good mark for himself.

Frederick Kersting, formerly a resident of Manning avenue, and for a long time clerk at Lieske's bakery, died at his mother's residence on West Front street last evening. He was about 21 years old. The cause of death was pneumonia. Decedent had many friends.

Poor weak-minded Jeptha Wagener, who is over 70 years of age, is very ill, and in want, at his home over the mountains. 'Twould be a very charitable act to interest one's self in this case, as there is certainly uncalled-for human suffering up there.

Four big vans were depositing furniture in the borough last night. The place is rapidly growing, and there are many new houses in course of erection, and others in contemplation. We have now over 6,000 population, and the borough is the largest town in Somerset County. We're movin' up, too.

Rudolph Speigel, formerly bartender in Caspar's Hotel, yesterday purchased the the hotel and liquor business from Joseph A. Blatz for a consideration of about $2,500. Mr. Speigel has taken possession of the bar, and will shortly occupy the dwelling. Mr. Blatz will devote his whole attention to the meat business.

Every evening next week the fair for the benefit of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church will be held in Saengerbund Hall. Tuesday night a brass band of forty pieces will be in attendance from New Brunswick. The members of this band are friends of Father Miller, pastor of St. Joseph's, and give their services gratuitously.

Some members of the Cracker Barrel Club have leased the second floor over Smalley's meat market on Somerset street, and are elaborately furnishing it. Billiard and pool tables are now in, and there is talk of a bowling alley being placed in the rear. Every member has a name to suggest, and it is a long time christening. The place will be formally opened in a few week.

Ex-Assemblyman Luther Tappen of Raritan Township, Middlesex County, was visiting in this section a few days ago. There's a strong possibility that Mr. Tappen will be the Democratic nominee for Senator in that county this Fall. He is remembered as a member of the lower House, and his record for the two terms he then served is first-class. Would n't Luther make a hustling canvass, though!

THE STROLLER.

Always Two Sides to a Story.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—There was published in The Press of Tuesday, the 17th inst., and account of a difficulty that Mr. McKenzie had with Bilyeu & Winans, in regard to the payment of some money.

The true facts of the case are these: Mr. McKenzie had his wagon broken by a trolley car on Somerset street, the night of Sept. 25, 1893, and was told by the Superintendent to take the wagon to Bilyeu & Winans for repairs. Some time ago Mr. McKenzie was informed that the Superintendent desired him to call at Bilyeu & Winans's shop and get some money that had been left there for him. When he stopped and asked about it, they denied having received it. When the Superintendent next met him, he asked him if he had received his money. On being told that he had not, the Superintendent replied he would see about it, as Bilyeu had told him they had received the money. McKenzie was stopped on the street by Winans March 28, and asked if he had received his money. On being told he had not, Winans replied, "I will see that you get it", but did not offer to pay him, after admitting that they had it about two months. McKenzie again called at their shop on the 14th inst., and told Winans he did not like the way he had treated him in regard to the matter; thereupon Bilyeu called McKenzie an insulting name, and told him to leave. McKenzie replied he could do that, and was moving out of the shop when Bilyeu rushed forward and pushed him out of the door and remarked that he would give him more if he wanted it. McKenzie invited him to come out and do so if he thought he was able, and says he would have been willing to abide by the consequence if he had come.

If Bilyeu & Winans think it is any credit to themselves or business to treat customers in this way, or make such statements as they did, they will find their mistake. L. H. MCKENZIE.

AWAKENED BY FLAMES.

HENRY BODENHEIMER AND FAMILY HAVE A NARROW ESCAPE.

For Want of Boxes and Ladders in the Borough Their Home Is Destroyed—They Themselves Barely Escape Alive.

Henry Bodenheimer's home at 251 Somerset street was burned last night. The family had a narrow escape and none of their belongings was saved.

A common lamp hung in the front of the hall. It was left burning when the family went to bed. Jacob Kleiner, Mr. Bodenheimer's brother-in-law, stables his Scotch Plains stage horses in the barn back of the house. He passed through the yard at 11:15 last night and noticed nothing wrong about the house.

The lamp must have exploded less than half an hour later. No one heard it The flames traveled upstairs and filled the well. Mr. Bodenheimer was awakened by his wife about midnight and found the room full of smoke. He opened the hall door and was driven back by the flames. His room was in the southwest corner of the house diagonally opposite where the lamp was. It and a hall bedroom were the only ones occupied. He awoke his niece, Miss Annie Kleiner, and his two children, a boy aged seven, and a girl four years old. Then he reached the ground by way of a piazza roof and brought a ladder from the barn. The family came down in safety clad in what clothing they could snatch up. The flames followed them at once.

It was 20 minutes before the alarm was sent to Warren Engine Company. The house, a two-story and attic frame building, burned slowly because all of the shutters were closed. The slate roof kept the flames inside and prevented the saving of any of the furniture. Marshals Lines and Wilson were together on Somerset street in front of Frank Linke's place, it being lunch hour with the police, when they noticed the flames. Wilson went to the house, while Lines ran to the engine house.

In spite of the weak floor the engine stood in the rear of the house last night and considerable time was saved as the hose could be taken out first. Of course the engine was n't needed. Peter Seader made his usual quick time. The borough whistle worked well, and its efficiency in bringing the firemen out made the need for a system of boxes the more noticeable.

After the North Plainfield department was called out Abner Bartlett met a man on Somerset street who said that The Arlington was burning and that the city ladders and hose were needed. Mr Bartlett, having a key, could do nothing but turn Box 12. The whistle worked once. It only blowed once because of a defect in the mechanism of the gong which is being remedied today. The whistle cannot be adjusted so delicately as the smaller clockwork of the gongs in the houses. The alarm reached the firemen by the house gongs, however, and all the apparatus went to the corner of Front and Somerset streets. Assistant Chief Martin came up and sent everything back. He sent word across the brook that the borough could have the old truck if Seader's team were sent for it. He signaled, and the whistle promptly blew the three rounds of 12 which Mr. Bartlett had tried to bring forth.

Three streams were turned upon the burning house, two from the corner of Regent street, and one from the corner of Mountain avenue and Somerset street. The slate roof withstood the flames and kept the water out. Fighting from the ground as they were compelled to, the firemen did good work in confining the fire to the house. Ladders were finally obtained from neighbors and the roof of the piazza reached. Entrance through the smoke was forced from the front door. At 1 the flames had burned out the centre and were being extinguished at the corners. The recall sounded at 2:15.

The danger to the neighboring houses would have been great had not the firemen arrived when they did, as the wind was quite strong. Six horses and eight cows were removed from the barn at the beginning of the blaze.

The house was insured for $1,600, about its value, in the Hanover Insurance Company, through Van Buren & Timpson's agency. The building is a total loss, the charred shell remaining about a mass of rubbish. It was built nine years ago by Mr. Kirner, now of of Brooklyn. Mr. Bodenheimer has owned it eight years. The furniture was insured in the same company for $300, about half what it was worth.

Before Judge Coddington.

Frank McClave, arrested last night for being drunk on Front street, was fined $1 in the City Court this morning.

George Potter was found guilty of being drunk and profane on Liberty street last night and sent to jail for 20 days, not being able to pay a $5 fine.

PENNSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY.

Growth and Prosperity Necessitate Important Changes.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—At a special meeting of the trustees of the university of Pennsylvania, Dr. William Pepper resigned his position as provost. This action was taken in opposition to earnest entreaties, from his feeling that the great growth of the university during his administration has reached a point where it demands the undivided efforts of the provost. He will continue to hold the professorship of medicine, and will devote himself more especially to the interests of the medical school and hospital. At the same meeting Dr. Pepper made a contribution of $50,000 which will be applied to extension of the hospital buildings. His gifts to all departments have been many and large. The university of Pennsylvania, during the thirteen years of his administration, has increased in the teaching force from 88 to 268, and in students from 961 to 2,180. About $4,000,000 has been added to the value of lands, buildings and endowments. The acquisitions during the current year will amount to $1,000,000.

McKane's Case.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The case of John Y. McKane vs. Durston, warden of Sing Sing prison, a petition for release on writ of habeas corpus, was called in the supreme court of the United States. E. M. Shephard, who was associated with General Tracey in prosecuting McKane, read an affidavit by Robert W. Griffin, McKane's counsel, to the effect that he is engaged in the trial of the case of Anderson vs. Mackay in the United States circuit court in New York city, upon which, he asked the supreme court of the United States to postpone the hearing of the case until some suitable day. In answer to questions by the court, Mr. Shephard stated that in the absence of an adversary he was content to submit the case on the briefs. Thereupon Chief Justice Fuller announced that the court would take the case, with leave to Mr. Griffin to file a brief before Friday next.

None But Frenchmen on Guard.

PARIS, April 24.—The English colony in Paris is excited over the action of the government in forcing Sir Edward Blount, who for thirty years had been the chairman of the Quest railway, to resign. The ground taken by the government was that Chairman Blount by virtue of his position at the head of a great railway had access to the plans of the government in the matter of mobilizing troops. The government did not believe that a foreigner should hold a position in France enabling him to become possessed of such information and took steps to compel his removal. Premier Casimer-Perier threatened that unless Mr. Blount retired the government would introduce in the chamber of deputies a bill excluding foreigners from the presidency of all French railways.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

A Twentieth Century Romance.

By EFFIE W. MERRIMAN.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.]

CHAPTER I.

It had been considered a fine house in 1892 when it was finished ready for occupancy. It was built of brownstone, it was large and commodious, it was strictly modern, and it was surrounded by handsome grounds. It was owned by Harlow Winthrop, the wealthiest man in the city. Winthrop was a man who always desired to be identified with everything new, hoping that it might prove to be the avenue down which his name would travel to posterity. He was not contented simply to be rich. He had a fine wife and as nice a family of children as man need wish for, and one of the children, his firstborn, was said to be as much like his father as a half grown English pea is like the matured specimen. This son was named Harold.

The family moved into the new house on the third day of October, 1892, and two weeks later a grand housewarming was given by their friends and neighbors. It was at this housewarming that Papa Winthrop decided to entertain his guests by an exhibition of his knowledge of hypnotism, which was at that time a subject beginning to attract attention among ordinary people.

Winthrop had taken to it with the eagerness and enthusiasm which he had always shown for speculative topics and for weeks had been practicing on every one whom he could coax, hire or command to submit themselves to his powers. His son Harold was proved to be the most satisfactory subject and therefore afforded his father more pleasure than he had since his birth, 23 years before the new house was built. On the evening of the housewarming he came forward obediently at the call of his father and seated himself in an armchair in full view of the assembled guests.

"Now," said Mr. Winthrop, who was pleased beyond measure to have so large an audience, "now I am going to put Harold to sleep for a certain length of time, at the expiration of which he will awaken without assistance, but previous to that time no one can arouse him."

Harold began to stare at the shining stopper of a glass bottle placed between himself and the light, while Mr. Winthrop pressed firmly on a certain spot on the top of his son's head.

"How long shall he sleep?" asked Mr. Winthrop when Harold began to appear drowsy.

"Until 11 o'clock," suggested the mischievous son of the wealthiest family present.

Harold stirred as if to protest, but was too sleepy to speak.

"Yes, make it 11," echoed the mother of the mischievous son, not because she cared, but because she always made it a point to insist on the gratification of her son's wishes so long as they did not conflict with her own. The son knew that Letty Mays must return to her home at half past 10, and that Harold Winthrop expected to accompany her. The recollection of that expectation stirred Harold's drowsy brain and prevented him from submitting to his father's hypnotic power with his usual passivity. It is possible that that is the reason why the exhibition did not terminate according to expectation. There were many reasons given during the years which followed, for at last Mr. Winthrop had succeeded in finding the coveted fame. It was said in those days and has been argued since that the operator in hypnotism must have full confidence in his own power in order to be entirely successful, and the elder Winthrop was certainly not lacking in that respect. He had put Harold to sleep too many times to have any doubts as to his awakening at the appointed time. It was afterward decided that in order to have a successful exhibition it was also necessary that the one who acted as the subject to be operated upon should be free from troubled thoughts when he sat down. Every one said that such a conclusion was proved by the result of Mr. Winthrop's experiment and gave so many reasons why this should be thus that any one who dared acknowledge not having thought of it long before the night of the housewarming was looked upon as an ignoramus. The rich young man was severely condemned for having suggested the hour of 11 as that on which the awakening was to take place, and there were many who went so far as to say that he hoped thereby to win Letty Mays himself.

Harold remained motionless.

Harold slept well, and the guests amused themselves by trying in various ways to arouse him, but all their efforts were in vain. Pretty Letty Mays, who did not believe he really slept, but thought he had learned to control his features wonderfully well, crept to his side when the attention of the guests was drawn to another part of the room and whispered in his ear that it was nearly time for her to go. Harold did not stir.

"This is nonsense, Harold," she then whispered petulantly. "I know you are feigning just as well as you know it. If you do not arouse yourself this minute, I shall think it is because you care more for your father's folly than for my wishes."

Harold remained motionless, and Letty hurried into the dressing room, found her wraps, and disappearing through a side door went home unattended before any one could guess her intention.

Before she went to sleep that night she wrote a curt note to Harold, releasing him from their engagement and informing him that a messenger would take to him the next day all the books and trinkets which he had given her. But before the things were packed she learned that Harold had not yet awakened, although he had slept for nearly 20 hours, and that the family physician had been called. The physician tried various remedies, none of which proved useful, said he could have done more had he been called earlier, charged a fee large enough to support his entire family for a month and went home feeling that no man could have acted with greater credit to himself or with greater profit either, for that matter.

Hours lengthened into days, days became weeks and weeks months, yet Harold Winthrop slept. The elder Winthrop grew thin and white with worry; Mrs. Winthrop became silently accusing and refused to kiss her husband until their son should be himself again; the younger members of the family lost the joy of youth in the heavy cloud which hung over the household; the servants would not pass at night the door of the silent room where their young master slept.

Five years from the date of the housewarming Mr. Winthrop died, leaving a will so drawn that the bulk of his fortune should be held in trust for Harold, the interest to be enjoyed by those who had the care of him.

After the death of Mrs. Winthrop Harold was given into the care of James, the second son. Thirty-five years later James died, and the fine old home passed into the hands of Henry, who agreed to care for his Uncle Harold to the best of his ability.

Harold still slept. As he needed little more care than the furniture in an unused room, Henry felt that it was as easy a way of earning a livelihood as he should be likely to find. He was forced to own, however, after a few years' experience that they were wiser who preferred life away from the shadow cast by an uncle who, although not dead, might better have been.

No servant who had heard of the "sleeper"—usually spoken in a whisper by that class—could be induced to enter the house, and they who had not heard of him received information soon after their arrival and left without the customary warning. Young ladies did not care to give themselves to a young man who, for all they knew to the contrary, might suddenly fall into a sleep such as his uncle was enjoying, and Henry might never have married had he not availed himself of the privileges of a matrimonial bureau and done his courting by correspondence.

Henry died in the year 1972, just 40 years after assuming the care of his uncle, and his eldest son, James, undertook to fill his place.

CHAPTER II.

Twenty years later, in October, 1992, Harold Winthrop awoke, after a refreshing nap of just 100 years in length. Mrs. James Winthrop had gone into his room that morning with a feather duster, with which she proposed to brush the dust from his face and hands. It was a task which she attended to about once in six weeks. She found Harold sitting up in bed, trying to rub his eyes open. When she entered, he stared at her in undisguised astonishment. So far as he was aware, he was not accustomed to receiving lady visitors in that way, especially when they came unannounced. Mrs. James let the feather duster fall to the floor. She opened her pretty mouth, gave one shriek and staggered out into the hall. The servants who heard the shriek sent at once for medical assistance with the beautiful presence of mind which was characteristic of that age. There were some among them who had never before heard a woman scream, and who knew no more about a fainting fit than Harold Winthrop knew about the man in the moon.

James Winthrop, Jr., knew that there must be some good cause for his wife's strange behavior and rushed up the broad staircase. His wife still leaned against the wall. He looked at her inquiringly, and she pointed to the room where Harold had slept, with a manner that seemed to say that poor James was very much to blame about something. Mr. James Winthrop stepped into the room, took one look at his great-uncle and fell in a dead faint to the floor.

"Poor fellow!" exclaimed his wife, stooping over him. "I should have thought how delicate he is." The servants offered assistance, but she waved them away, and tenderly lifting her little husband into her strong arms bore him to his own room and laid him upon the bed.

Harold had sprung from his bed when he saw her lift her husband. He was not used to seeing a woman do a thing like that, and his first thought was to offer assistance, but his threadbare nightgown fell away from him in shreds, and he quickly crept under the bedding again.

Mrs. Winthrop returned as soon as her husband gave signs of returning consciousness and graciously inquired how she might make herself useful to Harold.

"I should like my clothes, if you please," he replied. "I cannot seem to find them. I thought I left them on that chair."

"Perhaps you did," said Mrs. Winthrop, "but did you suppose they could stay there forever?"

"Have I slept so very late?" asked Harold, who had often made the family and servants extra work by so doing. He thought the lady before him was the new housekeeper whom his mother had talked of engaging and mentally styled her an unusually fine specimen of womanhood.

"Have you slept so very late?" repeated Mrs. Winthrop. "Is it possible that you do not know that you have slept a hundred years?"

"A hundred years! Oh, land o' Goshen!" Harold laughed heartily, then suddenly became serious, believing that his mother's new housekeeper was crazy. "You poor thing!" he said. "Don't mind my laughing. I always did laugh easily. Won't you tell me your name?"

"My name, sir, is Mrs. James Winthrop. I am the wife of your nephew's son. I do not wonder at your surprise. It must be strange to be suddenly confronted with those who were born and have grown up while you slept. We, however, are no less surprised. We had grown to believe that you would never awaken."

"Great thunder!" exclaimed Harold, who was beginning to be out of patience. "Bring my clothes, madam, or I'll know the reason why! Do you suppose I am going to lie here all day listening to your crazy talk?"

"I shall not compel you to listen to me unless you like," replied Mrs. Winthrop calmly, "but I really do not see but that you must lie here until a tailor can take your measurements and make you some clothes. You have nothing to put on which will hold together. The appearance of your nightgown should be enough to convince you that I am not telling you an untruth."

MOTHERS

and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its torture, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement is greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I began taking your "Favorite Prescription" the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your "Prescription." I was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well.

ASK THEM Why?

Ask the men who are making imitations of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening, why they give up lard and try to trade on the merits of COTTOLENE? Perhaps you can guess why.

ASK HIM WHY?

Ask the grocer who attempts substitution, why he tries to sell an imitation when people call for that pure, palatable and popular vegetable shortening, COTTOLENE? Perhaps you can guess.

ASK YOURSELF Why?

Why should not YOU use COTTOLENE, instead of lard or any other compound, for all cooking purposes? It has the highest possible endorsement; from Physicians as to healthfulness; from Cooking Experts as to superiority; from housekeepers as to economy. Use COTTOLENE and stick to it.

Coxey Cohorts Springing Up Like Mushrooms.

The General May Become a Neighbor of President Cleveland—Reported That He Will Camp the Commonweal at Woodley Park—Plot to Kill Kelly Foiled—Part of His Sacramento Regiment Mutiny—A Contingent Coming East Through Montana on a Train They Stole—General Fitzgerald's Command.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—A special from Frederick, Md., says that Coxey has accepted an offer made by H. P. Wagga man to make the Washington camp at Woodley park. This place adjoins "Woodley," President Cleveland's country home.

The committee on permits, appointed at a meeting of Coxey's sympathizers held here Saturday night to arrange for Coxey's reception, presented a petition to the District commissioner yesterday asking that permission be given for meetings on the streets Thursday and Friday nights and for a mass meeting at Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue, or in front of the United States court house, on Saturday evening, to raise money for caring for the commonwealers.

The commissioners will give a hearing on the petition to-day.

It is proposed to have the speakers at street meetings address the auditors from a tally-ho coach.

If the commissioners refuse to allow the mass meeting in the open air arrangements to secure the use of the big convenional hall, over a market house, where the Moody and Sankey meetings were held, will be attempted, and ten cents admission fee will be charged.

The Messrs. Baltzley, proprietors of the Chautauqua grounds at Glen Echo, Md., near Washington, where Coxey at first proposed to establish a permanent camp, refused to let the commonweal forces occupy their property.

BEHIND FIFE AND DRUM.

Fitzgerald's Falstaffian Ragamuffins March on Towards Hartford.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 25.—The industrial brigade, fifty-three strong, reached this city from Pawtucket last evening and was greeted by a large concourse of spectators on its way to Olneyville, where they camped. While proceeding up Westminster street the army received a recruit with a drum and from thence the party stepped to the taps administered by Barney Gannon, a weaver out of employment. If the services of "Star" Greene, of Jericho, are accepted, who has offered himself as official fifer, the army can march to Washington in true Continental style.

A halt was called at Dexter training ground and speches were made by Gen. Fitzgerald, Commissary McKenzie and George Boomer, of the local cranks, after which the army was "took" by an enterprising photographer, the jolly Falstaffian ragamuffins good-naturedly halting for the purpose.

Supper of canned goods, donated by neighboring grocerymen, was served at 6:30 in Union hall. Agitator Swift, of Boston, came down on an afternoon train and dropped in upon the crowd of industrials, smiling his approval of their pedestrian efforts.

Mr. Swift subsequently addressed a torchlight meeting on Merino flats.

The army slept in Germania hall last night. It is pushing toward Hartford to-day.

COXEY ENTERS FREDERICK.

Despite the Mayor the Commonweale rs Are Gaily Received.

FREDERICK, Md., April 25.—Coxey's army marched into Frederick 340 strong in the face of the declaration by Mayor Fleming, three days ago, that as an organization they should never set foot within the city limits. Their escort was more imposing than anywhere on the route, consisting of 30 mounted deputy sheriffs.

The Coxey men are jubilant. They say the calling out of the posse has done them more good than anything else that could have happened. It has started a local political fight, and will probably net them more provisions and contributions than at any point on the line of march.

Coxey has returned from his New York trip elated at the attention he received and confident that the country will be with him on May 1. He returns to New York on Saturday to lecture at the Grand Opera house.

Locked Up in Freight Cars.

NEW YORK, April 25.—A contingent of Coxey's "army" met with disaster yesterday in Jersey City. More than 100 tired looking men met in the Pennsylvania railroad company's freight yard and boarded a freight train. The chief gateman waited until Coxey's followers had gone into the freight cars and then he locked the doors. A locomotive was attached to the train and soon the carloads of tramps moved towards Jersey City. A wagon load of police awaited them, but before reaching the city limits the tramps managed to break open the car doors and escaped. They scattered in all directions, and not one was arrested.

Driven Out of Ellicott City.

ELLICOTT CITY, Md., April 25.—Commander Clinton and his army of the Schuylkill met with a cool reception here last evening and was escorted out of town by the authorities. The brigade pleaded in vain for a place whereon to pitch their tent, but "move on" was the answer to all requests. The Coxeyites then began quarreling among themselves, the upshot of which was that Clinton was deposed and Commissary Jackson elected chief. Officers meantime appeared and ordered the brigade to leave town at once under pain of doing county work. The army of 50 then left for Ashton, five miles west.

Sweetland's Army Numbers Seven.

PLAINVILLE, Conn., April 25.—Sweetland's Coxey contingent from Bristol had grown to seven men when it reached Plainville. It was raining and a quarrel arose about disbanding.

PLOT TO KILL KELLY FOILED.

The Outcome of the Mutiny of Part of the Sacramento Men.

ATLANTIC, Ia., April 25.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Gen. Kelly last night. The affair leaked out through an anonymous letter received by the general in time to foil the plans.

About 8 o'clock Gen. Kelly started from the grounds for the city and was met by a soldier with a message from a Sacramento company captain. The message stated that a scheme had been laid to "slug" the general and rob him of his money and then kill him, thus leaving the impression that highwaymen had committed the crime. Gen. Kelly's friends formed a body guard and escorted him to and from the city.

Gen. Kelly in speaking of this occurrence said that he had private information that there were several anarchists among the Sacramento men and that he desired to drive them out of the army at once. No further trouble is anticipated at present.

When the army drilled into Walnut with 58 companies, representing 953 men, it was in a state of mutiny, so far as the Sacrament division was concerned. Gen. Kelly and Col. Sneed had had some trouble, which resulted in the court-martial of Sneed and his reduction to the ranks by a vote of 20 to 3.

Gen. Kelly took possession of the commissary department and returned to the rear of the column to look after desertions.

The Sacramento men insinuated that Kelly had not fairly distributed the food and clothing and accused him of not accounting for $1,000 collected enroute. Finally sticks and knives were freely displayed, but the arrival of citizens soon quelled the hostile display.

Gen. Kelly then spoke and said that he was sorry to see an exhibition of dirty linen in public. It was not a question of who should lead, but of going on to Washington. He said that if any body in the Sacramento division was displeased he should not attempt mutiny through selfish motives. The curse of labor the world over had been such people. If the soldiers wanted to follow Sneed they could do so, and he (Kelly) would go home.

"No," went up a shout in which a thousand voices joined.

After dinner the San Francisco men led out on the march with the Sneed sympathizers, about 300 in number or half of the Sacramento delegation in the van, for Atlantic, where Sneed threatens to force a division of the food, clothing and $1,000 in cash.

Seized an Engine and Train.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 25.—A despatch from Butte, Mont., says: The Coxeyites broke into the North Pacific railroad round-house last night, seized an engine and train, manned them from their own number, and are now flying east at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The governor and Judge Caldwell have notified United States Marshal Bede to call on the president for troops, if necessary, to recapture the train when it arrives at Butte this afternoon. Bloodshed may follow.

B. & O. Officials Alert.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 25.—General Superintendent Thomas Fitzgerald of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad arrived at Benwood, five miles below here, in his private car accompanied by about 14 detectives, to be prepared for Col. Calvin's army if they come this way. The colonel will more than likely get a hot reception if any attempt is made on the part of his men to capture a train.

The Celebrated "Jug Case."

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., April 25.—John O'Neil, who has served a sentence of 60 days in the house of correction at Rutland for violation of the prohibitory law, will be released Friday. His case, involving the constitutionality of the law, has been before the supreme court and appealed to the governor three times, it being known as the celebrated "jug case." Judge Lillie, of Whitehall, N. Y., and P. M. Meldon, of Rutland, unsuccessfully appealed to the governor for a reduction of O'Neil's fine.

Favorable Outlook for Crops.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The weekly crop report of the weather bureau, just issued, gives the following information by states: New England—Weather very favorable; season ahead of average. New York—Warm, with fine rains, invigorated vegetation; everything very promising—New Jersey—All growing crops much improving. Pennsylvania—Conditions favorable for growth and planting. Maryland—Warm rains improved wheat and all growing crops.

An Old Married Man Elopes.

SING SING, N. Y., April 25.—It is reported here that W. W. Smith, aged 55, a married man with two married daughters and two sons, eloped several days ago with Miss Lucy Marks, 23 years old, a daughter of Henry Marks of this place. Mr. Smith for several years has been manager of the Sing Sing Lime company, of which Mr. Marks is the superintendent. The parties were prominent church members.

Bound to Punish Him, Anyway.

PARIS, April 25.—The anarchist Francis has been acquitted of the charge of connection with the explosion of the bomb in the Cafe Very, but was condemned by the court to three months' imprisonment for insulting the police on the recent search of his lodgings.

Women Gain a Point in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25.—The Ohio house of representatives has passed by a constitutional majority of two the Clark senate bill granting to women the right to vote in school elections. It is now a law.

RIOTS FEARED TO-DAY

Situation in the Coke Region Again Alarming.

The Sheriff Disperses a Large Meeting of Strikers at Broadford—The Men Reassemble at Midnight and Prepare to March on the Works—Mayor May Also Be Attacked.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 25.—The strikers made some lively demonstrations along the Mount Pleasant branch last evening and for a time it looked as if there would be serious trouble. The mob which started from Mount Pleasant increased rapidly as the march progressed. At each works along the route the crowd halted while the leaders made spirited addresses. Committees were then sent to the men working in the yards and in the mines. In this way large numbers were induced to come out.

While a largely attended meeting was in progress at Broadford, Deputy Sheriff Richards, with sixty men, arrived from Uniontown.

Sheriff Richards drew his men up in line of battle and commanded the strikers to disperse.

At first they refused, but when the sheriff prepared for a charge, the mob fled in all directions.

Scores of deputies have been sent to the coke works along the Mount Pleasant branch. Trouble is feared there to-day, as the strikers who were dispersed are now assembling in that vicinity.

A monster mass meeting was held at Broadford at midnight and the men will form in line to march on the works. Another mob assembled at Moyer and an attack is expected on that works.

Sheriff Wilhelm has instructed his deputies to disperse all mobs and says he is prepared to prevent any further marching.

It is feared that to-day will be a day of violence.

Progress of the Mine Strike.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25.—The national officers of the United Mine Workers are blind as over the condition of the strike, as shown by reports received. The action of the miners of Turtle creek district, where De Armit, the operator, was trying to hold them to a 55 cent contract, recently made for six months, the prospect that the coke region miners will join the strike immediately and the news from the Monongahela district in West Virginia were the principal causes of the rejoicing.

FRANK HATTON BETTER

The Stricken Editor's Condition Favorable.

Doctors in Attendance, However, Can Give No Assurance of His Recovery. The Paralytic Stroke Came Quite Unexpected and While He Was Alone in His Office.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Mr. Frank Hatton, editor of the Washington Post, who was prostrated by a stroke of paralysis yesterday, which came upon him without any premonition, was resting easy this morning and his physicians report his condition as slightly better and favorable, although they can give no assurance of his recovery.

Mr. Hatton to all appearances had been in the best of health for days past. He went to a box party at the theatre Monday night with his business partner, Mr. Beriah Wilkins, and yesterday, shortly before the attack came upon him, was engaged in pleasant conversation with Mr. Richard Weightman, one of the editorial writers of the Post, in regard to editorial matters.

When the numbness began to steal upon him he was alone, but managed to reach the speaking tube and whistle to Mr. Wilkins, who hurried up and sent for medical assistance. At this time Mr. Hatton was able to speak, though somewhat inarticulately, and intimated that he believed he was stricken with paralysis.

His surmise proved correct.

He became unconscious and was removed to his home in an ambulance, where Doctors Sowers and Johnson took charge of the case.

Later in the day his condition became somewhat easier, he appeared to recognize those about him, and strong hopes were entertained by numerous friends that complete recovery would result. Nevertheless, his only son, who is at Princeton college, was telegraphed for and anxious inquiries poured in from every quarter.

The news was received at the capitol and in official circles generally with general expressions of regret. In his successful administration of the postoffice department under President Arthur, and in his still more successful editorial management of the Post, in conjunction with his devoted friend, ex-Representative Beriah Wilkins, Mr. Hatton had secured friends and admirers, who were unsparing in their expressions of solicitude on his behalf.

STRIKERS WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

Great Northern Men Will Present a Schedule of Wages Demanded.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 25.—The committee of the Great Northern railroad strike has decided against arbitration.

They have appointed a committee to wait upon President Hill, of the Great Northern, to lay before him a schedule of wages demanded by the men.

Fatal Dynamite Explosion.

PITTSBURG, April 25.—An explosion of dynamite occurred in the thirty-second ward last evening, causing the death of Hugo Ralph, 17 years old, the fatal injury of Andrew McClane and the serious injury of Michael Gallagher. George Kent, who is building a sewer on Wyoming street sent Ralph to bring a box of dynamite. Ralph disobeyed instructions and carried the explosive into Gallagher's blacksmith shop. Whether the boy dropped the box or not is not known. The shop was completely demolished and Ralph was blown through the roof against the house adjoining. The residence of Peter Barrett was also badly wrecked, while sashes in dwellings for a square surrounding were cleared of glass.

Chicago Gas Companies a Trust.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Attorney General Moloney, in an opinion just rendered, decided that the gas companies of this city are maintaining a trust in violation of law and he will institute proceedings at once to have their charters annulled. The attorney general made the sensational statement that he had positive knowledge that at the time he was speaking the trust was so altering their books and records as to make a favorable showing at the trial of the case.

Booth Left a Large Estate.

NEW YORK, April 25.—An inventory of the estate of the late Edwin T. Booth shows the personal property of the dead tragedian to amount in the aggregate to $602,675. The bolts in the huge iron door of the vault were so rusty that the door had to be forced open with a chisel and a sledge.

Mr. Mills Makes the Closing Speech, Declaring His Contempt for the Rules of the Senate Which Permit of Filibustering and Delay by the Minority—House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Mr. Frank Hatton, editor of the Washington Post, who was prostrated by a stroke of paralysis yesterday, which came upon him without any premonition, was resting easy this morning and his physicians report his condition as slightly better and favorable, although they can give no assurance of his recovery.

His surmise proved correct.

Nevertheless, his only son, who is at Princeton college, was telegraphed for and anxious inquiries poured in from every quarter.

SALOONS WIDE OPEN.

No Effort Now at Concealing Liquor Traffic in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 25.—Carloads of whiskey are being received here and the saloons are opening up as under former regime. Beer is on tap at old places at five cents a glass. A number of new saloons are being opened.

No effort so far to stop them has been made and the proprietors are making no effort to conceal their business.

The prohibitionists threaten to take a hand and have arrests made to test whether prohibition exists. So far, however, no warrants have been sworn out.

Philadelphia Street Cleaners' Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—The strike of the Italian street cleaners for an advance in wages is still on. Fifty white and colored men are at work in the section of the city known as "Little Italy" and, it is said, are receiving $1.50 per day, the amount demanded by the strikers. At several places the strikers attempted to start quarrels with the non-union men, but the police were active and dispersed all gatherings. In "Little Italy" a hundred or more Italian women marched through the streets behind a female leader, who carried an American flag. Many of the women carried clubs under their shawls and numerous threats to do violence to the workmen were made by them, but nothing developed.

Arrested for Arson.

CONCORD, N. H., April 25.—On Sunday evening, January 14 last, the frame building owned by ex-Governor N. G. Ordway and occupied by Joseph H. Corkum as a store and dwelling, at Warner, was burned to the ground, and the destruction of the entire business section of the village was averted with much difficulty. An investigation by the insurance company has resulted in the arrest of a young man named Amos Crawford, who admits that he was engaged by Corkum to fire the premises. Crawford was held in $500 and Corkum in $1,500 for trial.

Leominster Weavers on Strike.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., April 25.—Late last fall the Leominster Worsted company made a cut of 10 per cent, and in February followed it with another reduction of similar amount. Monday the weavers all quit work. As a result of a conference the company offered to restore five per cent. and increase running time two hours a week, making a total of 60 hours. This the weavers voted not to accept. The strike is still on, with no prospect of immediate settlement.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, - - Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, - Managing Editor.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

His sleep of 100 years brings Harold Winthrop to some quaint and remarkable experiences. If with him you'd take a peep beyond the veil and enjoy the oddities of Twentieth Century life, turn to Page 4

The Elizabeth Journal remarks:

Ex-Assemblyman John Ulrich of Plainfield has been down here a great deal of late, but this time it is not for the purpose of securing an office. It is to help all he can toward the enactment of the school bill affecting the city of Plainfield. This bill provides that the Board of Education shall not expend more than $5,000 except with the approval of the City Council.

Nay, nay, Pauline, he's agin it.

Rev. N. B. Randall of the Summit Baptist Church has fallen into pulpit sensationalism. He preached Sunday on "If Christ came to Summit", and said a good many things that will be gleefully used by opponents of the Church in criticizing religion. If such a visitation did occur, it is not unlikely that the Master would urge Rev. Randall to be less flippant and more reverent, and to stick to the good old-fashioned Gospel.

A Trenton correspondent wires:

And still no lay judge for Union county. Why this important office is "hung up" no one knows or will tell. Last night an entirely new candidate was said to have appeared on the carpet.

The anxious seat contains several Plainfield aspirants, and they're all wanting to know when the judgeship lightning is going to strike. Of course each expects it to hit him.

The news of the imperiling and almost defeat of Plainfield's School Board Bill, published exclusively in The Daily Press of yesterday, was an unwelcome surprise to the proponents of the measure. They kept The Press busy, by 'phone and in person, giving further details of yesterday's action. A later despatch said:

Nearly a solid hour of time was used up in the Senate today discussing Senator Voorhees's bill taking from Plainfield and Morristown's Boards of Education the power of making unlimited expenditures for school purposes and vesting that authority in the Common Council. A majority of the people in Plainfield want the bill, but in Morristown the feeling is solidly the other way.

The bill went through on final passage last night, but it was called back this morning on Senator Adrain's motion, for the purpose of allowing Senator Drake to offer amendments. It turned out that his amendments and some offered by Senator Daly really destroyed the effect of the measure.

Senator Voorhees made a vigorous opposition, and the amendments were voted down. The bill was again put on final passage. The necessary eleven votes did not show up. The bill fell through, but it was saved for further consideration by a motion to reconsider, which was laid on the table.

The news stirred up the citizens who had rested their case in Senator Voorhees's hands, and a strong delegation was immediately proposed, to visit Trenton forthwith and do some lobbying in opposition to that which has been so cleverly done by the trained leader fighting the measure for the School Board.

Aaron M. Powell has published another of his instructive pamphlets on the social evil. His statements, based on widespread investigation, will startle those who have been content to ignore the alarming growth of criminality. But Mr. Powell treats of the subject from the big-city point of view. A study of the social evil in such a town as Plainfield—in Plainfield itself—would be valuable in its results, if prosecuted by a man of his energy, and of his experience in applying remedies. Almost daily, The Press has brought to its attention most shocking and distressing cases of immorality. The prevalence of vice in Plainfield is far greater than most Christian people of the place suspect. A particularly shameful feature is the extreme youth involved. Frequently, at night, boys not yet 21 and girls still in their teens are to be seen under the influence of strong drink, and shameful proceedings are ignored by the police because the authorities dislike to bring the truth home to heedless parents and shrink from involving innocent families in disgrace. These shameful cases are generally directly traceable to 'parental neglect, and they afford an impressive object lesson that fathers and mothers must keep their children off the streets or continually under trustworthy guardianship. It is not the purpose of The Daily Press to nauseate its readers with wretched details of this all too prevalent evil. But the steady increase of revolting immorality in Plainfield cries out in a thousand tongues, and in the name of human decency The Press implores the leaders of the social-purity movement to lend a hand in Plainfield. To those who are sincere in the effort to secure reform, the facts of scores of individual cases are easily accessible.

SUCCESS OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

Ex-Governor William E. Russell, a coming President, has contributed an article to the May number of The Forum, on "A Year of Democratic Administration". He clears the way for a frank statement of what has been done, by explaining the proper point of view to judge the success of the party. There is, he points out, a radical difference of doctrine and purpose between the parties, and every man who wishes to make a fair judgment will keep in mind that the purpose of the Democratic party is to limit the powers of the government to prevent its interference with private business and, both for political and economic reasons, to reduce the tariff to a revenue basis. It is from this broad plane only that it is fair to judge the party. Matters of administrative detail are important, but they are subordinate. Personal and sectional matters may be important, but they, too, are subordinate. The one leading question is, Has the Administration kept faith with the people who ordered it to reform our fiscal system? "The election of 1892"—he says—"considered and decided this one question uppermost in the minds of the people, as clearly as the election of 1860 dealt with slavery, or the election of 1864 with a vigorous prosecution of the war."

Governor Russell then proceeds by asking, How far and fully has the Democratic party met its imperative duty? And he says:

It has with reasonable dispatch framed and put upon its passage legislation to this end. It has in such legislation properly recognized the necessity of proceeding slowly, carefully, in any great reform touching many and varied interests; but it has radically and permanently changed the tariff policy of the country.

A year of Democratic administration can show as a worthy record:

1st—Loyalty to its main duty of repealing McKinleyism, reversing the tariff policy of the country, and making public, not private interests, its fundamental principle.

2d—Placing the currency of the country upon a sound basis by the repeal of dangerous Republican legislation.

3d—Repeal of the Federal election law, and a reuniting of the country more closely in love and loyalty.

4th—Economy, retrenchment, and reform in appropriations, expenditure, and the administration of all all departments.

These things it has done, not only in adherence to its principles, but also in obedience to the explicit mandate of the country.

Last—and perhaps not least—honorable conduct of our foreign relations, with justice to a smaller and weaker power.

The Democratic party in the past has achieved success only by courageous loyalty to principle; it never has succeeded by substituting tactics for statesmanship, or compromise for courage, and it never will.

THAT WATER CONTRACT.

FOUNDED ON A CHARTER WHOSE LEGAL LIFE IS QUESTIONED.

This Correspondent Thinks the Cry of School Extravagance on the Part of the City Fathers a Cloak to Their Activity in the Water-Works Franchise.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The two citizens who have protested against the water monopoly have written wisely and well. Here is a concern which by intelligent and well informed citizens is thought to have no legal corporate existence, even; but whose promotors have nevertheless had the assurance and cunning to fasten it on this ring-ridden town. A broken down contract and a fragment of water-works were grafted on a charter which for twenty years had decayed in the grave of defunct legislation. Some of the men who composed the old corporation were yet living to contradict the transfer of the ancient charter, and to protest against any attempt to use it. But the scheme had been put up by persons long skilled in such political and personal engineering. The Mayor said it was only such a little contract—only for a year, you know. The old story was started of the possibilities of a more or less remote contamination of Plainfield water, the law question was quieted somehow;—no serious effort being made to uphold the right of the people against this strange resurrection—the Common Council fell into line with a unanimity that was fairly startling; and the contract was forced through in spite of the protests made and the fact set forth. Of course the "Water Company"—whatever that is—promised to be good to everybody. By this time, some of the people know how it has kept its promises—or broken them. And now, again, it is only such a little extension of this monopoly that is asked—only nine years!

Is it not time that the Common Council should halt, and that the Mayor should take thought on the rights of the people? Just now, the School Board law is the diversion; and the members of the old combine who formerly favored School Board extravagances are crying out in hysterics to keep down the school expenses, whilst they are, under cover of this diversion, quietly arranging their second grand coup in the water business Plainfield knows them. She knows the men to whom she is indebted for many schemes of personal aggrandizement, from which she has long suffered But Plainfield is a patient ass. She meekly carries her enlarged burdens—including a greatly increased taxation—and the combine waxes fat and rich.

It seems to have made no impression thus far on our City Fathers that all modern and intelligent municipal progress is in the direction of the ownership of all public works by the people. The members of the combine prefer it otherwise. They prefer that the city shall own the unprofitable things—like sewers; and that they, the prosperous and enterprising manipulators of public affairs, should own the profitable things, like gas works and water-works. Just now people who refuse to be dragooned into a consent to bond the city for sewers in order that the water-works may make more money, are taunted with harsh epithets and with rude remarks sedulously circulated. Can it be possible that a fairly intelligent Common Council is wholly in the power of these schemers?

Chinese Merchants Alarmed.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The opinion of Attorney-General Olney, rendered at the request of Secretary Carlisle, to the effect that unless a Chinese merchant trades under his own name in the United States he cannot return to this country after having once left it, is a cause of much concern to that class of residents. Its promulgation has been the cause of discovering a remarkable condition of affairs respecting these merchants. It is that probably not a single Chinese merchant in the United States uses his own name in his business. He uses a title equivalent to that of a corporation in the English tongue. In the west, it is said, "The Pacific Improvement Company" is a favorite name for Chinese dealers. J. Hubbey Ashton, counsel for the "Six Companies," will ask the attorney-general to hear an argument on the matter involved in the opinion referred to, with a view to securing a modification or reversal of it.

The Spring House Cleaning Wisely urged by the BOARD OF HEALTH is not complete without a proper use of DISINFECTANTS. But, in choosing these, do not be misled into paying fancy prices for "patent" specialties. Common lime is better than any of them for damp cellars and stables. For vaults, drains, cess pools, the best and cheapest disinfectant is COPPERAS, supplied by us by the pound or barrel at low rates. But for use in the house, in the plumbing, in kitchen sinks, in closets, for purifying the air of sick rooms, deodorizing offensive discharges—in short, for all purposes of a household disinfectant, nothing can excel the powerful solution of chlorides made and sold by us for 15 years under the name of REYNOLDS'S ODORLESS DISINFECTANT. Quart bottles 25c. To be diluted for use according to directions on label.

Physicians Say So.

The only way to cure salt rheum eczema pimples, boils, blotches and ulcers is by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. "I used numbers of so-called blood purifiers," writes Mrs. Belinda Hodsdon, of Haverhill, N. H., "without benefit, until I began to take Favorite Remedy. Although suffering from an ulcerated sore leg, a few bottles cured me."

Two Ways of Making Money.

1—Get a job in the United States mint.

2—Attend the great sale that is now on at White's—you will find it the surest and most pleasant way. We have been very busy during the past month buying goods from manufacturers who wanted cash and were willing to sell at our price, and we will offer the entire lot of goods at remarkably low figures.

Here's the Goods, the Prices.

Dress Goods—The profit cut off of every piece of Dress Goods in the store.

The largest purchase of Dress Goods we ever made at one time was made last week—over two hundred pieces of fine imported dress fabrics, not one piece costing less than 60c per yard and some 70 and 80c. We put them all on one table at the reasonably low price of 39c per yard. All on table No. 1.

Spring Coats and Capes—The entire line of one of the leading coat and cape manufacturers of New York City. We cleaned out the entire line at one-third off, and they will be sold the same way. Every garment is made of the best material, handsomely trimmed and made in the latest style. In addition to coats and capes you will find in this department an elegant line of house wrappers and street dresses. Fine cambric wrappers, ready made, 89c. This is a new department and to bring it before the people we have made prices very attractive.

Matting—At the recent trade sale in New York we bought over 200 rolls of the finest matting made at lower prices than matting ever sold for before. We offer a good heavy matting for 10c per yard. Extra heavy team less fancy matting 14c. Extra heavy team less white matting, a great bargain, 14c. worth 25c. Linen warp seamless matting 25c., regular value 40c.

Housefurnishing Dept.—Our regular annual sale of granite ironware takes place this week. We put on sale over 200 cases of this ware. Will be sold at the same prices you pay for tinware.

		Our price	Reg. Pc.
Granite Iron pie plates		12	25

" "	"	22	40

" "	tea kettles	85	$1.50
" "	dish pans	67	$1.25

The above goods and prices are just a few of the many bargains this house will offer during this sale. Every department is over loaded with the best of everything, and you can rest assured that the prices are the lowest.

WHITE, of Plainfield.

AND THIS IS PLAINFIELD!

AND WE ARE SPORTSMEN!

Why, in That Elder Day, to Be a Crescent Follower Was Greater Than a Cozey Army—Yet Somerville Now Wins Where We Yield Weakly—Be We True Kranks, That Suffer Such Dishonor, Old Crescent Rooters, and Wash Not the Stain Away in Base-Ball Gore!—Rouse Ye, Bleacher and Grand-Stand Shouters, Get up a Nine and Make Things Hum.

To the Editor of Plainfield's Base-Ball Newspaper:—The indications all over the country are that base-ball has taken a new lease of life and will be more popular than ever this year, and with those facts staring a lover of the sport of all sports in the face he cannot sit quiet and decline to raise his voice in advocating the grand game for Plainfield.

Where are the sporting people of Plainfield?

They will probably say the people will not support them. It is true that the people of Plainfield will not support a paid professional team, but they would attend games played by amateurs whom they all know. That fact was demonstrated last year in the little village of Somerville. In the beginning of the year the kranks howled at the mention of an amateur team, but when the gates were opened they all came, and before the season was half over not a man in the town but was heart and soul with the kids. With a professional team Somerville lost money. With an amateur team she ended the season with some two hundred dollars to the good. If this can be done in Somerville, it surely can be accomplished in a city of seventeen thousand people like Plainfield. That there are many good amateur ball players in the city is fully demonstrated by the number of games played weekly. There are many young business men in the city who can play ball. There were such in 1888, and there are now. Let us have amateur ball, and games with the West Ends. Let us go back to those good old days of 1888, when on the Front street grounds such men as Doane, Demarest and Cornwall battled with might and main for supremacy and glory. The base-ball fever is in the veins of every true American citizen, and local pride in an amateur team will awaken it to such an extent as never before.

The people of Plainfield do not want to see professional ball. If they do, they can see it at the Polo grounds. What they want is pure sport such as can be had with an amateur team and games with Somerville. The business men would be in for it, heart and soul. On holidays Plainfield will be dead without base-ball, but crowds could be drawn to both towns by playing the games with the West Ends on those days, in the morning in one place, in the afternoon in the other.

The old bitter feeling has to a great extent died out, and there is probably more friendship between the commuters of Plainfield and Somerville than of any other two towns along the Central. There would, therefore, be all the more excitement. The Plainfield Press and the Somerset Democrat did more to boom the attendance of the games of other days than any other living being. Let them do so again. There were many unkind things said on both sides, but that is past. None of the club officials ever minded what was said. They were glad to get the advertisement, and the box receipts showed that it was advertisement. An amateur team could be run at a small expense in this city, and money could be made, not to speak of the fun, glory and honor. This year Manager Lewis C. Mack of the West Ends tells me that he will have a strictly amateur team. James Jones, a local twirler, assisted by J. G. McLaughlin of Plainfield, will do the pitching. Bindenberger, the crack Pennington catcher who lives in Cranford, will be the backstop. Decker, a Stevens Institute man, will occupy first and serve as change catcher. George Hoffman, a son of jovial Stewart Hoffman the coal man, is at second. Major, the little fellow who made the lucky hits in the last Crescent-West End game, is at third. Pool of Rutgers is at short. Speer of Princeton, Farreteon, a military cadet, and Gaston of Ogontz, are in the field. As will be seen, all of Manager Mack's material is of the young, snappy sort, and he has already arranged games with the Staten Island Athletic Club, the New Jersey Athletic Club, Montclair, Rutgers, Morristown, Elizabeth Athletic Club, Raritan, Flemington, and Washington. He has a few dates open, and if Plainfield would get on a hustle games could be arranged.

Somerville has always been willing to do her share in base-ball affairs, even to those little unsavory things which have gone far to kill the game. With an amateur team the danger of crookedness is entirely eliminated, and the element of playing ball for pure glory is predominant. Now let The Press start the ball rolling. It is the one newspaper in Plainfield in which the people have confidence. With The Press as a starting power, the sporting element of the city can be awakened into such a fever as has not been seen since those festive days of '88 when the whole grand-stand—men and women included—rose as one person and howled: "Slide, Cornwall, slide!" Let some good, live, honest man be made manager, and we will have glorious sport this Summer. Again let me say, Where is Plainfield's sporting blood!

AN OLD-TIMER, AND LOVER OF THE GAME.

Spring Crop of Stakes.

The engineer went over the route laid out for the electric road between Westfield and Springfield, yesterday. He complained that so many of his stakes had been pulled up that it would be necessary to go over the entire line again.

Of Course You Are Reading It.

The second instalment of "A Twentieth Century Romance" on Page 4 today prepares the reader for some wonderful surprises in coming chapters.

ED RANDOLPH DISAPPEARS.

Went to Westfield on an Errand, and Cannot Be Found.

Edward Randolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Randolph, who live near South Plainfield, has mysteriously disappeared, and his whereabouts is unknown.

Yesterday morning he called at the drug store of his uncle, L. W. Randolph, for the purpose of doing an errand for him, at Shove's drug store in Westfield, borrowing Mr. Randolph's wheel for the trip.

He did not return yesterday, and last evening his parents became alarmed and started out in search for the missing youth.

On inquiry it was learned that he had called on the Westfield druggist, but nothing further was known. It was rumored today that he was seen yesterday on his way to Asbury Park, but this report has not been confirmed.

No word has been received of young Randolph, and his sudden disappearance is causing his family much anxiety. He told his uncle when he went away that he did not know where he would "strike out" from Westfield, and he is evidently taking a long ride.

SNAP SHOTS.

The Camera Club of Wilmington is a new one in the Interchange Series, and therefore its first set of slides, shown here last night, was not up to the standard. The imperfections of the plates, however, did not hide the fact that the members have artistic taste and have had access to attractive landscapes. The views taken along the Brandywine were of historic interest.

The next slides will come from Waterbury, and will, if possible, be shown in the old rooms, before May 2.

A lease was signed last night with the Babcock estate for the rooms arranged by Mr. Babcock on the east side of the fourth floor of the new building. The lease is for five years, beginning April 1. The large exhibition room is lighted by two large skylights, leaving space for pictures unbroken by windows. The operating room is lighted in the same way. There are seven dark rooms, including one for the women.

When the members have furnished new quarters they think they will have the finest in the country.

The new rooms will be opened in the last of Summer or in September, probably with an elaborate loan exhibition.

After their present lease expires, May 1, and until the Babcock Building is completed, the club will store its stock and will meet in G. Thorn's gallery on East Front street.

Arrah na Pogue.

Rehearsals are being held in the Lyceum this week after the mission services, of the play "Arrah na Pogue"; or, Arrah of the Kiss, to be presented in Music Hall next Tuesday evening. Although the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum are greatly interested in the preparations, the proceeds will be for St. Mary's Church and not the Lyceum.

The character of the play and the spirit in which the players have entered the rehearsals promise an excellent entertainment.

The leading character, Arrah, is taken by Miss May Passmore. Another important part, Fannie Powers, will be acted by Miss Julia Day. Miss Kate Cullen will appear in comedy work as Katty.

The Shaun's part is the leading one among the men and has been assigned to Charles J. Ward. Other players of prominence are M. J. Cashin, as Col. O'Grady; Cornelius Guinee, as Beamish McCaul; William O'Connor, as Major Coffin; Thos. Commerford, as Sergeant of a British company; and John Whalen as the villain, Michael Feeney. Mr. Ward is in charge, and Michael Winn is the property man of the company.

Before Judge Coddington.

Michael Higgins was fined $1 in the City Court this morning. He rode a bicycle on a West Fourth street sidewalk Monday.

Frank McClade, who left the court-room yesterday morning after paying a fine of $1 only to become intoxicated again, was sent to Elizabeth for 40 days. His second arrest was in an undertaking wagon.

Bettie Shilton and Etta Windleton, colored, were released on $50 bail to appear Saturday morning to answer a charge of using profane language on South Second street, preferred by John Scott of the same race.

Frank Hart was ordered to come again Saturday and gave $50 bail for his appearance. He is charged by Garret P. Smith with striking the plaintiff in D. S. Roberts's stables yesterday noon.

Ageny's Lucky Stop.

Phineas Ageny narrowly missed being killed at the unused Church Street railroad crossing yesterday afternoon. He was driving Coriell's butcher wagon. A Philadelphia train and an east-bound passenger train came up about the same time. Ageny stopped his horse within a foot of the track.

Success, Every Way.

The stage setting of "The Grey Mare" to be given in the Casino next week will be elaborate and handsome, and with Plainfield's exceptional amateur dramatic talent and the Lyceum Theatre orchestra the artistic as well as the financial success of the play is assured.

Unmuzzled Dog Nuisance.

A large dog bit George Bird of West Front street in the calf of the leg yesterday, inflicting a sore wound. The dog was afterwards shot by George Leland.

For sick stomach and all other conditions resulting from constipation; go by the book on Beecham's pills.

GREAT GOOD ACCOMPLISHED.

Paulist Fathers Doing a Noble Work Among Plainfield Catholics.

The mission services held by the Paulist Fathers in St. Mary's R. C. Church this week are doing great good among the men. Last week the women were appealed to, and the services were similarly interesting and well attended.

The object of these services is the giving of a fresh impulse to the devotion of the people. The enliven the piety of those who have to go on day after day with their devotions, and who need a certain impetus, as it were, to produce in them a livelier and better spirit.

The Paulist Fathers have their headquarters in 59th street, New York. The two now laboring in Plainfield, are the Fathers Hopper and Hedges. The work is very hard and trying, and the priests who devote their lives to this work rise at 4:30 and retire late in the evening. Their services are in great demand among the churches. The call from St. Mary's for this occasion was sent half a year ago.

The two here now have engagements ahead for 37 missions.

Each morning mass is held at 5 and afterwards practical instruction is given on some point of morality. At 8 in the evening, after devotions, a sermon is preached by one of the visiting priests on a set subject.

Besides their regular mission work, the Paulist Fathers are privileged to act as confessors to the congregations they come in contact with, certain hours being set aside for this each day. It is found that the giving of this opportunity of confessing to strange priests is very advantageous.

An idea of the work may be gained from the subjects of evening sermons of this week:

Monday—Mortal Sin and Its Effects.
Tuesday—The Life and Death of Man; or, the Particular Judgment.
Wednesday—The Evils of Intemperance.
Thursday—Hell.
Friday—The Mercy of God.

The temperance teachings tonight will be by Father Hopper. The sermon tomorrow evening, "Hell", is the most powerful and thought-awakening one that Father Hedges preaches. The services for men will close Sunday night.

Off July 3 For Europe.

The European excursion, consisting almost wholly of New Jersey people, which will be managed by Mr. Honeyman of this city, starting July 3, has obtained almost its full quota of members, Mr. Honeyman desiring forty in order to make the trip upon the very low basis of expense announced (only $250 for 50 days), and has already booked 38, so that the tour being actually made is assured.

The party is to see, by the pleasurable means of carriages or coaches instead of the railway car, some of the finest portions of England, including the districts of Newstead Abbey and Nottingham, Leicestershire, the neighborhood of Coventry, Combe Abbey, Kenilworth, Stratford, Wroxton Abbey, "Banbury Cross," the famous estate of the Duke of Marlborough, etc. They expect to sleep frequently in small, historic inns; picnic on the banks of the Isis, Avon and Trent; visit also the beautiful cathedrals of Durham, York, Lincoln, Peterborough, Ely and others, many of which the casual traveler or general excursionist does not see. They are to stop in the capitol of Scotland, spend a night at Melrose, visit the lands of Burns at Ayr and Dumfries, breathe the poetry of the English Lake District, and also spend nearly a week in that city of cities, London.

On the Continent they will take a three days' view of Holland, examine into the beauties of the International Exposition at Antwerp, go to the head emporium of fashions (for without seeing Paris what journey abroad would be complete!) and take a look at the spot where occurred the auto de fe of Jean d' Arc.

Of the party enrolled, over three-fourths are of the gentler sex, many of them being teachers both in the public and private schools of this States. Others are men, who, alone or with their wives, are anxious to see for the first time, without any trouble whatever, the best that is to be seen of an European trip in the time limited at their disposal.

Laudanum Topers.

Policeman William Mattox arrested Thomas Smith of Cottage place on complaint of Josephine Jackson, both colored, last night.

He was charged with going to a drug store last night and buying laudanum. She took too much and became ill. He said that Josephine had sent him to the store. City Judge Coddington promptly discharged Smith this morning.

Neighbors say that Josephine's illness was caused by her eating starch in a vain attempt to make her complexion lighter.

TO ARREST COXEY TRAMPS.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT BY THE PRESIDENT.

The Men Who Stole the Northern Pacific Train Caught in a Trap—Delayed by Landslides and a Removed Bridge.

(Special to The Press.)

NEW YORK, April 25—Word was received in this city today that the mob of Coxey tramps which seized a train of the Northern Pacific Railroad at Butte City, Montana, and proceeded eastward at the rate of about forty miles an hour yesterday, came to grief at Bozeman yesterday, and it is thought that they are now trying to get out of the way of the authorities.

Just east of the Bozeman tunnel they met with a landslide, and it took the 500 all day to remove it. Then they started on their way to St. Paul, and had not gone far before they encountered another landslide, which delayed them for a short time. They cleared that away, and when they got to the bridge over the Rosebud river they found that the company had removed the bridge, and they were caught in a trap.

Last night, when the facts of the situation had been laid before Attorney General Olney by Col. McNaught, the counsel of the road, and when Judge Knowles telegraphed for soldiers President Cleveland ordered out troops to assist the United States marshal and instructions were given by Gen. Schofield to arrest the whole mob and aid the marshals in every way. The troops stationed at Fort Keogh were sent to the place where the train was stopped by the taking down of the bridge, and they were expected to arrive this morning.

A marshal and 100 deputies were sent after the train on a special from Butte City, last night, and it is thought that they will be there by this evening when they will take charge of the property of the company. The trains will be running as usual in a short time.

TIES PILED ON THE TRACK.

Attempt to Wreck the Theatre Train on the Long Branch Road.

ASBURY PARK, April 24—Early this morning the local freight train on the New York and Long Branch Railroad landed with a crash into a pile of railroad ties which had been placed upon the track just below Belmar. The pilot and headlight of the engine were carried away, and had it not been for the low rate of speed at which the train was running it would have been ditched. The train hands were nearly all in the caboose. The shock threw them into a heap. When they rushed to the head of the train they found the engine's nose in a pile of ties on the track.

They found that an attempt had been made to wreck what is known as the "theatre train", which leaves New York from the depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad at 11:45 o'clock at night. This train arrives at Asbury Park at 1:42 a. m. The next stop is Belmar, and further south to the terminus at Point Pleasant it stops only on signal. The local freight train happened to be running ahead of the theatre train. If it had not been for this the theatre train would have been derailed and possibly ditched.

The train hands on the local freight, after removing the ties, found another pile of ties also on the south-bound track. These they also removed. They carried a portion of the ties to the office of Superintendent Blodgett, and left in his office a detailed statement of the accident. The general belief is that the wreck was attempted by some one whom Superintendent Blodgett had discharged. The detectives of the company have the matter in charge, and arrests will undoubtedly be made this morning.

—A May Queen Festival will be given by Emmanuel Baptist Church in Central Hall Thursday evening, May 24.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerves, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the hearts, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

MELOPOIA MUSIC.

Second Concert More Delightful Than the First.

It was evident that each member of the Melopoia purposed to do his or her part toward making the second concert in the Casino last night a success, by the careful attention paid to each move of Mr. Chapman's baton and the effort to bring out the light and shade of each number.

Miss Muldoon in her opening solo won the hearts of the large audience present, by her winning manners and sweet voice, an encore being demanded of her on every appearance. The incidental solo by Miss Muldoon in "Wynken, Blynken and Nod", was beautiful, the chorus sustaining their part well.

Mr. Devoll possesses a tenor voice of an exceptionally sweet and sympathetic quality, and apparently shared the honors of the evening with Miss Muldoon. His selections were all pleasing, and each was sung with much expression.

The programme was varied with several piano solos by Barend Van Gerbig, and although his selections have been heard many times, he too delighted the audience, and received an encore after playing Liszt's 12th Rhapsodie.

The work of Miss Jessie Utter sustained her excellent reputation, and Emile Levy also won plaudits.

The audience completely filled the Casino, and it was a select and dressy affair.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

A Twentieth Century Romance.

By EFFIE W. MERRIMAN.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.]

When Harold stopped to think of it, he was obliged to admit that it was proof that he must have slept longer than he had thought, or that he was the victim of a joke over which he had no control. He concluded to humor the lady and see if he might not find a key to the solution.

"Could you not," he said, "send out and buy me a ready made suit?"

"It would be impossible to find anything large enough," replied Mrs. Winthrop. "We have no men so large as you. Really you will have to be patient a little while. I have sent for a tailor, who will be here very soon."

A little more conversation followed, which tended to mystify Harold more and more. Then Mrs. Winthrop left the room, and soon afterward her husband appeared in the doorway. Harold recognized him at once as the man who had fainted. He was yet pale, but the excitement of beholding the man who had awakened after a nap of a hundred years had brought a faint color to his lips and a becoming brightness to his eyes.

"He is a dear little thing," thought Harold, "but how much more attractive he would be in skirts!"

The little man came slowly into the room, looking as if he were doubtful as to the wisdom of such a procedure, and Harold hoped that he might prove to be more helpful than his crazy wife had been.

"Good morning, sir," he said pleasantly. "Can you tell me how long I have slept?"

"One hundred years today," was the unexpected and highly exasperating reply.

"Another lunatic!" groaned Harold. "What can mother be thinking of?"

"How do you feel?" inquired the little man. "Are you stiff? Will your joints work? My, but you have slept! The scientific world has made you a study for generations."

"Much obliged, I'm sure," replied Harold in default of a more brilliant reply. It was somewhat amusing to a man who knew himself to be just 23 years of age to be told that he had been an object of curiosity for generations.

"What has the scientific world thought to do about you?" it suddenly occurred to him to inquire.

"They say this is man's century," replied the little fellow, "but I don't know that I understand the meaning of that. There are many men who are dissatisfied with things in general, but I don't know why they should be, I'm sure. I'm comfortable enough, and I don't believe a change would make things any better."

This was all Greek to Harold, and when he was in college he declined to study Greek.

"I wonder if you are really a man?" he asked. "You are pretty enough for a doll."

"Do you think me pretty?" The little man blushed beautifully. "Wife says I am," he added. "She is awfully jealous, don't you know. But you are a man too. She doesn't like to have another woman look at me, but she ought not to mind because a man thinks me pretty, ought she?"

Harold was disgusted. He wanted to take the little fellow between his thumb and finger and crush him, but restrained himself with the thought that the man was a lunatic.

"You—get—my—clothes," he said, with great sternness. He hoped to frighten his guest into obedience. "Get them this minute or I'll"——

"But, sir," faltered the little man, "your clothes were moth eaten years ago."

"Oh, heavens! See here, you chattering monkey, if you don't do as I tell you I'll drop you out the window."

Harold arose as if to execute his threat, and the little man fled, screaming, into the hall. Harold wrapped his tattered bedding around him and followed, determined to find something to wear. He was just in time to see Mrs. Winthrop caressing her little husband and to hear her telling him not to be afraid, for nothing should hurt him as long as she lived to protect him.

"Go back to your room," she said sternly when she saw Harold. It is exactly what he would have been most anxious to do under ordinary circumstances, but now he felt that he was in a place where desperate measures must be employed. He was convinced that his garments had been taken from his own room by some one whose intentions were not of the friendliest; and he determined to go down stairs and find some member of his family, even though he must appear in tattered nightgown and bedding much the worse from wear. So when Mrs. Winthrop ordered him back to his room he simply told her to go to thunder, nor did he feel at all ashamed for speaking so rudely to a lady, as he would have done had she seemed to him less like a man and more like a woman.

Mrs. Winthrop gently pushed her husband toward a door leading to another room.

"Go in there, dear," she said, "and do not be afraid. I'll get him back to bed in a moment."

"I don't want to strike a lady," Harold remarked, with great earnestness, "but if you touch me you'll be sorry."

Mrs. Winthrop showed no nervousness.

"Will you walk back to your room," she asked, "or must I carry you?"

Harold made no reply. He thought it scarcely worth while. He started to pass her that he might go down stairs, when he suddenly felt her arms around his waist. He endeavored to free himself, but could not.

"If you don't release me, I'll knock you down!" he thundered. The little man screamed in terror and begged his wife to let him go for help, but she commanded him to keep quiet. Mrs. Winthrop was perfectly self possessed. Harold felt that he was being lifted from his feet. He fought desperately, but when one has slept for a hundred years one's strength becomes exhausted. Harold was no match for the powerful woman, and almost before he knew it he was held firmly on his bed by Mrs. Winthrop, who called to her husband to bring fresh bedding to be used in place of that which he had destroyed.

The little man screamed in terror.

"Now, sir," she said when Harold no longer offered resistance, "I want to have no more trouble with you. You have lain here a hundred years, and it won't hurt you to keep quiet a day or two longer. You must stay until the tailor comes to make your suit."

She turned to leave the room again, and Harold called after her to remain.

"Stop!" he implored. "Where is my father?"

"No one knows, sir. He died about five years after he had put you into that hypnotic sleep, so I am told. He had expected to awaken you in a few hours, and when he failed to do it his heart broke. It is quite a wonderful historical fact, sir. Should you like to see a school history?"

"No, I think not," replied Harold faintly. A sudden remembrance had illumined his mind. He recalled the housewarming and his opposition to being made to sleep past the hour when he wished to walk home with Letty Mays. He looked at his hands. They had been brown from boating when he went to sleep. He had spent many hours in trying to get them as deeply sunburned as those of the leaders in the athletic club to which he belonged. Now they were as white and soft as a baby's. He knew that they could not have been bleached in one night. He looked around his room. It had been painfully new when he went to sleep; now much of the woodwork was moth eaten. Instead of a smell of varnish there was a smell of decay. The more he thought of it the more convinced he became that the woman and her husband had spoken the truth, and that he had slept many years. He tried to realize his position. It was far from being desirable, as may be imagined. None of his near relatives was living. There was not one soul whom he knew to congratulate him on having awakened. He neither felt nor looked a day older than when he had gone to sleep, and he told himself that he could not hope to die for many years. Yet life looked to him to be hardly worth living. He had always dreaded change. He disliked making new acquaintances, but now he faced the necessity of becoming acquainted with persons of whom he had never so much as heard and of trying to accustom himself to a world 123 years older than that into which he had been born.

His reverie was disturbed by the entrance of the tailor, who was no larger than the man who had fainted.

"Truly," said the tailor, surveying Harold with astonishment, "truly there were giants in those days! Were there many men as large as you?"

"I was not considered very large," replied Harold. "My father was taller and heavier." It was hard for Harold to use the past tense, but he now thought it to be a necessity, and he did not believe in fighting the inevitable.

"My, my," exclaimed the tailor, "how very large you are! I have been obliged to get my own living ever since my wife died. I was a tailor before she married me and have been a tailor ever since her death, but I never before took measurements like these. I'm not sure, sir, that I can find a piece of cloth large enough for a whole suit."

"Then make it of five or six pieces," replied Harold impatiently. "Bring me anything that will hide my nakedness. I am tired of lying here."

"I should think you would be," replied the tailor feelingly.

"Can you tell me anything about a girl of the name of Letty Mays?" asked Harold as the tailor was about to leave.

"Letty Mays!" repeated the tailor. "I never heard the name. It is not in the histories—oh, yes, it is too! She was the girl to whom you were betrothed. She was a rattle brained"——

"Look out!" thundered Harold, raising himself in bed. He looked fierce enough to frighten a man of his own size, and the tailor rushed from the room, his face white with fear.

Mrs. Winthrop came in at that moment to bring a history for Harold, and for fully two minutes they looked at each other without flinching.

"You are very strong for a man," said she at last.

"You are as strong as a man," replied Harold.

"Strong as a man!" Mrs. Winthrop smiled contemptuously. "We will not pursue that subject," she said. "I simply want to say that unless you show yourself a little more tractable I shall be obliged to have you examined for insanity."

With that remark she left the room, and Harold spent the time in which his suit was being made in reading of the events of his day as recorded in the history and in alternately laughing and swearing at the untruthfulness of the pictures presented. He finished the book, convinced that he had really slept a hundred years.

CONTINUED TOMORROW.

YOUNG SPIRITS,

a vigorous body and robust strength, follow good health. But all fail when the vital powers are weakened. Nervous debility and loss of manly power result from bad habits, contracted by the young through ignorance of their ruinous consequences. Low spirits, melancholia, impaired memory, morose, or irritable temper, fear of impending calamity and a thousand and one derangements of body and mind, result from such pernicious practices. All these are permanently cured by improved methods of treatment without the patient leaving home.

A medical treatise written in plain but chaste language, treating of the nature, symptoms and curability of such diseases, sent securely sealed in a plain envelope, on receipt of this notice, with 10 cents in stamps, for postage. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

THEY ALL SAY THE SAME.

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.]

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

Our office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays 4 to 6 p. m.

Those living at a distance can consult the Doctor by letter.

It's Right Against Common Sense

to suppose that an imitation offers the customer any guarantee like the original does. Take Cottolene for example, FAIRBANK & CO. discovered it, perfected it, and spent thousands in making its merits known. It is plainly to their interest to make and keep it what it is to-day—the most popular shortening in the world.

But when you come

HOGAN EASILY SUBDUED

Surrenders With His Men to Federal Troops.

The Train-Stealing Commonwealers Headed Off at Forsyth, Mont., and Made Prisoners—They Previously Got the Best of Deputy Marshals After an Exchange of Shots, Which Caused the First Bloodshed. Peace Reigns Again in the Kelly Contingent—Washington Officials Alert—Special Police to Be Sworn In—The Whole Army May Be Quarantined When it Enters the District of Columbia.

FORSYTH, Mont., April 26.—The Montana commune, numbering 650 men, arrived on their stolen train a few minutes before 11 p. m. They were informed that 600 United States regulars were waiting for them at Fort Keogh, 43 miles east.

The leaders were considerably disconcerted over the announcement, but stated that they did not propose to turn back or desert the train.

Some of the men said that the train would lie here until daylight, but there was an impression afloat that this information was given out as a blind, and that it was intended that the train should be on its way again soon after midnight.

At 11:30 word was received that the troops had left Fort Keogh to meet the industrials at Forsyth or Rosebud. This announcement caused great excitement.

At 12:30 a. m., a special train bearing the troops arrived. Col. Page at once demanded the surrender of the Coxeyites. There was some hesitation on the part of the commonwealers, but when they saw the gatling gun wheeled into position and Uncle Sam's soldiers preparing for action they changed their minds and gave up all idea of resistance.

They were at once placed under arrest. Hogan and the other leaders will probably be prosecuted and punished severely. All of the men will be taken to Butte, turned over to the United States officers and locked up.

FIRST BLOODSHED.

Hogan's Forces Too Formidable for the United States Marshals.

BILLINGS, Mont., April 26.—The first bloodshed resulting from the clashes between the law and the industrial army movement which is now sweeping over the country was witnessed here yesterday.

The little city was thrown into wild excitement by the announcement that the train stealing contingent of the Coxey army was rushing into the city on a Northern Pacific train from the west at a high rate of speed closely followed by a train load of United States deputy marshals. The truth of the statement was soon verified, when the train of box cars ran into town.

The Coxeyites were overtaken by the special train of the marshals just as they were pulling away from Stillwater and attempted to arrest the progress of the train bearing the 500 unemployed. The leaders would not give up the train and instructed the men to go ahead, which was done. The two trains then came on to this city when a stop was ordered, the conflict between the two bodies resulting.

Fired on the Industrials.

As near as can be learned Marshal McDermott ordered the leader of the captured train to surrender, and when he refused to do so a few of the marshals before receiving a command to do so fired upon the crowd of men on the cars. The shots were quickly returned by the industrials.

A number of shots were exchanged between the parties before Marshal McDermott could regain control of his men. During the firing one of the deputies was seriously wounded and one of the men on the rear platform car was shot in the groin.

McDermott decided that his men were not equal to the odds against them and ordered his men to desist firing, which they did.

The captured train soon after pulled out from the depot, and McDermott notified the authorities that his force was inadequate to capture the 500 men, who were determined to retain possession of the train.

FRYE'S MEN DESPERATE.

They Capture a Train and Use the Railroad Fences for Fuel.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 26.—That contingent of Coxey's army under command of Gen. Louis C. Frye forcibly took possession of an east-bound freight train leaving here last evening. The officers of the army claim to have paid the railroad company for transportation as far as Brazil, twenty miles east of here, but after the loading of horses, wagons, cooking utensils and blankets the train pulled out leaving the industrials in this city.

They spent the night near here, using the railroad company's fences and ties for fuel. One train was side-tracked to prevent the commonwealers seizing it.

When trains were started yesterday afternoon the 300 "soldiers" made a rush for a freight and captured it. The trainmen were unable to prevent them riding as the industrials were determined and any resistance would have resulted in bloodshed.

The members of the army say they will continue to burn the railroad company's fences and ties until their blankets and cooking outfit are brought back.

Hogan's Train Was Well Equipped.

MILES CITY, Mont., April 26.—While at Livingston the engineer of the Hogan fugitive train went to the side track and took two empty box cars. While there Hogan got a message that the bluff, three miles from Columbus on the Crow reservation, had been blown up, causing rock to fall on the track. The men were ordered to take the Montana division tool car, containing $1,000 worth of tools. The train started, but on leaving the yards the engine gave out. The engineer ran to the round house, left his old engine and took the best one on the division. Engineer Harmon is running the train. He is an old Union Pacific and Montana Union engineer and regarded as one of the best in the west. The train carries firemen, brakemen, conductors, operators, and men of every profession.

NEW JERSEY NEWS.

Against Camden's Marriage Traffic.

TRENTON, N. J., April 26.—Mr. Thompson's bill to stop the traffic in marriages in Camden by imposing penalties on clergymen who wed parties unprovided with a license from the county clerk, came up in the house last night, and the whole subject was ventilated. Mr. Storrs, of Essex, opposed the bill, holding that under its provisions common law marriages would take place and would be legal. People could marry themselves by satisfying the county clerk that they were entitled to a license. The bill was passed by a vote of 23 to 9.

The Erie Mulcted for $5,000.

NEWARK, N. J., April 26.—The jury in the suit of C. P. Williams and W. H. Gruet against the New York, Lake Erie & Western railroad, which grew out of the Avondale disaster on June 21 of last year, came in shortly before midnight with a verdict for $5,000. The amount asked for was $40,000.

Young Fales Taken to Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., April 26.—Robert Alden Fales, the Newark boy murderer, was brought to state prison by Sheriff Lehlbach, of Essex county. Prison keeper John H. It is not likely that Fales will be set at work right away, as many prisoners are now idle.

Quay on the Wilson Bill's Chances.

PITTSBURG, April 26.—Senator Quay is at his home in Beaver for a few days. He expressed the belief that ultimately the democrats would pass the Wilson bill, at least they had the votes, but, he added, the republicans would prolong the fight to late in the fall. He is afraid that an attempt will be made to force Reed's rules on the senate, "but," he suggested, with a smile, "we can make a fight on that score for a long time."

To Stop Padrone Immigration.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Baron Fava, the Italian minister, had an interview with Secretary Carlisle and Superintendent Stump, of the bureau of immigration, with a view to reaching some common basis to prevent Italian immigration under the padrone system. CONSIDERING CHANGES

Democrats Again Trying to Agree on the Tariff.

The Finance Committee Discussing Amendments—Believed That the Bill Will Be So Shaped That the Democrats Will Support It in Its Entirety—Income Tax Modifications.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The senate spent five hours on the tariff bill yesterday, considering it by paragraphs for amendments, but did not get beyond the first line of the first paragraph. It is that providing when the bill shall go into effect. The house bill fixed the time as the first of June next, the finance committee reported an amendment changing the date to the 30th of June, and Mr. Allison (rep., Ia.) moved to leave the date blank. These amendments were pending at 6 p. m., when the senate adjourned.

The discussion throughout the day was quite spirited—Senators Aldrich (rep., R. I.) and Platt (rep., Conn.) making strong arguments against letting the law go into effect until merchants and manufacturers had had sufficient time to get rid of their stock of goods on hand, and many other senators taking more or less part in the debate.

A motion for the daily meetings of the senate at 11 a. m., was made by Mr. Harris (dem., Tenn.), and went over till today when he will press a vote upon it.

A bill and a resolution on the subject of the expected arrival in the capital of Coxey and his followers were introduced by the populist senators from Kansas and Nebraska. Mr. Peffer's is to "Provide work for unemployed persons in the District of Columbia." It was referred to the district committee. Mr. Allen's resolution was an assertion of the right of citizens of the United States to assemble in the city of Washington for any and all peaceable purposes, and to enter upon the capitol grounds and into the capitol. This resolution went over and will come up to-day.

Getting Together on the Tariff.

Mr. Aldrich's statement in the senate that amendments to the tariff bill were being discussed by democratic members of the finance committee is absolutely correct. A prominent member of that committee said that had Mr. Aldrich made the statement to him he would have admitted its accuracy. This senator also said Mr. Vest was correct when he said that he knew nothing about it.

Conferences make it clear to prominent democratic senators that by the end of the week the bill will be so shaped that the democrats will be ready to support it in its entirety. This indicates material modifications in the income tax feature of the bill and a reconstruction of the building and loan association provisions of the measure. An interesting feature of the present situation is a statement from a senator vouching for the accuracy of a report that two gentlemen who called upon the president were assured by Mr. Cleveland that the income tax proposition did not have his approval.

House of Representatives.

Over four hours of the day's session of the house was devoted to a consideration in committee of the whole of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1895. But seven pages of the bill were disposed of in that period of time. A great part of the session was consumed in an attack upon the Chinese treaty now pending in the senate, by Messrs. Hermann (rep., Ore.), Wilson (rep., Wash.), Bowers (rep., Cal.) and Blair (rep., N. H.). Considerable time was also given to a general, though somewhat desultory discussion of the consular fee system, upon a motion by Mr. Hepburn (rep., Ia.) to require all consuls receiving salaries of $3,000 a year and upwards, to cover all their fees into the treasury.

Although many amendments were offered to reduce the appropriations for various consular salaries, chiefly by Mr. Cannon (rep., Ill.), none of them were adopted. At 5:15 the house adjourned until noon to-day.

Likened to the John Brown Raid.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 26.—Mrs. Lease and Mrs. Gougar held a joint debate here last night, the former representing the people's party and the latter the prohibitionists. Upon being asked to give her opinion of the commonweal movement, Mrs. Lease said: "I liken it to the John Brown raid in Virginia. It is the beginning of the end and I regard it as a portentious movement. I do not believe the people of the United States realize how near they are to the crisis. It will come much in the manner of the firing upon Fort Sumpter, like a flash of lightning from a clear sky."

TROUBLES OF MINERS

About 14,000 Coke Workers Now on Strike.

Indications That the Suspension of Work Will Be Complete By To-Night—Fifty-one Strikers Held on the Charge of Murder for the Killing of Chief Engineer Paddock.

PITTSBURG, April 26.—Telegrams from all parts of the coke country received this morning indicate that scarcely a dozen coke plants are in operation and these have only a small force of men. About 14,000 men are on strike and this number will likely be increased after to-day's mass meeting.

One hundred strikers charged with the murder of Chief Engineer Paddock were given a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Meistrezat at Uniontown yesterday. Fifty-one of the strikers were identified and held for murder. The other forty-nine men were discharged.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 26.—Over 6,000 of the coke workers are now out and the strike leaders confidently expect that the remaining 8,000 or 4,000 will be in their ranks within a few hours. The strike is now sure to become general.

The mob which was dispersed by Deputy Sheriff Richards at Broadford assembled below Morgans and will march to Vanderbilt. An attempt will be made to prevent their crossing the river.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., April 26.—The strike in the coke region has reached the Sewickley branch, the men at Mammoth having quit in a body. Two thousand eight hundred ovens of the Frick company are yet in blast. Those at work for the Frick company are mostly English speaking men who feel bound by their scale. All of the coke plants have been placed in charge of deputies to-day.

When the strikers marched past Bessemer and Mullin works, the only ones in operation between here and Mt. Pleasant, the men stopped work and joined the strikers.

The reported signing of the workers' scale by the Atlas Coke company of Uniontown has put new life and determination in the men, who feel more confident of winning than ever.

Iron Mills Forced to Shut Down.

LEBANON, Pa., April 26.—The great coke and coal strikes are playing havoc with the iron mills in this locality. The puddling departments of all the mills are shut down because the supply of coal is exhausted. The extent of the effect upon the furnaces will likewise be determined by the length of the strike, coke being in special demand.

Many Mills Will Have to Close.

READING, Pa., April 26.—The strike in the soft coal regions is already affecting the rolling mills in Lebanon, the puddling departments in nearly all the works having shut down. None of the mills carried much stock. The same state of affairs is said to prevail in the entire Schuylkill valley, and it is predicted that within ten days all rolling mills will be compelled to cease work for lack of coal.

Nothing New in the Mine Strike.

COLUMBUS, O., April 26.—President John McBride said this morning that he had no news from the strike of the coal miners to give out. The only information he had was that contained in the morning newspapers. The suspension had already exceeded his expectations and promised to be general in a few days. It was remarkable the so-called "river operators," who claimed that a suspension at this time of the year could not hurt them, had been the first to ask to be allowed to proceed with their work.

Effort to Punish Newspaper Men.

ALBANY, April 26.—On the affidavit of District Attorney Eaton a court order has been issued against William Barnes, jr., proprietor of the Albany Express; John Hastings, managing editor; George N. Southwick and Arthur Lucas, associate editors of the paper, requiring them to show cause at noon on Friday why they should not be punished for contempt of court. The action grows out of the publication of an alleged libellous article in the Express editorial columns Saturday morning last reflecting on the conduct of County Judge Jacob H. Clute while on the bench in connection with alleged election violations.

Run Down at a Crossing.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 26.—Samuel Eastburns, aged 76, and his neice, Nellie Collins, aged 18, while driving across the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks south of this city in a wagon, about daylight, were struck by the express train. Both were terribly and perhaps fatally injured.

Big Bequest to Radcliffe College.

BOSTON, April 26.—Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., announced that $150,000 had been left Radcliffe college by the will of Mrs. Sarah Parker, who died last week at her home in Roxbury. Practically the whole of her estate has been left to the college.

SOLELY TO COMMAND RESPECT.

Why Federal Troops Were Ordered to Intercept the Stolen Train.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The order of the president for the troops to intercept the Northern Pacific train and arrest the runaway Hogan contingent was issued solely to command respect for the mandate of the United States court and was not in any sense a national interference in local affairs.

It is explained at the white house that the miners had applied to the Northern Pacific officials, that road being in the hands of government receivers, for free transportation to Washington, and when this was refused the strikers broke into the round-house, seized a locomotive, coupled cars to form a train, and when the United States court granted an injunction against this action and issued an order for the arrest of the marauders, and the United States marshal attempted to execute the orders of the court with as strong a posse as he was able to summon to his aid, his forces were overpowered and the stolen train escaped.

Gen. Schofield was directed to call upon the commander of the department of Dakota to send a sufficient force of troops to arrest all persons engaged in the unlawful seizure of the train and to hold the train and persons until they could be delivered to the United States marshal for Montana, subject to the order of the United States district court.

Gen. Schofield was engaged to speak at the Union League banquet in Philadelphia on Grant's birthday, to-morrow night, but he has been compelled to abandon the idea on account of the serious turn affairs have taken, necessitating his constant presence at headquarters here.

There was no concealment of the anxiety existing as to the outcome of the meeting between Col. Page's troops and the 500 miners, known to be desperate characters.

OVER 7,000 COXEYITES NOW.

Washington Police Preparing to Receive the Expected Invasion.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Reports have been received at police headquarters from the authorities of other places showing the strength of the various contingents now moving on Washington. A summary follows:

Kelly, Neola, Ia., 1,600; Frye, Terre Haute, Ind., 1,000; Frye's second division, McLeansboro, Ill., 800; Grayson, Platteville, Col., 100; Galvin, Loveland, O., 200; Randall, Chicago, 100; contingent at Little Falls, Minn., 100; Butte, Mont., 300; Monmouth, Ill., 100 men; Ottumwa, Ia., 100; Sullivan's force, Chicago, 1,000; contingent at Anderson, Ind., 150; and Aubrey's force, Indianapolis, 700. Total, 6,650. With several other contingents not mentioned the commonweal forces now number over 7,000 men. Reports from the police authorities in the towns through which these contingents pass are received here daily by the police.

The police authorities of the District of Columbia have decided to swear in special policemen to serve during the Coxey invasion, in the event of the commonweal forces being considerably augmented. In preparation for this service the names of prospective special officers are being enrolled at the several station houses in Washington and two hundred of these will be selected for duty to begin Monday next if necessary.

CALL FOR FEDERAL TROOPS.

Montana's Governor Telegraphs an Urgent Request to the President.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—President Cleveland received the following telegram from the governor of Montana, dated at Helena, yesterday:

"Information reaches me by wire that a band of Coxeyites fleeing the state with a stolen train were overtaken at Billings by deputy United States marshals who were trying to serve a writ emanating from the United States court. A fight ensued. One deputy marshal was wounded and the leader of the Coxeyites wounded. Deputy marshals were overpowered and driven off with revolvers and other weapons. The mob then surrounded the deputies and now hold them prisoners. Train of Coxeyites within a few hours run of Fort Keogh. Impossible for state militia to overtake them. As governor of Montana I here by request you to have federal troops at Fort Keogh intercept, take into custody, arrest, and hold these Coxeyites subject to the orders of the United States court issuing writ referred to. If Coxeyites pass Fort Keogh before orders can emanate from you for their apprehension, I request that federal troops be ordered to overtake them. Promptness required. C. E. RICKARTS,
"Governor of Montana."

Kelly's Army Again United.

ATLANTIC, Ia., April 26.—The day spent at this place has been a notable one in the history of the industrial army. Internal dissensions which for a time threatened to disrupt the army have been settled and Colonels Speed and Baker have again assumed their old positions. It was decided that henceforth the army will travel as a whole and not be regarded as separate divisions. All important matters hereafter will be considered by Gen. Kelly and his staff officers. The daily records of receipts and disbursements will be kept public and kept open for inspection.

May Quarantine the Whole Army.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—A new impediment to the Coxey demonstration in Washington on May 1 appears in the person of Dr. Hammett, the health officer of the district. He will meet the army at the district line and if he finds any sickness among the members that is likely to breed infectious or contagious disease, the entire force may be quarantined. He refers to the likelihood of the various forces carrying with them the germs of smallpox which is epidemic in several places. The great danger, he believes, will come when the men go into camp.

Roosted in a Barn.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April, 26.—Swift's contingent of Coxeyites traveled as far as East Greenwich yesterday, where, after a supper of crackers and cheese, it roosted for the night in a barn. To-day the brigade will endeavor to reach Wickford. The independent Olneyville army, 21 strong, spent last night at North Scituate, in the town Bridewell, after partaking of a meal of canned corned beef and bread. The members of the army are principally idle mill operatives.

No Special Rates for Coxeyites.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Trunk Line association has decided not to give special transportation rates to the Coxey armies, for which application was made by Coxey Saturday.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, - - Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, - Managing Editor.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

Arbor Day is a beautiful, thoughtful, useful institution. It is an annual reminder of mankind's duty to posterity—plant trees. Nature must be recompensed for our woodland lavishness. Plant trees! Plant trees!

That reader of The Press who, boasting of the quickness with which his sample of Government seed corn came up, says that the seed planted at night was above ground the next morning, admits that the grain was assisted by his neighbor's chickens.

Plainfield's county is living up to its name. It is a true daughter of the Union. It is a go-ahead, up to date, progressive, model county. Its staid old neighbor Middlesex has a piece of bad road which it is desired to make good and glorious, like Union's own, and a bill is passed shoving that road over into Union. Well, Union's a mighty good county to be adopted into. Middlesex would better come over in a body, if she wants to grow and be somebody.

People who love fair play view with disgust the continuous attacks made by Tunis J. Carey and his sycophants upon the Police Department. These criticisms, based solely on malicious inventions of jealous enemies, are against the department as a whole, but especial venom is directed against the Captain, George W. Grant. With all due respect to his predecessors, The Press feels that Mr. Grant is as competent and faithful an officer as any who have held the place before him. He has spent the best years of his life in the Plainfield police service, and his knowledge of the place and its people, together with his natural sagacity and his experience in dealing with criminal matters, make him peculiarly well equipped for continuing in the office which he has so capably filled. Mr. Grant has a clean, manly, honest record, and is living up to it every day. His work satisfies The Press, it satisfies the people. For the Mayor, the Police Board, or the Council, to lend any aid to the scheme to depose him, would be unjust and unwise—an injustice to the man, an injury to the department, a detriment to the public service. That the proposition to remove him—for no cause whatever—does not deserve, and is not receiving, any serious consideration from those in authority, is further proof of the intelligence and integrity of the men who hold the reins of Plainfield's government.

Hetfield's Opponents Shooting Off Dunn.

(Washington Correspondence Trenton True American.)

Representative Dunn has not yet succeeded in having John M. Hetfield nominated as postmaster of Plainfield. The fight against Mr. Hetfield has reached a most bitter stage. It has got to that point where even the President's mail is loaded down with protests and accusations not only against Mr. Hetfield but against Mr. Dunn. The latter contrives to insist that he will not reopen the case and proposes to stand by the man he has recommended. He is watching the outcome of the case with considerable interest, for he believes that the recommendation of a Congressman ought to be firm.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

WATER FOR 8 YEARS.

COMMON COUNCIL GRANTS LONG EXTENSION OF ITS CONTRACT.

Appoints a Committee to Investigate Whether the Supply Is Going to Hold Out, Under the Tremendous Drain—Big Electric Traction Syndicate Asks for Thoroughfare.

The city contract with the Plainfield Water Supply Company was renewed for eight years at a special meeting of the Common Council held last evening. All were present except President See. Councilman Ginna took the chair in his absence.

At the request of Mr. Erickson, Clerk MacMurray read the State charter given to the company in 1874. He offered a resolution renewing the contract. The contract was made May 2, 1894. It provided that the city should have two years in which to decide upon a ten years agreement. In 1893 it was renewed and now it was time for the city to contract for eight years more or stop taking water for the hydrants. Mr. Fisk seconded the resolution.

Mr. Frazee thought that eight years was entirely too long a time for the city to enter into contract with any company. Competition might come, and then the same company would be willing to sell the water much cheaper.

Mr. Frost thought that the contract was very favorable as far as the city was concerned. There was no other that paid as cheap a rate for hydrants as $15. It would not do, however, to leave the citizens at the mercy of the company for eight years. He objected because the company might raise their rates to dwellings.

Mr. Erickson read the rates for dwellings, under the conditions of the contract. He said that a majority of the stockholders of the company had once agreed upon the use of a meter at the option of either the company or the customer, but "the powers that be would n't have it".

Mr. Frost declared the present feeling of the people to be toward the municipal ownership of water and gas supply plants. Within five years the public would want to buy all such institutitions, and eight years was too far ahead to bind the city in such an important matter.

Mr. Dumont favored the resolution. At the end of eight years it was probable that no city would have so cheap a hydrant rate. The present rates to dwellings were low, and as these were low and as there were pumps in nearly all houses the consumers could resent any increase by refusing to take water. All the Council could do was to fix maximum rates by contract.

Mr. Erickson said that the agreement might have been for eight years in the beginning, had not the Low litigation made it possible that the city would have two sets of hydrants.

Mr. Frost objected thus: It is reported that the company's line will be extended to Bayonne. The population of the county will increase during the next eight years. How far can they go in giving away water? If the city takes none, the company's best customer is cut off. Let a committee look into the matter. The company experimented by pumping continually for several days, but reports of water companies are not usually very reliable. Isn't the city giving away its most important franchise?

Mr. Erickson replied that the city gave away nothing. The company's charter came from the State. The city is simply a customer.

Mr. Westphal objected strongly to putting the people in a monopoly's grasp any longer than from year to year. Mr. Frazee thought the people would vote the proposition down. Mr. Frost said that this had nothing to do with it. Mr. Erickson said there would be no limit to the prices to citizens if the contract were not renewed.

Mr. Dumont admitted that Plainfield had a few sand-holes known as fire-wells, but asked if there were any probability of getting cheaper water for fire protection within the next years. Mr. Fisk had been talking with Mr. Frost. Mr. Frost said the contract was an unusually fair one. The city was practically in the grasp of a corporation. If there was no likelihood of our getting control he thought it best that the citizens should know of the monopoly. He would vote for the contract on these conditions. Mr. Erickson said he would like to have the city own the plant but the hydrants could not be cut off now. It was eight years or none with the contract.

The vote on renewing stood: Aye—Bird, Dumont, Fisk, Erickson, Stockton, Ginna, Frost. No—Frazee, Millington, Westphal.

The ordinance on the assessment of taxes for 1894 was unanimously adopted on third reading.

A report of the Street Committee in regard to the macadamizing of Grant avenue, from Front to Fourth street, was made by Mr. Fisk. No bids had been received under the proposed $600, and the committee recommended that that of Smalley Brothers, $700, be accepted, the Street Railway Company paying $300 as agreed.

Mr. Frazee thought it would be cheaper for the city to do the work under the direction of the Street Commissioner. Mr. Fisk said the cost would not be less and that the Commissioner always superintended such work. The bid was accepted, all voting aye.

Mr. Erickson moved that some action be taken on the suggestion of the Mayor's message in regard to an investigation of the water supply with a view to ascertaining whether the quantity used in outside towns of increasing size would affect Plainfield. The matter was referred to the Water Committee.

The Water Company announced that seven new hydrants ordered were ready for use. A petition from Irving H. Brown and E. H. Booth for a light opposite 946 Central avenue was referred.

The following application was read and referred to the Street Committee:

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN—Application is hereby respectfully made to your honorable body for the privilege of constructing, maintaining and and operating a railway with one or more tracks and necessary turnouts on the below described route in your city, to be operated by electricity or other motive power except steam and to erect the necessary poles, conduit, and wires, power plant and necessary buildings.

Beginning at the southwesterly boundary line of Fanwood Township where the Midway [Midway avenue] crosses the same, thence along the Midway [Midway avenue] to its junction with Third street; thence along Third street to Peace street to a connection with or termination of the Plainfield electric road now laid on North avenue, [West Front street] at or near West End or Grant avenue, thence along said North avenue [West Front street] parallel with the Central Railroad of New Jersey in a southwesterly direction passing Evona station to the Middlesex County line and Jefferson avenue; also, beginning at the junction of Somerset avenue [street] with Front street below Park [avenue], thence along said Somerset avenue [street] in a northwesterly direction to the Somerset county line and also the township line of North Plainfield.

Central New Jersey Traction Company,
JOS. H. REALL.

Single crosswalks, cost $17, were ordered laid as follows: On West Seventh street, west side of Spooner avenue; Sycamore street, north side of East Fifth street; East Second street, northeast side of Richmond street; West Sixth street, at Central avenue and New and Division streets. Double crosswalks, cost $29, are to be laid on East Third, at the corner of Washington; on Central avenue, at the corner of West Eighth street; on Stelle avenue, at the corner of Sherman avenue. An application for one across the Randolph road was refused as it would not meet flagging. Another petition refused was for a walk across Somerset street at the corner line. Two-way hydrants were ordered for Plainfield avenue, at the corners of Stelle and Sherman avenues.

FELL 20 FEET.

Joseph Morrison and John Cashman Have a Severe Experience.

Two painters, Joseph Morrison of Watchung avenue and John Cashman of West Fifth street, fell 20 feet at 9:30 this morning.

They were working on a scaffold on the west side of the house of D. M. Demarest, 159 Crescent avenue. Everett Marsh was beneath them burning off paint. He stepped back just as the hook at one end caught in the siding and was lifted from its place, letting the scaffold fall.

Morrison's ankle was sprained and Cashman's side and back were bruised. They quit work and went home with overalls covered with white paint, which fell with them.

KEARSARGE WRECKERS.

Sentence of Commander Heyerman and Lieutenant Lyman.

WASHINGTON April 26.—Commander Heyerman and Lieutenant Lyman will each lose their rank and pay on suspension one year for the loss of the frigate Kearsarge on Roncador Reef. Secretary Herbert has acted on the findings and sentences of the court martial which tried these two officers and his decision is announced.

Commander Heyerman was found guilty by the court of running the vessel on the reef and inefficiency in the performance of duty. He was sentenced to suspension from rank and duty on waiting orders pay for two years, the court, however, unanimously recommending him to the clemency of the secretary, who responded by reducing the length of the sentence to one year.

The court found Lieutenant Lyman guilty of neglect of duty and culpable inefficiency and sentenced him to suspension from rank and duty on waiting orders pay for one year and to be publicly reprimanded. Secretary Herbert remitted the reprimand and approved the remainder of the sentence.

Troubles of Theosophy.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—The delegates to the annual convention of the American theosophical society have practically concluded their work, and many of them are now visiting the midwinter fair. Notwithstanding the vindication of General Secretary Judge, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who had been charged with trifling with the sacred rights and privileges of the Mahatmas, it is believed that the high priests of the order, who are under the influence, to a very large degree, of the Hindoo theosophists, will arrogate to themselves the authority of a supreme tribunal and possibly suspend the American section from full communication. This may cause a split.

Armor Plate Tests.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The importance of substantial backing to armor plate was made the subject of preliminary tests at Indian Head, when 6-inch shells, with a muzzle velocity of about 2,000 feet per second, were fired at a 6-inch circular Harveyized plate with results that indicated the practical utility of the backing. The test was, however, not considered conclusive. A 12-inch Wheeler shell was fired at a 13-inch plate, in order to test a lot of 100 shells for acceptance. The plate was pierced, but the projectile was entirely demolished. It is possible, however, that the shells will be accepted, as the penetration was complete.

Murder by a Priest.

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Mary Gilmartin, a pretty clerk employed at the Pulvermacher Galvanic Belt company, was shot and instantly killed while on her way to work. The man who committed the murder and was arrested gave his name as George Reed, aged 30, but letters in his pocket identify him as a Catholic priest named Father Dominick O'Grady. Insane jealousy of the girl and her desire to get rid of his unwelcome attentions caused the tragedy. At the station house O'Grady attempted suicide by taking poison, but the prompt use of a stomach pump saved his life.

Continued Earthquakes.

ATHENS, April 26.—Slight shocks of earthquake continue in various parts of the kingdom, but no additional damage is reported. In Chalois, on the island of Eubaea, where 200 houses were destroyed. Many of the buildings left standing are so badly wrecked that they will have to be pulled down. The cathedral which was recently finished at that place is so much shaken that it will be necessary to rebuild a large part of it.

Candidates for Siberia.

WARSAW, April 26.—Three hundred Poles, mostly students, held a special service in a church here to celebrate the centenary of the rebellion of Kilinsky. After the services they marched in a body to the house of a descendant of Kilinsky, in front of which they cheered and shouted. The police surrounded the crowd and arrested 241 of the party, 32 of them being women.

Samoa and New Zealand.

BERLIN, April 26.—It is stated on the authority of the foreign office that Germany will not permit the annexation of Samoa to New Zealand, which act would be a flagrant violation of the Berlin treaty. Germany herself is unable to take over the islands without the approval of the reichstag and the present composition of that body makes such action on the part of Germany extremely doubtful.

New York Sheriff Bill.

ALBANY, April 26.—The senate has passed Assemblyman Sheffields' bill increasing the salary of the New York county sheriff from $12,000 to $20,000 and abolishing all his fees, by a vote of ayes 18, and noes 14, Reynolds and Owens of Brooklyn voting with the democrats in the negative.

The Spring House Cleaning
Wisely urged by the BOARD OF HEALTH is not complete without a proper use of DISINFECTANTS. But, in choosing these, do not be misled into paying fancy prices for "patent" specialties. Common lime is better than any of them for damp cellars and stables. For vaults, drains, cess pools, the best and cheapest disinfectant is COPPERAS, supplied by us by the pound or barrel at low rates. But for use in the house, in the plumbing, in kitchen sinks, in closets, for purifying the air of sick rooms, deodorizing offensive discharges—in short, for all purposes of a household disinfectant, nothing can excel the powerful solution of chlorides made and sold by us for 15 years under the name of REYNOLDS'S ODORLESS DISINFECTANT. Quart bottles 25c. To be diluted for use according to directions on label.

Two Ways of Making Money.

1—Get a job in the United States mint.
2—Attend the great sale that is now on at White's—you will find it the surest and most pleasant way. We have been very busy during the past month buying goods from manufacturers who wanted cash and were willing to sell at our price, and we will offer the entire lot of goods at remarkably low figures.

Here's the Goods, the Prices.

Dress Goods—The profit cut off of every piece of Dress Goods in the store.

The largest purchase of Dress Goods we ever made at one time was made last week—over two hundred pieces of fine imported dress fabrics, not one piece costing less than 60c per yard and some 70 and 80. We put them all on one table at the reasonably low price of 39c per yard. All on table No. 1.

Matting—At the recent trade sale in New York we bought over 200 rolls of the finest matting made at lower prices than matting ever sold for before. We offer a good heavy matting for 10c per yard. Extra heavy seam less fancy matting 14c. Extra heavy seam less white matting, a great bargain, 14c. worth 25c. Linen warp seamless matting 25c., regular value 40c.

Spring Coats and Capes—The entire line of one of the leading coat and cape manufacturers of New York City. We cleaned out the entire line at one-third off, and they will be sold the same way. Every garment is made of the best material, handsomely trimmed and made in the latest style. In addition to coats and capes you will find in this department an elegant line of house wrappers and street dresses. Fine cambric wrappers, ready made, 89c. This is a new department and to bring it before the people we have made prices very attractive.

Housefurnishing Dept.—Our regular annual sale of granite ironware takes place this week. We put on sale over 200 cases of this ware. Will be sold at the same prices you pay for tinware.

	Our price	Reg. Pc.
Granite Iron pie plates	12	25

" " tea kettles	85	$1.50
" " dish pans	67	$1.25
" " coffee pots	37	75

The above goods and prices are just a few of the many bargains this house will offer during this sale. Every department is over loaded with the best of everything, and you can rest assured that the prices are the lowest.

THE GONG'S ITSELF AGAIN.

On a False Alarm of Fire Its Clarion Voice Resumes Accurate Business.

A fire was left burning in a stove in the fruit store of A. Lusardi & Co., West Front street, shortly before 11 last evening. The Fire Department was called out at 11:05 afterward to extinguish it.

A stock of green bananas was in the store and Mr. Lusardi wished to hasten their ripening. Accordingly he filled up the store with kindling wood above the coal and told the police about it as he left the store. He had not been gone long when Edward E. Vail noticed that the room was full of smoke. The flames shining through cracks in the stove made the place look as if it really were on fire.

Mr. Vail rang Box 12 with the key from V. L. Frazee's grocery. Fred Moore broke a pane of glass in the door of the fruit store to let the smoke out.

The whistle worked well. The blows were well timed and there was no difficulty experienced in understanding the number. The department reached the store with a line of hose stretched from the corner of Park avenue, two minutes after the box was pulled. The cause of the smoke was soon learned, and no water was used.

Tests of Boxes 48 and 25 this afternoon were made as announced in The Press yesterday, and were satisfactory.

Punctured Pneumatics.

The first run of the season of the cyclers of the P. H. S. A. A. was taken to New Brunswick yesterday afternoon. The party consisted of Captain A. Woltmann, First Lieutenant E. J. Serrell, Second Lieutenant H. C. Wells, Color Bearer V. H. Green, and H. W. Riley, E. O. Clark, Nathan Lane, Jr., G. A. Horne, C. B. Morse, Charles Rice, Elwood Sebring and Robert Douglass. The pace-maker going was G. B. Morse, and returning H. C. Wells.

The riders met the tally-ho the other side of Metuchen and stopping gave the P. H. S. A. A. yell. At New Brunswick a soda fountain was visited. While coming home, on entering Metuchen, G. A. Horne's tire gave out. Half an hour was spent in repairing. Starting again, Horne was missed. A relief corps, Nathan Lane, Jr., C. B. Morse and Elwood Sebring, rode back and found another puncture. The unlucky rider came home in Allen's stage. Nathan Lane leading his wheel. Elwood Sebring's tire went too, this side of Metuchen, and the assistance of C. B. Morse was required.

The run was very successful, all enjoying themselves, and more are promised in the near future.

To Picture Crescent's Progress.

The Session of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church has appointed Israel C. Pierson, 733 Watchung avenue, and Frederic H. Andrews, 818 Central avenue, a committee to compile and publish a Semi-Centennial Year Book. It will contain pictures of the old church, of the present church, of the former pastors living, and of the present pastors of church and chapels. It will also include the quaint manual prepared by Rev. William Whittaker in 1849, a resume of the addresses by Rev. Theo. S. Brown and Rev. John C. Bliss, D. D., on March 21, the historical sermon of the pastor on March 25, reports of church work during the past year in all departments, list of offices during the past 50 years, rolls of the membership in the church and chapels, etc.

It is now in the hands of the printer. Inasmuch as the edition will be limited in number, those who desire to obtain copies should give their names at once to either member of the committee. The book will cost 50 cents.

Babies Past and Present.

A symposium on improved dress will be held in Grace Church Chapel, Thursday, May 10, at 3 p. m. Miss E. Marguerite Lindley of New York will talk on "Influence of Dress on Mind and on Health", and Mrs. Etta Morse Hudders on "The Child and its Environment" and "The Puritan Baby and the Baby of To-day." Admission will be 50 cents.

Keeping the Mare Awake.

The midnight oil, or rather electricity, is being consumed nightly in the Casino, where the finishing touches are being put on "The Grey Mare" before the performance next week. If smoothness of rehearsals counts for anything, the success of the performance is secured.

Making a Smoother Splice.

The uneven joint of city and borough traction rails, which has been so long productive of derailed cars and upset passengers, is at last being repaired. Men went energetically at work this morning to reduce the bump.

Music Hall Election.

The annual election of directors of the Music Hall Association will be held in Music Hall parlors Monday, May 14. The polls will be open from 5 to 6 and 7:45 to 8:45, p. m. The stockholders will meet in annual session in the parlors at 8 p. m.

Randolph Returns.

Edward Randolph, who disappeared Tuesday morning, returned last evening. He took a ride to Asbury Park and says he had an enjoyable trip. He had no idea his absence would cause the alarm it did.

Friendship and Love.

The theme of Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis at the meeting of the Bible Class of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church tonight will be "The teachings of the sacred books on love and friendship".

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth st., Philadelphia. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

THE POLICE FORCE ALL RIGHT.

It Is Doing Eminently Satisfactory Work, and No Changes Are to Be Made.

Capt. Grant had asked for a meeting of the Police Board for last night, to consider various police matters which he desired to bring to the attention of that body, but the Council meeting was later than anticipated, and the members of the Board did not succeed in getting together.

Because of the limited appropriation, it is not likely that the number of policemen will be increased this year, though the outskirts are in need of more extended protection. No changes are expected, and the statement that the force is to be reorganized is the invention of the organ which is seeking to oust the present efficient Captain, George W. Grant, and to restore Charles W. Dodd to the position. Tunis J. Carey is engineering the Dodd campaign, and the ring organ is Carey's mouthpiece.

HIGH SCHOOL CHRONICLES.

The Kappa Delta Phi will hold a "hat talk" tomorrow afternoon. Subjects enough to go around will be placed in a hat and one drawn by each member. They will be the topics for two minute speeches by the holders.

The Lyceum will meet tomorrow afternoon. A declamation will be given by H. B. Drake, '95. A debate will follow on the question, "Resolved that the newspapers do more good than harm to a country".

The following subjects for prize essays by High School students, due on Monday, May 28, were announced in the chapel this morning:

Nature's Toilet in the Spring.
The "All-Around" vs. the Specialist.
My Favorite Character (in Literature or History.)
Woman's work and women's wages.
New-England Elms.
A Comparison of Evengeline and Priscilla.

Nothing Great is Lightly Won.

NOISELESS NOMADICS.

The Crescent Wheelmen's track was rolled smooth yesterday and the spreading of cinders began this morning. The building of the grand-stand was also commenced today.

Four flyers tested the new track yesterday. Charles Maltby and J. J. Kenney covered a lap in one minute. H. C. Vanemburgh was three seconds behind, and Lon Titsworth two behind him.

Peter Weaver is one of the latest to enjoy cycling. His first attempt was made yesterday and he is succeeding well.

Dunellen Birthday Party.

Mrs. Catherine Maier of Dunellen gave a party last evening in honor of the nineteenth birthday anniversary of her daughter Lena. A large number of guests from Dunellen and out of town attended. Miss Lena was the recipient of many very beautiful gifts. O'Reilly of Plainfield furnished the music for the occasion. At 12 forty-two people assembled in line, and after a grand march led by Miss Lena Maier, accompanied by Thos. McKinley, the company repaired to the dining room, where a bountiful collation awaited them.

Among those present were: Mrs. Totten and Mrs. Jackson of Jersey City, Miss Fisher of Bound Brook, and Miss Carrie Huyl, Misses Kelly, Misses Butcher, Misses Staats, Misses Hunt, Mrs. Hague, daughter and son, Mrs. Dodwell and Harry Dodwell, Miss Perrine, Miss Dunham, Miss Anna Maier, Miss Diem, Mr. and Mrs. William Conley, Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Maier, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Nelson, Messrs. S. McKinley, J. Maier, Charles Jenkins, C. Hopkins, Walter Smalley, H. Morton, A. Giddis, S. S. Denneck, J. Ronane, W. Winkler, J. Kelley, T. Jones, P. O'Keefe, A. Huffman, J. Stein, Harry Lyon and Capt. George Laible.

Good Shooting on Both Sides.

Shooting at John Benner's yesterday afternoon attracted a large crowd, shots being present from all parts of the country.

In a 30-bird match between Edward P. Thorn and Louis J. Coombs, for $25 a side, Coombs was beaten by one bird.

The main match was shot at 50 birds by Charles DeHart, of Paterson, and Scott Terry, of Plainfield, for $100 a side. Terry killed 43 and DeHart, 42.

Three Plainfield men, Charles Smith, Terry, Campbell and Neaf Apgar, tied with 15 straight in the $25 sweepstakes, and divided first money. Two Paterson men tied for second place.

If You Want to Get Ahead, Join Union.

Clark Township is larger today than it was yesterday, owing to the passage of Mr. Codding's bill taking a part of Middlesex County and adding it to Union County. The object of the addition is to put a piece of road into Union County so that it can be macadamized.

—Putnam & DeGraw have an elegant stock of new goods, and those desiring bargains in this line are fast finding it out.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O.

Read and Reflect.

A CHAPLET OF FLOWERS.

Suitable for Arbor Day, Children's Sunday or Memorial Celebration.

Recitation for nine little girls, each carrying the flowers she speaks of. The "field flowers" may be a bunch of the various sorts then in bloom:

I.

FIRST, take these crimson roses—
How red their petals glow!
Red as the blood of Jesus,
Which heals our sin and woe.

See in each heart of crimson
A deeper crimson shine.
So in the foldings of our hearts
Should glow a love divine.

II.

Next, place those tender violets.
Look how they still regret
The cell where they were hidden—
The tears are on them yet.

How many souls—his loved ones—
Dwell lonely and apart,
Hiding from all but One above
The fragrance of their heart!

III.

Then take that virgin lily.
How holily she stands!
You know the gentle angels
Bear lilies in their hands.

Yet crowned with purer radiance
A deeper love they claim,
Because their queenlike whiteness
Is linked with Mary's name.

IV.

And now this spray of ivy—
You know its gradual clasp
Uproots strong trees, and towers
Fall crumbling in its grasp.

So God's dear grace around us
With secret patience clings,
And slow, sure power that loosens
Strong holds on human things.

V.

Then heliotrope that turneth
Toward her lord, the sun—
Would that our thoughts as fondly
Sought our beloved One.

Nay, if that branch be fading.
Cast not one blossom by.
Its little task is ended,
And it does well to die.

VI.

And let some field flowers even
Be wreathed among the rest.
I think the infant Jesus
Would love such ones the best.

VII.

These flowers are all too brilliant.
So place calm heartsease there—
God's last and sacred treasure
For all who wait and bear.

VIII.

Then lemon leaves, whose sweetness
Grows sweeter than before
When bruised and crushed and broken—
Hearts need that lesson more.

IX.

Yet stay, one crowning glory,
All his, and yet all ours,
The dearest tenderest thought of all
Is still the Passion flower's.

So take it now—nay, heed not
My tears that on it fall.
I thank him for the flowers.
As I can do for all.

WOMEN MUST SLEEP.

SO SAYS MEDICAL AUTHORITY.

Serious Results of Sleeplessness, and the Way to Avoid It.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

If you are dangerously sick, what is the first duty of your physician? He quiets the frightened nervous system, he deadens the pain, and you sleep well.

Men fall by the wayside, victims of over-strained mental activity.

Friends ask, "What is it?" and the answer comes in pitying tones, nervous prostration.

Thousands of women tremble on the brink of the same precipice.

A little more pressure; some sudden grief, real or even imagined unkindness from loved ones, and over the brink fall one more victim of nervous prostration.

It came upon you so quietly, in the beginning, that you were not alarmed. But when sleep deserted you night after night, until your eyes fairly burned the darkness, then you tossed in nervous agony, praying for sleep.

You ought to have known when you ceased to be regular in your courses, and you grew so irritable without cause, that there was serious trouble somewhere.

You ought to be told that indigestion, exhaustion, womb displacements, fainting, dizziness, and backache send the nerves wild with affright, and you cannot sleep.

Want of sleep gives birth to a thousand morbid fancies of the brain.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for twenty years has saved women from all this misery. It is the certain cure for all derangements peculiar to women. It has saved them from torments for years, and it will save you. Go to your druggist at once: soon you will be well and sleep like a child.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.
WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.
H. P. DEGRAAF.

CHAPTER III.

When Harold's suit at last arrived, his first thought as he surveyed himself before the glass was that now he could go down into the dining room and have a good square meal. What that thought was to him can only be imagined by the hungry man to whom the delights of the table are supreme. Since Harold's wakening he had been served with what he called broth, accompanied with nuts and fruit of different varieties. He supposed it was served according to the orders of a physician, who might imagine that it was necessary for his stomach to get used to work by degrees after so long a period of idleness. If that were so, the broth and fruit might seem reasonable enough as a diet, but how about the nuts?

"Mrs. Winthrop," he said, going down to the porch, where that lady was taking her morning exercise, "what is your dinner hour? And is the room that my mother selected still used for the dining room?"

"Dining room! What can you mean?" For a moment Mrs. Winthrop looked puzzled; then her brow suddenly cleared as she exclaimed: "Oh, I remember now! I was reading only the other day that people used to sit around large tables and watch one another eat all manner of queer stuff that they called food. They must have resembled pigs gathered around a trough."

"May I ask," said Harold, striving to control his wrath, "how you manage the matter of eating at the present time?"

"To be sure. You have been nourished since your awakening, have you not?"

"I have been given a little broth."

"Have you not felt sufficiently nourished?"

"I have not suffered with hunger," admitted Harold, who suddenly realized that he had not felt hunger at all, but was simply uneasy because he had not sat at a table and filled himself with food as he had done in the good old days which were to him but as yesterday. He began to have an awful fear that he had slept beyond the pleasures of eating at a loaded table in company with congenial friends. Mrs. Winthrop's next words confirmed this fear.

"In this day," she said, "no one thinks of supplying his system with necessary fuel in public. Each takes such nourishment as his system requires whenever it is most needed, but he would no more think of allowing his neighbor to see him take it than he would think of changing his linen in public."

"I fear I have much to learn," said Harold, "before I shall be able to live in this da—ahem, beautiful world."

"I am afraid you have, sir," replied Mrs. Winthrop severely. "There is an old woman living not far from here who might help you. It is said that she is nearly 100 years of age, and that she has a fine memory. She might be able to teach you the difference between your yesterday and our today and so save you and us a great deal of embarrassment."

Harold thought the idea a good one and decided to go to this old woman at once. It was barely possible that she had not given up the good old customs for the outrageous new ones, and that she might ask him to stay to dinner. In an incredibly short space of time he had placed himself before her.

"So you are the sleeper?" she exclaimed. "My, my, how young you look! It would be hard for any one to believe that you are 30 years older than I am."

Harold looked at the thin figure, the wrinkled face and the toothless mouth, then recalled the handsome young fellow he had seen in the glass only that morning and decided that it would be hard indeed.

"Well," she said when he had made known his errand, "what do you most want to know?"

"How do people manage to eat?" he asked. "I'm getting deucedly hungry. Don't you know of a nice place where a fellow can get roast beef, and mince pie, and cranberry jelly, and a good cup of coffee, and a few such trifles?" Harold's mouth watered as he asked the question. He felt that he had a great deal to do to make up for all the good things of life which he had lost while sleeping.

"My dear sir," exclaimed the old lady, placing a restraining hand on his arm, "I beg you will not mention such things again. It makes me quite faint. Remember that I am not so young as I once was."

"Are you hungry?" asked Harold kindly. He could think of no other reason why any one should become faint from hearing such things as roast beef and mince pie talked about. "Is there a restaurant near?"

"A restaurant!" The old lady burst into a peal of laughter. "Oh," she gasped, "you take me back to the days of my childhood! Oh, it is so funny! Mary, Mary, come here a moment!"

A young woman entered the room and stood beside the old lady's chair. She was fully 6 feet tall and must have weighed 200 pounds, yet she was not fleshy. Harold thought she must be a female prizefighter and wondered if the old lady had sent for her for protection.

"What is it, grandma?" she asked pleasantly.

"This young man wishes to be directed to a restaurant. Now, are you willing to believe that such things existed in my day?"

"Oh, sir," said Mary, turning to Harold, "did you ever eat before any one?"

"I did," replied Harold, "and I should like to do it again. I hoped I might at least get a cup of coffee here."

"I used to eat such things 70 or 80 years ago," said the old lady, "but I shudder now to think of it. You will, too, when you become used to the new way."

"I shudder now to think of life without eating," replied Harold, with a feeble smile. "I think," he added, "that I shall not be successful in an attempt to live on air and water."

"You must go to a physician as soon as possible," said the old lady. "He will make an examination and tell you what chemical elements are necessary to keep your system in good working order. He will also tell you how much of each should be taken and how often. On every corner you will see shops where these foods are for sale. Every one prepares them for one's self, and no one thinks of taking his neighbor into his confidence as to his system's demands. Oh, Mary, think how folks would laugh to hear me make these explanations!"

The old lady burst into another peal of laughter, which Harold found extremely irritating. He did not smile. Neither did Mary, and for a moment he felt grateful to her, but only for a moment.

"I think such innocence is charming," he heard Mary say in an undertone to the old lady. "Such a beautiful boy should not be allowed to take care of himself. It isn't safe. I propose to take care of him. It isn't conventional, I know, but hang conventionalities!"

"She uses slang like a man," thought Harold. "What next, I wonder?"

Harold began to be somewhat alarmed. Did this amazon propose to send him to a lunatic asylum? He wondered if he could outrun her should she pursue him. Before he had decided as to what he had better do Mary came to his side and took his hand in hers.

"My dear," she said tenderly, "I know that what I am about to say may seem a little premature, but I am animated by thoughts of your welfare as well as my own gratification. Love is not measured by hours, but by heart throbs. Should I know you a hundred years I could not love you more sincerely. Will you be mine? I promise to care for you most tenderly."

"You promise to—good Lord, deliver us! What is the woman talking about?"

"I know this must seem sudden to you. You have not yet learned to know your heart, but you are so young and inexperienced—at least so inexperienced. Don't you think it would be better for you to trust your happiness in my keeping? Don't mind grandma. Indeed her presence should assure you as to the purity of my motives."

"Will you be mine? I promise to care for you most tenderly."

"It's a proposal!" thought Harold. "As sure as I live it is a proposal."

He could with difficulty restrain his laughter, but he remembered that she was a woman, and although ridiculously eccentric not to be laughed at. He wished he might think of some easy way of putting her off, believing that one so weakminded would not long remember having mentioned such a subject.

"Madam," he said, "suppose you try to forget"—

"Does that mean you cannot accept my love?" asked Mary, who was quite infatuated with him.

"I am afraid it does," replied Harold, struggling with his mirth. In all his life he had never had so funny an experience.

"And you can laugh!" exclaimed Mary reproachfully. "You are heartless, absolutely heartless." She turned and left the room without another word, and Harold indulged in unrestrained laughter until suddenly made aware that the old lady was regarding him with great seriousness.

"It would have been better," she said, "if you had been a little more manly. You might at least have offered to be a brother to her. You have hurt a very warm heart and lost a good chance to marry. Mary could have relieved you of many vexations."

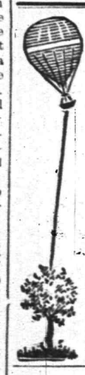
The old lady's seriousness irritated Harold. The idea of any one taking such a proposal seriously was too preposterous to be entertained for a moment. He concluded that his call had been quite long enough, and that he should take his departure as soon as he had made sure that she could tell him nothing more about dining.

"Did I understand you to say," he asked, "that no one eats anything but broth and—ah, air?"

"I said nothing about eating, air. There are nuts and fruits. They are produced in great quantities, and growers vie with each other in starting new varieties. And, by the way, I must warn you not to present a basket of fruit to any one. I mention it, remembering that in your day it was done as a mark of friendship and even of love. How dreadfully coarse it was! In this day it would be considered as insulting as the presentation of a beef roast would have been a hundred years ago."

"May I ask," said Harold, smiling at the thought, "what young men do offer the ladies of their affections?"

CONTINUED TOMORROW



IT STOPS THE PROGRESS of Consumption. The makers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are certain of it. They've proved it for years past—and they're willing to sell it with the agreement that if it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, they'll return the money. Consumption is that serious condition that comes from impure blood. The "Discovery" prevents it, if taken in time; cures it completely, if you haven't waited too long; gives relief and comfort, even in advanced cases.

Use it in severe, lingering Coughs, Asthma, Weak Lungs, and every Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affection.

D. C. ROSENBALM, Esq., of Dutch, Grainger Co., Tenn., writes as follows: "I had been going down in strength and weight for months. I was not able to stir and I smothered very often. After taking Discovery my cough was relieved, I could walk three miles without trouble, catching cold don't distress me now. As long as I live I'll praise 'G. M. D.'"

Don't Hesitate, but Call and Be Convinced That Every Statement We Make Is True.

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

DR. STARKWEATHER.

There is not a penny to pay for the fullest medical advice. Dr. Starkweather is a graduate of the Berkshire Medical College, Massachusetts, and of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia; endorsed also by the College of Physicians and Surgeons and Bellevue Medical College of New York. We invite all sufferers from whatever cause to call at our office, No. 105 Halsey street, Newark, where Dr. Starkweather is in attendance daily to give examination and advice entirely free of charge. It matters not what the disease, or how many years you have suffered, in spite of means adopted in your behalf, a visit to this office and the privileges of the same will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving your life. We prepare all our medicines and prescribe the remedies indicated. This plan enables the patient to receive directly from us such remedies as will produce the results promised.

OFFICIALS ALERT NOW

Washington Police Ready for Commonwealers.

Extra Men Added to the Force, the Different Railway Stations and Roads Entering the City Guarded and Riot Drills Conducted—Governors of Six States Make Requisitions for Troops—Coxey Places His Army on a Paying Basis.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The chief of police took measures to-day to minimize the likelihood of danger from the Coxey invasion. Squads of policemen in uniform were stationed at the railroad stations with instructions to make any large incoming bodies of men give an account of themselves. Officers have been armed with extra heavy oak batons, riot drills of the police force are taking place, and mounted policemen have been detailed for duty in the northern suburbs where the Coxey forces are expected to enter.

With the federal troops and the district militia to support them, the police are confident that they are capable to meet any emergency, but as a precautionary measure special policemen have been enrolled and it is expected that 200 of them will be sworn in and placed on duty Monday, the day before Coxey's proposed entrance to Washington.

A. E. Redstone, Coxey's local agent, said to-day that several companies of men would be organized here at once and sent to join the commonweal at Rockville or Gaithersburg, and that the recruiting would be kept up industriously until the army of peace entered Washington.

The police will guard roads leading to the city Sunday. George Francis Train lectured last night at Metzerott Music hall, on psychic force. In an interview he said:

"I tell you the revolution is coming. It will be the greatest thing this world has ever seen. It will sweep everything before it and the idea of trying to stop these people when they want to come to Washington.

"I tell you Washington is the worst city in the world. There are more gambling houses, houses of bad character and everything else that is evil in this city than there is anywhere else. And they talk about turning these American citizens out of the capital. And, then, how they did surrender when Allen and the others introduced resolutions into congress. Why, it is absurd. A truth suppressed is the greatest kind of a lie. I tell these people to come here and sit down in the streets. And all the talk of an army to stop them is rank nonsense."

ARREST OF THE HOGANS.

Only the Leaders Will Probably Be Held—100 Escape to the Woods.

FORSYTHE, Mont., April 27.—Although Col. Page and his 250 United States regulars moved with great caution in capturing the Montana Coxey army, nearly 100 of the train stealers escaped to the woods. Those captured made no resistance whatever.

The number of those taken was 831, including Gen. Hogan, Engineer Harmon and Fireman Brady.

The common wealers were ridiculously poorly armed, only three revolvers being found. Three of the men were found to be slightly wounded, their injuries having been received in the skirmish at Billings. Seventy-five deputy United States marshals arrived here during the afternoon and the Hogan contingent of Coxey's army was turned over to them.

The train in charge of the marshals, escorted by a detachment of the 22d regiment, started for Helena last evening. The prisoners will be arraigned in the United States district court here without delay, on the charge of the theft of a train and disobedience of an injunction.

The general belief is that only six or eight of the leaders will be held and the remainder will be hauled back to Butte and set at liberty.

Fear the Coxeyites.

TACOMA, Wash., April 27.—More uneasiness from the Coxey army is now feared than at any time since the movement was inaugurated. The federal court has instructed Marshal Drake to fully protect all property of the Northern Pacific. Last night and to-day he has sworn in 150 deputy marshals, sending them to various points along the line. Some fear the army will endeavor to seize another train, threats to that effect having been made. The Seattle army, 500 strong, is marching to Meeker Junction, on the main line near Tacoma, and the Tacoma contingent will join them there Saturday. Marshal Drake's reports say 2,000 Coxeyites will be concentrated at Meeker Saturday.

Federal Troops at Their Service.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Mr. McNaught, counsel for the Northern Pacific Railroad company, has received a telegram from Gen. Schofield stating that the president would furnish troops upon proper requests from the governors of states, or from federal courts in the states through which the Northern Pacific runs. Troops are now so located that it will be impossible for any train secured by the Coxey contingent to get through. The governors of all the six states through which the road runs have made the proper requisitions.

Providence Contingent.

DANIELSONVILLE, Conn., April 27.—The Providence branch of the industrial army reached here last evening, Mathew Murray, captain, and 20 men, from North Scituate, after a march of 16 miles. They were housed in the toll shed at River View for the night. The army goes to Willimantic to-day, a march of 25 miles.

Troops to Watch Shepard's Crowd.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 27.—The troops at Vancouver barracks received orders last night to proceed to Puyallup, on the line of the Northern Pacific road. The officials of the road expect the industrial army of the northwest under command of Shepard to carry out its threat to seize a train at that place.

Compromise on the Tariff.

BALTIMORE, April 27.—A prominent Maryland state official who recently had a long interview with Senator Gorman made a statement to-day that bears out the reports that a compromise on the tariff question had been arrived at.

ADMISSION SCHEME A SUCCESS

Coxey Puts His Army on a Paying, if Not Profitable, Footing.

HYATTSTOWN, Md., April 27.—The march of the commonweal from Frederick was not remarkable for incident. On reaching this place, the procession passed through the one street of the town, Coxey in his buggy bowing and smiling, and the band playing.

The admission scheme has proved very satisfactory, so far as lightening the expenses of Mr. Coxey in managing the army on the road is concerned. The gate receipts in all the large towns have averaged $50 a day, which has more than paid for the feeding of the men, even without the contributions that have been steadily received.

The latest announcement of the selection of a camp made by Mr. Coxey is that the Brightwood driving park, on the Seventh street road, had been secured. The reason given for the switch from Woodley park, was that the Brightwood park had a fence around it, so that admission could be charged.

There may be lively times expected by the Washington police in looking after the crooks that are accompanying it. A gang of nine shell men and confidence men, who have been hanging about the army for several days, congregated here last night and won $15 from an old man on the shell game.

There was a lively fight in camp last night between two of the commonwealers. They were separated, however, before any harm was done, and were threatened with discharge if the offense was repeated.

The camp this evening will be at Gaithersburg, and on Saturday at Rockville. The Gaithersburg camp will be named "Legal Tender," in honor of Mr. Coxey's youngest son.

Philadelphia Division.

SANDY SPRING, Md., April 27.—The Philadelphia division of Coxey's army, fifty in number, after a fifteen mile march arrived at Ashton, near this place, last evening, and are now at Camp "Porter," located in an old school house on a farm. They leave to-day for Rockville, Md., where they will join Coxey Saturday.

MYSTERIES OF MAHATMAS

Mr. Stevens Believes He Has Discovered the Indian Fakirs' Secret.

LONDON, April 27.—Mr. Thomas Stevens, the American who rode around the world on a bicycle and on horseback through Russia, is soon expected home from India. In a private letter to a friend in London he says he has been investigating the mysteries of the Mahatmas, and that by the aid of his camera and his ingenuity he has discovered the secret of those miracles of the fakirs which have puzzled the world ever since Marco Polo told of the wonderful things done by the magicians of Kubali Kahn.

According to tradition and the repeated tales of travelers, the togi or fakirs of India have secret knowledge of certain forces of nature by which they can produce phenomena as inexplicable to western science as the miracles of the bible. Mr. Stevens has put these oriental modern miracles to a practical test and claims to have secured some remarkable results. He hopes to return to America during the ensuing summer.

Reception to Methodist Bishops.

ALBANY, April 26.—A big reception in honor of the Methodist bishops was given last night at the state armory. Between 7,000 and 8,000 people were present. Mr. E. B. Groesbeck presided, and Gov. Flower, Mayor Manning, the Methodist clergymen of 70 churches in Albany and vicinity and a committee of 100 citizens occupied seats on an improvised platform during the delivery of several brief addresses of welcome. Gov. Flower made a short address, in which he said that it was an especial pleasure for him to welcome, on behalf of the people of this state, men so instrumental in doing good to their countrymen as the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church.

To Close for Lack of Orders.

CHESTER, Pa., April 27.—The once busy plant of the Delaware River Iron Shipbuilding and Engine company, known the world over as John Roach & Sons, is now almost as silent as the grave. The steamer Yorktown, that left the wharf Wednesday for New York, completes the last contract the company has on hand and the yard is about ready to close its huge gates for the first time in its history, unless new orders are soon received. A few years ago 1,500 men found employment at these works; to-day not more than 100 are on the pay-roll.

$5,000 Poorer, But Vastly Wiser.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., April 27.—James Emmons, a wealthy and somewhat miserly farmer of Whitehouse station, has a tin box, two bricks and a great amount of experience for which he paid $5,000 in cash this week to two strangers who worked the old, old farm buying bunco game on him. The swindlers made good their escape.

To Try "Bat" Shea.

ALBANY, April 27.—The special term of the court of oyer and terminer, ordered by Gov. Flower to be held in Troy, is for the trial of "Bat" Shea, accused of the murder of Robert Ross in that city on election day this spring. It will be presided over by Justice Pardon Williams, of Watertown. The justice is a republican.

TARIFF BILL CHANGES

More Doctoring to Satisfy the Conservatives.

The Income Feature Amended Considerably, Sugar Changed From Specific to Ad Valorem Duty and a Few New York and Jersey Industries Given a Slight Increase in Rates.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The democratic members of the finance committee believe they have finally reached an understanding with the conservatives whereby they will be able to make such amendments to the pending tariff bill as will draw to it the united support of the party and enable them to pass the measure in the early part of June. It was understood that as soon as the republicans are convinced that the majority has solidified they will close the debate on their part and permit the bill to come to a final vote.

The interview Secretary Carlisle had with the democratic members of the committee yesterday was of the most satisfactory character, it is said, and the members were greatly encouraged over the outlook.

The income tax will be amended by making that tax operative for a fixed term of years, probably not more than five. It is not improbable that the limit of exemption may be reduced to something below $4,000.

Many of the inquisitorial features will also be expunged and the manner of collecting the tax simplified.

It is also known that the sugar schedule will be changed from a specific to an ad valorem duty and that it will be fixed at 40 per cent. ad valorem on all sugars and one-eighth of a cent additional on all refined sugars. Coal, iron ore and lead ore will remain the same.

A few of the industries of New York and New Jersey will also be given a slight increase in the rates now imposed by the bill.

There were numerous conferences yesterday between Senator Jones, who appears to be managing the matter, and other members of the committee, and Mr. Jones said this morning that he believed the party was now practically united on the terms of the bill. Of course there are, naturally, a number of minor details still to be worked out, but the results will be made known at the earliest possible day in the shape of amendments that will be offered to the bill.

NEW YORK, April 27.—In the case of pugilist Bob Fitzsimmons, who was suing his wife for divorce, ex-Judge Henry E. Howland, who was appointed referee, finds that from the evidence introduced before him that Mrs. Fitzsimmons, and not Bob, is entitled to the decree of divorce.

Her counsel, Messrs. Howe & Hummel, will move before Judge Gildersleeve, of the superior court, for the confirmation of the report of the referee, and that the decree of absolute divorce be granted in favor of the wife.

Prohibitionists Will Make a Fight.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 27.—The prohibitionists of the state have officially taken a hand in the fight that is on between free whisky and prohibition. L. D. Childs, chairman of the state executive committee of the prohibitionists, has notified Mayor Sloan, of this city, of the fact that the saloons are running here without molestation, and that he has been advised that the recent decision of the supreme court means prohibition. DOINGS IN CONGRESS

The Senate Not in Sympathy With the Coxeyites.

The Allen Resolution Calls Forth Plain Talk Against the Commonweal Crusade—Objection Raised in the House to the Sergeant-at-Arms Deducting Members' Pay.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The resolution which the populist senator from Nebraska, Mr. Allen, offered on Wednesday was taken up in the senate yesterday and led to a spirited discussion, in which Mr. Allen had to resist single-handed, attacks made from both sides of the chamber. First in the arena of conflict was Mr. Vest (dem., Mo.), who expressed himself in favor of punishing rather than welcoming men who had trampled on the law and undertaken to secure transportation to Washington by force of arms, and he declared that there must be no hesitation or faltering, but that "the whole issue must be met here and now."

Next in the lists appeared the young senator from Colorado, Mr. Wolcott, who in ringing and earnest tones denounced the resolution as a cringing invitation to thousands of people who were preparing to invade the capital, some peaceably and on foot, some by stolen railroad trains, some by beggary, and all of them for no useful purpose. It was time, he declared, that senators had the courage to stand together against that spirit of socialism, populism and paternalism that was running riot all over the country.

Equally earnest protests against the resolution were made by Senators Dolph and Gray, and, after a speech by Mr. Allen in justification of his own course in offering it, the resolution went over without action, going to the calendar, from which there is no chance of its ever being taken.

The tariff bill was then taken up, after the adoption of an order for daily meetings of the senate at 11 a. m., and Mr. Higgins delivered a long speech on the Hawaiian question which was followed by an hour's talk by Mr. Dolph on the general subject of the tariff bill. The question of the pending amendment, as to when the bill shall go into effect, was not touched at all.

At 6:15 p. m., the senate adjourned until to-day at 11 a. m.

House of Representatives.

The first reply to the circular issued by Sergeant-at-arms Snow, in pursuance of democratic caucus action, announcing his purpose to enforce the law of 1856 requiring him to deduct from member's salary for absence except for sickness, was heard in the house.

Mr. Mahon (rep., Penn.) offered as a matter of privilege a resolution relating thereto, declaring it to be an infringement upon the dignity and privilege of members, and wholly unauthorized by law. He argued that the law sought to be enforced by the sergeant-at-arms had really been repealed by a former act fixing the present salary of members of congress, and which contains no provisions for deduction for absence.

An exciting discussion followed, at the end of which Speaker Crisp ruled that the resolution did not present a question of privilege. A similar ruling upon another resolution presenting the same matter in another form was followed by an appeal by Mr. Mahon. This was laid on the table.

The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was then taken up in committee of the whole and finally considered. At 5 o'clock it was reported to the house and passed. The house adjourned until to-day at noon.

Puzzling Immigration Question.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Secretary Carlisle has received this telegram from Collector Saunders at Port Townsend, Wash.: "Nineteen paupers Japs brought over by steamer Mogul, were landed in Victoria. They went to Vancouver and came into the United States afoot at Blaine. They were examined by immigrant inspector and sent back across the line into British Columbia. Soon afterwards they returned and are now held in Seattle. They cannot be kept out of the United States by simply returning them to British Columbia. Should they be sent back to Japan at the government's expense?" The subject is a puzzling one for the treasury officials.

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATE.

Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of the Order, Pleasantly Emphasized.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., observed the seventy-fifth anniversary of the order last night by an entertainment in their rooms on West Second street. A delegation was present from Westfield Lodge, No. 169. The audience comprised over 500 people, all of whom were kept interested and amused by Plainfield talent. A convenient stage, with footlights, had been arranged.

The address of the evening was by Past Grand Charles M. Raybert and was first on the programme. He alluded to the "diamond wedding" of the order, an organization founded upon the best principles of fraternity and benevolence and one that has ever worked hand in hand with religion for the betterment of those it reaches. His speech was full of interest and was greatly appreciated.

The programme was rendered as printed in The Press, with the exception of the songs of William T. Barrell and F. J. Pope, omissions which were supplied by a banjo solo by H. Piker and character songs by E. M. Odam. Encores were accorded the quartette after both selections. The singers were: First tenor, William Tallamy; second tenor, Harry Yaeger; first bass, William Leland; and second bass, Albert Tallamy. The last number was an amusing sketch written by E. M. Odam in which he was conductor and John H. Carney, brakeman.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

Dunellen people were astonished yesterday afternoon when Constable Taynor and Charles Sutterlin of North Plainfield drove up in front of Maier's Hotel with John Pope, who had been missing four or five weeks. He was said to be implicated in the robbery of Enander's shoe store April 1, and the authorities have been searching for him ever since, but were unable to find him. Charles Woods, another young man who was in the robbery, came back voluntarily and gave himself up. Constable Taynor learned the whereabouts of Pope, and, accompanied by Sutterlin, he started for Berkley Heights, where he was. Yesterday morning Pope gave himself up and was brought to Dunellen, and taken before Justice Huff. He pleaded not guilty. He failed to give bonds and was committed to jail in New Brunswick. Charles Woods was sent for and the two were taken over by Constables Huff and Fred. Nelson. Pope completely broke down, and declared he was under the influence of liquor and did not know what he was doing and that he was trapped into the theft. Enander appeared against him, claiming his loss to be $25.60. A very large number of people turned out and excitement ran high. Pope claimed that he had been at Berkley Heights ever since he left Dunellen.

The entertainment and social given under the auspices of the C. E. Society of the Dunellen Presbyterian Church last evening was a great success, socially and financially. Much credit is due the committee, headed by Miss Ella F. Dunham. The following excellent programme was rendered:

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 W. Front street. Price $1.

The Spring House Cleaning Wisely urged by the BOARD OF HEALTH is not complete without a proper use of DISINFECTANTS. But, in choosing these, do not be misled into paying fancy prices for "patent" specialties. Common lime is better than any of them for damp cellars and stables. For vaults, drains, cess pools, the best and cheapest disinfectant is COPPERAS, supplied by us by the pound or barrel at low rates. But for use in the house, in the plumbing, in kitchen sinks, in closets, for purifying the air of sick rooms, deodorizing offensive discharges—in short, for all purposes of a household disinfectant, nothing can excel the powerful solution of chlorides made and sold by us for 15 years under the name of REYNOLDS'S ODORLESS DISINFECTANT. Quart bottles 25c. To be diluted for use according to directions on label.

Hi! there! You just get an old tomato can, an older shovel and a drop line and wander aimlessly down alongside Green brook and the first thing you know you catch a sicker. It may not pay, but then some people catch one and prosper. That's so.

Elston Marsh French has in his possession a map of Somerset County compiled about fifty years ago. To an old-timer it makes an interesting reflection on his memory of North Plainfield as it used to be when it comprised part of Warren township and the polling place was at Mt. Bethel.

Mrs. Isaac Miller of Manning avenue, while awaiting the arrival of her husband from one of the early evening trains, left her seat in the North Avenue station for a few minutes to see if Mr. Miller alighted from a train he usually came on, and left behind in the seat just vacated a new pair of shoes. Mr. Miller not being visible, she went back to the waiting room, but someone had been there in the meantime, and taken the shoes.

Michael Uhdal is about completing the grading in Watchung Park for Aaron Thompson, and for weeks has had a gang at work on ex-Sheriff Coddington's place. There have been sold about fifteen lots on Coddington avenue, and a number of new houses are soon to be erected. It will not be very long before all available lots up to the foot of the mountains on the east of Somerset street will be occupied by neat and attractive houses.

The death of little Fritz Kersting calls up to every-day life a passing portrait that those who read and see should and must profit by, be he infidel, agnostic or Christian. Over in Germany a few years ago there was a family that consisted of a father, a dear, devoted, loving German mother, and two upright and faithful sons. Life in the old country becoming burdensome, the eldest son, Rudolph, who had passed manhood's estate, boldly told the old people that he had made up his mind to emigrate to the land of the free and the home of the oppressed, where everyone is an equal, be he white or black. Against the protests of the aged couple, the boy who made the proclamation that hereafter his interests and his whole life would be spent in a country that so many of their kin had become famous in, sailed and eventually landed and eventually became a citizen after a five years residence in one of the original 13 States, which became and is an historical one—little Jersey. This son, ever keeping in mind the parents, which country boys so easily lose thought of after a few weeks absence, accumulated a little money, and every month he sent his little tale to the parents, whose image he saw in his mind's eye wherever he would go. Money that this faithful boy earned hard, he sent to the parents he so dearly loved, and eventually tickets to this country on the North German line, so that the mother and her little son Fritz, that baby boy who always was her pet and who she always insisted should never do manual toil, sailed and were met by the boy who made the declaration a few years before. Castle Garden six years ago never saw a heartier greeting that the reassembling of the three Germans, the mother and her loving boy and the brother who had braved the ocean and spent a time that seemed a century to him. Domiciled in a cottage built for them on Manning avenue, North Plainfield, these people, ever and always longing for the aged parent who refused to leave the old farm in Germany, prospered. Rudolph, in the employ of Henry Liefke, easily procured for Fritzey a clerkship in that place and by his genteel manners he became a favorite about town. In the whole German element this boy soon became known. Delicate and frail in constitution, and always taking life in a way suitable to such a one, this boy, the mother's fond pet who just reached his majority a few weeks ago, sickened, and died Tuesday night. He usually left his business about 8 in the evening, when all clerks are released from their daily toil, and he invariably would first visit his mother and then stroll through the town and meet his acqnaintances. The pride and the pet of the fond mother contracted a fatal cold only a few days ago. The scene at his bedside was most touching. His funeral took place yesterday at the new German Church on Grove street, and the pastor told in the language that he first heard spoken, of the right to life and the right to be prepared, followed by the distinguished Dr. Richards, whose discourse also was helpful. In a little round mound in the village of the dead, where the living can hear the falling water as it overflows the pond in Chatham street, the cherished son of the dear old German mother now sleeps, and the representative German citizens and his American friends were told his worth as they congregated to pay their respects to his memory. The pall bearers were his own friends, young men actively engaged in different pursuits of life, and their names are Theodore Kuzbals, Jr., Frank Blatz, August Lusardi, John Wolf, Raymond McVoy and Augustus Wilson. Poor Fritzey! He's among the absent. Peace to his memory! THE STROLLER.

WATER LEGISLATION IN NEW JERSEY

Scope of the Bill Now Before the Senate at Trenton.

The question of private or public ownership of watersheds, meaning the right to collect and distribute the water contained therein, is one that has never come up in this country in a form so vitally affecting the public welfare as in the bill recently introduced in the New Jersey Legislature by Senator Bradley. This bill asserts and proposes giving practical effect for the first time to the doctrine of public ownership by placing the more important watersheds of the State under direct public control, through the agency of a State water board for the purpose of furnishing to all municipalities which may apply therefor an abundant and perennial supply of the purest water at actual cost, according to a carefully formulated method of administration.

There is no doubt that the passage of this act would free the State from the possibilities of monopolistic extortion and give to the various municipalities a good water-supply at a minimum cost. Its benefits will insure to all sections of the State, and not more to the populous centres than to the weaker or remoter communities, which, like the sea-coast resorts and the suburbs of the great cities, are, owing to various causes, destitute of good local sources of water-supply.

WASHINGTON'S WELL.

Plainfield Workmen Unearth the Spot Where the Father of His Country Slaked His Thirst.

A reminder of the past was brought to view yesterday by the workmen who are preparing the sidewalk in front of the Babcock Building for flagging. It was the well from which, until 30 years ago, Plainfield's town pump drew water.

For years the old moss-covered wooden pump stood in the street near Laing's Hotel. The horse trough beneath the spout was patronized by every team that came to town. Tradition has it that Washington stopped and drank from the waters of the well while on a trip through Plainfield.

A stone four feet square was discovered yesterday six inches beneath the surface and near the centre of the walk at the east end of the new building. The well was three feet in diameter and twenty feet deep. It was filled in yesterday afternoon and the flag replaced.

THE FOUNDER OF ARBOR DAY.

Instituted by Secretary Morton Twenty-two Years Ago.

Twenty-two years ago, or, more specifically, on Jan. 4, 1872, Hon. J. Sterling Morton introduced and the Nebraska state board of agriculture passed a resolution urging the people of that state to plant trees on Wednesday, the 10th of the following April. The board supported its resolution with offers of premiums for the largest number of trees properly planted in any one county and by any one person. The resolution was, of course, not mandatory, nor had it the support of any action by the legislature, but the people of Nebraska responded by planting on the day indicated more than 1,000,000 trees.

The outcome of Mr. Morton's resolution, says the St. Louis Republic, has been perhaps the most widespread movement that has resulted from the action of an agricultural board. The people voluntarily observed the day in 1873, and Governor Robert W. Furnas in 1874 made official proclamation recommending to the people that they again observe the day and petition the state legislature to make it a legal holiday. For the next 11 years the inhabitants of Nebraska celebrated Arbor day with constantly increasing interest, but it was not until 1885 that the legislature took official action in the matter. Then the date was changed to April 22 and the occasion made a legal holiday.

Long before this, however, other states, and especially those in the central arid region, had followed Nebraska's example in naming a public Arbor day, most of them by direct legislative enactment. Thence the interest spread east, west, north and south, so that by the time Nebraska's tardy legislature had seconded the governor and the board of agriculture millions of new trees were growing in widely sundered regions. Secretary Morton quotes ex-Governor Furnas, now secretary of the state board of agriculture, as estimating that since the establishment of Arbor day there have been planted on that anniversary in Nebraska alone 400,000,000 trees.

Ex-Governor Furnas himself writes: "Since the inauguration of the day in this state it has been instrumental in planting trees on our naturally treeless prairies, numbering into the billions. Nearly all the states in the Union have adopted it. In foreign countries, England, France, Germany and Scotland have followed. The work of tree planting, inspired by the existence of Arbor day, is simply wonderful."

SECRETARY MORTON.

The literature of Arbor day throughout the world has grown almost into a library. Pamphlets, newspaper articles, speeches and lectures upon the subject have been published by hundreds. Experts have studied the arboreal needs of many states, and minute instructions as to the best trees to plant, methods of planting and the best time to plant have been issued in nearly every state and territory.

The friends of tree planting in Nebraska took the trouble five years ago to commemorate the institution of Arbor day by issuing a bound volume giving the history of the movement up to that time. An interesting portrait of Mr. Morton forms the frontispiece of the work, and to him the book is dedicated. James Russell Lowell, George William Curtis, George H. Boker, John Boyle O'Reilly, John Burroughs, Edward Everett Hale and Thomas F. Bayard contributed to the volume of letters in praise of Arbor day, and Edith M. Thomas and Edmund Clarence Stedman wrote poems for the work. Up to that time Nebraska had planted more than 350,000,000 trees, and the aggregate planted throughout the United States had reached a number that baffles the imagination.

Most of the states and territories now celebrate Arbor day in April. In some parts of the country this is too early in the season. In the mountainous region of Colorado, for example, it is practically impossible to plant trees before May because of the deep snows and hard frosts. Several states have altered the date of Arbor day upon finding that it fell too early to suit climatic conditions. Many states provide for special observance of Arbor day in the schools, and the planting of "class trees" by college classes—an ancient custom—has been revived and extended. All literature has been ransacked for appropriate poems to be recited and songs to be sung as part of the ceremonial of Arbor day. This year will see probably 40,000,000 trees planted on the several anniversaries throughout the Union. Already Nebraska's newly planted trees would form a dense forest covering at least 400 square miles.

While the movement was thus spread far beyond the bounds of Nebraska, the interest of Nebraskans in Arbor day continues to be a matter of special pride. Several of those most active in the early Arbor day movement have adopted emblematic devices for their letter heads by way of commemorating the anniversary. Secretary Morton, whose home, "Arbor Lodge," near Nebraska City, is on the farm he originally settled upon when he first went to Nebraska, more than 30 years ago, has for his letter heads a green tree standing in a greensward over a scroll bearing the motto, "Plant Trees." Ex-Governor Furnas has for a letter head a somewhat similar tree and sward, with "Forest Park Place," the name of his homestead, over the emblem, his own name beneath. Mr. Furnas appropriately uses green ink on his typewriter, a piece of consistency that Secretary Morton has not thought it worth while to follow.

LETTER HEADS OF SECRETARY MORTON AND EX-GOVERNOR FURNAS.

THE FOREST.

How to Give It a Majestic Appearance and Make It a Delight to the Eye.

As trees grow thickly together in the forest the lower limbs die and drop off while they are small. But in cases of isolated trees the conditions are so different that unless pruned they are often ill shaped and unsightly. Many people erroneously imagine that as a tree grows the limbs will be raised higher, whereas, from increased weight, they droop and become really lower. The common practice is to neglect pruning shade trees until the view is obstructed by large low limbs, which are then heroically sawed off, leaving large knots and scars, which must ever remain to offend the eye. These useless branches were grown at the expense of the main trunk. Such trees can never present the fine and majestic appearance of those which have a nearly uniform diameter from the ground to the lowest limbs.

In imitation of nature's process in the forest, all limbs and sprouts should be removed as soon as possible up to a desired point. This can usually be done with an ordinary knife, or even the hand. In considering the removal of a sprout the question should be, Will a branch be desirable at that point? If not, let it not remain to rob desirable parts. The height at which branching should be allowed to commence must be decided by individual taste, which will also indicate the lopping off at other points of those branches which are ill formed and not in harmony with the general appearance. Dead and decaying limbs should be promptly removed.—H. R. Sanford.

NEW MARKET WANTS LIGHT.

And Looks to North Plainfield to Supply the Current.

The Dunellen Call says editorially:

There seems to be some misunderstanding between President Sebring, of the North Plainfield Electric Light Company, and the citizens of New Market. The editor of this paper while in conversation with Mr. Sebring not long ago made allusion to the proposed plan and that gentleman said the company was very busy at that time but would extend the wires in the near future, and we certainly are of the impression that the work will be done very soon.

A correspondent of The Call quotes Mr. Sebring as says that "on account of the death of one of the stockholders who resided in Bound Brook that the company would have to buy the stock, and as they were short of funds, and other places wanted the lights worse than New Market, they would not extend the wires here and this is a fact, but nevertheless if Mr. Sebring wishes to have the wires run down to New Market and place the lights in places so ordered, the money is ready and waiting, and as for the people taking no interest in the matter, one would think all the committee had to do was run after the electric light company. We people in New Market have to work for our living and can't be running to Plainfield every month or every week. All we ask is to light this place and the money will be ready in due season."

What Trees to Plant.

A writer in the Philadelphia Ledger, who has made a careful study of the subject of tree planting in cities and towns, gives the following list to select from and prefers them in the order given: Norway maple, sugar maple, silver maple, linden, plane, catalpa, horse chestnut, paper birch and paulownia.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 127. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

My Dear Sir—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

A Twentieth Century Romance.

By EFFIE W. MERRIMAN.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.]

"What do young men—oh, now I see why you laughed at Mary! No. In these days, my dear sir, young men offer nothing; it would be considered a mark of immodesty. They do not seek ladies in marriage. It would be highly improper for them to show any affection until the lady has offered them some encouragement."

"Am I to understand that women now do the lovemaking?"

"Why, to be sure!"

"And the men wait to be courted?"

"How else could there be marriages?"

Harold stared at the old lady for fully five minutes before replying. Such a state of affairs was quite beyond his comprehension. It was too serious to be laughable.

"It used to be different, I know," added the old lady, "but it was no more satisfactory."

"Wasn't it, though!" exclaimed Harold. "Permit me to say that I do not agree with you. But let us not quarrel on that subject. At present I am more interested in the food question than in the fact that women have a corner on the business of lovemaking. Can you tell me why the change was made in regard to the habit of dining?"

"Because women could not use their precious time in cooking, setting tables, washing dishes, hemming table linen and doing the thousand and one other tasks which the old habit of dining made necessary."

"But how do women employ themselves?"

"Keep your eyes open for one week, my dear sir, and you will not need to ask. Although the character of the work has changed, there is still plenty to do, and, as you can see, men amount to little in these days. That is my opinion at least, and I think it will be yours, but women do not seem to agree with me. They consider me very odd for not attaching myself to one of these little specimens of humanity. Ah, they did not live in the days when there were men like you."

"Why are all the men so small?" asked Harold hastily. He feared another proposal.

"It is a natural result of generations of dissipation. I have been told that in 1892 there were many miniature specimens of masculinity to be seen on the streets, but the people did not seem to realize or even to recognize the danger which they heralded. There was an occasional prophet who spoke of the dangers of cigarette smoking, for instance, but notwithstanding two-thirds of the boys smoked cigarettes and wondered why they did not grow to be as large as their fathers. Were you as large as your father?"

Harold admitted that he had not been, and that it had been a source of regret to him.

"Had you not gone to sleep," continued the old lady, "I presume you would not have been so good or so much of a man in any way as your father. Men indulged in all sorts of dissipations, which had their effect both mentally and morally. As they became less manly women became more so. Women took up all sorts of self culture and became man's superior in every way long before even they or the men recognized the fact. When the awakening came, there was a revolution. I think in your day there was considerable dissatisfaction among women, but I am not sure. Of late years I have been a little doubtful as to dates."

"I think you are right," replied Harold, who was very much interested in the old lady's talk. "We had the woman suffragists and an organization called the W. C. T. U. and several smaller organizations which were for the purpose of training men to know right from wrong."

"How did men regard them?"

"They laughed at first, I believe. Later they became more indulgent."

"But they never read the sign by the wayside even then. Well, these societies increased. Women became more and more self supporting and in every way independent. Men were gradually forced to the wall in the labor market. In 1925 no man dared to ask a woman to marry him unless he knew that she could help support the family, and no girl would have thought of marrying without having first learned a trade, for they placed no faith in man's ability to care for women. Indeed there were few marriages, for women did not respect men, and men felt under no obligations to stay with a wife when they thought they could live easier away from her. Women refused to be governed by those whom they considered inferior to themselves, and finally there came the war of the revolution between the sexes. Men should have seen from the first what must have been the result of that war. They had become weakened by generations of self indulgence. Women had grown more powerful, and their was not a difficult victory. After the war men found themselves obliged to sue for woman's favor as women had once sued for theirs. Women had little respect for them, and for a long time man's position was not much superior to that of slavery. They rapidly lost what little power of independent thought they had kept through their years of dissipation and soon became what you see them now—worse, in fact, for of late years there seems to be an uneasiness among a few of them, corresponding to the uneasiness shown by a few women in your day."

"Did you know Letty Mays?" asked Harold, who was reminded of his old love by the mention of the women of his day.

"Oh, yes. She was a middle aged woman when I was a little girl. I went with her several times to see you as you slept, and she told me a great deal about you. She did not marry until quite late in life. She left one son. His name was Harold Winthrop Everett. He married a young woman when he was past 60 years of age and left a daughter, whom he named Letty Mays, after her grandmother. Letty lives alone in the house where you used to court her grandmother. She is 26 years old now and is considered rather peculiar, I believe. For that part, I like her."

"In what way does she show her peculiarity?" asked Harold.

"Oh, she does'nt like men very well. She never takes a man anywhere. She declares that she will not marry until she finds a man as smart as herself, and she talks so much about equality between the sexes that she is making many men quite uneasy. She has quite a following among the men whose wives do not treat them well. Once she said that she was waiting for Harold Winthrop to awaken that she might propose to him. Of course; sir, you will understand that she was joking, not believing that you would ever awaken."

"I understand," replied Harold, "but let me tell you this: When I marry, it will not be to a woman who makes love to me. I reserve the little pleasure of popping the question as my exclusive right."

"Oh, nonsense!" replied the old lady playfully. "I've heard young men talk before. When the right girl asks you to marry her, you'll assent without a word of protest."

Somewhat tired with his long conversation with the old lady, Harold decided to rest himself by calling on Miss Letty Mays Everett. He hoped that he might find a little pleasure such as he used to enjoy in getting up a mild flirtation with the granddaughter of his old love.

CHAPTER IV.

Miss Letty Mays Everett had read many charming romances of that period of the world's existence when man was physically if not mentally and morally woman's superior. They had made a strong impression on her mind. She told herself that it would be quite possible to propose to such a man as that—some one who could fight for her, work for her or die for her if necessary. She could not quite understand how any man could be so venturesome as to make the proposal himself, as in the romances he was represented as doing, unless he were quite devoid of the finer sensibilities. So she constructed her ideal hero on a plan quite as impossible as such personages are usually constructed. He was nineteenth century in all that had appealed to her imagination and twentieth century in everything else.

The romances that Letty enjoyed so much were considered quite too improbable by the scholars of her day to be classed with the healthful literature. They were piled side by side in the public libraries with rusty mythologies and with histories of the earlier centuries, where the dust settled thickly upon them. They were owned by a very few, who were not even so much as envied their possession. Many of the volumes which Letty had read had been handed down since the days of her grandmother's father.

Letty's friends strongly disapproved of her reading such stuff. They said she might have been quite a sensible woman had it not been for her books. They also disapproved of her frequent visits to the old woman, the "Liveforever," as she was called. They knew that Letty went to her simply to hear the stories she had to tell of the days before the revolution of the sexes. No one else believed so implicitly in the stories of men as the old woman told them, and every one thought Letty might better spend her time in trying to solve the problems of the day as they were presented before her.

Something—it might have been the reading; it might have been an inheritance from an oversentimental grandmother, whose heart had been divided between her husband and her sleeping lover—something had made Letty very different from the women of her day. She wanted a husband who would be a companion, not a pretty little fellow whom she could caress and indulge and dress prettily and boast of when at her club with other women. It seemed to her that it ought not to be unreasonable to expect a man to be as intelligent as herself.

Her friends were alarmed when they heard her make such statements. They said that if her ideas obtained society would be overturned and the home life destroyed; that men would become unsexed; that women would be crowded out of the labor market and could no longer support themselves and their families; that, in fact, they could not take time to have families, for wages would be so low that they would be obliged to work throughout the year. Some of the objectors went so far as to teach that if men were allowed equal suffrage there would be a revival of the whisky trade which flourished in the nineteenth century, and that families could no longer be regulated as to number by a woman's ability to provide for her children. The well read offered as proof of their arguments the historical fact that many charitable institutions had been organized during the days of man's supremacy to care for the children who came into the world when there were no means for their support, and that every county had a place of detention called a jail, where they were cared for who should never have been born, but who had grown to manhood as best they could in a world where they were worse than parasites. There were few intelligent women in the twentieth century who could be made to believe that men were capable of exercising the moral self control suggested by Malthus as a needful check to meet the growing danger of overpopulation, and for that reason more than for any other the doctrine of man's suffrage made little headway. It might have died had it not been for Miss Letty's curious desire to find a husband who should also be a companion, and for her belief, formed from much thought on the subject, that only in perfect equality could be found the relation which the Omnipotent meant should exist between the sexes.

"Such talk is wild," said her friends. "There can be no such thing as perfect equality between the sexes. The world is used to the existing order of things; we are comfortable; men are happy or ought to be, for we do everything to make them so—let well enough alone."

But still Letty clung to her ideals, and every year the number of men made dissatisfied by her glowing representations of a future in which they should stand side by side with women was slowly but steadily increasing.

MRS. ROBERTS.

After I took your 'Favorite Prescription,' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I commenced to improve. In two weeks could walk about the house—could eat—did not have any more pain in my stomach—threw away my morphine powders. When I first commenced taking the medicine it made me feel worse. I was hoarse, could not speak aloud for three days; as I got better my pains and bad feelings left me and I could sleep good; my nerves got better. Before I took your medicine I kept my bed four months—got worse all the while. I am now quite fleshy and can work all day."

Citizen Train Checks All Impending Danger.

His Visit to Washington in the Interest of the Coxeyites Results in "Scaring the Wits Out of the Government"—Also in Getting Himself Arrested—Capital Police Officials Not So Apprehensive of the Commonwealers—Movements of the Industrial "Soldiers."

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Reports received during the past few hours by the police officials from the several groups of men now marching towards this city are of a nature to greatly allay the apprehension entertained by the authorities. Nevertheless the precautionary measures begun several days ago will not be relaxed nor abandoned.

It is now believed that of all the commonwealers now headed this way not more than 500 will arrive here by May 1—the day on which labor is the most disturbed throughout the world.

The information received to-day leads to the belief that outside of the Coxey contingent the chances are that the other industrial armies will go to pieces before reaching this city.

George Francis Train, who was arrested for giving a lecture on the commonweal move at Masonic temple without procuring a license, was arraigned before Judge Kimball at the police court, and created much amusement even for the stern court.

Judge Kimball asked Mr. Train to stand up for arraignment, but this he would not do, declaring his wish to be sent to jail for contempt of court.

But Judge Kimball said he recognized the defendant's peculiarities and would not require him to stand up. At this the citizen stood up and pleaded not guilty to the charge of conducting the entertainment, and he was released.

Train left at 3 o'clock for New York. He said that his efforts to secure Metzerott hall for a series of lectures in support of the Coxey movement had failed; that the dangers menacing the country had been averted by his coming over in time and there was no further necessity for his staying. Mr. Train made the additional statement that he would probably never lecture again.

"There's no use for me to stay here any longer," he said, "I've scared the wits out of the government which has made an ass of itself, as it always does. They're afraid for me to go to New York, but I'm going all the same.

"How did I know what the laws of this blamed picayune district were? I came here anyhow to be arrested. I'm never happy unless I'm in jail. But they wouldn't put me in jail. Catch on?

"When I was called down stairs here to meet the policeman I said to myself, 'Now I'll put out my psychic force and make him arrest me,' and I'll be blamed if he didn't at that very moment have a warrant for me in his pocket.

"I'm tired of Washington. That's why I sat down in the police court, and do you know that I had to laugh while they were hunting over the law books to see if I could be held for contempt of court. Nobody knows anything about the laws here anyhow."

Gen. Frye's Men in Clover.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 28.—Gen. Frye's commonweal army is still encamped west of the city in comfortable barracks. With the Hoozier contingent the army numbers nearly 500. They are "in clover," as the sympathizers with the movement, including many ladies of the city, are caring for their every want. Frye's agents have made overtures to the Big Four road for transportation of the army to Washington by special train, for which they offer to pay $30 a car. The company's officials here refuse to give a final answer before Monday, and the army will stay here until next week. Gen. Frye is putting up at one of the best hotels in the city.

COLUMBUS, O., April 28.—At the request of Superintendent Peabody of the Midland railway Governor McKinley last night issued a special commission to John Mahony, chief of detectives of this city, to organize a posse to go to Mount Sterling and rescue a train that has been captured there by Galvin's army. Mahony left with fifty men on a special train. Four companies of the Fourteenth regiment of state troops are held in their armory here on the governor's orders to support the posse if needed.

To Enter the District To-morrow.

GAITHERSBURG, Md., April 28.—Coxey's army reached this place yesterday afternoon, after a dry and dusty march, and under the directions of a citizens' committee, camped a quarter of a mile east of town. This afternoon will find the army at Rockville where they will stay only a single night, breaking camp at 7 o'clock Sunday morning for the march to Washington. It is understood that Brightwood driving park, the main camp, will be reached by 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

MINERS GAINING STRENGTH.

Alarming Extent of the Great Bituminous Coal Strike.

COLUMBUS, O., April 28.—The following estimate of number of miners now out on the strike, given out by President McBride, shows that the miners are gaining strength: Alabama, 8,000; Tennessee and Kentucky, 6,000; Indiana, 5,000; Ohio, 26,000; West Virginia, 4,500; Illinois, 28,000; Iowa, 1,300; Indian territory, 2,000; Missouri, 4,500; Pennsylvania, 65,000; Colorado, 1,500; Michigan, 300; total, 152,100.

In this estimate President McBride does not include the accessions in the Indiana block fields and in Illinois indicated in the late despatches. The principal addition is made in Pennsylvania, where he estimates that 65,000 men are now out. J. A. Crawford telegraphs from Illinois that "not a wheel is moving from St. Louis to Cairo," and from this President McBride predicts that Illinois will be out solidly by May 1. That 250 men went to work at Benwood, W. Va., he does not regard as significant.

Strike Develops Ugliness.

PETERSBURG, Ind., April 28.—The strike among the coal miners of Pike county has assumed an alarming attitude, and it is thought that blood will be shed. All the miners in the county want out on the general order of Saturday except those employed at the Little mine, six miles west of town, numbering 110. Overtures were made by the striking miners, but the men refused to stop work. Three hundred miners from Daviess and Greene counties passed through here with tents, provisions and three brass bands on their way to Little's, and were reinforced by 400 from Vanderberg county. There are now about 800 miners on the ground, and provisions are being taken to them from this point, local politicians and candidates contributing liberally to the fund. The striking miners declare that Little's men shall not resume work, while the owner of the mine has notified the strikers not to put foot on his premises. The authorities anticipate serious trouble.

Trial of Anarchist Henry.

PARIS, April 28.—The trial of Emil Henry, the anarchist who exploded the bomb in the cafe Terminus, in the Rue Des Bon Enfants on the evening of Feburary 12, was begun before Judge Potier in the Seine Assizes. The prisoner, alert and vigorous, was brought into the court room by five members of the republican guard. While the indictment against him was being read he laughed scornfully. The indictment charges him with exploding a bomb at the police station in the rue des Bon Enfants in November, 1892; with having caused the explosion in the cafe Terminus, and with the shooting of Policeman Poisson, who was endeavoring to arrest him as he ran from the cafe Terminus.

Shadow of Anarchy.

CHICAGO, April 28.—The shadow of anarchy and the Haymarket tragedy came over the commonwealers at the barracks when Lucy E. Parsons, widow of the executed anarchist, sang her incendiary song of anarchy to the 1,000 followers of Coxey in this city and made one of her most rabid harangues. She was given a stern rebuke by Commander Randall, of the army, who did not intend at the start that Mrs. Parsons should have spoken. The recruits were almost silent when the female anarchist leader expected cheers. He told his men that any who endorsed the sentiments of Mrs. Parsons should leave the ranks. None did.

Anarchy in France.

PARIS, April 28.—It has been discovered that Felix Fenech, the anarchist war office clerk who was arrested, was acting as a medium of communication between anarchists in England and Germany and their friends in France. He received a large number of letters daily, and the police are endeavoring to trace their origin.

Coal Scarce.

NEW YORK, April 28.—There is a scarcity of bituminous coal in the city, caused by the recent strikes, which have caused the output from the mines to dwindle to almost nothing. Coal dealers say they anticipate a condition of affairs that will come near being a coal famine.

WERE BOTH BLUFFING?

Senators Discussing the Tariff Challenge.

Some People Who Believe That Bad Not the Republicans Weakened the Democrats Would—Others Who Think They Would Have Stood By Their Agreement—Work in House.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Senators are still discussing the incident in the senate yesterday, when it would, it is believed, had the minority not weakened, have resulted in a vote on the tariff bill, as the democrats were undoubtedly in earnest and intended to stick to their agreement to permit the vote to be taken.

What the result would have been is difficult to surmise, but from the apparent willingness of the democrats to accept the challenge some consider it as indicating that they have agreed to stand solidly together when the time to vote arrives, while others declare that the whole matter was a bluff, and had the republicans stood by their challenge the democrats would have weakened. This latter view seems to be most accepted, for it is generally believed that the stories of agreement on several important amendments to conciliate the conservatives are true.

At the time the challenge was offered the scene in the senate was intensely exciting.

Mr. Lindsay (dem., Ky.) had been making a speech in support of the bill when Mr. Aldrich (rep., R. I.), a member of the finance committee and a leader of the republican opposition, startled both sides of the chamber with a challenge to vote at 3 o'clock that day on the bill as it came from the house of representatives.

As Mr. Lindsay had no authority to speak for the democratic side of the chamber, the challenge was not accepted; and then Mr. Aldrich went a step farther and challenged a vote at 3 o'clock on the bill as reported from the committee on finance.

The moment Mr. Lindsay finished his speech, Mr. Harris (dem., Tenn.), who is managing the bill as a member of the finance committee, rose and accepted, on behalf of the democratic side of the chamber, the challenge in its latter form. But the challenging party found various reasons for a withdrawal of the cartel—the principal one being that it had not been accepted at once, but only after the democrats had caucused and "looked over their hand." He had not given he said, "a 30 days' option on it."

His position was characterized by Mr. White, of California, as that of a person whose offer had been "called" and who refused to respond, and Mr. Aldrich's parry to that thrust was that in the game to which Mr. White referred he had never heard of a "call" being honored the day after the game.

Finally definite objections to the proposition were made by Senator Teller (rep., Col.) and Hawley (rep., Conn.), the former on the ground that no matter what bill was passed, it would be fixed up in conference committee to meet the views of some democratic senators who were opposed to it as it stood, and the latter on the ground that the bill as it passed the house murdered many of the industries of Connecticut, while the bill as reported from the finance committee spared some of them.

Mr. Cullom (rep., Ill.) made an earnest speech against the bill, and Mr. Dolph (rep., Ore.) went on with the fifth installment of his speech against it.

House of Representatives.

Under an agreement reached by unanimous consent, the house disposed of all the private pension and relief bills—25 in number—reported by the committee of the whole from Friday night's sessions so far this session. The senate resolution was agreed to appropriating $10,000 for the employment of additional clerical force in the library, made necessary by the operation of the copyright law. Nearly all the rest of the day was spent upon the private calendar. One bill was ordered to be reported to the house with a recommendation that it be recommitted to the committee on war claims, when the committee rose and the house resumed its session, the recommendation was agreed to—108 to 50. At 5 o'clock the house took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session being devoted to private pension and relief bills.

BUSINESS AGAIN SLOW

Depressing Influence of the Great Coal Strike.

Numerous Industries Forced to Shut Down for Lack of Fuel—Only Two Cities in the West Report Improvement—Increase in Sales of Steel Billets at Pittsburg.

NEW YORK, April 28.—According to Bradstreet's review of the business situation throughout the United States for the week just closing, issued to-day, the condition is less favorable as shown by reports from more than 50 important distributing centers. A specially depressing influence is the strike of 147,000 bituminous coal and coke operatives in 12 states, reported by the president of the United Mine workers. Accumulated stocks of bituminous were about an average for the season, but are not likely to last beyond the middle of May. Already the record of furnaces banking fires, factories closing down, lake vessels laying up, and mills throughout the central and central western states shutting down in consequence of a lack or prospective lack of fuel, is attracting attention. This, apparently the largest single industrial strike taking place in this country, is reported as caused by efforts of operators to recoup themselves from results of "insane competition" by repeated cutting of miners' wages.

Buffalo, Cleveland, Chicago and Duluth are feeling the strike, the effect on vessel interests at these and other lake ports being very discouraging. Duluth ore shipments are delayed for want of return coal cargoes, and railroad companies have begun to discharge coal train employes. Complicating the situation is the effort of about 30,000 miners to supply the demand for coal who will not strike.

220,000 Employes Idle.

The total number of industrial and other employes on strike now, with those idle by reason of strikes, is 220,000, of which nearly 75 per cent. are coal miners and coke operatives, 10,400 textile workers, 7,000 in pottery and kindred industries, 8,000 in building trades, and 6,000 railroad employes.

Only two cities of thirty-five reporting in central, western and northwestern states report material improvement in general trade this week—Indianapolis and Kansas City; even at those points the gain is slight. The reverse of the picture shows results of industrial disturbances, of strikes on the Great Northern railway, slackness of country trade due to farmers being in the field, and a natural reaction in trade consequent on the sudden and widespread [illegible] when trade was barely beginning to improve.

Business Failures.

There are 201 business failures reported in the United States this week, against 212 last week, 186 in the week a year ago, 147 two years ago, and 199 three years ago.

The tendency of prices of leading staples to advance during the fortnight is offset by an opposite movement. Steel billets are 25c. higher, due to heavy purchases and prospective short supplies of fuel. Oats have advanced more than 2c. on a speculative squeeze, and potatoes (west) are higher on short supplies. With these exceptions and that of pig iron, for which demand is stimulated by the coal strikes, price movements have almost been downward, although various staple provisions, delaine fleeces and rice are firm and in fair demand. But sugar is off 1-8c., wheat 1-2c., corn 1-8c., cotton 1-16c., pork 25c., lard 5c., coffee 1-8c. Heavy auction sales of flannels have resulted in prices an average of 15 to 25 per cent. off, and eastern cotton mills have been selling certain lines of product at concessions in price, and attempting to reduce wages of operatives, with strikes as a result.

Cholera in Europe.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The following cablegram has been received at the Marine hospital bureau from Surgeon Irwin, at Vienna, Austria: Cholera prevails in East Galicia, 28 cases and 11 deaths; at Koona, in Russia, 55 cases and 33 deaths in one month, and at Plock, six cases and five deaths. Cholera also prevails in the province of Finisterre, France.

May Day Processions Forbidden.

VIENNA, April 28.—The government has forbidden May Day processions throughout Austria and employers have notified their workmen that absence from duty on that day without permission will be regarded as a breach of contract and will subject the offender to dismissal.

Trial of Mme. Joniaux.

BRUSSELS, April 28.—The trial of Mme. Joniaux, who is accused of murdering her sister, brother and uncle for their life insurance, will not begin probably before next September. It will be held in Antwerp.

GREECE AGAIN SHAKEN

Not a House Left Standing in the Town of Thebes.

The Work of Destruction Begun By the Previous Shocks at Atalanti Now Completed—Panic in a Cathedral at Athens—Stone Walls Split and Roofs Rent in Several Towns.

ATHENS, April 28.—A heavy shock of earthquake was felt here at 9:20 last night. It lasted 15 seconds. The weekly epitaphion procession was in progress at the time and the cathedral was crowded. The windows of the cathedral rattled ominously and several objects fell to the floor.

Women screamed, and somebody shouted that the building was falling.

A terrible panic was averted only by Premier Tricoupi's presence of mind, in inducing the people to leave the building quietly.

Dispatches received so far indicate that the earthquake was felt throughout Greece.

The town of Atalanti, 3,000 inhabitants, which had been but slightly injured by previous shocks was nearly levelled to the ground. Two-thirds of the buildings were reduced to heaps of ruins and the rest were badly damaged.

The destruction of Thebes was completed. Not a house in the town was left standing.

Lamia suffered less, although scores of houses were damaged so badly as to be uninhabitable.

Part of the prison collapsed and about 50 convicts were caught in the wreck. The number of dead and injured is not known.

Larissa, Volo, Chalcis and Patras were shaken more severely than Athens. Stone walls were split and roofs were rent in hundreds of buildings in the four towns.

Terror reigns on the island of Syra and Zante. Repeated shocks have been felt there in the last two days. Small villages have been half ruined and hundreds of families have been driven to live in the fields, unsheltered and underfed.

THE GREAT NORTHERN STRIKE.

Tie-up More Complete Than Ever—Union Pacific Involved.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 28.—The American Railway union has ordered a strike on the Northern Pacific, but the order is held back for the present for some unknown reason.

The strike on the Great Northern is playing havoc with other roads. The Soo eastern train cannot get out of St. Paul to-day.

ST. PAUL, April 28.—Precisely at noon the Great Northern strike went into effect at St. Paul and at all points on the line from this city to the coast. The Eastern Minnesota is also involved. Within five minutes after the committee had arrived at the decision to call all the men out, the order had been sent out by President Debs, and the fight is now on in dead earnest. The company claims that it has sufficient men now in its service who will remain at work, while the American Railway union asserts just the contrary.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 28.—The first passenger train for the coast left St. Paul yesterday morning. The train consisted of two passenger coaches, one dining car, one baggage car and one sleeper.

At the St. Paul shops the couplings were sealed with United States seals.

On board were 41 passengers, some of them children. Nearly all were destined for the far west.

There was only one marshal on board, but it was given out that the train would be met at the stations by deputies.

The baggage car was loaded with spikes, ties, sledges, etc., in readiness for a wreck.

A big crowd gathered at the depot to see the train off.

In spite of the calm demeanor of the railroad men it was evident that they were under a heavy strain and all were heavily armed. At 9:45 the train reached Osseo all right. The officials expected trouble west of Minot and had prepared for it.

Will Never Give Up Samoa.

BERLIN, April 28.—In the course of Baron Marschall von Bieberstein's recent audience with the emperor at Carlsruhe, the kaiser said that Germany would be willing to share with England a protectorate over Samoa, but declared that the lives of German sailors had paid for Samoa and, therefore, Germany would never relinquish her rights, in spite of the apathy of the reichstag in the matter of colonial questions.

$15,000 for Loss of a Leg.

BOSTON, April 28.—A superior court jury has just rendered a verdict of $15,000 against the West End Street Railway company, made in favor of Frank M. Cavanagh, who sued for $80,000 damages for the loss of a leg as well as for internal injuries. He sustained his injuries July 23, 1891, while attempting to get on an open electric car in Cambridge.

IT IS TIME TO GET WELL.

All Nature Takes a New Start--New Sap Runs in the Trees and New Blood Courses Through the Veins--In Spring Take Paine's Celery Compound, the One Remedy That Cures.

Everything is upward striving
'Tis as easy now for the heart to be true
As for fields to be green or skies to be blue;
'Tis the proper way of living.

All animate nature feels the touch of spring. Nature has her great spring cleaning days. The birds get new plumage, the fish put on their fresh, glistening scaly armor, new streams of fresh water start from the ground; there are new buds and livelier sap, and in the human body the heart throbs with fuller, stronger beats.

It is a season of great changes.

At no time during the year is the body so inclined to get rid of old, diseased conditions, chronic sickness and deep seated disorders of the vital organs.

It is for these reasons that Paine's celery compound, the most famous nerve regulator and blood purifier in the world, has acquired the name of the great spring medicine.

There is not a single town in the country large enough to boast its regular physician or drug store where Paine's celery compound is not being more largely used this month than any other remedy. It is known wherever progress and enlightenment have pushed the railroad or the newspaper.

Paine's celery compound is the very utmost the medical research of today can do for the exhausted, badly nourished nerves and thin impure blood. It goes straight to the causes of the mischief in the many forms of disease resulting from nervous debility and insufficient or vitiated blood. A thousand painful symptoms arise from these two prime causes. Correct the nerves and blood with Paine's celery compound and the entire system must get well; diseases of particular part disappear, and strength and health by day and sound, invigorating sleep by night, return by an unfailing natural process. Paine's celery compound drives out diseases of the liver, heart and the kidneys—by sending pure, sufficient blood, loaded with reconstructive material, through these vital organs, instead of a watery, impure fluid that can neither nourish nor invigorate. Dyspepsia, neuralgia, rheumatism, heart disease, general nervous debility and loss of strength cannot remain when the nerves and blood receive their daily reinforcement of rich, abundant nourishment from Paine's celery compound.

Most diseases are signs of poverty, either of blood or nerves. Paine's celery compound makes people well because it feeds starved nerves and blood and regulates their functions. Try it and be convinced, as are thousands of men and women and children everywhere

THE DAILY PRESS.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

Rahway has settled her debt. Now let her arise from her slough of despond and strike out and be somebody.

Of course you are keeping posted on the customs to be enjoyed by your descendants a hundred years hence. Page 4 gives another instalment today of that curious tale, "A Twentieth Century Romance".

The trolley car has run down and killed fifteen human beings in Newark, all for lack of fenders. If fenders are not provided for the Plainfield cars, such misfortune in this city is only a matter of time. The company is making money, and should be obliged by legislation if necessary to supply life-guards for each car.

The appointment of Mr. Crane for the lay judgeship gives such general satisfaction that even the Republican papers praise it. For instance, the Elizabeth Journal:

J. Williams Crane has received the nomination by Governor Werts as lay judge for Union County, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Wiley. Mr. Crane undoubtedly represents the better elements of the Democratic party, will occupy the bench with dignity and will perform the duties required of him with a conscientious desire to administer justice and do what is right. If the lay judge system is to be retained, no better man could be selected for this place than Mr. Crane.

The New Brunswick Fredonian, the old Republican organ of Middlesex County, which for some years has been operated by a stock company, has become financially embarrassed by a large debt, and the stockholders have applied for a receiver. That paper has never been successfully managed since the old days when the veteran John F. Babcock was editor and proprietor, and who was forced to surrender his property because of the fall of the old corrupt Republican ring that ruled in Middlesex for some years, and which he championed.

By Assemblyman Codding's successful bill, Union County gains about 500 acres. The bill cuts off a little slice of Middlesex County and adds it to Clark Township. The intent of the bill is to throw all of the road between Plainfield and Rahway into Union County, so that it can be improved. It is, also, to get ten or a dozen more good citizens into Clark Township. Politically these citizens are about equally divided, so that there is no partisan gain. Senator Marsh introduced a similar bill in the Legislature last year, but it did not go through. Voorhees's did.

The Bound Brook Chronicle quotes The Press's chronicles of successful fishing by Plainfield Waltons, and says:

The Legislature will probably wind up its business and go home for the Summer within a few weeks, but before adjourning it should pass a law prohibiting fishermen from coming here from all over the State and casting their lines in such pleasant places as the Millstone and the Raritan rivers. In these hard, Democratic times the local streams can scarcely supply the home demands, and yet we are pained to find in our exchanges such tales. These things must be stopped and we call upon Assemblyman Somers to see that our home fishermen are afforded some legal protection.

Plainfield's fire-alarm system is as perfect as man has invented. But like every delicate mechanism it needs constant and careful attention. T. O. Doane has enough to do, goodness knows, in attending to his manifold duties as Chief Engineer, which he does so faithfully and well, and he cannot be expected to look after the system's practical workings. The city ought to hire some competent electrician to attend the circuit and see that it is maintained in faultless operation. Such a man is Manager Charles W. Runyon of the Plainfield Telephone Exchange. He is commended by the Gamewell Company itself as just as good an expert as can be secured, and the city can no doubt make an advantageous contract with him.

Where We Need Bridges.

A party of county officials visited Clinton and Netherwood avenues yesterday and after due consideration thought it advisable to recommend to the incoming board that bridges be built at those places.

Those who went were: County Engineer Quien, of Elizabeth, Noah Woodruff, of Roselle, Charles Moore, of Elizabethport, John Halliday, of Rahway, J. F. Hubbard, A. Vanderbeek and John Tier, Sr., of Plainfield, Andrew Lutkins and Charles Bullman, of the borough.

Voting Prizes to Others.

The general committee in charge of the Paugh Caugh Naugh Sinque Tribe of Red Men met in Justice Nash's office last night. To the policemen's contest for a belt and club, and silver badge, were added others for a boys bicycle, for a girls bicycle, and for a woman's gold watch.

Much interest has been aroused in the contests and the general preparations. One book already has $5 to the credit of Sergeant Kiely.

Musical Glasses.

In the Vicar of Wakefield there is a reference to "Shakespeare and the musical glasses". A modern edition of these glasses can be seen and tried at Collier's, 103 Park avenue. By their use people of waning sight will be enabled to sing their way back to perfect vision. Try them and you will be convinced.

Two More Chiefs.

At the meeting of Miantonomoh Tribe of Red Men held last evening the chiefs degree was conferred upon two. Tickets for the entertainment of May 23 were given out.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Kly's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

NO NEW TRIAL.

The Application of Col. Breckinridge Denied.

(Special to The Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Justice Bradley this morning overruled the defendant's motion for a new trial of the Pollard-Breckinridge case. The defendant was granted thirty days in which to file a bill of exceptions.

SAYS IT'S SPITE WORK.

What John Benner Thinks of the Opposition to His Business.

In regard to the petition which has been circulated for the suppression of John Benner's Fanwood road house, Mr. Benner states that the circulators of the paper have no reason for their action and are working simply from personal dislike for the proprietor. He says that Henry Brick, of Plainfield, and Captain Tuzo and and John McGinley, both of whom reside over a mile from the place, are the principal petitioners and quotes Mr. Brick as saying that he had no case against the house but was simply opposed to Mr. Benner.

Mr. Benner says he has never violated any saloon regulations, and that there has n't been a hard word spoken in the place since he became proprietor. He has many friends in Plainfield and Fanwood who support his statements.

For Her Husband's Lost Affections.

READING, Pa., April 28.—Mrs. Maria Lauer, wife of George F. Lauer, the well known brewer, has brought action against Rebecca Potteiger of this city to recover damages for the alienation of the affections of her husband. No declaration of the particulars of the plaintiff's case has yet been filed. Miss Potteiger while abroad some years ago married Sir Henry Reed, an English baronet, who died while traveling in this country and from whom she inherited a large fortune. Subsequently she assumed her maiden name. Miss Pottieger, otherwise known by friends as "Lady Reed," in girlhood was a woman of wonderful beauty.

Rough Cruise in Arctic Waters.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., April 28.—The steamer Neptune has just arrived from the seal fishery in a badly damaged condition. Her forefoot was torn out, part of her keel gone, her stern torn asunder and general damage done to the hull. The weather during the voyage was the worst her crew ever experienced. She was caught in the ice several times, and her crew had all their belongings packed, ready to abandon her on several occasions.

Rome Locomotive Works to Rebuild.

Cold Shoulder for Mrs. Davis.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 28.—One of the sensations of the great confederate reunion being held here is the cold shoulder which has been given to the widow of Jefferson Davis. One of the purposes of the association was to see that each southern state contributed a pension of $500 for her support. The committee in charge of the subject, in reporting that the movement be dropped, stated, that as Mrs. Davis had selected New York state for her residence, she thereby lost her identity with the southern states. This report was adopted, and Mrs. Davis' name will be stricken from all future consideration.

COPYING AFTER PLAINFIELD.

Westfield, Keeping Pace with Modern Methods, Wants Filtration Sewerage.

A citizens meeting to consider the sewerage question was held in the Westfield town rooms Thursday evening. About one hundred property-owners were present. F. A. Dunham of Plainfield, who was the engineer of the Union County road system, was present and expressed his ideas concerning the different ways of disposing of sewage. He gave as his opinion that the cost of a sewer to tidewater would be about $9,000 per mile and that the lateral sewers in town would cost about $5,000 per mile. With seven miles to tidewater and five miles in town the cost would not be far from $90 000 The filtration system, he thought, would cost between $30,000 and $40,000 The latter scheme was considered most advisable. Another meeting will soon be held to consider the matter further.

The Spring House Cleaning Wisely urged by the BOARD OF HEALTH is not complete without a proper use of DISINFECTANTS. But, in choosing these, do not be misled into paying fancy prices for "patent" specialties. Common lime is better than any of them for damp cellars and stables. For vaults, drains, cess pools, the best and cheapest disinfectant is COPPERAS, supplied by us by the pound or barrel at low rates. But for use in the house, in the plumbing, in kitchen sinks, in closets, for purifying the air of sick rooms, deodorizing offensive discharges—in short, for all purposes of a household disinfectant, nothing can excel the powerful solution of chlorides made and sold by us for 15 years under the name of REYNOLDS'S ODORLESS DISINFECTANT. Quart bottles 25c. To be diluted for use according to directions on label.

TICKLED FEMININE FANCY.

Exquisite Samples of Woman's Rare Handiwork Inspected by Local Enthusiasts.

The Plainfield Branch Alliance held an adjourned monthly meeting in All Souls Church yesterday afternoon.

The regular report of the committee on current events in the religious world was presented. The secretary of the Post-office Mission, Miss Reynolds, gave a report of the work and read letters from a number of those in different parts of the country who had received reading matter through the mission.

The topic of the day was "Needlework and Floriculture". It was treated as follows:

"The Modern Machine and Plain Sewing", Mrs. William H. Riley

"Embroidery in the 19th Century", Miss Carrie Haviland

"The Needlework Guild of America", Miss E. L. Reynolds

"The Benefits of Floriculture", Mrs. William F. Adams

"Flowers for Profit", Miss Chase

A loan exhibition of needlework in the church parlor was inspected. It comprised many old, rare and beautiful specimens. Among the objects of special interest were an embroidered purse made in 1764, exquisite hand-made lace from a Michigan worker, embroidery worked at the age of 75 by Mrs. Margaret J. Brewster of Plainfield, several doylies with delicate floral patterns worked by a woman of 77, an historical sampler worked in St. Joseph's School, New York, in 1822, a silk log-cabin quilt made by a woman of 75, and a sampler, dated 1822, showing the family register of Aipheus Merrifield, which had descended to Mrs. Adams. A framed sampler of unique design was the work of Mrs. Sidna R. Vail, now living here, who embroidered it in 1831, when she was 10 years old and lived in Warrenville. Samplers used for teaching the alphabet and figures were dated from 1745 to 1842 and attracted much attention because of their peculiar stitching. A linen homespun quilt, 150 years old, showed careful embroidering in a dainty design with two shades of home-dyed thread. The embroiderer received 30 shillings for the work. Very old hand-made lace childrens' caps and capes were shown as the work of an aunt of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe. A pleasant hour was spent by the women in admiring and criticising the exhibits.

After Much Opposition.

A lay judge has at last been appointed for Union county, the Governor sending in the name of J. Williams Crane for the position along with nominations for Essex and Hunterdon.

Three weeks ago Charles H. Schmidt, of the Elizabeth Freie Presse, was the foremost candidate for this appointment. Later Mr. Crane took precedence, and the Governor actually had his name ready to send to the Senate. Then local politicians interfered, and Mr. Crane's name was withdrawn, and that of Addison S. Clark of Westfield was brought to the front, and it was believed he would get the appointment.

And then Charles Russ was prominently spoken of, and his nomination was strongly urged by prominent citizens. But at the last moment Ex-Gov. Ludlow, who was Mr. Crane's associate in the adjustment of Elizabeth's assessments, went to Trenton, and Mr. Crane was appointed.

The Senate will confirm unless some involving complications arises.

Done in Dunellen.

Mrs. J. G. VanMiddlesworth and son Wesley, of Elizabeth, have returned from a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. VanMiddlesworth of East High street.

Adam Seader has given up his livery, and has gone in the stone business. A young man looks after his interests at the railroad station.

Miss Lizzie Dunham of South Plainfield has been spending two days pleasantly with Miss Hague.

Several Plainfield cyclers enjoyed a spin through Dunellen yesterday.

Dunellen is sadly in need of a watering cart. The streets are very dusty.

Henry VanMiddlesworth, who has been very ill, is no better, and his death is expected at any time.

Social of the Seniors.

The older members of the First Methodist Sunday-school spent an enjoyable evening at the reception in Vincent Chapel last night. There was a good attendadce of scholars and friends.

To the pleasures of conversation and refreshments was added a short musical programme. Miss Adelaide Westcott, of Chickering Hall, New York, gave three recitations and a monologue entitled "My Lady Receives". Miss Kitty Mitchell sang and Miss Margaret Barnes played on the piano.

Music of "The Grey Mare".

The music at the production of the Grey Mare at the Casino, next Thursday, will be one of the many excellent features of the performance. The following programme will be given by the Lyceum Theatre orchestra under the leadership of Eugene Rose:

Overture-Concert.....Lentner

Intermezzo, Cavalliera Rusticana, Waltz Lirto.....Mascaqui

Ballroom Whispers.....L. Tresh

Selection, Robin Hood.....DeKoorn

Endeavorers' Social.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the the Congregational Church gave a very pleasant social last evening, visitors being present from other churches. In the course of the evening Miss Louise Jenkins and John V. Beekman rendered piano solos. A banjo solo by Miss Capitola Conover was accompanied by Miss Julia Belknap. Chocolate and cakes were served.

Gallant Firemen Dance in Hope of a Parade Next Fall.

Engine Company No. 2 gave a reception and dance in Central Hall last evening to the women who helped them at their first fair. About 75 invited guests were present and the night's delight was marred by nothing.

Nathan Guttman's musicians began with an overture dedicated to the engine company. The 32 dances on the order were all appropriately labelled and the significance of each gave greater enjoyment to the dancing. Besides the officers and the other firemen and to the Independent Fife and Drum Corps there were the dedications: "To the Ladies who Assisted at the Fair"; "To the Plainfield Daily Papers"; "Good Bye, Old Onehorn"; and "Hope we have a Parade Next Fall". A supper was furnished by the women.

Those in charge were:

General Director—William Chamberlain.
Floor Manager—Frank Hand.
Assistant Floor Manager—William Townley.
Floor Committee—R. B. Rogers, Garrett Dreier, Theodore Smith, Harry Connett.
Committee of Arrangements—W. Chamberlain, W. S. Marsh, James Dawe, C. J. Newman, Frank Hand.

NOTES OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Kappa Delta Phi gave an entertaining "hat talk" yesterday afternoon. All spoke upon subjects selected at random. Among the topics discussed were "Plainfield's New High School", "The Advantages of Club Runs", "Plainfield House Rents", and "How to Promote Athletics in the High School".

Walter Probasco, '97, carries one hand in a sling, having undergone amputation of the end of one finger. He was cleaning a bicycle when the sprocket wheel struck the finger.

The Lyceum met yesterday afternoon. H. B. Drake, '95, recited an original poem, and a debate on "Resolved that the newspapers do more good than harm to a country" was decided in the affirmative. The successful speakers were F. W. Cornwell, '96, and Ernest Suffren, '97. The speakers for the negative were H. W. Riley, '97, and E. O. Clark, '95

An election of the Lyceum yesterday resulted in the selection of the following:

President—T. D. Blair, '95.
Vice-president—A. Woltmann, '94.
Secretary—F. W. Cornwell, '96.
Treasurer—G. A. Horne, '95.
Sergeant-at-Arms—E. I. Serrell, '95.
Critic—E. O. Clark, '95.

President Blair is a prominent worker in the Lyceum and his election promises well for the future success of the society.

NOISELESS NOMADICS.

The Lafayette Wheelmen will run to Plainfield May 3.

Twenty cyclers over the mountain have organized the Chatham Wheelmen.

The Union County Roadsters of Rahway are planning a club-house with music-hall annex.

Wm. V. Belknap, Corresponding Secretary of the Atalanta Wheelmen, announces the club smoker as follows: "Coming, May 4, Coxey Commonwheel Army smoker. Get your old clothes together. Particulars later."

"Happy Days" Will R. Pittman, of New York, tried to follow the Philadelphia coach today. He was ill when he reached Plainfield at 11:15, and went back by train. The changing of horses made the pace to fast for the man on the wheel.

Dr. J. William White, of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, who is an authority on physical culture and development, stated at the Century dinner in that city last week that his medical and practical experience had demonstrated to him that cycling was more beneficial than any other athletic sport, and he cited several prominent instances in the cycling world which went to prove the general healthfulness of the sport. Some of the names he used to bolster up his argument would excite great interest if given to the world.

Stocks and Bonds

Activity in [illegible] is checked by the labor disturbances and the delay in reaching a conclusion on the new tariff bill. Industrial stocks, however, are strong. The bond market is quiet but firm.

At Buffalo the lack of demand for funds is emphasized; Pittsburg reports sales of steel billets aggregating between 50,000 and 100,000 tons, with an improvement in the market; the Baltimore millinery trade declined least and that in clothing most during April, the present demand being of a filling-in variety, and at Providence the manufacturing jewelry industry remains dull, with no prospect of improvement before July.

A feature at Chicago is in sales of dry goods equalling the average of previous weeks, other lines not making so favorable a report. St. Louis reports its general business situation fair.

From a Friendly to a Serious Strike.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., April 28.—The help at E. M. Rockwell's woolen mill went out for a friendly consultation last Thursday to see if better wages could not be obtained. Later they held a mass meeting and a compromise was made, but yesterday at noon things took a different turn. Instead of the help returning to work, word was sent to Mr. Rockwell that they should do no more work nor allow anyone else to, unless the full wages demanded were agreed to. Mr. Rockwell then paid the help and closed the mill. This bids fair to be the worst strike Leominster has ever seen.

Foster's Financial Difficulties.

FOSTORIA, O., April 28.—The plan upon which ex-Secretary Foster has been working for several months to adjust the indebtedness of the brass and iron works, by issuing bonds to the amount of 50 cents on the dollar, has at last been consummated, all creditors having agreed to take 50 per cent. The chances for a favorable settlement of all of Mr. Foster's affairs are considered good.

Death of Dr. Albert Day.

BOSTON, April 28.—Dr. Albert Day, superintendent of the Washingtonian home of this city, is dead. Dr. Day was superintendent of the institution for 37 years. He was 73 years of age and probably treated more cases of inebriety than any person living.

TWENTY YEARS

OF ONE WOMAN'S LIFE

Spent With and For the Benefit of the Women of the World.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

One woman's work has told for good in thousands of homes throughout the world. What a record of helpfulness! What happiness and comfort that work has brought to thousands of despairing women; what pains banished and how smooth the way was made for weary sufferers, no pen or tongue can ever tell.

Lydia E. Pinkham gave the best of her life to the women of the world, that through her the suffering of her sex might be relieved.

Her Vegetable Compound saves women from all diseases of the womb and kidneys. It has stood for twenty years against all cavil, and won the first place in the hearts of women.

Look at the picture of this New York woman, once confined to her bed by chronic female weakness, now able to follow her husband in the Adirondacks on long gunning tramps. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made this change in her life.

Just hear this one talk. It does one's heart good.

"Female sufferers, hear me!

"I was discouraged, broken-hearted. I was so ill with female trouble I could not walk or stand, and had to be assisted to my feet when arising from a chair. My head whirled, and my back ached; but worst of all was that awful crowding-down feeling in my abdomen.

"A friend of mine told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; her faith won mine, and now I am well. Oh! how can I return thanks to Mrs. Pinkham?

"Every woman troubled with uterus or womb troubles can be cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it cured me, and will them."—Mrs. KERHAUGH, Juniata St., Nicetown, Pa. Every druggist has it.

EVICTING COKE STRIKERS.

All Must Quit Their Homes—15,000 Men Idle and 3,000 at Work.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 28.—The families of ten strike leaders have just been evicted by Sheriff Wilhelm at Leisenring Nos. 1 and 2, the H. C. Frick company having issued the writs. Friends took care of them and their possessions. The women disputed hotly with the deputies. Notices have been served at every works in the region on men to vacate and the work of eviction will accompany the work of resumption of coke operations next week.

The J. D. Boyd Coal company signed the wage scale and the men have gone to work. A delegation of river miners have notified them that they would not be allowed to remain at work until more of the operators came to terms. The men say they will continue work.

The Southwest Coke company's men at the Alice works were chased from the yards yesterday by women and last night the men met on a hill near Morewood and decided to stay out.

The United Company's central plant, 300 ovens, is now the only one in the northern end of the region running.

There are now about 15,000 men idle in the coke region and 3,000 working.

WEST NEWTON, Pa., April 28.—Two hundred miners congregated at Whitsett mine, armed themselves with cudgels cut from a grove and started last night up the Youghiogheny river to Washington mines, 18 miles distant. It is reported that they are to be joined at Smithton by miners from the Monongahela district, and they will make a descent on the Washington mines to-day. The Washington miners struck last Saturday, but returned to work Wednesday at an advance.

GREAT FOREST FIRE.

Narrow Escape of Four Men From Death Near Lakewood, N. J.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 28.—Four men narrowly escaped death by forest fires near here yesterday. A fierce fire in the pine wood about one mile south of here was started in the morning by a small boy who had been playing with matches among the leaves. A strong southeasterly wind was blowing at the time and the big pine wood was soon ablaze, the fire spreading with great rapidity over many hundreds of acres of valuable timber land.

The four men who had such a narrow escape had gone into the wood beating the fire out in the under brush to prevent it spreading, and when they turned to retreat found themselves completely surrounded by fire. So close was the fire upon them that their hair was burned. The smoke was blinding and they were unable to see their way out. They finally plunged into the Metedeconk river, and saved themselves.

Several small buildings were consumed by the flames. The fire spread over an area of five square miles and was the most serious in this vicinity in the past 30 years. Many bridges have been burned, rendering roads useless.

The scene of the fire-ridden country has been visited by people from far and near. The sight of the burning wood was magnificent.

GALENA, Ill., April 28.—This city, the home of Gen. Grant during that part of his life when he was a citizen of peace, celebrated yesterday the anniversary of his birth with music, oratory, feasting, flags, flowers and general rejoicing on the part of the former fellow citizens of the war commander. It was the second celebration under the auspices of the Grant Birthday association, formed in this city for the purpose of making it a fixed event and keeping the hero's memory green.

Creedon Knocks out Moore.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 28.—Twelve hundred patrons of the "manly sport" filled the amphitheatre of the Twin City Athletic club last night and witnessed Dan Creedon, the Australian, knock out Dick Moore, of Boston, formerly of St. Paul, in nine rounds. The men were rival claimants for the middleweight championship of America, and the second time they faced each other in the arena, the previous meeting at Boston having been declared a draw in the tenth round.

Fierce Mine Fire.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 28.—A fierce fire is raging in the workings of Preston colliery, No. 3, at Girardville. The colliery shut down on Wednesday and the fire is supposed to have resulted from a blast fired two days ago. Preparations are being made to flood the mine. This is the second big mine on fire in ten days for the Philadelphia & Reading company.

Denver Home Reserves.

DENVER, Col., April 28.—The home reserves of Coxey's army issued resolutions deprecating the unlawful seizure of the train by the Montana contingent of the army and urging all moving bodies to use only lawful measures in carrying out the purposes of the army. Tacked to the resolutions was a bit of party argument shewing that this reserve movement is guided by populists.

Trouble Averted.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Acting Governor Gill has countermanded his order to send the First regiment of the Illinois militia to Toluca. Since the dispersion of the striking miners after they had been addressed by the governor, he says there is no present need of the troops and the First regiment will not be required to hold itself in readiness.

MODERN MIRACLES.

CAREFUL AND COMPLETE INVESTIGATION BY A "JOURNAL" REPORTER.

A Searching Inquiry as to Startling Statements Recently Published.

[From the Albany, N. Y., Evening Journal.]

A few days since, the Times-Union of this city published a remarkable letter, under the head-lines of "An Athens Miracle." The statements made were so unusual, and the interest occasioned so great, that an investigation by a Journal reporter seemed a necessity. The letter was that of Mr. Lewis Clow, of Athens, N. Y., had been stricken with kidney disease. The best of medical attendance was obtained, and failed to benefit him. While in this almost helpless condition, he began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it cured him; and furthermore, that there were other residents who had a similar experience.

To verify these statements and to get what other information would be of interest to our readers, the Journal representative left Albany and soon found himself in the pretty village of Athens. It did not take long to satisfy the reporter that the statements of Mr. Clow were in every way true. The Rev. D. William Lawrence, pastor of the Lutheran church, Postmaster True and Justice of Peace Goeller, when asked about it, said that every word was true to their knowledge. Mr. Clow was at death's door with kidney trouble; the physicians failed to help him, and he was cured by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Also that Favorite Remedy had performed as marvelous a cure for Mrs. Casper Brooks, wife of the proprietor of the Robins House of that place.

Calling upon Mrs. Brooks, your reporter stated his mission, and she replied that she would be perfectly willing to tell all about her wonderful recovery.

"Yes," said she, "I had a hard fight for health, but Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy restored mine. My first trouble was ulcers of the womb, and they caused me the most intense pain and suffering. I consulted our regular physician, but he did not benefit me; in fact, I kept growing worse. My kidneys were getting very much diseased, and this combination of troubles was almost unbearable. At my husband's suggestion I consulted physicians at Albany, Hudson and Chatham, and took their medicines and prescriptions faithfully, but found no benefit. You can imagine my terrible condition at this time, after employing five of the best physicians, all to no purpose; but at this dark hour a ray of light broke in upon me. Dr. Wm. Smith of Jewett Heights, was recommended, and it is to him I owe my good health; he prescribed Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy for me. I purchased a bottle and commenced taking it, and began to feel better and improved daily, the ulcers healed up and my kidney trouble left me entirely. My case was greatly complicated; for I suffered misery from those terrible headaches so common among women, but I kept on taking Favorite Remedy, and am now entirely free of these diseases.

"I am told that I have a tumor that cannot be cured unless I go to a hospital, but I think Favorite Remedy will in time cure that I have been so well for the past few months, said Mrs. Brooks with a smile, "that I do nearly all the work about the hotel, and am getting along with about one-half the help we used to employ. I certainly don't want to pose as a miracle, but what else could you call my recovery?"

Such a straightforward statement convinced the reporter that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was a Godsend to the sick and suffering.

Hundreds of people in and about Athens are conversant with the facts of these cases. In speaking to Mr. Horton, the well-known druggist of that place, he said: "Oh, yes, we sell quantities of Favorite Remedy. Why, there's Joseph McGiffert, Wm. Mackey, Martin Hallenbeck, Casper Hallenbeck, Mrs. Robert Tiffany and many others who say Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is worth its weight in gold."

The investigations of the Journal reporter admit of but one conclusion: that as this great medicine is within the reach of all, it should be used by those who are suffering from rheumatism, dyspepsia, biliousness, kidney, liver and urinary troubles. It will correct the worst cases of habitual constipation, and is a certain cure for the diseases and weaknesses of women, particularly those that originate in change of life. It cures scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, eczema, ulcers, sores and tumors, gravel, diabetes or Bright's disease. Favorite Remedy is acknowledged by the medical profession as nature's antidote for uric acid.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and it never fails to cure when the directions are followed. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is to be found with every dealer in medicine at $1 a bottle, or six bottles for $5.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

A Twentieth Century Romance.

By EFFIE W. MERRIMAN.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.]

It was not difficult for Harold to find the house where Letty lived. How often he had been there in the good old days when Letty's grandmother was to him the most attractive girl in the world! The house was small compared with the more modern structures which towered beside it; yet it, like the Winthrop residence, had been considered fine in his day. Now they were looked upon as unsightly nuisances which should have been torn down long ago and would have been had it not been for an untiring sleeper and a sentimental young woman.

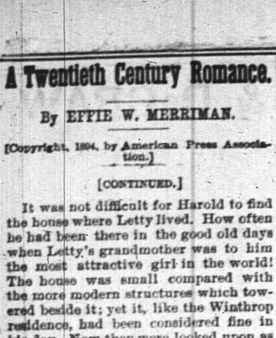
When Harold paused at the gate, he saw a woman sitting on the porch in the very place where his old love had so often waited for him. She glanced up, and their eyes met. They were Letty Mays' eyes—deep blue, steadfast, tender, beautiful. The mouth and chin were Letty's, too; but Letty had been small and sylphlike, while this lady was tall and magnificently proportioned, like most of the women he had seen since awakening. Letty's face had been as dimpled and full of wonder as a baby's; it had indicated a spirit of loving dependence which Harold had thought charming. This woman's face was strong and resolute. She looked like one accustomed to being obeyed, not because she was a woman, but because her commands were reasonable. Harold had never liked such women. A feeling of antagonism arose in his heart, which would have driven him past her door had she been any one else, but she was the granddaughter of his old love, and sentiment and loneliness urged him to make her acquaintance. As he opened the gate Miss Everett came forward to meet him.

"Pardon me," she said, with a smile, "but am I not speaking to Harold Winthrop?"

"That is my name," replied Harold, "and you are Miss Everett, I think."

"I am Miss Everett, at your service. We know each other, so why should we not dispense with ceremony and consider ourselves old acquaintances?"

In her heart Miss Letty was thinking that this young man had in reality very little regard for ceremony to seek her



As he opened the gate Miss Everett came forward to meet him.

thus without having been encouraged, but she was too much a lady to wish to subject him to any humiliation and so chose to speak as if she were the transgressor, not he.

Had her words been spoken with the frankness of unrestrained girlhood or the shyness of maidenly modesty Harold would have been charmed, but it was said exactly in the same way in which he had meant to speak to her, and he was disgusted. And the words were accompanied by an expression which, Harold thought, would have made the professional heart smasher among men quite green with envy. In his day Harold had prided himself on being something of a lady killer himself, but a man killer was different! Harold remembered the scene with Mary and wished he had not come. To his mind there was nothing more disagreeable than being made love to by a woman.

Letty had extended her hand to assist Harold up the steps, as she would have done had he been any other man, but when he, as she thought, quite rudely ignored her proffered assistance her assurance left her to a certain extent, and she was in doubt as to the next best thing to do. She was extremely anxious to propitiate the handsome guest, who evidently felt himself aggrieved about something. Letty would have given considerable to know how she had offended, for her heart was stirred for the first time. She felt that at last she had seen a man who was worth the price of her freedom.

"Why," she thought, "he is quite as tall as myself, and he looks as if he might be as strong. If he is as nearly equal in other respects, how companionable he might be!"

Letty would have been surprised could she have known that his opinion of her was far less flattering. She was used to being made much of by the opposite sex and could count by scores the men whom, she was sure, would have been glad to accept the protection which she could give to one whom she loved.

"I have no good excuse to offer for this intrusion," began Harold.

"I beg, sir," interrupted the lady, "that you will not mention it. I assure you that I feel most honored by your presence in my home."

A period of silent awkwardness followed, during which each was waiting for the other to be seated, for in that day it was considered a mark of impoliteness for the lady to seat herself while a gentleman remained standing. Harold finally recalled a portion of his conversation with the old woman, who had used this fact to prove that the existing state of affairs had begun in his day and had clinched her argument by reminding him that without doubt he had known many men who declined to give up their seat in a railway or street car when ladies were standing. Harold settled matters by dropping into the proffered chair. He had kept his hat on, remembering that the old lady had said that twentieth century men always wore their hats in the presence of ladies. He recalled the objections made by many men in his day to removing their hats when riding in an elevator with a lady, and he wondered if that, too, could have been considered a sign of approaching effeminacy of men and if it would have made any difference could they have seen into the future a hundred years.

"Now," he thought, "I am ready to make a call, twentieth century fashion!" Harold had always prided himself on his ability to adjust himself to circumstances. He made some inconsequential remark about the weather, asked about the latest opera and looked so self satisfied that Letty was quite disgusted.

"I wonder if all men in his day were so assured of their own winsomeness," she thought.

To have pleased her he should have been charming without appearing to know that he was so. Instead of trying to entertain her he should have waited to be entertained. Or if he were bent upon being entertaining he should have shown his ability to talk about something of interest instead of wearying her with weak remarks about the weather and the latest opera. The ideal of the perfect man which Letty had in mind was not worked out as to details, and it was not easy for her to say in which of the more common characteristics she would have him different from the men of her acquaintance. Of one thing she was sure, however, and that was that Harold should have blushed or in some other charming manner have shown his appreciation of the fact that he had overstepped the bounds of conventionality, and that she was better than most women would be not to take advantage of the fact and be a little insulting. Letty believed that a pretty man had no business to have unattractive manners. What else were men good for but to make themselves attractive to women? She concluded that if all the men of his day were like Harold Winthrop she did not wonder that the war of the revolution between the sexes had taken place. She decided to punish him for his brazen effrontery by treating him with no more respect than she would have accorded another woman, and thus it happened that she and Harold were enabled to get on quite comfortably together. Their talk was mostly of the differences which Harold noted in the city during the last hundred years, and he made himself very entertaining by describing the streets as he remembered them. It was not until he arose to leave that the difference in customs was touched upon. Then he precipitated the discussion by asking if he might not call again very soon.

Letty looked embarrassed. It was not easy for her to tell this handsome young man that he was in danger of getting himself talked about most unpleasantly, but she had almost resolved to ask him to be her husband should she succeed in making him a little more conventional, and she did not like the thought that he might become an object of unpleasant comment among other women. It seemed to her that under the circumstances there was but one course for her to pursue.

"My dear young man," she said, with tender gravity, "don't you know that it will not do for you to call on women in this way? You would be criticised most unkindly. Tell me instead when you will be at home that I may call upon you—that is, if you will grant me that pleasure."

"Grant you the infernal—I beg your pardon, madam! I am not a profane man by nature, but such nonsense would wring an oath from the lips of the Angel Gabriel."

"Such nonsense!" repeated Letty. 'Surely, my dear young man, you must have misunderstood"——

"Did you not propose to call on me at my house?" interrrupted Harold, who in his disgust had quite forgotten that he was not living in the century in which he was born.

"I did. Is it so distasteful to you"—

"Distasteful? Why, hang it all, don't you see that I could not permit you to do a thing like that?"

"I must admit," replied Letty stiffly, "that I do not see. I should be pleased to hear your explanation."

"Why, there'd be no end of talk among the gossips, and if the fellows should get hold of it I'd be chaffed clean out of my wits. My dear child, believe me, you mustn't think of doing such a thing."

CHAPTER V.

In all her life Letty had not heard such language as this from the lips of a young man. She was inexpressibly shocked, yet withal she was interested. It was quite delightful, she told herself, to meet one so very unconventional, but she did not care to be seen in his company by other men whose good opinion she might one day wish to win. Although she had longed all her life to meet a man different from the men of her acquaintance, now that she stood face to face with him she wished him to be properly conventional.

Harold had not finished speaking when he suddenly realized that this was the twentieth century, and that the world had changed while he slept.

"Do you mean to say," he demanded, with a sudden change of tone that was almost ludicrous, "that it is the custom in this unenlightened community for ladies to call upon gentlemen?"

"I most certainly do," replied Letty.

"Well," returned Harold after a little period of silence, "I think if we are to be friends"——

"As we should for grandma's sake," eagerly interposed Letty, who was so anxious to continue the acquaintance that she did not think how her remark might be taken until it had escaped her lips.

"Oh, my dear fellow," she added quickly, "I beg your pardon, I'm sure!"

Letty was consumed with mortification. She had always been careful not to remind any man that he was growing older every year and consequently less attractive, and it was exasperating that she should now have been so thoughtless as to remind this beautiful young fellow that he had been the recipient of her grandmother's loverlike attentions. As will be seen, Letty did not quite understand the courtships of the nineteenth century—perhaps because a number of the books which her grandmother had left her had been written by Howells.

ALL OVER THE GLOBE

—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are known. They are far more effective in arousing the liver to action than the old-fashioned cathartic pills, calomel or other preparations, and are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. No care is required while using them.

They cure biliousness, sick headache, costiveness, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Montgomery, Orange Co., N. Y.

DR. PIERCE: Dear Sir—I suffered untold misery with bleeding piles. I could get no relief night or day, until I commenced using your "Pleasant Pellets," and now for two years or more, I have not been troubled with the piles; if my bowels get in a constipated condition, I take a dose of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and the trouble is all dispelled by next day.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

To those who do not already know that there is established in Newark, at 105 Halsey street, a physician who stands in the foremost rank of his profession, who is indorsed by the leading colleges of the country and who can prove by witnesses right here in Newark (not by one, but by hundreds) that he has succeeded in curing cases that have been utterly given up by other physicians, and good ones, too. To those who do not these facts we state that any person, rich or poor, old or young, is welcome here and receive examination and advice free of charge.

Thousands praise the day they came to us for treatment. There is no guess work, no experimenting, no painful operation. No matter how difficult the case, no matter how much of the physician's time it may consume, the diagnosis will not only be thorough, it will be absolutely free. There is no taint of quackery or deception; no claim or statement is made that is not borne out by facts and living witnesses.

Mrs. Abby A. Ray, late of 86 Grove street, East Orange, who now lives at 400 Ellmore street, Escanaba, Mich., writes, under date of January 12: "The medicine arrived this morning and I am so glad it came. I am almost out, and it has helped me so much and I am so much pleased with its wonderful effort on my broken down system that I would like to testify to your great success in my case. I am feeling as well now, in fact better, than I had ever hoped to again."

This is one of many letters that we receive daily. We have the originals at our office and if you wish you may see them. Another thing: We never publish or reveal a patient's name unless they so desire.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Forecast of the Most Important Work.

Material Changes to Be Made in the Tariff Bill—The Democrats Will Soon Be in a Position to Force the Fight on the Measure—Appropriation Bills in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The fifth week of the tariff debate in the senate opened to-day. If rumor be true some very material changes in the bill have been made in the way of concessions and the industries of the states represented by the so-called "conservative" senators, will get more protection than was believed possible early last week. In many cases, it is said, specific rates will be restored and senate reductions of rates imposed by the house bill have been abandoned.

No changes have been made in the free list so far as can be ascertained. Coal, iron ore and lead ore will, it is said, remain as the senate previously reported them, although great pressure was brought to bear to have the duties on these raw materials increased. In this connection an interesting story is afloat. While lead ore remains unchanged, it is given out that the duties on lead products have been increased. Of these, of course, white lead is the chief. Under the present law white lead has a duty of three cents a pound. The house committee reduced it to one and one half cents and that was permitted to stand by the senate committee. It is now said that this rate will be increased to two cents, the authority for this statement being a senator who ought to know what is going on in committee.

It is also said to be practically settled that the one-tenth of a cent discriminating duty on refined sugar levied against countries paying a bounty on refined sugars exported will be given, beyond any question. The sugar growers, represented by Senators Caffrey and Blanchard, still believe they will be able to get 45 per cent. ad valorem on raw sugar instead of the 40 per cent. the committee has offered them.

The sugar and lead schedules, which have caused a vast amount of trouble, being so nearly agreed upon, and the income tax modified so as to ensure the support of the malcontents and certain other duties affecting the manufacturing states of New York, New Jersey and Maryland, having been increased, it appears as if the time was near at hand when the democrats would be in a position to force the fighting with a solid party behind the managers of the bill.

Although the bill was taken up by paragraphs Wednesday last, not a line has yet been changed, nor has the first paragraph been voted upon. In addition to the unfinished speeches of Senators Quay, Dolph and Stewart, Mr. Squire, of Washington, has given notice of an intention to speak this week and Mr. Aldrich is preparing a speech which he hopes to deliver before the week ends.

It is not unlikely that if the expected committee amendments which Mr. Aldrich some days ago announced were to be forthcoming, should be reported this week, an impromptu discussion will grow therefrom.

Meanwhile there is executive business to be disposed of according to agreement. May 3d has been set aside for the consideration of the Chinese treaty. Mr. Call, believing he has strength, is very anxious to defeat the nomination of George W. Wilson, nominated to be collector of internal revenue for the district of Florida. Each of these matters is likely to consume a day, so that the chance for much progress in the senate are not favorable. Very much more progress may, however, be made in the committee rooms.

House.

No variation from the programme followed by the house for the past two months is promised by the managers for this week.

"I can see nothing ahead of us in the near future," said Speaker Crisp, "but the consideration of appropriation bills. They are making it slow work for us, but until these measures are all out of the way no other legislation of general character will be entered upon."

The pending business is the army appropriation bill, consideration of which was begun Saturday. Probably most of the week will be exhausted in disposing of it. When it has been sent to the senate the river and harbor bill will be taken up. After that will come the Indian and agricultural bills, the legislative, executive and judicial and the general deficiency. The probabilities are that the first of June will see one or two of them still undisposed of.

Dedicated By Cardinal Gibbons.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Cardinal Gibbons dedicated St. John's Catholic church, in Forest Glen, Montgomery county, Md., Sunday, in the presence of several thousand people, and Bishop Keane, rector of the Catholic university, afterwards preached an eloquent sermon. The site of the present church is historic ground, the original chapel having been erected by Archbishop Carroll in 1774.

Agitator's Ardor Squelched.

ROME, April 30.—The prompt and decisive action of the government to repress all disorder on May Day has squelched much of the agitation in favor of unlawful demonstrations. The prospect is that no determined effort will be made to hold open-air meetings or parades in the larger cities.

Toluca Miners Will Return to Work.

TOCULA, Ill., April 30.—A majority of the miners here are determined to work regardless of the wishes of Spring Valley, La Salle and Streator. At a meeting all but forty-five of the white men and all the colored men to decided to return to their labors this week.

Accepts a Call from the East.

JAMAICA PLAIN, Mass., April 30.—Rev. Charles L. Morgan, of Illinois, has accepted the call extended to him by the Central Congregational church of this place. He will begin his pastorate Sunday morning, May 6.

Asked to Not Work on May Day.

PARIS, April 30.—The socialist deputies, Basly and Lamendin, have sent circulars to the miners in the Nord and Pas-de-Calais, exhorting them not to work on May Day.

Vienna Expects a Quiet May Day.

VIENNA, April 30.—May Day is expected to be peaceful in Vienna unless the strikers from the building trades raise disturbances.

GOSSIP FROM BERLIN

Von Waechter Finds Himself in Disfavor.

May Be Prosecuted for His Duel With Editor Polstorf—Germany to Build an Eiffel Tower—An Old Rumor About Bismark's Return to Office Revived.

BERLIN, April 30.—Herr von Kiderlen Waechter, chief of the press department of the foreign office, and for several weeks putative successor to the Prussian embassy in Hamburg, has virtually ruined his political prospects. His duel with Dr. Polstorff, editor of the Kladderdatsch, is justified only by a certain military clique on the ground that the attacks of that journal were unendurable for any man of honor. The emperor, however, does not take this view, and although Kiderlen-Waechter was long his favorite and close friend, he is now even little inclined to save him from prosecution for violation of the laws against duelling. Such a prosecution would land Kiderlen-Waechter in a fortress for a term of a year or two.

The whole Kladderdatsch affair has been an ugly mess for the foreign office and its inmates. While the Kladderdatsch has never proved conclusively that Kiderlen-Waechter and Herr von Holstein really nurtured the ill feeling between Bismarck and the emperor, there is no doubt in anybody's mind that they exerted undue and harmful influence over his majesty.

Prince Bismarck was exceptionally gallant at the reception of the women from the Duchy of Berg on Thursday. He shook hands with every member of the deputation, gave her a rose and his autograph and invited her to visit Friedrichsruhe again. He spoke at length with one of the deputation concerning his life in the Saxon Forest. He never felt so lonely when wandering among his trees, he said, as he had felt throughout the 30 years which he had passed in big cities, at court and in parliament. The forest solitudes must have a soothing influence upon Germans, he thought, as the German rangers were the happiest and most contented persons in the world, while the German politicians were without exception dissatisfied and miserable. He had always wished to pass the last ten years of his life in rural quietude.

Bismarck has grieviously offended the liberals by his exceptional courteousness to the conservatives. He telegraphed on Friday to Count zu Limburg-Stirum, thanking him for the birthday congratulations sent by the conservative groups in the reichstag and adding: "Please bring my thanks to the notice of our political friends." It was only last week that national liberal deputies were in Friedrichsruhe and in view of their party's prolonged co-operation with the old chancellor, they object to being classed with his political opponents.

Emperor William has ordered that the bullet-proof cuirasse of Tailor Dowe be tested before him at the new palace on Thursday. Rifle Sergeant Kolmar experimented at the Winter garten with the cuirasse Saturday. After the cloth had been fitted over an iron block, he fired fifteen shots at a range of thirty feet. One bullet stuck in the cloth and the others fell to the floor. The inside of the cloth was hardly dented. Among the onlookers was A. S. Jackson.

Col. Somefeldt will soon begin the construction of an Eiffel tower in Frederichsberg, a suburb of Copenhagen. The tower will be 600 feet high, and the Danish minister of war has reserved the right to use the top as a military observatory.

A crowd of friends and admirers welcomed Emil Thomas upon his arrival from New York Saturday evening.

In the utter dearth of political news several newspaper correspondents have started the threadbare canard of Bismarck's return to office. One correspondent has gone so far as to put in the prince's mouth the assertion that he will be chancellor again ere long. Although this is known to be mere moonshine, it has been discussed by serious political journals and is still a subject of feeble interest.

$60,000 in Stakes and Purses.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 30.—Sixty-nine thousand dollars has been decided upon by the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association as the aggregate amount it will offer this fall in stakes and purses. The eleven stakes are for youngsters mostly and they foot up $57,000, the largest being the Kentucky Futurity for three-year-olds, which will be worth $30,000.

Locked Up for Murder.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 30.—Frank Brown, alias "Dutch Frank," has been locked up in the Ulster county jail for murder by a Flatbush constable. He is said to have stabbed a man at Marhoff's brickyard, in Hackensack, N. J., about two weeks ago, the injured man having since died from the effects of his wound.

COXEY NEAR HIS GOAL

Commonwealers Enter the District of Columbia.

Camped Within a Few Miles of the Capitol—Propose a Parade To-Morrow Past the White House to the Great Steps of the National Law Makers' Rendezvous.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Jacob Coxey's ragged and foot-sore army of the commonweal marched into the District of Columbia yesterday without molestation from the authorities and encamped last night on federal territory within a few miles of the capitol. Citizen Coxey stopped at the National hotel, where he joined his wife and child, the rank and file of the "army" sleeping on the damp ground in Brightwood Driving park, where thousands of people gathered to inspect the queer contingent.

There was no incident in the march from Rockville until the advance guard arrived at the junction of the Brookville pike where about 150 bicyclists including Spooner of Chicago, the amateur long-distance champion, were drawn up in line. The wheelmen made a "free ad" demand on behalf of the cyclists for a good roads speech and Coxey, from his comfortable carriage, complied. A toll gate was shortly afterwards reached, and after many remonstrances, finding the toll-keeper obdurate, Coxey went down in his pocket and brought forth the necessary amount to secure his passage and that of his other mounted followers, which was 68 cents.

Mountebank Smith, "The Unknown" with his meagre contingent of deserters from the commonweal army, had marched his men from Rockville in advance of their former comrades, and they established a temporary camp at Silver Springs, a station on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, where the track crosses the Rockville pike, a short distance from the district line. Here also was established a squad of Coxeyites under Marshal Greenan, who had been sent on ahead to apprehend any commonwealers who might attempt to enter Wasgington in advance of the main force. A squad of a dozen cavalrymen of the regular service from Fort Myer, who say they were merely giving their horses an airing, likewise bivouacked at Silver Springs and waited there until the army came along.

Just at noon those at Silver Springs saw the waving banners of the Coxey cohorts in the distance.

Two hundred people were gathered at the Silver Springs station when the Commonweal army appeared. Brown rode at the head on Coxey's horse. Coxey himself, dressed in a stylish grey suit, rode in a low phaeton, driven by one of his henchmen.

Then came the army, marching by twos, each commune divided from another by a big wagon. There were 836 of them by actual count, including the advance guard, and the Jones contingent from Philadelphia. Chistopher Columbus Jones, the Phildelphia commune, riding Coxey's Hambletonian "Onvaleer," looked like an itinerant preacher in his silk hat and black clothes.

It was 12:20 when the District line was reached. Only three police officers were in evidence when the commonwealers drew near the driving park at 1 p. m. At the entrance was a sign stating that no admission would be charged to the park but sight seers were expected to contribute something to help along the cause. Many contributions were collected in this way.

Coxey, when questioned as to his next movements, said:

"We shall lose no time at this camp. Tuesday morning we shall march down Twenty-first street to the statue of Washington and along Pennsylvania avenue, past the white house and the treasury, reaching the steps of the capital at noon. There we shall hold a meeting and impress upon congress the advisability of agreeing to the measures of the commonweal, the good roads and the non-interest bearing bond bills."

"What if they stop you?" was asked.

"They can't stop us. The constitution does not permit them. There'll be no disorder in our parade or meeting. We have a perfect right to gather on the steps of the capital and we'll do so."

Frye's Army Given a Bath.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 30.—Gen. Frye's contingent of the Coxey army paraded Sunday afternoon in full strength and excited a great deal of attention from a large crowd of citizens. The army had been subjected to a bath and presented a clean appearance, notwithstanding their tattered wearing apparel. The army will make an effort to-day to continue its march to Washington but it will not be able to obtain transportation as the railroads have positively refused to assist Frye.

THEIR LIVES THREATENED.

Special Police Guarding the Anarchist Henry Jury and Court Officers.

PARIS, April 30.—All the jurors who found the anarchist Henry guilty have received letters threatening their lives. They, as well as the judges, prosecutors and court officers who were concerned in the trial, are receiving special police protection. The guards at the houses of the high officials, who have earned the enmity of the anarchists, and at the public buildings, have been increased.

Car Robbers Arrested.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., April 30.—Buffalo, Elmira and Binghamton detectives Saturday night arrested eight burglars, a part of a gang that has been systematically robbing cars of the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad at various points between New York and Buffalo.

Queen Victoria Returns Home.

LONDON, April 30.—Queen Victoria and her suite have arrived at Windsor from Coburg.

REDUCED TO RUINS

A Famous Southern Hotel Devoured By Flames.

The St. Charles, Where Jefferson Davis and Other Confederates Hatched the First Plans for the Overthrow of the Government is No More—Four Lives Probably Lost.

NEW ORLEANS, April 30.—The imposing front of the St. Charles hotel, on St. Charles street, with its spacious portico, surmounted by a dome of majestic dimensions and classic architecture, in the centre of the block, are all that is left standing of the most famous hostelry in the United States—within whose walls Jefferson Davis, Judah P. Benjamin and the other leading figures of the confederacy formed the first plans for the establishment of the new republic before they started for Richmond, where no less than six congressional committees have sat, trying to solve what became known as the Louisiana question after the war, where countless political, railroad, commercial and social meetings of national importance have been held, in whose famous parlor Paul the king of the carnival had his headquarters during his short reign in the Crescent City, and where presidents, kings and notabilities from every nation on the face of the globe who have visited New Orleans have been sheltered.

The fire that raged behind those walls from 11 o'clock Saturday night until 3 o'clock Sunday morning was one of the fiercest this city has ever experienced.

Starting in the kitchens which front on a small court in the very heart of the square, not ten minutes after the employes had left them, the flames ate their way along the woodwork with amazing rapidity.

The hundred or more guests had about all retired, and though many had been awakened by the lusty shouts of "fire," Night-Clerk Mason sent messengers to every room occupied and thus there was no possibility of any of them having been cut off from the escape, as the flames did not reach the main portion of the structure for fully half an hour after the fire had been discovered. Panic seized upon them, however, and they rushed about frantically, most of them in their night clothes—men, women and children, and although there was ample opportunity to get down the broad stairways, it took all the efforts of the cooler heads to prevent the most impetuous from throwing themselves from the windows. The only man who did jump from a window was an unknown, who dropped from a third-story window to a shed on Common street, but was not injured.

The heart-rending spectacle of the unavailing fight for life that was made by John Riley, employed as baker in the hotel, was witnessed by many helpless spectators. He occupied a room on the fourth story of the rear portion of the building. A great flame of fire suddenly burst from one of the rooms, when a scream was heard and from the door next to the one from which the flame was seen to escape, a man was discerned through the glare. Simultaneously a cry of horror went up from those below. For an instant the flames quieted and the man made a rush for the head of the spiral stairway which he reached in safety, but as he stepped upon the stairway he stumbled and fell. Rolling several times over as he came tumbling toward the third story, he finally rolled partly off the stairway and remained holding to the broken banisters. He attempted to regain his lost foothold, but it seemed that he was blinded by the heat and smoke and was unable to pull himself up. Finally he was holding only with one hand to the banisters suspended fully fifty feet in the air. At last, after making several efforts to throw himself upon the stairway, his strength gave way and, releasing his hold, he fell with a crash upon the stone pavement beneath. His body was frightfully mangled and he never breathed again.

Bridget Mulligan, a chambermaid; Mrs. Rose, a domestic, and John Finlay, an assistant engineer, are the only ones missing.

From the centre of the square the flames ate their way in all directions, touching the rear of the row of the office building on Carondelet street and burning clear through to the street on Common and Gravier streets, and leaving nothing but the imposing front on St. Charles street.

Over a dozen women would were rescued by firemen from the roof just in time to save their lives.

The total loss on the fire will reach half a million dollars and may go over that amount. The hotel property, exclusive of the ground, was worth $400,000 and was insured for $212,000 in foreign companies.

Against Woman Suffrage.

BROOKLYN, April 30.—A number of women of this city have drawn up and signed a protest against woman suffrage which will be sent to the constitutional convention. Among the reasons cited as to why they do not want suffrage are: That the energies of women are engrossed in their present duties, that political equality will deprive woman of special privileges hitherto accorded to her by law, and that suffrage logically involves the holding of public office, and officeholding is inconsistent with the duties of most women. Among the signers are some of the most prominent women of the city. All women citizens in the state are asked to join in sending a protest to the constitutional convention to meet in Albany in May.

Yale's New Runner.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 30.—It is believed at Yale that during the past winter they have developed a coming runner in Ashley Pond, jr., of Detroit. He is a freshman and played half back on the '97 eleven last fall. In the games last October he ran 100 yards in 10 1-5 seconds and has improved wonderfully in style and speed since then. It is said that he is even running better than Richards, the intercollegiate champion last year, in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and is expected to prove a boom at Yale in the coming contests this spring.

Cholera at Lisbon.

LISBON, April 29.—There were 120 fresh cases of cholera here Saturday. The disease is spreading rapidly on the left bank of the Tagus, but as yet the right bank has remained uninfected. Cholera has appeared in Costello Branco, Province of Beira.

CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD DAILIES COMBINED.

Stuff and nonsense is the least part of "A Twentieth Century Romance" now drawing to a close in this paper. A lesson born of high principle is contained within the story, and he who has faithfully followed the narrative and heeds the moral told in the concluding instalment tomorrow, has read wisely and well, and the fanciful but instructive tale will not have been written in vain.

In criticizing the statement that the choice of an Elizabeth man for the lay judgeship "is another evidence that the Plainfield Democrat does n't count for much when plum pudding is on the bill of fare", the Elizabeth Journal says:

It is n't a matter of pudding so much, as of long, earnest, indefatigable efforts. The Plainfield men seem to have labored under the impression that "All things come to them that wait", but the Elizabeth man labored in quite a different way.

The copyrighted serials published in The Daily Press have grown to be a most popular feature, and all lovers of the best fiction have come to look with eagerness for each new story. It is with special pleasure that The Press announces its purchase of several fascinating novelettes fresh from the pen of famous writers. "A Twentieth Century Romance" will conclude tomorrow, and the serial department on Page 4 will be occupied until Saturday with instalments of "Off Monomy Point", by William Earle Baldwin. This is a touching love story, with a world of human interest. It will be succeeded by "Rainsforth's Strange Case", one of the best pieces of fiction ever published in a newspaper. Other fascinating stories which The Press alone will publish soon are "Served Him Right" by Pierre Vivant, "Two Cavaliers" by Alfred R. Calhoun, "The New Isabella" by Margaret Lee, and "The Overton Claim" by Martha McCulloch Williams. These are great stories, and The Press alone will publish them. They are copyrighted and finely illustrated.

Why Plainfield Women Don't Have Visits.

(Mary E. C. Shreve in Harper's Bazar)

A society woman of Plainfield, New Jersey, not a club member, lately complained that there was no time for paying visits to her friends because of the numerous literary circles among the women of the city. "If I go Monday"—she explained—"I am likely to find my friends are at the Casino, where the Monday Afternoon Club meets. If I go Tuesday, I stumble on the Tuesday Morning Reading Circle, convened at the house of one of its members. If I go Wednesday afternoon in North Plainfield, I am sure to hit upon the twenty-five members of the Current-Events Club assembled in some North Plainfield parlor. If I go Thursday, I run afoul of another literary circle in the southwest corner of the town; and I presume, if I knew enough people, I should strike clubs the remaining days of the week."

The complaint bears evidence that the Monday Afternoon Club is not the only literary circle in the city. The fact that it is incorporated, belongs to the Federation of Clubs, has the largest membership, is the most thoroughly organized, and has well-laid plans of work, gives it prominence and position.

The club was organized in 1888 with a membership of seventy-five women. The founder was Miss Eliza Elvira Kenyon, a woman of broad culture, extended influence, and great tact. To her born leadership is due the phenomenal success of the organization during the initiatory two years of the club's existence, when she filled the office of president.

The club was incorporated in 1889, and the membership increased to 100.

Dunn and the Post Offices.

(From Lane's Correspondence in The Summit Record.)

Congressman Dunn has shown his interest in the welfare of the postmasters of his district, by securing an increase of $225 per year in the allowance for rent for the Westfield post office, and an allowance of $175 for rent and $60 for fuel for the Irvington post office which recently became presidential.

A number of opponents of J. M. Hetfield, whom Congressman Dunn recommended for the Plainfield post office, have tried to induce Senator Smith to interfere in the case, but the latter has absolutely refused to take any part in the controversy. He says Plainfield is within the county in which Mr. Dunn resides, and therefore the Congressman should be given unrestricted freedom in the selection of a candidate for the office. It is probable that Mr. Dunn will request Senator Smith to visit the President with him in a few days and urge prompt action in the case, as the term of the present incumbent expired some months ago.

Print Them on Asbestos?

An unconscious and morbid joke is perpetrated by Rev. Franklin G. Warnick, formerly pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Plainfield, in his Mystic Mirror, now published in Matawan. Having a plenty of room on the back page, he fills it by the glaring announcement in big type:

YOU MUST DIE and
WHERE WILL YOU SPEND ETERNITY?

Reopening of the Rink.

Wm. Naeser will reopen the riding academy in the rink tonight with an exhibition of his new arrangements, his horses and his own horsemanship. N. H. Guttman's band has been engaged for the evening's music.

Mr. Naeser desires to cater to the best class of Plainfield, and that he will make a success of his venture is guaranteed by his credentials.

He comes from Dickels Riding Academy, Fifty-sixth street, New York, and is recommended as an expert horseman and an able instructor, but a visit to the rink tonight will furnish a better test of his claim for patronage.

Bitten by a Newark Dog.

Robert Clark, Sr., of Washingtonville, who resided during the Winter on Manning avenue, was bitten by a dog in Newark Saturday. The wound, which was in the calf of the leg, was cauterized, and Mr. Clark is only suffering slightly from the burn.

Fire in the Chimney.

A still alarm was sent in to fire headquarters by telephone Saturday evening at 7:15. A chimney on the house on Webster place in which W. R. Mattox lives was burning. It had been afire for two hours.

$5,000 FOR THE CHAPELS.

Another Remarkable Collection in Crescent Avenue Church.

Rev. Dr. W. R Richards yesterday morning asked quietly for $5,000 for the support of the three chapels, Bethel, Hope and Warren, and with characteristic spontaneity the congregation immediately gave, by plate contributions and pledges, $4,450. The balance will be raised before the week is out among members who were absent from church yesterday.

Bert Bodine, of North Plainfield, an office employe of the Central Railroad, has been obliged to give up work temporarily on account of trouble with his eyes.

Charles Schermerhorn, Jr., was able to take a carriage ride yesterday, which he enjoyed very much. Today he is feeling much better than at any time since his return from the mountains.

Notable among the many pleasure-drivers brought on the Plainfield streets as a consequence of Sunday's delightful weather was Miss Langan, one of the most attractive young women of Perth Amboy. The reins were held by a King of Newark gallants.

COKE STRIKERS DETERMINED

Preparing to Resist Desperately An Attempt to Fire the Ovens.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 30.—The report that a number of coke operators were attempt to resume has spurred the strikers to activity in perfecting their organization. The Vanderbilt section has been thoroughly organized by the men sent into the region by the national board and the men will all join the strike.

Rainy & Cochran, who own the plants in the Vanderbilt region, say they will work and asked Sheriff Wilhelm for protection. A large force of deputies was sent there.

The strikers are preparing to resist any attempt to start up the idle plants. Meetings are in progress all along the Mount Pleasant branch and in the Dunbar and Connellsville districts to prepare the strikers for an attack in case the ovens are fired up.

The report is that the McClure, Rainey and Cambria Iron companies, Cochran & Sons and some of the Frick plants will attempt to fire up at once.

FOR THE relief and cure of a cold in the head there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other treatments have proved of no avail.

The Spring House Cleaning Wisely urged by the BOARD OF HEALTH is not complete without a proper use of DISINFECTANTS. But, in choosing these, do not be misled into paying fancy prices for "patent" specialties. Common lime is better than any of them for damp cellars and stables. For vaults, drains, cess-pools, the best and cheapest disinfectant is COPPERAS, supplied by us by the pound or barrel at low rates. But for use in the house, in the plumbing, in kitchen sinks, in closets, for purifying the air of sick rooms, deodorizing offensive discharges—in short, for all purposes of a household disinfectant, nothing can excel the powerful solution of chlorides made and sold by us for 15 years under the name of REYNOLDS'S ODORLESS DISINFECTANT. Quart bottles 25c. To be diluted for use according to directions on label.

PROTECT AMERICANS.

THAT, THE KEYNOTE OF A ROUSING PLAINFIELD SERMON.

Pastor Richardson Holds the School to Be the Anchor of Our Country, and United Americans Applaud His Sentiments.

"The School the Anchor of American Institutions" was the subject of Rev. J. Richardson's sermon last night in the Park Avenue Baptist Church before Somerset and Franklin Councils of Plainfield, and representatives from William G. Holton Council, Dunellen, and the New Market Council, J. O. U. A. M.

The clergyman took for his text, "Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsars, and unto God the things that are God's", Matthew 22: 21. The following is a synopsis of the sermon:

He who brought Babylon to its greatness, that there Daniel might foretell the resistless march of God's purpose, also ordained that in the course of human events, America should become the land where the greatest temple of human rights should rise. Today the temple is complete.

Is it not meet that we carry out the command of the text? Ought we not to pay God for this great boon of the "Republic" the deepest tribute of our heart; and by our voices and votes sustain the principles of our Constitution? If it was proper and right to obey the king in Jesus' time, how much more just to be true to our incomparable government? "Render therefore unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's." It is as much our duty to be a true citizen as it is our duty to be a good Christian. If we are one we shall be the other. There are mighty influences which are under human management, and which become great for good or for evil only by their timing: and in this timing and adjusting of human events, God's hand is frequently seen gleaming out as it writes his decrees before nations. Our fathers, driven out of Europe by the religious bigotry of the 16th century, planned a "civil government;" God timed and matched the circumstances for them, and those virtuous fathers have bequeathed to us "A Republic". This is "our" sovereign.

My text teaches us that we must maintain a republican form of government! We owe allegiance to our Cæsar. God demands this of us. At the judgment you and I will be asked what we did with our citizenship.

Our Republic is the only legitimate government ever adopted by man. All others arise from usurpation and imposition. There it is, a "free government", with its temple of human rights not corrupted by the residence of a privileged despot, nor polluted by the footsteps of barbarism. The solemn charge is laid upon us that we so transmit it uncorrupted to the generations that are to follow us. Each American citizen must insist that the United States be kept free from the shackles of any political creed. Each American must be taught to say "Hands off" to every foreign king, or ecclesiastic, who seeks to interfere in American politics, or economics.

God through this peculiar civil institution has placed before us the sublimest opportunity ever granted to man. Through our Government Providence has done its noblest for the race. American institutions give to the poor unknown youth the freedom of the national patheon of learning and emolument; freedom to a place among merchants or a position in the army; freedom to a place among the professionals or a position among honorable mechanics. Our institutions confer no merit, but they do present, without favor, an opportunity to merit wherever it is found, among white or black, native born or adopted. The dear "Republic", like a fond mother, looks down upon her citizen family, saying, "Plan and build, my children; no one shall take away thy rights". The path to success in law is wide open—the way to mercantile prosperity is just as broad as industry can make it—the avenue to that sacred calling of the ministry is not walled in by political preferment—the path to mechanical skill and wealth is not monopolized by privileged classes—on none of the highways of our American civilization is there a sign saying to the common people, "Do n't walk here". He who will rise may go just as far as he is willing to climb; like Grant from the tannery to the White House—like Garfield from the obscurity of that tow-path life into the affections of 60,000,000 of people.

The free school, and free church, and free press, have made liberty eloquent; and on battle fields, in legislative halls, in the obscurity of private life, the noblest character found among the race, has crowned America's institutions with honor. Let us not sport with our greatest privileges as a child does with his rattle, until we lose them.

When we consider the condition and happy situation of our people, either by contrasting the present with the infancy of this nation, or our situation with that of the people of any other nation, the solution of it is found in the American Free School. This system of education fits our boys for the real business of life. I do not over-rate the importance of the "public school" to our State. Look yonder at the history of Mexico. Men from the "Old World" settled on her broad plateaus a century before the Pilgrims stepped upon Plymouth Rock. Unlike those impoverished exiles who sailed in the Mayflower to a sterile shore, those men who went to Mexico were a company of trained soldiers, under the patronage of Queen Isabella, generaled by brave Cortes, with the benediction of a pope resting upon their banners. The skies were the blue of a constant summer; her soil promised a perpetual harvest; her hills were bound with bands of gold; verily it was a land "flowing with milk and honey". Those men introduced their ecclesiasticism—plenty of it—but they had no free school, and the land they settled has been incapable of self-government. Look at Spain: She has her ecclesiasticism, but no public school. Where are her great men? Where are her inventions?

O, the resources of any country are mental instead of material. Educate the brain and the hand will produce. Think of the contrast; those pilgrims had no sunny skies and soil that produces almost spontaneously; New England was bleak and sterile. Burdened with cares, yet the colonists inaugurated the public schools; like an angel of light, they banished ignorance and superstition from the community. Sublime men and women grew up who were independent of all priestly interference. These men and women could reason, and cypher, and develop schemes for the elevation of themselves and their families. And today compare America, the youngest born, with any other government in the great family of nations, and she is the fairest daughter of them all.

To further meet the obligations which are imposed on good citizenship by our text, we must protect American mechanics and merchants! We owe a loyal allegiance to our Cæsar. Our institutions have given us wealth and the comforts of civilization. But the interests of American brain and brawn workers are being jeopardized. Immigration is thrusting upon us a vast ignorant mass, to be used against our institutions, by demagogues.

Gentlemen, I do not understand that our excellent order pronounces against the respectable strangers that come to our land, and who by voice and vote help us to maintain these very institutions we are pledged to sustain. There are thousands of true citizens, who are Americans by adoption, and who would die for the stars and stripes. But we "oppose" indiscriminate immigration. We are right. It is time to inform all foreign governments, that America is not a back-yard for the Old World, into which European refuse may be dumped at will. The doctrine which we preach of organization against foreign contract labor is worthy the attention of every citizen who cares for permanent commercial prosperity.

The great organization which we represent, where the employer and employee may meet on terms of equality and mutual interest, deserves the praise and encouragement of the people. The Hiberians are organized, and for what? The Scandinavians are organized, and for what? The Socialists are organized, and for what? We may welcome an American organization that shall place an arm about the pillars of state. An organization that shall stand like an embattled Gibraltar against the "imported boycott" and "Anarchist" bomb and "socialistic hereeles".

With the present outlook, it is well that Americans organize—that the industrious mechanic at the bench be not supplanted by some imported hireling—that the citizen-clerk of the warehouse be not pushed aside to make room for some cheap alien—that the merchant and manufacturer who pay their taxes shall not have their business ruined by the whim of some walking delegate—that the city official who is true to the Constitution shall not be deposed to make room for some servile tool of its enemies. We do well to guard the elective franchise, the commercial prosperity, and the perpetuity of American institutions.

We ought to remember that all free governments that ever existed have been destroyed by the indifference and carelessness of the people themselves. It is still true "that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty". We ought then to welcome an organization like this one, which seeks to keep warm the blood of patriotism, and the protection of Americans in all their rights on land and sea. The "Junior Order of American Mechanics" constantly presents to the conscience of its citizen-members the duty they owe to God and their fellow men. In an honest American way, this institution interposes itself, like a granite mountain between our government, and the base office-seeker who on sandlots, or in bar-rooms, declaims against the sacredness of law, and whose cry for liberty means unbridled license. The Order stands like an army, with steel swords and burnished rifles, between the home and those wild-eyed, red-flag fellows who consider ownership in a homestead an usurpation, and the exercise of sobriety and industry a crime. Yes, by the open Bible, and the inculcation of the doctrines Christ preached; by the maintenance of good laws and the protection of the citizen's conscience the "Junior American Mechanics" seek "to render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's".

The sermon was listened to with marked attention, and the members of the Order heartily expressed their approval of its sentiments.

The Missionaries to See the Play.

The Paulist Fathers concluded their work in St. Mary's parish Sunday night, by administering the Papal blessing and a renewal of baptismal vows. The Papal blessing was given to them by direct authority of the Pope, and in a renewal of the baptismal vows the congregation arose and personally made the vows which their sponsors had made for them at baptism.

During their two-weeks labors here, the Fathers accomplished much good. They gave confession to 900 women and 712 men.

By special invitation, they remain in Plainfield until Wednesday as guests of the C. Y. M. L., and will attend their play in Music Hall tomorrow night.

From So Slight a Cause,

Seymour G. Smith was out again today after a severe attack of illness, the result of the long-standing injury to his hand. He expects to have the hand amputated, as soon as his strength permits. The poisoning of the member was caused by a slight bruise, his hand having been squeezed in a small dumb-waiter in his office, which was jerked suddenly upwards while he was putting something in it.

SCORES HIGHER CRITICISM.

Pastor Herring Confirms the Truthfulness of Sacred Writ.

Rev. C. E. Herring preached an able and excellent sermon yesterday morning in the First Presbyterian Church on the Bible and the testimony of the monuments and tablets in Assyria and Egypt, confirming its truthfulness. He spoke of the wonderful "finds" that the spade and the pickaxe had brought forth, and told what the distinguished Prof. Sayre had to say concerning these unearthed treasures. The "Higher Critics" asserted that Moses did not write the Pentateuch, but the tablets told a very different story. In the time of Moses civilization had reached its highest point, and it was absurd to suppose that these books were written hundreds of years later when civilization was in its decadence. The story of Melcisidek had been pronounced false by some "Higher Critics" but Assyriology and Egyptology proved it to be true. So about Chedelawmer, and other supposed errors. Every one of them were actual occurrences, as the "finds" proved. In truth all these attempts to destroy the credibility of the Bible were utter failures, and men should be cautious how they attacked it, for it would endure forever. We had had too much of "Higher Criticism" and not enough study of and reverence for God's Word. It was historically true, it was remarkable for its unity, for its honesty and for its perpetuity. Infidels had again and again propheseied its downfall, but the very rooms where the prophecies were uttered were now used as Bible depositories or places where this book was being printed. "Higher Criticism" might attack but could not not destroy this blessed book. Some men gloried in being "Advanced Thinkers", and in knowing so much more than their fellows, and some people followed after them, but they were not very wise after all. Egyptology and Assyriology had left them in a bad position, and the "Book" was stronger than ever. No one need fear, for God would take care of His Word.

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Why She Is Not Given a Pension by Southern States.

RICHMOND, Va., April 30.—The delegates from the confederate camps to the reunion of the United Confederate veterans at Birmingham indignantly deny the statement made in a Birmingham special that the committee appointed at the New Orleans meeting to secure a pension for Mrs. Jefferson Davis recommended that the movement be dropped because she resides in New York. Mayor Ellison, who is president of the Davis Monument association, said that the report was as far from the truth as possible. The committee in making their report stated that they had been unable to secure the necessary legislation from the southern states because, in the first place, the constitutions of a number of these states forbade appropriations for pensions to any persons not residents of the state, and in other states where this prohibition was not expressed in the constitution, it was the opinion of eminent lawyers that an appropriation could not be made except to a resident. The committee was discharged from further consideration of the subject because of the legal difficulties in the way. There was no reference to the fact that Mrs. Davis resides in New York and there is not the slightest foundation for the report that the reunion gave her the "cold shoulder."

SCORES EXPOSED TO SMALLPOX.

A Plague-Stricken Man Travels About Waterbury and Danbury.

DANBURY, Conn., April 30. — William Daragan of this city is at the pesthouse suffering from smallpox, and scores of people have been exposed to the disease. Daragan was in Waterbury, and feeling ill consulted a physician in that city, who told him he had smallpox. The doctor asked Daragan where his home was, and on being told that it was in Danbury, the physician advised him to get there with all possible haste. Daragan went to a doctor as soon as he reached the city, who sent him to the selectment in the city hall. He was there some time before officials could attend to his wants, then it was learned he had the dread malady. He was carted to the pesthouse. All of the city offices are in the city hall, and most of the officials were in them. The building was quarantined and all the occupants, including Mayor Andrews, were vaccinated. The train on which Daragan arrived was crowded with passengers, and in the mile walk from the station to the city hall scores of people were exposed.

MURDER AT BUFFALO.

Mysterious Shooting of a Well-Known Lawyer and Journalist.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 30.—Montgomery Gibbs, lawyer, formerly a newspaper man and well-known in Buffalo, was murdered Saturday evening. The affair is mysterious and probably will puzzle the police considerably to unravel it. Mr. Gibbs was found lying on Delaware avenue in a driveway leading to the grounds adjoining the house of Agnes Squire, at No. 864 Delaware avenue. A ghastly bullet hole in the left temple told the story when discovered five minutes after the reports were heard by people in near-by houses of the revolver shots. Mr. Gibbs was breathing heavily. Physicians were summoned but nothing could be done for him. He was taken to the general hospital and died as he was being placed on the operating table. No one has been found who absolutely saw the firing. The police believe it to a case of highway robbery.

Historic Pictures.

BOSTON April 30.—Rev. Father Field of St. Augustine's church has brought to public notice two paintings which, it is said, are believed to be the work of St. Luke, the evangelist. One is a picture of Mary, the mother of Jesus, and the other is of Christ. The latter portrait is the face of an aramaic Jew, with hair and eyes that belong to the purest type of the Jewish race. That of Mary represents a portrait, Semitic in character, with the veil covering the face and pearl ornaments. The pictures were brought to America by a Frenchman who accompanied Lafayette on his visit here, and are wonderfully preserved. They have been in the possession of the late Edward Wentworth, to whom they were given. The fact of the existence of these paintings has been known for a long time by the artists of Boston, but there are great doubts about their authenticity.

Injunction Against Nuns.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, April 30.—A preliminary injunction was granted by Judge Barker here restraining six Catholic nuns from teaching in the public schools at Gallitzen, Cambria county. The injunction was applied for by citizens of that borough who allege that the nuns are engaged in proselytizing their pupils. They distribute catcheisms among the children and teach it during school hours. A school rule is for the pupils to call their teacher "sister," and the black garbs and religious emblems are worn by the nuns in the school room. Judge Barker will hear a motion to dissolve the injunction on Thursday, May 3.

Athletics at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Harry Cornish of the Chicago athletic association has mapped out a lively season for athletes at Chicago. He proposes holding athletic matines on the South Side baseball grounds on Saturdays, and on every holiday until late in the fall. The Chicago athletic association and the associated cycling clubs have joined in hiring the grounds. Mr. Cornish is also at work upon a meeting to be held in Chicago on June 2, which is to be a revised edition of the games that are held annually at Mott Haven.

Football at Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 30.—Cornell college has begun light football practice this spring and a large number of men have appeared as candidates. Several cups have been offered in kicking contests. Each football candidate is required to play lacrosse, as this is thought to improve the wind. Manager Atkinson has secured the services of a coach for next fall. The students expressed a preference for a Princeton or a Harvard man to coach them, and Newall of Harvard has been engaged.

Reading Shuting Down.

READING, Pa., April 30.—Owing to the scarcesity of coal all the departments of the Reading iron company with the exception of the sheet mill and rolling mill will be closed down this week. The Topton furnace which has been in blast the past three years was blown out. They have ten thousand tons of iron on hand.

Proposed Railroad Pooling.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—J. K. Cowan, the general counsel of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, appeared before the house commerce committee and made an argument which elicited the warm commendation of members of the committee

GREAT NORTHERN STRIKE.

Believed That the Engineers and Firemen Will Return to Work.

ST. PAUL, April 30.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held a secret session here last night and came to some definite conclusion regarding the strike. They are absolutely non-communicative, however, and what action they took cannot be learned. It is hinted in reliable sources, however, that they decided to return to work on the Great Northern at the increased pay. This is somewhat important, if true, as the A. R. U. had been basing great hopes on keeping the engineers with them.

If they have decided to return to work it is likely that the firemen will follow their lead at once.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., April 30.—She strikers have been put in a state of indignation at the action of the Brotherhood of Engineers, who met and decided to go to work at once on the strength of the proposition offered by the company and a return to the old schedule of wages. It was followed by the Brotherhood of Firemen reaching the same conclusion. Resolutions were unanimously passed that no propositions would be considered unless they came through the American Railway Union chiefs. The indignation of the strikers knows no bounds, but they say they are bound to carry the day regardless of this action, and are in hopes the other division will not follow the example of this division.

Nothing in the yards has yet been moved, but the officials say that within a few hours the company will resume all traffic of every character. The men deny this.

The brakeman on the train that bore the troops, William Frank, was struck on the head by a rock and quite severely injured as the train was passing through the yards.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 30.—United States troops are on the move to preserve order and aid in the arrest of riotous strikers along the Great Northern Railway. Yesterday Fort Snelling was all in a bustle, and to the uninitiated it looked like the beginning of a campaign against the Indians. Shortly before midnight Col. Sayne, acting on orders from the president, had directed Col. Mason, in charge of the post at Fort Snelling, to send a portion of the third regiment to North Dakata to assist United States Marshal Cronin in serving warrants and making arrests. Accordingly the whole third regiment was called from barracks at 8 a. m., and four companies selected for the trip. After giving instructions to Col. Mason to act with coolness and bravery the four companies left the fort without demonstration via the Great Northern. It is stated that Marshal Cronin will order two of the companies to Devil's Lake and use the others where rioting seems most likely.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol." has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Testimonial from William F. Barnard, Esq., Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry, No. 155 Worth Street, New York.

For several years I was afflicted with a severe form of catarrh, and to such an extent that my hearing became seriously impaired, and I was constantly troubled with roaring sounds in my head. It also gave rise to a troublesome cough, bronchial irritation, and pain in my lungs. In fact, my condition was such that I felt convinced unless something was done for my relief I would soon be beyond cure. One physician thought that eventually I would be stone deaf; another gave me his opinion that catarrh could not be cured, and that I had to endure as best I could its pernicious consequences. Finding the treatment pursued of no benefit, I placed myself under the professional care of Dr. Lighthill, whose many endorsements for skill and success from well-known residents of New York city had been brought under my notice. The result of his treatment has been simply wonderful. My hearing is restored, the noises in my head have ceased, the bronchial trouble is gone, and I feel that I am completely relieved of what threatened to be a most serious, if not fatal disease. I therefore cheerfully commend Dr. Lighthill for his ability and skill, and feel confident that any similarly afflicted will be benefited by placing themselves under his care.

WILLIAM F. BARNARD.

Testimonial from H. P. Degraaf, Esq., President of the Bowery Bank, New York.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL:

MY DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to join the long list of grateful patients who have been relieved from troublesome and obstinate complaints by your superior skill. My case was chronic catarrh, from which I had suffered to such an extent that it weakened my general health, and gave rise to such severe pain in and about the head and throat that it prevented me from sleeping and alarmed my family. I am happy to state that the very first application of your treatment gave me prompt and decided relief. In a few days the pain had disappeared, and by degrees the other distressing symptoms of catarrh yielded to your administrations, until now I find myself completely cured. I therefore cheerfully tender you this testimonial of your skill and success, in the hope that others may be benefited by its publication.

A Twentieth Century Romance.

By EFFIE W. MERRIMAN.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.]

Harold was far from being pleased. It is never pleasant to be reminded, more especially by a handsome young woman, that one belongs to a past century. Letty could not but perceive that he was hurt.

"What can I say?" she asked, distressed beyond measure at his silence. As she spoke she went to his side and tenderly took his hand in hers. Her touch thrilled him, while it angered him, and he pulled his hand away, quite as a grieved young girl might have done in his day. The action reminded Letty of previous flirtations, and she began to feel more at home with him. She quickly decided that, after all, young men were all very much alike, and that there was none of them who could not be won by the lucky young woman who knew how to work upon their susceptibilities. She was congratulating herself on the pleasure she would have in a flirtation with this coquettish young fellow when her dream was rudely shattered by the look of determination on Harold's face as he arose and stood before her.

"Miss Everett," he said frankly, "I should like to become better acquainted with you, but I cannot sacrifice all my ideas of the fitness of things to the absurd customs of this generation."

"Are our customs more absurd than yours were?" asked Letty.

"They seem so to me."

"May that not be because you are not used to them?"

"Perhaps so. However, I do not mean to conform to them in any way that seems to me to reflect on my manhood."

"But they are established"——

"I cannot help that. I assure you I would if I could. As I said just now, I should like to know you better. Can we not strike a compromise that shall enable us to become friends?"

"We might try. I should feel flattered, I'm sure."

"Suppose, then, we agree to meet in the park and dispense with calling and a few other of the restrictions of society conventionalities? I will try to forget the customs of the nineteenth century if you'll ignore those of the twentieth, and we will be as free as the birds."

Letty agreed, thinking that if this peculiar young man could afford to run such a risk she certainly could. She comforted her uneasy conscience with the thought that no eligible young woman was severely condemned for sowing a few wild oats unless the results were too rank to be overlooked by a most indulgent public.

Harold was about to bow himself from Letty's presence when he caught sight of a woman striding down the street.

"Why," he exclaimed, with a merry laugh, "I believe that is my friend Mary. She is an odd specimen of humanity, isn't she?"

"May I ask what you know about her?" inquired Letty.

"Only that she proposed to me on sight"——

The sentence was never finished. There was a sudden loud report, which seemed to break the world into bits, and a stunning blow which pounded it together again. For a moment Harold felt himself to be the embodiment of confusion in a world of darkness lighted only by stars which danced madly before his eyes. There was a sound of excited voices, which seemed to come from the stars. Then came an interval of blessed quiet, when he was conscious of neither light nor darkness—when there was no world and nothing in it.

Harold was unconscious but a moment. When he recovered, he found himself lying at full length on the porch, with Letty bending over him.

"Are you better?" she asked tenderly.

"What is the matter? Have I been shot?"

"You came near being. I saw your danger just in time to knock you down. The bullet passed above you as you fell."

"You knocked me down!"

"I did. I could have saved you in no other way."

"I think," replied Harold, with a smile, "that I might as well have been shot."

As he spoke he started to raise himself from his recumbent position, but in a moment Letty had lifted him to his feet and placed him in a chair.

"Why did you do that?" he asked angrily. "I have not yet become so helpless that I must be lifted by a woman."

Before Letty could explain that she had only done what custom demanded of a woman Harold's attention was drawn to Mary, who was struggling to free herself from the hold of several stalwart women, who were endeavoring to secure her by means of cords.

"I have had her arrested," said Letty, following his glance.

"What are you going to do with her?" asked Harold of the women.

"We are waiting for the ambulance," they replied. "She will soon be placed where she can make no more disturbance."

"It was she who fired at you," explained Letty. "Poor Mary! She has a good heart, but a violent temper."

"Let Mary go free," interrupted Harold. "You need not arrest her on my account. I can take care of myself."

"Ah, my dear sir," they replied, "you do not know the world as we do."

"And I don't want to," retorted Harold. "Release Mary, I say, or you'll be sorry!"

"We might as well do as he requests," said Letty to the women, much as if he had been a persistent child, too attractive to be denied that which he desired.

Mary was released, and Harold turned abruptly away, wishing that he had never awakened. He hated to live in a world ruled by women, and he wondered "Release Mary, I say, or you'll be sorry!"

if there were any new inventions in the methods of committing suicide which were superior to those of his day. He had not walked far when he was overtaken by Mary.

"Why did you make them release me?" she asked abruptly.

"Because I did not want you arrested on my account."

"But I tried to kill you."

"I wish you had succeeded."

"Are you so very unhappy?"

"I am hungry and homesick and utterly disgusted."

"Have you been to a physician?"

"No."

"A good one lives here. Hadn't you better go in?"

"It is all nonsense. I want food, not medicine."

"You will find that it is food. Don't pass the door. You must go in sooner or later, you know. You will feel better when your system has been replenished."

"I presume you are right. Well, I'll go."

Harold turned to go up the steps of a fine house bearing the sign: "E. A. Coburn, M. D. Food prescriptions a speciality."

"Over the way," said Mary, interrupting him, "in that store with the sign 'System Supplies' across the front, you will be able to purchase what you want. It is the best place in the city. They do not adulterate their compounds."

"Thanks," said Harold. "You are the first one who has given me any practical information."

"I hope," faltered Mary, "that you will not think me unwomanly for mentioning these things."

"Unwomanly! Why should I think that?"

"Most men object to having women speak of such things. They prefer to have us think that they are too angelic to require system supplies."

"They must be like some women I used to know," replied Harold, with a laugh. "Well, good night, Mary."

Harold ran lightly up the stone steps, but before he had touched the bell he was again detained by Mary. "Harold," she said softly, "did you interfere in my behalf because you have decided to love me a little?"

"Don't be so silly!" exclaimed Harold in disgust. "I was just beginning to think you quite a jolly girl. Why must you spoil it all?"

"I understand," replied Mary bitterly. "You have given your heart to Letty, but she will never care for you half as tenderly as I could. There is no tenderness in her nature."

Harold had touched the bell, and Mary had not finished speaking when the door was opened, and Harold was invited to walk into the doctor's office. On entering he was disgusted to find that E. A. Coburn was a lady.

"I beg pardon," he said, "but I think there must be some mistake. I expected to find a man doctor."

"There are no men practicing medicine in this city," replied E. A. Coburn. "Indeed I do not know of but one man doctor in the world, and he is a quack. He could not be otherwise, you know, for he was allowed to attend no medical college of any note."

"Do you mean to say that women prescribe for men?"

"Why not? When a man is sick, he wants the best medical assistance to be obtained. Men are not either mentally or physically strong enough to become doctors. Neither have they the requisite patience. Worse yet, their love of money would lead them to ply their profession with other than humanitarian motives."

"Notwithstanding," replied Harold, "a feeling of delicacy leads me to prefer a man. However, if there is no man to be had, I suppose I must yield to the inevitable as gracefully as may be."

Dr. Coburn not only prescribed for Harold, but administered some of the food which she thought his system demanded most urgently, and when he left the office he felt that life was much better worth living. He had at last found one change in the twentieth century which met with his hearty approval—Dr. Coburn refused to take the fee he offered, saying that it would be considered a bribe, and that the salary paid by government was quite remunerative enough to meet her needs.

When Harold reached his own door, he chanced to glance back just in time to see two figures, one on either side of the street, disappearing into the shadows. He at once surmised that he had been followed by Mary, who in turn had been followed by Letty.

CONCLUDED TOMORROW.

KEEP THEM OUT all those germs, the seeds of disease, that are trying day and night to get a foothold in your system. You can't do it, unless your liver is active. That is all you have to depend upon, to keep them out of your blood.

The very best medicine for the liver and the blood, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Take that when you're getting thin, when you have pimples or eruptions, when you've no appetite and feel "run-down" (these are warning signals)—and you'll save yourself from serious illness.

Franklin, Lane Co., Oreg.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION: Gentlemen—My wife, of whom I wrote you, is another woman as far as her health is concerned; since taking your "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Pellets," she says she feels better than she has for years. She has gained twenty-five pounds in three months.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address
